T he Collins of the law universities features dynamic teachers and stimulating curricula. This is not an idle claim. It is a palpable truth, and a palpable reality. For the students who pass through these portals, the thrill of discovery is not just a fleeting moment. It is a journey. And for the teachers who guide these students, it is a lifelong responsibility.

When John Collins was a student at the University of Oxford, he learned the value of argumentation and debate. He also learned the importance of critical thinking. These are skills that he has carried with him throughout his career as a lawyer. And it is these skills that he hopes to impart to his students at Collins University.

In recent years, Collins has seen an increase in the number of students who are interested in pursuing careers in law. This is a positive trend, as it indicates that more and more people are recognizing the value of a legal education. And it is a trend that Collins is committed to supporting.

But Collins is not just about law. It is also about personal development. For Collins, education is not just about imparting knowledge. It is about inspiring students to think critically and creatively. And it is about helping them to develop the skills they need to succeed in life.

That is why Collins is dedicated to providing its students with a holistic education. This includes not only the traditional subjects of law, but also elements like ethics, leadership, and personal growth.

Collins believes that these are just as important as the traditional subjects of law. And it is committed to ensuring that its students get a well-rounded education.

In conclusion, Collins University is a place where students can learn to think critically, creatively, and ethically. It is a place where they can develop the skills they need to succeed in life. And it is a place where they can learn the value of a legal education.

The value of a legal education is not just for the students. It is for the community as a whole. And Collins University is committed to playing a role in that.

India expected to grow at 6.3 per cent in FY24

'Experts see WPI inflation rising in half this fiscal' PTI (NEW DELHI)

The Wholesale Price Index (WPI) in India is likely to run in the second half of the ongoing fiscal and a preliminary definitive trend could emerge before the third quarter, according to a report by a leading national research organisation.

In a report released on Friday, the researchers said that the index of inflation reported by the government is likely to show rising trends in the current fiscal year with a peak of 9.2 per cent in October, followed by a decline to 7.5 per cent in November, and then to 6.9 per cent in December and January. The trend is expected to continue in the second half of the current fiscal year, with inflation peaking at 7.8 per cent in July-August before declining to 5.2 per cent in September-October.

The researchers said that the government's policy measures to contain inflation are likely to be effective in the second half of the current fiscal year, with inflation peaking at 7.8 per cent in July-August before declining to 5.2 per cent in September-October. The central bank's decision to raise the policy rate by 25 basis points in the third quarter is likely to further reduce inflation, they added.

Markets fall for 3rd day on weak global equities PTI (MUMBAI)

Benchmark equity indices, after tumbling in the first half of the day, slid further for the third day running on Friday, with the benchmark Sensex tanking as much as 545.46 points, or 1.12 per cent, to close at 48,677.12. The Nifty, reflecting the broader market sentiment, declined by 166.9 points, or 1.15 per cent, to end at 13,991.55.

The decline was ascribed to a string of negative economic data from key markets and regions, including Europe, where fears of a recession are mounting. Additionally, a stronger US dollar against the rupee, driven by the expectation of a rate hike by the US Federal Reserve, added to the selling pressure on domestic equities.

Gas India's fuel supply to thermal power plants rises 6 per cent

PTI (NEW DELHI)

Coal India, the country's largest coal producer, has reported a rise in its fuel supply to thermal power plants by 6 per cent in the first eight months of the current fiscal year as compared to the corresponding period of FY23.

Oil prices fall as demand falls short of festive season

PTI (NEW DELHI)

Oil prices fell on Friday as demand for fuel fell short of expectations during the festive season in the first half of the year.

Crude oil prices fell by 1.7 per cent on Friday, with Brent crude settling at $87.8 per barrel and WTI crude at $82.4 per barrel. The decline was attributed to lower demand for fuel during the festive season, which is traditionally a high-demand period in India.

Despite the decline in the price of oil, the Indian government has maintained a tight hold on fuel prices, with the government setting the minimum and maximum prices for petrol and diesel.

The government has been implementing a series of price hikes over the past few months, with the latest hike being in September, when the prices of both petrol and diesel were increased.

Lionel Messi's involvement in a 0-0 draw over Paraguay didn't exactly mean he'll be fit for Argentina qualifying against Peru on Tuesday. Las Scalas also did not play the third match against Uruguay.

Messi's return to the national team after a season-long injury was seen as a key moment for Argentina, which was already in the mix for the qualifying group with 9 points, followed by Brazil and Chile.

The fourth match in Las Scalas' career came in the World Cup, but he's since found a way to turn the tides of his professional career.

Here's a look at some of the key moments from Messi's career with Argentina:
