SC rejects pleas of Bilkis convicts for more time to surrender

PTI NEW DELHI

 $E^{\mathrm{leven}}$  convicts in the case of gangrape of Bilkis Bano and the murder of seven of her family members during the 2002 riots in Gujarat will have to surrender on January 21 as the Supreme Court on Friday dismissed their plea seeking an extension of time to surrender. Observing that the reasons cited by the convicts have no merits, a bench of justices BV Nagarathna and Ujjal Bhuyan refused to grant them relaxation. The convicts had moved the apex court on Thursday seeking more time to surrender.

The top court had on January 8 annulled the remission the Gujarat Government granted to the 11 convicts in the highprofile case while slamming the State for being "complicit" with an accused and abusing its discretion. It ordered the convicts, who were released prematurely on Independence Day in 2022, to go back to jail within two weeks.

"We have heard senior counsel and counsel for the applicants and the counsel for the non-applicants also. The reasons cited by applicants to seek postponement of surrender and report back to jail have no merit inasmuch as those reasons in no way prevent them from complying with our directions. Hence the miscellaneous applications are dismissed," the bench said. The reasons seeking extension of the deadline to surrender included failing health, impending surgery, son's marriage and harvesting ripe crops.

The first five convicts who had sought relief are Govind Nai, Pradeep Mordhiya, Bipin Chandra Joshi, Ramesh Chandana and Mitesh Bhatt.

Later, the remaining convicts also moved a similar plea.

'The respondent himself is an old man who is suffering from asthma and is in really poor health. It is further submitted that the respondent was recently operated upon and had to undergo an angiography. It is also submitted that the Respondent is yet to undergo another operation for the treatment of 'Hemorrhoids'' Nai said in his plea. He also cited his bedridden 88-yearold father's ill health to seek relief hours and 15 minutes between January 19 and 26. Earlier, the restrictions were applicable only to non-scheduled flights with certain exceptions. The Indira Gandhi International Airport in Delhi is the country's largest airport and handles 1,300 flights daily. The 75th Republic Day celebrations on January 26, 2024, will feature French President Emmanuel Macron as the honored guest, marking the sixth instance of a French leader participating in Republic Day festivities. Until now, France and the UK were tied with five invitations each.

Landing or take-off of non-scheduled flights of scheduled airlines, and chartered flights will not be permitted from 10 am to 1:15 pm during the January 19-25 period. These restrictions will be in force from 6 am to 9 pm during the period from January 26 to 29. The NOTAM will not impact the operations of the Indian Air Force, Border Security Force, Army aviation helicopter operations, as well as state-owned flights would be arriving or aircraft/helicopters flying with the departing from Delhi airport for 2 Governor/Chief Minister of a State.

India will celebrate its 75th Republic Day next week with French President Emmanuel Macron as the chief guest; this will be the 6th time a French leader will be the guest of honor at a Republic Day parade.

As part of the security measures for the significant day, the operation of sub-conventional aerial platforms, including UAVs, paragliders, microlight aircraft, quadcopters, and hot air balloons, has been prohibited over Delhi in anticipation of Republic Day. The order came into effect on January 18 and will remain in force until February 15.

The order stated that certain criminal or anti-social elements or terrorists inimical to India may pose a threat to the safety of the general public, dignitaries, and vital installations by using these platforms. In addition to platforms such as paragliders, para-motors, hang gliders, UAVs, unmanned aircraft systems (UASs), micro-light aircraft, remotely piloted aircraft, hot air balloons, and quadcopters, the order also mentioned para-jumping from aircraft.

The research suggests that human-induced global warming and erratic rainfall could reduce the average lifespan human by approximately six months. Beyond the results of this study, Dr Roy is hopeful that the composite climate change index will standardise the global conversation about climate change, become a usable metric for the nonscientific public, and encourage collaboration and even friendly competition among countries to combat the impacts of climate change. Mitigating greenhouse gas emissions and adapting to a changing environment are of particular importance, the author says.

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

In a thoughtful consideration for the tourists of the diverse linguistic backgrounds including those from abroad thronging Ayodhya which is now on the global map for being home to the much revered newly constructed Ram temple, the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) has introduced a dedicated webpage catering to weather-related information for Ayodhya and its neighbouring regions.

The weather updates will be available in 140 languages like Hindi, English, Urdu, Chinese, French, and Spanish. The move aims to ensure the visitors have access to crucial weather information in a language they are comfortable with and prepare informed plans accord-ingly, said an official from the IMD.

This inclusive initiative provides essential information such as temperature, humidity, wind patterns, and precipitation details, ensuring a more accessible and user-friendly experience for the tourists.

To facilitate this, the weather department has created a spe-cial webpage on its official website. This webpage offers weather reports not only for Ayodhya but also for places around the town. The webpage is accessible through a link that appears as soon as one opens the IMD website. By clicking on the link, users are directed to the forecast section. "With the availability of weath-

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh on Friday dedicat-ed to the nation 35 infra-structure projects including 29 bridges and six roads of Border Roads Organisation (BRO), built at a cost of Rs 670 crore. These bridges and roads connect border areas and will ensure seamless logistic support to the armed forces thereby ensuring operational readiness.

The defence minister inaugurated these projects at Joshimath-Malari Road in Uttarakhand and commended the BRO for strengthening the border infrastructure of the country. He also said by constructing roads and bridges, the organisation is connecting the far-flung areas with the rest of the nation geographically, while also linking the hearts of the people residing in remote villages with the rest of the citizens. Rajnath stressed that connectivity is being provided to every border area in the country through roads, bridges and tunnels, describing the work as not only of strategic importance, but also pivotal for the welfare of the people residing in these regions.

"People living near the bor-ders are no less than soldiers. If a soldier protects the country by wearing a uniform, the residents of border areas are serving the motherland in

The Ministry of Defence is taking this very seriously and will seek coop-eration from friendly couneration from friendly countries in this regard, he added. Rajnath Singh made special mention of the BRO's contribution in the recent Silkyra Tunnel operation launched to rescue the trapped labourers in Uttarakhand. Commending the BRO personnel, especially women workers, for their tireless hard work during the operation, he congratulated the entire team of General Reserve Engineer Force (GREF) for carrying out its duties in the time of crisis. The event was organised on the Dhak Bridge, a state-of-the-art 93-meter long Class 70R bridge over Dhak Nallah, which was inaugurated by Rajnath on the site. The Dhak Bridge assumes strategic importance as it will provide increased connectivity to the borders and enhance operational preparedness of the Armed Forces.

