Tribal groups, MLAs reveal many incidents of rape-murder

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE IMPHAL/NEW DELHI

After Manipur Chief Minister Biren Singh made a shocking admission on Thursday that many more cases similar to the parading of a naked woman on the streets of Phainom village in Kangpokpi District took place in the State, reports have surfaced about four more such cases of rape and murder that occurred back-to-back between May 3 and May 6. The disclosure was made by a group of ten Kuki-Zomi MLAs, seven of them from the BJP, and later by two tribal groups to the National Commission for Women (NCW) on June 12 itself. These MLAs released a statement highlighting four other incidents where women belonging to the community have either been raped or murdered since May 3. Their statement comes in the wake of the recent cruelty to women who were paraded naked on May 4 in the Kangkopi district of Manipur.

The statement also mentioned a few other incidents of

"The murder of a Kuki-Zomi mother and her two daughters in their residence at Uripok, Imphal; the kidnapping of a Kuki-Zomi woman from Checkon and brutally raped twice in Langol and Ngarian Hill; the lynching of two nursing students in Porompat, left to die on the streets but miraculously survived; the merciless killing of a Kuki-Zomi mentally unsound woman in the heart of Imphal city are the most inhumane and barbaric crimes against women and humanity," the statement read.

MLA LM Khaute shared the statement on Twitter also highlighting the brutal case of the beheading of David Thiek, terming these as cases of "barbarism and crimes of utmost savagery". The Kuki Zomi MLAs strongly condemned these acts of cruelty and savagery perpetrated by the Meitei militias against their fellow helpless, defenceless, and innocent Kuki-Zo people and demand-ed a CBJ probe in such cases.

Another accused house burnt down

Meanwhile, according to CNN-News18, two tribal organisations in Manipur claimed that they wrote to the NCW on June 12 about the horrific brutalisation of Kuki women, a video of which has now gone viral, but received no response. The North American Manipur Tribal Association (NAMTA) and Kuki academics based in India and the USA had sent a letter to the com-mission 37 days before the video of the Kuki women being video of the Kuki women being paraded naked and gang-raped shook the country. In their letter, they detailed what happened to the Kuki survivor, stating that on May 4, two women from B Phainom village of Kangpokpi District were disrobed, paraded naked, beaten and the beaten, and then encircled by a marauding Meitei mob and raped in public. The State police commandos remained mere spectators to the lynch-ings and torching of homes. The victims are now housed at a Churachandpur district relief camp

In a press statement, the NCW acknowledged receiving the complaint and said: "Another complaint was received from individuals outside Manipur out of which one was from outside India. In this regard, the D.O letter dated 19/06/2023 from Commission (NCW) was immediately sent to CS for taking necessary action.

PM must speak, says Opp; Govt retorts you don't want discussion massive ruckus ensued in Aboth the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha on the second day of the monsoon session on Friday as the Opposition parties demanded Prime Minister Narendra Modi's statement on the pressing issue surrounding Manipur. Amid the continuous protests and slogans raised by the opposition, both houses were adjourned till Monday.

The outrage was sparked by a disturbing video that went viral, showing two women from a tribal community in Manipur being paraded naked. The Opposition parties have been demanding a discussion on the issue and an elaborate statement from PM Modi.

In the Lok Sabha, members from the Congress, the DMK, and the Left raised slogans demanding the Prime Minister's response on the issue. The Government accused the Opposition parties of not being "serious" in discussing the matter.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said the Government is ready for a discussion. "Manipur incident is definitely very serious and understanding the situation, the PM himself has said that what hap-pened in Manipur has put the entire nation to shame. The PM has said that the strictest action will be taken over the incident," said Rajnath.

said Rajnath. He added, "We do want a discussion in Parliament over Manipur. I had said this in the all-party meeting, and I reiterate this in Parliament that we want a discussion in the House over Manipur. But I see that there are a few political parties that unnecessarily want to create a situation here so that the discussion on Manipur can't take place. I am clearly leveling allegations that this Opposition is not serious over Manipur as they should have been.

Varanasi court asks ASI to carry out excavations also if needed

PTI VARANASI

Acourt here on Friday directed the Archaeological Survey of India to conduct a "detailed scientific survey" — including excavations, wherever necessary to determine if the Gyanvapi mosque located next to the Kashi Vishwanath temple is built upon a temple. The mosque's 'wazukhana', where a structure claimed by Hindu litigants to be a 'shivling' exists, will not be part of the survey — following an earlier Supreme Court order protect ing that spot in the complex. District judge AK Vishvesh directed the ASI to submit a report to the court by August 4, along with videos and photographs of survey proceedings. "The Director of ASI is also directed to conduct a detailed scientific investigation by using GPR (Ground Penetrating Radar) survey, excavation, dating method and other modern techniques of the present structure to find out as to whether same has been constructed over a pre-existing structure of Hindu temple," the order said.

It specifically directed the use of GPR technology for survey "just below the three domes of the building in question", and to conduct an excavation there "if required".

A throng of people outside the court received the news with slogans of "Har Har Mahadev".

The court had on July 14 reserved its order after hearing both the Hindu and Muslim sides.

The petition filed by the Hindu group, seeking the right to regular worship of sculptures of Hindu deities on the mosque's outer wall, had sought court directions to the ASI to survey the complex.

Its counsel had said the situation will become clear after examining the three domes of the Gyanvapi complex, the western wall and the entire complex in a modern manner.

The mosque management's counsel Mohammed Tauhid Khan said it will challenge the Varanasi court's order.

"It is not acceptable and we will move to a higher court against it. This survey could cause damage to the mosque,

The order asked the ASI to ensure that there is no damage to the "structure standing on the disputed land". The Varanasi district court had on May 16 agreed to hear a plea for an ASI survey, fol-lowing an Allahabad High Court order.

Apart from the mosque's domes, the order mentions the need to survey beneath the western wall and beneath the cellars. The ASI should also conduct an exercise on the plinth and pillars to determine the age and nature of the building, the judge said.

Earlier, the Supreme Court had ordered the protection of the area around the claimed "shivling", found when another court ordered a video survey of the complex.

The mosque management maintained that the structure is part of the water fountain mechanism at the 'wazukhana', the reservoir where devotees perform ablutions before offering namaz

The Supreme Court on Friday issued a notice on an appeal filed by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi against a Gujarat High Court order that refused to suspend his conviction and two-year jail term in a criminal defamation case. The court fixed August 4 as the date for hearing his plea to stay the guilty verdict. "The whole point right now is whether the conviction has to be stayed or not," said a bench of justices BR Gavai and PK Mishra as it sought responses from BJP leader Purnesh Modi, who is the complainant in the case, and the Gujarat Government.

