Canada isolated as India roars

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■
NEW DELHI

Amid a huge diplomatic conflagration following Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's allegations of a "potential" involvement of Indian agents in the killing of Khalistani separatist Hardeep Singh Nijjar, India on Wednesday issued an advisory urging its nationals in Canada and those contemplating to travel there to exercise utmost caution in view of anti-India activities in some parts of that country.

This note of caution came a day after Canada issued an advisory to its nationals to remain vigilant while travelling to India.

In another development External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar reportedly briefed Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday here about the chain of events over the last two days.

A day after Trudeau's allegation of India's involvement in the killing of Nijjar, the Canadian media reported that Ottawa's Five Eye allies were not keen on taking sides. Canada is part of a "Five Eyes" network which is an intelligence alliance consisting of the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada and New Zealand. They showed little inclination to wade into an escalating row between Ottawa and New Delhi over allegations.

India on Tuesday rejected Trudeau's allegations as "absurd" and "motivated" and expelled a senior Canadian diplomat in a tit-for-tat move to Ottawa's expulsion of an Indian official over the case.

Reacting to developments, US Ambassador to India Eric Garcetti said, "Canada is a dear friend, partner and ally and happens to be our north-crimes and criminal violence in Canada, all Indian nationals there and those contemplating travel are urged to exercise utmost caution. Recently, threats have particularly targeted Indian Diplomats and sections of the Indian community who oppose the anti-India agenda.

"Indian nationals are therefore advised to avoid travelling to regions and potential venues in Canada that have seen such incidents.

"Our High Commission/Consulates General will continue to be in contact with the Canadian authorities to ensure the safety and well being of the Indian community in Canada."

Given the deteriorating security environment in Canada, Indian students in particular are advised to exercise extreme caution and remain vigilant.

Indian nationals and students from India in Canada must also register with the High Commission of India in Ottawa or Consulates General of India in Toronto and Vancouver through their respective websites, or the MADAD portal madad.gov.in

Women's Reservation has many miles to go

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■
NEW DELHI

The new Parliament building, on its second day of functioning, made history by passing the long-awaited Women's Reservation Bill, rebranded as the "Nari Shakti Vandana Adhiniyam", with an overwhelming majority in the Lok Sabha on Wednesday. Prime Minister Narendra Modi was present during the voting on the Bill.

Setting the tone of the debate, former Congress president Sonia Gandhi made a strong pitch for bringing OBC women in the ambit of the proposed law and asserting that any delay in bringing the reservation into effect would be "gross injustice" to women.

During the course of the over eight-hour-long debate, many Opposition MPs objected to the Bill, citing a delay in implementing women's reservation until after the delimitation process. However, the Bill was passed with 454 MPs in support, and only two MPs from AIMIM in opposition.

Intervening in the debate, Home Minister Amit Shah brushed aside apprehensions of a delay in the implementation of the proposed law and asserted that the next government will conduct a census and delimitation exercise soon after the elections, setting in motion the process to make women's reservation a reality.

The Bill will be tabled in the Rajya Sabha on Thursday and is likely to be passed there as well after a full day of debate, as scheduled. Following its passage in Parliament, the Bill will require consent from half of the total State Assemblies in the country.

Subsequently, the approval of President Draupadi Murmu will transform it into an Act.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday expressed delight at the passage of the Bill and wrote on X: "The Nari Shakti Vandana Adhiniyam is a historic legislation which will further boost women empowerment and will enable even greater participation of women in our political process."

The constitutional amendment Bill "Nari Shakti Vandana Adhiniyam", was introduced in the Lower House on Tuesday. Law Minister Arjun Ram Meghwal presented the Constitution (128th Amendment) Bill, aiming to reserve 33 per cent of seats for women in the Lok Sabha and State Assemblies.

The Bill has been proposed by various governments since 1996, but failed to garner consensus each time. This is not only a historic moment for the Bill, which ensures equal representation of women in the lower house of Parliament, but it is also the inaugural Bill to be tabled and passed in the new Parliament building.

Despite the majority agreeing on the importance of women's reservation, there was a heated debate over two clauses. Firstly, the issue of "delimitation" raised objections, as it would significantly postpone the implementation of the Bill.

Secondly, the exclusion of OBC from the reservation, which included quota for the SC and the ST, was contentious.

A total of 27 women MPs, spanning across party lines, including Union Minister Smriti Irani and Congress Parliamentary chief Sonia Gandhi, spoke during the Lok Sabha debate. BJP legislators supported it, while Opposition parties also backed it, demanding its immediate implementation. Currently, there are 82 women MPs in the Lok Sabha, out of a total strength of 543.

Chacha Chaudhary, Sabu entice voters

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

Chacha Chaudhary, the indelible comic character crafted by Pran Kumar Sharma, who resides deep within the heart of every Indian, is now being used to raise awareness among new voters.

This isn't the first instance where the Government has employed characters like Chacha Chaudhary and other iconic comic figures to promote and raise awareness, be it for projects like Namami Ganga or initiatives such as Swachh Bharat Abhiyan.

The Election Commission (EC) will use Chacha Chaudhary, Sabu, Raaka, Dhamaka Singh, Billoo and others to create awareness about elections among new voters.

In a one of a kind effort, a comic book titled Chacha Chaudhary and Chunavi Danggal published by Pran Comics has been launched to create awareness about elections among new voters through popular comic characters. The book was launched by Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar along with Election Commissioners Anup Chandra Pandey and Arun Goel.

Chacha Chaudhary Sabu, Raka, Billoo and Dhamaka Singh among others will now teach voters about the importance of elections, and how to enroll as voters. The comic will comprise 10 short stories on electoral aspects.

In the comic, Chacha Chaudhary also plays a pivotal role in introducing readers to various apps developed by the Election Commission of India like cVigil and KYC, thereby empowering them to become an active and informed participant in the election process. The comic book strongly emphasises the significance of women's participation in the electoral process, aligning with ECI efforts to increase women's participation.

Sikh diaspora slams Trudeau

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Influential Sikhs in America are upset with Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's allegations against India. Chairman of Sikhs of America Jesse Singh on Wednesday raised questions over the timing of the Canadian PM's allegations. Singh said Trudeau is digging a hole for himself for political gain and it can backfire.

A US expert has termed Canadian Trudeau's claim of a "potential link" between Indian Government agents and the killing of Khalistani leader Hardeep Singh Nijjar, the chief of the banned Khalistan Tiger Force, a "shameless and cynical action" and urged the United States not be part of it.

Participating in a panel discussion at the Hudson Institute think-tank, Michael Rubin, Senior Fellow at American Enterprise Institute, claimed Trudeau is playing into the hands of people who are looking at the Khalistani movement as a movement of ego and profit.

What is striking about Trudeau's "shameless action and cynical action" is that while he is making a statement now, the killing of Karima Baluch that was carried out allegedly with Pakistani assistance is a police matter and has not been taken to the Prime Minister's office, Rubin said.

India has strongly rejected Trudeau's claims as "absurd and motivated" and dismissed a senior Canadian diplomat in a reciprocal move. "Such unsubstantiated allegations seek to shift the focus from Khalistani terrorists and extremists, who have been provided shelter in Canada and continue to threaten India's sovereignty and territorial integrity. The inaction of the Canadian Government on this matter has been a long-standing and continuing concern," Indian Ministry of External Affairs said in a statement.

UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak's spokesperson told reporters that "work on the trade negotiations will continue as before" and that the UK was "not looking to conflate these issues". Soon after Trudeau's allegation, a UK Government spokesperson said Britain is in close touch with the Canadian authorities but declined to comment further.

Global warming: 2023 a climate alert

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■
NEW DELHI

Just as the world sweated it out in the record-breaking hottest July, a new study has now warned that 2023 will be no exception as it is expected to be the hottest year ever, marking another alarming milestone triggered by climate change induced El Niño.

This serves as a stark reminder of the urgent need for decisive action on the climate change front.

A study based on the China Global Merged Surface Temperature dataset 2.0 (CMST 2.0), from Sun Yat-sen University which has revealed these alarming facts, comes after NASA and the European Union Climate Monitor recently also stated 2023 to be the hottest on record. As per NASA, July was estimated to have been around 1.5 degrees Celsius warmer than the pre-industrial average for 1850-1900. It said July was 0.33 degree Celsius warmer than the previous warmest month, July 2019. In fact, Asia, Africa, and South America each had their warmest July on record.

South America had its highest monthly temperature anomaly of any month on record. The hottest of these was July 6, when the average daily global temperature was recorded to be 17.08 degrees Celsius, according to reports.

For the new study published in Advances in Atmospheric Sciences, the researchers analysed the CMST 2.0 dataset and discovered that 2023 has already experienced the third hottest first half-year since records began, narrowly trailing 2016 — the warmest year — and 2020 — the second warmest. The global mean sea surface temperatures (SSTs) surged to an all-time high in April, while global mean land air temperatures followed suit by reaching their second-highest monthly level in June.

This combination resulted in May being crowned the hottest month ever recorded for global mean surface temperatures.

Global temperatures will continue to rise into the second half of 2023, driven by factors, including El Niño and widespread wildfires.

Both global mean SSTs and global mean land temperatures reached unprecedented highs for July, shattering previous records.

"Given the current trajectory and short-term forecast results of El Niño, along with the extremely positive phase of the Atlantic Multidecadal Oscillation that strongly influences global surface temperatures, 2023 is expected to be the hottest year on record," said Professor LI Qingxiang from Sun Yat-sen.

"Moreover, 2024 may witness even higher global surface temperatures," added LI, also a research fellow at the Xinjiang Institute of Ecology and Geography of the Chinese Academy of Sciences.

The CMST 2.0 dataset is one of the most comprehensive global surface temperature benchmark datasets to date. It takes into account the accuracy of both global and regional climate change, raising the level of global temperature monitoring to a new level.

The dataset integrates over a century's worth of global land air temperature data and state-of-the-art research results from across the globe, resulting in an invaluable resource for climate scientists and policy-makers.

Based on this dataset, the team was the first to point out that the much-talked-about "global warming hiatus" during the last decade was just a statistical artefact, and in 2022, the dataset was expanded to include Arctic temperature data, further enhancing its global coverage.

As global warming accelerates, the likelihood of extreme weather events and disasters increases. Therefore, immediate and sustained efforts are needed to mitigate the devastating impacts of climate change.

Opp terms Bill jumla and sham

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Albeit extending support to 'Narishakti Vandan Adhinyam' commonly known as Women Reservation Bill in the Lok Sabha which was passed later in the evening, the Opposition parties led by Congress parliamentary party chief Sonia Gandhi, former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi, MPs from TMC, Shiv Sena, NCP amongst others hit out the Government terming the Bill a 'jumla' and 'sham'.

Putting forth several demands to be included in the Bill as also proper representation of the OBC, SC/ST within the 33 percent passed by the lower house, the Opposition members owing allegiance to India bloc too turn to criticise the format of the Bill and the timing which has been brought months before the Lok Sabha polls. Sonia initiated the debate immediately after Union Law Minister Arjun Ram Meghwal moved the women's reservation bill for passage in the Lok Sabha, saying it is a very important bill and urging members to pass it with unanimity and consensus.

Meghwal said the government will consider whatever suggestions come up during the discussion on the bill. He asserted that if Parliament decides, the quota for women can be extended beyond 15 years.

Rahul demanded that the quota be implemented immediately and SC, ST and OBC women also be given reservation following a caste census while Sonia stressed that her husband former Prime Minister late Rajiv Gandhi was instrumental in bringing reservation to women in the local units. Reading from a prepared text in Hindi on the bill from the opposition's side, Sonia said that any delay in bringing the reservation into effect would be "gross injustice" to Indian women.

"On behalf of the Indian National Congress, I demand from the government that the Narishakti Vandan Adhinyam 2023 be implemented as soon as possible while clearing all roadblocks in its way. Doing this is not only necessary but also possible," Sonia said.

The 76-year-old Congress leader said it was late Rajiv Gandhi who first made effort for women reservation in the local units which fructified during P V Narashimha Rao's regime as PM who had the bill to the effect passed. "Today local units have 15 lakh elected women.. Rajiv's dream half fulfilled will now be complete with this bill," she said.

Expressing support, Rahul batted for its immediate implementation and said that the legislation is "incomplete" without provision for quota for OBCs. During his speech he claimed that out of 90 secretaries of the government of India, only three are from the Other Backward Classes (OBC) and control only five per cent of the Budget, which he said was an "insult" to the backward classes.

Taking a swipe at the BJP leaders, Rahul said they like to divert the people's attention away from various issues. "There is, of course, the Adani issue. They always want to take the attention away from it," he alleged.

In his remarks, Rahul also took a swipe at the government over the events held around the inauguration of and the move to the new Parliament building. "I would like to say this is quite a nice building. Nice peacocks, nice peacock feathers on the ground, nice peacock feathers on the chair. It's a nice, tasteful building. But frankly, I would have liked to see the President of India in this process," he said.

Terming the women's reservation bill a "sham", TMC MP Mahua Moitra said it should be renamed as "women's reservation rescheduling bill" and asserted that what was needed was action not the "placebo of legislatively-mandated procrastination". Participating in the debate on the bill in Lok Sabha, Moitra said women's reservation is dependent on two totally "indeterminate dates" and asked, "can there be a greater jumla".

Shiv Sena member Arvind Sawant alleged in Lok Sabha that bringing the women's reservation bill is a politically motivated move by the Modi Government to hide its "failure" on various fronts like unemployment and price rise. He said if an elected woman member does well and is given a ticket on the same seat again by her party, the reservation would effectively go beyond 33 per cent.

Observing that no tears were shed when women wrestlers were protesting, Sawant said, "This bill is wholly political, has been brought with elections in mind". Opposition parties NCP and SP too demanded reservation for OBCs in the women's reservation bill and questioned the reason for calling a special session when the bill cannot be implemented before census and delimitation.

Participating in the debate on women's reservation bill in the Lok Sabha, NCP Lok Sabha MP Supriya Sule termed the legislation a "post dated cheque" and demanded the government spells out the date and timeline for its implementation. Samajwadi Party member Dimple Yadav demanded a provision for reservation of women belonging to backward classes, SC/STs and minority community in the bill.

Rajya Sabha hails Chandrayaan mission

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The Rajya Sabha on Wednesday hailed the successful Chandrayaan mission and congratulated the scientists for this achievement which catapulted India to the global stage.

Simultaneously the Opposition members criticised the government over low spending on scientific research while calling for increasing the salaries of scientists. The house also saw the Congress criticizing the ruling BJP for taking credit for the feat while treasury benches claimed the Opposition party did not provide enough facilities to the scientists during its leadership.

These points came up during a debate on 'India's Glorious Space Journey Marked by Successful Soft Landing of Chandrayaan-3', in the Upper House with members cutting across party lines lauding the mission. Before the adjourning the upper house for the day, Chairman Jagdeep Dhankar read out the resolution by mentioning India's Space programme is a source of national pride.

"It is a continuing testimony to the Nation's inherent, scientific and technological prowess. Affirmative ecosystem and visionary leadership has enabled our scientists to fully realise their potential, unleash their energy and attain this historical milestone. This House (Rajya Sabha) recognizes and appreciates the scientists, including the women scientists, for achieving this arduous feat with the successful soft landing of Chandrayaan-3 near the unconquered south-pole of Moon. This accomplishment, along with the other space missions, will usher in long-lasting economic and social upliftment," the Rajya Sabha resolution read.

Talks with Pakistan cannot be held if terror attacks continue: Omar

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ JAMMU

Former Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister and National Conference Vice President Omar Abdullah Wednesday maintained the onus lies with Pakistan for creating a conducive atmosphere in Jammu and Kashmir ahead of the resumption of dialogue with India.

Omar also asserted the talks cannot be held if attacks like Rajouri, Kokernag, and Srinagar continue.

Interacting with the media here at party headquarters in Jammu Omar said, "We have always supported dialogue between India and Pakistan but a conducive atmosphere is needed for the resumption of the talks between them. It is not only the responsibility of India but the onus is on Pakistan to make that atmosphere conducive for dialogue".

Referring to the killing of army and police officers in recent encounters, he said the incidents in Rajouri, Kokernag, and Srinagar cannot help in creating the conducive atmosphere needed for the dialogue.

He said he has not seen any step from the neighboring country so far which would help in creating the conducive atmosphere necessary for the dialogue.

"India alone cannot be held responsible for ensuring a favorable atmosphere for talks but it is up to Pakistan who has to take certain measures for peace".

Referring to the recent meeting of the INDIA bloc, convened in New Delhi to discuss the seat-sharing formula, Omar told reporters that the INDIA bloc should have an alliance on seats where the BJP "hopes to win".

Giriraj evasive reply to Mamata for meet

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Union Rural Development Minister Giriraj Singh has given a qualified acquiescence to a letter from Trinamool Congress MP Derek O'Brien and the party's Lok Sabha leader Sudip Bandopadhyay seeking his audience on the issue of central deprivation of Bengal.

After the Delhi Police denied permission to Trinamool Congress to hold a protest rally in the national Capital, TMC MPs wrote a letter to Singh where it was mentioned that a delegation led by Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee and the party's national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee wanted to meet him in Delhi.

"I have no problem in meeting Mamata if she comes to see me but it all depends upon my remaining present in Delhi... if I am not out on any election campaign in Madhya Pradesh or any other State then I can meet her," Singh said. Singh's audience has been sought on October 3. Singh's "evasive" reply makes the TMC leadership suspicious, inside sources said adding that "in any case our leaders will definitely go to Delhi and pray at Rajghat on October 2."

"We will give our complaints to Mahatma Gandhi," said a Bengal minister.

Banerjee wants to take a team of MPs, MLAs and district board chairpersons from Bengal to press for the release of held up funds to the tune of ₹16,000 crore, senior leaders in the party said.

"We are writing to you... to request an appointment with you on October 3, 2023, at a time convenient for you" and "the delegation will be led by AITC Chairperson Mamata Banerjee and will comprise National General Secretary Abhishek Banerjee, Members of Parliament, Members of the West Bengal Assembly, elected representatives of Gram Panchayats, Panchayat Samitis and Zila Parishads, along with both the undersigned," the letter written by the two MPs said.

Mentioning that the delegation would discuss the release of held up funds for the payment of workers under the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act, the MPs wrote, "We look forward to meeting you to discuss the critical issue of Bengal being continuously deprived of longstanding dues owed for the 100 days of work (under MNREGA), dues owed to over 11.65 lakh beneficiaries under AWAS Yojana-Grameen and other issues."

Indo-Pacific nations' Army chiefs to meet on Sept 26-27

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Given the strategic importance of the Indo-Pacific and China flexing its muscle in the region, the Indian Army will host a two-day conference here of Army chiefs of the Indo-Pacific nations next week with an aim to evolve a common strategy to ensure peace, prosperity and stability.

Fifteen Army chiefs and delegations from 22 countries will attend the event on September 26 and 27 and the US Army is co-hosting the conference.

The Indo-Pacific Armies Chiefs' Conclave (IPACC) will deliberate on the role of military diplomacy in mitigating various crises, ways to enhance collaboration among the armed forces of the region and boosting interoperability.

An exhibition of India's indigenously developed weapons, military systems and platforms is also being organised on the sidelines of the event. Alongside the 13th edition of the IPACC, the Indian Army is also hosting the 47th Indo Pacific Armies Management Seminar (IPAMS) and the Senior Enlisted Leaders Forum (SELF).

Vice Chief of Army Staff Lt General M V Suchindra Kumar said here on Wednesday the event will provide a unique opportunity to build common perspectives towards a shared vision and that it will help strengthen friendships through the formidable and indelible "soldierly bond". The IPACC, instituted as a biennial event in 1999, is attended by Army chiefs of countries of the Indo-Pacific region, to discuss issues of mutual interest.

"The current edition of this conclave is very special, as it will witness participation of full spectrum of military ranks, from Army chiefs to non-commissioned Officers from 22 nationalities, and their spouses," Lt Gen Kumar told reporters.

SC refers 'immunity to MPs in bribery' matter to 7-judge Constitution bench

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Wednesday referred to a seven-judge Constitution Bench the question of whether the legal immunity enjoyed by legislators under Articles 105(2) and 194(2) of the Constitution protects them from prosecution for taking a bribe. Article 105(2) confers on MPs immunity from prosecution in respect of anything said or any vote given by them in parliament or any parliamentary committee. Article 194(2) grants similar protection to MLAs.

A Constitution Bench of the Supreme Court in JMM bribery case involving former Prime Minister PV Narasimha Rao had held that Article 105(2) even protects MPs from prosecution for taking a bribe. A 3-2 majority reasoned that 105(2) applies not only to voting but anything connected to voting including taking bribes that influenced the voting. A larger bench will now be constituted to reconsider this judgment.

A Bench of Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud and Justices AS Bopanna, MM Sundresh, JB Pardiwala and Manoj Misra noted that MPs and MLAs must be free to express their views on the floor of the house without fear of consequences, but are not necessarily immune to criminal action. "While Article 19(1)(a) recognises individual right to free speech, the object of Articles 105(2) and 194(2) does not prima facie look to render immunity from launch of penal proceedings for violation of criminal law which may arise independently from the exercise of rights and duties as a member of Parliament...purpose of 105(2) and 194(2) is...not to make them separate with higher privileges than the common man who has remedies before the criminal law," the Bench said.

The five-judge Constitution Bench was hearing a case dealing with the question of whether the legal immunity given to MPs and MLAs protects them from prosecution for taking a bribe even if the amount was not used as per the demand of the bribe-giver. The issue arose in a plea filed by Sita Soren, sister-in-law of current Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren, who was accused of taking a bribe to vote for a particular candidate in the 2012 Rajya Sabha Elections.

A complaint was filed in 2012 with the Chief Election Commissioner of India seeking CBI probe into the case. Soren was charged with the offences of criminal conspiracy and bribery under the Indian Penal Code (IPC), and for criminal misconduct by a public servant under the Prevention of Corruption Act. In 2014, while hearing her plea seeking quashing of the case, the Jharkhand High Court noted that Soren had not cast her vote for the person who had offered her the bribe.

"This comic is available in both print and digital formats, ensuring accessibility across all platforms. Additionally, to inspire young minds, free copies of the comic book will be distributed to schools, educating future voters about the elections," the EC said in a statement.

The EC said 30,000 copies will be distributed for free and there will also be provision for lakhs of children to view them digitally.

Chacha Chaudhary's brain works faster than a computer — every 90's child is familiar with this famous line from the comic series of Chacha Chaudhary and Sabu.

Wearing a red turban and waistcoat with a double inside pocket, one of the biggest heroes, Chacha Chaudhary will now inspire people to use their right to vote for the candidates.

The EC on their X handle shared glimpses of the comics that have messages for children to understand the importance of voting.

In a post on X, formerly known as Twitter, the ECI wrote, "Chacha Chaudhary, Sabu, Raaka, Dhamaaka Singh, Billoo & other comic characters will now create awareness amongst children about elections. In an unique initiative, the comic book, 'Chacha Chaudhary aur Chunavi Danga', published by Pran Comics, was released by the Commission today." Further in another post, the ECI said, "Chacha Chaudhary ka dimag computer se tez chalta hai", and his formidable intellect will now be harnessed by SVEEP division of ECI".

The SVEEP stands for Systematic Voters' Education and Electoral Participation Programme which is the flagship programme of the Election Commission of India for voter education, spreading voter awareness and promoting voter literacy in India as Assembly elections are scheduled this year in Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh and Telangana States.

Meanwhile, the national election will be held in 2024.

Sabu is actually an alien from Jupiter. But what makes him truly special is his unwavering loyalty to Chacha Chaudhary and his incredible physical strength. Billoo is describable as a fun-loving and charismatic teenager with a passion for cricket and TV. He is a prankster whose pranks tend to backfire on him, but manages to resolve them all at the end of the day with his wit.

Earlier, the Centre has used Chacha Chaudhary swachh Bharat Abhiyan where Chacha Chaudhary has picked up a broom to clean the streets of India and to spread the message of cleanliness.

Titled as 'Chacha Chaudhary and Bye Bye Kachra', Diamond Toons, a publication house, recently launched the fourth edition of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan series. In this edition, Chacha Chaudhary creates awareness on the three Rs of waste management - reduce, reuse and recycle.

Children being one of the major carriers of change, most of the characters in the comic book are aged between 5 and 15. With the help of children, Chacha Chaudhary teaches parents to segregate waste and throw them in coloured bins. He then goes to explain how wet waste can be treated completely through composting techniques and dry waste can be recycled.

In the second edition, Chacha Chaudhary collaborates with Akshay Kumar, who had propagated the message of open defecation free in his movie 'Toilet-Ek Prem Katha'. With the help of Akshay Kumar, Chacha Chaudhary visits households in the village having no toilet and asks them to construct one for sanitation and hygiene purposes.

In the third edition, the famous 'Roko Toko' movement pioneered by children in Bhopal is used to carry forward the message of cleanliness.

First C-295 medium tactical transport aircraft from Spain lands in India

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Giving a boost to IAF's first-airport fleet, the first C-295 medium tactical transport aircraft landed in Vadodara on Wednesday, days after it was handed over to the Indian Air Force (IAF) in the southern Spanish city of Seville. The aircraft will be formally inducted into the IAF at a ceremony in Hindon near Delhi on September 25.

Chief of Air Staff Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari on September 13 received the first of the 56 C295 transport aircraft two years after India sealed a Rs 21,935-crore deal with Airbus Defence and Space to procure the jets to replace its ageing Avro-748 fleet. "The IAF's first

C-295 MW aircraft landed in Vadodara today. The aircraft would be handed over to the #IAF in a formal ceremony on 25 Sept 23 at AF Stn Hindon by the Honourable Raksha Mantri Shri Rajnath Singh," the IAF tweeted.

Under the deal, Airbus will deliver the first 16 aircraft in 'fly-away' condition from its final assembly line in Seville by 2025 and the subsequent 40 aircraft will be manufactured and assembled by Tata Advanced Systems (TAS) in India as part of an industrial partnership between the two companies.

The production of components of these aircraft has already started in the Main Constituent Assembly (MCA) facility in Hyderabad. These parts will be shipped to the Final Assembly Line (FAL) in Vadodara which is expected to be operational by November 2024. In October last year, Prime Minister Narendra Modi laid the foundation stone of the manufacturing facility for 295 planes in Vadodara. It will be the first military aircraft to be manufactured in India by a private consortium.

The IAF is procuring the C295 aircraft to replace its fleet of ageing Avro-748 planes that entered the service over six decades back. The C295 is known to be a superior aircraft used for tactical transport of up to 71 troops or 50 paratroopers, and for logistic operations to locations that are not accessible to current heavier aircraft. The aircraft can airdrop paratroops and loads, and also be used for casualty or medical evacuation.

Doctors axed from 7 Mohalla Clinics for fudging attendance

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi Health Minister Saurabh Bharadwaj on Wednesday said seven doctors and 19 staffers posted at seven Mohalla Clinics have been removed from service after it was found that they attempted to manipulate the electronic attendance system.

Addressing a press conference, he said there were complaints about doctors coming in late to Aam Aadmi Mohalla Clinics. "These doctors and staff members were found to have tampered with the biometric system by marking their attendance either significantly late or in a fraudulent manner at around 8 AM or nearby, causing inconvenience to the people," he said. "The staff (at mohalla clinics) are supposed to be available from 8 am to 2 pm. We got the attendance records checked... It was found that the electronic attendance system was being manipulated," Bharadwaj told reporters.

The Delhi minister said some of the staff would come late but the system "showed" that they had arrived by 8 am.

"Irregularities were found (in our probe) at seven Aam Aadmi Mohalla Clinics — five in the Southwest district, one in the Northeast district and another in the Shahdara district. In all, 26 staffers, including seven doctors, have been de-empanelled," he said.

"Based on the irregularities found in the biometric system during the investigation, action has been taken against these doctors and staff members. Any negligence in healthcare facilities provided to the people of Delhi will not be tolerated," he added.

Mohalla clinics are one of the flagship initiatives of the Arvind Kejriwal government to boost the primary health care system in Delhi. A typical mohalla clinic has a doctor, a midwife-cum-nurse and other ancillary staff, and an array of diagnostic services and essential medicines are provided free of cost to patients who come there. A total 533 Aam Aadmi Mohalla Clinics are functional in Delhi.

Bharadwaj said the irregularities were noticed after discrepancies or oddities were found in images submitted such as change in clothing on the same day or a photo of a photograph being found in scanned images.

Besides the seven doctors, the remaining staff who were removed include six pharmacists, six clinic assistants and seven multi-tasking staff, he told reporters.

The Delhi minister said the Kejriwal government and the health department is "very seriously" on the matter that staff deployed at such clinics discharge their duties responsibly and warned of action if any laxity is found.

Asked how such tampering with the system might have happened, he said technological upgrade is needed to keep pace with people who may try to bypass the system, adding, "We keep upgrading our technology."

Asked about the dengue situation in Delhi, Bharadwaj on Wednesday said the number of mosquito-breeding sites in the national capital has plateaued

Vendor thrashed, stripped, paraded in Noida market over ₹3,000 loan

STAFF REPORTER ■ NOIDA

A garlic vendor was thrashed, forced to strip and paraded at a vegetable market in Noida by two people allegedly after he failed to pay back Rs 3,000 he had borrowed from a commission agent at the market. A video of the incident was widely shared on social media where the vendor could be seen forced to strip and step out in the market naked.

Additional DCP (Central Noida) Rajiv Dixit, two persons, including the 'aadhti' (commission agent), have been arrested and strict action would be taken against them and a search is on for the other accused. "The main accused Sundar Singh and his aide Bhagandas Singh have been arrested. Those absconding will also be nabbed soon and the strictest action taken against them as per law," Dixit said.

The video clip was also shared by Congress UP branch which claimed the victim is a garlic vendor. In the clip, the expletives were heard being hurled at the vendor. The vendor who hails from Mainpuri district of Uttar Pradesh had taken the loan around a month ago for work. In his complaint, he stated that he owns a garlic cart and works at the fruits and vegetables market in Noida Sector 88.

On Monday, when he went to repay ₹2,500 of the ₹5,600 loan, he requested that he would eventually repay the remaining amount, according to the vendor. Recounting the horror, the vendor added, "However, the commission agent called in his accountant and two labourers to the shop. They held me inside the shop and stripped me of my clothes before assaulting me with sticks and hurling abuses at me."

As per the Dixit, an FIR was lodged on Monday itself under relevant provisions of the law. "The FIR has been lodged at the local Phase 2 police station under Indian Penal Code sections relating to voluntarily causing hurt, wrongful confinement, insult with intent to provoke breach of peace and criminal intimidation," police said.

Charges of assault were added during the course of investigation. Those behind sharing the video will also face action, the officer said.

According to the FIR, the vendor had borrowed a sum of ₹5,600 from Sundar, the commission agent, a month back. These agents, known as aadhtiyas, are the link between farmers and buyers and hold clout in mandis. On Monday, the vendor returned ₹2,500 and asked for some time to pay back the remaining sum. Sundar called out to his accountant and two labourers. They took the garlic vendor into a stall, forced him to strip and beat him up with sticks, the FIR says. The garlic vendor was also threatened with murder. He was then paraded naked in the market.

DJB ex-CEO, accused of razing monument, vacates bungalow

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Former Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Delhi Jal Board (DJB) and controversial AGM-UT (Arunachal Pradesh-Goa-Mizoram and Union Territory) cadre officer Udit Prakash Raj accused of demolishing a monument and constructing a Government accommodation has now vacated his bungalow following the court order.

Top sources said the authorities are planning how it could be used as Delhi Officers Institute for Group B and C employees of Delhi for their training and welfare under Directorate of Training or could it be used for any public welfare project. "It is a huge space and such a huge infrastructure should be put to a larger welfare project than individual welfare," sources added.

Rai, a 2007 batch officer from the AGMUT cadre, was allotted a bungalow in Jal Vihar when he was the CEO of the Delhi Jal Board between October 18, 2021 and May 31, 2022, is currently under suspension by the Ministry of Home Affairs.

He was allegedly involved in the construction of an official accommodation following the demolition of a 15th-century monument during his tenure as the Delhi Jal Board's (DJB) chief executive officer.

Earlier, on April 26, Delhi's vigilance department issued a show cause notice to Rai for allegedly demolishing the monument, located in Jal Vihar near Lajpat Nagar, which finds a mention in the Archaeological Survey of India's "List of Muhammadan and Hindu monuments" prepared in the 20th century. The monument, a "mahal" (palace) from the Pathan period and the only remnant of the Khizrabad city founded by Khizr Khan of the Sayyid dynasty, was located in the Jal Vihar area, near Lajpat Nagar, in southeast Delhi.

His wife Shilpi Udit Rai, who was residing in the Delhi bungalow along with children, had approached the high court with a petition challenging a July 28 notice issued by DJB asking them to vacate the premises within 15 days. During the last hearing, Shilpi submitted before the court that she would vacate the bungalow.

In August last year, Delhi Lieutenant Governor Vinai Kumar Saxena recommended action against Rai for allegedly accepting a Rs 50-lakh bribe to grant "undue favours" to an executive engineer in two corruption cases. During his tenure as the vice-chairman of the Delhi Agricultural Marketing Board (DAMB), Rai "virtually looted" the executive engineer P S Meena in two disproportionate assets cases — one involving Meena's son and the other involving his wife.

Gahlot to meet MLAs for rollout of mohalla buses

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

As part of research for the rollout of the 'mohalla' bus service, Delhi Transport Minister Kailash Gahlot will be meeting MLAs of constituencies in Southeast and outer Delhi to understand issues of areas that are yet to avail the facility.

The 'mohalla' bus service, announced in the 2023-24 Delhi budget, aims to deploy shorter nine-metre electric buses to boost last mile connectivity in areas with roads that have less width or are crowded. "The transport minister will be meeting MLAs of different constituencies to understand the connectivity issues faced by people. He plans to hold these meetings with MLAs as well as the public also being present during that interaction. The appointments for the meetings are yet to be fixed," said an official.

The official said that certain areas like outer Delhi, Sangam Vihar, Deoli, Chhatrapur, Vasant Kunj, Dwarka, Rohini, Najafgarh have been identified that are yet to have proper connectivity to bus stops and metro stations.

The meetings have been necessitated by the fact that the public feedback received from some areas lacked clarity and in order to ensure that the routes are chalked out properly, the minister will be holding these interactions, the official said.

"It is known that there are no connectivity issues or road infrastructure issues in posh areas. The areas that are unserved will be catered to under the service. The rollout of the service has been delayed due to the disengagement of 437 consultants and experts following the directions of Delhi LG V K Saxena. Around 50 such people working with the transport department were terminated thereby affecting many policies that were under the works," another official added.

The Kejriwal Government has planned to procure more than 2,000 feeder buses to operate on routes that cannot be accessed by 12-metre buses. A technical committee was constituted by the transport minister in May to decide routes and operational characteristics of the new bus scheme.

According to a third official, the committee has completed the route survey based on the public feedback. "Now the survey data is being tallied with the population data of those, road infrastructure and width of roads," he added.

Saxena has approved a proposal to extend the ad-hoc appointment of Tokyo Paralympics Games medallist Sharad Kumar and Ravi Kumar Dahiyia — a sliver medallist in wrestling in the Tokyo Olympic Games — to the post of Assistant Director Education (PE&NI) and Assistant Director Education (Sports), respectively, it said.

Clerk kills officer for demanding back ₹9 lakh debt

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

In a shocking incident in the RK Puram area of Delhi, a senior surveyor working at the Survey of India Defence Officer Complex was brutally murdered.

The accused, identified as Anis who worked as a clerk in the same office, has been apprehended by the police.

After killing his colleague, the accused wrapped his body in plastic bags, and buried it in the backyard of an empty house in RK Puram to avoid repaying a ₹9 lakh loan and to avenge a lewd remark the latter purportedly passed at a woman the former was in a relationship with, investigators said and added the murder could be linked to a job scam.

Mahesh worked at the SIA office at Defence Officers Complex in Sarojini Nagar. According to police, Mahesh had loaned Anish ₹9 lakh and was killed when he demanded his money back and berated Anish for splurging money on his girlfriend.

Anes told the police he struck Mahesh on the head with a pipe wrench, killing him on the spot. After the murder, he fled to his hometown in Sonapat on his motorcycle. He also left his mobile phone behind in Delhi.

On August 29, RK Puram

Police Station received a call from Mahesh's brother Anesh, who said his brother was missing, a senior police officer said.

He said his brother had left his house on August 28 around 12.30 pm and told his wife before leaving that he was going to meet his colleague Anish at RK Puram Sector 2, but never came back, the officer said.

Manesh said when he and his sister-in-law spoke to Anish about Mahesh, he said did meet Mahesh at his house, but he had left for his house after some time, police said. Anish even promised to help the family in their search for Mahesh.

Police in their investigation found Mahesh's last location was Faridabad in Haryana. When they went there, they found no evidence of his being there.

They began questioning several suspects, including

Anish, who confessed to killing Mahesh, Deputy Commissioner of Police (southwest) Manoj C said. According to the officer, Anish said Mahesh was harassing him for his money and even insulted him, so he decided to kill him.

He said when Mahesh's wife called him to ask for his whereabouts, he told her Mahesh had come and left leaving his car behind with him, the DCP said.

On the day he went missing, Mahesh received a call from Anish, who invited him to his house in RK Puram. When he came, Anish killed him, and buried his body near his house where sewer work was taking place.

DUSU polls: NSUI, ABVP trade barbs over hooliganism

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

The National Students Union of India (NSUI) and Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad traded charges against each for spreading hooliganism on the campus in the run up to the polls for the Delhi University Students Union polls. With two days to go for Delhi University elections, students' groups at the varsity held full fledged campaigns, with the silence period to begin at 12 pm on September 21 as per the code of conduct.

National President of NSUI Neeraj Kundan said that there are continuous attacks on the President, Vice President, Secretary and Joint Secretary candidates from NSUI and the police is, on the contrary, working to arrest NSUI officials.

Recently, the cars of NSUI President, Vice President, Secretary and candidate for the post of Joint Secretary were vandalised by ABP goons and two workers were fatally attacked. The car of the candidate for the post of Vice President was vandalised in Ramjas College, the candidate for the post of Joint Secretary. The car was broken outside Hansraj College and the candidate for the post of Secretary was attacked in Kirori Mal College, the NSUI alleged.

"Yesterday at 5:00 am, NSUI workers were beaten up by ABVP goons in front of Hansraj College in which one worker was seriously injured.

In Miranda Girls House College, an attempt was made by ABVP goons to forcibly enter the college and the gate of the college was broken and after entering the college, girls were molested. In the name of publicity in the college, ABVP goons continuously harassed students and girl students are being abused and molested and an atmosphere of fear is being created in the campus of Delhi University," the NSUI alleged.

Meanwhile, the ABVP, one of the largest student organizations in the Delhi University, condemned the recent incidents of violence and the involvement of outsiders in the DUSU election campaign by NSUI.

"Since yesterday, ABVP has been raising concerns about the infiltration of outsiders associated with the National Students' Union of India (NSUI) into our campus. Disturbing evidence, including videos and eyewitness accounts, has come to light, painting a troubling picture of violence and intimidation perpetrated by these outsiders," the ABVP said in a statement.

In one video shared by NSUI, a car clearly marked as belonging to Rajasthan University was vandalized by individuals associated with NSUI. This act of vandalism occurred amidst clashes between different factions within NSUI. Such incidents undermine the sanctity of our campus and the principles of peaceful coexistence that the student community cherishes, it said.

Another video surfaced showing individuals wearing masks to conceal their identities, armed with lathis, creating chaos outside SPM College. These individuals went on to vandalize cars belonging to various student organizations and subjected female members of ABVP, who were peacefully campaigning outside the college, to terror and intimidation. ABVP strongly condemns any form of violence and intimidation on or around our campus, it added.

Meanwhile, the NSUI held campaigns at Vishwavidyalaya Metro Station, Khalsa College, Miranda House College, Ramjas College, Hansraj and Hindu College among others. Voting for the Delhi University Students Union (DUSU) will be held on September 22.

Presidential candidate of NSUI, Hitesh Gulia, and the candidate for the post of secretary, Yakshna Sharma, held campaigns and informed the students about their manifesto that includes issues like menstrual leaves, emergency response system for distress calls and increased police patrolling outside college.

The ABVP shared their manifestos, engaged with students across college campuses, hostels, and also held door-to-door interactions. ABVP held campaigns at Ramjas College, Shri Ram College of Commerce, Shaheed Bhagat Singh College, College of Vocational Studies, and Aurobindo College.

Rai for neighbouring States meeting on stubble burning

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi Environment Minister Gopal Rai on Wednesday requested the Centre to call a review meeting of States neighbouring the national Capital in view of the beginning of parali (crop stubble) burning.

In his letters to Union minister of environment Bhupender Yadav and Union agriculture minister Narendra Tomar, Rai said efforts to curb pollution in Delhi will not succeed unless parali burning is prevented in the neighbouring states.

He said that the Centre had held a meeting with NCR states on August 3 on stubble burning issue, despite that incidents of crop stubble burning has started again.

"Therefore, a review meeting of all the states concerned needs to be convened soon so that a joint action plan could be firmed up and incident of parali burning is checked," Rai said. Saying that Delhi government has been taking several steps under its Winter Action plan to check spike in pollution witnessed in the winter season.

These steps include use of a biodecomposer, running campaigns for controlling dust, measures for pollution hotspots, and drive against open burning of garbage among others, he said.

"However, unless incidents of parali burning is not prevented in the NCR, these steps will not be effective," said the minister.

The Delhi Government along with the people of the city is taking various steps to ensure a better environment, he said. The level of PM10 and PM2.5 have recorded 42 and 46 per cent decline in past nine years as a result of these steps, he added.

Five Eye allies divided over Trudeau's India allegations

PIONEER NEW SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Day after Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau alleged India's involvement in the killing of a prominent Sikh separatist leader, the Canadian media reported that Ottawa's Five Eye allies were not keen on taking sides though they have said that the claims should be thoroughly probed.

Hardeep Singh Nijjar, 45, the chief of the banned Khalistan Tiger Force (KTF) and one of India's most-wanted terrorists who carried a cash reward of Rs 10 lakh on his head, was shot dead by two unidentified gunmen outside a gurdwara in Surrey in the western Canadian province of British Columbia on June 18.

worse for relations with India. "We are not looking to provoke or escalate. We are simply laying out the facts as we understand them, and we want to work with the government of India to lay everything clear."

Canadian Prime Minister Trudeau told the House of Commons on Monday that he waited until he was able to raise the issue with allies and with India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi on the sidelines of the G20 summit in New Delhi earlier this month before telling the public about the possible link.

According to a report by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC), Canada's other Five Eyes allies "showed little inclination Tuesday to wade into an escalating row between Ottawa and New Delhi over allegations."

India has dismissed Trudeau's allegation as "absurd and baseless."

Most opted to treat the allegation as a matter still to be investigated — in spite of the fact that the Trudeau government feels it has enough information to make an accusation in Parliament and expel a diplomat, it noted.

"We wanted to make sure that we had a solid grounding in understanding what was going on in analysis and indeed in facts. We wanted to make sure we were taking the time to talk with our allies, to share what we knew," the Canadian Press news agency quoted Trudeau on Tuesday.

The United States, United Kingdom and Australia have all issued statements calling for the allegations to be thoroughly probed. Terming the US National Security Council (NSC) spokesperson Adm John Kirby as "perhaps the most supportive of Canada," the CBC report said that Kirby "urged India to participate and cooperate in that investigation" as "it is important to find out exactly what happened."

Canada is part of a 'Five Eyes' network which is an intelligence alliance consisting of the United States, United Kingdom, Australia, Canada and New Zealand.

Kirby, who is also the NSC coordinator for Strategic Communications, said in an interview with CNN: "I'm going to protect diplomatic conversations and I'll leave it at that. Certainly, the President (Trudeau) is mindful of these serious allegations, and they are very serious. And we support Canada's efforts to investigate this."

Trudeau has also said he does not want to make things do so." Another of the allies, UK made no official announcement but its Foreign Secretary James Cleverly put out a tweet on platform X without any mention of India, the CBC report said.

"All countries should respect sovereignty and the rule of law. We are in regular contact with our Canadian partners about serious allegations raised in the Canadian Parliament. Important that Canada's investigation runs its course and the perpetrators brought to justice," read Cleverly's tweet.

On September 18, Trudeau alleged in the Parliament that Canada's national security apparatus has reason to believe that "agents of the Indian government" had carried out the killing of a Canadian citizen on Canadian soil.

Meanwhile, within Canada, Liberal Party members also say they hope to maintain normal ties with a country Ottawa has selected as a key partner in the Indo-Pacific, The Canadian Press reported.

Conservative Party leader Pierre Poilievre said Trudeau must share more information about what led him to make the statement in Parliament. He said the prime minister did not share more details with him than what he had said in the House of Commons.

"We need to see more facts. The prime minister hasn't provided any facts," he told reporters on Tuesday. New Democratic Party leader Jagmeet Singh has written to the newly appointed head of the public inquiry on foreign interference, asking Justice Marie-Josée Hogue to include India in her probe. The Liberals have suggested her terms are wide enough to include any country as well as the Nijjar case.

"In my experience, as a Sikh-Canadian, there have always been suspicions that India was interfering in the democratic rights of Canadians," Singh wrote in the letter.

Canada PM's remark on Nijjar 'concerning', say British Sikh MPs

PTI ■ LONDON

British Sikh members of Parliament Preet Kaur Gill and Tanmanjeet Singh Dhesi have reacted to "concerning" reports emanating from Canada, after Prime Minister Justin Trudeau alleged Indian involvement in the murder of a Sikh separatist leader in the country.

The Opposition Labour MPs, who represent heavily Sikh constituencies in England, took to social media on Tuesday to claim they had been contacted by their constituents about allegations by Trudeau in the killing of Hardeep Singh Nijjar, 45, the chief of the banned Khalistan Tiger Force.

They said they are raising their concerns directly with the government ministers. "PM Trudeau's statement on Hardeep Singh Nijjar's murder is deeply concerning," tweeted Gill, who is the MP for Birmingham Edgbaston in the West Midlands region of England.

"It is important that Canada's investigation runs its course, and those responsible see justice. I want to reassure my constituents that I and my colleagues are raising our concerns with ministers," she said. Dhesi, MP for Slough in south-east England, also tweeted to claim many British Sikhs have been in contact with him over the issue.

"Concerning reports coming from Canada. Many Sikhs from Slough and beyond have contacted me; anxious, angry or fearful. Given that Canadian PM Trudeau stated they've been working with

Post the outlandish claims by Trudeau, Canada expelled one Indian diplomat over the issue leading to a reciprocal action by India with New Delhi also expelling a senior Canadian diplomat posted in their mission here.

Shah dispels fears of delay in women's quota implementation

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

He said the passage of the women's reservation bill will mark the start of a new era, and recalled that Prime Minister Narendra Modi had presented the vision of women-led development at the recent G20 Summit.

The Modi government has been pushing for empowerment of women since the day it assumed office, he said.

Women's security, respect and equal participation have been life force of the government, he said.

Shah said this was the fifth attempt to push a bill for women's reservation.

"Why did it fail to clear hurdles earlier? First it was brought by H D Deve Gowda government in 1996. It lapsed. Second time, it was brought by the government under Atal Bihari Vajpayee. In 2008, a bill was brought by UPA. It also lapsed after the dissolution of the then Lok Sabha.

"Women have been disappointed by this Parliament on four occasions. This time I request that it be passed with unanimity. Shortcomings, if any, can be set right at a later date," the home minister said.

The constitutional amendment bill, which provides for 33 per cent reservation for women in the Lok Sabha and state Assemblies, was passed in the Lok Sabha on Thursday.

Brushing aside apprehensions of a delay in the bill's implementation, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday asserted that the next government will conduct the census and the delimitation exercise immediately after the elections and set in motion the process to make reservation for women in Lok Sabha and State Assemblies a reality.

Shah appealed to the opposition for the unanimous passage of the women's reservation bill and said shortcomings, if any, can be rectified at a later date.

Intervening in the debate on the Constitution (128th Amendment) Bill, the home minister indicated that women's reservation will become a reality after 2029.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Drifting apart

India and Canada have enjoyed warm ties but now they seem to be at loggerheads

In international diplomacy, misgivings, misunderstandings, upmanship and disputes are the most common pitfalls. Therefore, it is essential to sift through the perceived facts and allegations to arrive at a balanced understanding and perspective. The recent standoff between India and Canada following the killing of Khalistan sympathiser Hardeep Singh Nijjar has raised concerns. While Canada has voiced its opinion about India's alleged and implicit role in the incident, India has brushed aside the allegation. It is, therefore, crucial to examine the situation from all angles before reaching any conclusion. Hardeep Singh Nijjar, a vociferous pro-Khalistan supporter, was gunned down on June 18 outside a Sikh cultural centre in Surrey, British Columbia, Canada. As he was indeed on India's most wanted list, Canada alleges that Nijjar was targeted and eliminated by Indian security forces. As it goes about demanding an explanation from the Indian Government, India has officially denied any involvement in the killing. For its part, and as history can vouch, India has been the target of numerous terrorist attacks over the years, resulting in the loss of countless innocent lives. Given this context, India has consistently demonstrated its commitment to combating terrorism both within its borders and beyond by legal means. Besides, India has never had a policy of eliminating such wayward elements by sending assassination squads for the person in its crosshairs. It has always firmly and openly believed in following the legitimate judicial process and, in numerous cases, sought extradition of such characters. India has consistently called for united efforts to combat global terrorism and has been a significant contributor to international counterterrorism initiatives. In the case of the alleged murder of Nijjar, India has emphasised the importance of credible intelligence sharing.

Accusations alone are not sufficient ground to indict a country for any perceived wrongdoing. In any legal or diplomatic context, the burden of proof lies with the accuser. Canada's allegations regarding India's involvement in Nijjar's killing must be substantiated with concrete evidence before any punitive measures can be sought or taken. Otherwise, it is a clear case of jumping the gun. It is also worth noting that India has expressed its willingness to cooperate fully with Canada in any investigation into the incident. This willingness to engage in a transparent and open process speaks volumes about India's commitment to resolving this issue through diplomatic means. Both India and Canada have shown their intent to engage in diplomatic dialogue to address the concerns surrounding the Canadian national's killing. Unfortunately, the expulsion of a senior Indian diplomat by Canada, a kneejerk move reciprocated swiftly by India, has only made things worse between the countries. As the diplomatic process unfolds, it is essential for all parties involved to maintain open lines of communication, adhere to international norms and agreements, and prioritise the fight against terrorism.

A paradigm shift in the automobile sector

The New Car Assessment Programme (NCAP) policy will give a boost to the secondary car market, especially in the luxury car segment

The recent introduction of Bharat NCAP has been welcomed by the automobile industry. The industry players are awaiting its implementation starting from October 1. The overall sector is quite optimistic that the program has the potential to place the Indian automobile industry on a higher pedestal with the ability to compete in the global market.

The policy aimed at elevating and strengthening road safety standards. After taking into account the existing Indian driving conditions and regulations, the Bharat NCAP provides a rating to the vehicle in a range of one to five stars. Evaluating the vehicles on the parameters of adult occupant protection, child occupant protection, and safety technologies in a car, not only promotes safer cars in the country but also empowers customers to make an informed decision while purchasing a car. The pre-owned luxury car industry is quite hopeful of leveraging the assessment program to the fullest. Considering that the NCAP focuses on the safety of the car, pre-owned luxury cars are well-equipped with advanced safety technologies. Coming with innovative features like intelligent alerts, parking assistance, driver assistance features, and many more, luxury cars are adept at providing that extra protection to the occupants of the car. Moreover, luxury cars come with some standard features such as more than six airbags, electronic stability control, improved emergency braking systems, etc. that further add to the resilience of the vehicle. Where the pre-owned luxury cars are themselves furnished with innovative safety features, the introduction of NCAP is only expected to augur the proposition of the cars in the market. Even though the pre-owned luxury car industry has come a long way, a lot of scepticism still lingers among the masses. They are highly doubtful about the condition and safety of the cars. However, with the pre-owned luxury cars conforming to the ratings of the new assessment program, it can instil faith among the customers.