It will also boost the socioeconomic development of the region as it is the only road connecting villages from Joshimath to Nitipass. This will not only promote tourism, but also generate more employment opportunities. The remaining 34 pro-jects include Ragini-Ustad-Pharkian Gali Road in Jammu and Kashmir. It is a 38.25-km long CL-9 road, which will provide all weather connectivity between Tangdhar and Keren sector, bolstering the operational readiness of the military.

Restive neighbourhood

As tension and friction between Iran and Pakistan escalate, it could be a major headache for India

t smells like a war is brewing in the neighbourhood. This time, Iran and Pakistan are trying to work out their differences with missiles. Iran used missiles and drones for its strike near Koh-e-Sabz in Balochistan, saying it was a militant hideout. In retaliation, Pakistan conducted airstrikes near Saravan, Siestan-Balochistan. Iran and Pakistan were purportedly targeting armed non-State actors — Jaish al-Adl in Pakistan, and the Balochistan Liberation Army and the Balochistan Liberation Front in Iran — that each country accuses the other of harbouring. The tension between them has raised concerns about regional stability, with potential implications for neighbouring countries, including India. The strained relations between Tehran and Islamabad have roots in various geopolitical, economic and security issues, each carrying its own set of consequences. One major source of friction is the Balochistan region. Both countries have accused each other of failing to address cross-border terrorism and smuggling activities, exacerbating mistrust between them. As India maintains close ties with Iran and seeks stable relations with Pakistan, the developments have caught New Delhi's attention. For India, the Iran-Pakistan spat holds several implications, including strategic interests. The Chabahar Port, developed by India in collaboration with Iran, has been a key gateway for Indian trade and investment in Central Asia and Afghanistan. Any disruption due to the Iran-Pakistan tensions might affect the smooth functioning of this crucial maritime facility. Security concerns are also on the rise, as instability on the Iran-Pakistan border may have repercussions for India. The potential for an influx of refugees, increased terrorism or the spillover of violence could create challenges for India's border security and counter-terrorism efforts. Economically, any disruption in the Iran-Pakistan relationship may affect regional trade dynamics. India has been striving to enhance economic ties with Iran, particularly in the energy sector, and maintain stability its relations with Pakistan for overall regional economic prosperity. Besides, the involvement of world powers could make things worse. The US is already at loggerheads with Iran and would like to bleed it by funding Pakistan's offensive in terms of dollars and drones, not to speak of heavy artillery which Pakistan could use against India as well. India may find itself in a precarious situation and might have to settle for a nuanced approach, siding with Iran but not annoying the US. This, however, presents its own set of challenges, given the complex nature of the situation and the strong anti-Iran stand of the US. New Delhi must carefully navigate its foreign policy to safeguard its strategic interests while promoting stability and cooperation in the region.

Ram Rajya: Treatises on good governance

PRAFULL GORADIA

Valmiki's Ramayana gives us a vivid picture of what Ram Rajya was. It was an efficiently governed welfare State with a strong and responsive Government that cared for all he ethos of the Hindu polity has been derived from Vedic philosophy, which placed the practice of dharma above everything else. In the Vedic ideal, therefore, there are clear, well-laid-out constraints upon the powers a ruler can wield. It is out of this Vedic idea that the concept of the Ram Rajya was born during the era of Shri Ramachandra, and which is held out the ideal state for the benefit of people. Thinkers and political leaders in India have venerated the Ram Rajya as the ideal to be striven for, and it resonates as the ideal polity in the minds of most Indians. The realities of human nature do not lend themselves easily to the achievement of such a polity. Realpolitik has taken precedence over any single-minded pursuit of the ideal state. This is exemplified in the Western world by Niccolò Machiavelli and in India by Chanakya, the guru of Emperor Chandragupta Maurya around 310 BC. Machiavelli looked at the pursuit and perseverance of political power, while Chanakya along with Chandragupta, was the co-founder of one of the largest and most powerful empires of the ancient world. His Arthashastra remains even today a seminal treatise on governance. The pursuit of realpolitik for a strong and powerful, yet ideal and welfare-oriented state precedes even Chanakya. Krishna Rajya, therefore, is as important, as the Ram Rajya that preceded it. Much can be gleaned of the political institutions of the Ramayana era, loosely termed as Ram Rajya, from Valmiki's Ramayana. These provide researchers, scholars and lay readers with some idea of what Ram Rajva might have been like, notwithstanding counter-arguments that Valmiki's treatment of the political system of his age might have been more ideal than what actually materialized on the ground. Ás the sage Valmiki was a contemporary of Rama, the polity he described in the extant aspects of the ancient Indian polity of the Treta Yuga, the era of Rama. A deeper look at the state of the polity during Vedic times reveals parallels between the Vedic and Ramayana's ideas of government. Seminal work on the likely nature and shape of the polity during the period of Rama was done by Ms Pazhamaneri Chandrashekhar Dharma (1907-1977), a highly accomplished academic and scholar, and former lecturer at the Banaras Hindu University (BHU). Ms. Dharma's work The Ramayana Polity likely remains the only work of research on what the structure of governance and administration in the period of Rama must have been like.

There is a dearth of information on Ram Rajya. The irony is compounded by the fact that there are ample references in Valmiki's Ramayana itself, which deal with the sociopolitical conditions of the Treta Yuga. It is indeed possible to collate such details to derive a picture of the polity that existed during this period. Western interpretations either treat the Ramayana as a 'myth' or an allegorical representation, or talk of a so-called 'Aryan conquest' of southern India. The Ramavana however, nowhere mentions any Ayodhya. In the light of research of later years and evernew findings on India's civilizational history, most Western theories and their Indian reproductions are open to questioning and rebuttal.

Valmiki's Ramayana gives us insights into social life-habits, customs, attire, ceremonies, beliefs, castes, tribes, forms of government, the status of women, education, science, commerce, industry, navigation, etc. The term 'Aryan' one THERE IS A DEARTH comes across in this context is used solely for nobility of OF INFORMATION ON character and loftiness of values, and not for any particu-RAM RAJYA. In governance, the monarchy sense. The powers of the emperor or samrat were circumscribed by institutions like the sabha (royal assembly) that comprised princes, ministers, advisors and military officials. The sage advice and counsel of rishis is a striking feature of the epic age in India, a pointer to the fact that ancient Hindu society has always accorded primacy to spiritual and dharmic authority over the temporal one.