During the brief hearing, the court expressed surprise at the high court's lengthy judgment on the matter. Senior counsel Abhishek Manu Singhvi appeared for Gandhi, and senior advocate Mahesh Jethmalani represented the complainant.

Justice Gavai, at the beginning of the hearing, disclosed his family's association with the Congress party but clarified that it would not affect his indemont in the judgment in the case. Both lawyers confirmed that they had no issue with Justice Gavai hearing the matter.

Singhvi argued for an early hearing, pointing out that Gandhi has suffered as an MP and missed two Parliamentary sessions due to the conviction. Continued on Page 2 | ners.

HC to hear plea against proposed demolition of Ayodhya masjid minaret

s the construction of Ram Atemple in Ayodhya nears completion, a fight is on in the Allahabad High Court over a minaret of an 18th century mosque "encroaching" on the proposed Ram Path, a road leading to the temple.

The matter will be heard by the Lucknow bench of the high court on Monday (July 24). A minaret of Khajoor ki

Masjid in Gudri Bazaar in the heart of Faizabad city is said to be encroaching on the pro-posed Ram Path by three metres.

In a tweet on Thursday, Hyderabad MP and AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi alleged that "illegal attempts" are being made to demolish the minaret of the mosque for the widening of the Ram Path.

"The mosque committee has filed a petition in the high court. Trying to forcibly demolish the minaret is condemnable. UP CM should follow the law and respect this historical mosque of the Shia community," he tweeted.

The mosque committee has prayed before the high court for the protection of the historical mosque via a writ petition on March 1 this year. The high court issued a notice to the Ayodhya district magistrate the next day. Talking to PTI, Ayodhya District Magistrate Nitish Kumar said, "We have submitted our reply in the court. Thirteen other mosques falling on the way of Ram Path have been removed peacefully. We are going with the alignment of the road finalised by the government. The mosque committee had initially given its consent (for the demolition of minaret) but it later approached the court."

On April 21, the Ayodhya district administration filed its response before the court. The mosque is said to have

On a day when the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) and fire brigade personnel from the fire brigade personnel from the nearby areas recovered six more bodies from under the landslide debris, a statement made by chief minister Eknath Shinde in the State Assembly gave rise to an apprehension that a large number of people were still feared buried under he debris.

Giving the details of the escue and relief operations being carried out at Irshalwadi, Shinde said: "In landslideaffected village (which had 48 families and a population of 228 people at the time of mishap), as many as 109 people have so far been identified. The search and rescue operation is continuing".

There are conflicting versions about the number of people rescued from under the debris.

On Thursday evening, the NDRF had pegged the number of people rescued at 98, while the official sources said that the authorities had till Friday evening rescued 119 people. Given that some people, including children, were away from their homes at the time of mishap and their homes immediately after the landslide, it is difficult to account for the number of people who are still still missing.

Earlier in the day, the NDRF, SDRF and other rescue teams, who suspended the search operation on Thursday evening, resumed the operation in the early hours of Friday. During the search operation that saw them clear mounds and mounds of debris and loose soil from the mishap site, the rescue teams recovered six more bodies from under the bodies, taking the toll in the landslide to 22.

Manipur violence issue and the Delhi Ordinance.

The Opposition made its intentions clear as soon as the proceedings began for the day when Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar started reading out the time allocated for government business. He began this by mentioning The Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi (Amendment) Bill that is to replace an ordinance on services in Delhi.

Even before he could complete it, AAP MPs were up on their feet calling the bill "unconstitutional." Dhankhar asked them to maintain decorum in the House. But MPs from AAP, including Sanjay Singh, continued to object, saying no bill can be brought that is unconstitutional.

"I give time to everyone in accordance with the rules. This House is the house of elders. Our conduct is being watched by more than 1.3 billion people. We have to be exemplary in our conduct so that we can be appreciated. It is not a public street. It is not a platform," the Chairman said. Meanwhile, Pramod Tiwari (Congress) drew the attention of the house to the Manipur violence.

Raising the issue of expunging certain remarks, Derek O'Brien (TMC) said, 'Three words were expunged. Yesterday we said the Prime Minister should open his mouth on Manipur. The Prime Minister got expunged. Manipur got expunged. Why?" he asked. While he sought to know if any of the words were not fit for parliamentary proceedings, the Chairman repeatedly asked what his point of order was. As O'Brien tried to explain, the House plunged into disorder. At this point, Dhankhar adjourned the proceedings till 2:30 pm.

Soon after reassembling at 2:30 pm, Chairman Dhankhar informed the members about the report of the business advisory committee (BAC) after its meeting held on Thursday and said it should be taken into account. This led to an uproar with several opposition members raising objections over the listing of the National Capital Territory of Delhi (Amendment) Bill along with the Forest Conservation Bill, saying they had already expressed their views against the proposed legislation during the BAC meeting.

Amid the uproar and with most opposition members on their feet, the Chairman adjourned the house till Monday within minutes of its resumption.

The FIR claimed that one person was killed by the mob as he tried to protect his sister from being raped on May 4 before the two were paraded naked and molested in front of others.

More than 160 people have lost their lives, and several have been injured since ethnic violence broke out in the state on May 3, when a Tribal Solidarity March' was organised in the hill districts to protest against the Meitei community's demand for Scheduled Tribe (ST) status.

Meiteis account for about 53 per cent of Manipur's population and live mostly in the Imphal Valley, while tribals, which include Nagas and Kukis, constitute 40 per cent and reside mostly in the hill districts.

On May 4, 22-year-old Agnes Neikhohat and her friend, students at the Nightingale Nurse Institute in Imphal, were harassed and assaulted by a Meitei mob of about 40 people. "Rape her! Torture her! Cut her into pieces!" Meitei women shouted as the attackers pummeled Ms. Haokip, knocking out her front teeth.

On May 5, Themnu and Chongpi, young women in their twenties, hailing from H Khopibung village ing room-to-room searches of

Their employer could not protect them, and when the room was finally opened at about 7 pm, it was filled with a mixture of blood and hair, and the victims had succumbed to their injuries from the brutal assaults. The victims' bodies remain in the INIMS (Jawaharlal Nehru Institute of Medical Sciences) morgue in Imphal to date, and the victims' parents cannot retrieve the bodies to conduct last rites due to the prevailing volatile situation.

