Corona may return with vengeance, fear experts

As India detects a case of Omicron variant, experts are warning that the highly infectious variant could spike if the lockdowns are lifted. "People are being reported in different places in the world," said Dr NK Arora, director of the Centre for Immunology (IVIAC) in New Delhi.

The Omicron variant is expected to cause more severe disease and has a greater transmissibility than previously reported. "We have seen the spread of highly infectious Omicron variants that include the BA.5 lineages," Arora said. "This has been observed in different parts of the world, and we are monitoring the situation closely.

"It is important to note that while the infection rate is lower in India, the case fatality rate is higher," Arora added. "This highlights the need for continued vigilance and the importance of vaccination."

Nov 3 bypolls to test ruling party’s hold on voters

The Supreme Court on Monday rejected the plea of AAP and Trinamool Congress seeking a challenge to the upcoming bypolls in Delhi and West Bengal, against the valid nomination papers of the candidates of the AAP and TMC respectively.

The Court said that in view of the order of the Election Commission that the bypolls cannot be deferred, it cannot be said that the petitioner's right substantially and substantially has been affected, and hence the Court rejected the petition.

The Delhi High Court, on its part, rejected the petition filed by the AAP and TMC on the ground that the bypolls cannot be delayed.

The Supreme Court had earlier rejected a similar plea filed by the AAP and the TMC in 2021, stating that the bypolls cannot be deferred.

The AAP and TMC had argued that the bypolls should be postponed due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and the need for vaccination.

There was an American boy born with serious mental problems, which afterwards became unmanageable. He was a little boy who sometimes only makes sleep for three or four hours. As time passed, this case drew wide attention. Many expert psychologists observed him, but nobody could figure out what was wrong. Finally, they decided that they really could not help the boy. They called his parents and told them that he could not help the boy and now only God can help. So, his parents took the boy to the Father. This father was exceptional. Years passed and the boy showed signs of improvement. Time came when he was considered fit enough to start missionary activities. The boy made tremendous progress and was allowed to travel around to continue his noble work.

The story tells us that if all of us are small intrinsically, material bodies don’t make us up. Does it mean that God has been unkind to some of us? No, it doesn’t. The creation cannot exist without us. God has no bias. So that it is incomprehensible. Only then, miracles can exist at any length of time. Fortunately, God is omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent, and the world goes on.
