PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI/ BHUBANESHWAR/KOLKATTA

The Ministry of Railways on Tuesday conducted a series of meetings with the goal of addressing safety loopholes in response to the tragic Balasore train accident Concurrently, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) registered a case to investigate the alleged criminal negligence that resulted in the loss of 288 lives and injuries to nearly one thousand passengers.

The Railways asserted that the incident was a "criminal act" involving modifications to the interlocking system. However, railway officials stated that the system was "ninety-nine per cent tamper-proof and fail-proof," failing to provide a clear explanation for the tragedy. Simultaneously, political tensions escalated over the accident, with both the Congress and the Trinamool Congress (TMC) criticising the Modi Government.

While the Congress questioned the timing of announcement of a CBI probe into the accident before the mandatory investigation bv the Commissioner of Railway Safety (CRS) was conducted, Mamata Banerjee, the leader of the TMC and Chief Minister of West Bengal, echoed the same sentiment.

Mamata, who previously served as the Railway Minister, questioned the relevance of a

The technical aspects of the accident are being investigated by the CRS. The collision involving the Bengaluru-Howrah Superfast Express, Shalimar-Chennai Central Coromandel Express, and a goods train occurred around 7 pm on Friday near the Bahanaga Bazar station in the Balasore district.

Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, who returned to Delhi from Balasore, Odisha after assessing the rescue and restoration efforts following the triple train accident, conducted a series of high-level virtual meetings with officials. He held separate meetings with senior officials of the Railway Board, followed by the general managers (GMs), and then Howrah resident Helaram Mallik travelled 235km to Balasore to recover his son alive from a makeshift morgue where he was kept with the bodies of those killed in the triple train accident.

After pulling out his 24year-old son Biswajit from the morgue at Bahanaga High School, Helaram rushed to Balasore Hospital before bring-ing him to Kolkata's SSKM Hospital. Biswajit, who suffered multiple bone injuries in his limbs, underwent two surgeries at the trauma care unit of SSKM Hospital here.

"I saw the news on TV and then realised that I must call Biswajit to find out if he was okay. He did not initially pick up the calls and then when he did, I could hear a feeble voice on the other side," Helaram, who runs a kirana shop in Howrah, said.

On the same night (June 2), he and his brother-in-law Dipak Das left for Balasore in an ambulance. "We could not Detailed report on P5 find him as calls to his mobile Suddenly, there was an alter cation among a few people followed by a commotion Suddenly, I spotted a hand and knew it was my son's. He was alive," Helaram said.

Without wasting a moment, Helaram took his "almost unresponsive" son to Balasore Hospital where he was administered a few injections and then referred to Cuttack Medical College and Hospital.

"He had multiple fractures on his limbs and could not utter anything. I signed a bond there and brought Biswajit to SSKM Hospital's trauma care unit on Monday morning," he said. Continued on Page 2

The Congress in Rajasthan is facing increasing challenges as speculation grows regarding the future plans of its promi-nent leader Sachin Pilot. According to sources, Pilot is considering launching a new regional political outfit if his demands are not met by the Ashok Gehlot Government.

Pilot's demands include taking action against alleged corruption during the previous Vasundhara Raje Government. He has been waiting for a definitive response from the party's high command. Speculation is rife that Pilot may provide a clear indication of his future course of action on June 11, the anniversary of his father's death in Dausa.

"He is awaiting a response from the party leadership; the ball is in their court," said a source close to him.

Minister in the Manmohan Singh regime currently has the support of more than 20 MLAs.

Congress general secretary in-charge of Rajasthan Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa, however, ruled out the possibility of Pilot floating a new party. Randhawa, who reached Jaipur late evening, also said that the party will assign responsibilities to Rajasthan leaders according to their stature. "I am hearing this from you, I think there is no such thing. He (Pilot) did not have this in his mind before and does not have it now," Randhawa told reporters. Continued on Page 2 | gence.

Meanwhile, preparations for the commemoration of nology, knowledge, and trust. Rajesh Pilot's death anniversary, which is held annually, are in full swing in Dausa. The event is being supervised by Minister of State for Agriculture Marketing Murari Lal Meena known to be a close associate of Pilot.

Sources revealed that the recent meeting between Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and Pilot, with party chief Mallikarjun Kharge and Rahul Gandhi, did not result in any resolution of the "core issues" between the two prominent leaders of the Rajasthan Congress.

Gehlot and his former deputy have been engaged in a power struggle since the formed the Congress Government in the State in 2018. The party is now attempting to broker peace between the two ahead of the upcoming Assembly elections later this year. While some sources, both within the Congress and close to Pilot, suggest that the former Rajasthan Congress chief may announce the formation of a new party, possibly named Pragatisheel Congress, others indicate that Pilot is solely focused on having his demands met, such as the Gehlot-Government taking action against the alleged corruption during the previous BJP regime and addressing issues concerning the youth, including leaks in Government recruitment examination papers.

Congress has asserted that the party is supreme and will contest the Rajasthan Assembly elections unitedly to emerge victorious.

The Ministry also directed zonal railways and its undertakings to conduct a week-long safety drive, with a specific focus on locking, interlocking, and signaling arrangements. A report must be submitted by June 14 without fail.

initial probe into the incident has revealed not just a "signaling interference", but also likely human negligence whereby the door of the relay room where the signaling system is installed, had been kept open.

A team of CBI officials, along with forensic experts, which had reached Balasore district on Monday, started the probe immediately after the registration of the FIR at 2.15 pm on Tuesday, officials said.

The CBI FIR follows a Preliminary Enquiry by the Ministry of Railways that flagged tampering with the electronic interlocking system, which detects the presence of trains, and officials suspected "sabotage" behind the Friday accident, they said. 'The Central Bureau of Investigation has registered a case on the request of the Ministry of Railways, consent of the Odisha Government and further orders from DoPT (Union Govt) relating to the train accident involving Coromandel Express, Yashwantpur-Howrah Express and a goods train at Bahanaga Bazar in the state of Odisha on 2nd June," the CBI said in a statement.

"The CBI has taken over the investigation of the case earlier registered at Balasore GRPS, District Cuttack (Odisha) vide GRPS Case No.64 dated 03.06.2023 regarding the said accident. A CBI team has reached (Odisha). Balasore Investigation is continuing, it further said.

Many deaths were due to injuries caused due to the collision and electrocution after coming in contact with overhead low tension line, reads the FIR. The overhead wires snapped as coaches that toppled over in the triple train accident brought down electrical poles, officials said.

Meanwhile, the leader of the opposition in Bengal, Suvendu Adhikari wondered why the Trinamool Congress (TMC) was so concerned about the CBI investigation. He stated his intention to request that the central agency also investigate the post-accident telephone conversation between two senior railway officers, which was released by TMC spokesperson Kunal Ghosh. Adhikari alleged that this was a clear case of telephone tapping by Mamata Banerjee's police. Accompanied by two of her cabinet colleagues, Mamata Banerjee visited various hospitals in Bhubaneswar and Cuttack on Tuesday afternoon to meet with the injured. During her visit, she once again raised doubts about the efficacy of the CBI investigation into the train accident, suggesting that the Commissioner of Railway Safety was better equipped to handle the task from a technical standpoint. Banerjee, who rescheduled her planned visit to Darjeeling to travel to Odisha on Tuesday, stated that regardless of who conducts the investigation, the truth must come to light. She emphasized the need for transparency and stated, "At this point, I don't want to say anything other than the fact that the truth must be revealed, considering the high number of casualties. The truth must prevail and not be suppressed.

Interestingly, her nephew, Abhishek Banerjee, had previously claimed that the CBI investigation was ordered to conceal the failures of the BJP government and divert attention away from the real issues for political gain.

Regarding the death toll, Banerjee stated that it was crucial to focus on helping the victims rather than engaging in arguments. She said, "This is not the time for arguments. Many people have lost their lives... let us work for the people. Let us stand by the people." She added that 31 passengers from Bengal who were traveling on the ill-fated Coromandel Express and Humsafar Express were still missing. The latest reports, citing the Chief Secretary of Odisha, put the death toll at 288, with approximately 1,100 injured.

Responding strongly to Banerjee's remarks about the CBI investigation, Suvendu Adhikari stated that the investigation would uncover many details, including whether the TMC had any involvement in a suspected act of sabotage. He questioned why a senior TMC leader had released recorded conversations between the two senior railway officials discussing possible causes of the accident.

"This indicates that Mamata Banerjee's police have been wiretapping conversations of central government employees ... We need to determine why they were doing so... I will personally write an application to the CBI officials, requesting an investigation into the audio recordings, including how Kunal Ghosh obtained them and whether the TMC had any involvement in the matter.

Sarita Vihar flyover to shut for 50 days

For repair work; traffic advisory issued

STAFF REPORTER NEW DELHI

The Delhi Police on Tuesday issued a traffic advisory in view of closure of carriageways of Sarita Vihar flyover on Outer Ring Road for 50 days from Wednesday owing to repair work being undertaken by the Public Works Department (PWD). The flyover is a part of Mathura Road which connects the southeast Delhi to Faridabad in Haryana.

According to the advisory, the PWD is going to start the repair work of the flyover from June 7. "Each carriageway of the flyover will take about 25 days to be repaired and the flyover will be closed for traffic while other carriageways will remain open for traffic. In the first and second phase, the portion of the flyover from Ashram to Badarpur will be repaired and in the third and fourth phase, the portion of the flyover from Badarpur to Ashram will be repaired," it stated.

The traffic police took to Twitter to inform commuters about the closure of the flyover. "Due to repair work by PWD on Sarita Vihar Flyover on Mathura Road starting on 07.06.2023, there will be a closure of carriageways for a period of 50 days. Kindly follow the advisory to avoid any inconvenience. #DPTrafficAdvisory," it tweeted. The closure of the transport route may increase the volume of traffic on the road and cause inconvenience the general public. Passengers headed to railway stations, airports, hospitals etc are advised to plan their departure well in advance and choose an alternate route to avoid delay, the advisory stated.

The movement of heavy and commercial vehicles on Mathura Road towards Sarita Vihar flyover may be restricted as and when required to ensure smooth flow of traffic on the stretch, it said.

Commuters coming from Ashram on Mathura Road and going towards Badarpur and Faridabad are advised to follow road number 13A from slip road of Sarita Vihar flyover and then take a U-turn from road number 13A to reach on

STAFF REPORTER NEW DELHI

Delhi Assembly Petitions Committee has summoned former Secretary (Services) Ashish More to appear on Wednesday in connection with land transfer fraud allegations. The Committee has also asked Delhi Chief Secretary and Divisional Commissioner to be present in the meeting.