While the organized players in the segment have been playing an instrumental role in giving a comprehensive structure to the sector, Bharat NCAP can help amplify the penetration of pre-owned luxury cars deeper into the market. If the LocalCircles survey is to be believed then 72% of buyers have shown keen interest in considering Bharat NCAP as the deciding factor for making purchasing choices. In addition to this, the online players in the pre-owned luxury car industry relentlessly work towards fostering a transparent buying and selling ecosystem for the customers. They ensure the pre-owned cars undergo thorough safety checks to render authentic and quality vehicles in the inventory. Therefore, looking at the benefits the new assessment program has to offer, the initiative is being highly appreciated by the industry players. They are optimistic about harnessing its benefits to inculcate loyalty among the customers. Focusing on boosting the safety of the passengers and the cars, it is very likely that the NCAP can complement the pre-owned luxury car industry.

The art of leading from the front

The sacred culture of 'leading from the front' by army officers has survived despite challenges and other institutional concerns

BHOPINDER SINGH

Three recent losses of precious lives i.e., Colonel Manpreet Singh, Major Aashish Donchak, and DSP

Humayun Bhatt, seem to be a timely reminder of the civilisational and constitutional values in some of us, that guarantee our freedom. Distracted, as the nation was in peddling phoney controversies, fake outrage, meaningless rhetoric, or sheer bombast – these men simply gave their all for the nation. They did not unleash hate or anger amongst us internally, instead, they chose to 'lead from the front' by letting their work (and lives) do the talking, not words. To reiterate, they didn't incite or order from the comfort and safety of distance, but put themselves in harm's way, fully knowing the possible consequences, as only true leaders do.

The saga of the Indian Armed Forces is not necessarily etched by the better-known Generals, Admirals or Air Marshals, in as much, if not more, by the unmatched steel, fire, and ramrod-straight posture of its junior-middle leadership (from Junior Commissioned Officers to Unit Commanding Officers and their equivalents), who hold the fort, literally. Beyond the hagiographies of victory, the Kargil War is a grim reminder of doing the impossible with the hearts, legs, arms, and sharp minds of the junior-middle leadership, and not so much on account of any strategic brilliance by senior leadership, be it Military or Political. Many international Military historians marvel at the surreal conditions of impossibilities (in terms of topography, weather conditions, battlelines et al) that were neither matched, before or after, in modern battle accounts. Yet, the Indian Armed Forces had triumphed, against all odds and disproven all militaristic ratios and assumptions.

However, there was one vital and unique element that differentiated the Indian Armed Forces from all other global Militaries, which made Kargil possible, despite its counterintuitive draw of unfavourable militaristic ratios and assumptions i.e., cliched as it sounds, 'leading from the front'! Put simply, the Officer-to-Soldier fatality/wounded ratio of the Indian Army is by far the highest as compared to any other professional Military in the world. In the thick of battle, the reality of leadership matters more than anything else, ever does. Kargil, India is believed to have lost 26 Officers out of a total casualty of 527. Considering that there are approximately 18-20 officers per Infantry battalion of about 800 odd soldiers, the value of 'leading from the front', can never be overstated.

Even in the unforgiving conditions of Galwan Valley, the heroics of Col BS Babu (Commanding Officer, 16 Bihar Regiment) who was killed in action is a testimony. There is never a similar reportage of a leadership-level officer getting killed in action, amongst Militaries of neighbouring China or Pakistan (occasionally in ambush or IED blast, but never in combat). This culture of 'leading from the front' is borne out of an inexplicable admixture of regimentation, normalised expectation and esprit-de-corps that has withstood the test of time, civilian morass, regression, and polarisations.

Some lazily attribute 'leading from the front' to overambition, misplaced bravado or momentary lapse of better sense – it may be some shades of all of the above, and the likes of Kargil were only possible thanks to that unique josh that is still fires and cranks up performance. Never forget, those who dare, do so knowing that they are in the line of fire (when they needn't be) but still choose to do so.

The irrepressible and probably the boldest Military General of the Indian Army 'led from the front' and never lost a battle in his life i.e., Lt Gen Sagat Singh. Legend of him liberating Goa, inflicting a bloody nose on the Chinese at Nathu La and Cho La (by 1967 itself), or dashing to Dhaka to liberate Bangladesh by repeatedly overflying enemy territory in a helicopter (which took bullets) to control battle, is a fact not fiction. You may never hear of such leadership conduct in Ukraine, the Middle East, or any other conflict zone, anywhere in the world.

Before Colonel Manpreet, Major Dhonchak and DSP Humayun had answered their calling in life, it was a well-beaten path that had been carved by the likes of Colonel Ashutosh Sharma, Colonel MR Rai, Colonel Santosh Mahadik etc., all Commanding Officers of the various Rashtriya Rifles battalions, like the 19th Rashtriya Rifles, Commanded by the gallant Colonel Manpreet Singh. As 'Commanding Officers' they could have avoided literal 'leading from the front', but still did so – while they and their families paid an irreplaceable price for the same, the Indian Army and the nation at large, remain eternally grateful for their ultimate sacrifices.

This sacred culture of 'leading from the front' by officers, especially by the junior-middle leadership has survived so many other institutional concerns that undeniably stare. The Officer-to-Soldier ratio was 1:18 in the 1965 War, 1:20 in the 1971 War and still, 1:17 in Kargil 1999. While die-hard Infantry folks like to flex 'When it was a victory, the cavalier claimed it outright, the Gunner boasted of his guns, Signalmans publicised his worth, but the Infantryman remained silent with victory at his feet. Beyond the lighthearted intra-services banter, the Indian Armed Forces have thankfully retained traditions, regimentation and culture at the junior-middle level of the forces, and perhaps owing only to the same, it still bashes on regardless.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TRUST DEFICIT

Sir — Regrettably, it has come to our attention that after approximately four months, an Indian Army Jawan was tragically abducted and killed while on leave in Manipur. Furthermore, in another distressing incident, a mob attempted to storm the Porompat police station in Imphal East on a fateful Saturday night, with the aim of releasing suspects. These incidents serve as glaring examples of the escalating divide between various communities in Manipur, a divide that seems to widen with each passing day. The ramifications of this growing mistrust and division are not confined to Manipur alone; they cast a shadow over the entire nation, particularly in the North-East.

It is imperative to recognize that the armed forces' effectiveness is significantly impacted by the presence of an efficient and cooperative civil and political administration. The disconcerting silence from both the state and Union government has not only unsettled the people but also demoralized the Manipur civil society. Urgent intervention by the Union government is paramount to quell this violence and facilitate a peaceful resolution to the situation in Manipur. Together, we can work towards a more harmonious future for all.

STANDOFF WITH CANADA

Sir — Amidst the deteriorating diplomatic relations between India and Canada, New Delhi has taken the decision to expel a senior Canadian diplomat currently stationed in India. The diplomat has been given a five-day notice to depart from India, as conveyed through a summons received by the High Commissioner of Canada to India, Cameron Mackay, on Tuesday, 19 September. The decision to expel the diplomat reflects the growing concerns of the Government of India regarding Canadian diplomats' interference in

Women reservation bill

Congratulations on the forthcoming implementation of the Women's Reservation Bill, set to take effect after the next delimitation exercise in 2026. We hope that the execution of this bill will be well-organized and systematic, ensuring that it provides opportunities for women from all walks of life, including the most economically disadvantaged.

The essence of women's rights lies in the idea that no one, regardless of gender, age, or profession, should dominate or harm others. It is crucial that this bill does not inadvertently create divisions or conflicts among women, as unity is vital for its success. The bill, known as the 'Nari Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam' (NSVA), proposes a commendable 33% reservation for women in both the Lok Sabha and state legislative assemblies. Let us celebrate this milestone and work together for its effective implementation.

internal matters and their involvement in anti-India activities.

These developments unfolded in the wake of Canada Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's emergency statement in Parliament on Monday, 18 October. Trudeau accused the Indian government of involvement in the fatal shooting of Khalistani terrorist Hardeep Singh Nijjar and stated that Canadian security agencies were actively investigating credible allegations of a potential link between Indian government agents and the murder.

India vehemently rejects these allegations, terming them "absurd and motivated." The external affairs ministry issued a statement denying any involvement in acts of violence in Canada. The possibility of India severing ties with Canada looms large, which could have serious implications, particularly for Indian citizens residing in Canada, who may fear being targeted by the Khalistani group supported by the Canadian government.

FUNCTIONING OF PARLIAMENT

Sir — Following the successful G-20 Summit, India International Convention

and Expo Center 'Yashobhoomi' has been officially dedicated to the nation. In addition to this milestone, several noteworthy announcements are anticipated during the special session of the House scheduled from 18 to 22 September. It is now crucial to enhance the productivity of our parliamentary sessions.

Both the ruling party and the opposition bear a significant responsibility towards our nation. It is imperative that they recognize the need to move beyond futile debates on 'dharma-adharma' or other extraneous matters and focus on addressing pressing issues. Such issues encompass inflation, unemployment, healthcare, law and order, poverty alleviation, and the economic landscape.

The future of our nation hinges on constructive and substantive debates. As we traverse the Amrit Kaal, the Parliament's working style must adapt to meet the demands of the times. A more informed and engaged Parliament will instill confidence in our government and pave the way for a brighter future.

WHAT IS 'SUKHA' AND HOW TO ATTAIN IT?

Seek 'sukha,' the real one, while enjoying 'sukha' of the mundane type

AJIT KUMAR BISHNOI

The word sukha has been used extensively in the Bhagavad-Geeta but in different contexts. This word essentially means: what pleases. The English words for sukha are happiness and pleasure. Lord Krishna has spoken about sukha to describe what pleases in three different ways. The first one is what is according to dharma and its only source is God. Let us call this sukha for this article. The second one is: what is according to dharma but brings good and bad results depending upon how it was obtained. This has been called 'vihara' in the Geeta. There is just one verse where this word has been used. The third kind is against dharma and brings only misery as a result. The word for this sukha is 'kama'. I will use this word for this article. There are many verses in the Geeta in this connection.

Beginning with the real sukha, I will refer to some of the verses in their order as described in the Geeta. The first one is: "In a state of having real spiritual intelligence, one transcends the feeling of material suffering." (2.65) A classical example is that of Shri Ramakrishna Paramhansa, who carried on his spiritual activities even with throat cancer. Personally speaking, I have accepted some pains, which are inevitable due to my advanced age. They don't bother me much and I go on with my life. The next verse clarifies where only real sukha can be obtained: "One must be linked with God, and one must have faith in God." Then, one will be peaceful, which is essential to be sushi." (2.66) It is quite logical, isn't it? Peace can only come from God because we, grown-ups, can feel secure only if we have taken shelter from God. How does a small child go to sleep peacefully in the lap of his mother?

The third verse is about control over kama and anger. "Unless that is accomplished, where is any scope for sukha?" This is only possible to accomplish if we are enjoying the shelter of God. (5.23) We can either be in control of kama or of God. For example, if I am indulging in sexual thoughts, I have effectively taken their shelter. The fourth verse chosen is very encouraging. It states, "God accompanies the conqueror of self, who is blissfully peaceful." (6.7) This means that such a person has fully surrendered to God, and God obliges by being with him or her. The fifth verse chosen tells us about unlimited bliss experienced through intelligence. (6.21) An advanced devotee realizes that God is responding to him; He is even using him as His 'nimitta' (instrument) to get important acts done. His sukha knows no bounds.

Now the second level of sukha is called vihar in the Geeta. Lord Krishna states, "One whose eating and recreation (vihara) are appropriate; one who strives appropriately in activities; one who sleeps and stays awake, as required suffers less." Because: "Contact between senses and their objects are givers of cold, heat, pleasure (sukha) and misery (duhkha). They, being temporary, come and go; tolerate them." (2.14) If one acts in goodness, it will be like poison in the beginning but in result will be like nectar, which is the result of spiritual knowledge. (18.37)

Now to the last type of sukha, which has been described as kama. Lord Krishna has given sufficient warnings about indulging in this kind of sukha. In verse # 16.21, the Lord warns sternly, "Kama is a door to hell; causes ruination of soul; should be given up." How? "Kill this difficult to conquer enemy in the form of kama." (3.43). So what is sensible to do? Seek sukha, the real one by linking with God earnestly. Meanwhile, sukha of the vihar type can also be enjoyed. But one must remember that it must be yukta (proper) at all times, otherwise, misery will be invited. A classic example is that of cricket fans. Not only do they spend a lot of money and time watching matches in person but suffer great disappointment when their team loses.

Skills gap hinders future employability

DINESH SOOD

It is crucial to bridge the skills gap by providing training in emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence and machine learning

The rapidly changing nature of jobs and skills requirements across the world is creating a skills gap that hinders employment opportunities. Business leaders need to quickly identify this gap and prepare their workforce for the future by providing clear direction to employees on how to build the skills they need to succeed. In the Asia-Pacific region, approximately 86 million workers need to acquire advanced digital skills through upskilling or reskilling to keep up with the fast pace of technological changes.

The UNDP's Human Development Index ranks India at 132 out of 191 countries. This is a critical concern, as companies face a shortage of skilled workers while millions of educated individuals remain unemployed. To address this problem, India has been working to transform into a skill-based economy over the past decade. The Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship and the National Skill Development Corporation have been established to bring skill development to the forefront. The Skill India Mission, which began in July 2015, aims to address the shortage of skilled workers in the country. However, there is still a huge mismatch between the number of candidates trained, certified, and finally placed, with the International Labour Organization predicting a shortage of around 29 million skilled personnel in India by 2030.

Employees across various industries are facing pressure to upskill and reskill, but many find it challenging to take time out for learning due to long work hours. A lack of support systems that prioritize worker well-being can hinder motivation for upskilling and reskilling. Organizations can create new financial incentives through skills-based compensation to encourage employees to self-learn new skills.

A skilled workforce is critical for higher growth, but only 45% of trained

INDIA CURRENTLY LACKS AN EFFECTIVE VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING SYSTEM THAT IS BOTH ASPIRATIONAL AND ACCESSIBLE TO ALL YOUNG PEOPLE

The writer is a Co-Founder and MD of Orane International, a Training Partner with the National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC), and a Network Member of India International Skill Centres, (an initiative of GoI) individuals in India are employable, with only 4.69% of the workforce having vocational training. This indicates a significant skill gap in the country, which can be attributed to a lack of training infrastructure and limited private-sector participation. The lack of a monitoring body for these training institutes is also a contributing factor.

India's demographic advantage will become a challenge if the young population is not skillfully upskilled, reskilled, and skilled. By 2025, an estimated 70% of India's population will be of working age, and without proper employment opportunities, unemployment will remain a significant challenge. The National Education Policy (2020) needs to make sincere efforts in skill development from the school level. There is a need to create a sound National Vocational Education and Training System that provides every child with an option to go for vocational education and training after 10 years of schooling. Most developed countries have a well-defined national vocational education and training system that facilitates job readiness among youth and encourages skill-empowered entrepreneurship.

Inadequacies in skills are directly linked to the kind of education that is being imparted right from the school level and the ecosystem we put in place to equip every job seeker with market-driven skills. If someone wishes to be a carpenter, plumber or electrician, he or she needs to have undergone at least a globally certified course for which we need to have a skill training centre in every high school where job seekers should be trained in the fields of their interest during non-school hours. Similarly, education providers must support students with knowledge and skills relevant to the world of work to make them productive and able to be employed. All skill courses at school levels must be synchronised with employment for a wholesome integration between skill providers and industries will be of paramount importance.

Today, education is not confined to what is taught in schools and colleges, but the scope of learning has become wider, owing to the evolving market and technological advancement. To secure a career in the competitive and evolving job market, upskilling and remaining industry-relevant are crucial for youths. Acquiring market-driven skills will offer great placement opportunities to the youths and help them build promising careers.

India currently lacks an effective vocational education and training system that is both aspirational and accessible to all young people. To address this issue and achieve the national goal of making India the skills capital of the world, the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship should establish a National Skills University (NSU), as proposed in the National Skills Universities Bill 2015. This university would offer industry-relevant curricula and skill-based certificates, diplomas, and degree programs to enhance employability.

In addition to the NSU, state governments can establish Multi-Skills Development Centres (MSDC) in Public Private Partnership (PPP) mode. These centres can identify skill gaps in major industrial clusters and provide cluster-specific Skill Development Centres to upgrade the skills of existing workers. Advanced Skill Development Centres can also be set up to provide the latest know-how and courses to meet the high-end skill requirements of the industry. The World Bank has approved the $250 million Skill India Mission Operation (SIMO) to improve the marketability of short-term skill development courses of 3-12 months.

To keep pace with the rapidly evolving technological landscape, it is essential to conduct global skill gap mapping and shift recruitment from "degree-based" to "skill-based". According to a report by The World Economic Forum, 150 million new technology jobs will be created globally over the next five years, with 77% of all jobs requiring digital skills by 2030. Currently, only 33% of technology jobs worldwide are being filled by skilled workers, which could hinder technological advancements on a global scale.

