The turbulent relations 1 between Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar and the INDIA Bloc came to a head on Monday with opposition camp sources saying they are considering submitting a notice "very soon" for moving a resolution to remove the Vice President from his office.

They said the Opposition parties had required signatures from all INDIA Bloc parties in August itself but did not move they decided to give Dhankhar "another chance but his conduct on Monday" convinced them to go ahead with it. INDIA Bloc parties had in August this year also considered submitting a notice for moving a resolution to remove the Vice President from his office.

Sources said Congress had taken the lead on the issue and the TMC and the Samajwadi Party, besides other INDIA Bloc parties, were supportive of the move. On Monday morning when the Rajya Sabha resumed, Congress MPs Singh, Jairam Digvijaya Ramesh accused Dhankhar of being partisan. Dhankhar said forces within Noida International Airport Limited (NIAL) successfully conducted its first flight validation test on Monday, marking a significant step toward the airport's commercial launch scheduled for April 2025. An IndiGo passenger flight, with a full crew and staff from the Airports Authority of India (AAI), carried out the crucial trial run between 1-2 pm after the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) approved all security checks.

According to officials, the flight from Delhi to Noida remained airborne for about two hours before landing. Officials added the trip undertook "close coordination between the pilot and the air traffic controller (ATC)" and was closely monitored. Meanwhile, Naidu said the country is witnessing exceptional success in the civil aviation industry because of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. In the last 10 years, the number of airports in the country has almost doubled, he added. The minister lauded Gautam

Buddh Nagar Lok Sabha MP Mahesh Sharma and Jewar MLA Dhirendra Singh for the progress of the airport project. "Everyone has worked together as a team to see that the stream becomes reality. From the ministry I can tell you that Jewar International Airport is the most prestigious project in the whole country especially because of the idea that it is catering to the Delhi NCR territory and also for the Western Uttar Pradesh," Naidu said. "In the future also, it is going to be a wonderful airport. Not only India but the whole world is going to be proud of the airport," he said. "I need to especially thank the farmers who have made this airport a reality and all the workers who have worked day and night to ensure that the timeline is also met," he added. The greenfield airport is being built in the Jewar area of Gautam Buddh Nagar district in Uttar Pradesh, some 75 km off Delhi and will be the national capital region's second international airport. Yamuna

International Airport Private Limited, a fully owned subsidiary of Swiss firm Zurich International Airport AG, is building the airport for the Uttar Pradesh government in a public-private partnership model. The airport's first phase comprising one runway and one terminal-will have a capacity to handle 12 million passengers annually. Ultimately, with the completion of future phases, the NIA will be able to accommodate up to 70 million passengers per year.

In a statement, the Uttar Pradesh government said, "The successful landing at Jewar, dubbed to be Asia's largest international airport, marks another milestone for Uttar Pradesh, now home to the highest number of airports in India. "Prime Minister Narendra Modi had laid the foundation stone for the airport on November 25, 2021 Following this, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath made several visits to oversee progress, ensuring that work was carried out with the highest quality standards," it added.

Didi's lollipop barb for Bangla netas' 'annex Bengal' threat

Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Monday lobbed a tart "lol-lipop" at Bangladesh leadership advising them to "stay calm and have peace of mind" and hold down their "occupy Bengal" dreams because India would not sit quiet if they resorted to any kind of misadventure. Speaking on a recent aggressive remark made by a senior Bangladesh Nationalist Party leader who said that their country had a legitimate right over three Indian States, Banerjee said, "it is unusual for us to speak on the foreign affairs a responsibility that has been entrusted with the Ministry of External Affairs and it is our declared stance that we will abide by all the

"But we have heard about politician from Bangladesh saying that they have a right over Bengal, Bihar and Odisha ... I wish them mental peace and health and advice them to stay calm ... but at the same time I will remind them that we will not lick lollipops while their forces will try to occupy our land," Banerjee said to a thumping roar inside the House.

Amid ongoing attacks on the minority Hindus and vandalisation of their religious places a section Bangladesh Ülema and the political leaders have been pouring venom on India asking people to boycott Indian consumer products and preaching Gazba e Hind (subjugate India). The BNP leader in that context had told a gathering that his country had "a legitimate right over Bangla, Bihar and Odisha as they were once ruled by our Nawab Siraj ud Daulah. The Chief Minister's statement came on a day when Indian Foreign Secretary met his counterpart during when he made a candid expression of India's stand on the repression of minorities.

Accordingly Banerjee said, "We are quite conscious and active enough. We also test patience because we learnt it from Rabindranath Tagore," reminding India's patience was not to be misconstrued as its weakness.

She said, "I ask all and sundry to act rationally and stay calm and not get influenced by communal forces," she said. Bengal Opposition Leader Suvendu Adhikari however "refuse" to take Banerjee's speech "on face value." He said, "the Chief Minister

CPI(M) files intervening application in SC on Places of Worship Act, 1991

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE

The CPI(M) on Monday filed intervening application in Supreme Court oppos-ing the petitions which chal-lenge the constitutionality of the Places of Worship Act, 1991. The party's petition rep-resented by polit bureau member Prakash Karat, said the Act preserves India's secular fabric and sought the top court's intervention in stopping survey orders on mosques by several courts across the country.

The polit bureau in a statement cited that many such surveys of ancient mosques to verify the presence of temple ruins lying underneath is creating communal tensions in many places. "After Varanasi and Mathura, in Sambhal, a survey was ordered of a 16th century mosque by a lower court. This resulted in violence in which four Muslim youth were killed. Following this, a similar petition has been entertained in the civil court in Ajmer regarding the Ajmer Sharif Dargah," the party said.

In a statement here after a two-day meeting of the CPI(M) Politburo on December 7-8, the Left party said it is unfortunate that the Supreme Court has not intervened to put a stop to such lit-igations. "The 2019 five-member bench judgment of the Supreme Court on the Ayodhya dispute had categorically upheld the validity of the law and its enforcement. Given this direction, it is incumbent on the apex court to intervene to put a stop to legal proceedings, which are violative of the Act," the CPI(M) said.

Several litigations filed in various courts related to temple-mosque disputes have come into the limelight, including on Gyanvapi Mosque in Varanasi, Shahi Idgah Mosque in Mathura, Shahi Jama Masjid in Sambhal, Ajmer Dargah of Sufi saint Moinuddin Chishti and Budaun's Jama Masjid Shamsi, where petitioners have claimed that these were built after destroying ancient temples and sought permission to offer Hindu prayers

The Supreme Court has constituted a special bench to hear a batch of PILs challenging the validity of certain provisions of the Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act, 1991 law that prohibits filing a lawsuit to reclaim a place of worship or seek a change in its character from what prevailed on August 15, 1947. Manipur violence: SC asks State to give details on arson, property encroachments

The Supreme Court on Monday directed the Manipur Government to submit a detailed sealed cover report on the number of properties that were fully or partially burnt, looted, or encroached upon during the ongoing ethnic vio-lence in the State. The bench comprising Chief Justice Sanjiv Khanna and Justice Sanjay Kumar emphasised the need for the State to address the grievances of the displaced persons and take steps to restore their properties.