With no rain for the third day in a row, the hot and sultry weather in the national capital pushed the peak power demand in the city to 7,398 MW Friday afternoon - the highest this year so far. The State Load Dispatch Centre (SLDC) Delhi's real time data showed that the peak demand was 7,398 MW at around 3.10 pm. The peak power demand measures the power consumption in megawatt at any given time within 24 hours of a day.

The previous highest peak demand in this year was 7,226 MW on June 14. The highest even peak power demand of Delhi was recorded at 7,601 MW in June last year, officials said. Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal on Twitter said that despite the power demand peaking on Friday, there was 24-hour power sup-ply in the city. "... No power

Further, the rules make it clear that all the training agencies shall submit the details of security guards/supervisors, trained batch-wise to the controlling authority within 30 days of completion of each batch along with copy of their training certificates in online/offline mode. The rules also deal with the number of supervisors to be employed and the form in which a photo

New road signage guidelines to improve road safety: MoRTH

PNS NEW DELHI

The Union Road Transport and Highways Ministry has taken a significant step towards improving road traffic safety and management by introducing new guidelines for road signage on the national highways network and expresswavs. These guidelines, released by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH), aim to enhance road safety and ensure a secure travel experience for drivers across the country.

The guidelines, approved by Union Minister Nitin Gadkari, are designed to incorporate best practices and international standards, providing improved visibility and intuitive guidance to drivers. Road signages play a crucial role in providing vital information and instructions to drivers, and the new guidelines focus on optimizing their effectiveness. As part of the review process, MoRTH evaluated existing provisions in line with relevant Indian Road Congress (IRC) codes and guidelines, international practices, and functional perspectives. The objective was to streamline traffic regulations and create signages that offer clear and concise guidance, warnings, notices, and regulatory information to drivers, facilitating a seamless and safe journey on the roads.

> One of the primary highlights of the guidelines is the emphasis on enhancing visibility and legibility. The strategic placement of signages at appropriate heights and distances, coupled with the use of large lettering, symbols, and short legends, aims to ensure that crucial information remains easily visible and comprehensible, even during adverse weather conditions.

To cater to a diverse group of road users, including those with limited literacy, the guidelines propose the use of pictorial depictions along with text. This approach aims to effectively convey essential mes-sages, ensuring better com-prehension and adherence to traffic regulations.

Recognizing the linguistic diversity of India, MoRTH has also advocated a multilingual approach on road signages. By using both English and regional languages, communication with road users from different linguistic backgrounds will be enhanced, promoting better understanding and compliance with traffic rules.

-PAPER WITH PASSION-

The Manipur blot

The incident proves the destructive potential of fake news and the Govt's failure to safeguard its citizens

anipur, which has seen unprecedented violence in the last two months, has shocked the nation again. The news of shaming two women is discomfort-IVI snocked the nation again. The news of one internet states and normalcy in ing as it exposes the government's failure to restore peace and normalcy in the state. The northeastern state witnessed a horrific incident that shook the nation's conscience when two women were paraded naked in public following the spread of a malicious fake news story. This deplorable act reflects the grave consequences of misinformation and the inability of the government to protect its citizens. The incident highlights the urgent need for both media literacy and government accountability in addressing the growing menace of fake news in our society. The incident, though it took place two months back, came to light recently as the internet was suspended. A false rumour began circulating on social media platforms and messaging apps in Manipur, claiming that the two Kuki women were involved in the kidnapping of a Meitei child. The unverified news quickly gained traction, fuelled by the lack of fact-checking and the absence of responsible journalism in the region. As the rumour spread like wildfire, an enraged mob took matters into their own hands, setting off a chain of events that would forever scar the women's lives. On May 3, a frenzied mob confronted the two Kuki women and subjected them to an unimaginable ordeal. Driven by anger and misinformation, the mob stripped the women of their dignity by parading them naked through crowded streets. The incident was not only a grave violation of their human rights but also a stark reminder of the devastating consequences of fake news in an already sensitive and vulnerable region.

The incident also shed light on the government's failure to protect its citizens. Despite the growing menace of misinformation, there was a clear lack of proactive measures taken by the government to combat the spread of fake news in the state. The absence of regulatory frameworks to curb the dissemination of false information has left the population susceptible to manipulation and violence. Furthermore, the failure of law enforcement agencies to intervene promptly and control the mob highlights a deep-rooted issue of inadequacy in ensuring the safety and security of citizens. The lack of immediate action allowed the situation to escalate rapidly, leading to the horrifying public humiliation of the two women. In the aftermath of the Manipur incident, civil society, human rights activists and citizens demanded urgent action from both the government and social media platforms. The government must take tangible steps to strengthen law enforcement and improve emergency response mechanisms to prevent such incidents from occurring in the future. Holding those responsible for the heinous act accountable through a fair and transparent legal process is essential to ensure justice for the victims.

Why accountability is so important

t is a matter of immense national pride for all of us to have witnessed the successful launch of Chandrayaan- 3 on its epic journey and landing on the moon's South Pole. Though well begun is only half done, one is hopeful that the team of dedicated scientists, engineers and technicians behind this project are rewarded for their wholehearted dedication and untiring efforts towards this mission with complete success.

The very fact that ISRO has achieved so much, with a minuscule budget of around Rs 650 Crores to boot, speaks volumes for its focus. Some movies cost more to make! It is therefore extremely puzzling as to why our engineers dealing with more mundane issues of town and infrastructure planning have made such a hash of things all around the country, as the monsoon plays out.

Of course, unexpected extreme weather may have been responsible for some of the havoc, but why was this not foreseen and catered for? After all a veritable army is employed, and paid for by taxpayers' money, for just this very thing! We have also had an array of civil servants and politicians, including the Prime Minister, travelling the world and attending a host of conferences and symposiums on mitigating the impact of climate change, on taxpayers money of course. These have been nothing more than holiday jaunts for the participants.

Accountability, or to be more specific, the lack of it, is the issue here In Delhi. The unseemly fight between the elected government and a puppet Lieutenant Governor, beholden to the Central Government in more ways than one, has allowed the bureaucracy to do as it pleases and get away with daylight murder. Fortunately, nobody has yet suggested we turn Delhi into another ersatz Venice, in the way MS Mamata Banerjee has attempted to make Kolkata into another imitation of London.

where by all accounts, an intense civil war rages on, with cases of rape and murder being documented almost daily, with no end in sight. Instead, as was to be expected, the Naga community now finds itself being slowly dragged into the quagmire with one of their community recently murdered.