Apart from the governing body advising the king, the state also had representative organisations, called the Paura-Ianapada in the Ramayana. Paura means the representatives of the citizens within the capital while the Janapada are the representatives of the people in the countryside, both organs suggesting decentralization of power in Ram Rajya. A premium was placed on military organisation and power. It is a measure of the political efficacy of Rama's rule that following his defeat of Ravana, India under him did not have to face any serious military challenge from any other quarter, nor was there any social upheaval that sometimes follows a major conflict. The administration of Ram Rajya will be compared with the administrations of modern times too. ( The writer is a well-known columnist, an author, and a former member of the Rajya Sabha. The views expressed are personal)

Kamayana may be taken to be reflective of the prevailing political system of governance in the era they both lived. Valmiki's work embodies the founding or extension of any 'Aryan realm' in south India. Indeed, there is not even a hint of Rama even attempting any civilizational change outside described in the Ramayana and here the Ikshvaku-Raghu Dynasty's monarchy is the most prominent was not an absolute monarchy in any

The Maldives must adhere to neighbourhood dharma

Diplomatic tensions emerge as troll armies in the Maldives take on India, sparking an online clash and hinting at a deeper political crisis

During his recent visit to Lakshadweep, Prime Minister Narendra Modi enthusiastically showcased the breathtaking beauty of the archipelago on various social media platforms. The carefully curated photographs highlighted the pristine environment of Lakshadweep, primarily dependent on coral reefs. Modi's penchant for image-centric publicity has been evident, and in this case, he strategically used visuals to position himself as a forward-thinking leader.

In one of his social media posts, Prime Minister Modi encouraged adventure enthusiasts to include Lakshadweep in their travel itineraries. By sharing picturesque images of the tourist attractions in Lakshadweep, he aimed to boost tourism in the region. An anti-India campaign initiated by opposition parties gained momentum after 2020, with the slogan 'India Out' demanding the removal of Indian military deployment in Maldives. The situation escalated in 2022 when a crowd attacked an International Yoga Day event organized by the Indian High Commission in Male, leading to a setback in diplomatic relations. The anti-India sentiment intensified during the 2023 elections, with local issues, perceived failures of the Solih government, corruption, and the anti-India wave playing crucial roles in Dr. Mohammed Muizze's election victory.

LETTERS THE EDITOR

WHEN WILL THE GAZA WAR END?

Sir — I am writing to express my concern and dismay regarding the pro-longed conflict between Israel and Hamas in Gaza. Despite ongoing international efforts and United Nations intervention over the past four months, tensions persist, and the situation remains dire.

On a positive note, a recent development involves the emergence of a 'barter system,' facilitating the exchange of hostages and medicines. While this is a step in the right direction, the extensive damage to buildings and infrastructure in Gaza requires significant financial and time investments for reconstruction.

Media reports and images underscore the widespread destruction, emphasising the urgent need for rebuilding to restore habitability. Notably, the tunnel network in Gaza remains untouched by Israeli airstrikes, serving as a holding space for Israeli citizens taken hostage by Hamas

The economic impact of the Gaza war extends beyond the immediate conflict zone, affecting numerous countries. The longer the conflict persists, the more detrimental its consequences become. It is imperative for the United Nations to take decisive action to bring about a resolution and end the war. The continued existence of the United Nations is called into question if it cannot effectively address and resolve such conflicts, which have far-reaching humanitarian and economic implications.

FIRSTCOLUMN THE PROFOUND POWER OF LOVING-KINDNESS

The Buddha's teachings on loving-kindness resonate with contemporary psychology

BHIKKHU SIRI SIVALI ABHASARO

ove is a word that has been defined by numerous intellectuals and philosophers, especially in the West. If you delve into novels, you'll discover that each novel provides a unique definition of love. It seems like we've never seen this multifaceted side of love; it is an exceptionally subjective topic and can be quite disturbing for meditation and mindfulness. While one may think about figures like Mira and other Saints, it's crucial to differentiate between love and bhakti-these should not be treated as synonyms.

Bhakti begins with faith, sacrifice, renunciation, and devotion. It is a path that leads away from worldly matters and transcends them. On the other hand, love is akin to holding onto something tightly, and having a desire to possess it. The Buddha himself stated that love is a cause of suffering and fear, as it makes it challenging to understand the impermanent nature of the world. This is why Buddhism advocates for loving-kindness, which is neither love nor bhakti-it is the middle way. Loving-kindness is comparable to a tree; it provides shade for wanderers but doesn't expect them to stay or leave. It operates without expectations, simply doing what needs to be done.

In the "Karniya Metta Sutta" (Loving-kindness Discourse), the Buddha provides a beautiful quote: "Just as a mother loves her only son, you should also be kind to everyone in this world." Examining this statement carefully reveals that a mother can wholeheartedly love her own son, not others' sons. However, Buddha encourages drawing inspiration from this and applying it universally to all of humankind, urging against limiting one's compassion as a mother does only for her son.

In Buddhist psychology, loving-kindness possesses the characteristic of "Appamaa," meaning limitless or beyond limits. It offers freedom from aversion-filled thoughts and serves as a beneficial subject for meditation. During meditation, where negative thoughts often arise, especially those filled with aversion, loving-kindness meditation can be a tool to overcome them. It focuses on cultivating goodwill and warm feelings towards others, such as wishing for their happiness or success.

The Buddha, in his teachings, eloquently outlined the 11 profound benefits of practising loving-kindness. Embracing this virtue promises not only a serene mind but also tangible improvements in one's life. From experiencing peaceful sleep and waking easily to fostering love from others, including both people and animals, the ripple effects extend to protection from external dangers, radiant countenance, and a serene mind. The culmination of such a compassionate life is envisioned in a peaceful death and a subsequent rebirth in joyous realms-a testament to the transformative power of cultivating loving-kindness in every facet of existence. Engaging in the practice of loving-kindness, as endorsed by modern psychology, yields a myriad of benefits for individuals. This intentional cultivation of positive emotions not only diminishes negative emotions but also amplifies vagal tone, fostering a sense of positive emotions and interconnectedness with others. Additionally, the practice has been associated with a reduction in migraines, chronic pain, PTSD, and schizophrenia-spectrum disorders. Notably, it activates empathy and emotional processing in the brain, leading to an increase in grey matter volume and respiratory sinus arrhythmia (RSA), thereby contributing to a slowing of biological ageing. Beyond these physiological effects, the practice of loving-kindness also has interpersonal implications, making individuals more helpful, compassionate, and empathetic. It plays a pivotal role in diminishing biases towards others, enhancing social connections, and curbing self-criticism, creating a holistic approach to psychological well-being. In essence, the exploration of love across various philosophies reveals its intricate nature.

Is Pakistan on the verge of Balkanisation?

As Pakistan grapples with internal challenges and elections looming, Iran's actions may add complexity to an already precarious situation ver the last ten days, Iran has fired missiles across the Middle East into Iraq, Syria and even towards its south into Pakistan. Yet for all the missiles launched, Iran appears to have stopped short of a major escalation. The attacks are measured, seemingly to warn and flex its muscles and not get into a confrontation with the major players. However, what has baffled most analysts in India is why a fundamentalist Islamic regime in Iran would hit targets in Pakistan. The much-publicised attack on 'Jaish al-Adl' by Iran has a background. Jaish al-Adl has its origins in an organisation called Jundallah. The execution of Jundallah's leader, Abdolmalek Rigi, by Iran in 2010, led to the rise of Jaish al-Adl in 2012. It has Sunni fighters some of

and so did the attacks. Iran has been championing the Islamic cause in a way in the entire Middle East and will project these attacked elements in Pakistan as a proxy of Israel and the United States.