Last year, five sub divisional magistrates and one additional district magistrate namely Ajit Thakur, Harshit Jain, Devender Sharma , PC Thakur, Nagender Tripathi, Nitin Jindal were suspended for the same land transfer fraud in Jhangola Village.

Delhi Chief Secretary, Divisional Commissioner, Ashish More have been summoned to appear on Wednesday at Petitions Committee," sources said.

According to sources, More used the same method to transfer the same type of land in the same Village. Evacuee Property belonging to govern-ment was illegally transferred and people given Bhumidhari rights.

"More being DM North District decided the appeals where illegal land transfers were made. The files asked by the Petition Committee have not been submitted before the Committee, seven days time is over," sources added. AAP MLA Bhawna Gaur has also Mathura Road, advisory said. | forwarded a complaint against

More to Delhi Assembly speaker Ram Niwas Goel on May 24. The complainant has alleged that More while posted as District Magistrat (North Collector) has been involved in corruption activities and has committed grave irregularities in deciding two cases.

The records of rights in respect of the agriculture land falling in village Jhangola, Delhi is government/maintained by Punjab Land Revenue Act. The Delhi Land Reforms Act is not applicable to land falling in Ihangola which is declared as evacuee property by the Centre.

Accusing More, the com-plainant said that he deliberately overlooked the fact that sale deed, mutation, cultivation, possession of land can not be undertaken in r/o the said custodian/government land.

"Disposing all the appeal cases, More then District Magistrate (North) failed to discharge his official duties in accordance with law and against the government interest in as much as check the sta tus of khasra from the revenue department while he was duty bound to do so," the complainant said.

The Ministry of Home Affairs had already started disciplinary action against five SDM and one ADM in this regard.

According to Delhi gov-ernment sources, all the four officials had, while occupying the office of SDM, Alipur, over the years, allegedly engaged in illegal sale of small parcels of land whose original owner had migrated to Pakistan during Partition, The four officials -Harshit Jain, DANICS, Prakash Chand Thakur, ad hoc DAN-ICS, Nagender Shekhar Pati Triapthi, DANICS, and Devender Sharma, ad hoc DANICS — had, during their tenure as SDM, Alipur, passed orders giving away ownership of government land "in criminal connivance with private individuals or entities" for apparent "pecuniary benefits in return". More was removed by the AAP dispensation last week within hours of the Supreme Court ruling that matters relat-ed to the transfer of bureaucrats serving in the city lies under the domain of the city's elect-ed government. More's removal had snowballed into a controversy with him allegedly refusing to comply with the order and also allegedly going incommunicado.

Delhi University vice-chan-cellor Yogesh Singh on Tuesday said the varsity has sanctioned a fund of Rs 110 crore for the expansion of its central library and construction work will commence soon. Singh made the announce-ment at the launch of The Centenary E-Book Collection and Digital Archive.

The vice-chancellor said that libraries play a very important role in the life of universities. Now, a big change has come in the form of eresources. Today, students find it very comfortable to read ebooks and supplement it with their reading of printed books; so we have to change our mindsets, he noted.

Asserting that the internet has brought a lot of changes in work practices in the last 20-30 years, Singh said, "India has emerged as the leading country in the world in UPI transactions." Things have to be changed in the system, similarly so that the library resources are accessible from anywhere.

When the concept of ejournals came, many educationists were not comfortable with it but now the mindset has changed, he said, adding that there is no difference between e-journals and printed journals. The university has made financial provisions for e-resources

Kejriwal to meet Akhilesh, seek support against ordinance

Lucknow on Wednesday to meet Samajwadi Party (SP) president Akhilesh Yadav and seek his support against the Centre's ordinance on the control of administrative services in the national capital. Kejriwal will be accompa-nied by AAP MP and state incharge Sanjay Singh. "Kejriwal will be meeting Akhileshji here on Wednesday evening," the Samajwadi Party's chief spokesperson Rajendra Chowdhury said.

Kejriwal has so far met his counterparts from various non-BJP led states and leaders of Opposition parties to drum up support against the Centre's ordinance which has taken services out of the Delhi government's purview and handed it over to the L-G.

Leaders who have extended support to the AAP include West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, CPI (M) general secretary Sitaram Yechury, Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Uddhav Thackery, Telangana Chief Minister K. Chandrashekhar Rao, NCP chief Sharad Pawar, Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M.K. Stalin and others.

Boost to night time economy: 155 shops to open 24x7

STAFF REPORTER NEW DELHI

In a move aimed at boosting the night time economy of Delhi, creating job opportunities, and ensuring the welfare of workers, Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal approved 24x7 operations for another lot of 155 shops and commercial establishments in Delhi.

As many as 523 shops and commercial establishments in the national capital have been allowed to operate round-theclock in the last two years.

This marks a significant departure from the previous trend, where only 269 establishments were allowed exemptions to work 24x7 in the 68year long period spanning from 1954 to 2022. "In2022, 313 numbers of applications were approved. And in the year 2023 to till date, 55 numbers of applications have already been

The statement further states, by approving the 24x7 operations for a new batch of commercial applicants, the Delhi government aims to generate more job opportunities, safeguard the interests of workers, and contribute to the overall development of the local economy. "This development is expected to have a positive approved. The file has now impact on both businesses and consumers alike. The extended operational hours will also provide convenience to the residents of Delhi, who can now access essential goods and services round-the-clock".

"To enable the same, the Delhi Government has granted applicants exemptions from Section 14, 15, 16 of the Delhi Shops and Establishments Act, 1954.

"These three sections collectively put restrictions on hiring night-shift employees, and impose related rules upon opening & closing time periods and holidays for commercial establishments' it said.

No need to dig up road to fix water leakage

There will be no need to break the road and dig up the ground to find out about leakage of water in the underground pipeline from now onwards as the Arvind Kejriwal government has decided to employ helium leakage detection technology so that any leakage in the water pipeline can be easily found out.

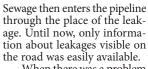

Through the use of this modern technology, the people of Delhi will find relief from the problem of contaminated water.

Delhi Water Minister Saurabh Bhardwaj on Tuesday inspected the latest equipment for detecting leakage and contaminated water in the pipeline in Shahpur Jat. During this visit, the Water Minister tested the helium leakage detection technology to find out how successfully the device was able to detect leaks in the pipeline.

Bhardwaj said that complaints about the supply of contaminated water were being received in Shahpur Jat for the drinking water pipeline.

When there was a problem of contaminated water due to leakage inside the ground, pits had to be dug up at many places in order to find the point of the leakage from the pipeline. Apart from breaking the road due to this, money and time were also wasted. But now with the help of helium leakage detection technology, information about the leakage of the pipeline will be easily available. # East campus of Indraprastha varsity to open on June 8

STAFF REPORTER NEW DELHI

Delhi Education Minister Atishi on Tuesday announced that the east Delhi campus of Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University (GGSIPU) will be inaugurated on June 8 by Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal.

Addressing a press conference, she also said Kejriwal has worked to transform the trans-Yamuna area into an education hub. "The trans-Yamuna region has always been considered one of the most backward areas in Delhi. However, the Kejriwal government has worked to transform it into an education hub.

"After Arvind Kejriwal took office, the east campus of the Delhi Technological University (DTU) was inaugurated in East Delhi, followed by the inauguration of the east campus of the NSUT (Netaji Subhas University of Technology).

"Now, I am delighted to announce that the inauguration of the east campus of GGSIPU in East Delhi is going to take place, and the chief minister will inaugurate it on June 8," she said. The minister said the campus in Surajmal Vihar is spread over 19 acres and has been built at a cost of Rs 388 crore. It will provide worldclass education to 2,400 students, she said.

The courses have been designed keeping in mind the needs of the 21st century, the minister added. The campus features a nine-storey academic block and a seven-storey main academic block. The main academic block houses a central library, incubation centre, lecture theatre, classrooms, auditorium, indoor sports hall and a residential complex for students coming from far away places She added that it is a 100 per cent green campus and has net-zero energy consumption. In this eco-friendly campus, along with zero-sewer dis-charge, water conservation will also be practised, Atishi said, adding that the water used on the campus will be treated and used for gardening.

In order to check violations at the hotels, clubs and restaurants, the inspection teams rely on the CCTV footage obtained from their premises. However, often the teams are not provided with the CCTV footage by the licensees on the pretext that the cameras are non-functional, official of excise department said.

"In view of the above, all the licensees of hotels, clubs and restaurants holding excise licences are hereby directed to ensure that the CCTV cameras are installed at appropriate locations within and outside the licensed premises and that they are properly functional and all the activities at the premises with a proper back-up of CCTV coverage are record-ed without any break," a notice issued recently by the depart-ment said. Non-compliance will be "viewed seriously", it added.

Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar on Tuesday took an apparent swipe at Congress leader Rahul Gandhi US, saying one should look in the rear-view mirror to notice those out to taint, tarnish and destroy the country's institutions. He also said that by 2047, India will be the number one nation. ...Some of us do not take pride...Misguided souls confused about the potential and real-time accomplishments of this country," he said, addressing a batch of Indian Defence Estates Service officers at his official residence here. Dhankhar also said some people in and outside the country were trying to "calibrate us". "We cannot allow others to calibrate us. Their calibration is not objective.... The rise of India is indigestible in some quarters because this country believes in peace and stability, harmony of the world," he said. The vice president told the officers not to "carry baggage of history. It will impede your progress". He said one has to look in the rear-view mirror and then "you know those a card to help disabilities avail the benefits extended to them through various schemes.

According to the data shared by the Union Social Justice and Empowerment Ministry, 94.30 lakh e-UDID cards have been generated in 716 districts in all states/Union Territories till now. Under the project that took off in 2016, UDID cards are issued to PwDs based on the evaluation and assessment of the type and percentage of disability.

Addressing a press conference, Social Justice and Empowerment Minister Virendra Kumar said they are continuously in talks with states and Union Territories to expedite the process of issuance of the cards.

While the UDID issuance process is moving at a slow pace, activists in the sector is not happy with the Ministry's recent move, making it mandatory to provide the centrally-issued Unique Disability Identification number, or an enrolment number along with the disability certificate issued by states for those who do not have the UDID.

The Ministry memorandum says that the number will help to avail the benefits of schemes like scholarships for students offered by the ministry of social justice's department of empowerment of persons with disabilities (DEPwD) and its associated organisations. In all, 17 schemes have been listed in an office memorandum issued earlier this month. It further stated that in case the UDID number is not available, an enrolment number along with the certificate of disability shall be mandatory.