Despite the universal condemnation, whether the Prime Minister speaks up publicly is unimportant. Though, he has now been forced to break his months-old vow of silence following the horrific and shameful video of Meitei crowds parading two naked Kuki women on mainstream media. More importantly, why has his government not substantially intervened as yet? In such circumstances what can one expect from complicit GOVERNANCE ONE local politicians and bureaucrats awho are a part of the problem and not the solution?

But this is not an issue restricted to the political establishment or those in government. Mainstream media could not be bothered till now and paid only lip service to the issue. I nose from civil society who never lose an opportunity to focus the spotlight on have not uttered even a squeak. That certainly is a pointer to the disturbing fact that those who covertly financially incentivise their initiatives have felt it necessary that Manipur should burn. This is not just local politics playing out, but something far more reprehensible and sinister.

In the same vein the BJP much touted nationalistic agenda and supposedly "mus-cular foreign policy" has turned out to be a damp squib, as it has cut no ice with China. The External Affairs Minister needs to clarify if we have any realistic hope of recovering the estimated 3000 square km of territory, that some analysts have alleged, we claim but can no longer patrol, in Eastern Ladakh

In this context, the wishywashy excuse of differing perceptions about the alignment of the LAC or whataboutism with regard to the loss of much of the Aksai Chin in the 1950s cuts no ice. As Mr Shyam Saran, former Foreign Secretary, points out by doing so, our side has implicitly conceded to Chinese perceptions Chinese clarify their position? They see "salami slicing" actions as legitimate. We, of course, refuse to face up to the reality of the losses and spend more time concealing facts from the domestic audience rather than taking any firm action. Whinging, it seems is the default mode of all our governments.

Without accountability, we're going nowhere and it needs to start with this government holding those responsible for the Ladakh fiasco accountable. Is it worried that by doing so they would have to concede the Prime Minister had deliberately mis-spoken when he famously gave the Chinese a clean chit? Holding to account members of the security and intelligence establishment should not in any way be linked to politics. It was indeed an unhealthy trend set by Mr Vajpayee's government following the Kargil Conflict that needs to be reversed, and quickly, lest we find ourselves even more deeply embarrassed in the future.

Unending mysteries of neurological disorders

RAVINDRA SRIVASTAVA

On World Brain Day, let us take resolve to understand and root out neurological disorders which are multiplying rapidly

orld Brain Day is celebrated annually on July 22 to raise awareness about brain health. It was proposed by the World Federation of Neurology, established on this day in 1957, to commemorate their inception, and shine a global spotlight on neurological conditions. Awareness programmes are conducted globally on World Brain Day to help people understand the connection between brain diseases and neurological diseases. Simultaneously, World Brain Day stresses the importance of early detection and timely treatment of neurological disorders. The human brain is the control centre of the body. It works alongside the nervous system, which comprises the spinal cord, nerves, and neurons. This intricate system governs various aspects, such as your senses and muscle control. Damage to the brain can have extensive consequences

What are Neurological Disorders?

A neurological disorder is a severe health condition. It one stroke-related death every affects the entire nervous system--the brain, spinal cord and nerves. These diseases arise from injuries or abnormalities in the nervous system.

However, genetic disorders and unhealthy lifestyle choices may also trigger neurological diseases in humans. The Pan American Health Organization and WHO jointly reported that rising neurological disease-related disabilities and deaths present a global public health challenge. The report further highlights that neurological conditions were responsible for approximately 533,172 deaths throughout the entire region the year 2019.

in Furthermore, AIIMS reveals a shocking statistic indicating four minutes in India. Likewise, the International Association of Cancer Registries (IARC) reports over 28,000 brain tumour cases annually in the country, resulting in 24,000 deaths per year. It is noteworthy that stroke, headache disorders, and epilepsy are the primary causes of the neurological disorder burden in India.

Symptoms and Risk Factors

Neurological diseases generally start with symptoms such as memory loss, loss of balance, weakness in limbs vision problems Dizziness or vertigo, Numbness Slurred speech hearing problems convulsions/seizures. It is impor-tant to recognise these symptoms for early diagnosis and treatment of neurological disorders.

Risk Factors

 Neurological disorders can impact individuals across all age groups, but certain conditions like Parkinson's Disease primarily afflict the elderly population.

 Inborn genetic problems and immune disorders can cause neurological diseases in children,

•Vascular disorders, medication side-effects, hor-

Untreated neurological diseases can cause life-threatening conditions such as brain tumours, cerebral palsy, meningitis, multiple sclerosis, stroke, and dementia. Timely diagnosis and treatment are, therefore, crucial for managing and improving patients' quality of life. Govt's Intervention

The Indian Government has implemented several welfare initiatives like Ayushman Bharat—Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojna to address various health conditions, including neurological disorders. Sincere and targeted efforts are essential for the effective implementation of these initiatives, which have the potential to bring about significant positive change on a large scale.

PM BREAKS SILENCE

Sir — Having three months of violence, deaths and displacement the PM broke his long silence after a video depicting the heinous acts perpetrated on the two women. He is yet to comment on the crisis as a whole-has cost Manipur and India greatly. A word of condemnation from the PM and a strict warning against mischief earlier-Manipur has been burning since May -could have made a difference on the ground. It would have also spared India the blushes on the global stage. The European Parliament's censure is a recent example.

Mr Modi's party is in power both at the Centre and the state. The truth is that be it Manipur's prolonged suffering in recent times or the pain inflicted by the pandemic or, even earlier, by demonetisation, Mr Modi's regime has fallen short, quite often, of alleviating the misshort, quite offer ery of the people. K Mazhar | Hyderabad

OPPOSITION MEETING

Sir — The two-day meeting of oppositions in Bengaluru is over with a coordination committee set to be formed at the next meeting in Mumbai and named the party INDIA. Meanwhile, BJP also addressed NDA in Delhi including 38 parties. The NDA's parallel show of strength made it obvious that the BJP is not taking the Opposition lightly. The allimportant question is: do these parties have the firepower and cohesion to stop the BJP's juggernaut in 2024? The 26 parties account for around 150 seats in the Lok Sabha, less than half the NDA's current strength. The Congress, which is in power in Karnataka, Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan and Himachal Pradesh continues to be the premier Opposition party. Much will depend on whether the Congress and its INDIA partners such as AAP and the Trinamool Congress can rise above their differences. Going by the split in the Shiv Sena and the NCP, the BJP will stop at nothing to cripple the Opposition camp.