However, the question is, has Pakistan become so lawless and out of control that various terrorist organisations are mushrooming up here and there? Does the Pakistan government or the army have no power and authority to control non-state actors inside its territory? Is Pakistan losing its significance even in the Islamic World? Is Pakistan the hub centre of global terrorism and do various organisations all over the world find safe heaven inside its territo ry? Has the failing economy of Pakistan made it even more chaotic than Afghanistan? Is Pakistan on the verge of Balkanisation with POK, the Af-pak border and Baluchistan on the verge of breaking free? Pakistan is facing the worst existential crisis and is simultaneously facing major challenges on multiple fronts: economic, environmental, and political apart from military challenges. Therefore, the threat of balkanisation is absolutely real. It is almost an economic colony of China right now with religious fundamentalism making matters worse. The feudal setup of the 19th century has not completely died down and administrative (not democratic) institutes except the army have not evolved. The judiciary and parliament in Pakistan are still only an extension of the army and are barely in a nascent stage. The possibility of organisations like 'Mukti Vahini' coming up in POK is very strong in the future due to poor infrastructure development and bad human rights record in the region. Pakistan may balkanise on its own and faster than we think, though Pakistan may unreasonably blame India for it.

Under these circumstances, Pakistan may have been advised by China to do only cosmetic action against the strikes inside its territory by Iran, which they have now carried out. Pakistan is likely to play the victim card and ask some more money from the US to safeguard its borders. It may also ask China and Turkey to provide it with more drones and radars, and ask the US to give it more F16 to safeguard its borders. The use of existing drones taken from China and Turkey to hit some make-believe targets on the border with Iran is the best Pakistan could have done. Such drone strikes are a fig leaf to prevent humiliation. The reckless retaliation only proves how phoney the Pakistan intelligence and security network has become. If they knew about these socalled terrorists inside Iran's territory then why did they not act against them earlier? Why did they wait for a strike inside their territory by Iran to do a so-called pinpoint surgical strike? Pakistan has had friendly relations with Iran at many levels, so much so that Iran's nuclear program is credited to Pakistani scientists. If Pakistan had some intelligence about some 'terrorist' groups operating from Iran's soil the issue should have been flagged much earlier and resolved with a joint action. The bottom line is Pakistan and its border areas are a hub of global terrorism and Pakistan is unable to control these Non-State Acters which operate with impunity from within its territory. It may be recalled that the border between Pakistan and Afghanistan has been also volatile over the last few months. All these factors also point towards a situation where the state of Pakistan can be seen collapsing under its weight.

It is also clear now that China will have an overwhelming say in the coming elections in Pakistan Whatever the outcome of the election, it looks like Pakistan will be in chaos and will be a headache for India for some time at least. The overall situation in the Middle East looks very disturbing and it's about time a ceasefire comes about there or this conflict could spill over to other areas and regions as well. Considering the evolving situation in the Middle East, both China and the US will want a government that is favourable to them in Pakistan and it looks like both of them are therefore giving the Pakistani army a loose rope. This will only hasten the Balkanisation of Pakistan, as the common man in Pakistan has been fed up with being ruled by the army (directly or indirectly) for the last 75 years. nom have connections to the Sunni triangle in Iraq, with a stated mission to secure the independence of Sistan and Balochistan Province. Pakistan itself is wary of this group but right now hands of the Pakistan Army are full and elections are around the corner, so maybe they let Iran do their dirty work. It may howev-er be very difficult for the normal public in Pakistan to digest this humiliation. Iran on the other hand has been hyperactive following a dual suicide bombing this month claimed by the Sunni militant group Islamic State that killed over 90 people.

The attack took place on the fourth anniversary of Soleimani's death (a popular Iranian General killed by the US) and came as a blow to Iran's government. Iran by attacking targets in Iraq, Syria and Pakistan is trying to establish that it is a major player in the region and is going to retaliate if it is attacked directly or indirectly. Iran has time and again showcased itself as a Shia State that would fight against Sunni fighters across the region,

Scenes once confined to Hollywood war movies, such as building explosions, attacks on installations, and warfare atrocities, are resurfacing in the postmodern world order. Recent months have witnessed the rise of international terrorism, regional conflicts in West Asia spilling over into neighbouring regions, ongoing Russia-Ukraine tensions, and simme-

Looking ahead, the success of these initiatives hinges on the ability of nations to rise above geopolitical rivalries and work together for the common good. It is crucial to nurture a global mindset. Embracing this ethos can pave the way for a more secure, stable, and prosperous world. The responsibility lies with nations to uphold the principles of peace, justice, and equality, steering away from the temptations of power politics. ## Rifts among top Israeli officials N Korea tests N-capable underwater drone over how to handle Gaza war AP SEOUL which ended Wednesday in cations. waters south of Jeju island. It

AP JERUSALEM

Rifts are emerging among top Israeli officials over the handling of the war against Hamas in Gaza. A member of the country's War Cabinet cast doubt over the strategy for releasing hostages, and the country's prime minister reject-ed the United States' calls to scale back its offensive.

Only a cease-fire deal can win the release of dozens of hostages still held by Islamic militants in Gaza, and claims they could be freed by other means was spreading "illusions", said former army chief Gadi Eisenkot, one of four members of the War Cabinet, in his first public statements on the course of the war.

Eisenkot's comments late Thursday were the latest sign of disagreement among political and military leaders over the direction of Israel's offensive on Hamas, now in its fourth month.

Sparked by an unprece-dented October 7 Hamas raid into Israel that killed about 1,200 people, mostly civilians, and saw about 250 others taken hostage, the Israeli assault has pulverised much of the Gaza Strip, home to some 2.3 million people. Israel has said more than 130 hostages remain in Gaza, but not all of them are believed to be alive.

Israel's offensive, one of the deadliest and most destructive military campaigns in recent history, has killed nearly 25,000 Palestinians, according to Gaza health authorities, and uprooted more than 80 per cent of the territory's population.