Disability rights activists from National Platform For The Rights Of The Disabled (NPRD) which has chapters in 14 states has urged the DEPwD Secretary Rajesh Aggarwal to withdraw the memorandum and ask it to focus on making the card universally valid and acceptable across all government (central and states) ministries, departments, boards and agencies.

Muralidharan, general secretary, NPRD said that "While it may be desirable that all disabled persons procure the UDID card, it cannot and should not be imposed on them."

He drew the attention of the Government to the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016 which only lays down the universal validity of the disability certificate and does not impose any obligation on the certificate hold-

"Successful engagement of an underwater target by an indigenously developed heavy weight torpedo is a significant milestone in Indian Navy's and the Defence Research and Development Organisation's quest for accurate delivery of ordnance on target in the underwater domain," it said.

'This showcases our commitment to future proof combat readiness through Aatma Nirbharta (self-reliance)," the Navy said.

south-southwest of Mumbai, 1,190 km south of Porbandar and 1,490 km south of Karachi, Pakistan, at 8:30 am. "It is likely to move nearly northwards and intensify into a cyclonic storm during over east-central Arabian Sea and adjoining southeast Arabian Sea," it said.

All ports in Gujarat have been asked to hoist a warning signal as a depression formed in the Arabian Sea is likely to intensify into a cyclonic storm during the next 24 hours, the IMD said. The Met office said the cyclonic storm will intensify into a severe cyclonic storm by Thursday morning and very severe cyclonic storm by Friday evening. Sea conditions are likely to be very high along and off the Kerala-Karnataka coasts and Lakshadweep-Maldives areas on June 6 and Konkan-Goa-Maharashtra coasts from June 8 to June 10. Fishermen out at sea have been advised to return to the coast.

Private forecasting agency Skymet Weather said the monsoon onset over Kerala may happen on June 8 or June 9 but it is expected to be a "meek and mild entry". "These powerful weather systems in the Arabian Sea spoil the advancement of the monsoon deep inland.

Under their influence, the monsoon stream may reach coastal parts but will struggle to penetrate beyond the Western Ghats," it said. Skymet had earlier predicted the monsoon onset over Kerala on June 7 with an error margin of three days. "The southwest monsoon is likely to arrive within this bracket. Onset criteria require stipulated rainfall on two consecutive days over Lakshadweep, Kerala and coastal Karnataka. Accordingly, the spread and intensity of rainfall may match these requirements on June 8 or June 9.

However, the onset of the annual event may not be loud and sound. It may only make a meek and mild entry to start with," the private weather forecasting agency said. D S Pai, senior scientist, IMD, said Kerala received good rain on Monday too and conditions are favourable for the onset of monsoon over the next two to three days. The research, published recently in The New England Journal of Medicine, found that taking the drug osimertinib after surgery dramatically reduced the risk of patients dying by 51 per cent. The researchers randomly assigned eligible patients in a 1:1 ratio to receive osimertinib (80 mg once daily) or placebo until disease recurrence was observed. Of 682 patients who underwent randomisation, 339 received osimertinib also known as Tagrisso and made by placebo. "These highly anticipated overall survival results, with 88 per cent of patients alive at five years, are a momentous achievement in the treatmen of early-stage EGFR-mutated lung cancer," said principal investigator in the trial, Roy S. Herbst, Deputy Director and Chief of Medical Oncology at Yale Cancer Center and Smilow Cancer Hospital, US.

"These data underscore that adjuvant treatment with osimertinib provides patients with the best chance of long-term survival," Herbst said. Susan Galbraith, Executive Vice President, Oncology R&D, AstraZeneca, said osimertinib cut risk of death by more than half in adjuvant setting, further establishing this transformative medicine as backbone treatment for epidermal growth factor receptor (EGFR)-mutated lung cancer. # Opp must present good alternative in 2024: NCP

Worried over attacks on Muslims, Christians, says Pawar PTI AURANGABAD

If the Opposition comes up with a "credible" alternative ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, people may consider it, said NCP president Sharad Pawar on Tuesday, stressing that the decision on the new Parliament building could have been taken through dialogue with political parties. The senior NCP leader was speaking in a 'Sauhard Baithak' (meeting to foster amity) at Mahatma Gandhi Mission University in Maharashtra's Aurangabad

Speaking about next year's general elections, he said, "My concern is if people will have the same approach for the (2024) Lok Sabha elections as they have for States (Assembly polls). If the Opposition unites and offers a credible alternative, people may consider it. If the Opposition doesn't move wisely, it can't expect people to think of a different choice on their own.

Many Opposition parties, including the Congress and JD(U), are trying to forge unity ahead of next year's Lok Sabha polls. The NCP leader said rulers and administrators should work with the thinking that "everyone is ours" and deliver the message effectively. "Else, wrong things will happen. In the recent period, such things are happening in many places," Pawar said. He also expressed concerns over attacks on Muslims and Christians. "The picture in the country today makes me worry about Muslims and Christians. In many States, churches are being attacked. Christians are peaceful and they never take an extreme stand," he said. If someone decides to embrace a differ-"But some people attack their entire community. Mistakes can be made by both Muslims as well as Hindus. In our country the number of Muslims who are on the path of development. Though the common public thinks positively about Muslims, some people focus on how to grow bitterness and hatred. This is a big challenge for our country," he said.

The senior NCP leader rued that there has been a general decline in engaging in dialogue for parliamentary activities. Earlier too, he said, political parties had differences but they tried to resolve them through dialogue. "I didn't understand why there was a need for a new Parliament building. The decision about it could have been taken through dialogue (with backward cannot be neglected," political parties). But I learnt about the new building through Pawar said. A section can't be ignored if society has to be taken newspapers," he said.

Bengal Opposition leader Suvendu Adhikari responded almost instantaneously wondering why the Trinamool Congress was so worried about CBI investigation saying he would appeal to the central agency to also investigate the post train accident telephonic conversation between two senior Railway officers --- discussing the plausible reasons of the crash —- that was released by TMC spokesperson Kunal Ghosh. It was a clear case of telephone tapping by Mamata Banerjee's police he alleged. Banerjee, accompanied by her two Cabinet colleagues on Tuesday noon visited various hospitals at Bhubaneshwar and Cuttack meeting the injured.

During the visit she once again questioned the efficacy of the ĈBI investigation into the train accident "as technically it is the Commissioner of Railway

Safety that is most well-equipped to do the job? Banerjee who swapped her prescheduled visit to Darjeeling with Tuesday's trip to Ódisha, said that irrespective of who investigated the accident the truth must come." The Chief Minister said, "I don't want to say anything at this juncture except that truth must come out as so many people have died. Truth must prevail and must not be suppressed."

Curiously her nephew Abhishek Banerjee had earlier said that the CBI investigation was being ordered in order to hide the failure of the BJP Government and divert the issue to some other direction for political purposes.

On the death toll Banerjee said that it was time for helping the victims and not the time for arguments. "It is not the time for arguments. So many people have died ... let us work the people. Let us be on the side of the people," Banerjee said adding 31 passengers from Bengal who were travelling in the ill-fated Coromandel Express and Humsafar Express were still missing. This even as latest reports quoting the Chief Secretary of Odisha put the death toll to 288. About 1,100 were injured in the accident.

CBI probe must unravel truth, not suppress it: Didi

Reacting rather strongly to Banerjee's take on the CBI investigation Bengal Opposition leader Suvendu Adhikari said the CBI investigation would reveal many things. It would reveal whether there was a TMC hand in a suspected sabotage or not, he said wondering why a senior TMC leader released taped conversations between the two senior Railway officials discussing the plausible reasons behind the mishap. "This means that Mamata Banerjee's police having been taping conversations of central government employees ... why were they doing so ... the reason must be found out ... and I will personally write an application to the CBI officials to investigate into the audio conversations... from where Kunal Ghosh found it and whether there was a TMC hand behind everything."

More than a fortnight after they filed a detailed chargesheet before a Special ACB court, the Mumbai Police on Tuesday claimed that they took the help of banker-singer Amruta Fadnavis, wife of Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis, to "track down and arrest" an absconding bookie Anil Jaisinghani from Ulhasnagar.

After the chat transcripts between Jaisinghani and Amruta surfaced in the media, the Investigating Officer (IO) in the case Ravi Sardesai said that "the entire conversation that took place between the two on February 24, 2023 was carried out as part of the strategic advice" to find out of the location of the accused bookie who had been absconding for the last seven to eight years.

"We instructed the complainant to engage him through WhatsApp chats and other means for a prolonged period till the accused was apprehended," Sardesai said.

In a chat that she sent on February 24, Amruta told Jaisinghani that her husband Fadnavis would do justice to him, if he was convinced that the accused bookie was vicitimised. "I will Deven ji... One thing I know about him is that once he verifies and feels that you are victimised, he will do 100 per cent justice to you".

Amruta also told Jaisinghani on the same day: "Instead of speaking on phone, I will meet Anishka (daughter of Jaisinghani) at some location other than Sagar bungalow (Fadnavis' official bungalow). I will meet her after 26th as Deven ji is busy in the Pune byarnataka is witnessing a heated debate around cow slaughter, which has sparked passionate discussions on religious sentiments, cultural practices, economic con-Assiderations and animal rights. With the BJP is now taking it up as an issue by protesting against the statement made by Karnataka Animal Husbandry Minister K Venkatesh, it has all the chances of snowballing into a major issue. The issue has thus put the state government in a delicate balancing act as it strives to address the concerns of different stakeholders while maintaining social harmony. Ironically, the controversy started after the Minister stirred the hornet's nest by suggesting the withdrawal of the anti-cow slaughter legislation. The legal framework surrounding cow slaughter in India is complex and varies from state to state. The Karnataka Prevention of Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Act, 2020, which was passed by the BJP-led government in Karnataka in February 2021, extended the existing ban on cow slaughter to include bulls, bullocks, oxen and calves. It goes without saying cows hold immense cultural and religious significance in India. For many, the cow is revered as a sacred animal symbolising fertility, purity and motherhood. The religious sentiments attached to cows have contributed to the demand for a ban on cow slaughter in several states. Needless to say, it can easily become a political and social issue.