The Bench asked the Manipur government, represented by Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, to provide specific details such as "buildings burnt or partially burnt, buildings looted, buildings trespassed or encroached upon". The report should also provide information about the owners and current occupants said. "We also direct the State Government to provide the following details: 1. Buildings burnt and partially burnt, 2. in a sealed cover." NMC issues new guidelines to identify 'fake patients' in medical colleges

 $I^{\text{n a first the National Medical}}_{\text{Commission (NMC) has}}$ issued new guidelines aimed at identifying "fake patients" in medical colleges and institueking approval for nev establishments or an increase in undergraduate (UG) and postgraduate (PG) seats.

The guidelines are aimed at addressing concerns about medical institutions admitting fake patients—individuals who do not require inpatient treatment-just to meet bed occupancy requirements. These guidelines are being introduced after instances were reported where some medical institutions or colleges admitted fake patients (i.e., individuals who do not require treatment or inpatient care) to fulfill bed occupancy and investigation requirements.

According to the guidelines, admission of large numbers of patients on the day of inspection or the previous day, admission of multiple patients from the same family or the admit-

Fifth edition of IYC spokesperson talent search competition launched

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

Indian Youth Congress on Monday launched the 5th edition of its flagship program 'Young India Ke Bol'. On this occasion, National President of Indian Youth Congress Uday Bhanu Chib and National AICC Incharge of NSUI Kanhaiya Kumar launched the poster of the program and appealed to the youth across the country to join the program.

Speaking on the occasion, Bhanu Chib said that this year the event will focus on two of the most serious and worrying problems that our country is facing today - the alarming rise in unemployment and the rampant drug menace, which are deeply affecting the youth of India and future generations.

"The rampant problem of unemployment and drug addiction is hollowing out the roots of our society. The scourge of these problems is failed to fulfill its promise of affecting the lives of the youth and hampering the development of the entire society. We have to make united efforts to find solutions to these challenges," he said. "The BJP had promised to provide 2 crore jobs every year to tackle unemployment, but the reality is that in the last decade, since the Modi government came to power in 2014, only 0.3% of the candidates who applied have got government jobs. That is, only 3 out of every 1,000 applicants got permanent government jobs," Bhanu said. He further said, 'In 2022, Union Minister Iitendra Singh admitted in Parliament that out of the 22 crore applications received by the governtioned. ment since 2014, only 7,22,311 candidates were appointed. This statement

makes it clear that the Modi

2 crore jobs. The number of 22 crore applications reflects the deplorable state of employment in the country. The BJP has taken only electoral posturing and superficial steps to deal with the problem of unemployment, which exposes its careless mindset towards this serious issue," said the IYC chief.

Before the Lok Sabha elections, the BJP made a false promise of filling govern-ment vacancies in the name of 'Rojgar Mela', but what was the result of it? The situation has become more frightening. Not only unemployment, but the problem of drug addiction in the country has also taken a serious turn, Bhanu men-

Youth Congress to involve the youth of the country in the struggle against the BJP Under this idea, a spokesperson search program called 'Young India Ke Bol' was started. This year, the main focus of the 5th edition of 'Young India Ke Bol' will be on the complete failure of the BJP government to deal with the problem of drug addiction and unemployment. This program is in line with the national campaign of Indian Youth Congress Naukri Do, Nasha Nahi', which aims to provide a platform to youth, students, professionals, grassroots workers and political enthusiasts, so that they can raise their voice and reach this irresponsible government," stated an IYC statement.

The application process for this competition will start from 15 December 2024 through 'With IYC App'. Interested participants will have to submit their videos on both these issues. Participants of this program will be invited at the state and national level, and they will be given the unique opportunity to become the state and national spokesperson of the Indian Youth Congress. Also, they will get a chance to express the party's views on relevant issues, further said the state-of the country to participate in this program in large numbers and force the government to take effective steps to control the problem of unemployment and drug addiction. This is a golden opportunity to raise your voice and be a part of the change," he NSUI's national in-charge

Kanhaiya Kumar said that Youth Congress constantly fights for the issues of the youth of the country. "We have been doing many creative programs to change the situation of the youth in the country, to solve their problems. 'Ýoung India Ke Bol' is a platform for the youth of the country to present their side and join us. In this platform, the youth will express their views against unemployment. Today, the youth in the country do not have employment. The situation is such that even those from IIT-IIM are not getting employment," Kanhaiya said.

He also said that India is the youngest country in the world. 55% of the population is young, every fifth youth in the world is an Indian.

"India has never been so young. Such a young population, educated people, but what is the reality? Two youths are committing suicide in an hour. Youth suicide has also crossed the farmer suicide rate. It is such a painful thing that the suicide rate has overtaken the population growth.

Why is this happening? The reason for this is that on one hand, an educated youth does not have a job of Rs 5000, while on the other hand, Rs 5000 crores are being spent on the marriage of another youth. As part of a conspiracy, these youth are being pushed into drugs. If the youth is in his senses, he will ask for a job. That is why a conspiracy is being hatched to push him into drugs," Kanhaiya added.

harkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren on Monday took oath as a member of the Jharkhand Assembly on the first day of the four-day session of the House.

Parliamentary Affairs Minister Radhakrishna Kishore, Revenue and Land Reforms Minister Deepak Birua and Labour Minister Sanjay Prasad Yadav were among the ministers in the Hemant Soren cabinet who also took oath as members of the assembly.

The CM and the ministers were among 80 elected representatives who were administered the oath as MLAs by the assembly's pro-tem Speaker Stephen Marandi soon after the proceedings of the House began at 11 am. The House was adjourned till 11 am on Tuesday after the oath-taking ceremony. "All MLAs and ministers took oath today. We will move for next proceedings tomorrow,' the CM later told reporters. The Speaker's election is scheduled to be held on Tuesday, an assembly official said.

Kishore said Nala MLA Rabindra Nath Mahato is likely to be elected as Speaker of the House unopposed as all members, including those of the BJP, have given their consent for it. The four-day session will conclude on December 12. Besides Speaker's election, governor's address, presentation of the second supplementary bud-

BJP demands CBI probe into settlement of Rohingyas in Jammu

MOHIT KANDHARI JAMMU

The Jammu and Kashmir Unit of the Bharatiya Janta Party (BJP) Monday demanded a thorough CBI probe to identify all those responsible for rehabilitating illegal immigrants from Myanmar and Bangladesh in Jammu to change the demography of the

For the last couple of days, several Rohingya settlements in and around Jammu have come on the radar of security agencies following which a fresh security audit was launched to verify their records. Rough estimates indicated over 6500 Rohingyas are camping across different localities in and around Jammu. In the ongoing drive, the intelligence agencies stumbled upon credible evidence linking the involvement of Kashmir-based Government organizations (NGO's) in rehabilitating these illegal immigrants in the close vicinity of several vital security installations.