Israel has also cut off all but a trickle of supplies into the besieged Gaza Strip, including food, water and fuel. Several dozen trucks with critical supplies now enter the territory each day, just a fraction of the pre-war volume of about 500 trucks. Both the United States and United Nations have said more aid needs to be delivered. A communications blackout in the territory was in its seventh day on Friday, the longest such blackout since the war began. The lack of communications hampers the

The United States, Israel's closest ally, has provided strong military and political support for the campaign, but has been increasingly calling on Israel to scale back its assault and take steps toward establishing a Palestinian state after the war - a suggestion Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has soundly rejected. Speaking during a nationally televised news conference on Thursday, Netanyahu reiterated his longstanding opposition to a two-state solution, arguing that a Palestinian state

Eisenkot, whose son was killed in December in Gaza, told the investigative program "Uvda" on Israel's Channel 12 television station late Thursday that "the hostages will only return alive if there is a deal, linked to a significant pause in fighting"

He said dramatic rescue operations are unlikely because the hostages are apparently spread out, many of them in underground tunnels.

Claiming hostages can be freed by means other than a deal "is to spread illusions", he said. In a thinly veiled criticism of Netanyahu, Eisenkot also said strategic decisions about the war's direction must be made urgently, and that a discussion about an endgame should have begun immediately after the war began. He also dismissed suggestions that the military has delivered a decisive blow against Hamas. Gallant has said troops disabled the Hamas command structure in northern Gaza, from where significant numbers of troops were withdrawn earlier in the week, and that the focus is now on the southern half of the ter-

South calls on divided UN council to break silence' on N Korea's tests

AP UNITED NATIONS

South Korea called on the divided UN Security Council on Thursday "to break the silence" over North Korea's escalating missile tests and threats.

"It's a big question," South Korea's UN Ambassador Hwang Joonkook told reporters after an emergency closed meeting of the council on the North's first ballistic missile test of 2024 on Sunday. South Korea is serving a twoyear term on the council.

The Security Council of 10 resolutions seeking - so far unsuccessfully — to cut funds and curb its nuclear and ballistic missile programs.

The last sanctions resolution was adopted by the council in 2017. China and Russia vetoed a US-sponsored reso-lution in May 2022 that would have imposed new sanctions over a spate of intercontinental ballistic missile launches. Since then, the two veto-wielding permanent council members have blocked any council action, including media statements

On Monday, Kim declared North Korea would abandon its commitment to a peaceful unification with South Korea and ordered a rewriting of its constitution to eliminate the idea of a shared statehood between the war-divided countries. He said South Koreans were "top-class stooges" of America who were obsessed with confrontation, and repeated a threat that the did not say when the test occurred.

"Our army's underwater nuke-based countering posture is being further rounded off and its various maritime and underwater responsive actions will continue to deter the hostile military maneuvers of the navies of the US and its allies," North Korea's Defense Ministry said in a statement.

"We strongly denounce the US and its followers for their reckless acts of eriously threatening the security of (North Korea) from the outset of the year and sternly warn them of the catastrophic consequences to be entailed by them," it said. State media described it as a new solid-fuel, intermediate-range missile tipped with a hypersonic war-head, likely intended to target US military bases in Guam and Japan. #### AP BERLIN erman lawmakers on GFriday approved legislation easing the rules on gaining citizenship and ending restrictions on holding dual citizenship. The government argues the plan will bolster the integration of immigrants and help attract skilled workers.

Parliament voted 382-234 for the plan put forward by centre-left Chancellor Olaf Scholz's socially liberal coalition, with 23 lawmakers abstaining. The main centre-right opposition bloc criticised the project vehement-ly, arguing that it would cheap-en German citizenship. The legislation will make people eligible for citizenship after five years in Germany, or three in case of "special integration accomplishments," rather than eight or six years at present. German-born children would automatically become citizens if one parent has been a legal resident for five years, down from eight years now.

Restrictions on holding dual citizenship will also be dropped. In principle, most people from countries other than European Union members and Switzerland now have to give up their previous nationality when they gain German cit-izenship, though there are some exemptions.

The government says that 14 per cent of the population more than 12 million of the country's 84.4 million inhabitants - doesn't have German citizenship and that about 5.3 million of those have lived in Germany for at least a decade. It says that the naturalisation rate in Germany is well below the EU average. In 2022, about 168,500 people were granted German citizenship. That was the highest figure since 2002, boosted by a large increase in the number of Syrian citizens who had arrived in the past decade being naturalised, but still only a fraction of long-term #### residents.

Interior Minister Nancy Faeser said the reform puts Germany in line with European neighbors such as France and pointed to its need to attract more skilled workers. "We also must make qualified people from around the world an offer like the US, like Canada, of which acquiring German citizenship is a part," she told reporters ahead of the vote. The legislation stipulates that people being naturalised must be able to support themselves and their relatives, though there are exemptions for people who came to West Germany as "guest workers" up to 1974 and for those who came to communist East Germany to work. The existing law requires that wouldbe citizens be committed to the "free democratic fundamental order," and the new version specifies that antisemitic and racist acts are incompatible with that. The conservative opposition asserted that ermany is loosening citizenship requirements just as other countries are tightening theirs. 'This isn't a citizenship modernisation bill - it is a citizenship devaluation bill," centre-right Christian Democrat Alexander Throm told lawmakers.

People who have been in Germany for five or three years haven't yet grown roots in the country, he said. And he argued that dropping restrictions on dual citizenship will "bring political conflicts from abroad into our politics." The citizen-ship law overhaul is one of a series of social reforms that Scholz's three-party coalition agreed to carry out when it took office in late 2021. Those also include plans to liberalise rules on the possession and sale of cannabis, and make it easier for transgender, intersex and nonbinary people to change their gender and name in official registers. Both still need parliamentary approval.

and at least one more villager remained unaccounted for following the landslide in a remote mountain village in the goldmining town of Monkayo in Davao de Oro province, Édnar Dayanghirang, the regional chief of the government's Office of Civil Defence, said.

Three more bodies were found on Friday, after the search was paused mid-afternoon Thursday due to the risk of another landslide.

"They were praying in the house when the landslide hit," Dayanghirang told The Associated Press by telephone Thursday night. "It's sad but it's the reality on the ground."

People living near the village were ordered to evacuate due to fears of more land- and mud-slides due to intermittent downpours, Monkayo Mayor Manuel Zamora said

Days of heavy rains also flooded low-lying villages and displaced more than 36,000 people in Davao de Oro and three other provinces, the Office of Civil Defense said. The weather began to clear on Friday in some areas.

The rains were sparked by what local forecasters call a shear line, a point where warm and cold air meet.

At least 20 storms and typhoons lash the Philippine archipelago each year, especially during the rainy season that starts in June. In 2013, Typhoon Haiyan, one of the strongest to hit on record, left more than 7,300 people dead or missing, flattened entire villages, swept ships inland and displaced more than 5 million in the central Philippines.

New York (AP): The remains of a Long Island man killed at the World Trade Center on 9/11 have been identified more than two decades after the 2001 attacks, the New York City medical examiner's office announced Thursday.

John Ballantine Niven, 44, of Oyster Bay, was an executive at Aon Risk Services, an insurance firm on the 105th floor of tower two of the trade center complex, according to obituaries at the time. He left a wife and a son who was 18 months old at the time.

Niven is the 1,650th victim identified from the deadliest act of terrorism on American soil, when hijackers crashed airplanes into the Twin Towers, killing 2,753 people.

"While the pain from the enormous losses on September 11th never leaves us, the possibility of new identifications can offer solace to the families of victims," New York City Mayor Eric Adams said in a

The medical examiner's office has been using advanced DNA analysis to identify victim remains in recent years.

Ahead of the anniversary of the attacks last September, the office said it had identified remains of a man and a woman, though their names were not made public at the request of their families.

'We will forever remember our heroes who perished on 9/11 and we appreciate the continuous efforts of forensic experts to help identify victims," Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Saladino said in a separate statement.

Washington (AP): The federal judge overseeing the 2020 election interference case against Donald Trump on Thursday rejected his lawyers' bid to hold special counsel Jack Smith's team in contempt for actions prosecutors took after the judge put the case on hold. # Pak, Iran agree on closer co-op on security issues

Pakistan and Iran on Friday agreed to the spirit of "mutual trust and cooperation" and the need for closer cooperation on security issues as the two sides began to pick threads of tattered ties following their tit-for-tat missile strikes in each other's territory. Foreign Minister Jalil Abbas Jilani spoke with his Iranian counterpart Hossein Amir-Abdollahian and expressed Pakistan's readiness to work with Iran on "all issues based on the spirit of mutual trust and cooperation", Pakistan's Foreign Office said in a statement. "He (Jilani) underscored the need for closer cooperation on security issues," said the statement issued after the two ministers spoke over the telephone. The positive development came after Pakistan conducted "precision military strikes" against what it called "terrorist hideouts" in Iran's Siestan-Balochistan province that killed 9 people on Thursday. The attack was seen as retaliation to Iranian missile and drone attacks on Tuesday, which targeted two bases of the Sunni Baloch militant group Jaish al-Adl in Pakistan's unruly Balochistan province.

Earlier, Jilani and his Turkish counterpart Hakan Fidan discussed the "ongoing developments between Pakistan and Iran", the Foreign Office said. He told Fidan that the military strikes were aimed at terrorist camps inside Iran and added that Pakistan has no interest or desire for escalation. Also, officials of the foreign

Responding to a query by The News International newspaper if the border tension between Pakistan and Iran will affect the planned polls and its schedule, the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) spokesperson said that the polls body is still determined and focused on holding elections as scheduled. Asserting that there is no proposal about reviewing the election date because of the Pakistan-Iran tensions, he said that the electoral watchdog is busy prepar-ing for the polls. ## Polio programme coordinator killed, cop hurt in attack in KPK

Peshawar (PTI): A Polio immunisation programme coordinator was killed and a policeman was injured when their vehicle was attacked in the restive Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province of northwestern Pakistan on Friday, police said. Unidentified assailants opened fire on the vehicle of Dr Abdur Rahman in Bajaur district when he was on his way back home from the district hospital, SHO Mamond Police Station, Dilawar Khan, said. The Rescue 1122 team provided medical aid to the injured persons and shifted them to the district headquarters hospital in critical condition. The doctor, however, succumbed to his injuries at the hospital in Bajaur, an official told PTI. The policeman, who was travelling with the doctor as his security personnel, was still in a critical condition, the official said. Last week, two people were injured when a bomb planted on the roadside hit a vehicle in the Bajaur tribal district. About two weeks ago, at least seven policemen on polio duty were killed and more than 20 were injured in the bomb attack on a police vehicle in Mamond tehsil. So far, 109 people have been killed in polio-related incidents since 2012. As many as 162 policemen and polio workers have been injured in the attacks on polio vaccinators since 2012.

Drone attack on oil depot inside Russia causes blaze

Ukrainian drone struck an Aoil storage depot in western Russia on Friday, causing a massive blaze, officials said, as Kyiv's forces apparently extended their attacks on Russian soil ahead of the war's two-year anniversary. Four oil reser-voirs with a total capacity of 6,000 cubic metres (1.6 million gallons) were set on fire when the drone reached Klintsy, a city of some 70,000 people located about 60 km (40 miles) from the Ukrainian border, according to the local governor and state news agency Tass.

The strike apparently was the latest in a recently intensified effort by Ukraine to unnerve Russians and undermine President Vladimir Putin's claim that life in Russia is going on as normal before its March 17 presidential election. Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy has vowed to hit more targets inside Russian border regions this year. Russia's air defences are concentrated in occupied regions of Ukraine, Kyiv officials say, leaving more distant targets inside Russia more vulnerable as Ukrainian forces develop longer-range drones.

The Russian city of Belgorod, also near the Ukrainian border, cancelled its traditional Orthodox Epiphany festivities on Friday due to the threat of Ukrainian drone strikes. It was the first time major public events were known to have been called off in Russia due to the drone threat. Ukrainian national media, quoting an official in Ukraine's Intelligence Service, said Ukrainian drones on Friday also attacked a gunpowder mill in Tambov, about 600 km (370 miles) south of Moscow. But Tambov Gov Maxim Yegorov said the plant was working normally, accord-ing to Russia's RBC news outlet. The Mash news outlet had earlier reported that a Ukrainian drone fell on the plant's premises Thursday but caused no damage.

In another strike fitting the pattern, the Russian Defence Ministry said a Ukrainian drone was downed on the outskirts of St Petersburg on Thursday. The drone wreckage fell on the premises of the St Petersburg Oil Terminal on the city's southern edge, according to Vladimir Rogov, who is in charge of coordination of the Russian-annexed regions of Ukraine. Mikhail Skigin, the terminal co-owner, confirmed that the drone was targeting the terminal. St Petersburg, Russia's second-largest city, is about 900 km (560 miles) north of the border with Ukraine.

In Klintsy, air defences electronically jammed the drone but it dropped its explosive payload on the facility, Bryansk regional Gov Alexander Bogomaz said. There were no casualties, he added. Russian telegram channels shared videos of what they said was the blaze at the depot, which sent thick black plumes of smoke into the air.

The fire is hard to put out and requires specialist equipment, Bogomaz said, adding that 32 people were evacuated from their homes near the depot. The same depot was struck by a Ukrainian drone in May last year, but the damage apparently was less significant.

 $L^{\mathrm{auding}}$  Sri Lanka for its "economic recovery programme", the International Monetary Fund (IMF) on Friday called for the introduction of property tax to widen the tax revenue base for the consolidation of cash-strapped island nation's faltered economy. Pakistan's caretaker govern-ment on Friday challenged in the Supreme Court the Islamabad High Court's verdict nullifying the jail trial of former prime minister Imran Khan in the cipher case for allegedly leaking state secrets.