Therefore, it is crucial to bridge the skills gap by providing training in emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning (ML), blockchain, robotics, IoT, 3D printing, drones, and data analytics. A skilled workforce capable of understanding, implementing, and driving innovation is essential to the success of these technologies and the industries that rely on them. By focusing on vocational education and the latest skills training, India can create a workforce equipped to meet future demands.

Challenges to attain net zero emissions

A multipronged mitigation strategy is necessary but many techniques such as carbon dioxide removal must be approached with caution

The era of global warming has ended; the era of global boiling has arrived," the UN chief recently remarked. The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) highlighted in its recent report that projections based upon stated policy commitments fall short of containing the global warming levels at 1.5°C or even 2°C. So, when emissions mitigation is not happening at the pace desired and extreme climate events indicate an earlier-than-expected tipping point, carbon capture may offer a pathway to the solution.

ISHOO RATAN SRIVASTAVA

(The writer is Deputy Chief Mechanical Engineer, North Western Railway and UK Commonwealth Scholar; views are personal)

technology readiness levels and challenges related to lifestyle adaptations make the net zero road, a difficult terrain to tread on. Food, energy, transport and materials like cement & steel contribute significantly to emissions but are such fundamental necessities that they cannot be wished away overnight from our lives. Take the case of food, the global population has increased nearly eightfold since the early 19th century. Quite obviously, it is the fertiliser-intensive farming without which it is estimated that half of the world's population cannot be fed. These fertilisers are synthesised using fossil fuels which contribute to emissions.

Regarding electricity, renewable sources come with intrinsic uncertainties and only reliable storage solutions can fully replace fossil fuels. This necessitates mining significant amounts of lithium which has its commercialised mining predominantly concentrated in the South American lithium triangle and notably it has a high water footprint. Additionally, mining cobalt, a key element in Li-ion batteries, is associated with ethical issues concerning child labour. Pumped hydro, an alternative to battery storage, also has environmental concerns.

The Concept of Carbon Dioxide Removal

Carbon dioxide removal involves capturing CO₂ at various sources of generation or directly from the atmosphere and securely storing it to prevent escape. Natural systems such as forests, rocks, and oceans act as carbon sinks, absorbing and sequestering carbon. However, a warmer climate diminishes the capacity of these systems to absorb CO₂. To augment the capacities of these natural systems, conservation efforts and engineered techniques for enhanced absorption are necessary.

These include afforestation, increased rock weathering which enables rocks to absorb more CO₂, and enhanced ocean fertilisation which is a geoengineering technique that may result in higher organic growth in ocean systems thus implying higher carbon absorption and bioenergy with carbon capture and storage (BECCS), which introduces circularity in the emissions balance sheet. Technology-based solutions involve capturing CO₂ emissions during production processes or electricity generation using fossil fuels predominantly using chemicals called amines which can absorb and release CO₂ upon temperature regulation. The captured CO₂ is stored in deep geological formations, preventing its release. The pumping of CO₂ in the oil reservoirs for enhanced oil recovery is an established practice in the oil and gas industry. Another technology namely Direct Air Capture, involving CO₂ capture from air surrounding us instead of a concentrated point source is also gaining traction however it has cost concerns.

The Pros and Cons

The fact that certain techniques are already practised in the industry, builds a certain amount of confidence towards the feasibility of the proposition. However, there is scepticism over its large-scale adoption, particularly in terms of potential interference with oceans and other natural systems. Additionally, increased afforestation and adoption of BECCS may have adverse impacts on our food supplies as well. The possibilities of CO₂ leakage from geological formations too cannot be ignored. Also, it is argued that excessive reliance on carbon removal pathways may lead to complacency in emissions mitigation and adaptation efforts.

The world needs to act swiftly on climate change and undoubtedly, a multipronged mitigation strategy is necessary. However, considering the uncertainties associated with carbon removal, its deployment should be approached with caution and a gradual scaling up as we learn more about it.

US not seeking conflict with China: Biden

Will push back on intimidation

PTI ■ UNITED NATIONS/ NEW YORK

President Joe Biden has told world leaders that the US is not seeking conflict with China but it will "push back on aggression and intimidation" as his administration seeks to "responsibly manage" its tense relationship with Beijing.

Addressing the UN General Assembly on Tuesday, Biden said his administration is also ready to work together with China on issues where progress hinges on "our common efforts."

"When it comes to China, I want to be clear and consistent: We seek to responsibly manage the competition between our countries so it does not tip into conflict," Biden said in his address to the Heads of State and Government at the 193-member UN General Assembly on the opening day of the General Debate.

Tensions between Washington and Beijing escalated earlier this year following an incident involving a spy balloon over American airspace, China's support for Russia's conflict in Ukraine, trade disputes and human rights.

"I've said, 'We are for de-risking, not decoupling with China,'" Biden said.

"We will push back on aggression and intimidation and defend the rules of the road, from freedom of navigation to overflight to a level economic playing field that has helped safeguard security and prosperity for decades," Biden said as his administration sought to counter China's growing influence in the Indo-Pacific region and its military might.

Biden's comments come as his administration has increased outreach to China, even as Biden and Chinese President Xi Jinping have gone nearly a year without having a face-to-face meeting. However, the Biden administration has taken the lead in having regular channels of communication with Beijing to avoid conflict.

White House national security adviser Jake Sullivan recently met with China's foreign minister Wang Yi. Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen and Commerce Secretary Gina Raimondo have both made recent trips to China for meetings with government and business officials.

Meanwhile, Chinese Vice President Han Zheng met on the sidelines of the General Assembly on Monday with US Secretary of State Antony Blinken in New York on the sidelines of the UN General Assembly session.

"I had a candid and constructive meeting with People's Republic of China Vice President Han Zheng about responsibly managing our bilateral relationship and addressing global and regional issues," Blinken posted on X.

US Special Presidential Envoy for Climate John Kerry also met Vice President Zheng on the margins of the 78th UN General Assembly in New York City on Tuesday.

The two sides discussed the critical importance of bilateral and multilateral efforts to address the climate crisis, including promoting a successful COP 28. Secretary Kerry reiterated the urgency of limiting global warming to 1.5 degrees Celsius, which will require ambitious action by the United States and China. He also emphasised the need for China to raise ambition in efforts to, among other things, accelerate decarbonisation and reduce emissions of super pollutants like methane, the State Department said in a press release.

BIDEN AND LULA ARE MEETING IN NY

President Joe Biden will meet his Brazilian counterpart Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva on Wednesday in New York as the leaders of the Western Hemisphere's largest democracies seek areas of common ground despite some recent differences on Russia's war in Ukraine and other matters. The two are expected to discuss labour and the environment. And senior US administration officials who previewed the meeting said the two nations are rolling out a partnership on workers' rights.

Initial hopes that Lula would prove a staunch ally for Biden have been tempered in recent months, with the Brazilian leader voicing opposition on some issues and at times even seeming to thumb his nose at Washington.

That has included dismissing allegations of Venezuela's authoritarianism, calling for decreased dependence on the dollar for global trade and accusing the US of fuelling bloodshed in Ukraine by providing military aid.

In his speech at the UN General Assembly on Tuesday, Lula criticised the US embargo and sanctions targeting Cuba.

"What Lula expects is not to be lectured by the US and the White House, but treated as a partner who they will sometimes disagree with, but who they do respect," said Thomas Traumann, a Brazilian political analyst. "Not an enemy, not an opponent, someone who is on your side, but not always on your side."

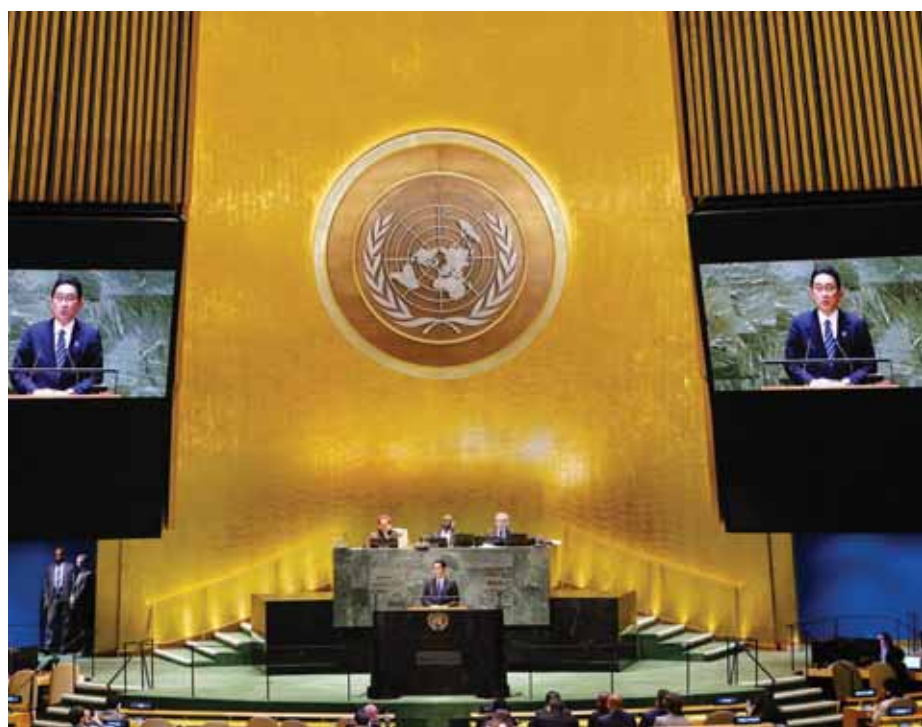

Biden had frosty relations with Lula's predecessor. Far-right former President Jair Bolsonaro, an open admirer of Donald Trump, waited weeks before recognising Biden's 2020 election victory.

Over a year passed before a bilateral meeting took place in the context of US concerns that Bolsonaro, who had been casting doubt on Brazil's election system, could reject its results.

After Bolsonaro's defeat, his supporters stormed the capital in an attempt to oust Lula from power. The circumstances bore a clear resemblance to Trump and the January 6 Capitol riot.

Lula quickly travelled to Washington, where he and Biden bonded over the challenges to democracy they had both overcome.

Despite the shared experience and apparent bonhomie, the trip disgruntled Brazilian officials, who viewed the White House's reception of the newly sworn-in president as historically underwhelming, said Traumann, who worked in the prior administration of Dilma Rousseff, Lula's protegee. The meeting on Wednesday will be their second. Their planned labour partnership will be a vehicle for stopping the exploitation of workers, forced labour and child labour as well as workplace discrimination, according to the US officials. They spoke on condition of anonymity to preview the announcement.

Iran's prez urges US to demonstrate it wants to return to 2015 N-deal

AP ■ UNITED NATIONS

Iran's President Ebrahim Raisi said Tuesday that his country will never give up its right "to have peaceful nuclear energy" and urged the United States "to demonstrate in a verifiable fashion" that it wants to return to the 2015 nuclear deal.

Addressing the annual high-level meeting of the UN General Assembly, Raisi said the American withdrawal from the deal trampled on US commitments and was "an inappropriate response" to Iran's fulfilment of its commitments.

Then-President Donald Trump unilaterally pulled the US out of the accord in 2018, restoring crippling sanctions. Iran began breaking the terms a year later and formal talks in Vienna to try to restart the deal collapsed in August 2022. Iran has long denied ever seeking nuclear weapons and continues to insist that its programme is entirely for peaceful purposes - points Raisi reiterated

Tuesday telling the high-level meeting that "nuclear weapons have no place in the defensive doctrine and the military doctrine" of the country.

But UN nuclear chief Rafael Grossi said in an interview Monday with The Associated Press that the Iranian government's removal of many cameras and electronic monitoring systems installed by the International Atomic Energy Agency make it impossible to give assurances about the country's nuclear programme. Grossi has previously warned that Tehran has enough enriched uranium for "several" nuclear bombs if it chose to build them. The IAEA director general also said Monday he asked to meet Raisi to try to reverse Tehran's uncalled for ban on "a very sizeable chunk" of the agency's inspectors. Raisi made no mention of the IAEA inspectors but the European Union issued a statement late Tuesday saying its top diplomat, Josep Borrell, met Iran's Foreign Minister on Tuesday and raised the nuclear deal and the inspectors as well as Iran's arbitrary detention of many EU citizens including dual nationals. At his meeting with Foreign Minister Hossein Amirabdollahian, the EU said Borrell urged Iran to reconsider its decision to ban several experienced nuclear inspectors and to improve cooperation with the IAEA. Borrell again urged the Iranian government to stop its military cooperation with Russia, the EU statement said. Western nations have said Iran has supplied military drones to Russia for use in the war in Ukraine, which Tehran denies. Raisi spoke to the General Assembly a day after Iran and the US each freed five prisoners who were in jail for years.

The US also allowed the release of nearly USD 6 billion in Iranian frozen assets in South Korea for humanitarian use.

Prime Minister Rishi Sunak is preparing to water down some of Britain's environmental commitments on Wednesday, saying the country must fight climate change without penalising workers and consumers. The news drew wide criticism from political opponents, environmental groups and large chunks of UK industry, but was welcomed by sections of the governing Conservative Party.

Sunak issued a late-night statement on Tuesday in response to a BBC report saying the prime minister is considering extending deadlines for bans on new gasoline and diesel cars - currently set for 2030 - and on new natural-gas home heating, due in 2035.

Sunak said he would set out a "proportionate" approach to the environment. He summoned his Cabinet to an

Russia has turned even children into weapons: Zelensky

AP ■ UNITED NATIONS

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy has said that Russia is "weaponising" everything from food and energy to abducted children in its war against Ukraine - and he warned world leaders that the same could happen to them.

"When hatred is weaponised against one nation, it never stops there," he said at the UN General Assembly's annual top-level meeting on Tuesday. "The goal of the present war against Ukraine is to turn our land, our people, our lives, our resources into weapons against you - against the international rules-based order."

The war in Ukraine has deepened major global supply disruptions caused by the pandemic, driving a huge spike in food and energy prices, jolting the global economy and increasing hardship in many developing countries.

Decades-old energy supply channels to Europe from Russia, a major oil and gas producer, were halted or severely disrupted by the war due to sanctions, trade disputes, pipeline shutoffs and a major push by Western countries to find alternative sources. Both Russia and Ukraine also are major grain exporters, and Russia withdrew this past summer from a deal that allowed shipments of Ukrainian grain through the Black Sea.

Zelenskyy pointed to the food and fuel crunches, and he highlighted what Ukraine says were kidnappings of at least tens of thousands of children taken from Ukraine after Moscow's invasion. "What will happen to them?"

"Those children in Russia are taught to hate Ukraine, and all ties with their families are broken. And this is clearly a genocide," Zelenskyy said in remarks that ran 15 minutes - the meeting's often-disregarded time limit. The International Criminal Court issued an arrest warrant in March for Russian President Vladimir Putin and another official, accusing them of abducting children from Ukraine. Russian officials have denied any forced transfers of children, saying some Ukrainian youngsters are in foster care.

Russia gets its chance to address the General Assembly on Saturday. Deputy UN Ambassador Dmitry Polyanski sat in Russia's seat during Zelenskyy's address.

"Did he speak," Polyanski asked with a wry smile when an Associated Press reporter asked about his reaction to the address. "I didn't notice he was speaking. I was on my phone."

Zelenskyy took to the world stage at a sensitive point in his country's campaign to maintain international support for its fight. Nearly 19 months after Moscow launched a full-scale invasion, Ukrainian forces are three months into a counteroffensive that has not gone as fast or as well as initially hoped.

Ukraine and its allies cast the country's cause as a battle for the rule of international law, for the sovereignty of every country with a powerful and potentially expansionist neighbour, and for the stability of global food and energy supplies.

"We must stand up to this naked aggression today and deter other would-be aggressors tomorrow," US President Joe Biden told the assembly Tuesday in his own speech.

Azerbaijan, Armenian forces reach cease-fire deal

AP ■ YEREVAN (ARMENIA)

Azerbaijan and Armenian forces reached a cease-fire agreement on Wednesday to end two days of fighting in the separatist Nagorno-Karabakh region that has been a flashpoint for decades, officials on both sides said. An hour after the truce was announced, Armenian Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan said that the intensity of the hostilities in the region "has decreased drastically". Azerbaijani authorities said they had halted the military operation launched a day earlier once separatist officials announced laying down arms. But it wasn't immediately clear if some fighting continued. On Tuesday, Azerbaijan unleashed heavy artillery fire on Armenian positions in Nagorno-Karabakh - a mountainous region that is part of Azerbaijan and came under the control of ethnic Armenian forces during a separatist war in the 1990s. Scores of people were reportedly killed and wounded in the latest fighting. The hostilities also exacerbated an already grim humanitarian situation for residents who have suffered food shortages for months. The escalation raised concerns that a full-scale war in the region could resume between Azerbaijan and Armenia, which have been locked in a struggle over the region since the collapse of the Soviet Union. The most recent heavy fighting occurred over six weeks in 2020, when Azerbaijan retook parts of the region and areas around it that were lost in the earlier separatist war. The conflict has long drawn in powerful regional players, including Russia and Turkey. While Turkey threw its weight behind Azerbaijan, Russia has taken on a mediating role and brokered the armistice that ended the 2020 fighting.

Its contingent of peacekeepers, in fact, are charged with monitoring that truce, and both sides said on Wednesday that they helped reach the current agreement. Talks between Azerbaijani officials and the region's ethnic Armenian authorities on its "re-integration" into Azerbaijan were scheduled to take place on Thursday.

