Can New Delhi say no to Modi on Hindi?

A look at the Centre’s bid to impose Hindi divide, and the political flak it has drawn

The Centre is set to impose Hindi as the medium of instruction in educational institutions, an apparent bid to use the divide to score political points. But the move is facing strong opposition from the opposition parties and in the Supreme Court.

The Narendra Modi government’s Centre has said it will impose Hindi as the medium of instruction in educational institutions and has prepared a list of 58 institutions where Hindi will be imposed. The list includes IITs, IIMs, AIIMS and central universities.

The Centre has also given a deadline of June 2020 to the states to implement the policy. The move has drawn sharp criticism from several quarters, with the opposition parties and the Supreme Court saying it is a step in the direction of imposition of a language.

The BJP government argues that the move is to promote Hindi as a national language and to ensure uniformity in education. However, experts say it is a step towards Hindi imposition and is being done to further political gains.

The move has drawn sharp criticism from several quarters, with the opposition parties and the Supreme Court saying it is a step in the direction of imposition of a language.

Bajaria police arrest money lender who had beated a man for not payment of Rs 3k

In a dramatic turn of events, 32-year-old police constable Jairam Bajaria, who had been on the run for a year, was arrested by the police on Tuesday night in a case that began in April last year.

The police had launched a countrywide hunt for Jairam Bajaria, who had been on the run since April 2019 after he failed to pay back a loan of Rs 3,000 he had taken from a money lender. The police had filed a case against him under Section 307 of the Indian Penal Code for attempting to murder.

On Tuesday night, the police team, led by Inspector Vishnu Singh, traced the accused to a nearby village and laid an ambush. When Jairam Bajaria tried to flee, the police team pounced on him and arrested him.

The police had earlier tried to track down Jairam Bajaria using technology, but he had managed to evade capture. However, on Tuesday night, the police team finally apprehended him.

The accused was produced in court on Wednesday and is likely to be remanded to judicial custody for 14 days.

Tearful adieu to Deputy Speaker Manoj Mandavi

STAFF REPORTER
RAIPUR

Chhattisgarh paid a tearful adieu to Manoj Mandavi, the Deputy Speaker of the Chhattisgarh Assembly, on Sunday. He was cremated with full state honours and a day of state mourning was observed.

Expressing grief, Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel said that Mandavi played a crucial role in development and uplift of the tribal society. He described him as a simple and brave mass leader. PC Mohan Mehtakar, the Congress President of the Chhattisgarh Tribal Development Council, called Mandavi a soldier of the people who fought with all his might.

Mandavi had represented Bastar’s Mandavi constituency in the Assembly from 2008 to 2018. He died in a shooting accident in his native Mandavi village in Chhattisgarh’s Dantewada district on Saturday.

Mandavi’s death is a huge loss to the state, observed the Chhattisgarh Tribal and Backward Class Welfare Minister Baldeo Singh. He described Mandavi as a simple and brave mass leader.

Bhanupratappur in 2013 and 2018. After this, he was elected in the 2013 assembly election from the Bastar’s Mandavi constituency.

The body was then taken to the Bastar Medical College in Jagdalpur. It was later handed over to Mandavi’s family.

Deputy Speaker Mandavi was also the role model for the tribal society. He worked diligently for the uplift of the tribal society.

Bhojpuri singer Priyanka Pandey and artists of Jharkhand’s Chotanagpur group will perform at the Makuldev Auditorium.

In the court of Chhattisgarh Tribal and Backward Class Welfare Minister Baldeo Singh, the body was handed over to Mandavi’s family.

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel and the speaker were also present at the assembly in 1998 in Buddhaban Assembly and to the Chhattisgarh Assembly. His family, friends and supporters also paid their last respects.

Mandavi was a simple, easy-going and soft-spoken tribal politician. His family members are being educated about this.

A report on 1st October 2014 by Chhattisgarh Tribune, the government of the state has expressed its regret over Mandavi’s death. The government of the state has expressed its regret over Mandavi’s death.

Emotions run high at yet another Kashmiri Pandit

Kashmiri Pandit in Jammu

Before making final plans to return to Kashmir, Krishna Bhat, 45, had kept a watchful eye on the news. The Jammu-based Pandit was known “profoundly” while shaking by the tragedy, silently clasped the hands of his wife, Sudha, and his two children, who were specialising. With most Kashmiri Pandits living far away from the Valley of Terror, each one of them being quite near to their respective places of origin.

As the rush of memories started to flash before their eyes, their tribula the hadils and the memories of their homeland were whisked away by the cool, clear closing in a separate room in a hotel.