Taking serious note of these developments, the UT administration launched a massive crackdown against some of the landlords who have rented out accommodation and vacant plots to these illegal immigrants and booked them as per the law of the land. The UT administration also decided to disconnect the power and water supply to these plots and properties to evict them at the earliest.

Taking note of these crucial developments Chief Spokesman of the Bharatiya Janta Party Sunil Sethi along with senior party leaders Monday urged Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha to order a CBI inquiry to investigate and identify persons involved in bringing in and facilitating the settlement of Rohingyas and Bangladeshi in Sethi said that such persons/elements should be booked for anti-national activities and punished. The people should know as to who have been showing sympathy with the illegally settled foreign nationals and advocating their cases in the court of law. Earlier, Jal Shakti Minister Javed Ahmed Rana, a member of the council of ministers led by Omar Abdullah issued verbal instructions to the concerned authorities not to deprive them of essential water and power supply till the government of India takes a call on their issue.

Referring to the recent diktat issued by the National Conference, Minister Sunil Sethi questioned him to explain if they respect and fol-low the law of the country or they are above the law and have liberty to go to any extent to appease the illegal settlers. By siding with the Rohingyas and Bangladeshi, the NC is also playing with the future of the unemployed youth of the UT, as the Rohingyas and Bangladeshi nationals have engaged themselves in different jobs here.

"It is a matter of security concern that Rohingyas and Bangladeshi have settled in J&K UT, particularly in Jammu for years now, which is a few kilometers away from Pakistan. The BJP has been repeatedly raising questions on their entering Indian territory illegally, traveling thousands of kilometers, crossing half a dozen states and settling in Jammu, said Sunil Sethi. Sethi said that anyone wishing to settle in a country can apply through proper procedure and may get permission to come and settle but in case of these Rohingyas and Bangladeshi, they have crossed over illegally, and traveled so long with the motive of settling in Jammu. They are illegal and a threat to security as well.

Any yardstick cannot justify their settlement near the border. The only solution is their immediate deportation, he

The world of journalism lost one of its brightest stars on December 8, with the untimely passing of Vipul Nautiyal. And that too at an age when many are at the peak of their career, his departure has left a profound void. A celebrated journalist, a fighter with an indomitable spirit, and an empathetic human being, His relentless dedication to his craft and his humanity touched the lives of all who knew him. An integral part of The Pioneer family, Vipul Nautiyal was much more than just a journalist—he was an ardent soldier of truth. He minced no words when he disagreed when they needed to be told. Yet, he was equally generous with praise for work that impressed him or touched his soul.

I first got to know him through a common friend. From then on, our friendship blossomed during meetings at the Press Club, and I grew to admire him deeply. At the time, I was contributing oped articles to The Pioneer, and when he asked me to join the paper full-time, I did so without hesitation. I knew I had much to learn from him—and learn I did.

As a mentor and guide, Vipul sir played a pivotal role in shaping my understanding of various nuances of editing. He helped me manage the editorial and op-ed pages, setting high standards for every piece. His ruthlessness when it came to quality was legendary-stories that didn't meet his standards were dropped, regardless of the writer's stature. This unwavering commitment to excellence was a rarity and something I greatly respected.

His journey in journalism was neither easy nor conventional. He rose through the ranks, trying his hand at various roles—from marketing to circulation—before finding his true calling in journalism. A self-taught professional, he had an intuitive understanding of the craft, coupled with integrity and an unmatched dedication to his work.

In his early days of career when he worked as reporter, his reporting was meticulous, fearless, and insightful, often shedding light on socio-political complexities and amplifying the voices of the marginalised. In his last days despite his illness, he maintained a level of professionalism and passion that was awe-inspiring. Deadlines, late nights, and the high-pressure demands of the newsroom never fazed him, making him a role model for many aspiring writers.

The past one year was a testament to his resilience. Despite battling a prolonged illness, he never let his struggles dampen his positivity or generosity. Friends and family remember him as a beacon of strength, facing adversity with grace and courage. This same tenacity defined his career and inspired those around him. Beyond his professional achievements, Vipul sir will be remembered for his kindness and empathy. He was always ready to mentor young journalists, support colleagues, and lend a listening ear to those in need. For me, he was not just a boss but a friend, philosopher, and guide. I called him Vipul sir which sometimes annoyed him. Renewed vigour

PM Modi and the King Wangchuck's meeting strengthens ties with the Himalayan kingdom and lays the groundwork for future collaboration ndia and Bhutan share a relationship rooted in historical ties, cultural affinity and a deep commitment to mutual progress. This bond was reaffirmed during a recent ■ high-level meeting between Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Bhutan's King Jigme Khesar Namgyel Wangchuck. The meeting underscores the enduring importance both nations place on their friendship amidst a dynamic geopolitical landscape. The foundation of India-Bhutan relations was laid with the signing of the Treaty of Friendship in 1949, which established perpetual peace and friendship, free trade and mutual cooperation. This treaty was updated in 2007 to reflect evolving dynamics, It continued to emphasise close cooperation on defence, trade and cultural exchange. India has been a steadfast partner in Bhutan's development journey, assisting in key sectors such as hydropower, infrastructure, education and health. Bhutan, in turn, has been a reliable neighbour, sharing India's security concerns and supporting its diplomatic endeavours. The recent interaction between PM Modi and King Jigme Khesar sought to address emerging challenges and explore avenues for deeper collaboration. Hydropower is a cornerstone of India-Bhutan relations. Bhutan exports surplus electricity generated from its rivers to India, a mutually beneficial arrangement. Discussions focused on scaling up hydropower projects, ensuring sustainable energy practices, and addressing financial challenges related to project execution. India remains Bhutan's largest trading partner and the leaders explored ways to diversify trade and enhance connectivity. Emphasis was also placed on digital infrastructure and technology transfer to support Bhutan's aspirations for modernisation. Geopolitical developments, particularly in the Indo-Pacific and Himalayan region, were key discussion points. Both leaders reaffirmed their commitment to regional stability and countering security threats, including transnational crimes and emerging cyber risks. Recognising the importance of fostering people-to-people ties, leaders pledged to expand scholarship programmes, skill development initiatives and cultural exchanges. These efforts aim to empower the youth and deepen cultural understanding. The dialogue between India and Bhutan holds broader geopolitical significance. As China increases its outreach in South Asia, including in the Himalayan region, India's proactive engagement with Bhutan reaffirms its commitment to its smaller neighbours. Bhutan's strategic location makes its partnership vital for India's security and regional influence. India's support for Bhutan's participation in global forums reflects its willingness to amplify Bhutan's voice on international issues, including climate change. As both nations work toward common goals, their relationship serves as a model for regional cooperation based on trust, benefit and mutual respect.

Russians abandoning Assads is a stark reminder of the fact that promises of steadfast allegiance can falter when geopolitical will and resources wane he Vietnam War was fought between the forces of the North (supported by the Soviet Union and China) and those of the South (supported by the United States of America). While it lasted twenty years (1955 to 1975) the direct involvement of the American troops lasted about a decade from 1965 onwards. The scars of 58,281 US fatalities and 303, 644 wounded had tired the spirits, emotions and morale of the Americans, and they secretly negotiated a pull-out plan under the garb of the Paris Peace Accords that the Americans knew would not hold up.

