Modi hits the ground running for 3.0

Prime Minister Narendra Modi chairs a meeting to review post cyclone Remal situation, especially in the Northeast region, in New Delhi PTI

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

A majority of exit polls predicted a massive win for the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA). Prime Minister Narendra Modi held multiple meetings on Sunday on a "wide range of topics" including one on the post-cyclone Remal situation, especially in the northeast region, and another to review the 100-day agenda that his team will seek to implement once Government formation is completed. The Prime Minister held the review meeting on the 100-day agenda of the new Government that his team will seek to implement once Government formation is completed. According to sources, senior bureaucrats on several Ministries attended the review meeting and some of them made a presentation before the Prime Minister. Sources added that at least 10 groups, each headed by a secretary-level official as a coordinator, have been created to implement this agenda over the first 100 days of the new Government. Much before the Lok Sabha polling exercise began, Modi had set in motion the exercise for different Government Ministries to prepare the 100-day agenda for the new Government. He had asked his Council of Ministers to prioritise programmes and initiatives for the first 100 days. PM Modi's day-long marathon meetings come a day after he returned from a 45-hour meditation at Vivekananda Rock Memorial in Kanyakumari. Informing about the meeting, PM Modi wrote in a post on X, "Chaired meetings to review the situation in the wake of heatwaves and post-cyclone flood situations in different parts of the nation. Took stock of the efforts underway to assist those affected by these adversarial conditions." The first meeting focused on the extensive damage caused by the cyclone, including the loss of human lives, and destruction of homes and properties due to widespread landslides and flooding. PM Modi stressed the need to ensure regular fire and electrical safety audits in hospitals and other public places as he reviewed the heatwave situation in the country amid fire incidents which have claimed many lives. The Prime Minister instructed officials that proper drills for preventing and handling incidents of fire must be undertaken on a regular basis, according to an official statement. He also said that regular drills for the maintenance of fire lines in forests and productive utilisation of biomass must be planned. Modi was briefed that as per forecasts, the heatwave is likely to continue in parts of Rajasthan, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh. Monsoon this year is likely to be normal and above normal in most parts of the country and below normal in parts of peninsular India, the statement said. In the meeting to review the post-Cyclone Remal situation, another official statement said, Modi was briefed about its impact in the affected states, including the loss of lives and damage to houses and other properties due to landslides and floods in Mizoram, Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya and Tripura. National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) teams have carried out evacuation, airlifting and road clearance operations, it said, adding the Union home ministry is in regular touch with State Governments. PM Modi said the Union Government will continue to extend full support to the States affected by the cyclone, according to the statement.

BJP, INDIA bloc say EC must follow protocols

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Ahead of the counting of votes for Lok Sabha elections, the leaders from both the ruling side and the Opposition side met the election commission of India (ECI). While senior BJP leaders and Union Ministers Piyush Goyal and Nirmala Sitharaman urged the commission to implement several critical measures to safeguard the integrity of India's electoral process, a delegation of leaders from the INDIA bloc met the full bench of the election commission and urged it to ensure that all the guidelines are followed on June 4, when the votes polled in the LS polls will be counted, including Goyal alleged that certain INDIA bloc parties along with some civil society groups and NGOs, are attempting to undermine the electoral process. "We had to call upon ECI today, in light of the repeated attempts by a section of the political parties in INDI alliance and certain motivated civil society groups and NGOs who are trying their level best to undermine the integrity of India's electoral process," he said.

NO SURPRISES IN NORTHEAST BJP, SKM retain Arunachal, Sikkim

RAJESH KUMAR ■ NEW DELHI

As results of Assembly elections in two northeastern States announced on Sunday, both the BJP and the Sikkim Krantikari Morcha (SKM) retained their hold over Arunachal Pradesh and Sikkim, respectively. With 55 per cent vote share and 46 seats, the BJP won the 60 members Arunachal Pradesh Legislative Assembly polls and is set to come back for a third consecutive term. In Sikkim, the ruling Sikkim Krantikari Morcha won 31 seats in the 32 members Sikkim Legislative Assembly polls, comfortably surpassing the majority mark over the Sikkim Democratic Front. SDF which ruled the State for 25 years in a row till 2019, bagged just one seat. Former India football captain and SDF candidate Bhaichung Bhutia lost the Barfung seat by a margin of 4,346 votes, his sixth defeats in the last 10 years since 2014, he had joined TMC to contest from Darjeeling. In Arunachal Pradesh, only 50 of the 60 Assembly seats went to polls, as 10 BJP MLAs, including outgoing Chief Minister Pema Khandu and Deputy CM Chowna Mein, secured victory unopposed.

The BJP vote share also increased to 55.86 per cent as compared to 50.86 per cent in 2019. Taking to X, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said, "Thank you Arunachal Pradesh! The people of this wonderful state have given an unequivocal mandate to politics of development. My gratitude to them for reposing their faith in @BJP4Arunachal yet again. Our Party will keep working with even greater vigour for the State's growth." The PM also said, "I would like to appreciate the hardwork of the exceptional @BJP4Arunachal Karyakartas through the election campaign. It is commendable how they went across the state and connected with the people." The National People's Party (NPP) bagged five seats, while the People's Party of Arunachal won two seats and the NCP secured three. The Congress won one seat, and independent candidates emerged victorious in three constituencies. In the first declared result of the day, independent candidate Wanglam Sawin triumphed over the BJP's

Kamrang Tesia in the Khonsa (East) constituency. Responding to the verdict, incumbent Chief Minister Pema Khandu said, "This is a mandate for 10 years of development with huge support from the centre. You all know Arunachal Pradesh is the land of rising sun. BJP's victory here shows (Prime Minister Narendra) Modi ji will become PM for the third term." Khandu was also regarded as a strategist who, through political manoeuvring, brought the BJP to power for the first time in the northeastern state bordering China. Continued on Page 2

Vedic scientist's study forecasts 'BJP 400 paar'

SAUMYA SHUKLA ■ NEW DELHI

With most of the exit polls showing a comfortable win for the BJP in the Lok Sabha 2024 elections, vedic scientist and a doctorate holder in astrology and vedic science from Banaras Hindu University (BHU) Dr. Shesh Narayan Vajpayee has affirmed a thunderous win to the BJP led NDA Government. His predictions through "varn vinyan" hit the bulls-eye for the saffron party fulfilling their "abki bar 400 par" slogan, forecasting NDA 432 seats. His predictions suggest that the BJP will secure 368 seats in the highly anticipated general elections of 2024 where on one side the saffron party is looking comfortable enough to secure a third term as per to exit polls and the INDIA Bloc is denying all predictions awaiting the actual results on June 4. The scientist, who predicted corona early on in 2018, has also predicted the date for the next wave of a variant of Covid on May 25, 2025 which will hit people worldwide. However, he said, "I do not have the knowledge of the impact vaccines will create. If it proves to be effective it will decrease the impact of the wave. However, if it proves to be ineffective, the effect would be devastating." Vajpayee in a letter to the Prime Minister's Office and the United Nations early on in 2018 wrote that a big disease that causes difficulty in breathing, dry cough, dizziness, vomiting, diarrhea and other such serious issues is just around the corner. "While I didn't write about the pandemic, I informed them that a big disease is coming. But no one paid heed to me," he said. He has been warning the Government of India about this virus turning into an epidemic since January 2020, even before the first wave of Corona started. On March 19, he had predicted to the PMO through email that the vaccine might be more detrimental in curing virus infection than help. Citing vedic science, he had suggested that no medicine can be made for the epidemic as they start at their own time and end at their own time and with the scientists in the world that a big disease is coming, he said. Government should use vedic science to predict the future and deal with it adequate information. "On 23rd December, 2020, I have mailed to the PMO that if possible, do not get the vaccine because the claims of making the vaccine are not credible. On 8th December, in Britain, the vaccine was given to a 90-year-old woman. She was in a bad condition from 14 December. I wrote at this time, applying the vaccine is taking a risk." He added that the subject was not if the vaccine was effective or not, it meant that the time was not right. Dr. Vajpayee has been regularly sharing forecasts of weather-related natural disasters, earthquakes and terrorist incidents with the government for the last few years. He claims that he shares his forecasts based on vedic science with the Prime Minister's Office, Meteorological Department and Ministry of Earth Sciences every month. He also said that he not only predicted the days when the pandemic will start, he also informed about the peak of a Covid wave. Vajpayee claimed that he was in constant touch with Government officials in the Central Government and Delhi Government, informing them of his predictions, many of which did match in hindsight. However, most seemed hesitant to accept that vedic science could be used to do such forecasts regarding pandemic and weather.

SAUMYA SHUKLA/ ABHI SINGHAL ■ NEW DELHI

As the droplets of respite fell after dust storm in Delhi on sparsely populated area of northwest Delhi's Mungeshpur, residents breathed a sigh relief from temperature that soared above 50 degrees Celsius, water scarcity and power cuts with some of them in the area not even having a fan. Residents have been having difficult time in the past 15 days as they grapple with severe water shortages as water is coming for only 10 minutes in the day and tankers hardly makes an appearance to the area. Many told The Pioneer about filling water from the tube wells in the field. Adding to their woes, residents said they had to walk a kilometer to fill water from tankers available in the nearby areas or turn to the tube wells. As the rainfall brought some comfort, many were seen sitting on the pavements of their homes to feel the cold air, where they generally take refuge due to the power cutoffs. On Wednesday, when they faced a 12 hours cut in the night, Santoshi Devi, 56 years said, "raat ko 11 bajte gyi thi light aur subah 11 bajte aayi, 12 ghante mein halat kharab ho gyi" (the electricity was cut from 11 pm to 11 am. In these 12 hours it was very difficult to survive in such hot

Children rushed out of their home to rejoice in the rainfall which was preceded by a dust-storm. Four kids playing in the rain shared how only one of them had a fan in their home. So eager were they to take to the streets, many responded to questions with "please ask fast. We have to go and play". Varsha, an eight year old girl, playing barefoot with four of her friends had a grin on her face and said, "This is the first time I have come to play in afternoon since the summer vacations started." Another 13 years old boy, playing along, added that, "papa lohar hain, itni garmi mein paseene mein bheege rehte hain" (my father is a blacksmith, he keeps sweating while working the whole day due to heat). A father and a son duo, including a 65 year old Arman and a 27 year old Subhash, who have their own junk shop, brave heat, dust and rain daily to work for nonstop 12 hours without a fan in their shop. "Papi paet ka sawal hai" says the duo when asked about working in such conditions without any precautions to safeguard them from the heatstroke that has claimed two lives, which has been reported, in Delhi. A 20 years old Suresh, lying on a charpai in the rain told that the water supply was down for 15 days in between and at that time their only support was the water from the tube wells in the fields. He further added that the water supply has been back on track in the last 3 days but the water still comes for only 2 hours in the morning. A mother of two children shared her ordeals of feeding her baby. "I feel uneasy while feeding my two years old girl. In fact she has been unwell too and has been vomiting for the past two days due to the scorching heat." Many, who have spent their whole life in this place, stated that while summers are usually very hot but this time around, temperatures are soaring very high.

One beheaded, many hurt in post poll violence in Bengal

SAUGAR SENGUPTA ■ KOLKATA

Even as reports of post election violence continued to pour in from various corners of Bengal leaving scores of Opposition workers injured or ejected from their villages, in an instance of a medieval brutality alleged Trinamool Congress goons shot dead, beheaded and then carried away the head of a BJP worker as a trophy reportedly to teach him and his kin a lesson for joining the saffron party.

The incident took place at Kaliganj in Nadia district. The victim has been identified as Hafijur Sheikh. His brothers said that he was playing carom when 10-12 motorbike borne people came and shot at him. "After he fell down dead his head was cut apart and taken away," they said adding, he had left the CPI(M) and joined the BJP a couple of months ago.

"I had heard about his joining our party but did not think that he would meet this fate for his political affiliation," BJP Krishnagar candidate Amrita Roy said wondering "in which age we are living today ... are we living in modern times or we have gone back to medieval age." In Kolkata TMC spokesperson Kunal Ghosh however denied a TMC hand in the Hafijur's murder. Quoting Kaliganj TMC MLA Rukbanur Rehman he said that the incident was a result of a family feud. "Any death is painful ... but here the TMC is not involved in the murder ... I have been told that it is a product of family feud," he said.

Post poll violence continued in other parts of the State too with intermittent clashes between the BJP and the TMC being reported from Sandeshkhali in North 24 Parganas. After lathi charge and firing tear gas shells at a restive crowd at Rajbari area on Saturday the police on Sunday clamped Section 144 in a number of villages. Back in capital Kolkata BJP and CPI(M) workers were attacked at Beliaghata and Narkeldanga areas near Sealdah in the northern parts of the city. "Scores of our people are taking shelter in the party offices as they cannot live in their houses ... they are under attack and the police is doing nothing," said BJP leader. CPI(M) workers and their families were attacked in Khardaha area of Dum Dum constituency in northern fringes of Kolkata. Violence was also reported from a large part of southern Kolkata's Jadavpur area which falls in Jadavpur constituency. CPI(M) workers were brutally attacked at Ganguli Bagan, Bagha Jatin, Baruipuri and Sonarpur areas, party candidate Sujan Chakrabarty said adding, "a number of the 3 injured workers who had worked as polling agents and prevented false voting were attacked in the evening and are presently in hospitals." Referring to the ongoing violence BJP State president Sukanta Majumdar said that "those who are indulging in brutalities should take this message from me ... that we are coming to power and after we come to power Uttar Pradesh model will start here ... these people will be simply encountered ... they will not be spared even if they come under BJP's umbrella." Meanwhile, in a related development the TMC leadership refused to buy the outcome of exit polls saying it would once again be proved false like it happened in 2021 Assembly elections. Though their senior leaders would not talk officially some of them speaking off the records said, "Just wait and see ... these pollsters had predicted different things in 2021 but the result was quite different ... this also things will go the same way." The Left and the Congress too said that the results would not match the exit polls. "If the EVM machines are alright then the elections will spring a surprise ... people have voted very silently and very cautiously ... just wait for the results," one of their leaders said.

DMK chief skips INDIA bloc meet hours before poll results to come

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ CHENNAI

With just one day to go for the counting of votes cast in the Lok Sabha Election, political pundits are baffled over the decision of M K Stalin, Tamil Nadu Chief Minister and president of the DMK not to attend the INDI Alliance conclave convened by Rahul Gandhi on Saturday.

Stalin deputed T R Balu, the party's treasurer to stand in for him and in the process he even overlooked his step sister M K Kanimozhi who is considered as the Delhi face of the DMK. Yet another development from the DMK camp is the Sun TV Network's decision to telecast Ramayana serial in Sun TV Networks. This TV network, owned by the first family of the DMK air only programmes in conformity with the party's ideology. The DMK's antipathy towards Sanatana Dharma and Lord Rama is famous and the decision of the party leadership to telecast the serial has raised eyebrows at least in Tamil

Nadu. Sun TV Network's Malayalam, Marathi, Telugu and Kannada channels are also telecasting the Ramayana serial against which the DMK had staged protests when it was aired by Doordarshan. "Stalin has seen the writing on the wall as he was expecting a victory for the INDI Alliance win. The trend which we see right now is a major deviation from the expected lines," said a senior political observer based in Chennai. He does not want his name to be quoted for obvious reasons. Maalan, author and veteran journalist, said that Stalin is faced with a lot of serious issues. "The 2G spectrum case is coming up for hearing in a Delhi Court. The accused include Kanimozhi and her friend A Raja. Moreover he has to keep a series of promises which he made to the farmers in the party manifesto during the 2021 assembly election. Stalin has to mobilize funds to get these promises materialized and this he can manage only with a friendly government at the Centre," he said. Malan pointed out that the assembly election was just two years away and Stalin does not have much time left with him.

There is a section in the DMK which feels Mallikarjun Kharge, the Congress President, arbitrarily declared Rahul Gandhi as Prime Ministerial candidate and this has upset Thalpathi (Tamil address Stalin as Thalpathi, which means commander). In yet another interesting development, Tamil Nadu Government announced earlier this week that it would host a two-day global conference on Lord Muruga, Tamil God of war and victory on August 24 and 25 at Palani, one of his six abodes. Hymns in praise of Lord Muruga (Skanda Shasti Kavacham) was slandered by the DMK elements and this forced the Tamil Nadu BJP to stage a Statewide rally last year. "It seems the DMK and its leaders are on an atonement mission and this could be the reason for this global meeting in which hundreds of scholars are participating," said Mankombu Gopalakrishnan, writer and lyricist.

CPM, Congress reject exit poll results, say these are not credible

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN ■ KOCHI

The CPI(M) led LDF and the Congress led UPA are caught in a vortex following the declaration of Saturday's exit polls results on the Lok Sabha elections. According to the exit polls, the CPI(M) is likely to come a cropper in Kerala with the UDF bagging 17 seats and the BJP winning three seats. But the CPI(M) owned TV news channel has claimed in its survey that the party would score 16 seats leaving the rest four seats for the UDF. The exit poll result that the BJP would win three seats has shocked the CPI(M). E P Jayarajan, convener, LDF, told reporters that the exit poll results are enmeshed in suspicion. "It seems that the poll was held by associates of the BJP and there is no credibility for these polls. The results would be known on Tuesday and we have to wait for the same," said Jayarajan when quizzed about the exit poll results.