In its petition filed in Pakistan's Supreme Court, the federal government implored Islamabad High Court's decision, saying that the high court did not evaluate the facts of the case properly. Advocate Rizwan Abbasi submitted the petition on behalf of the federal ministries of law and interior, contending that the IHC order was "not in consonance with the law" and "travelled beyond the jurisdiction". "In the petition, the government contended that the Islamabad High Court (IHC) did not have the authority to declare a special court formed to hold the cipher trial of the former premier as invalid," said Abbasi. The case is related to a diplomatic cable sent by the Pakistan embassy in March 2022 and Khan, 71, and one of his senior ministers Shah Mahmood Qureshi are accused of mishandling it for political purposes. Both were indicted last month and both pleaded not guilty. In November last year, IHC nullified the notification for conducting the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) founder Khan's jail trial in the cipher case registered on charges of leaking state secrets. ## After Taiwan's election, new envoy to US offers assurances to Washington, Beijing

Washington (AP): Taiwan's top diplomat in Washington has a message for both the island's Chinese adversaries and its American friends: Don't worry that Taiwan's new president-elect will worsen relations with Beijing and possibly draw the US into a conflict.

President-elect Lai Ching-te plans to keep the status quo in the Taiwan Strait, Alexander Tah-Ray Yui told The Associated Press on Thursday in his first interview with an international news organisation since he arrived in the US in December. The Chinese government has called Lai a troublemaker who will push Taiwan toward independence. But Yui said Lai is willing to engage with Beijing, even as the island seeks to strengthen its unofficial ties with Washington for stability in the region. "We want the status quo. We want the way it is — neither unification, neither independence. The way it is is the way we want to live right now," said Yui, Taiwan's defacto ambassador to the US, noting the stance is largely supported at home and will guide the new administration.

Yui spoke to the AP five days after Lai won the presidential election with more than 40% of the vote in a three-way race. Lai will succeed Tsai Ing-wen when he is inaugurated in May. His victory, which gives independence-leaning the Democratic Progressive Party an unprecedented third presidential term, was not welcomed by Beijing, which claims Taiwan as its own, to be taken by force if necessary.

Military action in the Taiwan Strait could draw in the United States, which has a security pact with Taiwan to deter any armed invasion from the mainland. Beijing refused to have any dialogue with Tsai because her party rejects China's claim of sovereignty over the island, and before the election had suggested to voters that they could be choosing between war and peace Deal values in India more than halved in 2023 to USD 66 billion despite high growth, as investors took a wait-andwatch approach, a report said on Friday. From a volume perspective, there were 1,641 deals - a drop of more than 20 per cent over 2022 -the report by consultancy firm Grant Thornton Bharat said

The firm's partner Shanthi Vijetha said lack of liquidity in international markets, volatile market conditions, and cautious investor sentiment hindered deal activities in 2023. "As India's emphasis on sustainability and environmental responsibility positions it as an attractive hub for opportunities in the global economy, we must first overcome challenges such as currency strength and global instability," Vijetha added. Merger and acquisition deal values dropped 72 per cent to USD 25.2 billion across 494 transactions, impacting the overall number the most, the report said. Outbound M&As were at USD 3.2 billion — as against USD 17.9 billion in the year-ago period — were the biggest drag, the report said, adding that the overall M&As were sluggish in the first half of the year, which recorded deal values of only USD 7.8 billion. The biggest transaction was Suraksha Group's acquisition of Jaypee in the real estate sec-tor that raked in USD 2.5 billion. On the private equity front, 2023 witnessed 1,045 deals with a collective value of USD 27.4 billion, which was a 23 per cent decline over the previous year. The biggest deal was Temasek Holdings' investment in Manipal Health Enterprises for USD 2 billion, the report said. A total of 57 companies went public and raised USD 6.2 billion in 2023, but the Initial Public Offers (IPOs) values were down by nearly a fourth as compared to the year-ago period as the average amount of money raised went down.

AUSTRALIAN OPEN Without handshakes, Ukrainian players trying to keep message alive

PTI MELBOURNE (AUSTRALIA)

Ukrainian player refusing to shake the hand of a Russian or Belarusian at the net has become a common sight on the tennis tours over the past two years. For those Ukrainian players competing at the Australian Open in Melbourne, it's a gesture that has more meaning than ever. "This is another reminder about the fact that there is a war in my country," Lesia Tsurenko said on Friday, after her match with Aryna Sabalenka from Belarus. "I do this for Ukraine. And, I think this is the right thing."

There was no handshake at the end of the match between Sabalenka and Tsurenko on Friday, nor after Marta Kostyuk and Elina Avanesyan played, although both Ukrainians did acknowledge their opponents. Two years on from the start of the invasion, the war continues but with Ukraine slipping down the news agenda, players are worried that their cause is being forgotten. "The worst thing is that you get too used to it, Dayana Yastremska told reporters in Melbourne this week. "And, this is very bad. Because most of the people are forgetting what is going on there. "We know about everything because we receive the news, we are reading, we are into it (but) the words are not hitting that hard like it was when the war just started. I think it's important to remember about it and do everything."

Kostyuk said journalists need to keep the news alive.

"They want the drama, they wanted news, they wanted all this heating between players and everything," she said. "The war is still there. People are still dying every day. I still don't understand what all these (Russian and Belarusian) players are doing here." When Russia invaded Ukraine in February 2022, the plight of Ukrainian players was uppermost in everyone's minds, with Wimbledon banning Russian and Belarusian players from

Svitolina describes it as her "mission" to keep Ukraine in the public eye, but Tsurenko said it's an increasingly difficult battle because "people don't want to hear bad news". "I get a lot of bad messages on social media (and) people (are) kind of annoyed if l post something," said Tsurenko, who revealed that she had worked with a psychologist to help her do her job while dealing with the emotions of the war. Seems like everyone, the whole world is kind of tired of hearing that. But unfortunately, it's still going on. It's part of my life and part of the Ukrainians' life.

And, we have to talk about it. We have to remind people about Ukraine, and of course about all other wars that are going on right now, around the world, how unfair it is. Of course, I would like all the wars to stop, especially my country, but I think this should be an effort from the whole world. Yastremska has personal experience of the war, with her grandmother narrowly escaping a bomb that hit her building earlier this month. "That was crazy," she said. "I woke up early morning before my match (in Brisbane). I had a late session and in the morning, I got to know that the rocket arrived on the house of my grandmother.

he most successful team in the Under-19 World Cup history, defending champions India will embark on a quest to add another trophy to their collection when a fresh bunch led by Uday Saharan takes on Bangladesh in their tournament-opener here on Saturday.