Controversies arise from the interpretation and implementation of these laws. Critics argue that the legislation can be misused to target minority communities and that it infringes upon personal choices and dietary preferences. They emphasise the need for a more inclusive approach that respects cultural diversity and individual rights. Karnataka, being one of the leading agricultural states in India, has a significant cattle population. The restrictions on cow slaughter have implications for the dairy industry, leather industry and beef exports. Some argue that banning cow slaughter hampers the livelihood of farmers and adversely affects the economy. Another perspective in the row over cow slaughter revolves around animal rights and cruelty. Animal welfare activists advocate stricter regulations and enforcement to ensure ethical treatment to all animals, including cows. The Karnataka government finds itself in a challenging position, needing to address the concerns of diverse groups while preserving social harmony. The government has a responsibility to protect the rights and interests of all citizens while maintaining law and order. Through dialogue, mutual respect and a comprehensive approach, it is possible to navigate this sensitive issue and foster a society that upholds both religious beliefs and individual rights while promoting sustainable development and animal welfare. In power for only a few days, the Congress government would not like to get embroiled in any controversy that derails its development work. It would do well to reign in its Ministers who shoot from the hip.

The legacy of Raja Ram Mohan Roy

His ideas resonated with other social thinkers of his time and inspired them to question and challenge the orthodox Indian society ndia's social, cultural, and religious landscape underwent a remarkable transformation in the 19th century, largely due to the efforts of visionary individuals who challenged the orthodoxy prevailing in Indian society. One such luminary was Raja Ram Mohan Roy, whose 251st Birth Anniversary went amiss by many. It was his tireless pursuit of social and religious reforms that left an indelible mark on India's history. Raja Ram Mohan Roy, often hailed as the "Father of Modern India," was a visionary who championed the cause of social and religious reforms during the early 19th century. He emerged as a fierce critic of social evils and religious dogmas prevalent in Indian society, advocating for progressive ideas that aimed to usher in an era of enlightenment and rationality.

One of his most significant contributions was his relentless fight against the practice of Sati, the immolation of widows on their husband's funeral pyre. Recognizing the inherent injustice and cruelty of this tradition, he tirelessly campaigned for its abolition, eventually succeeding with the passage of the Bengal Sati Regulation Act in 1829. His critical stance on this issue sparked a wider discourse on women's rights, highlighting the need for gender equality and social justice.

He also recognized the power of education and rational thinking in transforming society. He established the Hindu College in Calcutta, later known as Presidency College, to provide modern education and promote scientific temper among the Indian youth. He firmly believed that education was the key to emancipating individuals from the shackles of ignorance and superstition, ultimately leading to societal progress.

In an era dominated by religious orthodoxy, Raja Ram Mohan Roy advocated for religious reform and interfaith dialogue. He criticized various irrational practices and condemned the idolatry prevalent at the time. He was a staunch advocate for reform movement that sought to reconcile traditional Indian values with modern ideas. Raja Ram Mohan Roy's ideas resonated with other social thinkers of his time and inspired them to question and challenge orthodox Indian society. Debendranath Tagore, the founder of the Brahmo Samaj and father of Nobel laureate Gurudev Rabindranath Tagore, carried forward Roy's legacy by advocating for religious and social reforms. İshwar Chandra Vidyasagar, another prominent social reformer, fought against child marriage and championed women's rights, echoing Roy's ideals of gender equality and education.

Jyotirao Phule, a social reformer from Maharashtra, established 'Satyashodhak Samaj, which aimed to eradicate social discrimination and caste-based oppression. Phule challenged the traditional caste system and advocated for equal rights for all individuals, irrespective of their social background.

While the efforts of Raja Ram Mohan Roy and subsequent social thinkers have undeniably made a lasting impact on Indian society, contemporary India still grapples under the darkness of rising sive and egalitarian society. It shudders to read newspapers every morning with stories of heinous crimes that haven't stopped despite all law and order enforcement in force. Whether it is the news of a 15-year-old girl who was allegedly kidnapped and gangraped by two people, including a milkman she was acquainted with, in Gurugram on May 20, 2023, or other similar stories of rape, molestation, or murder over trifling issues, society and administration need to ponder on where we are lacking or losing our focus.

OF SCIENTIFIC From gender discrimina-tion to addressing patriarchal TEMPER AND norms and regressive atti-tudes, it is a whole question of CRITICAL giving a new identity and REASONING shape to these structural and CONTINUES TO societal problems that hinder development. Addressing INSPIRE these issues requires a comprehensive approach that chal-INDIVIDUALS TO lenges traditional gender roles, promotes gender sensitization (both boys and girls), and ensures the enforcement of CHALLENGE THE STRUCTURAL laws protecting the rights of MALICE citizens and expanding the vigil more rigorously by the administration to curb such growing menace. Raja Ram Mohan Roy emphasized the importance of rational thinking and education as means of social transformation. His advocacy for scientific temper and critical reasoning continues to inspire individuals to challenge structural malice. By promoting rationality, he paved the way for a more enlightened society that questions dogmatic values and seeks evidence-based solutions. His courage, intellectual rigour, and unwavering commitment to social justice provide a model for those seeking to challenge societal norms and effect positive change. His legacy serves as a reminder that individual actions, driven by a strong moral compass, can have a profound impact on society.

It is crucial for individuals, civil society organizations, and the government to work collectively to address the persisting challenges and build a society that upholds the principles of equality, tolerance, and human dignity. By fostering dialogue, promoting education, and embracing diversity, we can continue the journey towards achieving a more equitable and harmonious society.

This would be a greater tribute to such social reformers like Raja Ram Mohan Roy, than mere symbolism on birth and death anniversaries that has obscured the thrust and significance of such teachings. (The writer is Programme Executive, Gandhi Smriti and Darshan Samiti)

Dr Ambedkar's theory on the origin of castes

KHOKHAR

The thinker firmly believed that the absence of inter-caste marriage was one of the major reasons for caste consolidation he views of Dr BR Ambedkar on the ori-L gin, mechanism and development of castes in India come to the fore in his very important book titled "Castes in India: Their Mechanism, Genesis and Development" published in 1916. Dr Ambedkar very systematically and scientifically analyses the origin and development of castes in India. According to Dr Ambedkar, the critical evaluation of the various characteristics of caste leaves no doubt that prohibition; or rather the absence of intermarriage - endogamy, to be concise – is the only one that can be called the essence of caste when rightly understood. But some may deny this on abstract anthropological grounds, for them exist endogamous groups without giving rise to the problem of caste. In a general way, this may be true, as endogamous societies, culturally different, making their abode in localities more or less removed, and having little to do with each other are a physical reality. Dr Ambedkar draws a conclusion that Endogamy is the only characteristic that is peculiar to caste, and if we succeed in showing how endogamy is maintained, we shall practically have proved the genesis and also the mechanism of caste. Thus, the superimposition of endogamy on exogamy means the creation of caste. According to him there are four means by which numerical disparity between the two sexes is conveniently maintained are; burning the widow with her deceased husband, compulsory widowhood, imposing celibacy on the widower and wedding him to a girl not yet marriageable. They create and perpetuate endogamy, while caste and endogamy are one and the same thing. Thus, the existence of these means is identical with caste and caste involves these means. This is the general mechanism of a caste in a system of castes. Caste in India is a very ancient did not give the law of caste, institution and its mechanism is very complex than what is discussed above.

Dr Ambedkar argues that complex though it is in its general working the Hindu society, even to a superficial customs observer presents three singular uxorial customs, namely: i) Sati or the burning of the widow on the funeral pyre of her deceased husband, ii) Enforced widowhood by which a widow is not allowed to remarry, iii) Girl marriage. This high flown and ingenious sophistry is why these institutions were honoured, but do not tell us why they were practised. According to Dr Ambedkar, they were honoured because they were practised. Whether regarded as ends or as means, Sati enforced widowhood and girl marriage are customs that were prominently intended to solve the problem of the surplus man and surplus woman in a caste and to maintain its endogamy, and caste without endogamy is fake. While discussing the development and spread of the castes in India Dr Ambedkar stated that Manu is the lawgiver of India. Manu because caste existed long before Manu. He was an upholder of it. Thus the great man theory does not help in solving the spread of castes in India. The Hindu society was composed of classes Brahmins, Kshatriya, Vaishya and Shudra. The sub-division of a society is quite natural. But the unnatural thing about the subdivisions is that they have lost the open-door character of the class system and have become self-enclosed units called castes. The question is: were they compelled to close their doors and become endogamous or did they close them of their own accord? There is a double line of the answer: Some closed the door: And others found it closed against them. One is a psychological interpretation and the other is mechanistic, but they are complementary and both are necessary to explain the phenomena of caste formation. (Prof Sunil Goel is an emi-

MERCURY KILLING SPARROWS

Sir — Along the north Karnataka region, little Ashy crowned sparrows and brown shrike sparrows build their nests in the houses of villages. Climate change has already caused their population to decline across the north Karnataka. But that's not the only threat they face. Mercury pollution especially from North Karnataka power plants deposits into our soil and water, and can make its way to little Ashy crowned sparrows and brown shrike sparrows habitat, forming toxic methylmercury. This gets into the birds' bloodstream from their food supply, negatively impacting the survival of their nests. The Environmental and Forest ministry should strengthen and update the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards for power plants otherwise Methylmercury impacts not only sparrows but also other wildlife species' reproduction, growth and development, behaviour, immune response, and overall survival.

TIPU JAYANTI CELEBRATIONS

Sir — In Karnataka, once again the preparations of celebrating the birth anniversary of Hazrat Tipu Sultan Shaheed Rahmatullah, which was put on hold during the BJP rule.

Remember that the current Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, during his previous tenure as Chief Minister, had decided to celebrate 10 November 2015 as the birthday of the erstwhile Mysore state ruler. After that, the BJP party protested against this decision in the state. The protest turned violent and a 60-year-old man was reportedly killed in the ensuing clash. The BJP government also removed the history of Tipu Sultan from the textbooks. The revision committee had removed the title "Tiger of Mysore", by which Tipu Sultan was known. Tipu Sultan said, "A day's life of a lion is better than a hundred years of a jackal's life" Tipu Sultan fought against the British in 1791 and was eventually treacherously defeated and martyred in 1799. When he was martyred British

The Oval, the venue for the test, too, hasn't been a happy hunting ground for the Kangaroos. India should start on a positive note because of its formidable batting lineup and a pace bowling attack that came of age not too long ago. Virat Kohli and Cheteshwar Pujara form the nucleus of the batting department. Kohli is in blistering form; he has shone as only as he can in the IPL. Though a different format, the Indian fans expect the classy batter to carry his form to the test. Pujara's test

Tipu Sultan was a person who had sacrificed himself only for his country and even now British afraid and trembled by his name, it's being tried to bury his name in the dust of history and to exchange the real freedom fighters with a person who didn't participate and who was with British Empire, that's shameful.

