In response to recent criticism, a letter has been addressed to the Secretary, AITUC, strongly urging the government to reconsider the decision to implement VSS at the Visakha Steel Plant's full capacity while raising concerns about financial losses and potential downsizing of the workforce. The directive included the layoff of approximately one or two percent of the existing workforce, leading to substantial financial setbacks. The decision to implement VSS is a cause for concern among the steel workers and is raising questions about the government's commitment to the steel sector's sustainability.

Additionally, the complaint also cited varied financial conditions, stating that while Dr. Kumar is diverting funds to his private clinic, the RTC staff has been struggling to provide services due to the non-functional digital display boards. The RTC staff has been criticized for not responding to the complaints and maintaining the required standards.

MHA think tank alerts against ‘hijack’, sextortion, impersonation scams

A police think tank that functions under the union home ministry has issued an alert and a advisory about a variety of scams that take place on social media platforms, mobile apps and over the internet. These include sextortion, impersonation scams and financial crimes and frauds.

The Bureau of Police Research and Development (BPRD) has identified seven types of such tricks that include tricking through missing calls, using the victim's name in the ads or items and payment plans, impersonation tricks, travel scams and undue money.

As part of the think tank's daily report on social media, the advisory issued on Saturday, the users are advised to take necessary precautions and not reveal personal information.

The advisory issued by the think tank is as follows:

Precautions to be taken:

1. Do not access the victim’s WhatsApp: (70%) account and request money from the contact.
2. Do not be influenced by the five succeeding numbers: These were basically sent to money transaction and were then used to threaten the user.
3. Do not issue money order: (60%) in the account.
4. Do not take loan in the name of the victim: (80%) and ensure the same is not used to benefit the fraudsters.
5. Do not share the phone number: Even if it is not known who is calling the user.

The police have also issued a list of other precautions that can help citizens avoid falling prey to such scams. These include:

- Verify the person’s identity: Before sharing any personal information.
- Check the legitimacy of the contact: By contacting the authorized agency.
- Report the scam: To the local police or the cyber crime branch.

The Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA), WhatsApp, on its part, has launched a public awareness campaign in the recent past to educate the public about the scams and how to avoid them.

PM Modi gives ‘Wed in India’ call to retain national wealth

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday flagged off a campaign to encourage couples to opt for destination weddings in India. He said such moves can help in retaining national wealth.

Addressing the gathering at the Ram temple in Ayodhya, the Prime Minister said:

"We call upon the secretary, environment, ministry of home affairs, to not just concede the minority status of the people, many of them Hindus, but also not to allow them to take the name Ram temple."

Modi also appealed to the people to help promote tourism in India.

"As much as possible, tour your country, then travel within your country, promote tourism in your country," Modi said.

PM Modi’s call comes a day after the Indiabulls Housing Finance scam, which involved the theft of Rs. 1,300 crore, came to light.

Time to embrace a new dawn

Hyderabad | Monday | January 22, 2024

The sunny rise on 1 January 2024 in India became a new dawn. The news of the reinstatement of Pakistan as a member of the United Nations has brought a wave of optimism across the country. This historic decision is an indication of the shift in global attitudes towards Pakistan, which has been isolated for decades due to its support for terrorism.

The decision has been welcomed by many countries, including the United States, which has been a key ally of Pakistan in the past. The U.S. has been working with Pakistan to improve its human rights record, and this decision is a step in the right direction.

However, there are also concerns about Pakistan's future actions. Many fear that Pakistan may use its new status as leverage to negotiate with India over the Kashmir issue. Pakistan has a history of using terrorism as a tool to achieve its political goals, and there is a risk that it may continue to do so.

Despite these concerns, the decision is a significant step forward, and it is hoped that Pakistan will use its new status to improve its global standing and avoid future conflicts. It is also hoped that Pakistan will use its new status to improve its human rights record, which has been a major concern for many years.

In conclusion, the decision to reinstate Pakistan as a member of the United Nations is a positive step forward. However, it is important that Pakistan uses its new status to improve its human rights record and avoid future conflicts. Only then can it truly be a new dawn for Pakistan.
The 2024 edition of JLF is set to unfold from February 1st to 5th at Hotel Clarks Amer, Bangalore under the chairmanship of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. The central government cautioned the states last week that it will regard any efforts to undermine the festival as an attempt to withdraw the sponsorship. In this regard, the Centre wascooperative with the non-governmental organisations (NGOs) to support the festival. The Centre’s concern over frivolous— an accusation made by the states — has heightened because of a volley of attacks on almost all the political parties in the five elections held in South Asia in the last five years. In short, the Centre feared that its goodwill would be wasted if the states would drag state coffers, leading to a reduction in the state budget and an investment in the future and a solution to the creative crisis. Remember, the Centre’s concern is not just about the amount of goodwill that one can bring to the festival. It is also about ensuring that the goodwill is not wasted, and the stories that one hears are not just about the creative crisis but also the social and political landscape. As we navigate the complexities of the 21st century, it is imperative that we provide creativity in education, acknowledging its transformative power in shaping individuals who can contribute meaningfully to a dynamic and ever-evolving society.

TEMPERATURE AND HUMIDITY FLUCTUATIONS

Colder temperatures often result in a decrease in physical activity, impacting liver health. This is because a decrease in physical activity can lead to an overload of refined sugar, which can result in a fatty buildup, potentially leading to liver damage. Encouraging physical activity, particularly during colder months, can significantly contribute to liver health.

ALCOHOL CONSUMPTION

The consumption of alcohol provides valuable data to guide its consumption during winter. However, excessive alcohol consumption during winter can have negative impacts on liver health, including an increased risk of alcohol-related liver disease. It is essential to be aware of the risks and take necessary precautions to maintain optimal liver health during colder months.

PAKISTAN BEATS NEW ZEALAND by 42 runs in 29 T20I

India's unbeatable run as it bowled New Zealand out for 42 to win the T20I series internationally by 4-0 on Sunday to avoid a clean sweep by the visiting side. But the match had a twist in it as New Zealand would have begun with the 20th half-century in T20I cricket, a remarkable 51 by Tim Seifert, but India’s bowlers had the answer with Mayank Agarwal, with 4/19 in four overs, and Yuzvendra Chahal, with 3/36 in a 10-over spell. Many were expecting that New Zealand, with an open bowling, would get shredded into nothing, but India’s bowlers had a different plan. India’s bowlers had a plan as well, and it worked. They bowled four overs with two wickets down, and New Zealand’s final pair of opening bowlers, Tim Seifert and Tim Seifert, were out for 24 runs to make it a 20-run victory for India.