The Americans made many insincere and knowingly immoral promises to intervene on behalf of its ally, the Southern side, but when the push came to shove, it pushed the Southern side under the bus with non-intervention or support. Later day US President Ronald Reagen was to coin the term 'Vietnam Syndrome' to suggest a reluctance to support an international military intervention, beyond a point. A similar reneging of support after almost a decade of direct military intervention was to face the Sovietpropped puppet government of Afghanistan, under Mohammad Naiibullah. Ultimately the political and popular will of the Soviets had waned as the human and financial cost of continuing the war in Afghanistan had waned. A few years later, exactly as it had happened in Vietnam, the Afghan government was ousted in a bloody offensive and Najibullah's corpse was dragged behind a truck through the streets of Kabul. Eventually, the Soviets left him to his fate. It was the sort of end of a regime that was far less than ideal as the land of many 'Great Games' earlier i.e., Afghanistan, had seen similar consequences of bloodlust with the British troops leaving Afghanistan in Jan 1842 (only one survivor had managed to reach the British controlled township of Jalalabad). Sadly, even Najibullans ouster wasn't to be the last of the 'abandoning' of a regime in Kabul.

In 2021, an exhausted and dispirited American force 'abandoned'

Everyone knew that the deal would not hold up and lo behold the Taliban stormed into Kabul, soon after. The 'longest war in US history' with a two trillion financial cost, a no-win situation, and mounting pictures of 'US body bags' had yet again forced the Americans to push their ally under the bus. By blindsiding its purported ally, the Americans had unilaterally let down its ally after making promises to defend the same. Afghan Vice President Amrullah Saleh was left mocking the US on its pusillanimous stand, "when a superpower decided to become a mini power".

Recently, and yet again, it was the decisive reluctance of a major power and ally i.e., Russia and Iran, that left the beleaguered Syrian Government of Bashar Al Assad, to its inevitable fate and within days of some token support, the Syrian capital of Damascus fell to rebels, who routed the Russia-Iran supported Bashar Al Assad regime. To be fair, the aban donment' of Bashar Al Assad cannot be compared to the Vietnam or Afghanistan situations, as the principal power

Russia is already bleeding and reeling under the humiliating and costly stalemate on the Ukrainian front, whereas the Iranians and their strategic regional proxies (e.g. Hezbollah and the Houthis) were getting systematically decimated and attacked with literal impunity.

After the Syrian rebels had taken over Idlib and were dashing the next profile target of Homs, the Russian fighter planes did bomb some rebel strongholds, but it simply wasn't enough. Soon, the Syrian rebels made the kill for Damascus, and the isolated and unsupported forces of Bashar Al Assad simply couldn't hold on. e are social beings. Communication with others is as integral to us as breathing. We often find conflicting conversations blowing out of proportion, sometimes leading to even a break in relationships. Unpleasantness can be avoided if we are mindful of others.We had lived in bungalows in wellplanned colonies for a better part of our lives.

It was easy to be more social in such surroundings when we met only on social occasions. We, and more like us, have moved to condominium complexes only over the past few years. Private spaces are diminishing as neighbours fall over each other, literally and figuratively. This is a new life that we are still adjusting to. I noticed something different about a neighbour recently as we gathered for a meeting. We indulged in some idle banter before the start of serious business. It was a light-hearted conversation, over which we could smile or chuckle. Or so I thought, till I received his call the next day. I got the message loud and

One morning, one of the members told me that it was good that he was now a part of the management body, otherwise he would have vehemently opposed some of the proposals. I could not fathom the logic. A wrong could not have been right only by his being inside the team. In yet another instance recently, two ladies insisted that they were right in their respective contentions.

As the arguments went back and forth, I could see the gradual stubborn look on the faces of both, an indication that they were no longer listening to each other. As an independent observer, I realized that both were talking the same, albeit in different words.

They were not taking the time to pause and reflect before responding. There is one more incident that I may not forget easily. I felt aggrieved enough to write to the promoter of our condoclear that he was upset over environment, were it not minium complex about the

Addressing Hindu persecution in Bangladesh

India must take decisive action to safeguard the persecuted and assert its role as a defender of minority rights, cultural identity and regional stability

as a passive observer. Instead, it must respond with decisive and proactive measures to safeguard not only the Hindu minority in Bangladesh but also its own cultural and historical ethos. Reports of widespread violence against Hindus in Bangladesh reveal a pattern of calculated aggression. From desecration of temples and destruction of property to orchestrated violence, these acts are not isolated incidents but part of a broader, systematic campaign. The roots of this antagonism can be traced back to the Great Bengal Partition of 1905 when radical elements sought to establish an Islamic dominion in the region. Although temporarily disrupted by Bangladesh's liberation in 1971, the vision of Darul-ul-Islam—a dominion governed by Islamic law-has been rekindled.

Under the current regime, these historical grievances have been weaponised to erode Hindu culture and population. What makes the situation more alarming is the reported nexus between the Bangladeshi government, Pakistan's ISI, radical jihadi groups, and influential ideologues like Jamaat-e-Islami. These forces seem united in their goal of reshaping Bangladesh's demographic and cultural landscape to align with extremist ideologies.

Mohammad Yunus and the Shadow of Global Influence

sial figure of Mohammad Yunus, a Nobel laureate who reportedly plays a significant role in the regime's ideological alignment. While his global reputation as a microfinance pioneer lends him an aura of credibility, his alleged affiliations with anti-Hindu policies and his ties with external powers, including China and certain factions in the United States, raise concerns.

These alignments have not only emboldened the regime but have also enabled it to criticise India under the pretext of democracy and human rights violations. This geopolitical manipulation, leveraging both soft power and hard alliances, directly challenges India's sovereignty and its role as a regional stabiliser. India must counter these narratives with truth and assert its position as a defender of minority rights. The current crisis mirrors the challenges faced by India in 1971. The liberation of Bangladesh under Indira Gandhi was driven by humanitarian and strategic imperatives—protecting millions of refugees and dismantling a regime that perpetuated genocide. Today, the targeting of ities of 1971 when Hindus com-Hindus in Bangladesh represents a similar humanitarian catastro-phe and a strategic threat. India, home to the largest Hindu population in the world, bears a unique responsibility to safe-guard its diaspora and kin. The Narendra Modi government has a historic opportunity to emulate the bold decisions of 1971, reaffirming India's role as a protector of justice and a regional power-