BJP is attempting to turn the people,s attention from the mainstream by renewing the names of places to hide its failure but now people are awarding gradually their rights, BJP would not succeed in its mission. Tipu Jayanti must be celebrated. Tauqueer | Chennai

UKRAINE WAR

Sir — Just last month, Yevgeny Prigozhin, head of the Wagner Group of private soldiers fighting for the Russian army, admitted that Ukraine had lost more than 20,000 fighters in a drawn-out battle for the eastrecord needs no reiteration; the English county cricket experience seems to have done a world of good to his confidence.

Skipper Rohit Sharma is an enigmatic player but when he gets going he is unstoppable. Right now, Shubhman Gill can hardly make any mistake, and If he and Rohit can give a decent start to the innings at the top, then nothing like it. Besides, there is the gritty Ajinkya Rahane. It is stunning how the Indian fast bowling attack, marshalled well under some astute captains, has grown to throw the opposition batters into disarray. Now, Mohammed Shami and Mohammed Siraj should unsettle any batting attack with their guile. With a possible Ravindra Jadeia and Ravichandran Ashwin combination or an extra pacer in Umesh Yadav or Shardul Thakur in place of Ashwin, the bowling looks intimidating. The stage is set for a five-day cricket feast and if everything clicks well, India should go all the way ern city of Bakhmut. Then last weekend, not Ukraine but the Russians themselves admitted that Ukrainian troops launched a massive counteroffensive in the eastern part.

Ukrainian commanders have sent mechanized brigades, including heavy battle tanks, along with conventional troops, to attack several positions in the southern Donetsk region where Russian troops are stationed. Moscow is no longer going ahead and retreating will destroy its prestige. So should it now be assumed that the defeat of the Russians has started from here? The West should become more alert now because on the lines of 'what doesn't die', Russia can also use nuclear weapons as its last weapon.

FIRSTCOLUMN THINK LESS TO LIVE LONGER

Take a pause to check what kind of thoughts are being created in your mind

RAJYOGI BRAHMAKUMAR NIKUNJ JI

he human mind has amazing and the most extraordinary capacities to create, remember and evoke and to travel into the past and future of free will. Not many of us know that everything that is visible to us through our physical eyes today, every particle of matter that we can touch and feel now first had its blueprint in the human mind. In other words, everything outside is a physical manifestation of what is inside. Therefore, everything in the universe was first born as a thought or a tiny sentient point or dot. A dot has no length, breadth or width, but it has immense power and contains a lot.

It's estimated that an average person has around 70,000 thoughts per day. So, how many of us focus on observing our thoughts? Maybe very few... Do we ever think of putting a brake on or a full stop to our thoughts? Neuroscientists estimate that the human brain contains 100 billion neurons. Each neuron has about 1,000 connections. Each connection fires, on an average, 200 times per second resulting in 20,000 trillion calculations per second! And all this consumes loads of life energy. Hence, if we can reduce the number of thoughts even by a small percentage, then it can have a huge bearing on our life. That is why it has been proven scientifically that practising silence for a few minutes every day gives you the power of that conserved energy. Because, once we succeed in reducing the number of thoughts, we will start observing a remarkable improvement in the quality of our thoughts

How? It's simple! When we reduce the number of thoughts, then the thought congestion comes down and we will be able to hold every thought a little longer. The longer we can hold on to a thought, the more potent the thought becomes. We should understand the fact that every thought has creative power, hence the longer we hold a thought, the more powerful it becomes. With every thought, we send out the essence of ourselves, which mixes with other essences and creates and re-creates our physical environment. Thinking too much is like eating too much. The heaviness of our mind makes it impossible to remain light and flexible. We get stuck on little things, and gradually the little things become huge which we cannot shake off. Often when we think too much, we fantasise and overreact. Thus, we create negative feelings. Hence It is far better to observe than to absorb every word, feeling and attitude, to get over-involved, or react too much. Today we all are experiencing how the present era dominated by vices and wickedness is promoting devilish tendencies. Hence, the speed and intensity of negative thoughts are much greater than the positive ones which are very few. The major part of these positive thoughts fritters away before implementation due to a greater momentum of internal weak thoughts and the force of the external environment presently conducive for unrighteousness. Under such circumstances, the practice of meditation lends power to our thoughts. It helps us to realize our positive and pure intentions by reinforcing and re-programming them into our minds. It helps us to create an internal positive environment that is independent of the external vicious world. So much is its capacity that in its most powerful stage, our mind could even transform the outside negative vibrations and situations into positive ones. Vibrations are transferred only in a state of non-doing. That's the significance of sitting in the seat of meditation. By sitting in a state of non-doing, either in a space of high vibrations or in the presence of a person of high vibrations, those vibrations will be transferred to us. The power of non-doing is such that it enables you to tune in and inherit the higher vibrations, and in the presence of higher vibrations, all things become easy and possible. So, take a pause to check what kind of thoughts are being created in your mind for these will decide the degree of your happiness and satisfaction. And these will shape the kind of world you are creating for yourself every moment. (Writer is a spiritual educator & popular columnist for publications across India, Nepal & UK)

The India-Nepal ties are bound to improve after Prachanda's recent visit, in which seven agreements have been signed at the risk of irritating the dragon lmost ten years back, in 2014 Prime Minister Modi during his visit to Nepal had given his vision for better ties between India and Nepal. His vision to focus on Highways, I-ways, and Trans-ways (HIT) has been at the core to bring down the existing barriers. It was a different ambience during the recent occasion of signing the agreements with his counterpart, Nepal PM, Pushpa Kamal Dahal. Prime Minister Modi expressed his optimism and confidence that the relations between the two countries would be even better in future and called for making them 'Super Hit' in times to come. Nepal PM Prachanda also recip-rocate the gesture and appreciated Modi's Neighborhood Policy. Despite having close relations dating back to ancient times, it was the Indo-Nepal treaty of peace and friendship signed between the two countries in 1950 which had laid the foundation of closer ties. Rana rulers of Nepal had welcomed close relations with the newly independent India, fearing the danger of the ouster of their autocratic rule by China-backed communists

The pro-China tilt of the communist government led by the former prime minister, KPS Oli brought the relations between the two nations to the lowest ebb which witnessed a positive trend of ascendency after the coalition government comprising of present PM, Kamal Dahal, Prachanda's communist Party of Nepal-Maoists Center (CPN-MC) and Nepali Congress, as a dominant partner which is known for its proximity to India since decades.

Nepal has got every reason to smile as a trilateral power agreement became a real-ity after several years of stalemate which will ensure the import of 10,000 MW of power from Nepal to Nepal for 10 years which will be earning thousands of crores of revenue and subsequently provide an advantage of additional availability of electricity for consumers in our country. It will enable Nepal to start the import of power up to 60 MW to Bangladesh through India though the final details will be worked out by the officials of the three nations soon.

As per Kulman Ghising, managing director of Nepal Electricity Authority, under the umbrella project, power companies of Nepal and India can sign medium - or long-term electricity trade agreements which will end the existing cumbersome procedure of renewing export agree-ments by Nepal every year. It will prove a path-breaking event as buyers and sellers can sign power agreements for 25 years and Nepal can visualize its prosperity through energy export to India or other countries.

IT IS A HARD FACT THAT NEW ECONOMIC COOPERATION, ESPECIALLY IN THE HYDEL SECTOR, HAS GOT TREMENDOUS POTENTIAL TO BRING PROSPERITY TO achieve tangible and time-bound progress on the Pancheshwar multipurpose project and India will cooperate with Kathmandu to set up a fertilizer plant in Nepal.

The Himalayan

Observers feel that the approval of the citizenship bill is being seen as an attempt by Prachanda to exhibit his closeness to India and the United States though it may irritate the Dragon. Second, Prachanda chose India over China for his maiden visit which has sent a good signal as it has proved fruitful which is evident from the signing of seven agreements thereby benefiting the 17,000 feet along the border with Tibet in Uttarakhand with Dharchula in Uttarakhand's Pithoragarh district. Experts had attributed Oli's actions to the Chinese strategy to unsettle age-old ties between India and Nepal. Nepal had also opposed India's action to bring out a revised political map showing the union territories of Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh which had created bitterness.

As per clear determination and commitment to ensure the success of his visit, Nepal PM did not fall prey to the suggestion made by two ormer PMIS of Ne bal Viz. Baburam Bhattarai and KPS Oli wanted him to raise an issue about the Akhand Bharat mural in the newly inaugurated parliament building which presents Kapilvastu, Biratnagar and Lumbini as parts of India.

ignoring such micro-level codes. He also undertook a religious trip to Mahakaleshwar temple, one of the 12 Jyotirlingas in Ujjain in Madhya Pradesh and gave the signal to pro-Hindutva set up in Delhi.

Prime Minister Modi made significant observations about the impact of signing seven agreements with his counterpart Prachanda which will have a special bearing in shaping future economic ties which will be of mutual benefits and relevance. The well-calibrated agreements having a goal of farsightedness covered various fields including cross-border petroleum pipeline trade and commerce, development of Integrated Check Posts and hydroelectric projects. Modi observed, "myself and Prachanda took many important decisions to make partnership between the two countries as 'Super Hit' in future." Prachanda was firm in his perception when he said "the age-old ties between two nations are of special significance and multi-faceted." Analysts opine that outcome of the four-day visit of Prachanda may not align with the policy of China to wean away Nepal from India because the signing of seven agreements may change the dynamics of ties between the two nations which may reach new heights in future. It is a hard fact that new economic cooperation especially in the hydel sector has got tremendous potential to bring prosperity to the Himalayan Kingdom.

Experts say that a key element of the bilateral partnership pertains to one of the important agreements signed between India and Nepal to develop the 669 MW Lower Arun Hydro Project which got approval from Nepal's Investment Board before the commencement of Prachanda's visit to New Delhi. India is also developing a mega 900 MW Arun-III hydroelectric project in Nepal besides having a 490 MW Arun-4 hydroelectric project in the pipeline which will be taken to a logical end shortly. India has also built several hydroelectric projects in Nepal which include Devighat (14.1 MW), Western Gandak (15 MW), Pokhara (1 MW), Trisuli (21 MW), etc. which reflect old and close cooperation between the two nations in the energy sector. Foreign Secretary, Vinay Mohan Kwatra observed that two PMs had agreed to opie of both countries.