The deal envisions the withdrawal of Armenian military units and equipment from Nagorno-Karabakh, as well as disarming the local defence forces, Azerbaijan's Defence Ministry said. Armenia's Pashinyan said his government didn't take part in discussing or negotiating the deal, but "has taken note" of the decision made by the region's separatist authorities.

Azerbaijan said it fired on Armenian positions on Tuesday as part of what it called an "anti-terrorist operation" and vowed to continue until "illegal Armenian military formations" surrendered. Azerbaijan has alleged that Armenia has smuggled weapons into the territory since the end of the separatist war.

Rishi Sunak signals plan to backtrack on climate goals

AP ■ LONDON

Prime Minister Rishi Sunak is preparing to water down some of Britain's environmental commitments on Wednesday, saying the country must fight climate change without penalising workers and consumers. The news drew wide criticism from political opponents, environmental groups and large chunks of UK industry, but was welcomed by sections of the governing Conservative Party.

Sunak issued a late-night statement on Tuesday in response to a BBC report saying the prime minister is considering extending deadlines for bans on new gasoline and diesel cars - currently set for 2030 - and on new natural-gas home heating, due in 2035.

Sunak said he would set out a "proportionate" approach to the environment. He summoned his Cabinet to an unscheduled conference call to discuss the plans ahead of a speech hastily rescheduled for Wednesday afternoon. It had been due later in the week.

"For too many years, politicians in governments of all stripes have not been honest about costs and trade-offs," Sunak said. "Instead, they have taken the easy way out, saying we can have it all." Sunak did not confirm details of his announcements. He said he would keep a promise to reduce the UK's emissions of climate-warming greenhouse gases to net zero by 2050, but "in a better, more proportionate way".

The government has previously boasted of Britain being a leader in cutting carbon emissions. UK greenhouse gas emissions have fallen by 46 per cent from 1990 levels, mainly because of the almost complete removal of coal from electricity generation.

The government had pledged to reduce emissions by 68 per cent of 1990 levels by 2030 and to reach net zero greenhouse gas emissions by 2050.

But with just seven years to go until the first goalpost, the government's climate advisers said last month that the pace of action is "worryingly slow".

Sunak's decision in July to approve new North Sea oil and gas drilling also spurred critics to question his commitment to climate goals.

Two Indians jailed in robocall scam

PTI ■ WASHINGTON

Two Indian nationals have been sentenced to 41 months in prison for their role in a conspiracy to commit wire fraud by accepting illegally obtained USD 1.2 million in wire transfers from victims across the United States, a US attorney said. Arushobike Mitra (29) and Garbita Mitra (25) had previously pleaded guilty before US District Judge Esther Salas to one count of conspiracy to commit wire fraud, Attorney Philip R. Sellinger announced on Tuesday. "These defendants and their conspirators preyed upon some of our most vulnerable citizens, using trickery and threats to coerce them into sending money," Sellinger said.

According to documents filed in this case and statements made in court as part of an international fraud scheme, criminal India-based call centres utilised automated robocalls to contact victims across the country with the intent of defrauding US residents, particularly the elderly. After establishing contact with victims through these automated calls, other members of the conspiracy would coerce or trick the victims into sending large sums of cash through physical shipments or wire transfers to other members of the conspiracy, including the Mitras, a media release said.

These conspirators used a variety of schemes to convince victims to send money, including impersonating government officials from agencies such as the Social Security Administration, or impersonating law enforcement officers from the FBI or DEA, and threatened victims with severe legal or financial consequences if they did not comply, federal prosecutors alleged.

Another method utilised by the callers involved convincing the victim they were speaking with someone from a tech support company and coercing the victim into granting the caller remote access to their personal computers. The caller would then access the victim's bank accounts and make it appear to the victim that the caller had inadvertently added money to the victim's bank account, when in fact the caller had simply transferred money from another one of the victim's own accounts.

France rolls out the red carpet for King Charles III's state visit

AP ■ PARIS

King Charles III of the United Kingdom starts a three-day state visit to France on Wednesday meant to highlight the friendship between the two nations with great pomp, after the trip was postponed in March amid widespread demonstrations against President Emmanuel Macron's pension changes. Charles and Queen Camilla were greeted by Prime Minister Elisabeth Borne at Paris-Orly airport. They were to attend a ceremony at the Arc de Triomphe in the presence of Macron and his wife, Brigitte.

The visit shows "the deep historical ties that unite our two countries. It is also an opportunity to showcase France's cultural, artistic and gastronomic excellence", the French presidency said. At the Arc de Triomphe, both national anthems will be played before a review of French troops and a wreath laying at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier to "mark the shared sacrifices of the past and an enduring legacy of cooperation", according to Buckingham Palace. The jet fighters of the Patrouille de France and Britain's Red Arrows, the acrobatic teams of the two air forces, will fly above the monument. The presidential and royal couples will then head by car to the presidential palace, parading on the Champs-Elysees avenue.

Macron and Charles will hold a bilateral meeting, because the visit also "symbolises the relationship of friendship and trust" since they "have in the past worked closely together to protect biodiversity and combat global warming", the French presidency stressed.

They will also have talks on Russia's war in Ukraine and the migration issue as Italy's southern island of Lampedusa was in recent days overwhelmed by people setting off from Tunisia.

While the UK royal family long ago ceded political power to elected leaders, members of the royal family remain Britain's preeminent ambassadors as presidents and prime ministers jockey to bask in the glamour and pageantry that follows them wherever they go. The visit comes amid a recent warming in the Franco-British relationship after years marked by Brexit talks and related disputes. At a bilateral summit in March, Macron and UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak agreed to strengthen military ties and step up efforts to prevent migrants from crossing the English Channel.

6 Palestinians killed in fight with Israel

AP ■ TEL AVIV

Israeli military operations in the occupied West Bank and unrest in the Gaza Strip have killed six Palestinians, Palestinian health officials said Wednesday, the latest spike in a wave of violence that has roiled the region for more than a year. At least three of those killed were claimed as militant fighters.

The death toll from the most recent flare-up stood at four late Tuesday. But on Wednesday the Palestinian Health Ministry raised it, saying an Israeli raid into the Jenin refugee camp in the northern West Bank killed four people and wounded some 30 others, while a raid in a separate refugee camp killed another Palestinian. A sixth Palestinian was killed by Israeli fire in unrest in the Gaza Strip, officials said. The deadly violence between Israel and the Palestinians over the last year and a half has surged to levels unseen in the West Bank in some two decades. Israel has stepped up its raids on Palestinian areas and Palestinian attacks against Israelis have been mounting. Tensions also appear to be spreading to Gaza.

The Israeli military said Wednesday that troops opened fire toward a Palestinian who was throwing explosives at them while they were on an overnight arrest raid in the refugee camp of Aqabat Jabr. The camp, near the Palestinian city of Jericho, has emerged as one of the focal points of Israel's raids. The Palestinian Health Ministry said Israeli forces killed 19-year-old Dhargham al-Akhras in the raid. The bloodshed in the Jenin camp hours earlier was the latest in that stronghold of Palestinian militants where the Israeli military often carries out deadly raids. In July, Israel launched its most intense operation in the West Bank in nearly two decades, leaving widespread destruction in the camp. The army said that forces carried out a rare strike Tuesday with a suicide drone during the operation and exchanged fire with gunmen in Jenin. While leaving the camp, the army said, an explosive detonated underneath an army truck as gunmen opened fire, damaging the vehicle. No soldiers were injured.

Three of those killed in Jenin were claimed as members of the Hamas militant group or the Palestinian Islamic Jihad and were identified as Mahmoud al-Sadi, 23, Mahmoud Ararawi, 24, and Ata Yasser Musa, 29. Videos posted on social media showed medics unloading the wounded at a hospital, while in other videos, explosions and gunfire could be heard echoing in the camp. As Israeli soldiers withdrew, a crowd of young men chanted: "Oh, you who ask, who are we? We are the Jenin Brigade."

After the Israeli military withdrew from the Jenin camp, dozens of gunmen and residents poured into the streets to protest against the Palestinian Authority and its failure to protect them, according to footage shared by residents. Israel says the raids are meant to dismantle militant networks and thwart future attacks. Some 190 Palestinians have been killed in the West Bank since the start of the year, according to a tally by The Associated Press. Israel says most of those killed have been militants, but youths protesting the incursions and others not involved in the confrontations have also been killed. At least 31 people have been killed in Palestinian attacks against Israelis since the beginning of 2023.

In the Gaza violence, health officials said the Israeli military killed a 25-year-old Palestinian along the volatile frontier with Israel as youths mounted violent protests at a separation fence. Unrest over the past week has escalated tensions and prompted Israel to bar entry to thousands of Palestinian labourers from the impoverished enclave.

Putin accepts invitation to visit China

AP ■ MOSCOW

Russia's President Vladimir Putin said on Wednesday he accepted an invitation from his Chinese counterpart to visit China in October during the Belt and Road Summit. Speaking after a meeting with Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi in Moscow, Putin said Russia and China are "integrating our ideas of creating a large Eurasian space", noting that China's Belt and Road Initiative is a part of that.

The Initiative is a huge programme in which Beijing has been expanding its influence in developing regions through infrastructure projects. Since Russia invaded Ukraine, Putin has pivoted the country toward China, selling it more energy, and increasingly carrying out joint military exercises.

China has adopted a neutral stance on the war in Ukraine and even denounced Western sanctions against Moscow. It also accused NATO and the United States of provoking Putin's military action and declared last year that it had a "no-limits" friendship with Russia.

On Tuesday, senior Russian security official, Nikolai Patrushev, called for closer policy coordination between Moscow and Beijing to counter what he described as Western efforts to contain them as he hosted Wang Yi for security talks.

The Kremlin has continuously expressed support for Beijing as Russia and China have grown closer as their relations with the West deteriorate.

Wang arrived in Russia on Monday on a four-day visit following his talks with US President Joe Biden's national security adviser in Malta over the weekend. Putin's plan to visit China was initially announced in July.

UN urges Taliban govt to protect rights of detainees

AP ■ ISLAMABAD

The United Nations said on Wednesday it has documented more than 1,600 cases of human rights violations committed by authorities in Afghanistan during arrests and detentions of people, and urged the Taliban government to stop torture and protect the rights of detainees.

Nearly 50 per cent of the violations consisted of "torture and other cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment", the UN Assistance Mission in Afghanistan said.

The report by the mission's Human Rights Service covered 19 months — from January 2022 until the end of July 2023 — with cases documented across 29 of Afghanistan's 34 provinces. It said 11 per cent of the cases involved women. It said the torture aimed at extracting confessions and other information included beatings, suffocation, suspension from the ceiling and electric shocks. Cases that were not considered sufficiently credible and reliable were not included in the report, it said. The Taliban have promised a more moderate rule than during their previous period in power in the 1990s. But they have imposed harsh measures since seizing Afghanistan in mid-August 2021 as US and NATO forces were pulling out from the country after two decades of war.

"The personal accounts of beatings, electric shocks, water torture, and numerous other forms of cruel and degrading treatment, along with threats made against individuals and their families, are harrowing," UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Volker Turk said in a statement issued with the report.

"This report suggests that torture is also used as a tool — in lieu of effective investigations. I urge all concerned de facto authorities to put in place concrete measures to halt these abuses and hold perpetrators accountable," he said.

The UN mission or UNAMA uses the term "de facto authorities" for the Taliban government. Its report acknowledges some steps taken by government agencies to monitor places of detention and investigate allegations of abuse.

"Although there have been some encouraging signs in terms of leadership directives as well as an openness among many de facto officials to engage constructively with UNAMA, and allow visits to prisons, these documented cases highlight the need for urgent, accelerated action by all," Roza Otunbayeva, the UN secretary-general's special representative for Afghanistan and head of the mission, said in a statement.

The report said of the torture and other degrading treatment that 259 instances involved physical suffering and 207 involved mental suffering. UNAMA said it believes that ill-treatment of individuals in custody is widely under reported and that the figures in the report represent only a snapshot of violations of people in detention across Afghanistan.

It said a pervasive climate of surveillance, harassment and intimidation, threats to people not to speak about their experiences in detention, and the need for prisoners to provide guarantees by family members and other third parties to be released from custody hamper the willingness of many people to speak freely to the UN mission.

The report said 44 per cent of the interviewees were civilians with no particular affiliation, 21 per cent were former government or security personnel, 16 per cent were members of civic organizations or human rights groups, 9 per cent were members of armed groups and 8 per cent were journalists and media workers. The remainder were "family members of persons of interest".

In a response that was included in the report, the Taliban-led Foreign Ministry said government agencies have taken steps to improve the human rights situation of detainees, and that Islamic law, or Shariah, prohibits torture.

It also questioned some of the report's data. The Ministry of Interior said it has identified only 21 cases of human rights violations.

Ukraine's allies make legal arguments at top UN court

The Hague (Netherlands): Ukraine's international allies filed into the United Nations' top court on Wednesday to support Kyiv's case against Russia that alleges Moscow twisted the genocide convention to manufacture a pretext for its invasion last year.

The hearing came a day after Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy told the UN General Assembly in New York that Russia is "weaponising" everything from food and energy to abducted children in its war against Ukraine — and warned world leaders that the same could happen to them.

An unprecedented 32 states were making brief legal arguments on Wednesday to the 16-judge panel at the International Court of Justice, which is holding hearings into Moscow's assertions that the World Court does not have jurisdiction and should throw out Ukraine's case.

Kyiv filed its case two days after Russia invaded Ukraine. It argues that the attack was based on false claims by Russia of acts of genocide in the Luhansk and Donetsk regions of eastern Ukraine. Ukraine insists the court has jurisdiction. Kyiv's allies supported that stance on Wednesday.

Legal representatives including Australian Solicitor-General Stephen Donaghe told judges that the case is about a dispute between Ukraine and Russia over the 1948 Genocide Convention that should be settled by the court. While most of the national presentations in the court's ornate Great Hall of Justice were dry legal arguments, Canada's representative, Alan Kessel, underscored what was at stake. AP

Thai king's estranged son urges open discussion on monarchy

AP ■ BANGKOK

An estranged son of Thailand's king who has spent almost all his adult life away from his homeland has unexpectedly gone public with his belief that open discussions about the country's monarchy should be allowed, in a rejection of a harsh royal anti-defamation law. Vacharaesorn Vivacharawongse, one of the king's five sons, posted his opinion on Facebook after attending a photo exhibition in New York about people who have been charged under the law, Article 112 of Thailand's Criminal Code. The so-called lese majeste law makes insulting the monarch, his immediate family and the regent punishable by up to 15 years in prison per offence. "I love and cherish the monarchy, but I believe it is better to know than not knowing. Every person has their own opinion based on their own experiences. Not listening to them doesn't make their viewpoints or opinions disappear," wrote Vacharaesorn, who works at a law firm in New York. "It's another story whether you agree or disagree with them.

Talk to each other with reason."

The law is highly controversial, not only because of its tough penalties but also because anyone, not just the royal family, can file complaints about alleged violations with police. Critics say it is often used to quash political dissent and point to many arrests of pro-democracy protesters by the government of former Prime Minister Prayuth Chan-ocha, who led a military coup in 2014 and remained the country's leader until last month.

Supporters of the law say the monarchy is the bedrock of Thai identity and should be untouchable. Vacharaesorn is one of four sons that King Maha Vajiralongkorn had with his second wife, Sujarinee Vivacharawongse, a former actress. In 1996 the then-crown prince divorced Sujarinee, who moved abroad with her children. Their youngest daughter was taken back by the royal family and given the title Princess Sriravannavari Naritana, but the four sons remain estranged and do not have any formal royal titles. Vacharaesorn, 42, who had long been out of the public eye, drew major attention in August when he made a brief surprise return to Thailand, where he visited a charity organisation and several Buddhist temples to participate in prayers and offerings. Before departing, he told reporters that he wishes Thailand will be "a country full of hope" and that Thai people will "respect one another, listen to one another, no matter who we are".

Tornadoes kill 10 in China

Beijing (AP): Two tornadoes within hours killed 10 people and seriously injured four others in eastern China, state media said Wednesday. The first tornado hit parts of Suqian city in Jiangsu province on Tuesday afternoon, state broadcaster CCTV said. It destroyed 137 homes and damaged crop land and pig farms. Five people died and four were injured. A second tornado in the evening killed five people in Yancheng city, which is in the same province about 190 kilometers (120 miles) southeast of Suqian. Videos posted online of the first tornado showed cars that had been tossed about, including at least one flipped onto its side, and debris swirling in the air above a several-story-high building. CCTV said that power and road service had been restored in the Suqian area.