A Strategic Path Forward

India's response to the crisis must be multifaceted, encompassing aggression, diplomacy, and strategic recalibration. India's security apparatus must transcend reactive measures. By identifying and dismantling rogue elements within Bangladesh that orchestrate attacks on minorities, India can send a strong message. Targeted strikes, similar to Israel's precision operations, could serve as a deterrent and emphasise India's commitment to protecting its Hindu diaspora. Bangladesh's economic reliance on India provides a powerful tool. By imposing strategic trade sanctions and mobilising international opinion, India can isolate the current regime, pressuring it to reconsider its policies. Efforts must also focus on high-lighting the human rights abuses faced by minorities in Bangladesh, garnering global support for the cause. Long-term stability in Bangladesh hinges on a government that respects minority rights and values democratic principles. India must support the emergence of a favourable and inclusive regime that can counter extremist ideologies. This approach, while controversial, aligns with India's strategic and humanitarian interests. A bolder proposition involves addressing the demographic realprised around 21 per cent of Bangladesh's population. Securing territories proportional to this demographic could provide a haven for minorities while addressing historical injustices. Such a solution would echo the decisive territorial realignments of 1947 and 1971, albeit adapted to contemporary chal-

The Hindu community worldwide must unite against these atrocities. India, with its population of over one billion Hindus, should lead by example, adopting a robust stance to counter persecution. Strengthened solidarity, coupled with decisive government action, can set a precedent for minority protection globally. Rebuilding Regional Stability The crisis also necessitates a reevaluation of India's relation-ship with Bangladesh. Despite nist and Public Policy Expert; the reevaluation of India's relation-India's pivotal role in Bangladesh's liberation, successive regimes have displayed hostility and indifference. This lack of gratitude underscores the need for a recalibration of India's foreign policy toward its neighbour. Through a combination of economic, social, diplomatic, and military strategies, India must assert its dominance in the region.

The message should be unequivocal: any violence against Hindus or hostile actions will be met with resolute action. Israel's unwavering commitment to its sovereignty and people offers valuable lessons for India. Despite being a small nation, Israel has consistently demonstrated the effectiveness of decisive measures in safeguarding its citizens. India, with its vast resources and geopolitical influence, must adopt similar strategies to protect its minorities and assert its regional leadership. A Turning Point for IndiaThe Bangladesh crisis represents more than a regional issue; it is a defining moment for India's foreign policy and its identity as a nation. By taking bold and proactive measures, the Narendra Modi government can reaffirm India's role as a defender of justice and Protecting Hindus in Bangladesh is not just about addressing a humanitarian crisis—it is about asserting India's sovereignty, preserving its cultural identity, and ensuring regional stability. Instead of hoping for UNHRC intervention, the Indian government must rise to the occasion, transforming the crisis into an opportunity to redefine India's role in South Asia. With decisive action, India can prevent history from repeating itself, ensuring that justice prevails and that the legacy of protecting minorities endures.

THE DIGITAL AGE There is alarming cognitive decline linked to overindulgence in mindless digital content

n a world saturated with endless entertainment, constant notifications and superficial distractions, the human brain faces unprecedented challenges. The term brain rot refers to the perceived decline in cognitive abilities or intellectual engagement due to excessive consumption of mindless or unproductive content. While it is colloquial and not a clinical diagnosis, it describes mental fog, reduced attention span and diminished problem-solving abilities often linked to prolonged screen time or low-value content. Studies suggest that heavy screen usage can correlate with reduced grey matter in the brain, which may impair critical thinking and memory, particularly among younger individuals.

It also contributes to mental health issues like anxiety and depression, driven by constant comparisons and exposure to idealised online content. The rise of social media, streaming platforms and short-form content has revolutionised how we consume informa-

While these platforms offer unprecedented access to global knowledge, they also foster habits of passive consumption. Endless scrolling and binge-watching also lead to mental fatigue and reduced attention spans, making it harder for individuals to engage with more complex ideas or tasks. Brain rot can also stem from a lack of intellectual stimulation. Activities that challenge the brain such as reading, problem-solving, or engaging in creative pursuits are often sidelined in favour of easier, low-effort distractions. Over time, this neglect can lead to a decline in critical thinking, memory retention and probstant multitasking, can contribute to cognitive decline. It is often said that chronic stress impairs brain function, particularly in areas responsible for memory and learning which creates a vicious cycle where individuals turn to mindless activities to escape stress, further exacerbating mental stagnation. Moreover, a sedentary lifestyle, coupled with a diet lacking in nutrients essential for brain function, can also lead to cognitive decline. In maintaining mental clarity and overall brain health, physical exercise and a balanced diet play crucial roles.

The effects of brain rot are far-reaching and can manifest in various aspects of life. A lack of focus and motivation often results in decreased efficiency and the inability to complete tasks effectively. Overindulgence in passive entertainment stifles the ability to think creatively or generate original ideas. The overuse of escapist media can lead to a disconnect from real-world emotions and experiences, fostering feelings of emptiness or dissatisfaction. Excessive reliance on digital communication can impair interpersonal relationships and the ability to engage in meaningful, face-to-face interactions.

Addressing brain rot requires a multifaceted approach that emphasises mindfulness, discipline and a commitment to personal growth. Setting boundaries for screen time and being intentional about the type of content consumed can help reduce the effects of brain rot. By choosing educational or thought-provoking material over passive entertainment the mind can be stimulated; by prioritising physical health such as regular physical exercise, a balanced diet and setting goals for personal and intellectual growth learning can help foster mental resilience and creativity. They will also help reduce stress and combat mental inertia.

The imperative of continuous learning in India's AI-driven future The rapid growth of AI, has intensified the demand for skilled professionals. Yet, a stark talent gap threatens this progress a promising solution in this Forward-thinking companies dechnology has become an integral part of our daily lives and work, making continuous learning essential to stay relevant. The rapid adoption of automation and advanced digital technologies, such as artificial intelligence (AI), is not just transforming industries but also reshaping the skills employers expect from their workforce. By 2027, it is projected that 80 per cent of engineering roles will require employees to undergo training and development to meet the changing demands brought about by AI advancements, according to Gartner.

In India, the demand for skilled professionals in technology-driven fields, especially AI, is growing significantly. Reports by BCG and NASS

COM indicate that the AI market in the country could grow to $17 billion by 2027, with an annual growth rate of 25–35 per cent. However, this growth is accompanied by a stark shortage of experts in advanced technologies. NASS-COM estimates that over a million skilled engineers spe-cialising in AI and related technologies will be needed in Beyond technical expertise, the coming years. Alarmingly, the talent gap could rise from 25 per cent to nearly 30 per cent by 2028, emphasising the critical need for skill development among both new graduates and experienced profes-

One significant challenge is the disconnect between formal education and the practical skills required in the job market. Every year, approximately 1.5 million engineering graduates enter the workforce in India, yet only a fraction secure jobs aligned with their field of study. This mismatch is not due to a lack of opportunities but stems from the gap between the theoretical knowledge imparted in academic institutions and the hands-on skills sought by employers.

companies now prioritise candidates with interpersonal skills and emotional intelligence, essential for thriving in collaborative and dynamic work environments. The India Skills Report 2024 highlights this concern, noting that while some states, such as Telangana, have made strides in job preparedness among the 18 to 21 age group, critical skill gaps persist. For roles reliant on AI and emerging technologies, the gap ranges from 60 per cent to 73 per cent. These statistics underscore the urgent need for educational institutions to revamp their curricula to better align with industry

Updating academic programmes is vital to bridging this gap. Universities and colleges must incorporate indus-

ing experiences into their courses. Today's workforce needs to think critically across disciplines and understand the broader implications of technology on economic, social, and cultural contexts. Flexible and continuous education plays a pivotal role in closing the divide between academic knowledge and the realities of the job market. Digital learning platforms offer context. With over 50 per cent of Indians actively using the internet, online education provides accessible opportunities to acquire new skills. Edtech platforms specialising in skill enhancement allow individuals to enroll in tailored courses and programmes, preparing them for rapidly evolving job landscapes.