HUMANITY DIES IN MANIPUR

Sir — Manipur's violence is unabated. Despite all efforts, no solution has been found. Meanwhile, outrage swept the country as a video of two women being paraded naked surfaced. From Parliament to the street, people were spotted protest-

The incident provoked an immediate response from Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who stated that the misery perpetrated on the two women has embarrassed 140 crore Indians. The Supreme Court has asked the government for a response after taking suo motu cog-nizance of the matter. CJI Justice DY Chandrachud even stated, "We are giving the government some time; it is fine if it takes steps; otherwise, we will take steps ourselves. With this, the rain in coming days is going to play havoc in Maharashtra so be alert.

Home Minister produced no substantial results. Not only are doubts being raised about the participation of the state government there but all information is being withheld owing to factors such as an internet ban. Members of the fact-finding team were also charged with crimes by the police.

When the Monsoon Session of Parliament opened, it was expected that at least a significant debate would occur in the House, showing the common concern and direction of the government's efforts. However, on the first day, as the opposition raised a fuss demanding the Prime Minister's statement, the ruling party shrugged, claiming that the opposition had decided not to allow the Parliament to function. This is quite unfortunate. In such serious matters, both the opposition and the government should rise above their stubbornness and ensure better use of Parliament.

FIRSTCOLUMN BUILDING HEALTHY INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

Interpersonal skills are important because they enable individuals to communicate

SAKSHI SETHI

In the words of Beatrice Vincent "The people with whom you work reflect your own attitude. If you are suspicious, unfriendly and condescending, you will find theses unlovely traits echoed everything about you. But if you are on your best behaviour, you will bring out the best in the persons with whom you are going to spend most of your working hours."

nterpersonal skills, the most common word often talked about nowadays, is a specific type of social skill. It's how an individual speaks, listens and acknowledges others and acts accordingly. Interpersonal competencies help an individual interact, communicate and collaborate with others effectively. As part of an individual's development as a human being, we need to communicate with others at some point in time. Throughout each stage of an individual's life, an individual is faced with different and new circumstances in which they meet people and connect with them so that they can grow and develop an understanding and outlook on life.

Interpersonal skills are traits one can rely on when one interacts and communicates with others.

Practising good interpersonal skills help an individual to communicate more effectively with friends and family. Be it workplace or home, individuals at every stage are required to communicate and interact with a wide range of people - be it from suppliers or customers to immediate colleagues, teams, managers or any other co-worker. The individual's ability to do so effectively can make the difference between a successful working life, and one spent wondering what went wrong. There are several obvious jobs and careers such as financial advisors and brokerage, Computer programmers and developers, and Healthcare provision including doctors, nurses and other healthcare professionals where interpersonal skills are vitally important. Being able to listen to; what one is saying and what they are not articulating' enables a person to provide recommendations that match their competencies. Often at times, people are not truly paying attention to a conversation by planning their next point or sentence. Practicing the art of Active listening which is a means to be fully concentrated on what is being said is one of the most fundamental components of communication. Also, it improves performance, and effectiveness, and helps others achieve their full potential. Along with that attending workshops or online classes, seeking opportunities to build relationships, being thoughtful about ways of interactions, seeking mentorship and setting goals for oneself can provide structure thereby making the learning efficient.

Dharavi: A humancentric transformation

On his bucket list, former world heavyweight boxing champion Mike Tyson listed two places in India that he wished to visit: the Taj Mahal and & Dharavi

y first tryst with Dharavi was in the late 1970s. New to Mumbai, I was just another anonymous youngster lured to the big city by opportunity and my optimism that I would sparkle in the diamond trade. Even back then, Dharavi was a melting pot of a diverse array of beliefs, cultures and languages from every part of India. I was mesmerised by the industrious chaos that I saw in Dharavi's alleys, where just about every Indian language seemed to echo with equal urgency. But there was order in that chaos, seemingly provided by the soul of Dharavi. I could never define it but felt it very strongly.

That visit to Dharavi was both humbling and disturbing. The community's struggle for survival, laced with equanimity and happiness, inspired me. However, BEGINNING. IT IS A it also burned a question into my mind:

OUR BID WAS 2.5 TIMES THE NEXT HIGHEST. A NEW CHAPTER OF

1960s, Dharavi is a unique project in a league of its own for three reasons: Firstly, it is one of the world's largest urban resettlement and regeneration projects. Approximately a million people will be rehabilitated and resettled.

Secondly, rehabilitation entails the resettlement of not only the residential units but also of diverse establishments of various sizes and scales dealing with trading, shopping and other business transactions. The entire ecosphere and business fabric of diverse and distinct trades thriving in Dharavi will be rehabilitat-PRIDE AND ed and rehoused.

PURPOSE IS NING, IT IS A housing and rehabilitation needs HISTORIC of both eligible and ineligible res-self-assured, growing India finding its new place on the global stage as the 21st century belongs to India.

It is also my commitment that the only move the eligible residents of Dharavi will make will be to their new homes. Not only will they see their homes being constructed in front of their eyes but they will also have a say in shaping it. What their homes do not have now, we will provide gas, water, electricity, sanitation and drainage, healthcare and recreational facilities, and open spaces - and they will also have access to a world-class hospital and a school. Gone, like a faded memory, will be the pain of inadequacy. In its place will be a new Dharavi that hums with pride.

history of nearly half a century. This time, some smart changes in the tender design based on earlier learnings ensured bidders' participation and its successful completion. For example, this tender catered to the rehabilitation of ineligible tenants. Further, the inclusion of 45 acres of railway land adjacent to Dharavi facilitates in-situ resettlement and day-zero project commencement. It is important to mention that this project would not have seen the light of day but for the unflinching support and commitment of the successive state governments and political parties of Maharashtra coupled with the present central government which provided railway land.

My team and I are aware that the design and implementation of the Dharavi project are challenges monumental in both scale and dimensions. We are also aware that the project will test our resilience, our capability and our execution skills to their limits. Over the years, the Adani Group has developed a solution-oriented culture backed by a highly motivated, experienced and energetic team. I am confident that, with the support of all stakehold-ers, we shall create history and make Dharavi, Mumbai and India proud. After we are done, if Mike Tvson does visit Dharavi again, he may not be able to recognise the Dharavi he saw earlier but I am sure that he will still find its soul as spirited and alive as ever. God willing, the likes of Danny Boyle will discover that the new Dharavi The effort to transform is producing millionaires without the slumdog prefix.