Former Nepali diplomats in Kathmandu felt that Modi and Prachanda refrained from touching the irritants which could have spoiled the outcome of the latter's visit. Prachanda tactfully touched the boundary issue and suggested resolving it through diplomatic channels. The communist led government of Oli had brought Nepal-India ties to the lowest ebb when a map was redrawn showing Indian territories like Lipulekh, Kalapani and Limpiyadhura as its territories which had infuriated India and it had outrightly rejected this mischievous move.

The then PM, Oli had also objected to the opening of an 80km-long strategically crucial road connecting the Lipulekh pass with Dharchula in Úttarakhand by defense minister Rajnath Singh on May 8, 2020. It connects the Lipulekh Pass having a height of Both sides have agreed to speed up the completion of projects related to the Ramyanya circuit which comprises 15 tourism circuits thereby strengthening religious and cultural ties in future. Modi and Prachanda recognized the centuries-old 'Roti-Beti' bonds which refer to cross-border marriages between people of two nations and resolved to preserve the same at all costs. Prachanda, a diehard communist, gave preference to India over China while finalizing his foreign visit after becoming PM six months ago. Prachanda was seen in the traditional dress of Daura Suruwal which was a complete deviation from the communist ideology of

The never-ending fight of Kinnaur women for property rights

Women in the region have been fighting for their ancestral property rights for decades. Will they ever get it, remains to be seen espite several years of protest, legal battles, and a recent meeting with the country's President regarding the ancestral property rights of Kinnaur women, the unfortunate reality remains that these women are still unjustly barred from enjoying their rightful land rights.

"Wazib ul Urj," a 93-yearold customary law practiced in Himachal Pradesh's tribal district, is the main cause behind the landlessness of Kinnaur women. This customary law deprives women of inheriting property belonging to a male member of the family through succession in spite of the fact that such women are their lineal descendants. ships than benefits to the women of this community. Back in 2013, the author had done a story on the issue in 2013 citing the cases of the women in Kinnaur who had to suffer because of the denial of their right and the campaign launched by Mahila Kalyan Parishad- a group seeking equal rights for women in ancestral property matters based in Reckong Peo. Yet,

Sangeeta from Ribba village in Pooh block in Kinnaur district lost her husband in May 2012. At that time, her three daughters were unmar-

the Kinnara tribe as a 14 years old. Neither Sangeeta nor her daughters inherited Scheduled Tribe under Article 342 of the Indian Constitution, anything from her in-laws' property. All the property, has only brought more hardincluding the agricultural land, is registered in her son's name, who is now 24 years old. Sangeeta relies entirely on her son for support and cannot even obtain a loan from the bank as nothing is in her name. Despite not owning any property or a house, she does not receive a widow's pension.

"Once my son gets mar-ried, I will have to depend on the good will of my daughter their situation remains intact in law and that of my son's for I have nothing I can call my own," expressed Sangeeta. Because of this law, Sangeeta was barred from inheriting her ancestral property, while both ried, and her only son was just her brothers had a share in it.

Similarly, Seema Negi from Rekong Peo, also the secretary of Mahila Kalyan Parishad, bought land and made a house with her own money, spending lakhs of rupees. However, for the last several years she has been running from pillar to post to get the property registered in her name. As she married a person from Mandi in Himachal Pradesh, he cannot get property in Kinnaur, neither can Seema nominate him. The property had to be ultimately registered in her mother's name who has gifted the same to her daughter in her will. "I spend my own money and yet not a shred of land is in my name? Is that not injustice?" lamented Seema. The law does not allow her sons as father is not from Kinnaur. Only if they are married to a Kinnauri woman the property can be transferred in their name. Previously, the security of women in the Kinnara tribe was ensured through a provision in the tribal society's customs. Under this provision, the father-in-law would formally pledge a portion of the land and the house to the daughter-in-law in a written agreement. The document was then kept by the bride's father. In case of any dispute with the husband, the bride would retain possession of that portion of the house and land for her lifetime. However, currently, this traditional custom, which provided a form of security for women by guaranteeing them a place to live, is well to inherit it because their disregarded, while the discriminatory custom prohibiting daughters or wives from inheriting property continues. In 2005, under Section 6 of the Hindu Succession Act, of 1956, women in many states of the country were given the right to ancestral property but no changes were effected in the rules related to land in the tribal areas of Kinnaur.

Fighting for the rights of women in ancestral property, Mahila Kalyan Parishad held several meetings of all the Mahila Mandals and Panchayat Pradhans. Later they organised a meeting at the district level in Rekong Peo and a rally was held to press for the demand of giving rights to women in ancestral property. A memorandum in this regard was given to the then Himachal Pradesh Governor on 24th of May 2012. Meanwhile, they started a signature campaign and had got signatures of at least 10000 men and women till then. In 2015, a single judge of the High Court of Himachal Pradesh felt that denying the right of women in ancestral property was wrong and that daughters have the right to ancestral property as their sons. Even a rally welcoming the verdict was organised on the 14th of July 2017. But the decision was stayed by the Supreme Court after it was challenged. "While the fight in and outside the court will continue, only time will tell whether women in Kinnaur will ever get the right to ancestral property or our struggle that started over twenty years ago will go in vain," Manjari expressed.

Moscow, Kyiv blame each other

AP KYIV

The wall of a major dam in southern Ukraine collapsed on Tuesday, triggering floods, endangering Europe's largest nuclear power plant and threatening drinking water supplies as both sides in the war rushed to evacuate residents and blamed each other for the destruction. Ukraine accused Russian forces of blowing up the Kakhovka dam and hydroelectric power station on the Dnieper River in an area that Moscow controls, while Russian officials blamed Ukrainian bombardment in the contested area. It was not possible to verify the claims.

The potentially far-reaching environmental and social consequences of the disaster quickly became clear as homes, streets and businesses flooded downstream and emergency crews began evacuations; officials raced to check cooling systems at the Zaporizhzhia Nuclear Power Plant; and authorities expressed concern about supplies of drinking water to the south in Crimea, which Russia illegally annexed in 2014.

Both Russian and Ukrainian authorities brought in trains and buses for residents. About 22,000 people live in areas at risk of flooding in Russian-controlled areas, while 16,000 live in the most critical zone in Ukrainian-held territory, according to official tallies. Neither side reported any deaths or injuries.

The dam break added a stunning new dimension to Russia's war in Ukraine, now in its 16th month. Ukrainian forces were widely seen to be moving forward with a long-anticipated counteroffensive in patches along more than 1,000 kilometres (621 whether either side benefits from the damage to the dam, since both Russian-controlled and Ukrainian-held lands are at risk. The damage could also hinder Ukraine's counteroffensive in the south and distract its government, while Russia depends on the dam to supply water to Crimea. Patricia Lewis, director of the International Security Program at Chatham House think tank in London, said apportioning blame is difficult but "there are all sorts of reasons why Russia would do this". 'There were reports (last fall) of Russians having mined the reservoir. Experts have previously said the dam was suffering from disrepair. David Helms, a retired American scientist who has monitored the reservoir since the start of the war, said in an e-mail that it wasn't clear if the damage was deliberate or simple neglect from Russian forces cupying the facility. Wheat prices rise following major dam collapse Washington (AP): The collapse of a major dam in southern Ukraine sent global prices of wheat and corn higher. Wheat prices gained 2.4% in early trading Tuesday at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, to $6.39 a bushel. The cost of corn rose more than 1% (to $6.04 a bushel) and oats gained 0.73% ($3.46 per unit). Prices had jumped higher earlier in the day. The destruction of Kakhovka dam and hydroelectric power station, in an area that Moscow controls, raised anxiety about a potential disruption to global supplies. The claims came at hearings at the International Court of Justice in a case brought by Kyiv against Russia linked to Moscow's 2014 annexation of the Crimean Peninsula and the arming of rebels in eastern Ukraine in the years before Russia's full-scale invasion in February 2022.

Lawyers for Kyiv presented legal arguments to support their case Tuesday. Russia's lawyers will address judges Thursday. Each side has another opportunity next week to present evidence. Judges are expected to take months to Another lawyer on Ukraine's team, David Zionts, said that pro-Russia forces in eastern Ukraine "attacked civilians as part of a campaign of intimidation and terror. Russian money and weapons fueled this campaign."

The Ukrainian legal team said Russia did nothing to prevent or help Ukraine investigate the financial streams.

Turning to alleged breaches in Crimea of a convention to combat racial discrimination, Koh said that, following its illegal occupation and annexation of the peninsula, Russia "sought to replace the multiethnic community that had characterized Crimea before Russia's intervention with discriminatory Russian nationalism."

He told judges that Russian policies amount to "a long-term proud, multi-ethnic nation, to wipe out what makes Ukrainians Ukrainians and what makes the Crimean Tatars, Crimean Tatars."

The case is one of several legal proceedings against Russia linked to Ukraine.

In a separate case brought by Ukraine in the immediate aftermath of Russia's illegal invasion, the world court issued a preliminary order calling on Russia to stop hostilities – a legally binding ruling that Moscow ignored.

In that case, Kyiv is arguing that Russia violated the 1948 Genocide Convention by falsely accusing Ukraine of committing genocide and using that as a pretext for the Feb. 24, 2022, invasion. Moscow argues that the court doesn't have jurisdiction.

Top court to hear Suu Kyi's bribery conviction appeal

Bangkok (AP): Myanmar's Supreme Court has agreed to hear a special appeal of ousted leader Aung San Suu Kyi's bribery conviction for allegedly receiving gold and thousands of dollars from a former political ally, legal officials said Tuesday.

Suu Kyi, 77, was arrested when the army toppled her elected government in February 2021, and was tried on a range of charges for which she was sentenced to a total of 33 years in prison.

Her supporters and independent legal experts say the cases were politically motivated in an attempt to discredit her and legitimise the military's takeover while preventing her from returning to politics. Two legal officials familiar with Suu Kyi's cases said the Supreme Court decided last Friday to hear the special appeal of the corruption case, in which she was convicted of receiving USD 600,000 and seven gold bars in 2017-18 from Phyo Min Thein, the former chief minister of Yangon, the country's biggest city. She was sentenced to five years in prison in April last year after being found guilty of bribery.

Iran unveils hypersonic missile amid US tensions

Iran claimed on Tuesday that it had created a hypersonic missile capable of travelling at 15 times the speed of sound, adding a new weapon to its arsenal as tensions remain high with the US over Tehran's nuclear programme.