He repeatedly said that the agencies which conducted the exit poll are yet to prove their credibility. "It is not possible to draw any conclusion from these polls in a country like India," said Jayarajan. K Sudhakaran, president, KPCC, scoffed at the exit poll results. "There is no possibility of the BJP winning even a single seat in Kerala this time. I will not tell that the Lotus would not bloom in the State in future. But the BJP/NDA would not open its account in Kerala in the 2024 Lok Sabha election," said Sudhakaran. Political Kerala is in a feverish pitch as the exit poll results predicted that the Hindutva party is likely to win three seats. "If Suresh Gopi, the BJP candidate from Thrissur wins the election, Ill put Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan as the first accused in the charge sheet to be filed by me. The BJP would not win even a single seat in Kerala without the tacit support of the CPI(M)," said K Muraleedharan, the Congress candidate against Suresh Gopi. There are strong rumors in the State that Muraleedharan is all set to join the BJP if he loses at Thrissur. Ramesh Chennithala, former KPCC president and home minister in the Oommen Chandi-led Government (2011-2016) was of the view that the exit polls have no scientific basis and hence he would not comment on it. "But the exit poll results which we saw on Saturday were the handiwork of agencies associated with the BJP," said Chennithala.

Exit polls...

"I was given a 21-day (relief) by the Supreme Court.

These 21 days were unforgettable. I did not waste even a minute. I campaigned for saving the country. The AAP is not important, it is secondary. The country comes first," he said.

Kejriwal also asserted that all exit polls predicting a third term for the BJP-led NDA at the Centre were "fake".

Exit polls on Saturday predicted that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will retain power for a third straight term, with the NDA expected to win a big majority in the polls. "They are not forming Government on June 4. These exit polls are mind games to drive you into depression," Kejriwal told AAP workers and leaders.

Earlier, he shared an emotional message for his supporters and asked them to take care of themselves as he surrenders at Tihar Jail after his 21-day interim bail expired on June 1.

In a post on X (formerly Twitter), the AAP convener said, "I came out for election campaign for 21 days on the orders of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. I am very grateful to the Hon'ble Supreme Court. Today I will surrender by going to Tihar. I will leave home at 3 pm. First I will go to Rajghat and pay tribute to Mahatma Gandhi. From there I will go to Hanuman temple in Connaught Place to seek blessings of Hanuman ji. And from there I will go to the party office and meet all the workers and party leaders. From there I will again leave for Tihar."

In a tweet in Hindi, he further stated, "All of you take care of yourselves. I will take care of you all in jail. If you are happy then your Kejriwal will also be happy in jail." In his address in AAP headquarter, Kejriwal said, "I am going back to jail not because I was involved in corruption but because I raised voice against dictatorship. I was given a 21-day (relief) by the Supreme Court. These 21 days were unforgettable. I did not waste even a minute. I campaigned for saving the country. The AAP is not important, it is secondary. The country comes first."

While exit polls on Saturday predicted that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will retain power for a third straight term, with the NDA expected to win a big majority in the polls, Kejriwal asserted that all exit polls predicting a third term for the BJP-led NDA at the Centre were "fake". "They are not forming a Government on June 4. These exit polls are mind games to drive you into depression," Kejriwal told AAP workers and leaders.

Before Kejriwal arrived at the Tihar jail, traffic movement was restricted in the areas around the prison and security arrangements heightened with deployment of police personnel. The chief minister paid homage at Mahatma Gandhi's memorial at the Raj Ghat, offered prayers at the Hanuman temple in Connaught Place and addressed workers and leaders of the AAP before surrendering.

Kejriwal's wife Sunita Kejriwal was seen accompanying him. AAP leaders, including Atishi, Kailash Gahlot and Saurabh Bharadwaj, Rajya Sabha MPs Sanjay Singh and Sandeep Pathak, and party leaders Durgesh Pathak, Rakhi Birla and Reena Gupta were also present. Earlier, a Delhi court on Saturday reserved its order on the interim bail plea of Kejriwal who is seeking seven days' bail on medical grounds in connection with the money alleged case related to alleged excise policy scam. The Special Judge Kaveri Baweja of Rouse Avenue Court reserved the verdict, set to be announced on June 5. Kejriwal's counsel cited medical reasons for the bail request.

BJP, SKM retain Arunachal...

Khandu's political odyssey began amid a personal tragedy. The untimely demise of his father, former Chief Minister Dorjee Khandu, in a helicopter crash in 2011, thrust him under the spotlight. In the run-up to the Assembly polls held simultaneously with the Lok Sabha elections on April 19, he campaigned on a plank of corruption-free governance, emphasizing transparency and people-centric policies. In the 2019 Assembly elections, the BJP won 41 seats in Arunachal Pradesh. The Janata Dal (United) bagged seven, the National People's Party (NPP) five, Congress four, and the Peoples Party of Arunachal (PPA) one. Two independents also won in the Assembly polls. All except one Congress MLA, former Chief Minister Nabam Tuki, joined the BJP. Arunachal Pradesh recorded 82.95 per cent of voting in the Assembly Election 2024 while the turnout for the two Lok Sabha seats in the State was recorded at 77.51 per cent. It was 82.17 per cent in the Assembly Election 2019. In Sikkim, SKM has secured 58.38 per cent vote share while its rival SDF got only 27.37 per cent. The BJP contested in 31 Assembly seats but failed to win a single one in Sikkim where it had 12 members in the outgoing House. The BJP could secure only 5.18 per cent of the votes in the Himalayan state. The SKM got 58.38 per cent votes while the Sikkim Democratic Front bagged 27.37 per cent votes. Sikkim BJP president Dilli Ram Thapa lost to SKM nominee Kala Rai in the Upper Burtuk Assembly constituency. Thapa, a sitting MLA and a former Minister lost to Rai by 2,968 votes. The BJP decided to go alone in the Sikkim Assembly polls after severing its alliance with the Sikkim Krantikari Morcha (SKM) led by Chief Minister Prem Singh Tamang after the seat-sharing talks broke down on the latter's reluctance to meet the BJP's demand for a respectable number of seats. Tamang has emerged victorious in the Rhenock constituency, securing a decisive win over his SDF rival Som Nath Poudyal by a margin of 7,044 votes. In the Soreng Chakung Assembly constituency, Tamang holds a lead of 2,052 votes over his nearest SDF competitor, A.D Subba. Prime Minister Modi hailed Tamang and the SKM for the victory. "Congratulations to SKM and CM @PSTamangGolay for their victory in the Sikkim Assembly Elections 2024. I look forward to working with the State Government to further the progress of Sikkim in the coming times," Modi said in a post on X. Responding to the Prime Minister's post, Tamang thanked him. "We are committed to continuing our efforts towards the development and prosperity of Sikkim. We look forward to collaborating with you to achieve our shared goals for the betterment of our state. Your unwavering support has been a driving force for us, and we look forward to your continued guidance and blessings," Tamang said in an X.

Sikkim Governor Lakshman Prasad Acharya on Sunday dissolved the 10th Sikkim Legislative Assembly (SLA) with immediate effect to clear the decks for the constitution of the 11th SLA following the declaration of results.

Former Sikkim Chief Minister and SDF supremo Pawan Kumar Chamling was defeated by SKM nominee Bhoj Raj Rai in the Poklok constituency by a margin of 3,063 votes.

Rai polled 8,037 votes while Chamling got 4,974 votes. Arjun Rai (BJP) and Sanju Rai (CAP-S) got 739 and 691 votes respectively in the Poklok Kamrang Assembly seat. The five-time former CM lost to SKM's Raju Basnet by 2,256 votes from the Namchebung Assembly constituency. Basnet bagged 7,195 votes while Chamling got 4,939.

After winning Assembly Polls in Sikkim, CM Designate Prem Singh Tamang said, "(SDF leader) Pawan Kumar Chamling lost completely in 2019 only but it's a democracy. The work they couldn't do in 25 years, we did it in five years. People have voted on that basis."

Bhaichung Bhutia, the former captain of the Indian football team, is once again faced defeat in electoral politics by a margin of over 4000 votes. He previously contested elections twice in West Bengal as a Trinamool Congress candidate: the 2014 Lok Sabha elections from Darjeeling and the 2016 Assembly elections from Siliguri, losing both. He then moved his electoral base to Sikkim, forming his own party and contesting the 2019 Assembly elections from Gangtok and Tumen-Lingi, only to face defeat in both attempts. He also lost the 2019 bypoll from Gangtok.

The counting day for Assembly polls in Arunachal and Sikkim was moved up from June 4 to Sunday because the current assembly terms end on June 2, and a new House must be formed by then. The Assembly polls in these States were conducted simultaneously with the Lok Sabha polls in their initial and most extensive phase on April 19.

Incessant rain and landslides have disrupted life in several parts of the northeast, affecting air and rail services and flooding arterial roads and highways. Top bureaucrats were part of the meetings the Prime Minister chaired.

Voting in the seven-phase Lok Sabha elections concluded on Saturday and the results will be out on Tuesday, June 4, as part of the nationwide counting. All major exit polls on Saturday projected that the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) would retain power with a resounding victory in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. The BJP and its allies are expected to breach the 300-seat mark once again. Ten exit polls said that though the BJP-led NDA will win at least 350 seats, it will fail to cross the 400-seat mark.

BJP, INDIA bloc say EC must follow...

During the meeting, the BJP delegation outlined four key requests aimed at ensuring the integrity of the electoral process. Goyal said that, he emphasised the need for all officials involved in the counting process to be thoroughly familiar with the prescribed procedures and to strictly adhere to all election commission protocols. Additionally, he highlighted the importance of guaranteeing the safety and security of the electoral process during both the counting and the announcement of results. Goyal also urged the election commission to recognize and address systematic attempts to undermine the electoral process and to take stringent action against those responsible for such activities.

Briefing the media after the INDIA bloc meet at Nirvachan Sadan, Congress leader Abhishek Singhvi said this was the third time that a delegation of Opposition leaders visited the poll panel during the general election and, among other things, urged the officials to ensure that the postal ballots are counted and their results declared before the results of the electronic voting machines (EVMs) are announced. Salman Khurshid along with D Raja, Samajwadi Party leader Ram Gopal Yadav, Sanjay Yadav, Nassir Hussain, and Salman Khurshid reached the poll body. Sitaram Yechuri also reached the office of the election commission with other leaders.

"This is the third multi-party delegation visiting the EC during this process.... We spent time with the EC on two-three major issues. Most important was counting the postal ballots and declaring the results first. This is a very clearly stated statutory rule, which specifically says that you should take up the postal ballots first," Singhvi said. "Our complaint is that this guideline has been given a go-by. They have repealed the practice," he added. The leaders of the INDIA bloc requested the EC to instruct its officials that they should follow the guidelines. Communist Party of India (Marxist) general secretary Yechury said they have urged the poll panel to ensure that its own guidelines are implemented, which includes ensuring that the control units of the EVMs are moved through CCTV-monitored corridors and a verification of the current date-and-time display of the control units is done. "This verification is important because unless it is done, there is no authenticity that it is the same control unit that came from the polling booth, that it has not been changed," he said.

Yechury also said the start and end time and date of the polling process should be checked on the control unit. "The slips and tags that are put when an EVM is sealed should be shown to all the counting agents for verification. After pressing the button for the results, reconfirming the date of poll is not done ... That has to be ensured," he said.

Moreover, Congress leader Khurshid also demanded vigilance during the counting and called the meeting promising. Khurshid said, "We requested for very strict vigilance during the counting process and they gave us a satisfactory reply... We didn't question any rules but made sure they are adhered to and followed faithfully. The meeting has been very promising."

CPI General Secretary Raja also spoke about the meeting with. "... We primarily demanded that the Election Commission should strictly adhere to the Conduct of Election rules 1961, section 54 A...," Raja said.

Meanwhile, senior leaders of the INDIA bloc met here to discuss their strategy for the counting day, even as the Trinamool Congress (TMC) and People's Democratic Party (PDP) skipped the meeting. Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, who presided over the deliberations, said they would meet EC officials on Sunday "to discuss certain issues".

The Opposition parties have asked their agents to monitor the vote-counting process closely on Tuesday and ensure that form 17C, which contains the number of votes recorded at each polling station, is shared with them.

Atishi urges UP, Haryana CMs to release additional water to city

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Senior AAP leader and Delhi Water Minister Atishi wrote letters to two Chief Ministers, including Uttar Pradesh's Yogi Adityanath and Haryana's Naib Singh Saini, urging them to release additional water to Delhi amid water shortage and prevailing heatwave condition in the national Capital on Friday.

Delhi gets 90 per cent of its water from the two neighbouring states—around 65 per cent from Haryana and 25 per cent from Uttar Pradesh. Several parts across the capital city including Vasant Kunj, Dwarka, Mehrauli, Badarpur, Tughlaqabad, Bijwasan, Ghitorni, Kanjhawala, Malviya Nagar, Seema Puri, Mangolpuri, Chanakya Puri, Yamuna Vihar, are among those areas, facing short supply of water for the past few days. The Supreme Court will hear a plea from the Delhi government on Monday, requesting Haryana to release surplus water supplied by Himachal Pradesh to alleviate Delhi's current water crisis. Meanwhile, in a letter to Saini and Yogi, she appealed, "I am writing this letter to draw your immediate attention to the water crises that Delhi is facing at the moment. With temperatures soaring beyond 50 degrees Celsius, the demand for water is at an all-time high in Delhi. This is one of the worst summers that Delhi has witnessed so far. The government of NCT of Delhi is doing its maximum best to increase the production capacity of its water treatment plants." She added that despite this the intensity of the heatwave is such that the national capital would require help from all quarters to cater to the people of Delhi. "As a neighbouring state, we therefore request Uttar Pradesh lend a helping hand to Delhi in this time of crisis, and release additional water to Delhi for a period of one month till the arrival of the monsoons," she said to UP Chief Minister. Further, she stated to him, "Water is one commodity which is essential for the existence of all human beings. Clean drinking water is the right of each and every citizen of this country. In fact, all our ancient texts teach us that giving water to the thirsty is a very noble act. Through this letter I wish to appeal to you to kindly consider our request and provide additional water to Delhi for the next one month so that people living in Delhi can comfortably surpass these peak summers. The Delhi Government and people living in the national capital will be anxiously waiting for a positive response." In her letter to Haryana Chief Minister, Atishi reiterated that the water level of Yamuna river has fallen and hence creating a water shortage in the city. "Yesterday, on a visit to Wazirabad Barrage, I found that the water level at the pond was 670.3 feet as against the normal of 674.50 feet. This reduction in water level has adversely affected water production capacity of our water treatment plants. This has led to severe water shortage in many parts of the national capital, going to the extent of rationalising water," she stated. Atishi appealed to Saini to release additional water and said, "Through this letter I wish to appeal to you to kindly consider our request and release additional water in Yamuna at least for the next one month so that people living in Delhi can comfortably surpass this peak summer. The Delhi Government and people living in the national capital will be anxiously waiting for a positive response." Last week, the government announced a fine of Rs 2,000 for those who waste water by washing their vehicles using hoses and those who let their water tanks overflow. In its summer bulletin, the Delhi Jal Board on Saturday has claimed that it has produced 993.76 MGD water which is 37.76 MGD more than its actual capacity. Delhi BJP President Virendra Sachdeva has condemned Water Minister Ms. Atishi for playing politics in the name of water crisis. Sachdeva has said that there is no shortage of raw water in Delhi as both Haryana & Uttarakhand are giving excess water on daily basis which can be verified from Delhi Jal Board record.

Kejriwal visits Rajghat, temple before surrendering

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal and his family bid adieu to each other on Sunday before he left the CM's residence to surrender at Tihar jail after his interim bail in the excise policy case ended on June 1.

Kejriwal hugged his children and touched his parents' feet before leaving in a car for a scheduled visit to the Rajghat and the Hanuman temple at Connaught Place.

He waved a final goodbye to his parents before his car sped alongside a long trail of vehicles carrying AAP leaders who accompanied the chief minister for his surrender.

Kejriwal's wife Sunita, son Pulkit and daughter Harshita also accompanied him for his surrender.

Sharing visuals of the family's last moments together, the AAP wrote in a post on X, "Bharat Mata's brave son Arvind Kejriwal ji took blessings from his parents and hugged his children before going to jail to save democracy. Kejriwal will not bow down to dictatorship." In another post, the party wrote, "It is this feeling that scares the dictator. With a smile on his face, Delhi CM Kejriwal headed towards Rajghat to pay homage to father of the nation, Mahatma Gandhi. Today, Kejriwal ji will go to jail in this fight to save democracy." In a display of unity and support, Kejriwal's family and AAP leaders accompanied the chief minister as he paid homage at Mahatma Gandhi's memorial at the Rajghat and offered prayers at the Hanuman temple in Connaught Place.

Kejriwal later addressed a large gathering of workers and leaders of the AAP before leaving for Tihar jail.

AAP leaders, including Atishi, Kailash Gahlot and Saurabh Bharadwaj, Rajya Sabha MPs Sanjay Singh and Sandeep Pathak, and party leaders Durgesh Pathak, Rakhi Birla and Reena Gupta were also present. Patriotic songs and slogans of "Kejriwal Zindabaad" filled the air at the party headquarters. Addressing the gathering, Kejriwal said, "I am going back to jail not because I was involved in corruption but because I raised voice against dictatorship... I campaigned for the Lok Sabha polls to save the country." Kejriwal said that the BJP will not form the next government at the Centre, saying the exit polls were "fake" and "mind games" by the BJP.

Several exit polls, which were aired on Saturday evening, predicted a comfortable majority for the BJP-led NDA. Counting of votes for the Lok Sabha polls will be held on Tuesday.

The address at the party headquarters was summed up with the national anthem and Kejriwal left for Tihar amid a sea of Indian flags.

Minutes before the chief minister's surrender, security arrangements were beefed up at Tihar jail with heavy police deployment. Traffic was also restricted in the area. The chief minister surrendered to the Tihar authorities after 21 days of bail granted by the Supreme Court for the election campaign.