Interpersonal skills are not only valuable for a leader, but they are such values that one uses in everyday life. Discovering, practising and mastering these skills will lead to the production of better teams. Interpersonal skills are important to live a happy and successful life. In every footstep of a person's life, the interpersonal skills of an individual are tested and observed, and those who have excellent interpersonal skills are always successful in both professional and personal living. The best step to form good and healthy interpersonal relationships is in the early years since the support and efforts received at that age will affect the ability to socialise and communicate for the rest of life. Remember, interpersonal skills are important because they enable individuals to communicate effectively and build positive relationships with others. When an individual improves their communication, empathy and relationship-building skills, they can enhance their emotional intelligence, increase self-awareness, and develop a better understanding of themselves and others. Be it emotional support or material support, every person must feel that they are being reciprocated. By being assertive, one can express themselves clearly, logically and with common sense. It is henceforth worth spending time developing good interpersonal skills.

(The writer is an educator)

Will their fate ever change? My amazement is no less today. Seeing Dharavi sprawled out like a giant human quilt below the landing approach to Mumbai Airport is not only a reminder of stoic human adaptation and Mumbai's capacity to embrace settlers of contrastive origins but also a grim reminder of a community living in urban squalor, forever waiting for its revival. Against this backdrop, when this opportunity to renew Dharavi came calling, I seized it with both hands. I eagerly wanted to do it as it had a huge personal connect with my first impression of Mumbai. Perhaps, it was because of this overzealousness that our bid was 2.5 times the next highest. A new chapter of pride and purpose is beginning. It is a historic opportunity for us to create a new Dharavi of dignity, safety and inclusiveness.

As we embark on this completely uncharted journey, I am aware of the colossal challenges ahead. Even in comparison with Singapore's trailblazing project to resolve its housing crisis in the

By addressing the barriers to healthcare access and affordability, Ayushman Bharat strives to improve health and reduce health inequalities yushman Bharat, also known as the Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (PMJAY), is a pioneering healthcare scheme launched by the Government of India in September 2018. The program aims to provide health insurance coverage to economically vulnerable individuals and families, offering them financial protection against catastrophic health expenditures. Ayushman Bharat Card (ABC) is a significant step towards achieving universal health coverage in India and improving access to quality healthcare services. This policy of the union government has shown her eagerness to provide health security to the weaker sections of the society following models of successful

Evidence-based comparison It's implied that ABC draws inspiration from countries where similar policies have proven their potential. To better understand the strengths and limitations of ABC, it is valuable to compare it with foreign healthcare ty for low-income individu- outcomes and reduce the programs.

That gives insights into different approaches to achieving universal healthcare coverage and assesses the potential effectiveness of ABC within a global context. This evidence-based comparison will explore similar programs in various countries, considering factors such as program scope, implementation strategies & funding mechanisms.

Talking of the USA at the very outset, Affordable Care Act (ACA) aims to expand access to healthcare coverage and reduce costs for Americans. It primarily focuses on reducing the number of uninsured individuals and improving the quality of healthcare services. It expanded Medicaid eligibili-als and provided subsidies to help make insurance more affordable.

In the United Kingdom, National Health Service (NHS) provides comprehensive healthcare services, including hospital care, general practitioner services, and pharmaceuticals, to all residents of the United Kingdom. In Germany, Statutory Health Insurance, GKV, has a dual healthcare system that consists of statutory health insur-ance (GKV) and private health insurance. Future rospects:

Strengthening Primary Healthcare: By focusing on preventive care, early intervention, and primary healthcare infrastructure, the program can improve health need for expensive hospitalizations.

Enhancing Quality of Care: Empanelment of more accredited hospitals, implementing robust quality assurance mechanisms, and monitoring patient satisfaction can help enhance the overall quality of care delivered through ABC.

Addressing Regional Disparities: Future efforts should concentrate on bridging the gaps by targeting underserved regions, incentivizing private sector participation, and improving the reach of healthcare services to marginalized populations.

China agrees to reschedule $ 2 bn debt of Pakistan

The Economic Coordination Committee (ECC) of the Cabinet, chaired by Finance Minister Ishaq Dar on Thursday, approved the revised terms of the agreement reached between Islamabad and Beijing, according to senior Pakistani officials, the Express Tribune reported.

Pakistan has built two nuclear power plants in Karachi that have a combined generation capacity of 2,117 megawatts. The total cost of the plants is USD 9.5 billion, including the USD 6.5 billion financing from China. The loan was extended by the Export-Import (Exim) Bank of China.

Of USD 2 billion, over USD 625 million was maturing in this fiscal year that will now be paused. The USD 6.5 billion is a publicly guaranteed debt, and over USD 2 billion repayments were maturing in two years that China has agreed to make a pause on, according to senior officials.

The Ministry of Finance did not officially make a state-ment about the ECC's stamp of endorsement to the revised agreement with China.

China has, time and again, helped Pakistan meet its debt obligations through the provision of new loans and the rollover of the existing debt.

China prematurely refi-nanced its USD 1.3 billion commercial loans in June, which helped Pakistan avoid a default on its international debt obligations during the period when the International Monetary Fund program was stalled.

After the signing of the new IMF programme, Pakistan's gross official foreign exchange reserves have bounced back to USD 8.7 billion – up from the critically low level of USD 4.5 billion before the IMF deal.Earlier, Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif said that China rolled over more than USD 5 billion in loans.

Russian cruise missiles, flying to dodge Ukrainian air defences destroyed farm storage buildings in the Odesa region early Friday, Ukrainian officials said, as the Kremlin's forces expanded their targets following three days of bombardment of the region's Black Sea port infrastructure. Hours later, seven Russian missiles also damaged what officials described as an "important infrastructure facility" southwest of the port city of Odesa, in what appeared to be part of an ongoing Kremlin effort to cripple Ukraine's Black Sea food exports. Officials did not immediately provide details of that attack. During the night, two missiles struck the agricultural storage facility, starting a fire, and while workers fought to put it out another missile hit, destroying farm and firefighting equipment, the southern Odesa region's Gov. Amid signs of recovery, SL draws up calendar of events in 75th year of Independence

PTI COLOMBO

Sri Lankan tourism authori-ties have created a calendar of events to woo tourists for the next several months leading up to the 76th anniversary of the country's independence next year as the cash-strapped country is showing signs of recoverv from an unprecedented economic crisis it faced last year.

Sri Lanka or Ceylon as it was known during the British era, threw off the colonial voke in 1948 to become a free nation, a year after India gained its independence from the imperial rule.