The new missile — called Fattah, or "Conqueror" in Farsi was unveiled even as Iran said it would reopen its diplomatic posts on Tuesday in Saudi Arabia after reaching a détente with Riyadh following years of conflict.

The tightly choreographed segment on Iranian state television apparently sought to show that Tehran's hard-line government can still deploy arms against its enemies across much of the Middle East.

"Today we feel that the deterrent power has been formed," Iranian President Ebrahim Raisi said at the event. "This power is an anchor of

Gen Amir Ali Hajizadeh, Iran's expansive ballistic missile the head of the paramilitary arsenal, which the Guard has Revolutionary Guard's aerobuilt up over the years as space programme, unveiled Western sanctions largely prewhat appeared to be a model of vent it from accessing advanced the missile. Hajizadeh claimed weaponry. the missile had a range of up to There exists no system

1,400 kilometres (870 miles). that can rival or counter this missile," Hajizadeh claimed. That claim, however, depends on how manoeuvrable the missile is. Ballistic missiles fly on a trajectory in which anti-missile systems like the Patriot can anticipate their path and intercept them.

what appeared to be a moveable nozzle for the Fattah, which could allow it to change trajectories in flight. The more irregular the missile's flight path, the more difficult it becomes to intercept.

Iranian officials did not release footage of a Fattah successfully launching and then striking a target. Hajizadeh later said that there had been a ground test of the missile's engine. A ground test involves a rocket motor being put on a stand and fired to check its abilities while launching a missile with that rocket motor is much more complex.

Hypersonic weapons, which fly at speeds in excess of Mach 5, or five times the speed of sound, could pose crucial challenges to missile defence systems because of their speed and manoeuvrability. Iran described the Fattah as being able to reach Mach 15 which is 15 times the speed of sound. China is believed to be pursuing the weapons, as is already be fielding the weapons and has said it used them on the battlefield in Ukraine. However, speed and manoeuvrability isn't a guarantee the missile will successfully strike a target. Ukraine's air force in May said it shot down a Russian hypersonic Kinzhal missile with a Patriot battery. Gulf Arab countries allied with the US widely use the Patriot missile system in the region. Israel, Iran's main rival in the Mideast, also has its own robust air defences.

In November, Hajizadeh initially claimed that Iran had created a hypersonic missile, without offering evidence to support it. That claim came during the nationwide protests that followed the September death of 22-year-old Mahsa Amini after her arrest by the country's morality police.

Pakistan's former foreign minister Shah Mahmood Qureshi, who was among some of the top leaders of Imran Khan's party to be arrested following the May 9 violent protests, was released from a Rawalpindi prison on Tuesday following a court order.

The Vice Chairman of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party was arrested last month on a plethora of charges, including inciting violence following chairman Imran Khan's arrest in a corruption case on May 9. Qureshi, 66, served as Pakistan's foreign affairs minister from 2018 to 2022 under Khan's regime.

On Tuesday, the Lahore High Court's Rawalpindi bench ordered the PTI leader's immediate release and set aside his detention orders. Upon his release from Adiala Jail, Qureshi said he will meet PTI chief Khan at his Zaman Park

Pakistan's Supreme Court expects the country's warring political parties to reach a consensus on holding general elections and provincial polls for all the legislatures on the same day to end the polarisation in the polity, a media report said on Tuesday.

"It is appreciable that the political leadership of the country made efforts to resolve the present political impasse. Political issues can best be addressed through dialogue and consensus," said a written order issued by a three-judge bench led by Chief Justice Umar Ata Bandial on Monday.

The bench was hearing a petition seeking to hold elections for all assemblies on the same day.

Harry, who step a working royal and now lives in the US with his wife Meghan Markle and two children Archie and Lilibet, has said that the deceptive methods used by MGN newspapers impacted his personal life.

He alleges that the 'Daily Mirror', 'Sunday Mirror', and Sunday People' were linked to methods including phone hacking, so-called "blagging" or gaining information by deception, and use of private investigators, between 1996 and 2010 to get detailed information about his private affairs.

MGN disputes the allegations and also argued that some of the claimants who are part of the representative legal action have brought their case too late. Their lawyers are expected to cross-examine Prince Harry in the witness box this week.

Meanwhile, the royal's lawyer on Monday told the hearing as it opened that 'Mirror' journalists listened to voicemail messages from Princess Diana – Harry's late mother.

The Vatican spokesman, Matteo Bruni, said the pontiff underwent "some clinical examinations and returned to the Vatican before noon" from the Gemelli hospital.

Witnesses at the Vatican's Perugino gate, one of the main entrances to the city state, told AP that Francis greeted guards as he usually does before returning to his residence.

Francis, 86, spent three days at the Gemelli hospital in late March. Initially, the Vatican said he had gone in for scheduled tests, but the pontiff later revealed he had felt pain in his chest and was rushed to the hospital where bronchitis was diagnosed. # India fantastic potential market but taxation higher: IATA chief ndia is a fantastic potential I market for aviation but not a cheap market to operate as taxation is higher in the country than in many other places, international airlines' grouping IATA's chief Willie Walsh said on Tuesday.

PTI ISTANBUL

During a media briefing here, Walsh also highlighted the scale of the economy and investments going into airports in India

The International Air Transport Association (IATA) is a grouping of more than 300 airlines, including Air India, IndiGo and SpiceJet.

While responding to a query about a possible duop-oly in the Indian airline market, Walsh said there is "plenty of scope for others (airlines) to compete in the market". "What you have in India is a fantastic potential market. You look at the scale of the economy, investments going into airports... (but) India is not a cheap market to operate.

'Taxation in India is higher than most places in the world. I think there is a lot of potential in India," he said. India is one of the fastest-growing aviation markets glob-

Meanwhile, Walsh also said that he has no sympathy for airports and that they are profitable all the time. "Airports try to convince people that every new passen-ger I get means I have to increase my charges. That is complete nonsense. The more passengers you get, the lower your cost should be. What we have seen with airports is very high returns on capital way in excess of the cost of their capital," he said.

Further, Walsh said that India needs to recognise that the real advantage will come in by making fares cheaper for more and more people to fly.

On Monday, the IATA chief said that an analysis of almost seven billion international flight tickets has shown that airlines have paid more than USD 380 billion in taxes and charges.

"We analysed data from almost 7 billion tickets for international flights going back to 2018, which showed that airlines have paid over USD 380 billion in taxes and charges, which added over 33 per cent to the price of a ticket. "And if we include domestic flights, that figure of USD 380 billion rises to half a trillion US dollars. It's important that policymakers are moved by facts, not fiction and it's heartening that 75 per cent of travellers see green taxes for what they are -- nothing more than government greenwash-Walsh had said. ing!'

Magicbricks launches 'Know Your Tenant' feature on its portal to help landlords in renting properties

PTI 📕 NEW DELHI

Real estate portal Magicbricks on Monday said it has started a new fea-ture to help landlords in the decision-making process while searching for tenants for their properties.

In a statement, the company said it has rolled out a new feature 'Know Your Tenant' (KYT), aimed at revolutionising the home rental process through the power of cutting-edge technology.

"Traditionally, the search for an ideal tenant has been a time-consuming and labourintensive endeavour, often leading to uncomfortable face-to-face interactions where landlords may decline rental opportunities based on socioeconomic preferences," it said. With the introduction of the KYT feature, Magicbricks said it aims to streamline this process, minimising time wastage and maximising efficiency. KYT facilitates seamless

SABALENKA REACHES FRENCH OPEN SEMIS

Torld number two Aryna Sabalenka of Belarus powered past Ukraine's Elina Svitolina 6-4, 6-4 on Tuesday to reach the French Open semi-finals.

The match was highly anticipated with Svitolina, who last year became a mother, refusing to shake hands with players from Russia or Belarus following Moscow's invasion of Ukraine last year, which it calls a 'special military operation'.

Sabalenka, who next faces Czech Karolina Muchova, caused a furore in recent days, snubbing the media following her previous two matches after being grilled about the war and her country's involvement as a staging ground for Russian weapons and troops

With several Ukrainian flags unfurled in the half-empty stands of Philippe Chatrier stadium, the pair traded blows at the start with neither managing to carve out a single break point in the first eight games.

But favourite Sabalenka, aiming for the world number one spot with a title win in Paris, grabbed the key break and then served out the first set a little later, with her opponent looping a backhand wide. Svitolina broke for 2-0 in the second set as Sabalenka hit her 23rd unforced error but the Ukrainian was still on the back foot and allowed her opponent to pull the break back when she netted a backhand.

Sabalenka continued her demolition job, breaking again for 3-2 with an unreturnable forehand.

Svitolina stayed afloat thanks to her opponent's countless unforced errors, but the outcome was always in the Belarusian's hands winner and boos were heard as Svitolina walked straight to her bench while Sabalenka waited at the net.

Sabalenka ended it on the second match point with yet another forehand

Sabalenka's next opponent Karolina Muchova is in the French Open semifinals for the first time.

The unseeded Czech defeated 2021 runner-up Anastasia Pavlyuchenkova of Russia 7-5, 6-2 in the quarterfinals on Tuesday.

SVITOLINA ACCUSES

Elina Svitolina accused Aryna Sabalenka of deliberately "inflaming" the tense stand-off between Ukraine and Belarus players at the French Open on Tuesday by staring her down at the net.

Sabalenka won their quarter-final 6-4, 6-4 and then approached the net in expectation of a handshake which Svitolina had already insisted she was not going to offer

All Ukraine players refuse to shake hands with Russian and Belarusian rivals in protest at the ongoing war.

Svitolina was as good as her word, ignoring the world number two, who was leaning on the net, and calmly walked back to her chair.

Svitolina, however, was booed by the Court Philippe Chatrier crowd.

When asked if Sabalenka had inflamed the situation by standing at the net, Svitolina replied: "Yeah, I think so, unfortunately.'

"I don't know why she was waiting, because my statements were clear enough about the handshake," added Svitolina, 28, who said she was not shocked by being jeered by a Paris crowd who had taken her to their hearts following her marriage to French player Gael Monfils.

"I was expecting that. Whoever in this situation loses, I guess, gets booed, so I was expecting that. It was not a surprise for me."

'Maybe she's (Sabalenka) not on social media during the tournament, but it is pretty clear. She played Marta as well the first round. So is quite simple."

Svitolina said she and her compatri-ots will continue their stance in the grass court season which culminates in Wimbledon next month.

"I won't sell my country for the likes of people," she said.