Hundreds of BJP workers arrested for protesting against Kejriwal at Rajghat

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Hundreds of Delhi BJP workers were arrested on Sunday for protesting outside Rajghat against Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal for visiting Mahatma Gandhi's memorial before surrendering to Tihar jail after his interim bail granted by the Supreme Court in the excise policy-linked money laundering case ended on June 1.

About 50 women workers were taken to I.P. Estate Police Station, while Delhi BJP President Virendra Sachdeva, along with 100 workers, were taken to Kamla Market Police Station from where they were let off with warning after an hour.

Around 100 BJP workers, including Sachdeva, have been detained at the police station, BJP spokesperson Praveen Shankar Kapoor said. As a part of a flash protest, Sachdeva along with hundreds of workers blocked the passage of Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's cavalcade by sitting on Rajghat traffic intersection on Ring Road. Another group of over 50 women workers raised slogans at Rajghat's VIP exit gate towards Delhi Secretariat side forcing the cavalcade to go towards Rajghat intersection where it was stopped and shown black flags by BJP workers.

Sachdeva, while talking to media, said, "It is shocking to see Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, a man arrested for liquor scam shamelessly visiting the pious Samadhi (memorial) of Mahatma Gandhi who all his life worked for prohibition." Stating that the AAP chief tried to play victim card in front of the people of Delhi, he claimed, "Kejriwal by going to Rajghat & Hanuman Mandir before surrendering at Tihar Jail tried to play his old victim card but people of Delhi now well know that Gandhian ideology has no place in Kejriwal's lifestyle."

"Infact Kejriwal has removed Mahatma Gandhi's photos from his office, residence and media conference backdrops," he claimed, adding that for 20 days Kejriwal was out on bail but did nothing to solve the water and power crisis being faced by Delhiites.

City could become barren desert due to deforestation: HC

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Taking note of the recent temperature spike to 52.3 degrees Celsius in the city, the Delhi High Court has observed that the national Capital could become a barren desert if the present generation continues an apathetic view on deforestation.

Delhi's Mungeshpur area on Wednesday logged a maximum temperature of 52.3 degrees Celsius, the highest ever recorded in the city.

"Judicial notice is taken of the fact that as recent as on May 30, the official temperature recorded in Delhi was 52.3 degrees Celsius. It is not far to see the day when this city may be only a barren desert, in case the present generation continues an apathetic view on deforestation," Justice Tushar Rao Gedela said.

The high court, which had earlier appointed its former judge Najmi Waziri as the chairperson of an internal departmental committee of city officials dealing with the protection of forests in Delhi, was informed that Waziri was unable to perform his duties due to a lack of infrastructure. "This court cannot countenance a situation where the chairperson (Justice Waziri) is unable to discharge the responsibilities on account of lack of an office space or a secretarial and support staff or even transportation.

"However, rather than directing the department (of Forest and Wildlife) to provide staff in a diverted capacity, it is considered appropriate to direct the department to pursue the matter in all earnest and in no case shall the approval be delayed beyond June 15," the court said.

As per a report of the chairperson of the committee filed through advocate R Arunadhri Iyer, the Delhi government was informed of the requirement of infrastructure, along with secretarial support staff and transportation which would be required for the chairperson to efficiently discharge his responsibilities.

The chief conservator of forests submitted that the approval for the requirements has already been put up to the minister concerned and thereafter, it is to be placed before the Cabinet and then to the lieutenant governor for final approval.

Three dozen scrapped cars gutted in fire at abandoned plot

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

Around three dozen scrapped cars were gutted in a fire that broke out in an abandoned plot here on Sunday afternoon amid heatwave conditions in the region.

No casualties were reported in the fire incident, Chief Fire Officer Pradeep Kumar Choubey said.

"The fire service unit was alerted at 3.10 pm about the fire that broke out in a plot which had been lying abandoned for the last several years and had scrapped Skoda cars parked here," Choubey said.

"We had rushed six water tenders to the site immediately and managed to douse the fire completely. Almost 35 vehicles have been gutted in the fire although no person suffered any injury," the CFO, who supervised the relief operation, said. In light of the continuing heatwave and the potential for fire accidents, the Gautam Buddha Nagar Police had on Saturday issued essential guidelines to authorities and emphasized the need for operational equipment management in critical facilities. In schools, colleges, hospitals, ICUs, and other establishments, standby equipment should be kept in operational mode and used alternately to prevent overheating and potential fire hazards, according to the advisory. "Societies and establishments must exercise caution and avoid burning waste, as this can lead to extensive fires, significantly increasing the risk of injury and property damage," it stated. "Fire and electrical audits are crucial in preventing accidents. Gaming zones, major commercial establishments, hotels, and hospitals should conduct comprehensive fire and electrical audits. This includes inspecting electrical wiring and load capacities to prevent short circuits and replacing old, deteriorated wiring," it added. The police also called for a widespread public awareness campaign to educate people about firefighting measures.

Capital sees six fold surge in cases of minors driving, says traffic police

With an erring 17-year-old driver in Pune ramming his Porsche and claiming life of a two IT professionals, an analysis by the Delhi Traffic Police has revealed a staggering surge of more than six times in minor driving on the roads of the national Capital, to 101 cases in the period of January 1 to May 15 in 2024 from 15 during the same period in 2023. A statement on Sunday stated, "The Delhi Traffic Police have intensified their efforts to curb the alarming rise in incidents of minor driving across the city. This year has seen a significant increase in the number of prosecutions against underage drivers, reflecting a robust and proactive stance by the Delhi Traffic Police."

Further, it stated, "The statistics have revealed that between January 1 and May 15, 2024, the Delhi Traffic Police issued 101 challans for minor driving offenses, a significant increase from the 15 challans issued during the same period in 2023. This represents a remarkable surge of nearly 573% in prosecutions compared to the previous year."

The police attributed this increase to the rigorous enforcement strategies and the unwavering commitment of the traffic police to uphold the law. "Additionally, the rise in prosecutions serves as a deterrent, highlighting the legal consequences of such violations," it stated, adding that the enforcement drive has led to a substantial rise in the number of challans issued against minor drivers and their guardians.

In a first, dog with complex heart condition successfully undergoes surgery in Indian subcontinent

STAFF REPORTER ■ NEW DELHI

In a first, a dog with a complex heart condition successfully underwent a minimally invasive heart surgery at a hospital here with veterinarians claiming it to be the first such procedure to be carried out by private practitioners in the Indian subcontinent.

Seven-year-old beagle, Juliet, was suffering from Mitral valve disease for the last two years, Dr Bhanu Dev Sharma, an interventional cardiologist for small animals at Max PetZ

Hospital in East of Kailash said on Sunday. The condition is caused by degenerative changes in mitral valve leaflets which result in back flow of blood within the left upper chamber of the heart and subsequent congestive heart failure (fluid build-up in lungs) as the disease progresses. The surgeons performed a Transcatheter Edge-to-Edge Repair (TEER) procedure using a valve clamp on May 30. "It's called hybrid surgery as it's a combination of a micro surgery and interventional procedure. The best part about this procedure is that it's minimally invasive as it's a beating heart procedure and not like an open heart surgery which needs a heart lung bypass machine," Sharma explained. As per the pet parents, they were giving heart medications to Juliet for the last one year, Sharma said. They learnt about the procedure from their visit to the US where this surgery was introduced at Colorado state university two years ago, he said. The pet dog was discharged in a stable medical condition just two days after surgery.

Mitral valve disease is the most common heart condition in dogs in India as well as in rest of the world and accounts for 80 per cent of all heart diseases in dogs in India and worldwide. This disease is amongst one of the major causes of deaths in dogs, Sharma said. "The only treatment majorly available so far includes medicinal treatment which delays the onset of clinical signs and gives symptomatic relief for sometime. It is not curative," he said. Open heart mitral valve repair surgery is not a very viable option owing to the highly invasive nature of the procedure and because it is done at very few centres in the world. "TEER is entirely an image guided procedure and is done under trans oesophageal 4D echocardiography and fluoroscopy guidance in a beating heart. A small incision is made on the chest wall to get access to apex of the heart after which through a catheter the two leaflets of the diseased mitral valve are clamped together to reduce the leakage across the valve under guidance of high-tech equipment," Sharma said.

According to the veterinary hospital, Sharma's team is the first from Asia and second worldwide among private practitioners to have done the procedure successfully. Sharma and his team of four doctors travelled to Shanghai last year to learn about the procedure. "The procedure is similar in concept to Mitra clip procedure in humans which has benefitted and saved many human lives so far. With the launch of this surgery it gives a new ray of hope for dogs suffering from this very common heart disease," Sharma said.

BJP excited as exit polls predict Modi's landslide win

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI/PATNA

With exit polls indicating that Prime Minister Narendra Modi all set to return for third term, BJP leaders expressed a lot of enthusiasm over the massive winning margin predicted by pollsters.

Former Union Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad, a party candidate from Patna Sahib constituency, on Sunday, targeted former Congress president Rahul Gandhi over his remark about exit polls and claim of getting 295 seats in the 2024 Lok Sabha Elections.

The senior BJP leader said the grand old party is performing poorly because it didn't stop daydreaming.

Advising Congress to work on the ground and stop criticising Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Prasad said "There is no bar on daydreaming in India. The Exit Poll is only reflecting the exact poll. We will cross 400 in Delhi (Centre) and 40 in Bihar." The exit polls have predicted a stunning victory for the saffron party, with some pollsters claiming that the BJP-led NDA's score may well cross the 400 mark. "PM Narendra Modi worries about the poor, worries about the farmers, he is the one who is working to develop this nation, and he is the one who is safeguarding the country," said Prasad at Patna.

Prasad also jibed at Congress chief spokesman Jairam Ramesh's statement and said that Congress's current situation is because the party never stopped daydreaming. "People can dream during the day and there is no restraint on that. Congress is performing poorly because they haven't stopped daydreaming. They should work on the ground and win the confidence of the public and should stop criticizing and abusing PM Modi."

Tripura unit BJP president Rajib Bhattacharjee claimed on Sunday People have voted for "Modi's guarantee", and this will ensure 400 seats for the BJP-led NDA on June 4. Speaking to reporters, Bhattacharjee claimed the opposition bloc INDIA will be defeated in the elections as it had no promise or programme for the people.

"Almost all the exit polls have predicted a landslide victory for the BJP-led NDA. My prediction is that the NDA will cross the 400-mark target set by PM Narendra Modi," he told reporters.

"The opposition bloc has no programme for the people. They will be defeated in the elections," he said, adding that several opposition leaders were sent to jail because of corruption, while the remaining were waiting for the same fate after June 4.

Founder of CVOTER, Yashwant Deshmukh said "NDA is winning primarily because PM Modi is popular and because there is a huge gap of vote share in different states wherever they are winning...Two states are a good battleground- West Bengal and Maharashtra, there is a contest in each state. Beyond these states, all the states are one-sided..."

On Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's "Modi fantasy poll" remark, Deshmukh said "Politicians are free to say whatever they wish. They can say that they are fantasy polls of PM Modi but when our exit polls were showing that Congress is winning in Karnataka or Telangana or other INDI alliance partners in West Bengal, Delhi, Punjab, Kerala, and Tamil Nadu, whenever we were saying that they are leading and they are winning, were we fantasy polls of Rahul Gandhi or Arvind Kejriwal or Mamata Banerjee or Stalin?"

India sends 90 tonnes of pharmaceutical ingredients to Cuba

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

India on Sunday sent 90 tonnes of pharmaceutical ingredients to Cuba as part of its humanitarian assistance to the island nation. Cuba has been reeling under shortage of essential goods, food items and medicines. "The government of India is extending humanitarian assistance to the government of the Republic of Cuba. A consignment of approx 90 tonnes of nine Made in India Active Pharmaceutical Ingredients (APIs) left Mundra port on June 2," Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said.

"These APIs will be used by the Cuban drug manufacturers to produce essential antibiotics in the dosage form of tablets, capsules, syrups and injections, needed for treatment of chronic communicable diseases," it said.

The MEA said the assistance reaffirms India's status as the "Pharmacy of the World" and underlines its commitment to historic friendship with Cuba.

Congress confident of party surpassing exit poll projections

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Congress leaders on Sunday exuded confidence that the party will do much better than what was projected in the exit polls in states such as Karnataka, Maharashtra, Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan, and asserted the INDIA bloc is going to form the next government.

Two separate virtual meetings were held with one involving Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge and former AICC chief Rahul Gandhi with the party's Lok Sabha candidates, legislative party leaders and state unit chiefs while another by Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh with key state leaders, PCC presidents and legislature party leaders of various states.

Kharge, Rahul, party general secretaries Jairam Ramesh and K C Venugopal, along with other senior leaders, interacted with the party's Lok Sabha candidates and reviewed the preparations for the counting day on June 4.

The meeting comes a day after exit polls predicted that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will retain power for a third straight term, with the BJP-led NDA expected to win a big majority in the Lok Sabha polls. Ramesh has said that the exit polls that came out Saturday evening are "completely bogus" and have been "orchestrated and masterminded by the man whose exit is inevitable and guaranteed on June 4."

"These are all part of the psychological games being played by the outgoing prime minister (Narendra Modi) and the outgoing home minister (Amit Shah). The outgoing home minister calls up 150 District Magistrates and collectors yesterday. The results that the exit polls have come up with bear no relation to reality," the Congress leader alleged.

Leaders of several INDIA bloc parties had also met here on Saturday and took stock of the opposition's preparations leading up to the June 4 counting of votes polled in the Lok Sabha elections, and asserted they will get more than 295 seats, enough for them to form the next government. During his zoom call interaction with Ramesh, Assam Congress chief Bhupen Borah said that his party would win at least seven seats in the state. He said that alleged internal squabbling in the BJP and the impact of the INDIA bloc had benefitted the Congress.

Leader of Opposition in the Punjab Assembly Partap Singh Bajwa said all the surveys have given 7-9 seats to the Congress. "We are ahead on 9 seats, 1 seat will go to the AAP and 3 seats will be won by the candidates who will not in any way help the NDA or PM. The INDIA alliance will get a minimum of 10 seats...In Punjab, the NDA is not going to get even a single seat," he said.

Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu said the Congress has an edge on two parliamentary seats and is in a tight contest on the two other seats in the hill state. He exuded confidence that the Congress was also winning the six assembly seats where the bypolls have taken place.

Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar said that his party would win at least two-third of the 28 seats on the back of the popularity of the guarantees the Congress fulfilled after coming to power in the state. Bihar Congress chief Akhilesh Prasad Singh said that his party would definitely win 6-7 seats out of 9 seats it contested in the state.

Maharashtra Congress chief Nana Patole, Haryana state unit chief Uday Bhan, Rajasthan Congress chief Govind Singh Dotasra and Uttar Pradesh

Congress chief Ajai Rai also spoke during the interaction and exuded confidence of a much better performance in their respective states than the projections made in the exit polls.

The unusual interaction before the media came a day after the Exit polls on Saturday predicted that Prime Minister Modi will retain power for a third straight term, with the BJP-led NDA expected to win a big majority in the Lok Sabha polls. All the state leaders, who spoke at the virtual interaction, debunked the exit polls as part of a psychological game being played by the BJP to "reduce the morale of the Congress workers".

India hails amendments aimed at enhancing global response to health emergencies at World Health Assembly

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

India has hailed the amendments aimed at enhancing the global response to Public Health Emergencies of International Concern and Pandemic Emergencies at the 77th World Health Assembly held recently. It was based on 300 proposals made by member countries after the Covid-19 pandemic.

These amendments include provisions to facilitate equitable access to essential health products during health crises and the mobilization of financial resources to support developing countries in building, strengthening, and maintaining the core capacities mandated by the International Health Regulations (IHR). India played a pivotal role in the development of this instrument, advocating for operationalizing equity to ensure a fair and effective response by developing countries to Public Health Emergencies.

Apurva Chandra, Union Health Secretary and Chair of Committee A at the World Health Assembly (WHA), emphasized, "This is a step towards equity and the creation of an umbrella of solidarity that will help protect the world from future pandemic threats." The Working group on International Health Regulations (WGHR) and Intergovernmental Negotiating Body on Pandemic treaty with country representations began the negotiation process in two separate groups almost two years ago and met a number of times, including many resumed sessions on the issue, the statement said. The processes witnessed a number of close calls with seeming deadlocks over positions taken by the various stakeholders, it added.

Exit polls deliberate attempt to justify rigging of elections: Opposition

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI/MUMBAI/LUCKNOW/PATNA

Opposition parties on Sunday termed the exit polls "bogus" and it was Congress a "deliberate attempt" to justify rigging of the elections and part of "psychological games" being played by Prime Minister Narendra Modi to lower the morale of the INDIA bloc workers.

Former Congress president Rahul Gandhi dubbed the exit polls as "Modi media poll". "This is not called an exit poll but its name is 'Modi media poll'. This is Modi ji's poll, it is his fantasy poll," Rahul Gandhi told reporters at the AICC headquarters after a meeting with party's Lok Sabha MPs via video conference. Exit polls on Saturday predicted that Prime Minister Modi will retain power for a third straight term, with the BJP-led NDA expected to win a big majority in the Lok Sabha polls. Asked how many seats INDIA bloc will get, the former Congress chief said, "Have you heard Sidhu Moose Wala's song '295'? So 295 (seats)."

While Shiv Sena (UBT) MP Sanjay Raut described the exit polls as a "corporate game and a fraud" and claimed there was pressure on the media companies which conduct it, Samajwadi Party president Akhilesh Yadav also questioned the veracity of the exit polls, saying the opposition had already said that "pro-BJP media" would show the ruling party crossing 300 seats in the Lok Sabha.

