Section 64 on who can receive summons discriminatory against women, says petitioner; SC gives notice to Centre

New Delhi: Chief Justice of India正义 DY Chandrachud and other Judges on Monday noticed to Section 64 of the Code of Civil Procedure (CrPC) which stated that it discriminates against the female members of the family in the service of the summons on behalf of the male members of the family. The petitioners, who are the members of the Nationalist Congress Party (NCP) and the Ministry of Home Affairs, have moved the Court seeking a stay on the section 64 of the Code of Civil Procedure (CrPC), which excludes female members of the family from the service of the summons on behalf of the male members of the family. The plea is that Section 64 of the Code of Civil Procedure (CrPC) is discriminatory and violative of the Fundamental Rights of the members of the family residing with them, and the person with whom the service of the summons is required to be served, should be required to serve the summons on behalf of the person, when the only person resident within the house of the party and entitled to move the High Court for the purpose of obtaining such an order, has moved the High Court for the purpose of obtaining such an order.

The filing of the petition is a step forward in the fight against gender discrimination, as the petitioners have sought to highlight the systemic imbalance in the legal framework that privileges men over women in terms of legal representation and advocacy.

The petitioners have argued that Section 64 of the CrPC is discriminatory as it only allows men to serve legal documents, thereby depriving women of their right to representation and justice. The petitioners have further argued that this section is violative of Article 14 of the Indian Constitution, which guarantees equality before law and prohibits discrimination on the ground of sex.

The petitioners have also argued that this section is irrational and indefensible as it does not take into account the fact that women often face challenges in accessing justice due to their gender.

The petitioners have sought for a stay on the operation of Section 64 of the CrPC and have also prayed for a constitutional interpretation of the section.

The petition is likely to be heard in the next sitting of the Supreme Court.

The filing of the petition is a significant step in the ongoing effort to ensure that women have equal access to justice.

“Aacharya Deva Bhava & Athidhi Deva Bhava” are tenets of our culture that SFI has forgotten

They are a Sanyasi Shaiva who never had father, mother, teachers and are all equivalent to God. As the fight between the Kenega Govern and the CPI(M) is taking place, they try to play Yoke (the CPI(M) cadres) who seem to be going blind in their own eyes.

What brought these lines to mind is some of the banners put up by SFI, the student wing of CPI(M), across Agra to condemn the action of the Govern, whom the leaders of the parent party and their junior colleagues allege of using high handed means to destroy the utilities of education in the State by trying to appoint Samarth Pandits as key ministers.

The CPI(M) cadres, be it student or the cadre, must be serious about fighting elections and act accordingly.

Jewish nuclear regulator issues new rules regarding nuclear power plants

The Israeli nuclear regulator has issued new safety guidelines for nuclear power plants, following the recent escalations in tensions with Iran.

The new rules, which came into effect on Tuesday, are designed to strengthen safety measures at nuclear facilities in Israel.

The guidelines include measures to improve the monitoring of nuclear material, as well as increased scrutiny of staff qualifications.

The regulations also require enhanced training for employees working at nuclear sites, with a focus on preventing unauthorized access.

The Nuclear Regulatory Authority of Israel said it had taken into account lessons learned from recent events in the Middle East, including the recent attacks on military targets in Iran.

The new rules are part of a broader effort by the Israeli government to bolster security at nuclear facilities, following reports of increased Iranian shipments of nuclear material to the region.

The Nuclear Regulatory Authority is responsible for ensuring that nuclear facilities in Israel meet international safety standards and that they are operated in a safe and secure manner.

The new guidelines come as the Biden administration has signaled a willingness to rejoin the Iran nuclear deal, which was abandoned by the Trump administration in 2018.

Cold and dark: Kyiv ready for ‘worst of our lives’

The Ukrainian capital has been on high alert as residents prepare for a possible cyberattack, with authorities warning of potential power outages and internet disruptions.

Ukrainian officials have increased security measures in major cities, including the capital Kyiv, following reports of cyberattacks against power grids in other countries.

The government has advised residents to stockpile food, water, and medical supplies, as well as to have emergency kits ready.

UKRAINE URGES CITIES TO LEAVE LIBERATED AREAS FOR WINTER

Ukrainian authorities on Wednesday urged the residents of the liberated regions of the Kherson and Kharkiv areas to leave the territories and move to safer areas in the central part of the country, and Ukraine's Deputy Prime Minister Olena Zelenska said the government will provide transport to evacuate residents.

The authorities stressed that the situation remains unstable and unpredictable, with the threat of Russian forces re-occupying the territories.

The government has already evacuated hundreds of thousands of people from the Crimea and eastern Ukraine, and it has plans to evacuate more people from the newly liberated areas.

The authorities also warned of potential Russian attacks on the infrastructure, including power stations and water supply systems.

The government has called on residents to leave the areas as soon as possible, and it has set up evacuation points in the central part of the country.

Germany offers Poland missile transfers to ensure airspace

Germany has offered to transfer Patriot missiles to Poland to ensure the country's airspace.

The offer comes as tensions between Russia and the West continue to escalate, with Russia having recently announced plans to deploy new missiles in the Kaliningrad region near Poland.

The offer was made in response to a request from Poland, which has been seeking to strengthen its air defense capabilities.

The offer was discussed during a meeting between German and Polish defense ministers earlier this week.

The move is seen as a major step forward in the ongoing efforts to strengthen the security cooperation between NATO allies.

Hungary's Foreign Minister travels to Russia for energy talks

Hungary's Foreign Minister Péter Szijjártó is set to travel to Russia on Monday for talks on energy security and cooperation.

Szijjártó is expected to discuss with his Russian counterpart the possibility of strengthening ties between the two countries in the energy sector.

The visit comes amid increasing scrutiny of Hungary's relationship with Russia, which has been heavily criticized by Western allies for its close relationship with Moscow.

Szijjártó is expected to meet with Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov during the visit.

The talks will revolve around energy security, particularly the future of the Paks nuclear power plant in Hungary.

The plant is a key source of energy for the country and has been the subject of controversy in recent years.

Szijjártó has previously defended the plant, saying it is crucial for the country's energy security.

Northern Korea calls UN's Guterres 'puppet' of US after launch

North Korean Foreign Minister Ri Yong-ho has called UN Secretary-General António Guterres a "puppet" of the United States after the launch of a new intercontinental ballistic missile.

In a statement released overnight, Ri Yong-ho said Guterres should "pay heed" to the launch, which he said was a "reasonable and necessary" measure in response to "certain regimes' provocations and threats in the region.

Ri Yong-ho said the launch was a "necessary response" to "such provocations" and that North Korea would continue to develop its military capabilities as necessary.

Ri Yong-ho's comments came after the launch of the new ICBM, which is capable of reaching the United States. It is the latest in a series of missile tests by North Korea in recent months.

Guterres had previously called for a return to negotiations and a resumption of the denuclearization process.

Palestinians: Israeli forces kill man in West Bank

An Israeli security force has shot and killed a Palestinian Man in the West Bank, near the town of Tulkarm, according to local media.

The Palestinian Authority has condemned the killing, saying it was a violation of international law.

The incident took place near the village of Al-Walid, in the Jenin governorate, according to local reports.

The Palestinian Authority has called for an international investigation into the incident, and has threatened to take legal action against Israel.

The incident comes amid heightened tensions between the two sides, with Israel and the Palestinian Authority engaged in a series of armed confrontations in recent months.

The Palestinian Authority has called for a ceasefire and for an end to Israeli settlements, while Israel has accused the Palestinian Authority of failing to take action against Palestinian militants.

The incident in the West Bank has sparked outrage among residents, who have called for an end to the violence.

STRONG TAUPE QHOUSES TIES IN INDONESIA’S JAVA: 162 DEAD

A strong, shallow earthquake struck densely populated Java island on Monday, killing at least 162 people and injuring hundreds of others as residents fled into the streets from collapsing buildings.

The magnitude 6.2 earthquake struck about 120 kilometers southwest of the capital Jakarta, the national capital, at 7:04 a.m. (0804 GMT), according to the United States Geological Survey. It was felt throughout Java, Indonesia’s most densely populated island, and caused widespread destruction and panic.

Residents described seeing buildings collapse and debris raining down as they ran outside for safety. Some reported watching people being pulled from the rubble.

Rescue teams and civilians joined efforts to help the injured and dead. Many buildings were damaged, and some were still on fire.

The earthquake was the latest in a series of natural disasters to hit Indonesia, including tsunamis, volcanic eruptions, and landslides. Indonesia is located on the Pacific Ring of Fire, making it prone to earthquakes.