S'pore lawmakers reject motion to suspend minister Iswaran

AP ■ SINGAPORE

Singapore's lawmakers have rejected a motion by an opposition party to suspend Transport Minister S Iswaran, under investigation for graft charges, from parliament and voted instead to consider the matter when the probes against him conclude. During a two-hour debate on Tuesday, Leader of the House Indraneel Rajah said the ruling People's Action Party (PAP) would consider a clawback of Iswaran's MP allowance if justified, such as if he is given criminal charges. The Progress Singapore Party's (PSP) motion had called for Iswaran to be suspended as an MP for the remainder of his term in parliament. He was arrested in July and is under investigation by the Corrupt Practices Investigation Bureau (CPIB). The investigation relates to F1 races being hosted in Singapore. But Indraneel filed a counter-motion for parliament to consider the matter when the outcome of the ongoing investigation against Iswaran is known. PAP MPs voted for Indraneel's motion while the PSP's two Non-Constituency MPs — Hazel Poa and Leong Mun Wai — voted for their own motion, according to a Channel News Asia report. All eight opposition MPs from the Workers' Party (WP) voted for the PAP's motion and against the PSP. Poa said she was filing the PSP motion so that Iswaran would no longer receive the MP allowance while he was not performing his duties whether in parliament or in his West Coast constituency. "This motion is therefore about the prudent use of taxpayers' money, not a presumption of guilt," she said. She also filed a second motion for permission to introduce a Private Member's Bill proposing amendments to the Parliament (Privileges, Immunities and Powers) Act so that Iswaran could be reimbursed for his MP's allowance if cleared of any wrongdoing. Indraneel's counter-motion, meanwhile, also affirmed the need for MPs to uphold integrity and conduct themselves lawfully and the need to deal firmly and fairly with any MP being investigated for possible wrongdoing. After his arrest, Iswaran was instructed to take a leave of absence. He has been indicted from duty with a reduced pay of SGD 8,500 (USD 6,200) a month. He continues to draw the full annual MP allowance of SGD 1,92,500.

Sensex tanks 796 pts, Nifty closes below 20K

PTI ■ MUMBAI
Benchmark indices Sensex and Nifty tumbled more than 1 per cent on Wednesday due to selling in index heavyweights in tandem with weak global trends ahead of the US Federal Reserve's interest rate decision.
Falling for the second day running, the 30-share BSE Sensex tumbled 796 points or 1.18 per cent to settle at 66,800.84. During the day, it tanked 868.7 points or 1.28 per cent to 66,728.14.
The NSE Nifty declined 231.90 points or 1.15 per cent to end below the 20,000 mark at 19,901.40.
US bond yields surging to 16-year high levels and fears of high crude oil prices fueling commodity inflation also hit the investor sentiment, according to analysts.
Fresh foreign fund outflows and caution ahead of a host of interest rate decisions from global central banks also added to the overall bearish trend. Besides the US Fed meeting, the BoE (Bank of England) and the BoJ (Bank of Japan) are also scheduled to meet this week.

Among the Sensex firms, HDFC Bank emerged as the biggest loser, falling 4 per cent. JSW Steel, Reliance Industries, UltraTech Cement, Maruti, Tata Steel, Wipro, Tech Mahindra, Bharti Airtel and Larsen & Toubro were the other major laggards.
Power Grid, Asian Paints, Sun Pharma, Axis Bank, NTPC, ITC and Infosys were among the gainers.
"The domestic markets remained under pressure due to rising US bond yields and a stronger greenback. Concerns reigned over upcoming FED policy, interest rate trajectory and rising oil prices.

"Bank Nifty underperformed today due to rising cost of funds and reduction in deposits leading to moderation in net yield," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.
In the broader market, the BSE smallcap gauge fell by 0.51 per cent and midcap index declined 0.33 per cent.
Among the indices, financial services fell by 1.39 per cent, commodities dropped 1.39 per cent, metal (1.25 per cent), realty (1.20 per cent), bankex (1.05 per cent), telecommunication (0.95 per cent) and oil & gas (0.68 per cent).

Utilities and power were the gainers. In Asian markets, Tokyo, Shanghai and Hong Kong ended lower while Seoul settled with gains.
European markets were trading in positive territory. The US markets ended in negative territory on Tuesday.
Global oil benchmark Brent crude fell 1.23 per cent to USD 93.18 a barrel even as supply concerns remain due to production cuts announced by Saudi Arabia and Russia.
Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) offloaded equities worth Rs 1,236.51 crore on Monday, according to exchange data.
Snapping its 11-day rally, the BSE benchmark fell 241.79 points or 0.36 per cent to settle at 67,596.84 on Monday. The broader Nifty declined 59.05 points or 0.29 per cent to end at 20,133.30. Equity markets were closed on Tuesday on account of Ganesh Chaturthi.

Sebi fines ₹1.3 crore on 25 individuals for share price manipulation

PTI ■ NEW DELHI
Capital markets regulator Sebi has imposed a penalty totalling Rs 1.3 crore on 25 individuals for indulging in volume and price manipulation in the shares of non-banking finance company Capri Global Capital Ltd (CGCL). They have been directed to pay the fine within 45 days, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) said in its order.
The regulator investigated the trading pattern in the scrip of CGCL for the period August 2019 to June 2020 to ascertain whether there was any violation of the provisions of PFUTP (Prohibition of Fraudulent and Unfair Trade Practices) by these 25 entities.
During the investigation period, a group of 25 entities — connected based on the Unique Client Code details, Know Your Client (KYC) documents and bank transactions — were involved in volume manipulation in the scrip of CGCL by executing synchronized trades and reversal trades without changing the beneficial ownership of such shares, Sebi noted.
In this case, 24 individuals acting as group entities caused price and volume manipulation in the scrip of CGCL by executing fraudulent trades and notice no 26 (Vijay Ghyansambhai Pujara) transferred funds into their accounts and subsequently placed trades from their trading accounts to cause manipulation in the scrip of CGCL, Sebi said in its order passed on Monday.

Meta expands WhatsApp payments service in India

PTI ■ MUMBAI
WhatsApp on Wednesday announced the expansion of its payments service in India to make it easier for people transacting with businesses to pay for purchases directly in the chat, with a choice of UPI apps, including rival digital payment options, as well as credit and debit cards.
Meta founder and CEO Mark Zuckerberg asserted that India is leading the world in people and businesses embracing messaging.
WhatsApp said it is working with partners Razorpay and PayU "to make paying for something as simple as sending a message", as the Meta-owned platform unveiled a host of new features to woo businesses in India's booming commerce market.
"India (is) a country that's at the forefront of a lot of what we're going to talk about today. You're (India) is leading the world in terms of how people and businesses have embraced messaging as the better way to get things done," Zuckerberg said during a virtual address at the business messaging conference 'Conversations' in Mumbai.
A series of new tools have been announced for turbocharging businesses, including WhatsApp Flows and Meta verified badge, to 'speed up how to get things done with businesses in a WhatsApp chat".

"Expanding our payments service in India to all Indian businesses using the WhatsApp Business Platform...People will be able to add items to a cart and send a payment using the payment method of their choice - either WhatsApp or other payment methods, including all UPI apps, debit and credit cards, and more - all without having to go to a website, open another app or pay in person," according to a factsheet by the company.
This means payments through rival services like Google Pay and Paytm can be facilitated directly within the app and not redirected away from the app to a site.
The feature is already live in Singapore and Brazil (for small businesses).
Zuckerberg said Meta has continued to innovate with messaging formats, group chats and broadcast channels.
"And it's the same focus that we're bringing to how we support businesses, creating simple to use and easy to scale tools so they can connect with their customers in meaningful ways," he said.
WhatsApp Flows is a new feature for businesses to create richer in-chat experiences for their customers like booking a reservation, ordering delivery or checking in for a flight, directly on WhatsApp. Businesses will be able to choose from a series of flexible, pre-made building blocks so they can easily design rich, customisable experiences for their customers.

Zuckerberg said WhatsApp Flows gives businesses the ability to create customised experiences within chat threads.
Citing some examples of how this would work, he said that with 'WhatsApp Flows', a bank can build a way for customers to book an appointment to open a new account, a food delivery service can build a way to place an order from any of their partner restaurants or an airline can build a way to check in for a flight and pick up a seat. All this without having to leave the chat thread.

The platform also announced expansion of Meta Verified to businesses on Facebook, Instagram and WhatsApp. This means businesses will be able to subscribe for a fee and get a verified badge, account support, impersonation protection and premium features that help amplify their brand online and make it more efficient to chat with customers.

This will be rolling out to Facebook and Instagram business in select countries in the coming weeks, while WhatsApp will follow.
"We've been hearing from a lot of businesses that they're very eager to build more credibility and get greater visibility. So, I am excited to start rolling out Meta Verified in the coming months. And we're going to continue to evolve what's included in the toolkit to make sure that we're bringing the best value to businesses," he said.
Meta India VP Sandhya Devanathan said WhatsApp is now a thriving platform even for business interactions and added that Indians are using it to debut businesses, discover businesses and interact with businesses.
"For these entrepreneurs, WhatsApp is their business, it's their website, their digital storefront, their livelihood...Our commitment to their success is unwavering. And that is why we have committed to upskilling and digitally training ten million traders in twenty-nine states across the length and breadth of our country and in eleven Indian languages over a period of three years," she said.

PSG get better of Dortmund

AP ■ PARIS

Paris Saint-Germain got their Champions League campaign off to a winning start on Tuesday as a Kylian Mbappe penalty set them up for a 2-0 victory over Borussia Dortmund at the Parc des Princes.

The French champions had dominated the first half without overly troubling the Dortmund defence, but they went ahead four minutes after the break when Mbappe scored a spot-kick awarded for a Niklas Sule handball.

Achraf Hakimi added a memorable second, and PSG could have won the Group F encounter by a far more handsome margin in the end.

The result immediately puts them in control of the group, after AC Milan and Newcastle United drew 0-0 earlier, and coach Luis Enrique will hope they can build on this performance when they visit the English side next in a fortnight.

"It was an almost perfect evening," said Luis Enrique.

"I enjoyed practically everything about it, our intensity from the very beginning, the way we controlled the game for the first 75 minutes.

"We could have scored at least another goal but this win gives us confidence going forward. This is going to be a difficult group for everyone."

Dortmund, meanwhile, were nowhere near their best and must improve when they entertain Milan next in what is an unenviable section.

They are still adapting to life without Jude Bellingham and coach Edin Terzic also dropped Sebastian Haller here, with the big striker enduring a difficult start to the campaign.

PSG are in the early weeks of a new era following the departures of Lionel Messi, Neymar and Marco Verratti, and Luis Enrique's arrival.

The former Spain coach, who won the Champions League with Barcelona in 2015, insisted on the eve of this game that he needs time to get his ideas across to his players, many of whom also arrived over the summer.

There were five new signings in PSG's line-up here, including Ousmane Dembele and Randal Kolo Muani in attack.

HELPING HAND

Preferred to Goncalo Ramos, Kolo Muani was starting for the first time since joining from Eintracht Frankfurt.

With him, PSG controlled the first half, while Dortmund and their five-man defence sat back and offered little going forward.

Vitinha hit the upright in the 19th minute and Dembele later forced a save from goalkeeper Gregor Kobel at his near post, but PSG had precious little to show for a share of possession that reached almost 80 percent going into the break.

However, they got the breakthrough just after half-time, thanks to a helping hand from Sule, and the referee.

Barely 60 seconds of the second half had been played when a shot by Mbappe struck the Dortmund defender at close range.

Sule survived a VAR check when the ball struck his arm in the area late in the first half but this time Spanish referee Jesus Gil Manzano immediately pointed to the spot, although the award seemed harsh.

Mbappe stepped up to stroke in the penalty for his eighth goal this season, and the home side had done the hard part.

"The handball rule is not really clear," lamented Terzic.

"PSG naturally will say it was a handball and we will say it was not but in the end what annoys me the most is that we were just not aggressive enough."

The home side scored again on 58 minutes as Vitinha and Hakimi combined for the latter to run through and prod home from close range.

It was a great goal, although Hakimi was helped by Mats Hummels throwing himself to the floor rather than standing up and trying to make a block.

Howe 'proud' of Newcastle's goalless draw against Milan

AP ■ MILAN

Eddie Howe was proud of Newcastle United's dogged return to Champions League football after two decades away, holding seven-time European kings AC Milan to a goalless draw in Tuesday's opening Group F match.

Howe was the happier of the two managers with taking a point from the clash at the San Siro as his team were mostly on the back foot against last season's losing semi-finalists.

Newcastle did little in their first fixture in Europe's top club competition since 2003, the Saudi Arabia-backed club barely creating a chance and lucky to escape with a draw on the balance of play.

Milan should have won after wasting a string of chances, particularly in the first half, and dominating the play on Sandro Tonali's return to his old stomping ground after being sold to Newcastle in July.

"Definitely pride in result and the performance and the mentality shown," Howe told reporters.

"Within the squad the result wasn't underestimated. Also they are very honest players that acknowledge the fact that we can perform better.

"I think we'll get better and better as time goes on. Hopefully can grow into the tournament."

"You have to win when you play so much better than such a good team. Unfortunately we weren't able to capitalise on the situations we created," said Pioli.

"It's a shame that we didn't win the first match because it's going to be a difficult group. We're not happy with the result... We were lacking the most important quality of all."

MARCELINO DEPARTS

Marseille have been plunged into crisis just six weeks into the new season as coach Marcelino Garcia Toral left the French giants on Wednesday while the club's president was reportedly considering walking away too after an angry encounter with supporters.

The club said in a statement that the confrontation on Monday "prevents Marcelino and his coaching staff from being able to do their job in good conditions".

"As a consequence of this deplorable situation, Marcelino and his staff will not pursue their work at Olympique de Marseille," the statement added.

The former Sevilla, Villarreal, Valencia and Athletic Bilbao coach, aged 58, was only appointed in June to succeed Igor Tudor, who had led the 1993 Champions League winners to a third-place finish in Ligue 1 last season.

Marseille are unbeaten five games into the new domestic season but supporters were furious with their insipid performance in drawing 0-0 with Toulouse at the weekend.

Alvarez saves Man City blushes after CL first night scare

AP ■ MANCHESTER

Manchester City overcame a nearly scare to get their Champions League defence off to a solid start on Tuesday.

Pep Guardiola's City were stunned when Red Star's Osman Bukari opened the scoring in first half stoppage time.

But Julian Alvarez continued his sparkling early season form by levelling just two minutes after the break.

The Argentine then got some help from Red Star goalkeeper Omri Glazer as he flapped at Alvarez's free-kick to allow the ball to fly into the far corner.

Rodri rounded off a 3-1 win with a composed finish 17 minutes from time.

"If we scored two goals early in the beginning it would've been completely different," said Guardiola, who was frustrated at his side's finishing.

"Having 22 (first-half) shots on goal means you are playing really good. It has to be the responsibility of the people in front to score the goals."

City are next away to RB Leipzig, who share top place in Group E after a 3-1 win at Swiss champions Young Boys.

Mohamed Simaken earned the distinction of scoring the first goal of the group stages with the 2023/24 competition only three minutes old.

Felix hits double as 'best' Barca thrash Antwerp

AP ■ BARCELONA

Felix shone for the Spanish champions on a stroll on a warm night in the Catalan capital, helped on their way by an own goal, with Robert Lewandowski and Gavi also scoring

Joao Felix struck twice as Barcelona flexed their muscles with a crushing 5-0 win over Royal Antwerp in the Champions League on Tuesday, showing their determination to be considered among Europe's elite once again.

After consecutive humiliating group stage eliminations Barcelona are desperate to go deep in this season's competition, last winning it eight years ago.

The victory followed a 5-0 thrashing of Real Betis on Saturday, leading coach Xavi Hernandez to describe these two performances as the best since he joined the club in November 2021.

"I think these last two games are the best level we have shown with me as coach -- it's the path to follow," he told Movistar.

Portuguese forward finally seems ready to flourish.

"We all played really well, I am happy with the win and enjoying myself," said Felix.

"The most difficult thing now is to maintain this level. I have started well, the team is playing well."

"Getting to this level it's not the most difficult thing, it's maintaining it. We all have to work hard to do that."

Barcelona's 2015 triumph was the last in a run of four victories over a golden decade in the club's history, during which current coach Xavi

Hernandez was a key figure in midfield.

Xavi said those feats weighed heavy on the club now, that the current team were under "brutal" pressure to succeed in Europe.

It did not show against Antwerp, with Barcelona brushing aside Marc van Bommel's Belgian title-winners with ease in their first Champions League appearance at the Olympic Stadium.

With Felix and Joao Cancelo joining on loan at the end of the summer transfer window, Barcelona immediately appear a more dynamic side, with supreme creative quality in the final third reflected in successive five-goal wins.

"Joao Felix has a lot of quality, a lot of talent and he's showing it," De Jong told Movistar.

"I hope he can keep going like this. If he keeps working like now, he will give a lot to us."

Xavi brought on 16-year-old starlet Lamine Yamal to become the second youngest player of all time in the competition's history.

Tougher challenges lie ahead, including a visit to Porto in their next European game at the start of October, but Barcelona's self-esteem is higher than at any point since Lionel Messi left in 2021.

Xavi said Barcelona's aim was to make it through the group first before worrying about bigger challenges, and this was a confident first step.

"It's an honour to watch the team play at the moment but we have to remain consistent now," warned the Catalan coach.

"We have to maintain these performances, the hunger, the focus... the players are enjoying themselves, we're creating a lot in attack."

Xavi's opposite number, a former team-mate of his at Barcelona, praised the hosts' display.

"For me, Barca, with how they have developed and evolved, of course they have a chance of winning the Champions League," said Antwerp coach Van Bommel.

"But they need some luck... there are a lot of factors."

Murray vows to make strong finish

AP ■ ZHUHAI

Three-time Grand Slam champion Andy Murray on Wednesday said he is "still going in the right direction" and is determined to make a strong finish to an "up and down" year.

The 36-year-old former world number one reflecting on his year so far, said: "Look, I would like the year to have gone better, for sure."

"There have been some good moments, but also some tough losses as well," said Murray, who had career-saving surgery in 2019 and now plays with a metal hip.

His five-set defeat in the second round at Wimbledon to fifth seed Stefanos Tsitsipas, having been ahead when the match was forced into the next day because of a tournament curfew, still rankles.