When the country, dubbed the 'Pearl of the Indian Ocean', marked the 75th anniversary of its independence on February 4 this year, it was reeling under a devastating economic crisis.While an official ceremony was held in Colombo to mark the occasion, the mood among many Sri Lankans was hardly celebratory despite the significance of the milestone. But, now the debt-ridden nation, facing its worst economic crisis since independence, due to a shortage of foreign exchange reserves, riding on a resilient spirit and bailout packages from international bodies, is on the road to recovery. "We are moving forward with the IMF (International Monetary Fund) programme, the World Bank programme, the ADB programme...all in the process... Right now, the current government is giving the solution, and moving forward," said Chalaka Gajabahu, chairman of the Sri Lanka Tourism Promotion Bureau (SLTPB) in Colombo. The fuel crisis and medicine crisis are "no longer there". Still, the economic situation is there, but it has 'improved vastly and the numbers speak for themselves," he said

The island nation is making comprehensive efforts to recover from the crisis and rebuild the economy, the SLTPB said, asserting that it was "ready to conquer any challenge" and "conquer the crisis".In response to a query from PTI on the Sri Lankan government's plan to celebrate the next Independence Day, keeping in mind the debt restructuring the island nation is faced with, the SLTPB chairman said, "We are going to lead up with many, many projects." "We have created an event calendar for the next nine months, a lot of events going to happen in Sri Lanka, water sports, a lot of Indian stars that we are trying to bring down to Sri Lanka to have concerts, and leading to the Independence Day, a lot of projects going to come out in December itself. It is under discussion," he said.

Sri Lanka's President Ranil Wickremesinghe, Minister of Tourism and Lands Harin Fernando and a lot of other people are involved in it. "It is going to be a smashing year, next year, 2024 is going to be the year, for sure," Gajabahu asserted.Sri Lanka needs to rectify its "errors and failures' and review its strengths and gains as a nation, President Wickremesinghe said on the 75th anniversary of its independence in Colombo

Sunak's Conservatives face heavy losses in two by-polls

PTI LONDON

British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak was dealt a major political blow on Friday as the governing Conservatives suffered a bruising in two key by-elections but averted a complete whitewash as the party held on to his former boss Boris Johnson's seat in London. Thursday's three-way by-election was widely pitched as a report card on the 43-yearold British Indian leader's handling of the economy and wider prospects as party leader going into a general election, expected in the second half of 2024.

The Tories' narrow victory in the suburban seat of Uxbridge, which they won by 495 votes, spared Sunak the humiliation of being the first PM for 55 years to lose three by-elections in one night.

The US special representative for North Korea, Sung Kim, also said that the United States was "working hard" to gather information about an American soldier who fled to the North earlier this month. The US was seeking to ensure his safety and return him home, Kim said.

Judge gives trial date for next May

TRUMP'S CLASSIFIED DOCUMENTS CASE

AP WASHINGTON

A federal judge in Florida has scheduled a trial date for next May for former President Donald Trump in a case charging him with illegal-ly retaining hundreds of classified documents.

The May 20, 2024, trial date, set Friday by US District Judge Aileen Cannon, is a compromise between a request from prosecutors to set the trial for this December and a bid by defense lawyers to schedule it after the 2024 presidential election.

If the date holds, it would follow close on the heels of a separate New York trial for Trump on dozens of state charges of falsifying business records in connection with an alleged hush money payment

It also means the trial will not start until deep into the presidential nominating calendar and probably well after the Republican nominee is clear — though before that person is officially nominated at the Republican National from the December 11 start date that the Justice Department had asked for, Cannon wrote that "the Government's proposed schedule is atypically accelerated and inconsistent with ensuring a fair trial."

She agreed with defense lawyers that the amount of evidence that would need to be sifted through before the trial, including classified information, was "voluminous.

"The Court finds that the interests of justice served by this continuance outweigh the best interest of the public and Defendants in a speedy trial," Cannon wrote.

Trump could yet face additional trials in the coming year. He revealed this week that he had received a letter informing him that he was a target of a separate Justice to a porn actor. Amazon, Google, Meta agree to AI safeguards set by WH Washington (AP): Amazon, Google, Meta, Microsoft and other companies that are leading the development of artificial intelligence technology have agreed to meet a set of AI safeguards brokered by President Joe Biden's administration.

The White House said Friday that it has secured voluntary commitments from seven U.S. companies meant to ensure their AI products are safe before they release them. Some of the commitments call for third-party oversight of the workings of commercial AI systems, though they don't detail who will audit the technology or hold the companies accountable. A surge of commercial investment in generative AI tools that can write convincingly human-like text and churn out new images and other media has brought public fascination as well as concern about their ability to trick people and spread disinformation, among other dangers.

The four tech giants, along with ChatGPT-maker OpenAI and startups Anthropic and Inflection, have committed to security testing "carried out in part by independent experts" to guard against major risks, such as to biosecurity and cybersecurity, the White House said in a statement.

The companies have also committed to methods for reporting vulnerabilities to their systems and to using digital watermarking to help distinguish between real and AIgenerated images known as deepfakes.

They will also publicly report flaws and risks in their technology, including effects on fairness and bias, the White House said

The voluntary commitments are meant to be an immediate way of addressing risks ahead of a longer-term push to get Congress to pass laws regulating the technology. Some advocates for AI regulations said Biden's move is a start but more needs to be done to hold the companies and products their accountable."History would indicate that many tech companies do not actually walk the walk on a voluntary pledge to act responsibly and support strong regulations," said a statement from James Steyer, founder and CEO of the nonprofit Common Sense Media. Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, D-N.Y., has said he will introduce legislation to regulate AI.

3 Hindu sisters in Pak's Sindh province forced to marry Muslim men Karachi (PTI): Three daughters of a Hindu businessman in Pakistan's Sindh province have been married to Muslim men who first kidnapped them and forcibly converted them to Islam, according to a leading minority rights group in the country.

The head of Pakistan Darewar Itehad, Shiva Kachhi, said that the incident took place in Sindh's Dharki area where Chandni, Roshni and Parmesh Kumari, daughters of a Hindu businessman, Leela Ram, were first abducted and then forcibly converted to Islam

"The conversion was performed by one Pir Javed Ahmed Qadri and later they were also married to Muslim men," he said.Kachhi said despite appeals and pleas from his organisation's platform, the problem of forcible conversion of Hindu girls was continuing unabated with the police and author ities not apprehending the culprits.