The benefits of continuous learning extend beyond career advancement. Employees who are adaptable and committed to enhancing their knowledge contribute to organisational innovation and help businesses navigate shifting market dynamics. For instance, as AI becomes more integrated across industries, the demand for experts in these technologies will continue to rise.

are already investing in employee training programs to stay competitive and ensure their teams are equipped to handle emerging challenges. Despite these efforts, many traditional educational institutions struggle to meet industry needs. Relying heavily on lecture-based teaching, these institutions often focus on theoretical knowledge at the expense of practical skills. Students have limited access to industry-standard equipment or opportunities for hands-on problem-solving, leaving them ill-prepared for the workforce. Integrating real-world applications into academic learning bridges the gap between the-oretical instruction and practical expertise, ensuring graduates are ready to meet employer expectations. Upskilling is not just about addressing current deficiencies—it involves cultivating a mindset of continuous improvement. In a world where industries evolve rapidly and the shelf life of skills is shrinking, professionals must adapt to new technologies and methodologies quickly. Skills once considered indispensable can become obsolete within a few years, making the ability to learn and relearn critical for success in today's professional environment. For individuals and organisations alike, embracing continuous education is a strategic move to navigate the present and excel in the future.

President Joe Biden speaks about the sudden collapse of the Syrian government under Bashar Assad from the Roosevelt Room at the White House in Washington

Fall of Assad regime 'historic opportunity for people' of Syria: Biden

PTI WASHINGTON

The fall of the Assad regime that brutalised, tortured and killed thousands of innocent Syrians over the past half a century is a historic opportunity for the people of the country, outgoing US President Joe Biden said on Sunday.

Biden spoke at the White House hours after rebel groups took over the country following more than a dozen years of violent civil war and decades of leadership by Bashar Assad and his family.

"After 13 years of civil war in Syria and more than half a century of brutal authoritarian rule by Bashar Assad and his father before him, rebel forces have forced Assad to resign his office and flee the country. We're not sure where he is, but there's word that he's in Moscow. At long last, the Assad regime has fallen," Biden said. 'This regime brutalised, tortured and killed hundreds of thousands of innocent Syrians. The fall of the regime is a fundamental act of justice. It's a moment of historic opportunity for the long-suffering people of Syria to build a better future for their proud country," he

It is also a moment of risk and uncertainty, Biden said, adding that over the past few weeks, the support of Hezbollah, Iran and Russia to the Assad regime had collapsed. He observed a new opportunity for the people of Syria now.

The Syrian opposition that brought down Assad is led by Hayat Tahrir al-Sham, which the US says is a terrorist organisation with links to al-Qaida. However, the group says it has "Looking ahead, the United States will do the following. First, we'll support Syria's neighbours, including Jordan, Lebanon, Iraq, and Israel, should any threat arise from Syria during this period of transition. I will speak with leaders of the region in the coming days. I had long discussions with all of our people earlier this morning. I'll send senior officials from my administration to the region as "Second, we will help ensure stability in eastern Syria, protecting our personnel against any threats, and our mission against ISIS will be maintained, including security of detention facilities, where ISIS fighters are being held as prisoners. We're clear-eyed about the fact that ISIS will try to take advantage of any vacuum to reestablish its capabilities and create a haven. We will not let that happen," he said. "Just today, US forces conducted a dozen precision strikes, airstrikes, within Syria, targeting ISIS camps and operatives. Third, we will engage with all Syrian groups, including within the process led by the United Nations to establish a transition away from the Assad regime towards independent and sovereign Syria, with a new constitution, and a new government that serves all Syrians. And this process will be determined by the Syrian people themselves," Biden said. A day earlier, Trump ruled out any role for the US in Syria. "In any event, Syria is a mess, but is not our friend and THE UNITED STATES SHOULD HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH IT. THIS IS NOT OUR FIGHT. LET IT PLAY OUT. DO NOT GET INVOLVED! he wrote on Truth Social.

US Secretary of State Tony Blinken said the US would closely monitor developments as they unfold and engage with our partners in the region. We will support international efforts to hold the Assad regime and its backers accountable for atrocities and abuses perpetrated against the Syrian people, including the use of chemical weapons and the such as Austin Tice," he said. Blinken said the United States strongly supports a peaceful transition of power to an accountable Syrian government through an inclusive

Syrian-led process. During this transitional period, the Syrian people have every right to demand the preservation of state institutions, the resumption of key services, and the protection of vulnerable communities, he said.

Will make it easier for people to come in legally, says Trump

Insists on deporting all illegal immigrants

PTI WASHINGTON

Incoming US President Donald Trump on Sunday said he would go ahead with his plans to deport all illegal immigrants after entering the Oval Office and said at the same time he would make it easier for people to come in, a move that could be helpful to Indians who mostly enter the US legally.

"I think you have to do it," Trump told NBC News in an interview when asked if he plans to deport everyone who is here illegally over the next four years. "You have to have, rules, regulations, laws. They came in illegally. People that have been treated very unfairly are the people that have been online for 10 years to come into the country. We are going to make it very easy for people to come in terms of they have to pass the test. They have to be able to tell you what the Statue of Liberty is. They have to tell you a little bit about our country. They have to love our country," Trump said.

Israeli strikes in Gaza kill 6, target chemical weapons sites in Syria

AP JERUSALEM

Palestinian medical officials said Monday that Israeli strikes in the central Gaza Strip overnight killed at least six people, including one woman. The strikes came as ousted Syrian leader Bashar Assad fled to Moscow on Sunday and received asylum from his longtime ally, according to Russian media, hours after rebels seized control of Damascus.

The UN Security Council plans to hold emergency closed consultations on Syria later Monday at Russia's request.

Among the dead in the overnight Israeli strikes were Raed Ghabaien, who was released from Israeli detention in 2014, according to the Al-Aqsa Martyrs Hospital, where the casualties were taken. He was killed along with his wife when an Israeli strike hit their tent in the central town of Zuweida, the hospital records showed. Two other people were killed in a strike that hit their house late Sunday in the builtup Nuseirat refugee camp. Another two were killed in a strike in the Wadi Gaza area early Monday.

An Associated Press journalist counted the bodies at the hospital's morgue.