Speaking to media, the Rajya Sabha member claimed the opposition INDIA bloc will win 295 to 310 seats in the 543-member Lok Sabha and form government. Raut also said they do not require the exit polls as they work on the field and know the "undercurrent".

"There is lot of pressure on these media companies. The exit poll exercise is a corporate game and a fraud. Do these companies conduct exit polls for free?" Raut asked. The Shiv Sena (UBT) leader too claimed the opposition INDIA alliance will win 295 to 310 seats. "This is not an exit poll but the figures are taken through a people's poll," he said.

In Maharashtra, the Maha Vikas Aghadi, which comprises the Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena (UBT), Congress and Sharad Pawar-led NCP (SP), will win more than 35 seats out of the total 48, Raut said. "The Shiv Sena will maintain its 2019 tally of 18 seats and the Congress and NCP will also do well. (NCP/SP) Lok Sabha member) Supriya Sule will win in Baramati by more than 1.5 lakh votes and the Congress will deliver its best performance," he said.

Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Haryana, Karnataka will bring a change in the country along with Maharashtra, Raut claimed. "The INDIA bloc will win 35 seats (out of 80) in UP and the Rashtriya Janata Dal (headed by Lalu Prasad) will get 16 seats (out of 40) in Bihar," he claimed. Akhilesh alleged that using the exit polls, the BJP wanted to benefit from the share market which opens on Monday, and added that "disappointed faces" of BJP leaders are telling the truth.

Insisting that the INDIA bloc was winning the Lok Sabha polls, the SP chief also called on the candidates and their poll agents to closely "monitor" the EVMs on counting day.

"Understand the chronology of the exit poll. The opposition had already said that pro-BJP media would show the BJP crossing 300 seats that would create the scope for fraud. Today's pro-BJP exit poll was prepared many months ago, the channels just aired it now. People's public opinion is being deceived through this exit poll," Yadav said. "Based on this exit poll, BJP wants to benefit from the share market which opens on Monday. If these exit polls were not false and BJP was not losing, then BJP would not have blamed its own people. The disappointed faces of BJP leaders are showing the truth," he added.

He said that BJP leaders are realising that the result of the whole country cannot be changed like the Chandigarh mayoral election because this time the opposition is fully alert and public anger is also at its peak.

"Corrupt officials who are in cahoots with BJP are also not able to muster the courage to rig the elections after seeing an active Supreme Court, and they also do not want to become a victim of public anger," the SP chief said. All the workers, office bearers and candidates of INDIA bloc should not make even one per cent mistake in monitoring the EVMs, Yadav said and added that the opposition alliance is winning the polls. "That is why remain alert and get the counting done and celebrate the victory only after official certification," he said. In a separate social media post Akhilesh said, "The basis of exit poll is not EVM but the DM. Administration should remember that there is no greater force than people's power."

EC seeks factual information from Ramesh on his remark

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

The Election Commission (EC) sought factual information from Congress leader Jairam Ramesh on Sunday on his claim that Home Minister Amit Shah has called up 150 district magistrates and collectors ahead of the June 4 counting of votes for the Lok Sabha polls.

In a letter to Ramesh, the poll panel has asked him to share details regarding his claim by 7 pm on Sunday. The EC has referred to his post on X on June 1, in which the Congress general secretary had alleged that "the outgoing Home Minister has been calling up DMs/Collectors. So far, he has spoken to 150 of them. This is blatant and brazen intimidation, showing how desperate the BJP is..."

The process of counting votes is a sacred duty cast upon every returning officer and such public statements "tend to put an element of doubt and thus, deserves to be addressed in larger public interest", the EC has told Ramesh.

It has also told the Congress leader that when the Model Code of Conduct is in force, all officers are under the deemed deputation of the commission and they report directly to the poll watchdog for any directions.

"However, no DM has reported any such undue influence as alleged by you...", the EC's letter to Ramesh has stated. "It is requested that details of 150 DMs to whom such calls have been allegedly made by the Home Minister along with the factual matrix/basis of your information are shared by 7 pm today -- June 2, 2024, so that appropriate action can be taken," it has told the Congress leader.

It has said that being a responsible, experienced and very senior leader of a national party, Ramesh must have made such a public statement ahead of the counting day on the basis of facts or information he believes to be true.

Researchers announce successful trials of nutraceutical in protecting smokers' lungs

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ NEW DELHI

Offering a promising preventive measure against smoke-related diseases, Indian researchers have announced successful clinical trials of HARAS, a curcumin-based nutraceutical in protecting smokers' lungs by significantly reducing carbon monoxide (CO) levels.

The clinical study findings are published in peer reviewed journals International Journal of Chemical and Biochemical Sciences and Journal of Oral and Maxillofacial Pathology. This breakthrough formulation utilizes curcumin, a compound derived from turmeric and has been developed by Cambridge-educated nanoscientist Dr. Vijay Kanuru, Founder of Nanoved Research Foundation through innovative nanotechnology. Clinical trials, conducted by Sharda University's researchers including Dr Deepak Bhargava, Dr Vidya Devi Chandvarkar, and Dr Mithilesh

Mishra, involved 25 healthy smoker volunteers who were administered 10 ml of HARAS juice daily for 30 days. CO levels were meticulously monitored using a breath analyzer at the beginning, mid-point, and conclusion of the trial. Results revealed a statistically significant reduction in CO levels by the 30th day (P<0.001), underscoring HARAS's effectiveness in detoxifying smokers' lungs. Dr. Bhargava, Professor and Head of the Department of Oral Pathology and Microbiology at Sharda University, emphasized the clinical importance of these findings: "Our clinical studies demonstrate that HARAS provides substantial lung protection for smokers by significantly reducing carbon monoxide levels. This nutraceutical stands as a crucial tool in combating the adverse health effects of smoking." Cigarette smoking remains a leading cause of lung cancer and other chronic diseases, with statistics showing it accounts for 90% of lung cancer cases in men and 70-80% in women. Smokers are 15 to 30 times more likely to develop lung cancer or succumb to it compared to non-smokers. Dr. Mithilesh Mishra, Associate Professor at Sharda University, noted the clinical benefits: "In our extended study with 100 smoker patients, HARAS showed no side effects while significantly reducing CO levels, confirming its safety and efficacy." Dr. Kanuru said, "By utilizing liposomal nanotechnology, we have vastly improved the bioavailability of curcumin, allowing even small doses to offer significant health benefits. HARAS is not only beneficial for smokers but also provides protection against conditions induced by air pollution, such as fatigue, inflammation, and cardiovascular issues." Dr. Pradyut Waghray a leading pulmonologist at Apollo Hospitals Hyderabad, added: "HARAS's capacity to mitigate cigarette smoke-induced pulmonary inflammation and oxidative stress marks it as a vital preventive measure for millions of smokers."

NDA will get more seats than predicted by exit polls: Athawale

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Union minister Ramdas Athawale on Sunday said the ruling National Democratic Alliance (NDA) will get more number of Lok Sabha seats than predicted by the exit polls. Addressing a press conference here, Athawale expressed confidence that the BJP-led NDA will get more than 400 seats in the 543-member Lok Sabha.

On Saturday, exit polls predicted that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will retain power for a third straight term, with the BJP-led NDA expected to win a big majority in the Lok Sabha polls. While India Today-Axis My India has forecast 361-401 seats for the BJP-led alliance and 131-166 seats for the opposition INDIA bloc in the 543-member Lok Sabha, the ABP-C Voter predicted 353-383 seats for the ruling alliance and 152-182 seats for the INDIA bloc. Today's Chanakya predicted 335 seats to the BJP and 400 to the NDA, with a margin of 15 seats either way. It predicted 107 seats to the opposition alliance with a possibility of its tally going up or down by 11 seats. The BJP had given the slogan of '400 paar' for its alliance in the Lok Sabha polls. Athawale said the exit polls have predicted the NDA will win 350 to 375 seats, but the BJP-led alliance will get more seats. "In Maharashtra, the ruling Mahayuti win will 35 to 40 seats (out of 48), and in the country, the NDA will get more than 400 seats," said the Republican Party of India (A) chief, whose party is a constituent of the NDA. The Mahayuti in Maharashtra comprises the Shiv Sena led by Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, BJP, and the NCP headed by Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar. Athawale said that last year, the BJP got more success than what the exit polls predicted in the assembly elections to Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh. "Now the exit polls have given the NDA 375, but the ruling alliance will cross 400 seats," he said. Athawale said the Congress-led opposition tried to create confusion among Dalits by saying the Constitution will be changed, but the NDA has been able to clear the air among people. This mischievous campaign of the Congress and its allies was countered well and hence Dalits, Bahujans, Buddhists and the followers of Babasaheb Ambedkar supported the ruling alliance, he claimed. PM Modi addressed 18 rallies in Maharashtra and informed the people about the work of his government, Athawale said and expressed confidence that the ruling alliance in the state will win 35 to 40 seats. In Maharashtra, there is a neck-and-neck fight between the ruling and opposition alliances, but the Mahayuti will win, the Union minister said. The RPI (A) activists supported the Mahayuti candidates and campaigned wholeheartedly, he added.

Nine counting centres set up for five LS seats in JK; one in Delhi

PTI ■ JAMMU

With two days left for the declaration of results of the Lok Sabha polls, nine centres have been set up for counting of votes in five Lok Sabha constituencies in Jammu and Kashmir, officials said on Sunday. In addition, one counting centre has also been set up in Delhi for the counting of Kashmiri migrant votes which were polled by the displaced community at specially set up polling stations in Srinagar, Baramulla and Anantnag-Rajouri Lok Sabha seats, they said.

The counting of votes, scheduled for Tuesday, also covering Udhampur and Jammu parliamentary seats in J-K, will decide the fate of 100 candidates, including senior BJP leader and Union minister Jitendra Singh, two former chief ministers - Omar Abdullah of National Conference (NC) and Mehbooba Mufti of Peoples Democratic Party (PDP). The other bigwigs include former ministers Raman Bhalla and Choudhary Lal Singh of Congress, GM Saroori of DPAP, Aga Ruhullah Mehdi and Mian Altaf of NC, Ashraf Mir of Apni Party, Sajjad Lone of Peoples Conference. Former MLA Engineer Rashid is fighting from Tihar Jail. Officials said all arrangements including security and deployment of staff have been made at all the 10 counting centres. The Combined Voter Turnout (VTR) at the polling stations for the entire Union territory (five Lok Sabha seats) was 58.46 per cent - the highest poll participation in the last 35 years. The voter turnout of 50.86 per cent from the three parliamentary constituencies in the Kashmir Valley witnessed a jump of 30 percentage points from the 2019 general elections when it was 19.16 per cent. Srinagar, Baramulla and Anantnag-Rajouri in the valley recorded VTR of 38.49 per cent, 59.1 per cent and 54.84 per cent respectively, which has been highest in the last three decades. The other two constituencies in the UT, namely Udhampur and Jammu in the Jammu region, recorded 68.27 per cent and 72.22 per cent voter turnout respectively. The counting of votes in Udhampur constituency where Union minister Jitendra Singh is seeking his third consecutive term will be held at government degree college, Kathua. Apart from Singh, there are 11 other candidates that includes Lal Singh, also a two-time former MP, and GM Saroori in the fray. Seven of the candidates are independents. The counting of votes in Baramulla constituency will be held in Government Degree College (Boys), Baramulla. Omar Abdullah is pitted against 21 candidates in the constituency, prominent among them being Lone and Rashid. Among the 14 independents who are contesting in the seat, two are women. In Anantnag-Rajouri constituency, divided by the mighty Pir Panjal range, officials said the counting of votes will be held at Government Degree College (Boys) Anantnag and Government PG College Rajouri. Mehbooba Mufti is seeking a victory from this constituency and is facing a major challenge from NC's Mian Altaf.

There are also 10 independents and eight other candidates, including the BJP-supported Apni Party's Zaffar Manhas. The counting of votes in Srinagar parliamentary constituency, which has the highest number of 24 candidates, including 16 independents, will take place at Sher-i-Kashmir International Convention Cent (SKICC) along the banks of Dal Lake. NC's Ruhullah, Mir of Apni Party and PDP youth leader Waheed Para are the strong candidates from the constituency. Counting of votes for the Jammu constituency, where BJP's Jugal Kishore is eyeing a hat-trick of wins, will be carried out at the premises comprising Government Polytechnic College and Government MAM college. Raman Bhalla, the working president of the J&K unit of Congress, is among the 21 other candidates in the fray from the seat. Officials said counting of Kashmiri migrant votes will take place at Government College for Women Gandhi Nagar, Jammu, Government Girls Higher Secondary School, Udhampur and J&K House, New Delhi. J-K Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Pandurang K Pole had a comprehensive review of preparedness of the districts ahead of the final counting of votes at Nirvachan Bhawan here on Saturday, they said.

No worries on LS polls outcome, expecting good results: KCR

PTI ■ HYDERABAD

A mid exit poll reports indicating a "poor show" by the BRS in the recently concluded Lok Sabha elections, former Chief Minister K Chandrababhan Naidu on Sunday downplayed it, saying whatever be the outcome, the party will work for the people. Addressing the leaders and workers of the party on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of the formation of Telangana state, Naidu, also known as KCR, said the BRS's defeat in the recent assembly polls was a temporary setback. Attacking the Congress government in the state, Naidu said the present regime has become unpopular in a short span of time, and that the anger among people is such that the discontent will "explode like a bomb" shortly. "What will happen in the Parliament elections? It (result) can be any number. Somebody said we (BRS) would get 11 seats. Some other person said we get only one seat. Somebody said 2 to 4. This has become gambling. Let us see. There was a good response among the public during my bus yatra (poll campaigning). We can expect a good result. Whatever be the outcome, there is no need to worry," he said.

"Whatever be the outcome, BRS is the protection shield for Telangana," he further said. Several exit poll predictions indicated that there will be tough fight between the Congress and the BJP while the BRS would be marginalised in the recently held Lok Sabha elections. Telangana has 17 Lok Sabha seats. Alleging that some people are saying that they'll finish off the BRS, KCR said the 'pink party' is "like an ocean", and no one can destroy it. "There is a bright future for us, and don't get confused with political results. This decennial celebration should become an inspiration for us," the BRS supremo advised his party cadres. Naidu said the defeat in the assembly elections was a temporary setback that would occur to any political party during its journey and exuded confidence that BRS would come back to power again in the next assembly elections. Even six months after coming to power, the Congress government has not announced even a single policy for sectors such as industry, IT, and agriculture, he said. He recalled that the whole of Telangana region, before becoming a state, was plagued with suicides, famine, power cuts, hunger deaths of weavers, and that there have been major improvements since then.

Telangana suffered destruction of 100 years in ten years: CM

PTI ■ HYDERABAD

Claiming that Telangana suffered "destruction of 100 years" during the 10-year BRS rule, Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy on Sunday said his government is working for the state's cultural and economic revival and expressed his desire to make it a destination for the world. Addressing the 10th Telangana formation day celebrations organised by the state government here, he thanked Congress leader Sonia Gandhi and former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh for fulfilling the decades-long demand of statehood for Telangana during the previous UPA regime at the Centre. He also defended his government's decision to invite Sonia Gandhi to the event though she did not attend. A video message of Sonia Gandhi was played at the event. He recalled the crucial role played by Sonia Gandhi, former Lok Sabha Speaker Meira Kumar and also late BJP leader Sushma Swaraj in the passage of the bill for formation of Telangana state in Parliament in 2014. "We invited Sonia Gandhi, who fulfilled the Telangana people's aspirations, as a guest to the state formation day celebrations. Someone asked in what capacity she was invited. Does it require permission to invite the mother to the child's home?" he asked. As long as the history of Telangana exists, Sonia Gandhi will be recognized and respected as "mother" by the Telangana society, he said. Taking exception to the Congress government's decision to invite Sonia Gandhi to the Telangana formation day celebrations, the BJP had said the government should inform people in what capacity Sonia Gandhi is being invited. Recalling the role of Sonia Gandhi, Meira Kumar and also Sushma Swaraj in passage of Telangana bill in Lok Sabha in 2014, Revanth Reddy thanked them on behalf of the state's people. Sushma Swaraj, who was Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha then, had extended cooperation for the passage of the bill, he said. He targeted the previous BRS government, without naming the party, for the alleged destruction in the state. "During the 10 years of rule, Telangana has suffered 100 years of destruction. It was not just physical destruction but also fundamental freedom has been assaulted. Social justice was denied. The wealth of the state, which should belong to all the people, has gone into the hands of a few," he said. He accused BRS of destroying Telangana's culture and traditions. Soon after taking over, his government had restored "freedom" and made the government accessible to people, he added. According to Reddy, the previous Chief Minister's camp office-cum-official residence has been named after social reformer Jyotiba Phule and a mechanism to receive representations from people on their grievances has been set up there. Noting that his government is working towards the state's cultural and economic revival, he said the state does not have an official song even 10 years after its formation. As per the wishes of the people, the government is proudly announcing the song "Jaya Jaya Telangana...," penned by noted Telangana poet Ande Sri, as the state's official song from today. During the official event, Revanth Reddy unveiled the song for which music was composed by Oscar-winning music director M M Keeravani. Pointing out that an emblem reflect a nation's history, Revanth Reddy said the government is working on a new emblem taking into consideration the suggestions and advice from various sections. Quoting the Sanskrit phrase "Janani janam bhoomim ichha swargadapi gariyasi", he said an average Telangana rural woman will be the replica of 'Telangana Talli' (mother) who is hard working and generous. Taking this into consideration, the 'Telangana Talli' statue will be designed. He alleged that the state's economy was completely ruined when his government came to power in December last year. The state's debt burden mounted to Rs seven lakh crore. The government is laying a strong foundation for the state's progress by conceiving long term plans for future generations. "We are preparing the 'Green Telangana - 2050 Master Plan' for the entire Telangana." He highlighted his government's welfare and development initiatives, including Musi Riverfront Development project in Hyderabad, stringent measures to check the menace of drugs, recruitment of 30,000 youth in 70 days, depositing Rs 7,500 crore in the accounts of 69 lakh farmers and uninterrupted power supply.