Murray suffered an abdominal injury at the Canadian Open last month and went out in the second round at the US Open, where he is a former champion, in straight sets to Grigor Dimitrov.

Murray, who felt he started 2023 especially well and reached the final in Qatar, said: "It's been up and down."

"I got up to my highest ranking a few weeks ago since I had the hip operation so that's positive and shows that although it's not as fast a trajectory as I would have liked, I'm still going in the right direction."

AP ■ TEHRAN

Cristiano Ronaldo enjoyed a winning debut in the Asian Champions League as he helped Al Nassr to a 2-0 victory against 10-man Persepolis in Iran on Tuesday night.

The five-time Ballon d'Or winner, who has five UEFA Champions League titles to his name, captained the Saudi Arabian side to an opening three points in Group E.

The match at the Azadi Stadium in Tehran was played without fans after the Asian Football Confederation (AFC) upheld a one-game ban for Persepolis supporters dating back to 2021.

That clearly helped Nassr, who grabbed both goals in the second half against a two-time runners-up, through a Danial Esmailifar own goal and a fine strike by defender Mohammed Qassem.

It marked the first time a Saudi club played in Iran since 2016, after the AFC announced a "ground-breaking agreement" earlier this month between the two countries' federations.

Iran and Saudi Arabia severed diplomatic ties seven

Nine-man Celtic lose 2-0 to ruthless Feyenoord

AP ■ ROTTERDAM

A ruthless Feyenoord beat an undisciplined Celtic 2-0 in a scrappy Champions League Group E encounter Tuesday with the Scottish champions hit by two red cards in the space of five minutes.

Celtic started brightly but never recovered from losing Swedish defender Gustaf Lagerbielke and Norway's Odin Thiago Holm to a straight red card for a late challenge mid-way through the second half.

Feyenoord's Iranian striker Alireza Jahanbakhsh sealed the win for the Dutch champions in the 76th minute, finishing off a well-worked move by smashing the ball past Hoops keeper Joe Hart.

The hosts had taken the lead with only one minute left in first-half injury time, Dutch international Calvin Stengs drilling a long-range free kick through a poorly constructed Celtic wall and beating Hart, who was only able to palm the ball into the side netting.

It was a bitter pill for Celtic, who enjoyed the best of the first half in which the Dutch champions lacked penetration, clearly missing prolific goalscorer Santiago Gimenez, who was suspended.

Lashing rain and wind did not dampen the spirits, with a capacity 51,000 crowd at the Feyenoord stadium in Rotterdam, better known as "De Kuip" or "The Tub", giving the Celtic players a hostile reception throughout.

Feyenoord came into the match on a superb run of form, unbeaten in the Dutch top flight and scoring at least five goals in their last three games.

"Unfortunately for us, we got the two players sent off and it's a difficult level 11 v 11, but 11 v nine is really difficult," he said.

"I think it's inexperience by the two goals, you've just got to let the ball run through, you don't have to be in the fight," said the manager.

But Rodgers was heartened by the "spirit and mentality" of the nine men left on the pitch, who managed to keep the score respectable, with Feyenoord having two late goals disallowed.

"Overall, I'm frustrated for the players because they gave so much, but the point for me was that their spirit was never broken," said the Hoops boss.

INCHEON WIN

In the group's other match, Iran's Istiklol were held to a goalless draw in Dushanbe by Qatari heavyweights Al Duhail.

In Group A, 2003 winners Al Ain secured an impressive 3-0 victory at Pakhtakor in Tashkent, while Turkmenistan side Ahal defeated Saudi opponents Al Fayha 1-0 at home to record only a second win in the competition.

In the East Asian side of the draw, South Korea's Incheon United opened their Group G account with a 4-2 win over J.League champions Yokohama F Marinos in Japan.

As a result, Incheon sit on three points alongside Chinese Super League side Shandong Taishan, who were made to work for their 3-1 victory in Manila over Kaya FC Iloilo of the Philippines.

In Group I, South Korean champions, and 2020 Asian Champions League winners, Ulsan Hyundai won at home over Thailand's BG Pathum United 3-1, while Japan's Kawasaki Frontale saw off hosts Johor Darul Ta'zim 1-0 in Malaysia.

The group stage, which this year returned to a home-and-away format for the first time since early 2020, runs until mid-December, with the 10 pool winners and the six best second-placed teams advancing to the knockout rounds.

That begins in February with the final taking place across two legs in May.

ASHWIN VS SUNDAR: STORY BEHIND UNEXPECTED WC TRIAL

PTI ■ MOHALI

A month and half back, Ravichandran Ashwin was eloquently explaining on his Tamil YouTube channel, why a talent like Tilak Varma should be seriously considered for the ODI World Cup.

One of India's greatest match-winners in Test cricket wouldn't possibly have envisaged that in six weeks time he would be summoned for a two-match trial against Washington Sundar — nearly a decade and half junior to him.

Close selection calls are par for course when it comes to World Cup squads.

But just two weeks before the mega event, the Indian team management has called the two off-spinners for the three-match series against Australia to keep a ready back-up option in case Axar Patel's quadriceps tear doesn't heal on time.

It will be a virtual shoot-out and their performances on flat decks of Mohali and Rajkot will be monitored by Ajit Agarkar's selection committee.

"I think Ashwin will be slightly ahead now that a bowler of his stature has been called into the mix. I have always felt that Ashwin should have been in the mix from the time the team got into the ODI World Cup mode," said former chairman of selectors MSK Prasad, who was at helm when the 2019 squad was selected.

So, who will be his pick if Axar can't make it to the World Cup?

"Look, let us hope that Axar is fit for the final ODI in Rajkot. Because if he is fit, however well Ashwin or Washy bowl, it will be Axar who will retain his place. If he has been your pick ahead of these two, then you have to have him if he is good to go," Prasad set the record straight.

"But this is one of the most fascinating World Cup trials that you will get (to see). Question is: if they are looking at a 50-50 batting-bowling option then it is Washy. But if they are looking at a purely spin bowling option, then Ash holds an edge as far as I am concerned," Prasad said.

Harbhajan Singh, however, has a contrarian viewpoint.

"The Turbantor believes that if the team management and selectors took an informed decision to summon Washington in Colombo for the Asia Cup final and even fielded him in the playing XI, then he should be the first-choice replacement.

"Washington bowls well in Powerplays. He is a brilliant fielder and last but not the least is a left-hander in that lower middle order. So, he does come as a package," said Harbhajan.

Another national selector, who refused to be named, had an interesting take on the Washington vs Ashwin debate.

"No offence meant but Axar's supposed hamstring injury could just be a blessing in disguise. The decision to have a right-arm finger spinner should have been taken long back and now, perhaps, at eleventh hour, they have got that opportunity," the selector, who has seen some pitched battles between previous captains and selection committees, said. He then decoded the whole issue that the Indian team is facing.

"Not denying that Axar played two crucial knocks in the Asia Cup and one was in a winning cause against Sri Lanka. But just look at his bowling on a track that offered considerable turn. If Charith Asalanka is picking up four wickets and you (Axar) are not even getting most of your deliveries to turn, it is a problem," added the former selector.

"Mind it, Jaddu (Ravindra Jadeja) is lethal when there is help off the surface and doubly so, if Ashwin is operating at the other end. Also, why did they call two off-spinners and not a like-for-like replacement. The next in line are Shabbaz Ahmed and Abhishek Sharma (left-arm spin and left-handed bat). These two are okay for Asian Games level but certainly not for the World Cup," he added.

"Also at the moment, they asked Ashwin to report for his fitness update at NCA (after the Super 4 against Pakistan, if one goes by his Instagram handle), you would know that he is in line and there is a clear dilemma in Rohit (Sharma), Rahul (Dravid) and Ajit (Agarkar)'s mind as to who is the best option. "Is it a bits and pieces cricketer like Washy or someone like Ashwin, who can turn a game or two on Indian tracks? Hence they called both," the selector said.

Prasad agreed to the point. "I believe some of the tracks will offer help for spinners. In Chennai, think about Ashwin's possible match-up against Steve Smith or a left-hander like David Warner. Yes, his success came in the red ball (cricket) but just think about the possibilities," the former India stumper added.

Siraj back to No. 1 in ODI rankings

PTI ■ DUBAI

Indian pacer Mohammed Siraj has regained his number one spot in the men's ICC ODI bowling rankings after his six-wicket haul in the final of the recently-concluded Asia Cup. Siraj, who first grabbed the top position in January before being displaced by Josh Hazlewood in March, has surged eight spots after his memorable performance that helped dismiss Sri Lanka to complete a 10-wicket victory in the summit clash.

Left-arm wrist spinner Kuldeep Yadav has moved down three places to ninth.

Pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah climbed up two places to 27th while Hardik Pandya rose eight spots to 50th.

Among batters, openers Shubman Gill and Rohit Sharma have retained their second and 10th spots respectively while star batter Virat Kohli moved up a rung to eighth.

Pandya is the only all-rounder in the top 20, climbing up a spot to the sixth place.

ICC confirms New York, Dallas, Florida as US venues for T20 WC 2024

PTI ■ DUBAI

The International Cricket Council (ICC) on Wednesday confirmed New York, Dallas and Florida as the three venues for the USA-leg of the ICC Men's World Cup 2024.

Broward County (Florida), Grand Prairie (Dallas) and Eisenhower Park (New York) will be the three stadiums hosting the matches in the US.

This is the first time the tournament will be played in the USA, and they will co-host it with the West Indies.

The ICC had awarded the event to the USA in 2021. Geoff Allardice, the Chief Executive of the governing body, said, these venues have been zeroed in after an extensive evaluation process.

"We're delighted to announce the three USA venues that will host part of the biggest ICC Men's T20 World Cup ever staged, with 20 teams competing for the trophy.

"We explored a number of potential venue options in the country, and we were hugely encouraged by the enthusiasm the event generated amongst prospective hosts," said Allardice in an ICC release.

Allardice said the existing ular stadium solutions.

He said the same technology will be used to build a 34,000-seat modular stadium at Nassau County, New York, and he hoped to acquire the required permit from local officials by next month. "We are very excited about the opportunity to use modular stadium technology. This technology has been used at previous ICC events to increase venue capacity and it's routinely used in other major sports around the world.

"In the USA, it will give us the opportunity to increase the size of the venues in both Dallas and Florida and create what is going to be a stunning venue in New York," said Allardice.

A number of other venues around the USA, including George Mason University in Washington, the new home of MLC team Washington Freedom, have also been identified as potential venues for pre-event matches and training. The ICC's announcement has also allayed all concerns over USA hosting the T20 WC 2024 because of the doubts surrounding the readiness of the stadiums.

B'desh hungry to gain pre-WC boost in ODI series vs NZ

AP ■ MIRPUR

After failing to reach this month's Asia Cup final, Bangladesh is hungry to gain a much-needed boost ahead of the 50-over World Cup by beating New Zealand in the three-match ODI series that starts on Thursday.

Bangladesh rested a host of key players for the Asia Cup, captain Shakib Al Hasan, Mushfiqur Rahim, Najmul Hossain and Towhid Hridoy among them, in order to keep them fresh and injury-free, although it has still not named its squad for next month's World Cup.

New Zealand has sent only five World Cup-bound players to Bangladesh, stand-in skipper Lockie Ferguson, Trent Boult, Rachin Ravindra, Ish Sodhi and Will Young.

Tamim Iqbal, who stepped down as ODI captain last month, is back for Bangladesh after recovering from a back problem. Mahmudullah, axed after the England series in March following poor form, also returns.

Liton Das, who leads the side in Shakib's absence, said: "There are many things to achieve from the series. The first thing is to win, that will be a big achievement ahead of the World Cup.

"We won't play to show just individual brilliance. A five-wicket haul or a century doesn't matter if the team doesn't win."

Ferguson, yet to play on Bangladesh soil, believes conditions will test his New Zealand team to the limit.

"Bangladesh is very good in home conditions and is a huge challenge here," he said. "It's important for us just to focus on what's coming up tomorrow and try to adapt as quickly as possible to the conditions. Some of us haven't played here so we'll have to adapt quicker."

New Zealand hasn't won an ODI match in the country since 2008 and Ferguson said the input of former Bangladesh bowling coach Shane Jurgensen would be invaluable.

Southee to undergo surgery on thumb

PTI ■ AUCKLAND

New Zealand veteran fast bowler Tim Southee is set to undergo a surgery on his injured right thumb on Thursday and a call on his availability for the World Cup in India will be taken next week. Southee broke and dislocated his right thumb while attempting to take a catch in the fourth ODI against England last week.

New Zealand head coach Gary Stead is hopeful the 34-year-old seamer will recover in time for the side's opening game in the mega event on October 5.

"We've got our fingers crossed the surgery goes well for Tim," Stead said.

"He'll have some pins or screws inserted in his right thumb and, providing the procedure is a success, it will be a matter of ensuring Tim can tolerate the pain and manage the actual wound when returning to train and play."

Ahead of their opener against defending champions England, New Zealand are scheduled to take on Pakistan and South Africa in the World Cup warm up matches on September 29 and October 2.

"Our opening game of the World Cup against England is not until Thursday October 5 in Ahmedabad, so that would be our logical target in terms of his availability.

"Tim's obviously a hugely experienced and important figure in our team and we want to give him every chance to be part of this World Cup campaign."

Black Caps skipper Kane Williamson is also recovering from a ruptured ACL he suffered during the IPL earlier this year and may not be available for New Zealand's opening game.

Teams can make changes to the 15-player World Cup squad until September 28, post which any changes would need approval from the ICC. Five members of the Black Caps' World Cup-bound squad are in Bangladesh for a three-match ODI series, starting Thursday. The others are scheduled to fly out to India on Tuesday.

Ronaldinho to visit Kolkata during Durga Puja

PTI ■ KOLKATA

Retired Brazilian legend Ronaldinho is set to visit Kolkata during the auspicious occasion of Durga Puja next month.

An official privy to the development said that Ronaldinho is likely to visit the city between October 15-19 but the final date will be ascertained following the confirmation date of Barca Legends match at Congo.

According to the official, Ronaldinho, who will be visiting Kolkata for the first time, is expected to feature in a short charity match, besides visiting a football clinic and a Durga Puja pandal. He will also inaugurate a statue of Argentine FIFA World Cup winner Lionel Messi.

A two-time Ballon d'Or winner, Ronaldinho is also expected to attend some sponsor meet and greet events and visit the nearby town of Rishra.

The official involved has played a key role in bringing football legends to the city in the past, including Maradona, Pele and Cafu.

He also played a role in bringing current Argentinian World Cup-winning goalkeeper Emiliano Martinez this July to the city.

Notably, Ronaldinho also has his football academy in the city, the R10 Academy, in Rajarhat.

Sreejesh eyes direct berth to Olympics through Asiad

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

At 35, PR Sreejesh is standing at the twilight of his career and the Hangzhou Asian Games is most likely his last appearance at the continental showpiece.

But the veteran Indian hockey goalkeeper is determined to win the gold at Hangzhou to give himself a chance to earn a direct entry to the Paris Olympics next year, and do better there winning a yellow-coated medal.

Eight-time champions India had won a historic bronze at the Tokyo Olympics after 41 years beating Germany 5-4 in the play-off match.

"Obviously, next year's Olympics is my main target and I want to change the colour of my medal there. But having said that, we need to qualify through the Asian Games (to Olympics) so that we get ample time to prepare ourselves," Sreejesh told PTI.

Sreejesh reiterated that age is just a number for a sportsman and gave the example of tennis great Novak Djokovic in this regard.

"I am right now taking one game, one tournament at a time. As (Novak) Djokovic said, 35 is the new 25. So, I'm definitely there," he said.

Having handled the duties under the goal post of the Indian hockey team for more than 17 years, Sreejesh wants to groom the next generation of goalkeepers in India.

"Krishan (Bahadur Pathak) and me have been donning the goalkeeping responsibilities for a long time. We share a good rapport. There are upcoming goalkeepers like Suraj Karkera and Pawan Malik who are good and will only get better with time.

"I just want to ensure that there is enough back-up," he said.

The Indian men's hockey team goalkeepers, including Sreejesh, underwent some sessions under Dutchman Dennis van de Pol in the lead up to the Asian Games, which has been very helpful according to the veteran custodian.

"Dennis van de Pol is a good coach. It has really been beneficial to work with him. His experience and vast knowledge about goalkeeping has been very useful for us.

"He has deep knowledge about his skills and expertise and it has definitely helped us in all aspects of goalkeeping qualities," he signed off.

Olympic Association (IOA) arranged 'express visa' — which could be procured in two-three days — for him and he has arrived here separately.

It will not be easy for the Sunil Chhetri-led side to beat Bangladesh and log its first win of the competition as the team was assembled at the last minute with very few known faces after the Indian Super League clubs refused to release their players.

The Indians played on an even keel in the first 45 minutes but they caved in the second half, exposing the gulf in quality between the two teams.

Stimac himself admitted after the China match that he has brought a third-rung team with him.

"This is our third or fourth-choice team here. I would love to play against China with my best team. Then it would be totally opposite, but the players that are here are heroes," the Croatian coach said. "What they went through, with travelling problems, arriving here very late, not having time to recover and handling the first 45 minutes in a brilliant way.

"I was realistic and knew that it wouldn't happen (to get a drawn match). With no-one on the bench, apart from three players which we had, we couldn't make any tactical changes. We couldn't influence the game in the second half."