The government has urged residents to remain vigilant and to follow the advice of local authorities.

CHINESE COAST GUARD SEIZES DEBRIS FROM FILIPINO NAVY

Chinese coast guard personnel seized debris from the Philippine navy’s patrol vessel that was sunk in the South China Sea last month.

According to the Chinese coast guard, it seized several pieces of debris, including a part of the Philippine vessel’s hull and some electronic components.

The Chinese coast guard said it had identified the debris as belonging to the Philippine vessel’s hull and had marked it as evidence.

The seizure comes amid tensions between China and the Philippines over territorial disputes in the South China Sea.

The Chinese coast guard said the Philippine government had expressed condolences to the Chinese coast guard.

England made a scathing attack on Thursday on any lingering suggestion that their World Cup team is motivated by money after managing director Ben Dowse defended a pay cut for his players.

England boss Gareth Southgate also rejected claims that his team are motivated by money after managing director Ben Dowse defended a pay cut for his players when they were re-signed last year, saying they were motivated by the World Cup.

“Absolutely not,” Southgate told reporters. “Absolutely not. They’re motivated by a love of the game and by a desire to succeed.”

England’s World Cup qualification campaign has been marred by criticism that the team is not as strong as it could be, with some top players missing out.

Southgate also denied that the team’s motivation was being questioned, saying: “I don’t think anyone is questioning that.”

The “OneLove” armband, which has been worn by the likes of Harry Kane and Paul Pogba, was announced on Thursday for the World Cup.

It was welcomed by fans and critics alike, with some calling it a positive step towards inclusivity in the sport.

The armband is designed to promote unity and diversity, with each letter representing a different culture or religion.

“It’s an armband that we can all wear and support,” said Southgate. “It’s about showing unity and coming together.”

A consistent performer and wicket-taker, Malik and Sanju Samson will be a key to India’s success in the T20 World Cup final against England. However, the biggest disappointment of the tournament was the non-inclusion of Umran Malik in India’s first game. It has been proved that this young pacer is a treat to watch and he has bowled two excellent spells in the semi-final and the final. India needs more of the same and his inclusion was justified.

In Imam’s absence, Mohit, who played two T20Is earlier this year, should be expected to step into the shoes of the young pacer and give a long run. Playing his first T20I game, he showed why he should be a regular in the team but follow the bowling style of his mentor, who is expected to go out of playing eleven and Deepak Hooda has given him one option.

WILL UMRAJ, SAMSON GET A CHANCE IN FINAL T20?

India’s powerplay approach proved to be the difference as Pakistan needed 15 runs in the last 2 overs. Rohita Pardhi, Pant and Malik’s last wicket Test game but the game did not go as expected. Could Malik’s debut come to fruition in the T20 World Cup?

Samson is another batsman who will look to make his impact as the team did not start with a bang. Coming to Pant and Malik, Pant is just 3 months, 13 days away from making 2000 T20I runs and this will add one run to 1-0 with the series opener Pant in the final T20 against England.

Going by skipper Hardik Pandya’s statement that he has the best year, and Alcaraz is the best of 2022. Thiem’s backhand has improved but unfortunately it hasn’t been able to fit into our schedule,” Hardik said in another tweet: “This opening combo is killing me to follow. Pant and Samson is a dream to watch and playing eleven and Deepak Hooda has given him one option.

WILL UMRAN, SAMSON GET A CHANCE IN FINAL T20?

Tuesday.

Pakistan has named uncapped wicket-keeper, Sarfaraz Ahmed in its 18-man squad for final T20 series against England.

The 24-year-old Al-Hashmi is in top form in the ongoing domestic first-class tournament, where he has picked up 15 wickets in 10 matches. He bowled the first over with a strong yorker. This opening wicket grab sealing the first T20I against England.

And England will be playing their first T20I in 17 years last year’s tour against Bangladesh. England have his lifetime leadership ban. I don’t know what the future holds but I know that what I enjoy my moments in a pressure cooker.

Djokovic was initially banned from returning to Australia before 2023 but appeal court in Canberra said the time remaining was 3 years. After quitting tennis, he said “I want to give the hard work he has put in over the last 12 months, and especially, the achievements of taking the country to the Australians Cup final last season, said BJ. He played the final in the Netherlands against the Netherlands.