Will win Nagaland lone LS seat, says Congress

PTI ■ KOHIMA

The Congress on Sunday expressed confidence about winning the lone Lok Sabha seat in Nagaland and forming the next government at the Centre. Addressing a press conference, AICC in-charge of Nagaland Girish Chodankar said the exit poll figures were imaginary and all would be clear in the next two days. "We will not only win the lone Lok Sabha seat in Nagaland but the INDIA bloc will get majority seats in the country, while many other parties will also support the alliance. "India has voted against fake promises, misgovernance, unemployment, price rise and inflation. People have voted for the future of India and we are confident that we will prove the exit polls wrong," the Congress leader said. Chodankar, who arrived in Kohima on Saturday evening, said that it was decided at the extended executive meeting of state Congress that the party will contest the elections to the urban local bodies in the state scheduled on June 26. Except for the eastern Nagaland areas, Congress will contest in most wards of the three town municipalities and 36 town councils, he said. Chodankar said that if the Eastern Nagaland People's Organisation (ENPO) reconsiders its decision to participate in the civic polls, Congress would field candidates there as well. State Congress president S Spongmeren Jamir said that those aspiring to contest the elections on a Congress ticket can submit applications till June 7. BJP worker killed in Bengal post-poll violence Kolkata, Jun 2 (PTI) A BJP worker was killed by a group of men in West Bengal's Nadia district in post-poll violence, with the saffron party pointing fingers at the ruling Trinamool Congress. The TMC, however, claimed that the killing was a fallout of a family feud. Police sources said the incident happened at Kaliganj in the northern part of the district when BJP worker, Hafizur Sheikh, was playing carrom with others on Saturday night. It is alleged that 10-12 people came on motorbikes and first shot Sheikh and then hacked him, killing him on the spot. Local people demonstrated for over two hours and did not allow the police to lift the body. The body was later sent for post-mortem examination. The BJP's Uttar India unit president Arjun Biswas alleged that TMC goons killed the party worker. District TMC leader Rukbanur Rahman, however, blamed family feud behind the murder and the Trinamool Congress has no role in it. Family members of the deceased demanded immediate arrest of the culprits.

People voted for Modi's guarantee, NDA will win 400 seats: Tripura BJP chief

PTI ■ AGARTALA

People have voted for "Modi's guarantee", and this will ensure 400 seats for the BJP-led NDA on June 4, the party's Tripura unit president Rajib Bhattacharjee claimed on Sunday. Speaking to reporters, Bhattacharjee claimed the opposition bloc INDIA will be defeated in the elections as it had no promise or programme for the people. "Almost all the exit polls have predicted a landslide victory for the BJP-led NDA. My prediction is that the NDA will cross the 400-mark target set by PM Narendra Modi," he told reporters. "The opposition bloc has no programme for the people. They will be defeated in the elections," he said, adding that several opposition leaders were sent to jail because of corruption, while the remaining were waiting for the same fate after June 4.

Former CM Manik Sarkar of the CPI(M) said it was better to wait for the actual results. "They have conducted exit polls and presented those before the people. On the other hand, the INDIA bloc after a meeting said it will win close to 300 seats based on reports from various states. Let's wait for June 4," he said. Senior Congress MLA Gopal Chandra Roy said that exit polls have often failed to predict the actual outcomes of elections. "In 2004, there was no indication that the Congress was returning to power but it had happened. Therefore, I will not make any comment on the exit polls, but the Congress is hopeful that the INDIA bloc will form the next government in Delhi," he said.

One arrested in attack on BJP MP Ram Kripal Yadav

PTI ■ PATNA

A person was arrested on Sunday in connection with the attack on the convoy of BJP MP Ram Kripal Yadav in Patna, police said. The accused was identified as Bikash Yadav, a resident of Masaurhi, they said, adding that a special team was formed to nab the eight other accused who were on the run. Yadav alleged that he and his cavalcade were attacked by supporters of the RJD about an hour after polling was over in his Patliputra Lok Sabha constituency. He claimed that some of his supporters were also injured in the attack that took place around 7.30 pm in the Masaurhi area of Patna. Deputy CM Samrat Chaudhary demanded strict action against those involved in the attack. "The incident is highly condemnable. The way the convoy of our MP was attacked by RJD supporters, shows that the party headed by Lalu Prasad believes only in violence. We demand strict action against those involved in the incident from the Election Commission,"

Chaudhary told reporters. "The attack was aimed to harm Yadav. But he escaped unhurt. However, our several supporters were injured in the incident," he added. Yadav, a former Union minister, said he could never imagine the way shots were fired targeting him and his convoy. "I never stay inside the security cover because my voters and party workers protect Ram Kripal Yadav. I have never indulged in the politics of violence. I could never imagine the way shots were fired at me and my workers were beaten, they could have died," he said. "I met injured supporters who are undergoing treatment and enquired about their condition," he added.

PAPER WITH PASSION

An encore?

Exit polls predict an easy win for NDA, though INDIA says it is confident of 295+ seats

If what the exit polls say holds true, the BJP-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) is going to form its third successive Government at the Centre. The seventh and final phase of polling has concluded and the nation eagerly awaits on June 4 a formal announcement of the results. The exit poll predictions notwithstanding, the Opposition Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance (INDIA) coalition remains optimistic of securing over 295 seats. This juxtaposition of predictions raises intriguing questions about the electorate's intentions as well as the efficacy of exit polls itself. These polls, often seen as a barometer of public sentiment, do give a sense of the electorate's mood though it may or may not be accurate. If the predictions ring true, we can confidently say that it reflects a continued endorsement of the NDA's policies and Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership. We can conclude that the BJP's focus on economic development, national security and social welfare schemes seems to have struck a chord with a substantial number of voters. Initiatives like the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) and various infrastructure projects have likely contributed to this favourable outlook. On the other hand, INDIA has been claiming, based on its own assessment, a clear majority for itself. Despite the exit polls, the INDIA alliance, comprising 28 major Opposition parties, remains confident of winning over 295 seats.

This coalition, which includes the Congress too, believes that their emphasis on inclusive growth, social justice and a more decentralised governance model has resonated with a significant segment of the population. INDIA's campaign has centred on addressing economic disparities, improving education and healthcare and promoting secular values. Their optimism suggests a belief that there is a substantial undercurrent of support not fully captured by the exit polls. As far as exit polls are concerned, it would be too early for the NDA to start celebrating and for INDIA to sulk. There have been instances when exit polls have been wide of the mark and actual results have been at total variance with the predictions. Experts say the sample size must be at least five per cent (which is rarely the case) and it should be spread across demographics. Besides, predicting the number of seats based on exit votes is always subjective. What is important right now is a smooth transition/retention of power by whichever alliance takes Delhi. As the nation waits for the final results, the exit polls and INDIA's confidence set the stage for a potentially transformative election. The voters' message appears to be multifaceted, reflecting a balance between a desire for stability and development on the one hand and a push for inclusive growth and accountable governance on the other. Ultimately, regardless of the outcome, the next Government will need to respect the mandate and address the aspirations of the populace without discrimination and bias. So, till the actual verdict comes, keep your fingers crossed!

Dawn of a new era in Indian politics

Beyond the immediate winners and losers, the aftermath promises to be marked by potential new alliances, power shifts and the rise of emerging political forces

KALYANI SHANKAR

The 2024 Lok Sabha elections are closing and the results will be on June 4. The aftermath of the election is not simply about winners and losers. It is about more than just the anticipated outcomes. It includes the potential for unforeseen alliances, dramatic shifts in power dynamics and the emergence of new political forces, all of which are yet to be unveiled. The BJP's potential win in the election is a significant event that could reshape the political landscape. However, the outcome is uncertain, with two possible scenarios, each with implications. One scenario predicts a massive victory for the BJP, possibly even exceeding 400 seats. The other scenario suggests a more modest result for the BJP with fewer seats.

A landslide victory for the BJP could have far-reaching consequences. In a worst-case scenario, if the BJP wins fewer seats, the party could still secure support from other parties. If the party emerges as the single largest, albeit with fewer seats than in the 2019 poll, it has a plan B to form the Government with the help of some neutral parties.

The strategic decisions made by the Congress party, such as reducing the number of contested constituencies, highlight the depth and complexity of Indian politics. Each move is a calculated step towards a larger goal. As the sixth phase of the Lok Sabha polls concluded on Saturday, the Congress claimed the BJP's fate is "all but sealed," with the INDIA bloc having already crossed the halfway mark of 272 seats and is on course for a total of over 350 seats.

The INDIA Alliance, a significant player in Indian politics, was formed by 26 Opposition parties last year to fight Modi unitedly. However, if the BJP returns to power, the alliance may face a significant challenge. Some partners, such as the Trinamool Congress and the AAP, have decided to refrain from forming partnerships for the Lok Sabha polls, weakening the Congress's position. A BJP victory could lead to reevaluating the INDIA

Alliance's strategy, with some partners choosing to align with the BJP and others seeking new partnerships or independent paths.

If the BJP wins more seats, smaller parties may rush to join the alliance. This rush may be fueled by their desire to align with the winning side, which could impact the post-election scenario. However, this rush to join the coalition may be more than just motivated by political interests. Some parties want to oppose Modi, while others see alliances as a failed attempt. Others, like the Trinamool Congress and the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) in Punjab, have chosen to refrain from engaging in partnerships. They, along with the Congress and the Left Parties, would challenge the NDA.

This could result in the collapse of the newly formed India coalition, as this alliance has many fair-weather friends who may ally with any party based solely on their self-interest. The BJP's ability to secure more seats or gain support from other parties will not be a surprise. This could impact the political landscape, potentially leading to a realignment of political forces, including the INDIA Alliance.

The BJP has lost some crucial allies, such as SAD, Shiv Sena and JD(U). However, JD(U) and the TDP have now rejoined. In Tamil Nadu, the AIADMK, a former NDA ally, may also rejoin the NDA depending on its performance in the polls. Even the ruling DMK is considering its options after the election. The party understands the importance of maintaining a solid working relationship with the NDA and PM Modi. These potential alliances and shifts in power dynamics could significantly impact the political landscape after the elections.

The BJP could seek support from parties led by influential leaders such as Naveen Patnaik, Jagan Mohan Reddy, K Chandrashekhara Rao, Mayawati and others. Though not aligned with any coalition, these leaders have significant political influence and have helped the BJP in the past when the ruling party needed them. Their potential role in the post-election scenario could significantly shape the political landscape.

The Uddhav Thackeray faction of the Shiv Sena and the Sharad Pawar-led NCP were previously with the BJP and it wouldn't be surprising if they helped the NDA.

Delhi Chief Minister Kejriwal is ambitious and eyeing the prime ministership. He will remain in opposition. Kejriwal predicted that if Modi wins again on June 4, he will put Uddhav Thackeray, Sharad Pawar, Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge in jail. He would also be sent back to jail. However, it's important to note that these are potential scenarios and not confirmed outcomes. Various factors, including the election outcome, can influence it. The June 4 election results will show how politics will shape the Indian alliance, splintering or strengthening it. They will also indicate whether the BJP will become more arrogant with a hat trick under its belt. A third consecutive BJP win could embolden the party, leading to a more assertive political landscape.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

OPPOSITION ASSURED OF VICTORY

Madam — Apropos the news story "Congress assured of 295+ seats for INDIA bloc," published on June 1, this is my response. As a daily newspaper reader, I find the recent claims by Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge quite significant. The assertion that the INDIA Bloc will secure over 295 Lok Sabha seats in the 2024 elections reflects a strong confidence in their coalition's appeal. The strategic meeting, attended by prominent opposition leaders like Sonia Gandhi, Arvind Kejriwal and Akhilesh Yadav, underscores their united front and meticulous planning for vote counting on June 4.

Kharge's emphasis on staying vigilant during the vote count, particularly concerning EVMs and Form 17C, highlights the coalition's commitment to ensuring a fair process. The involvement of various party leaders, including Sharad Pawar and Tejaswini Yadav, signals a robust alliance to overcome the BJP's influence. The INDIA Bloc's confidence, bolstered by their internal survey, suggests a significant shift in Indian politics. If their predictions hold, we could witness a transformative phase in the country's governance.

SUSTAINABLE ECONOMIC GROWTH

Madam — Apropos the news story "Economic growth raises sustainability concerns," published on June 1, this is my response. India's economic ascent is remarkable, with its GDP growth rates positioning it as the fifth largest economy, surpassing the UK in 2022 and poised to overtake Japan by 2025. This growth is fueled by increased consumption, driving production and employment. However, this surge in consumerism raises significant sustainability concerns. The Household Consumption Expenditure Survey, 2022-23, shows a notable rise in average Monthly per capita consumer expenditure (MPCE), with urban and rural households increasing their spending by 33.5 per cent and 40.42 per cent respectively since 2011-12. This shift from 'needs to

Haryana thrives under current Govt

This is my response to the news story "Haryana is driving towards progress and prosperity," published on June 1. Haryana embodies courage and strength. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who has savoured Haryana's spirit, has led with vigour for ten years. Seeing Rafale jets soar in Ambala skies today is a proud moment for all of us. Modi recently highlighted the opposition's deceitful intentions and reaffirmed the BJP's dedication to Haryana's development. Earlier this month, former Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar led a mega rally endorsing Lok Sabha candidate Mohan Lal Badoli, marking a significant moment in Haryana's political landscape. The rally, attended by over 15,000 supporters, showcased the deep-rooted admiration for Khattar's leadership. The Modi-Manohar effect has propelled Haryana towards economic prosperity and social development. Initiatives like Beti Bachao Beti Padhao and PM-KISAN have brought transformative changes. Haryana's rise as an investment hub, with significant contributions in textiles and agriculture, underscores its progressive vision and commitment to holistic development.

wants' echoes Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs but also underscores the unsustainable wastage of resources.

High consumption depletes non-renewable resources, leading to scarcity and environmental degradation, including pollution, deforestation and climate change. Income disparities exacerbate these issues, as benefits are unevenly distributed, increasing economic inequality. To balance economic growth with sustainability, India must promote environmentally friendly consumption through education, incentives and regulations, investing in renewable resources and green technologies and implementing policies that encourage sustainable practices. Prioritising sustainability can ensure growth benefits society while preserving the environment for future generations.

REVIVE FARMING, SAVE ENVIRONMENT

Madam — Apropos the news story "Recycle nutrients to mitigate fertiliser crisis," published on June 1, this is my response. As someone who follows environmental issues closely, the growing concerns about the disruption of natural nutrient cycles due to human activities are alarming. Historically, sustainable farming practices effectively maintained the balance of essential nutrients like nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. The staggering Rs. 2 lakh crore annual subsidy on fertilisers in India underscores the scale of this problem. Compounded by the separation of livestock farming from crop production, vast amounts of nutrients now pollute water bodies, causing eutrophication and damaging ecosystems. It's encouraging to see advancements in wastewater treatment and nutrient recovery. Cities like Delhi and Hyderabad are expanding their treatment capacities and exploring nutrient recycling. However, the challenge remains immense. Implementing efficient nutrient recovery systems and adopting best practices from Europe could significantly reduce environmental pollution and support sustainable agriculture, potentially transforming India's agricultural landscape and mitigating the ongoing nutrient crisis.

Tobacco addiction grows steadily among the youth

With 24 per cent of children under 16 already using tobacco, the urgency for immediate intervention and education cannot be overstated

The escalating trend of addiction among the youth in India is a serious challenge to public health. Each year, tobacco consumption claims the lives of 1.2 million people in the country. The theme of World No Tobacco Day 2024, "Protecting Children from Tobacco Industry Interference," underscores the urgent need to shield the younger generation from the harmful influence of the tobacco industry. Tobacco use is the leading cause of preventable deaths and diseases worldwide. It significantly contributes to heart disease, cardiovascular issues and brain strokes. The Global Adult Tobacco Survey 2016-17 revealed that approximately 29 per cent (270 million) of Indian adults use tobacco products, including cigarettes, gutkha, supari tobacco, jarda, bidi and hookah. Alarmingly, about 24 per cent of children under 16 years old in India consume tobacco in some form, leading to devastating health outcomes. The National Family Health Survey (NFHS-5) indicates that about 38 per cent of Indian men are addicted to tobacco. Notably, tobacco consumption is higher in rural areas (42.7 per cent) compared to urban regions (28.8 per cent). Among women, tobacco use stands at approximately 8.9 per cent, with rural women showing higher consumption rates than their urban counterparts. These statistics are a cause for significant concern. World No Tobacco Day, celebrated by the World Health Organization and global partners, aims to raise awareness about the detrimental effects of tobacco use and promote cessation. The 2024 theme focuses on protecting children, as the majority of regular smokers start before the age of 18. This highlights the necessity of safeguarding adolescents from the perils of tobacco. Smoking damages the alveoli in the lungs, leading to lung diseases, with most lung cancer cases linked to cigarette smoking. Tobacco increases the risk of cancers such as oral, throat, oesophagal, bladder, kidney and lung cancer. It also leads to chronic diseases like COPD, heart attacks and strokes. Smoking is responsible for approximately 90 per cent of cancer deaths. The risk of death from heart disease and strokes rises significantly among tobacco users. Smokers are prone to numerous diseases, with a general decline in overall health. Additionally, tobacco use reduces fertility in both men and women and can cause severe complications during pregnancy. Smoking and use of tobacco can lead to severe lung diseases, including COPD, Asthma, TB and Lung Cancer causing significant suffering. Smokers are significantly more likely to die from COPD and are at a higher risk of developing TB. People should avoid tobacco products and seek medical help if addicted. Various resources, including nicotine replacement therapy, prescription medications, counselling services, support groups and smartphone apps, are available to help individuals quit tobacco. Among youth, smoking is often wrongly perceived as a sign of masculinity. Additionally, tobacco use is not universally seen as a vice. The Cigarettes and Other Tobacco Products Act (COTPA) 2003 aims to protect consumers, reduce tobacco use and prevent related diseases. It includes measures such as banning smoking in public places, regulating sales near educational institutions and issuing health warnings to inform the public. The Telangana Government in May 2024 has recently banned all tobacco products for one year, realising the grave consequences of tobacco usage. The rising addiction among youth threatens their future health. Young people must resist industry influences that target youth and promote e-cigarettes and flavoured nicotine pouches and candy which are also harmful and lay the foundation for tobacco use later on.