Îsrael's offensive has killed over since the start of the war, according to local health authorities. They say most of the dead are women and children but do not distinguish between fighters and civilians. Israel says it only strikes militants and blames Hamas for civilian deaths because its fighters operate in residential areas. The war began when Hamasled militants stormed into southern Israel on Oct 7, 2023, killing some 1,200 people, mostly civilians, and abducting around 250, including older adults and children. Around 100 hostages are still inside are believed to be dead.

Turkish foreign minister says Ankara hopes for an inclusive govt in Syria: Turkish Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan said Monday that Ankara hopes the fall of the Syrian government will usher in a new era where different ethnic and religious groups can live peacefully under an inclusive new government.

Fidan also said his country hopes that a "new Syria" would maintain good relations with its neighbors and bring stability to the volatile region. The developments in Syria yesterday have given us a glimmer of hope," Fidan said in a speech to Turkish ambassadors. We expect international actors, especially the United Nations, to reach out to the Syrian people and support the formation of an inclusive government." The minister said Turkey would continue to support Syria's territorial and political unity and work toward the country's "prosperity, security and stability But Fidan said it was important that the Islamic State group and Kurdish militants do not take advantage of the situation, adding that Turkey "would work with determination" to prevent Syria from turning into a "haven for terrorism." "Turkey, which has reached out rian brothers during difficult times, will also be by their side, as the new page opens in Damascus," Fidan said. "We believe that the Syrian people will also make

S Korea's Justice Ministry imposes travel ban on President Yoon over martial law

South Korea's Justice Ministry on Monday imposed an overseas travel ban on President Yoon Suk Yeol as authorities investigate allegations of rebellion and other charges in connection with his short-lived declaration of martial law last week.

Yoon's martial law decree last Tuesday, which brought special forces troops into Seoul streets, plunged South Korea into political turmoil and caused worry among its key diplomatic partners and neighbours.

On Saturday, Yoon avoided an opposition-led bid to impeach him, with most governing party lawmakers boycotting a parliamentary vote. But the opposition parties vowed to submit a new impeachment motion against him this week.

Bae Sang-up, a Justice Ministry official, told a parliamentary hearing that it banned Yoon from leaving the country following requests by police, prosecutors and an anti-corruption agency as they expand their probes into the circumstances surrounding Yoon's power grab. On Monday, a senior National Police Agency officer told local reporters in a background briefing that police can also detain Yoon if conditions are met. The contents of the briefing were shared with The Associated Press.

While a sitting South Korean president has immunity from prosecution while in office, that does not extend to allega-

This means that Yoon can be questioned and detained by police over his martial law decree, but many observers doubt that police will forcefully detain him or search his office because of the potential for clashes with his presidential security service.

In the case of former President Park Geun-hye, who was thrown out of office in 2017 after being impeached by parliament over a corruption scandal, prosecutors failed to search her office and ended up receiving documents outside the compound because presidential officials turned them away.

After refusing to meet with prosecutors while in office, Park underwent questioning by them and was arrested after the Constitutional Court approved her impeachment and ruled to dismiss her as president in March 2017.

The main opposition Democratic Party called Yoon's martial law imposition "unconstitutional, illegal rebellion or a coup." It has filed complaints with police against at least nine people, including Yoon and his former defence minister, over the rebellion allega-

Sunday detained former Defence Minister Kim Yong Hyun, who allegedly recommended that Yoon declare martial law. He became the first person detained in the martial law case. The Defence Ministry last week separately suspended three top military commanders over their alleged involvement in imposing martial law. They were among those facing the opposition-raised rebellion allegations.

On Saturday, Yoon issued an apology over the martial law decree, saying he won't shirk legal or political responsibility for the declaration. He said he would leave it to his party to chart a course through the country's political turmoil, "including matters related to my term in office."

Since taking office in 2022 for a single five-year term, Yoon, a conservative, has been on a near-constant collision course with his liberal rivals who control parliament. The liberals have introduced a slew of motions seeking to impeach some of his top officials and launched a fierce political offensive against Yoon over a spate of scandals involving him and his wife.

In his martial law announcement on Tuesday night, Yoon criminals" bogging down state affairs and vowed to eliminate "shameless North Korea followers and anti-state forces."

Yoon's martial law decree last ed only six hours because the National Assembly voted it down, forcing Yoon's Cabinet to lift it before daybreak Wednesday. Some members of Yoon's governing People Power Party cast ballots against Yoon's decree, but the party later decided to oppose his impeach-

Experts say Yoon's party fears losing the presidency to liberals in a by-election if he is impeached and ousted, as they did after Park was removed from office. PPP leader Han Dong-hun said Sunday his party will push for Yoon's early and orderly exit from office in a way that minimizes social confusion, but he didn't say when that would happen. He also said Yoon will not be involved in state affairs, including foreign policy. Critics say Han likely wants to buy time to help his party restore public confidence. His comments on sidelining Yoon from state affairs have also sparked widespread concern and criticism that it violates the Indonesia's Java island AP SUKABUMI (INDONESIA) Indonesian rescuers recovered 10 bodies that were swept Agency said.

Landslides, flash floods hit away in flash floods or buried under tons of mud and rocks that hit hilly villages on the country's main island of Java, officials said Monday. Two people are still missing. Torrential rains since last week have caused rivers to burst their banks, tearing through more than 170 villages in Sukabumi district of West Java province, as mud, rocks and trees tumbled down mountainside hamlets, said Lt Col Yudi Hariyanto, who heads a rescue command post in Sukabumi. Landslides, flash floods and strong winds devastated 172 vilrary government shelters, Hariyanto said. Authorities have warned nearly 1,000 people to evacuate as more than 400 houses are threatened by extreme weather. The disasters also destroyed 31 bridges, 81 roads and 539 hectares of rice fields, while

1,170 houses were flooded up to the roof. Extreme weather has Rescue workers on Monday pulled out 10 bodies in the worst-hit villages Tegalbuleud, Simpenan and Ciemas, including three children, and rescuers are searching for two villagers who are reportedly still missing, Hariyanto said. Videos circulating on social media showed flash floods caused by heavy downpours in Sukabumi swept away almost everything in their path, including cars, motorbikes, buffaloes and cows.

Footage released by West Java's Search and Rescue Agency showed roads that were transformed into murky brown rivers and villages covered by thick mud, rocks and uprooted trees as soldiers, police and rescue workers pulled mud-caked bodies from a devastated hamlet. Seasonal rain from about October to March frequently causes flooding and landslides in Indonesia, an archipelago of 17,000 islands where millions of people live in mountainous areas or near fertile flood plains.

Development in every sector with mantra of 'Reform, Perform and Transform' is visible : PM Modi

 $P_{\text{Modi on Monday said the}}^{\text{rime Minister Narendra}}$ development following the mantra of 'Reform, Perform and Transform' is visible in every sector.