Avinash (Chennai Super Kings) have already landed IPL deals and will be keen to make their mark on the biggest stage before they graduate to topflight cricket.

Saharan, who hails from Rajasthan but has led Punjab across age groups, has scored in excess of fifty in his last three innings which also includes a century against South Africa. Last November, the right-handed batter who shifted base from Rajasthan to Punjab, cracked 297 runs in just four matches of the U-19 Challenger Trophy at 99 with four fifties. Not far behind him was Mumbai's Musheer Khan, another promising talent in this Indian side who raked up 268 runs at 89.33 with one century and two fifties in the domestic tournament.

Among bowlers, each of Aaradhya Shukla, Pandey and Kulkarni were among the top wicket-takers in the U-19 Challenger Trophy before the Indian team made its way to South Africa.

The team's form also favours India with this bunch winning each of their four matches in the U-19 tri-nation series in South Africa. The final against the hosts was washed out.

But India will also guard against complacency against Bangladesh having lost the U-19 Asia Cup semifinal in a largely one-sided contest in December. Bangladesh defeated Australia in its final warmup game. Squads:

India: Arshin Kulkarni, Adarsh

Vidarbha batters crumble to let advantage slip against Saurashtra

PTI NAGPUR

Vidarbha produced a meek batting effort in the first innings to squander the advantage veteran pacer Umesh Yadav gave them with a four-wicket burst against defending champions Saurashtra in their Elite Group A Ranji match here on Friday. Umesh took four for 56 as Vidarbha bundled out Saurashtra for a modest 206 but found themselves in deep trouble at 26 for 4, still trailing by 180 runs. It was an inept batting effort by Saurashtra, who are looking to regroup from a four-wicket defeat against Punjab in the last match.

Opener and wicketkeeper bat-ter Harvik Desai (68 off 95 balls) and experienced Cheteshwar Pujara (43 off 105 balls) helped Saurashtra cross the 200-run mark as they were rocked Umesh's hostility.

However, Jaydev Unadkat, Aditya Jadeja, Chirag Jani and Prerak Mankad took a wicket apiece as Saurashtra gained some ground over their opponents.

At Jodhpur, Rajasthan were in driver's seat after left-arm spinner Ajay Singh (5/75) and pacer Arafat Khan (3/34) wrecked Maharashtra first innings, bundling them out for 189

In reply, Rajasthan reached 110

(36) and Karan Lamba (45) holding the fort for them. At Ahmedabad, Himanshu Rana (193, 252b, 26x4) and Nishant Sindhu (119, 162b, 18x4) made brisk hundreds as Harvana piled up 391 for three on day one against a hapless Manipur attack. At Delhi, Kumar Kushagra

(69 n.O) and captain Virat Singh (85 n.O) helped Iharkhand recover from 65 for four, and reach a healthier 195 for 4 against Services at close on Day 1.

Brief scores: At Nagpur: Saurashtra: 206 all out in 58.4 overs (Harvik Desai 68 Cheteshwar Pujara 43; Umesh Yadav 4/56, Harsh Dubey 2/15) vs Vidarbha: 26/4 in 19

Practising landing ball on upright seam watching Shami video footages: Ollie

PTI ABU DHABI

Mohammed Shami landing his deliv-eries on perfect seam position is a work of art and no wonder England's lethal weapon Ollie Robinson is hellbent on replicating the Indian maestro during the upcoming Test series starting January

England team is doing simulation of Indian conditions in Abu Dhabi and will reach Hyderabad on January 21 for the opening Test and Robinson, who was a net bowler during the 2021 series held in a bio-bubble, is expected to play a big role in the absence of the now retired Stuart Broad

"I've actually been practising Mohammed Shami's dead-straight seam," he revealed. "He's one of the best bowlers for India. I was looking at Ishant (Sharma) as well he played at Sussex for a bit and he's done really well in India for quite a while. He's tall, similar to me," Robinson told ESPN

Cricinfo in an interview. Robinson took 21 wickets in the first four Tests against India in England but the Indian tracks will pose a different challenge

'You feel like you don't know what you're preparing for, which is a challenge I've not really had yet," Robinson said.

The key is adaptability on sub-continental tracks.

On this tour, it'll be about being adaptable; look at the pitch a day or two before and assess how it'll play, or try to get clues from the nets on the square. It'll be a different challenge but one that I'm looking forward to because it'll engage my cricket-nuffy brain?

The 'Kohli challenge' Robinson dismissed Virat Kohli thrice in England and he is again looking forward to challenging the Indian great's "ego". 'You always want to play against the best players, don't you? And you always want to get the best players out. Kohli is one of those. He's got a big ego and I think play ing on that, especially in India, where he going to want to dominate and score is runs, playing on the fact we've had battles in the past, is exciting." For him, a successful tour of India might catapult him into a different league. 'If I can have a big tour in India, then it should set me up for a while. If I do well, I can cement myself back in the team."

Australia dismissed the West Indies for 120 in the 13th over of the day on Friday, leaving the home side needing just 26 runs to win.

With his second victory in the tournament, Gukesh now has 2.5 points from five rounds after he made an indifferent start to the event, losing two matches in the first four rounds.

Grandmaster R Pragnanandhaa held tournament leader and defending champion Anish Giri of Holland to a draw on the day. GM Vidit Gujrathi played out his fifth draw on the trot, signing a peace pact with local hopeful Max Warderman.

With eight rounds still remaining in one of the strongest traditional events, Giri maintained his sole lead on four points out of a possible five. Praggnanandhaa, Firouza Alireza of France and Nodirbek Abdusattarov of Uzbekistan share the second spot on four points while Gujrathi and Gukesh are next in standings on 2.5, sharing it with three others.

In one the biggest upsets of the event so far, Women's world champion Ju Wnejun of China defeated Alireza in a finely crafted game. Earlier, Gukesh was a class act in a Queen's gambit declined with white pieces against Nepomniachtchi. The Indian won a pawn in the ensuing middle game but Nepomniachtchi had his share of counter play till he fell for a tactical shot that cost him another pawn. Soon it was a Queen and minor piece endgame on the board and Gukesh wrapped it up quickly. Praggnanandhaa did not have to exert much against Giri with white pieces.

Playing a lesser-known open ing setup the Indian found Giri adequately prepared and the pieces got traded in a heap in the ensuing middle game. The players arrived at a Knight and pawns endgame wherein the draw was the only possible result.

In the challengers' section being held simultaneously, Grandmaster Leon Luke Mendonca defeated compatriot D Harika with black pieces to jump to three points from his five games. Divya Deshmukh, the third Indian in the fray, went down