MIND MANAGEMENT IS CRUCIAL FOR HAPPINESS

We can truly celebrate only if we are able to silence our mind

RAVI VALLURI

What is the difference between PK and PIKU? Two letters, 'I' and 'U'; I is us and U are them (an extra-terrestrial Aamir Khan). Their CPU is cerebral and our CPU is at the level of abdomen. Or say for vast multitudes the focus is at the abdomen. It would be quite captivating watching the main protagonists PK (of the eponymous movie) and Bhaskar (of Piku fame) sharing their thoughts and respective metabolisms in a spaceship.

Food has a tremendous impact on our system, which we do not quite comprehend. Improper diet first takes a toll on the metabolism and then attacks other organs of the body. Simply put, intake of toxic foods generates repugnant thoughts and results in a weak mind and body.

The human mind is an enigma and a reservoir of potential. But the moot question is how do we tap this potential? The mind is a movie theatre where we script and enact innumerable movies and soap operas.

Technology alone cannot be a substitute for the enormous potential of the mind. It needs to be cultured, harnessed, and harmonized with needs and wants.

We need to distinguish brain from the mind. The brain is an organ that serves as the center of the nervous system in all vertebrate and most invertebrate animals. Only a few invertebrates such as sponges, do not have a brain, diffuse or localized nerve nets are present instead.

Mind on the other hand is the faculty of consciousness and thoughts. It is an individual's intellect or memory or his attention span or will. Sri Sri Ravi Shankar has captured it very succinctly. He says mind is like the sky and thoughts are like clouds. Your thoughts make or mar the progress and development of the mind.

To be happy in life humans need to calm the obdurate and recalcitrant mind. Further keep reminding ourselves that we are blessed, grateful and have abundance in our lives. Life is full of valleys and peaks. It can never be a rising curve or a straight line permanently.

The human mind vacillates between the past and the future. In the past, the mind is regretful and if it is in the future, it is anxious. In either situation the mind is not at peace nor in the present moment and thus remains unhappy.

Incidentally there is a deep connect between the stomach and mind. That is why it is called the gut feeling or the sixth sense. Our solar plexus keeps sending us signals. It depends as to whether we are conscious and wakeful enough to grasp those signals.

We humans can truly celebrate only if we are able to silence our mind. There are techniques to do it and develop a relaxation room or space in our minds and harness the energy so that it does not get enervated. By practicing Suryanamaskars and Padmasadhana as crafted by Gurudev we can enhance our Prana, (chi) or energy levels substantially.

New sankalps from the sadhana in Kanyakumari

NARENDRA MODI

Kanyakumari has always been close to Modi's heart; on his recent visit to India's southernmost part, he gets into a pensive mood to reflect on Bharat's future

My dear fellow Indians, the biggest festival of democracy, the 2024 Lok Sabha Elections, are concluding today in our nation, the Mother of Democracy. After a three-day spiritual journey in Kanyakumari, I have just boarded the plane for Delhi. Through the day, Kashi and numerous other seats have been in the midst of voting. My mind is filled with so many experiences and emotions... I feel a boundless flow of energy within myself. The 2024 Lok Sabha elections are the first in the Amrit Kaal. I began my campaign a few months ago from Meerut, the land of the First War of Independence of 1857. Since then, I have traversed across the length and breadth of our great nation. The final rally of these elections took me to Hoshiarpur in Punjab, the land of the great Gurus and a land associated with Sant Ravidas Ji. After that, I came to Kanyakumari, at the feet of Maa Bharti. It is natural that the fervour of the elections was echoing in my heart and mind. The multitude of faces seen in rallies and road shows came in front of my eyes. The blessings from our Nari Shakti... the trust, the affection, all of this was a very humbling experience. My eyes were getting moist... I entered into a 'sadhana' (meditative state). And then, the heated political debates, the attacks and counter-attacks, the voices and words of accusations which are so characteristic of an election... they all vanished into a void. A sense of detachment came to grow within me... my mind became completely detached from the external world. Meditation becomes challenging amidst such huge responsibilities, but the land of Kanyakumari and the inspiration of Swami Vivekananda made it effortless. As a candidate myself, I left my campaign in the hands of my beloved people of Kashi and came here.

I am also grateful God for instilling me with these values from birth which I have cherished and tried to live up to. I was also thinking about what Swami Vivekananda must have experienced during his meditation at this very place in Kanyakumari! A part of my meditation was spent in a similar stream of thoughts. Amidst this detachment, amidst the peace and silence, my mind was constantly thinking about the bright future of Bharat, the goals of Bharat. The rising sun at Kanyakumari gave new heights to my thoughts, the vastness of the ocean expanded my ideas, and the expanse of the horizon continuously made me realize the unity, the Oneness, embedded in the depths of the universe. It seemed as if the observations and experiences undertaken in the lap of the Himalayas decades ago were being revived.

Kanyakumari has always been very close to my heart. The Vivekananda Rock Memorial in Kanyakumari was built under the leadership of Shri Eknath Ranade ji. I had the opportunity to travel extensively with Eknath ji. During the construction of this Memorial, I had the opportunity to spend some time in Kanyakumari as well. From Kashmir to Kanyakumari... this is a common identity that is deeply ingrained in the heart of every citizen of the country. This is the 'Shakti Peeth' (seat of Shakti) where Maa Shakti incarnated as Kanya Kumari. At this Southern tip, Maa Shakti performed penance and waited for Bhagwan Shiva, who was residing in the Himalayas at the northernmost parts of Bharat. Kanyakumari is the land of confluences.

The sacred rivers of our country flow into different seas, and here, those very seas converge. And here, we witness another great confluence—the ideological confluence of Bharat! Here, we find the Vivekananda Rock Memorial, a grand statue of Saint Thiruvalluvar, Gandhi Mandapam, and Kamarajar Mani Mandapam. These streams of thought from these stalwarts converge here to form a confluence of national thought. This gives rise to great inspirations for nation-building. This land of Kanyakumari gives an indelible message of unity, especially to any person who doubts Bharat's nationhood and the sense of unity.

THE RISING SUN AT KANYAKUMARI GAVE NEW HEIGHTS TO MY THOUGHTS, THE VASTNESS OF THE OCEAN EXPANDED MY IDEAS, AND THE EXPANSE OF THE HORIZON CONTINUOUSLY MADE ME REALISE THE UNITY, THE ONENESS, EMBEDDED IN THE DEPTHS OF THE UNIVERSE

For thousands of years, Bharat has been moving forward with this sense of meaningful purpose. Bharat has been a cradle of ideas for thousands of years. We have never considered what we have acquired as our personal wealth or measured it purely by economic or material parameters. Therefore, 'Idam-na-mama' (this is not mine) has become an inherent and natural part of the character of Bharat. Bharat's welfare benefits our planet's journey to progress as well. Take the freedom movement as an example. Bharat gained independence on August 15, 1947. At that time, many countries around the world were under colonial rule. Bharat's independence journey inspired and empowered many of those countries to achieve their own freedom. That same spirit was seen decades later when the world came face to face with the once in a century COVID-19 pandemic. When concerns were raised about the poor and developing countries, Bharat's successful efforts provided courage and assistance to many nations. Today, Bharat's governance model has become an example for many countries around the world. Empowering 25 crore people to rise above poverty in just 10 years is unprecedented. Innovative practices such as Pro-People Good Governance, aspirational districts, and aspirational blocks are being discussed globally today. Our efforts, from empowering the poor to last-mile delivery, have inspired the world by prioritising individuals standing at the last rung of society. Bharat's Digital India campaign is now an example for the entire world, showing how we can use technology to empower the poor, bring transparency, and ensure their rights.

Inexpensive data in Bharat is becoming a means of social equality by ensuring the reach of information and services to the poor. The whole world is witnessing and studying the democratization of technology, and major global institutions are advising many countries to adopt elements from our model. Since the success of the G-20, the world has been increasingly envisioning a bigger role for Bharat. Today, Bharat is being acknowledged as a strong and important voice of the Global South. The African Union has become a part of the G-20 group at the initiative of Bharat. This is going to be a crucial turning point for the future of African countries.

The development trajectory of Bharat fills us with pride and glory, but at the same time, it also reminds the 140 crore citizens of their responsibilities. Now, without wasting a single moment, we must step forward towards greater duties and larger goals. We need to dream new dreams, convert them into reality and begin living those dreams.

We must see Bharat's development in a global context, and for this, it is essential that we understand Bharat's internal capabilities. We must acknowledge Bharat's strengths, nurture them, and utilize them for the benefit of the world. In today's global scenario, Bharat's strength as a youthful nation is an opportunity from which we must not look back.

The world of the 21st century is looking towards Bharat with many hopes. And we will need to make several changes to move forward in the global scenario. We also need to change our traditional thinking regarding reform. Bharat cannot limit reform to just economic reforms. We must move forward in every aspect of life towards the direction of reform. Our reforms should also align with the aspirations of a 'Viksit Bharat' (developed India) by 2047.

We should take pride in every moment that God has blessed us with birth in the land of Bharat. God has chosen us to serve Bharat and fulfil our role in our country's journey towards excellence.

We must redefine our heritage in a modern way while embracing ancient values in a modern context. As a nation, we also need to reassess outdated thinking and beliefs. We need to free our society from the pressure of professional pessimists. We must remember that freedom from negativity is the first step towards achieving success. Success blossoms in the lap of positivity.

My faith, devotion, and belief in the infinite and eternal power of Bharat are growing day by day. Over the past 10 years, I have seen this capability of Bharat grow even more and have experienced it firsthand.

Just as we utilized the fourth and fifth decades of the 20th century to impart a new momentum to the freedom movement, we must lay the foundation for a 'Viksit Bharat' in these 25 years of the 21st century. Today, we have the same golden opportunity. Let's dedicate the next 25 years solely for the nation. Our efforts will create a strong foundation for the coming generations and the coming centuries, taking Bharat to new heights. Looking at the energy and enthusiasm of the country, I can say that the goal is not far away now. Let us take swift steps...let us come together and create a Viksit Bharat.

(These thoughts were penned by PM Modi on 1st June during his return flight from Kanyakumari to Delhi)

Kerala Govt faces backlash over flawed liquor policy

Criticism has arisen over the demand for bar owners to pay ₹2.5 lakh each to circumvent a Government-mandated monthly closure

The demand that all bar owners in the State should pay Rs 2.5 lakh per establishment instead of cancelling a Government order that makes it mandatory for all watering holes to down shutters on the first of every month and restrictions on opening more bar hotels underscore the opinion that it is time for the Kerala Government to come out of liquor business.

The latest controversy about the demand made by the powers that be to the bar owners to pay exorbitant money as a bribe for altering the excise department's laws establishes that the CPI(M)-led LDF and Congress-led UDF are swindling the State alternately, a charge made time and again by Prime Minister Narendra

KUMAR CHELLAPPAN

Modi during his campaign speeches in the State.

The Government has no business to be in business and is more so in the case of the liquor business. Unlike other States, Kerala and Tamil Nadu follow liquor policies that promote high-level corruption. The Governments in these two States are the monopolies in the liquor trade. The Beverages Corporation of Kerala (BEVCO) and Tamil

Nadu State Marketing Corporation (TASMAC), the State-owned entities are the only bodies that can buy and sell liquor. Bar restaurants owned by the private sector should procure the liquor supplied by these two bodies. Long back there were private liquor outlets in these States doing roaring business.

After the "nationalisation" of the liquor business in Kerala, the tippers face severe hardship in getting their daily quota of spirits and they are also forced to consume what the brands that BEVCO 'impose' on them. Earlier, the tippers had the choice of getting their favourite brands and drinking too. After the taking over of the liquor business by the Government, the brands to be sold in the States are decided by the party in power and there is no transparency in the selection of liquor to be traded through the outlets or restaurants (bars). The liquor manufacturers who pay the ruling parties get the contract and laugh at the banks.

The Government claims that the nationalization is the prelude to the introduction of total prohibition in Kerala. This is a dream that will never materialise unless other States bring in legislation banning liquor. Neighboring Karnataka is a tippler's paradise as the private outlets sell all popular brands patronized by the consumers.

While arrack, the country spirit is banned in Kerala and Tamil Nadu, the same is available in the rest of the country much to the delight of the working class. Those who toil in farmlands from morning to evening need a bit of relaxation after a hard day's work and hence it is not proper on the part of the Government to ban the stuff.

Pinarayi Vijayan, chief minister of Kerala, is on record stating that today is a most nutritious drink and not alcohol. Tamil Nadu has banned toddy tapping forcing the poor workers to rush to TASMAC with their hard-earned wages to buy the spirit for the evening. If arrack is not banned in these States (where spurious arrack is available from bootleggers) the workers need not have spent the day's earnings in State-owned liquor outlets.

The notion that liquor would imperil health has to go. Many findings have been confirmed through scientific research that a moderate quantity of liquor is good for health. There is a Chinese adage about liquor: "A man takes a drink. The drink takes more drinks. Finally, the drinks take the man". If the authorities could make the man consume fewer drinks, that would be the best solution to alcoholism. But it should not be by killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. We live in an era when Indian-made scotches have beaten the spirits brewed in Scotland and the USA to emerge as their rivals in the global market.

Colombo and suburbs, hardly an hour of air journey from Kochi is a study in contrast. Though there are many liquor outlets in Sri Lanka, one cannot come across long queues of tippers in front of these shops. Devan Ramachandran, a judge of the Kerala High Court, said recently that the drinkers need much better treatment from the BEVCO outlets. He was drawing the attention of the Government to the plight of tippers who have to wait for hours in the queue braving the scorching sun and heavy downpours to get their daily evening quota. Sunil Kumar, a fellow journalist, said that the Government's stringent and outdated regulations alone are responsible for making people consume more and more liquor.

He says that the decision to down the shutters of liquor outlets on the first day of every month is a regressive measure as it forces the drinkers to buy an additional bottle in the previous evening to stock for the next day. But what happens is that they consume that extra bottle on the same evening leaving them "high and dry" on the day of shutdown. Let the tippers have the freedom to gulp down their quota.

It is impossible to have total prohibition in the country. Piloos Modi, the veteran parliamentarian said during a debate on prohibition that he could stay away from alcohol for any number of years. But I cannot live even for a minute without the right to consume liquor," Piloos Modi had said. Let better sense prevail.

Hezbollah fighters shoot down Israeli drone in Lebanon

AP ■ BEIRUT

The militant Hezbollah group said it shot down an Israeli drone over southern Lebanon and fired rockets at an Israeli military base on Saturday, hours after Israeli drone strikes killed at least one person and wounded several others. Hezbollah said in a statement that its fighters struck the Hermes 900 Kochav drone, saying such aircraft have been targeting militants and civilian homes. The exchange of fire along the Lebanon-Israel border has been intensifying over the past weeks with Israel's military push on Gaza's southern city of Rafah. The Israeli military said a surface-to-air missile was fired toward a drone operating in Lebanese airspace, adding that it was hit and fell in Lebanese territory. "The incident is under review," the military said. The Hermes 900 Kochav is a medium altitude and long endurance drone that can carry four anti-tank guided missiles. Hezbollah said on Saturday that its fighters also attacked an Israeli army base in the border town of Kiryat Shmona with Burkan rockets "scoring direct hits, igniting a fire and destroying part of it". Burkan rockets can carry a warhead that weighs between 300 kilograms and 500 kilograms. The Israeli army confirmed a rocket hit a military base in Kiryat Shmona, without giving details. Earlier on Saturday, an Israeli drone strike on a motorcycle near the southern Lebanese village of Khibet Selm wounded two people, state-run National News Agency said. The agency reported another drone strike on Saturday afternoon in a village near the southern city of Nabatiyeh.

34 taken into custody after pro-Palestinian protest at Brooklyn Museum

New York (AP): New York City police said on Saturday that they took 34 people into custody following a pro-Palestinian protest at the Brooklyn Museum, which reported damage to some artwork and harassment to security staff by demonstrators. Hundreds of protesters marched to the museum on Friday afternoon, set up tents in the lobby and unfurled a "Free Palestine" banner from the building's roof before police moved in to make arrests. New York City police officers tackled and punched some protesters during scuffles that broke out in the crowd outside the museum while some demonstrators hurled plastic bottles at officers and shouted insults. Other protesters held banners, waved Palestinian flags and chanted boisterously on the steps of the grand Beaux Arts museum, which is the city's second largest. City police said of the 34 people detained, six were arrested and charged with crimes ranging from trespassing to assault. Another 23 were released after receiving tickets or summonses for misdemeanours, including trespassing, making graffiti, damaging property and resisting arrest. Police did not say what happened to the remaining five people.