He said that the three sisters were married to the same men who abducted them. Kachhi also claimed that the attacks on the Hindu community in the riverine areas have spiked since the Seema Haider incident.Seema Haider, a Pakistani woman and a mother of four, sneaked into India to live with a Hindu man, Sachin Meena, whom she befriended through an online game platform. She was ostracised by her family and neighbours for daring to defy the societal norms of a conservative Muslim country. There have been daily threats from dacoits in the riverine areas to retaliate against Hindus because of this incident, Kachhi said.

oach Jorge Vilda says Spain will try to eke the ✓ best out of Alexia Putellas at the Women's World Cup after she made a cameo off the bench in Friday's ominous 3-0 win over Costa Rica.

The Spaniards showed why they're among the favourites with a classy display in a Group C mismatch in Wellington, fir-ing 46 shots against opponents who spent nearly the entire game defending and were flat tered by the scoreline.

La Roja threatened a rout when all three goals came in the space of six minutes midway through the first half but they couldn't score again.

The European powerhouses received a boost in the 77th minute when reigning two-time Ballon d'Or winner Putellas entered the match, with her fitness under a cloud after cutting short a training session on Monday.

The Barcelona midfielder produced some neat touches over the closing minutes and Vilda said her limited minutes come under advice from medical staff.

The IOA appointed ad-hoc L committee has decided to conduct the Asian Games wrestling trials behind closed doors after parents of some of the wrestlers got into a heated argument with panel members at the IG Stadium on Friday.

Frayed tempers and heated exchanges was the order of the day as angry wrestlers and their family members threatened to boycott the trials in protest of the exemption given to Olympic medallist Bajrang Punia (65 kg) and world medallist Vinesh Phogat (53 kg). The families of wrestlers reached the trial venue and argued with the ad-hoc panel alleging that the decision was "unfair" and "unjust".

Parents of world U20 champion Antim Panghal and another wrestler Vikas Kaliraman's father Subhash Kaliraman got into a heated argument with the ad-hoc panel members.

Kohli hits 29th Test ton as India cruise to 373/6 vs WI

PTI PORT OF SPAIN

The peerless Virat Kohli capped off his 500th international appearance with a 76th hundred as India were comfortably placed at 373 for 6 going into lunch on the second day of the second Test against West Indies here on Friday.

Kohli, who missed out on a hundred in the previous Test, made a polished 121 in 206 balls, his 29th in the longest format while adding 159 runs for the fifth wicket with Ravindra Jadeja (61 off 152 balls).

Both were dismissed in quick succession as Kohli fell short of his crease and West Indies' best bowler Kemar Roach (2/86 in 19 overs) accounted for Jadeja.

break, the At Ravichandran Ashwin (6 batting) had batter-keeper Ishan Kishan (18 batting) for company as India, after a poor post lunch session on the first day, are well on their way to a healthy first innings total.

However, the first session on second day belonged to Kohli, who was hardly troubled by any of the West Indies pacers, having taken 77 runs in singles, doubles and triples apart from the 11 boundaries in all.

Starting the day at 87, Kohli reached his century in the first half an hour while dispatching a Roach delivery wide of point. The wide grin while raising his bat and then taking a bow said it all.

The satisfaction of scoring his first overseas Test hundred in half a decade was palpable, having last scored a ton on foreign soil in Perth in 2018.

The Queens Park Oval track is certainly way better for strokeplay compared to first Test venue of Windsor Park in Dominica. One could hit through the line even though there were deliveries that were gripping off the surface and some that stopped and came onto the bat.

Kohli's greatness lay in his game awareness as the cornerstone of his innings was 45 singles and 13 doubles in energy sapping conditions.

He would be pleased because as many as nine of his 11 boundaries were hit on the off-side with the signature cover drive coming out of his closet time and again. To his relief, the absence of off-break Rahkeem Cornwall did make things a bit easier as Jomel Warrican, despite his restrictive lines, did not get a lot of purchase off the surface. Most of the deliveries come in with the angle and it was easier to just tickle it off his hips for singles and doubles.

Kohli got an able ally in Jadeja, who got his 19th halfcentury and reaffirmed his status as a batting all-rounder

Rahane, 35, returned to the Indian Test team on the back of an impressive IPL this year and made a strong impression in the World Test Championship final against Australia earlier this year.

However, he has flopped twice with the bat which has raised questions about his consistency once again.

"Rahane will have to show consistency in his game, which has been his problem even though he has played 80-90 Tests (84). Consistency has been an issue, he will have to overcome it because India have a good captaincy option in him after Rohit Sharma is done.

"Rahane will have to make runs, and then everything else will follow," Jaffer told media during an interaction organised by Jio Cinema on Friday. Jaffer said the Indian selectors see a strong captaincy option in Rahane. "If his form was great from that Australia series after that 36 all-out, the way he led,

Bumrah to play practice games at NCA, Pant starts batting at nets

PTI BENGALURU

Pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah's selection in the Indian team for the Ireland T20I tour is hinged on his fitness assessment during a couple of practice games, to be organised by the National Cricket Academy, the BCCI informed on Friday.

Bumrah, who has been out of action for more than 10 months, has undergone a surgery for lower back stress fracture and has had a long rehabilitation at the NCA along with fast bowler Prasidh Krishna, who also suffered the same injury.

The BCCI secretary Jay Shah informed in a release that Rishabh Pant has started his skills training (batting and wicketkeeping), while KL Rahul and Shreyas Iyer, who are recovering from hamstring and lower back surgeries respectively, are still some time away from regaining full fitness.

"The two fast bowlers (Bumrah and Krishna) are in the final stages of their rehab and are bowling with full intensity in the nets. The duo will now play some practice games, which the NCA will organise," Shah said in the release.

"The BCCI Medical Team is pleased with their progress and will make a final decision after assessing them following the practice games," the release further stated want Bumrah to first assess his bowling fitness in a 20over match, and then play the Asia Cup to add miles to his legs, in the lead-up to the 50overs World Cup where his presence is a must.

It is not just about bowling four or 10 overs in a different formats but also about being able to stay on the field for 50 overs, and may be do a lot of sprinting in the deep to save boundaries.

For that, Bumrah needs to prove his overall fitness before the selectors can pick him for the Ireland tour.

Both Rahul and Iyer, who were certainties in the 50overs format, are returning from surgeries and have started batting in the nets. If one reads between the lines, it is clear that the duo will be racing against time to be fully fit for the Asia Cup in August-