Svitolina said Sabalenka should also be fined for refusing to attend two mandatory press conferences following her third and fourth round matches.

Two years ago, former world number one Naomi Osaka was fined $15,000 for not honouring her French Open media commitments

Sabalenka said she boycotted her media duties because she didn't feel "safe" in an atmosphere where she faced a barrage of questions over the war and her links to Belarusian President Alexander Lukashenko.

"It should be equal for everyone. For example, Naomi got fined last time and this time there is no fine for the player, who also skips the press conference," said Svitolina.

'Paris on track for Spurs appoint Postecoglou as new manager

AP LONDON

Tottenham have appointed Ange Postecoglou as their new manager on a four-year deal, ending their long search for a new coach.

The 57-year-old Australian, who won the domestic Scottish treble with Celtic this season, will replace Antonio Conte at the Premier League club.

Conte left Spurs by "mutual agreement" in late March, with Cristian Stellini and then Ryan Mason taking temporary charge.

Postecoglou will officially join the London club, who finished a disappointing eighth in the Premier League this season, on July 1.

"Ange brings a positive mentality and a fast, attacking style of play," Tottenham chairman Daniel Levy said on Tuesday.

"He has a strong track record of developing players and an understanding of the importance of the link from the academy — everything that is important to our club.

The Greek-born Postecoglou enjoyed huge success during two years in Glasgow, winning five trophies.

But the lure of the Premier League proved too much to resist as he takes on the challenge of trying to revitalise Spurs after a disastrous 12 months.

The club were still challenging for a top-four place when Conte departed but they ended up missing out on European competition.

Former Bayern Munich coach Julian Nagelsmann and ex-Barcelona, Spain boss Luis Enrique and Feyenoord manager Arne Slot were among the big names touted for the job.

But Levy has finally got his man in Postecoglou, who takes the next step on a nomadic career that has included spells in Australia and Japan.

NDIA AIM TO END ICC TITLE DROUGHT

formidable bunch of Indian cricketers will require a perfect blend of skill and temperament when it clashes with an equally-strong Australia in the World Test Championship final, starting Wednesday, with an aim to end a decade-long global trophy jinx.

India have been the most consistent side over the past two WTC cycles and also reached knockout phases of major whiteball tournaments over the last 10 years but a trophy has eluded them.

The last major ICC trophy India won was way back in 2013 when it bagged the Champions Trophy in England. Since then, the side has lost three finals and on four occasion it bit dust at the semifinal stage. It also made an exit at the preliminary stage of the 2021 T20 World Cup.

The country has been pretty much driving the finances of the sport and considering the vast talent pool on offer, the expectations of dominating the game on field seem only fair.

Out of the six series India played in this cycle, their only series loss came in South Africa

I want to win games, I want to win championships: Rohit

PTI LONDON

Emphasising that sport is all about Ewinning championships, India skipper Rohit Sharma on Tuesday said he wants to win one or two major titles before he steps down as captain.

Rohit had taken over from Virat Kohli as all-format captain after the latter stepped down following the Test series defeat in South Africa in early 2022. A day before the big final, Rohit was asked about the legacy he would like to leave as captain.

"Whether it's me or someone else, even the guys before, their role was to take Indian cricket forward and win as many games, as many championships as possible. For me also, it will be the same. I want to win games, I want to win championships. That is what you play for," Rohit said during the prematch press conference. "And yeah, it will be nice to win some titles, win some extraordinary series. But yeah, like having said that, I genuinely feel that we don't want to put too much pressure on ourselves by over-thinking about these kind of stuff.

"As a captain, like I said, every captain wants to win championships, So I'll be no different. I also want to win championship. And that's what the sport is all about, winning championship. So for me, it will be nice if I can win one or two championships, as in when I decide to move on from this job." He also feels there is little point in thinking too much about the elusive ICC trophy.

"We know what we have won and what we have lost. No point thinking about it repeatedly. During the T20 World Cup also I was asked the same question. The players know what needs to be done. How we can do well, we are focused on that."

CAPTAIN SUFFERS BLOW

On another nippy and overcast morning in London, Rohit was among the four squad members who turned up for optional practice. R Ashwin, Umesh and K S Bharat were the others who showed up in the morning session along with the net bowlers.

Rohit was seen holding his left thumb following a hit in the nets but he did not appear to be in a lot of discomfort. On team combination, Rohit did not reveal much and expectedly kept the suspense going till toss time. India need to decide if they go in with two spinners or a four pacers.

two spinners or a four pacers. "Tve not said that Ashwin is not going to play. We'll wait until tomorrow - because one thing I have seen here - the pitch actually changes quite a bit day to day," he said when asked if it will be difficult to leave out Ashwin.

"Today it's looking the way it is. Tomorrow it might be slightly different, who knows. So the message to the boys has been very clear, all 15 must be ready to play at any point in time," he said. and that led to an unexpected change of guard with Rohit Sharma taking over the leadership role from Virat Kohli.

They remained unconquerable at home, drew a hardfought series in England before surviving a slight scare in Bangladesh.

Winning the big titles is what defines the legacy of a team but whatever may be the outcome of the final at The Oval, India head coach Rahul Dravid's opinion about his team won't change.

India ignored the conditions and went with their traditional strength — two spinners – against the Black Caps in the final at Southampton two years ago but the move backfired.

As The Oval gears up to host its first ever Test in June in its 143-year existence, India are heading into the unknown and face a couple of key selection calls that might decide the fate of the game.

It will always be a temptation to play both Ravindra Jadeja and R Ashwin in the same team but considering that it is only the start of the summer and pitches are fresh, there is a strong case for a fourth pace bowling option. In the batting department, Rishabh Pant is not available to bail the team out in case of a toporder collapse. Therefore, the management needs to decide whether it need the 'x-factor' of Ishan Kishan or the more reliable wicket-keeping skills of K S Bharat.

The wily Mohammed Shami and Mohammed Siraj pick themselves in the pace department and a call needs to be made between old-horse Umesh Yadav and all-rounder Shardul Thakur.

Sachin Tendulkar reckons the Spin-friendly Oval pitch will make India a confident side going into the World Test Championship final against Australia and their tweakers could become doubly dangerous if they are able to get "that drift" and make the ball talk in the air.

With India boasting of two wonderful spinners to choose from in R Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja, Tendulkar said the team can take a lot of heart from the pitch factor.

"The Indian team will be happy that they are playing at the Oval. The nature of the Oval pitch is such that it assists the spinners as the match goes on. So, spinners will come into play a little bit.

"It need not be always a team would not have forgotten that the last time they played spinners rely a lot on the bounce, sometimes that little bit of zip that they get off the pitch, also on the overhead conditions and it depends a lot on the shiny side of the ball.

who is not fully fit for the game.

"Hopefully huge. These conditions just seem to suit him, you'd think. He hasn't played a lot over here, but a seam bowler who will be rewarded for just bowling in the good areas over and over again," Cummins said on Tuesday when asked about Boland, who has taken 28 wickets in seven Tests and was among umph in 2021. "That's what he brings to the team. He's been fantastic. Even in India, he played the first Test match there on a pretty docile wicket and still did a fantastic job. He's a seasoned pro. If there's any assistance in the wicket as well, he just goes to that next level."

Shardul terms WTC final 'once-in-a-lifetime moment' Srikanth, Priyanshu win in Singapore

PTI LONDON

India's fast-bowling all-rounder Shardul Thakur has termed the World Test Championship final against Australia, starting on Wednesday at The Oval, "once-in-a-lifetime moment", and he is keen to make it count.

It remains to be seen if Thakur, who has played three of his eight Tests so far in England, makes it to the playing XI since the Rohit Sharma-led team would certainly want to go in with an extended batting line-

But on his part, the 31-yearold says he is ready to make it count in the final.

"I feel that ICC event, finals again especially, you don't get to play them everywhere each and every ber y year, so it's, for a few players or somebody like me, a once-in-alifetime moment," Thakur told the ICC.

He added, "All that I want is to make it count. It's always a special moment when you're representing your country especially India, when there's a billion people out there who dream of playing for the nation and only the best 15 have been chosen to represent the country," Thakur added.

Thakur's case will be a tough one to ignore, for he or struck twin half-centuries — 57 ev and 60 — and claimed three di wickets as India won by 157 runs at The Oval in September 2021 gc against England. w

"It's always good to remember your previous performances" a particular ground," he said. Thakur said batters should on a particular ground, but every game is a fresh start. It's different opponents this time around, but yeah it's always good to take motivation from what you've done in the past on n "I think England is challenging because the weather here is d a bit funny. When the sun's out it is good for batting, when it's overcast it's good for bowling, so the toss hardly matters, it's all about the cloud cover.

"Obviously the pitch also plays an important role, but we've seen in the past that whenever there's cloud cover the ball suddenly starts swinging and you can't really predict how much the ball is going to move, so that's one of the biggest challenges that a batter faces," he said.

Thakur added, "When it's e not swinging, England (has) ; also got the best pitches to bat f on, so it becomes equally tough - for bowlers. Even in the helpful conditions it's sort of important - to find the right length to nick s a batter off or hit his pads, so this t is a country that's challenging."

India's Kidambi Srikanth made a winning start but PV Sindhu and HS Prannoy were ousted from the Singapore Open Super 750 tournament after suffering contrasting losses in the opening round here on Tuesday.

Srikanth, a 2021 world championships silver medallist, beat Thailand's Kantaphon Wangcharoen 21-15, 21-19 in the opening round of men's singles competition.

Orleans Masters winner Priyanshu Rajawat also notched up a 21-12, 21-15 win over Japan's Kanta Tsuneyama to make it to the second round. The 21-year-old from Madhya Pradesh will face Japan's world

No. 4 Kodai Naraoka next.

Up against world number 1 Akane Yamaguchi of Japan, defending champion Sindhu fought hard before going down 21-18, 19-21, 17-21 in a little over an hour. The two last faced off in Thailand last year. Prannoy, who came into the tournament after claiming his maiden BWF title at Malaysia Masters, couldn't match the young Naraoka, losing 15-21, 19-21 to the third seeded Japanese in 56 minutes.

Doubles pair of MR Arjun and Dhruv Kapila, however, made a good start after claiming a 21-16, 21-15 win over France's Lucas Corvee and Ronan Labar in their opening match.

Among others, London Olympics bronze medallist Saina Nehwal lost 13-21, 15-21 to former world champion Ratchanok Intanon of Thailand, while Aakarshi Kashyap went down to another Thai Supanida Katethong 21-17, 21-9 in their respective opening match.