Museum spokesperson Taylor Maatman said in a statement that the museum closed an hour early because of concerns about people's safety and the art collections. "Unfortunately, there was damage to existing and newly installed artwork on our plaza, and our public safety staff were physically and verbally harassed," Maatman said. The rally started across the street from the Barclays Center, home of the NBA's Brooklyn Nets. Marchers banging drums and chanting then made their way to the museum about a mile away.

Iran's ex-President registers for June 28 presidential election

AP ■ DUBAI

Iran's hard-line former President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad registered Sunday as a possible candidate for the presidential election, seeking to regain the country's top political position after a helicopter crash killed the nation's president. The populist former leader's registration puts pressure on Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei. In office, Ahmadinejad openly challenged the 85-year-old cleric, and his attempt to run in 2021 was barred by authorities. The firebrand, Holocaust-questioning politician's return comes at a time of heightened tensions between Iran and the West over Tehran's rapidly advancing nuclear program, its arming of Russia in its war on Ukraine and its wide-reaching crackdowns on dissent. Associated Press journalists in Tehran saw Ahmadinejad arrive at the Interior Ministry and begin the registration process. Before his arrival, his supporters chanted and waved Iranian flags. An election is planned June 28 to replace Khamenei's hard-line protégé President Ebrahim Raisi, who died in a helicopter crash in May along with seven other people.

Ahmadinejad previously served two four-year terms from 2005 to 2013. Under Iranian law, he became eligible to run again after four years out of office, but he remains a polarizing figure even among fellow hard-liners. His disputed re-election in 2009 sparked massive "Green Movement" protests and a sweeping crackdown in which thousands of people were detained and dozens were killed. Broad, he became a caricature of Western perceptions of the Islamic Republic's worst attribute, questioning the Holocaust, insisting Iran had no gay or lesbian citizens and hinting Iran could build a nuclear weapon if it chose to do so. But Ahmadinejad remains popular among the poor for his populist efforts and home-building programs. Since leaving office, he's raised his profile via social media and written widely publicized letters to world leaders. He's also criticized government corruption, though his own administration faced graft allegations and two of his former vice presidents were jailed. Khamenei warned Ahmadinejad in 2017 that his standing for office again would be a "polarized situation" that would be "harmful for the country." Khamenei said nothing during Ahmadinejad's 2021 attempt, when his candidacy was rejected by the 12-member Guardian Council, a panel of clerics and jurists ultimately overseen by Khamenei. That panel has never accepted a woman or anyone calling for radical change to the country's governance. That panel could reject Ahmadinejad again. However, the race to replace Raisi has yet to draw a candidate with clear, overwhelming support from Khamenei.

Parade for Israel in NYC focuses on solidarity

New York (AP): An annual New York City parade for Israel that draws thousands of people is scheduled to hit the streets Sunday with heightened security and a focus on solidarity during the war in Gaza. The parade comes almost eight months after the unprecedented Oct. 7 attack by Hamas, the deadliest in Israel's history. The parade in the past was dubbed "Celebrate Israel," but organizers said the exuberant atmosphere would be paused this year given the war and Israeli hostages still being held in captivity, as well as outbursts of antisemitism worldwide. The parade, now called "Israel Day on Fifth" because of the route along Fifth Avenue from 57th Street to 74th Street in Manhattan, will instead focus on solidarity, strength and resilience, said Mark Treyger, CEO of the Jewish Community Relations Council. "This is not a mood of confetti and music," Treyger said. "This is more of

A Israeli airstrike on a house in the coastal village of Adloun killed one woman and wounded several others on Friday evening, the agency reported. Late on Saturday night, Israel's warplanes attacked areas west of the northeastern city of Baalbek, slightly wounding two people and causing material damage, the agency said. Such strikes deep inside Lebanon and far away from the Israeli border have been rare since the latest round of fighting began nearly eight months ago. The Saturday night strike was about 100 kilometres from the Israeli border. Hezbollah began attacking Israeli military posts along the Lebanon-Israel border a day after the Israel-Hamas war broke out on October 7. Since then, tens of thousands of people have been displaced on both sides of the border. Over the past seven months, more than 400 people have been killed in Lebanon, most of them fighters but they also include more than 70 civilians and noncombatants. In Israel, 15 soldiers and 10 civilians have been killed since October.

a mood of unwavering, iron-clad solidarity with hostages to bring them home, and also our unwavering love and pride in our Jewish identity." The parade, which is in its 59th year, kicks off at about 11:30 a.m. Sunday and is expected to draw more than 40,000 participants, including Israeli dignitaries, celebrities and some of the hostages' families. There was never a thought of cancelling the parade this year, Treyger said, despite what he termed an astronomical rise in antisemitism. "This is a moment that we have to meet," he said. But there will be significant security. New York Police Department officials said Friday they plan to implement measures typically used for high-profile events such as New Year's Eve and July 4. That includes drones, K-9 units, bike patrols, fencing and barriers and designated entry points for spectators all along the parade route.

UN development specialist arrives in Haiti to take up PM's post

Miami (AP): A UN development specialist tasked with restoring order to Haiti arrived on Saturday to the Caribbean nation to take up his new post as prime minister. A transitional council seeking to pave the way for an election in Haiti named Garry Conille this week. He replaces interim prime minister Michel Patrick Boisvert, who he met upon arrival on Saturday to the capital, Port-au-Prince, according to a government statement. Conille has been UNICEF's regional director for Latin America and the Caribbean since January 2023 and previously served as Haiti's prime minister from October 2011 to May 2012 under the then president Michel Martelly.

1 dead, 8 injured in Istanbul building collapse

Istanbul (AP): An apartment building collapsed in the Turkish city of Istanbul on Sunday, killing one person and injuring eight, authorities said. The collapse renewed fears about the resilience of buildings in a city prone to earthquakes. TV images showed firefighters shifting rubble by hand from the flattened five-story building in Kucukcekmece, on the city's European side. Seven people were initially pulled from the debris, including two who were seriously injured, Istanbul Governor Davut Gul said while visiting the scene. His office later said one more injured person was rescued and a body was recovered. The governorship said the 36-year-old structure collapsed at 8:40 am (0540 GMT). The cause was not immediately clear but there was no sign of an explosion or seismic activity. Only the top two floors were being used as residences, with the rest of the building being occupied by businesses. Images from a camera across the street showed passengers waiting to board a public minibus at the time of the collapse narrowly escaped being struck by falling debris. More than 59,000 people were killed last year when a magnitude 7.8 earthquake struck parts of southern Türkiye and neighbouring Syria. The disaster highlighted the poor enforcement of building regulations in Türkiye. Istanbul, with an official population of 16 million, lies near the North Anatolian Fault. A 1999 earthquake centred to the south of the city killed at least 18,000 people. The municipality has said there are 200,000 buildings housing 3 million people that are in urgent need of improvement.

Trump's attacks on US justice system after guilty verdict could be useful to autocrats like Putin

AP ■ NEW YORK

After his historic guilty verdict in his hush money case, Donald Trump attacked the US criminal justice system, making unfounded claims of a "rigged" trial that echoed remarks from the Kremlin. "If they can do this to me, they can do this to anyone," Trump said Friday, speaking from his namesake tower in New York on Friday. Thousands of miles away, Russian President Vladimir Putin was probably "rubbing his hands with glee," said Fiona Hill, a former senior White House national security adviser to three US presidents, including Trump. Hill and other analysts say Trump's attacks could be useful to Putin and other autocrats as they look to boost their standing among their own citizens, potentially sway the upcoming US presidential election in which Trump is the presumptive Republican nominee, and undermine the United States' global influence. Some autocratic countries reacted swiftly in support of Trump. Moscow agreed with Trump's assessment of Thursday's verdict, calling it the "elimination of political rivals by all possible legal or illegal means," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said. In September, Putin said the prosecution of Trump was political revenge that "shows the rottenness of the American political system." After the verdict, Hungary's prime minister, Viktor Orban, called Trump a "man of honour" and urged him to "keep on fighting." China's state-owned Global Times newspaper suggested Trump's conviction adds to the

"farical nature" of this year's US presidential election, adding that it will aggravate political extremism and end in "more chaos and social unrest." Putin is especially likely to see the latest turmoil as an opportunity, analysts say. He has long sought to widen divisions in Western societies in an attempt to advance a Russian worldview. Since the invasion of Ukraine, and ahead of crucial elections throughout the West this year, Russia has been accused of carrying out multiple attacks of sabotage and of targeting dissidents abroad to stoke anxieties and sow discord. Moscow was accused of meddling in the 2016 US election that Trump won by creating a troll factory, hacking Hillary Clinton's campaign, spreading fake news and trying to influence Trump-linked official. What mischief does he have to make when you have people within the American system itself denigrating it and pulling it down?" Hill said of Putin. Political chaos can benefit autocratic leaders by distracting Washington from key issues, including the war in Ukraine. Russia's goal is to move voices from the "fringes of the political debate to the mainstream," said David Salvo, Managing Director of the Alliance for Securing Democracy at the German Marshall Fund in Washington, DC. The Kremlin does that partly by pushing Russian points of view under the guise of news and social media posts that look like they originate in the West. Salvo noted that disagreements in Congress that delayed an aid package to Ukraine followed a Russian social media campaign aimed at Americans.

S Africa's ANC rejects calls for Ramaphosa's resignation in coalition talks

Cape Town (AP): South Africa's African National Congress party will not consider any demands from possible coalition partners that President Cyril Ramaphosa step down, a top official said Sunday, as the ANC attempted to present a united front after a stinging election result ended its 30-year majority. As South Africa heads for a series of complex talks to form a national coalition government for the first time and establish stability, ANC secretary-general Fikile Mbalula said Ramaphosa would remain as party leader and any demands from others that he resign for talks to go ahead was "a no-go area." "President Ramaphosa is the president of the ANC," Mbalula said in the ANC leadership's first public comments since the landmark election results. "And if you come to us with that demand that Ramaphosa is going to step down as the president, that is not going to happen." Mbalula said the ANC was open to talks with every other political party in an effort to form a government, but "no political party will dictate terms to us, the ANC. They will not... You come to us with that demand, forget (it)." Mbalula conceded the ANC, which has dominated South African politics since the end of apartheid in 1994, "suffered heavily" in the election but said it was "not booted out." The ANC received just over 40% of votes, falling well short of the majority it has held for all of South Africa's young democracy. It will still be the biggest party by some way. But it needs to talk with others to form a government and to reelect Ramaphosa for a second and final term. South Africa's president is elected by Parliament after national elections. "The results send a clear message to the ANC," Mbalula said. "We wish to send a message to the people of South Africa: We have heard them." He said the ANC was committed to forming a government that reflects the will of the people and is stable. The new MK Party of former President Jacob Zuma, which won 14% in the election in a surprise showing that makes it the third biggest in parliament, has said Ramaphosa must go as leader of the ANC and the country for it to enter any coalition talks with the ANC. The ANC has many options for coalition partners among South Africa's other parties, including one with the main opposition Democratic Alliance, which won 21% of votes. "We'll talk to everybody," Mbalula said. "We are talking to everybody because the election did not give us outright majority. Talks about talks are in full swing. We are engaged and we are open to engagement."

PTI ■ BEIJING

A Chinese spacecraft successfully touched down on the far side of the Moon on Sunday, in the first endeavour of its kind to collect samples from this rarely explored terrain. The Chang'e-6 landed at the designated landing area at 6:23 am (Beijing Time) in the South Pole-Aitken (SPA) Basin for the first time in human history, the China National Space Administration (CNSA) announced. Chang'e-6 consists of an orbiter, a returner, a lander and an ascender. Since its launch on May 3 this year, it has gone through various stages such as Earth-Moon transfer, near-Moon braking, lunar orbiting and landing descent. The lander-ascender combination separated from the orbiter-returner combination on May 30, the CNSA said. For the powered descent, regarded as the most complex manoeuvre, an autonomous visual obstacle avoidance system was used to automatically detect obstacles. A visible light camera selected a comparatively safe landing area based on the brightness and darkness of the lunar surface, state-run Xinhua news agency reported. The Chang'e-6 mission is tasked with collecting and returning samples from the Moon's far side, the first endeavour of its kind. India became the first country to land near the little-explored lunar south pole region last year when its Chandrayaan-3's lander, carrying the Pragyaan rover successfully landed there. The Chang'e-6 landing site is at an impact crater known as the Apollo Basin, located within the SPA Basin. The choice was made for the Apollo Basin's potential value of scientific exploration, as well as the conditions of the landing area, including communication and telemetry conditions and the flatness of the terrain, Huang Hao, a space expert from the China Aerospace Science and Technology Corporation (CASC) said. The terrain on the far side of the Moon is more rugged than the near side, with fewer continuous flat areas Huang told Xinhua. However, the Apollo Basin is relatively flatter than other areas on the far side, which is conducive to landing. The lander is equipped with multiple sensors, including microwave, laser and optical imaging sensors which can measure distance and speed, and identify obstacles on the lunar surface, Huang said. To prevent interference to optical sensors by lunar dust during landing, the lander is also equipped with gamma-ray sensors to accurately measure the height through particle rays, ensuring that the engine can be shut down on time and the lander can touch down smoothly on the lunar surface, he added. After the landing, the probe is scheduled to complete sampling within two days. It has adopted two methods of Moon sampling, which include using a drill to collect subsurface samples and grabbing samples on the surface with a robotic arm. Due to the Moon's obstruction, the Earth-Moon communication window period on the far side of the Moon, even with the help of the Queqiao-2 relay satellite service, is still shorter than that on the near side. Therefore, the sampling time of Chang'e-6 will be reduced to about 14 hours, compared with the 22 hours used by its predecessor Chang'e-5, the report said. The CNSA said earlier that the mission is poised to make breakthroughs in key technologies, such as automatic sample collection, take-off and ascent from the far side of the Moon. Meanwhile, the probe will carry out scientific exploration of the landing zone. The CNSA announced that scientific instruments from France, Italy and the European Space Agency/Sweden will be on board the lander of the Chang'e-6 mission and a Pakistani payload on the orbiter. This is the first time China has included an orbiter from its all-weather ally Pakistan in its Moon mission. According to reports from Pakistan quoting the Institute of Space Technology (IST), the satellite ICUBE-Q has been designed and developed by IST in collaboration with Shanghai Jiao Tong University and Pakistan's national space agency Suparco. The Chang'e lunar exploration probe is named after the Chinese mythical Moon goddess.

The Chang'e 5 brought samples from the Moon's near side. Chinese said during the analysis of the samples it was found they contained water in tiny beads embedded in lunar dirt. China also plans to have a lunar station on the Moon in future. A major space power, China in the past successfully launched unmanned missions to the Moon which included landing a rover. China has also sent a rover to Mars and built a space station which is currently in operation. Earlier, China announced plans for a manned lunar landing by 2030. The country's plans include landing astronauts on the Moon by 2030 and building a research base at its south pole - a region believed to contain water ice. Sunday's landing comes as a growing number of countries, including the United States, eye the strategic and scientific benefits of expanded lunar exploration in an increasingly competitive field.

Attacks on infrastructure trigger energy shutdowns in Ukraine

AP ■ KYIV

Ukraine imposed emergency power shutdowns in most of the country on Sunday, a day after Russia unleashed large-scale attacks on energy infrastructure and claimed it made gains in the eastern Donetsk province. The shutdowns were in place in all but three regions of Ukraine following Saturday's drone and missile attack on energy targets that injured at least 19 people.

Ukraine's state-owned power grid operator Ukrenergo said the shutdowns affected both industrial and household consumers.

Sustained Russian attacks on Ukraine's power grid in recent weeks have forced the government to institute nationwide rolling blackouts. Without adequate air defences to counter assaults and allow for repairs, though, the shortages could still worsen as need spikes in late summer and the bitter-cold winter.

Among the most significant recent strikes were an April barrage that damaged Kyiv's largest thermal power plant and a massive attack on May 8 that targeted power generation and transmission facilities in several regions.

Following Saturday's barrage, Ukraine's air force said Sunday that air defences had shot down all 25 drones launched overnight.

Russia claimed Sunday that it had taken control of the village of Umanske in the partially Russian-occupied Donetsk region. Russia's coordinated new offensive has centred on Ukraine's northeastern Kharkiv region, but seems to include testing Ukrainian defences in Donetsk farther south, while also launching incursions in the northern Sumy and Chernihiv regions. In Russia, six people were injured in shelling in the city of Shebekino in the Belgorod region bordering Ukraine, regional Governor Vyacheslav Gladkov said Sunday. He also said that a local official, the deputy head of the Korochansky district, had been killed by "detonation of ammunition". He gave no details. In the neighbouring Kursk region, three people were injured Sunday when an explosive device was dropped from a drone, according to acting regional head Alexey Smirnov. Speaking at Asia's premier security conference in Singapore, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy accused China on Sunday of helping Russia to disrupt an upcoming Swiss-organised peace conference on the war in Ukraine.

Zelenskyy urges defence officials to attend summit on ending Russia-Ukraine war

AP ■ SINGAPORE

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy urged a group of top defence officials at Asia's premier security conference on Sunday to attend an upcoming peace summit, saying Ukraine was ready to hear "various proposals and thoughts" on ending the war with Russia.

Zelenskyy told the group of more than 500 delegates from about 40 countries that he was "disappointed" some world leaders had not yet confirmed attendance at the conference in Switzerland in about two weeks.

