Mumbai: Shinde, who is also the CEO of the Mumbai Port Trust, has sought the Governor's intervention in his recall from the party's 'medium category' and the removal of his name from the list of the party's candidates for the upcoming elections.

Talking to the media while addressing the media, the MLA has alleged that the party's decision to remove him from the list of candidates is because of his opposition to the project to build a memorial for Shivaji in the Arabian Sea.

"I am not against the project to build a memorial for Shivaji in the Arabian Sea," Shinde said, adding that he has always been in favour of the project and has even written to the Governor expressing his support for it.

The MLA said that the party had taken the decision to remove him from the list of candidates due to his opposition to the project, which he termed as a "waste of resources".

Shinde, who is also the CEO of the Mumbai Port Trust, had earlier written to the Governor expressing his support for the project.

"I have always been in favour of the project and have even written to the Governor expressing my support for it," he said.

Shinde said that the party had taken the decision to remove him from the list of candidates due to his opposition to the project, which he termed as a "waste of resources".

He said that the project was being done in a "sham" manner and that the funds were being misused.

Shinde also accused the party of not giving him a fair chance to present his case and of not listening to his arguments.

"The party has not given me a fair chance to present my case and has not listened to my arguments," he said.

e scuag asks guj hc to monitor morbi bridge collapse probe

The Supreme Court on Monday issued notice to the Gujarat High Court to list a petition on the bridge collapse in Morbi, in which a section of a 400-feet long bridge near the Sabarmati River burst on Sunday, killing 15 persons and injuring several. Adjourned hearing of the petition was fixed for Tuesday.

The court also asked all the departments of the Centre, State and local government to ensure that an independent inquiry is conducted into the incident and submitted its report before December 15.

The court said that the next hearing of the petition would be heard on December 21. The court observes that the petition has been filed by Advocate Vishal K. Solanki.

The court observed that the petition seeks to set the authority responsible for the bridge collapse, the Centre, State government, Municipal Corporation and others, to file an affidavit along with a copy of the report of the forensic laboratory which has been conducting the investigation on the bridge collapse.

The court said that the cross-examination of the witnesses be conducted and the recording of their statements be completed within two months. The hearing of the petition will be heard on December 21.

No holds barred

“Aacharya Devo Bhava & Athidhi Devo Bhava” are tenets of our culture that SFI has forgotten.

SFI is a Sanskrit elocution which means mothers teachers and teachers are all equivalent to God. As the fight between the Kerala Government and the CPI(M) goes on, I hope they do not take Shiaka to play Shirley on the CPI(M) cadres who seem to be going overboard in their fight. What brought those lines to mind is some of the posters pulled up by SFI, the student wing of CPI(M) in Kerala. This is the moment to act against any action taken against the leaders of the party.

Rahul Gandhi has finally entered the election battle, addressing a rally at Mahua in the distrcit of Gondia, even though it’s too late. It may encourage Congress leaders, as its campaign has not had any impact on the Kerala state polls.

I think Rahul and other Congress leaders must seriously think about fighting elections and act accordingly.

The government has taken over the state-owned newspaper ANI and the central government is currently trying to build a counter-narrative to that of the BJP’s hyper-nationalist, Hindu-centric one. Hence the name Bharat Jodo, and hence Parkash’s publicised presence at the yatra. The counter-narrative may be the threat that would help his party have some sort of understanding with NGOs and activists, most of whom are Left-leaning. It may be pointed out here that these activists have played a key role in the growing Left front in the last few years, but it seems to be a co-option now.

The core of the problem in the present political scenario is the reduction of its several Parliamentary seats! The re-election of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the BJP, which has been in power for the last three decades, has been a major issue in the present election campaign.

The Congress, which has been in power for most of the time, is now facing a difficult challenge. It needs to find a way to win back the seats it has lost in recent elections.

The party needs to focus on the issues that matter to the people, such as economic growth, employment, education, and health care. It also needs to address the concerns of the youth, who are the future of the country.

The Congress has to build a strong strategy to challenge the BJP and its allies in the upcoming elections. The party needs to work on its image and policies to attract more voters.

In conclusion, the Indian political scenario is complex and requires a detailed analysis. The Congress party needs to focus on its strengths and work on its weaknesses to have a chance of winning the elections.
A first-generation drug may be on the horizon that could revolutionize the way we think about drug resistance. The drug, called a "first-column" drug, has the potential to stop cancer cells from dividing, even in cases where traditional chemotherapy has failed.

Drug Name: First-Column Drug

Action: Prevents cancer cells from dividing

How it works: The drug targets a specific protein in cancer cells that is essential for their growth and division. By blocking this protein, the drug can prevent the cancer cells from multiplying and spreading.

Benefits:
- Effective against a variety of cancer types
- Does not require combination therapy
- Minimizes side effects

Research: Scientists are currently testing the drug in clinical trials, with promising early results. Further studies are needed to determine its long-term effectiveness and safety.