Addressing the inaugural of the Rising session Rajasthan Summit here, Modi said today every expert and investor in the world is very excited about India. "In the last ten years, India has become the 5th largest economy from the 10th largest. In the last ten years, India has almost doubled the size of the economy. India's exports have also almost doubled in ten years," he said. Modi stressed on the importance of having a large manufacturing base in India. "Today the world needs an economy that continues to function strongly even during the biggest crisis. It should

Air India to purchase 100 more Airbus aircraft

PTI MUMBAI

Private carrier Air India on Monday announced placing an order to purchase 100 more Airbus aircraft, comprising 10 wide-body A350 and 90 narrow-body A320 family aircraft including A321neo. These 100 new aircraft are in addition to the orders of 470 aircraft that Air India had placed with Airbus and Boeing last year, Air India said in a statement. The airline also announced it has tied up with Airbus for component and maintenance support for its A350 fleet. The latest order takes the total number of aircraft that Air

India ordered with Airbus from 250 to 350. The order placed in 2023 for 250 planes comprised 40 A350 and 210 A320 family aircraft. Air India in February 2023 announced that it would place an order for 470 aircraft, with an additional 370 options. This was confirmed in June 2023, with the comprising 40 Airbus A350s, 20 Boeing 787s and 10 Boeing 777-9s wide-body aircraft, as well as 210 Airbus A320/321 Neos and 190 Boeing 737 MAX single-aisle aircraft.

However, in December last year, the airline rejigged this order with 140 neo planes and 70 A320neo, as against the earlier order of 140 A320neo and 70 A321 neo aircraft.

Besides, it also reshuffled its A350 order with 20 A350-900s and 20 A350-1000s as against six A350-900 and 34 A350-1000s ordered in February 2023. "With India's passenger growth outpacing the rest of the world, its significantly improving infrastructure and an aspirational young population increasingly going global, we see a clear case for Air India to expand its future fleet beyond the firm orders of the 470 aircraft placed last said Chandrasekaran, Chairman, Tata Sons and Air India. These additional 100 Airbus aircraft will help position Air India on the path to "greater growth" and contribute to our mission of building Air India into a world-class airline that connects India to every corner of the world, he said.

additional aircraft, Air India currently has a total of 344 new aircraft incoming from Airbus, having received six A350s so far, it said placed orders for 220 wideand narrow-body aircraft with Boeing, of which 185 aircraft remain to be delivered, the company said. Meanwhile, Air India on Monday also said it has selected Airbus' Flight Hour Services-Component (FHS-C) to support the maintenance of its growing A350 fleet.

F1 in 2025: Close racing, Lewis Hamilton at Ferrari and plenty of new faces

AP ■ ABU DHABI

Even before he'd parked his car after winning the last Formula 1 race of 2024, Lando Norris made a vow to be champion in 2025.

"Next year is going to be my year, too," Norris, who was runner-up Verstappen this year, told the McLaren team over the radio.

After four different teams won races in 2024, next year could see an even closer contest for the title. Lewis Hamilton will be aiming for eighth championship at his new team, Ferrari, and there'll be ambitious young drivers joining the grid. CLOSE COMPETITION Major rule changes in F1 tend to shake up the established order, but can let advantage. When the same rules are in place for a while, teams tend to be more evenly matched. The season-long competition for the title in 2021 between Verstappen and Lewis Hamilton preceded a rule change for 2022.

Expect McLaren and Norris to be in the hunt next time. "The one thing I've learned this year is probably to believe in myself a bit more," Norris said Sunday. "I've certainly not come out on top as often as I would have liked in certain moments as a driver, especially in my fights against Max. Ups and downs will come, and then you judge a person by how he reacts in difficult times, not in good times. In good times, we don't have to judge. When he is down and out." Virat Kohli, who also looked subdued coming into the five-Test series in Australia, managed to hit his first hundred in 18 months in Perth. However, the star batter failed in the second Test with scores of 7 and 11 in his two innings. "Like Virat Kohli, he is one of the best cricketers in our country. If you put the four top batsmen, he will be there. If he is going through a rough time, it is only up to him how fast he can bounce back," Kapil said.

with alcohol-related and other health issues. He appeared frail during a recent public event held in memory of legendary coach Ramakant Achrekar. He was seen refusing to let go of his childhood friend Sachin

Tendulkar Kapil expressed sadness over Kambli's condition. emphasising the need for self-help alongside external support. "We should all try to support him. But more than us, he has to support himself. We can't look after anybody if that person can't look after himself," Kapil said.

"All the cricketers feel very sad about what we have seen. I wish his closest friends can try to get him some help, to look after himself, to go back to rehab. People do get this illness, but you have to get

Siraj fined, Head also sanctioned by ICC for Adelaide confrontation

PTI ■ ADELAIDE

Indian pacer Mohammed Siraj was fined 20 per cent of his match fee, while Australian batter Travis Head was also "sanctioned" by the ICC for indulging in a heated exchange of words during the just-concluded day-night Test

Siraj and Head were held guilty of breaching the world body's code of conduct following a disciplinary hearing on Monday.

"Siraj has been penalised 20 per cent of his match fee after being found guilty of breaching article 2.5 of the ICC Code of Conduct for Players and Player Support Personnel," the ICC said in a statement

The cited rule relates to gestures which disparage or which could provoke an aggressive reaction from a batter upon dismissal."

The ICC said Head too was

"sanctioned" for breaching Article 2.13 of the ICC Code of Conduct for Players and Player Support Personnel.

However, he escaped a fine for breaching the rule that relates to the "abuse of a player, player support personnel, umpire or match during international match.

Siraj and Head also received one demerit point each on their disciplinary records, marking their first offence in the last 24 months "Both admitted their offences and accepted the sanctions proposed by Match Referee Ranjan Madugalle," the ICC

Head and Siraj had a brief showdown on day two of the match that Australia won by 10 wickets on Sunday. Head had struck a splendid 141-ball knock of 140 before being castled by Siraj, who went on to give him an aggressive send-off following exchange of words.

India gets tricky group in 2027 Asian Cup Qualifiers final round

PTI NEW DELHI

 $I_{\text{a}}^{\text{ndia}}$ was on Sunday drawn in a tricky group along with Bangladesh, Hong Kong and Singapore for the 2027 Asian Cup Qualifiers final round matches, beginning March 25 next year. The draw, which saw 24 teams divided into six groups of four, was held at the Asian Football Confederation (AFC) House in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Only the six group winners will qualify for the main tournament to be held in Saudi Arabia in 2027 and join the 18 teams who have already booked their tickets after the second round of qualifying. The final round will be contest ed over six match days in a home-and-away format between March 25, 2025 and March 31, 2026 Aiming to qualify for the third successive time, India will begin its Group C campaign at home against Bangladesh. India is the highest-ranked team in the group at 127, followed by Hong Kong (156) Singapore (161) and Singapore Bangladesh (185). But, they won't be easy opponents. India has faced all three opponents in the recent past. The Blue Tigers last faced Bangladesh (1-1 draw) in the 2021 SAFF Championship Hong Kong (India won 4-0) in the AFC Asian Cup Qualifiers in Kolkata in June 2022, and Singapore (1-1 draw) in the Hung Th?nh Friendly Tournament in Vietnam in September 2022.
