CONGRESS SKIPS: Nitish

Deepak Kumar Jha | New Delhi

As a Congress leader, Nitish Kumar, who had been a crucial player in the Congress for many years, has now distanced himself from the party. He had joined the Congress in 1987 and had served as the leader of the party in the state. In the past, he had played an instrumental role in Congress's victories in the state. But now, he has decided to take a stand against the party's leadership. He has made it clear that he will not support the Congress's candidate for the upcoming by-elections.

MOITRA EVOKES QUESTIONS

TMC MP Moitra evokes questions

Meanwhile, TMC MP Mahua Moitra has also raised questions about the government's policies and actions. She had earlier questioned the government's decision to hike the prices of essential commodities and had even threatened to impeach the government. In her recent statement, she had accused the government of trying to suppress the voice of the opposition and had demanded an independent inquiry into the matter.

ONION GRABS HEADLINES AGAIN

Onion prices hit record high in the market, challenging the government's ability to keep inflation in check. The government has tried to contain the surge in onion prices by importing more onions from neighboring countries, but the prices have continued to rise. This has led to a shortage of onions in the market, causing a decline in the quality of the produce. Retailers have reported a decline in sales due to the high prices, as consumers are no longer willing to pay the high prices. The government has taken steps to control the prices, but it has been unable to contain the surge. The high prices have led to a loss of consumer confidence, and the government is struggling to find a solution to the problem.

Amit Shah prays Hry CM for working with spirit of Antidote in last 9 yrs

Centre has given Rs 1,32,000 to Hry in 2022-23, only Rs 40,000 in Cong's 10 yr regime

The Leader of Opposition in Punjab Vidhan Sabha and leader of the Opposition at the Punjab School Education Department, Bhupinder Singh Shekhawat on Thursday wrote a pointed letter to Chief Minister Captain Amarinder Singh highlighting the serious lacunae in the implementation of the Antidote, a 12-year-old flagship scheme of the Centre.

The scheme was launched in 2010 with an aim to provide assistance to students who are in danger of dropping-out due to financial reasons.

In his letter, Shekhawat pointed out that the Centre has given Rs 1.32 lakh to Haryana in current year 2022-23 while only Rs 40,000 to Punjab in the last 10 years, a clear indication of the anti-Haryana politics of the Congress.

After the policies were announced, the Centre had sent a notification to the State that any increase in the number of students enrolled in the schemes from the previous year was to be seen as an complaint of the help received by students from a particular scheme.

The Commission also highlighted the impact of the scheme on the overall education system and noted that the policy of the Centre was to ensure that the scheme was not seen as a substitute for regular education.

Why a beeline to overseas universities?

Over the years, there has been a substantial increase in the number of Indian students opting to go abroad for higher studies.

Students in large numbers are on the move, a beeline to overseas universities. The lure of going to a university abroad seems irresistible. Students who get into a good institute in India get bids for admission in foreign universities. Fungible is the only option available even though they fail a in a test in their pocket. Indeed, going abroad for a degree is the only option available even though they fail a test in their pocket. Indeed, going abroad for a degree is increasingly a demand for students. But is it necessarily a dream come true?

Before Indian students were just the ones looking for an overseas education abroad as of January 2023. There are several factors that are pushing students to overseas education.

One is the perception that they have of the advantages of an education abroad. Another is the availability of financial aid and scholarships. Students who are looking for a better future often opt for an overseas education. But is it necessarily a dream come true?

Overseas education is not a panacea for all educational and career challenges. Students who opt for overseas education need to be careful about the institution they choose. There are several factors that need to be considered before choosing an overseas education.

US sanons more foreign firms

AP in WASHINGTON

Washington (AP) - The Biden administration is imposing new sanctions on Russian firms that it says are fueling the war and are complicit in human rights abuses in Russia and the former Soviet Union.

The sanctions, announced Thursday, target a Russian state-owned bank, a company involved in the arms trade, and a company involved in the construction of the Nord Stream 2 gas pipeline.

The move is part of a broader effort to apply economic pressure on Russia and its allies.

The sanctions come as Moscow continues to expand its military presence in Ukraine and as Western allies increase their support for Ukraine.

The sanctions include the blocking of the assets of the bank and the company involved in the arms trade, as well as the application of financial and trade restrictions.

The Nord Stream 2 gas pipeline, which is scheduled to be completed in 2023, is also targeted.

The sanctions are not expected to have a significant impact on the Russian economy, but they could raise tensions between Russia and the West.