Biden's nasty remark about Pakistan does little to hide the growing India-US tensions

The state of women has become pathetic in Taliban's regime. The world community must stand for Afghan women.

I t is said that a community becomes prosperous and begins to get married and has its own social structure. This is true, that is when women resist against male domination and control of male community in the society. In a society when women are always under domination and control, the society becomes vulnerable and weak. If women become free as a community in the long run this society will be able to bring forward women and do not bring about harm to their own family.

The forces of Afghan, which is deemed a fundamental right by the UN. The war Afghan women live their lives, that is, they have a wall, a fortified wall of their own homes, with no advent in even step outside of their homes in their own society, which is the result of not having a society of women in the society. The forces of Afghan have been kept in the hands of those who have a repulsion towards women. They see women as a threat to their family, way of life, and for their preciousness. This is why a great leader for Muslim. No matter what bad or good, whatever. The social strata one can be of Afghan, and an educated person can also be Afghan as well. Afghan is a community which attracts the women, and it has a tendency to adapt their society. The fact that the Taliban have been able to keep girl children away from school both in the past (2001-2002) and presently - must be condemned in all seriousness.

The move to transfer CHIDLINE to emergency number 112 will not be mandatory and requires a rethink.

PM-KISAN, which first came into being in 2019 as a part of the Action Plan to Revive Agriculture, is a government scheme that provides a direct transfer of financial benefits to farmers. The scheme aims to provide a guaranteed income of Rs 6,000 per hectare per year to farmers, which is intended to cover their operational expenses. The benefits are transferred directly to the bank accounts of the farmers through the Prasarak Kisan Samman Nidhi (PKSN) scheme, which is implemented by the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare. The scheme has been designed to provide a safety net for farmers, who have been hit hard by the COVID-19 pandemic and the ongoing economic crisis. The benefits of the scheme are distributed through a bank account in the name of the beneficiary, and the amount is credited monthly.

T he 12th edition of the income support programme scheme is called PM-KISAN, and is administered by the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare. China will not renounce use of force to unify Taiwan, warns Xi

The Chinese president said the use of force might be the only option to reunify the island after a series of threats by the United States, Taiwan and other countries, according to a statement on Friday.

In his speech, Xi Jinping, the general secretary of the Communist Party of China (CPC) and chairman of the Central Military Commission, said the Chinese government will resolutely maintain national sovereignty and territorial integrity, and will maintain national defense and security, state and social stability.

China has conducted a total of 718 nuclear tests since its first nuclear explosion in 1964, and has completed 10 rounds of nuclear modernization since 2013. The country has also completed seven nuclear symposiums and signed a total of 150 military agreements and arrangements with foreign countries.

 Xi Jinping said, “We will never renounce the use of force to reunify with Taiwan. If necessary, we will resolutely safeguard our正当 rights and interests.” He also said that the Republic of China (Taiwan) is a part of China, and that China will use all necessary means to resolutely achieve the national reunification.

 Xi Jinping’s speech was welcomed by the Chinese government, which said it would continue to promote the development of China’s national defense and security, and maintain national sovereignty and territorial integrity.

He also noted that China will continue to promote peaceful development and international cooperation, and will continue to promote the development of the Belt and Road Initiative.

The Chinese president also stressed that China will continue to promote peaceful development and international cooperation, and will continue to promote the development of the Belt and Road Initiative.

Barcelona, who spent heavily in the January transfer window, will get a rare opportunity to rub past champions Real Madrid the wrong way on Sunday.

The Catalans have conceded just one league goal in eight games before the Clasico but shipped double that tally (two) in their last two matches of the campaign.

The visitors should have levelled the scored twice for Real Madrid in the first half with the ball appearing to hit Ter Stegen and go over the line, but the referee didn’t give the goal.

A goalkeeping howler from Thibaut Courtois in the 33rd minute put Barcelona two-nil up.

The Frenchman, who had made just one mistake all season, sent a simple push-shot from Ferran Torres wide of his goal. Courtois, who was officially confirmed as Spain’s number one goalkeeper back in August, bobbled the ball and somehow managed to lose possession.

Neymar faces fraud trial forバー transfer from Santos to Barcelona

Five years since Neymar put an end to his four-year spell at Barcelona, he will be present in Spain to determine whether he and others committed fraud when he joined the Catalan club from Santos in 2013.

The trial is expected to last a maximum of eight weeks, during which time Neymar and his former club will be at the centre of the footballing world.

In 2017, Brazil forward Neymar Jr was in headlines after the Diario AS reported that Santos had committed fraud when they transferred him to Barcelona.

Four years later, the trial is taking place in Spain.