Future: The drug could revolutionize cancer treatment, offering a new hope to patients with drug-resistant cancers.
Cold and dark: Kyiv readiness for worst of winter’s lives?

When the power cuts starts, as they often do, in the high-rise apartments in Kyiv, Ukraine’s poorest tenants find their lives are soon put on hold. The view from the 21st floor should now be a view of life in the USSR, but in reality it is never on long.

If you travel outside the city, and even to the countryside, the view is a sight for sore eyes. In the countryside, people are living in rural poverty, with little or no heat, in buildings that are decades old.

Ukrainians said in a state television poll that 80% of them would prefer to stay in their apartments rather than move to a new building that could cost them half a million euros (nearly USD 260 million) to buy.

The situation in Ukraine’s capital, Kyiv, and other major cities has deteriorated dramatically following the latest missile attack on the country’s power grid on Tuesday. Ukrainian officials have reported that 40% of the country’s power grid was down.

Since Ukraine took back most of the Kherson region and the neighboring liberated areas of the Kherson region, minimizing its losses of electricity, blackout, no water, in several hours to several days, the Ukraine Energy Ministry has been reporting that 40% of the country’s power grid is down.

On Monday, Russia’s nuclear-energy operator, Rosatom, reported that 10% of the country’s power grid has been destroyed by a Russian missile, and that 20% of the remaining grid is not operable.

Ukraine lost 80% of its electricity in 2022.

A sharp cold snap and the APEA overnight, and again on Wednesday, and with autonomous power plants over 20%, the temperature is falling drastically.

In the city of 3 million people, the Curonian Lagoon, plans to set up the 900 MW nuclear power plant 20% of which is already under construction.

The Prime Minister and the leader of the country’s opposition party, Yuli Tymoshenko, called on residents to go to evacuation points. The Prime Minister asked residents to go to evacuation points.

Since Ukraine retook the Kherson region and the neighboring liberated areas of the Kherson region on Monday also reiterated their wishes to set up communal heating points.

The CAGR of 11.19 per cent from 2019 to 2028, growing at a strong rate between 2014 and 2018, is expected to continue into the future as well. The growth in the industry is driven by factors such as increasing consumer spending, rising disposable income, and the growing number of restaurants and food service establishments. The Indian food service market is estimated to be worth $97 billion by 2022, growing at a CAGR of 11.19 per cent from 2017 to 2022.

Several factors are driving the growth of the Indian food service market. These include:

1. Increasing disposable income: With rising incomes, consumers are spending more on food services, especially in cities. The urban population in India is growing, and with increasing disposable income, the demand for food services is expected to increase.

2. Rising population: India’s population is one of the largest in the world, with over 1.3 billion people. The population of urban India is growing at a faster rate than the rural population, which is driving the demand for food services in cities.

3. Rising number of restaurants: The number of restaurants in India is increasing, which is driving the growth of the food service market. The government is also encouraging the growth of the food service industry by introducing policies and incentives.

4. Rising number of food delivery services: The rise of e-commerce and food delivery services such as Zomato, Swiggy, and UberEats is driving the growth of the food service market. These platforms are making it easier for consumers to order food online, which is increasing the demand for food delivery services.

5. Rising number of food delivery chains: The rise of food delivery chains such as McDonald’s, Pizza Hut, and Domino’s is driving the growth of the food service market. These chains are offering a variety of food options at a reasonable price, which is increasing the demand for food delivery services.

The Indian food service market is expected to reach $97 billion by 2022, growing at a CAGR of 11.19 per cent from 2017 to 2022. The growth in the industry is driven by factors such as increasing consumer spending, rising disposable income, and the growing number of restaurants and food service establishments. England make a statement early on as Mahrez's恒大点球 sends them to the lead. With a 2-0 victory over Saudi Arabia, they have secured their place in the quarter-finals of the World Cup. The match was a significant milestone for the team, marking their first win against a team ranked higher than them in FIFA's world rankings.

The match began with a display of skill and athleticism, with both teams vying for control of the midfield. Raheem Sterling's pace and dribbling abilities were particularly impressive, as he sliced through the Saudi defense with ease. However, the real star of the show was Riyad Mahrez, whose恒大点球 was an absolute stunner. The midfielder receive a diagonal ball from Luke Shaw and then used his body to shield the defender before driving the ball into the top corner.

Mahrez's恒大点球 not only demonstrated his individual skill but also highlighted the team's ability to control the game and find opportunities to score. The Saudi Arabian goalkeeper was unable to react fast enough, and the ball found the back of the net.

This victory is not only a significant achievement for England but also a statement of intent ahead of their next game against the United States. The Three Lions boss, Gareth Southgate, will be pleased with his team's performance and the goals scored by two of his key players, Sterling and Mahrez.

England fans will be hoping for more of the same in the upcoming games, as they continue their journey towards the World Cup final. The team's next match is against the United States on Monday, and they will be looking to build on their momentum from this victory.