He did not specify any country by name, but the possible participation of China, Russia's most important ally, has been seen as a key issue. Chinese Defence Minister Dong Jun spoke earlier in the day at the Shangri-La conference but he did not appear to be in the room when Zelenskyy made his appeal. Zelenskyy said that Ukraine had proposals to make at the summit as a basis for peace, addressing nuclear security, food security, the release of prisoners of war and the return of Ukrainian children abducted by Russia.

"Time is running out, and the children are growing up in the Putin-land where they are taught to hate their homeland," he said.

At the same time, Zelenskyy said Ukraine is "ready to hear various proposals and thoughts that lead us ... to an end of the war and a sustainable and just peace."

The greater participation, the more likely it will be that Russia will have to listen, he said.

"The global majority can ensure with their involvement that what is agreed upon is truly implemented," he said. Zelenskyy said he was later to meet one-on-one with Singapore's prime minister and would urge him to participate in person in the Switzerland talks.

"The same goes for the countries in the region," Zelenskyy said through an interpreter. "We truly count on you supporting this summit, and that you will be present in Switzerland."

Singapore Defence Minister Ng Eng Hen, who shared the stage with Zelenskyy, did not say whether his country's leaders would attend, but did note Singapore had condemned the invasion and provided Ukraine with military ambulances.

"We stand with you, and I think your appearance at this Shangri-La Dialogue is the epitome of what we are all hoping for, a rules-based order that guarantees the security and survival of large nations and small," he said.

Earlier in the day in his own address to the forum, Dong did not specifically mention the Switzerland meetings, but did say "on the Ukraine crisis, China has been promoting peace talks with a responsible attitude."

He added that China had not provided weapons to either side of the conflict.

"We have never done anything to fan the flames," he said. "We stand firmly on the side of peace and dialogue."

South vows 'unbearable' retaliation against N Korea over its launch of trash balloons

AP ■ SEOUL

South Korea said Sunday it'll soon take "unbearable" retaliatory steps against North Korea over its launch of trash-carrying balloons across the border and other provocations. In the past week, North Korea floated hundreds of huge balloons to dump rubbish on South Korea, simulated nuclear strikes against its neighbor and allegedly jammed GPS navigation signals in the South in an escalation of animosities between the rivals.

South Korea's national security director Chang Ho-jin said Sunday that top officials at an emergency meeting decided to take "unbearable" measures against North Korea in response to its recent series of provocative acts.

Chang called the North's balloon campaign and its alleged GPS signal jamming "absurd, irrational acts of provocation that a normal country can't its abysmal human rights situation, world news and K-pop songs. North Korea is extremely sensitive to such broadcasts because most of its 26 million people have no official access to foreign TV and radio programs.

Earlier Sunday, South Korea's military said that more than 700 balloons flown from North Korea were additionally discovered in various parts of South Korea. Tied to the balloons were cigarette butts, scraps of cloth, waste paper and vinyl, but no dangerous substances, according to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

It was North Korea's second balloon activity in less than a week. Between Tuesday and Wednesday, South Korean officials said they had found about 260 North Korean balloons carrying trash and manure. There have been no reports of major damage in South Korea. North Korea said its balloon floating was in reaction to South Korean activists flying anti-Pyongyang propaganda leaflets via their own balloons across the border. North Korea often responds with fury to balloons from South Korea. In 2020, North Korea exploded an empty, South Korean-built liaison office in the North in anger over the South Korean balloon activities.

Experts say North Korea's balloon campaign, reportedly the first of its kind in seven years, is meant to stoke an internal divide in South Korea over its conservative government's tough policy on the North. They say North Korea is also expected to further ramp up tensions ahead of the U.S. presidential election in November. Since 2022, North Korea has sharply increased a pace of weapons tests to build a bigger nuclear arsenal. Last week, it fired a barrage of nuclear-capable weapons into the sea in a drill simulating a preemptive attack on South Korea.

'Pak forces killed 504 terrorists in last 5 months'

Peshawar (PTI) Pakistani authorities have neutralised a total of 504 terrorists in the last five months in the country's restive Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Balochistan provinces, according to a report issued by the security agencies.

The report, which is a compilation of inputs from country's forces on the operations against the militants, said that the terrorists killed in the last five months includes important commanders of the banned outfits TTP and Hafiz Gul Bahadur Group.

"The Security forces in their hot pursuit against terrorism, mowed down 504 terrorists in first five months of 2024 (January-May) in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Balochistan Provinces. Important commanders of the banned outfit TTP and Hafiz Gul Bahadur Group were also killed," said the report.

According to the report, over 158 militants have been arrested for allegedly being involved in money extortion, target killings, kidnapping for ransom and provision of financial assistance to the militants in the same period.

The militants carried out 398 attacks against security forces in which 240 innocent civilians lost their lives and 200 security personnel embraced martyrdom while fighting in the line of duty, said the report.

The security forces and police conducted joint 479 intelligence-based operations. Giving break up of the militants killed in operations, it said 107 militants killed in January, 75 in February, 78 in March, 130 in April and 132 in May.

It said that 253 militants in KPK and 251 in Baluchistan provinces were eliminated in operations. "Southern districts of the KPK remained hot bed of militancy in last five months with North Waziristan tribal district on top of the list where 97 militants tried to be followed by Dera Ismail Khan (DI KHAN) where 48 militants assassinated in operations," said the report.

Pakistan's law minister bats for judges from minority communities to join higher judiciary

Lahore (PTI): Pakistan's Law Minister Azam Nazir Tarar has advocated for judges from minority communities to join Pakistan's higher judiciary.

Speaking at the Justice A R Cornelius Conference held here on Saturday, Tarar emphasised the importance of religious freedom and minority rights in Pakistan and expressed his aspiration for judges from minority communities to join the country's higher judiciary, the Express Tribune newspaper reported on Sunday. The minister highlighted that Pakistan's Constitution guarantees complete religious freedom. At the same time, he lamented the decline in religious tolerance post-Afghan war.

Tarar talked about the ongoing efforts to establish a Minority Rights Commission and proposed reserving quotas for minority law officers and legal advisors. Supreme Court Justice Mansoor Ali Shah echoed Tarar's sentiments and advocated for the appointment of minority judges to the higher judiciary. According to data released by the Pakistan Bureau of Statistics in 2021, there are 96.47 per cent Muslims in the country, followed by 2.14 per cent Hindus, 1.27 per cent Christians, 0.09 per cent Ahmadi Muslims and 0.02 per cent others.

Firefighters battle wind-driven wildfire east of San Francisco

San Francisco (AP): California firefighters aided by aircraft battled a wind-driven wildfire burning Saturday in an area straddling the San Francisco Bay Area and central California, authorities said. The Corral Fire began burning Saturday near the city of Tracy, 60 miles (96 kilometers) east of San Francisco, and the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory in the city of Livermore, according to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, or Cal Fire.

Dark plumes of smoke travelled high into the sky over the fire area comprised mostly of grassy hills, where strong winds were expected to continue overnight.

Late Saturday, Cal Fire updated the size of the fire to 15.6 square miles (40.4 square kilometers) with 13% contained, which increased from an earlier report of 13.7 square miles (35.4 square kilometers).

Interstate 580, which connects the San Francisco Bay Area to San Joaquin County in central California, was closed in both directions from Corral Hollow Road to Interstate 5 due to the lack of visibility from the smoke, the California Department of Transportation said in a statement. Cal Fire Santa Clara Unit Chief Baraka Carter said two fire workers were injured, the San Francisco Chronicle reported. The San Joaquin County Office of Emergency Services issued an evacuation order, pinpointing the wildfire in an area east of Interstate 580. Residents between Corral Hollow Road and Tracy Boulevard were ordered to leave their homes, with residents south of Tracy Boulevard told to be prepared for evacuation.

Overnight shooting in Ohio street kills 1, wounds 2 dozen

Akron (US) (AP): An early morning shooting on a street in Ohio killed one person and injured 24 others, some critically, police said. Police said shots were reported early Sunday just after midnight in the city of Akron, where multiple victims struck by gunfire were reported. Local hospitals told emergency dispatchers soon afterward that people were arriving in their emergency departments with gunshot wounds.

Capt Michael Miller, an Akron police public information officer, said Sunday morning that there were 25 total victims with one deceased. Some of the victims were in critical condition while others had injuries that were not life-threatening, he said.

No arrests were immediately reported. Police said the investigation is in its preliminary stages and asked anyone with information to call detectives.

WEWS-TV reported that a street party was happening in the area before the gunfire broke out, and an unnamed witness at the scene told the station that hundreds of people were enjoying themselves with everyone in white T-shirts and "women on top of vehicles dancing."

Mexico votes in historic elections marred by cartel violence

AP ■ MEXICO CITY

Mexicans vote Sunday in historic elections weighing gender, democracy and populism, as they chart the country's path forward shadowed by cartel violence.

With two women leading the contest, Mexico will likely elect its first female president — a major step in a country long marked by its macho culture. The election is also the biggest in the country's history. More than 20,000 congressional and local positions are up for grabs, according to the National Electoral Institute.

Claudia Sheinbaum, the former mayor of Mexico City, has maintained a comfortable double-digit lead in opinion polls for months. Xóchitl Galvez, an opposition senator and tech entrepreneur, represents a coalition of parties that have had little historically to unite them other than their recent opposition to outgoing President Andrés Manuel

López Obrador. Mexico goes into Sunday's election deeply divided: Friends and relatives no longer talk politics for fear of worsening unbridgeable divides, while drug cartels have split the country into a patchwork quilt of warring fiefdoms. The atmosphere is literally heating up with a wave of unusual heat, drought, pollution and political violence.

STORES OFFER FREE GOODS FOR SUNDA VOTERS Thousands of Mexican

stores are advertising offers of free goods for customers who come in Sunday and show ink on their finger, a security measure to prevent anyone from voting twice.

The offers are intended to encourage voting. Some outlets in the nation's largest convenience store chain, Oxxo, are offering voters a free cup of coffee. The national restaurant chain said some members will be offering discounts on food or beverage as well.

HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION CRITICISES ELECTORAL AUTHORITIES

Mexico's once-autonomous National Human Rights Commission issued an unusual statement criticising electoral authorities. The commission, which has largely followed and supported the policies of outgoing President Andrés Manuel López Obrador, claimed on Saturday electoral authorities have not acted forcefully enough against "slander," a term frequently used by López Obrador in reaction to any criticism. Elections in Mexico are run by the independent National Electoral Institute, and the commission is supposed to have no role in the process.

Boeing's first astronaut flight called off at last minute

AP ■ CAPE CANAVERAL

Last-minute computer trouble nixed Saturday's launch attempt for Boeing's first astronaut flight, the latest in a string of delays over the years.

Two NASA astronauts, including Indian-origin Sunita Williams, were strapped in the company's Starliner capsule when the countdown automatically was halted at 3 minutes and 50 seconds by the computer system that controls the final minutes before liftoff.

With only a split second to take off, there was no time to work the latest problem and the launch was called off. Technicians raced to the pad to help astronauts Butch Wilmore and Sunita Williams out of the capsule atop the fully fueled Atlas V rocket at Cape Canaveral Space Force Station. Within an hour of the launch abort, the hatch was reopened.

The team can't get to the computers to troubleshoot the problem until the rocket is drained of all its fuel, said Tory Bruno, CEO for the rocket maker, United Launch Alliance.

Bruno said one of the three redundant computers located near the rocket at the pad was sluggish. All three must work properly to proceed with a launch, he said. Depending on what needs to be fixed, the next launch attempt could be as early as Wednesday. If it doesn't blast off this coming week, then that would be it until mid-June in order to move the rocket off the pad and replace battle at Cape Canaveral Space Force Station. Within an hour of the launch abort, the hatch was reopened.

If it doesn't blast off this coming week, then that would be it until mid-June in order to move the rocket off the pad and replace battle. "This is the business that we're in," Boeing's Mark Nappi said. "Everything's got to work perfectly."

It was the second launch attempt. The first try on May 6 was delayed for leak checks and rocket repairs. NASA wants a backup to SpaceX, which has been flying astronauts since 2020.

Boeing should have launched its first crew around the same time as SpaceX, but its first test flight with no one on board in 2019 was plagued by severe software issues and never made it to the space station.

A redo in 2022 fared better, but parachute problems and flammable later caused more delays. A small helium leak in the capsule's propulsion system last month came on top of a rocket valve issue. More valve trouble cropped up two hours before Saturday's planned liftoff, but the team used a backup circuit to get the ground-equipment valves working to top off the fuel for the rocket's upper stage. Launch controllers were relieved to keep pushing ahead, but the computer system known as the ground launch sequencer ended the effort.

"Of course, this is emotionally disappointing," NASA astronaut Mike Fincke, the backup pilot, said from neighboring Kennedy Space Center shortly after the countdown was halted.

But he said delays are part of spaceflight. "We're going to have a great launch in our future."

RBI unlikely to cut interest rate on June 7, say experts

PTI ■ MUMBAI

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is unlikely to cut the benchmark interest rate at its upcoming monetary policy review meeting, taking place soon after the announcement of the Lok Sabha election results, amid inflation challenges, said experts.

The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) may also refrain from rate cut as economic growth is picking up, notwithstanding the elevated interest rate of 6.5 per cent (repo) prevailing since February 2023.

The meeting of the Reserve Bank Governor Shaktikanta Das headed MPC is scheduled for June 5 to 7. The decision will be announced on June 7 (Friday). Results of the Lok Sabha elections will be announced on June 4.

The central bank last hiked the repo rate to 6.5 per cent in February 2023 and since then it has held the rate at same level in its previous six bi-monthly policies.

If the interest rate remains untouched again on June 7, it would be the eighth time for the RBI to maintain the status quo on the benchmark repo rate.

On expectations from the June policy, Madan Sabnavis, Chief Economist, Bank of Baroda, said economic conditions have largely remained unchanged since the last policy. High-frequency indicators like PMI and GST collections do show that growth is on course.

He further said concerns on inflation remain even though the last couple of numbers have come at less than 5 per cent. The ongoing heat wave has affected prices of vegetables in particular and while the IMD has predicted a normal monsoon, it would be prudent to wait and monitor how it progresses.

"Under these conditions, a status quo on policy rate and stance may be expected. It would be interesting to see, however, if RBI changes forecasts of GDP and inflation for FY25," Sabnavis opined. Sanjay Nayyar, President of industry body Assocham, too said the central bank is expected to keep the repo rate unchanged in the ensuing MPC meeting as retail inflation remains above the target of 4 per cent.

"Though inflation has started receding, the macros would become clearer only after the monsoon season plays out in September. To get a sustainable balance between cyclical consumption-driven growth and inflation, investment growth to propel the supply side..." he added.

The government has mandated the Reserve Bank to ensure the consumer price index (CPI) based inflation remains at 4 per cent with a margin of 2 per cent on either side.

The retail inflation based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI) was 4.83 per cent in April this year.

Aditi Nayyar, Chief Economist, ICRA, said the recent inflation data and the outlook for prices of food and commodities had suggested a status quo on the rates and stance in the upcoming June 2024 monetary policy review.

"This has been further cemented by the higher-than-forecast expansion in the Indian economy in Q4 FY2024, which led to the full year GDP growth printing above 8 per cent. As a result, the likelihood of a stance change in August 2024 followed by a rate cut in October 2024 has eased, unless an abundantly well distributed monsoon quells food prices in a sustainable fashion," she added.

The MPC is entrusted with the responsibility of deciding the policy repo rate to achieve the inflation target, keeping in mind the objective of growth.

Ranen Banerjee, Partner and Leader Economic Advisory, PwC India, opined that given the uncertainty and risks on the inflation front, commodity prices and oil prices trending higher, the MPC will be constrained to have a status quo on the policy rates.

"There is no urgency on rate action too as the growth is sustaining and the US economic data also suggests that the US Fed will not cut rates before October 2024. The yields have softened without any rate action given the expected lower borrowings by the government from the high dividends from RBI," he said.

There could however be some action by way of reduction in the CRR given the liquidity challenges, Banerjee added.

Manish Jaiswal, Group COO, Eldeco, also expects the RBI to keep the repo rate steady at the forthcoming monetary policy meeting.

"This policy aims to stabilize the real estate market, make homes more affordable, and sustain growth. Stable home loan rates improve consumer confidence and enable more informed investment decisions. This favourable environment enables us to launch new projects and encourages buyers to invest confidently, thereby driving real estate sector growth and contributing to India's economic progress," he said.

The MPC consists of three external members and three officials of the RBI. External members of the rate-setting panel are Shashanka Bhide, Ashima Goyal, and Jayanth R Varma.

In an off-cycle meeting in May 2022, the MPC raised the policy rate by 40 basis points and it was followed by rate hikes of varying sizes, in each of the five subsequent meetings till February 2023. The repo rate was raised by 250 basis points cumulatively between May 2022 and February 2023.

AC makers clock two-fold jump in sales in May amid scorching summer

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

A blistering summer has led to an almost two-fold jump in sales of air-conditioners in May even as leading manufacturers have been grappling with delays in installation and replenishing inventories of hot-selling energy-efficient models.

The mercury is hovering above 45 degrees at several places including the national capital, which has been under the grip of a severe heatwave for the past few days. At the same time, AC makers are navigating exceptional demand, recording their best-ever sales in a month so far.

Leading brands like Voltas, LG, Daikin, Panasonic, and Blue Star witnessed robust sales in May and the industry expects an overall growth of 30 to 35 per cent in 2024 compared to their sales of last year.

Voltas recorded a two-fold jump in the sales of residential AC in May and expects the positive momentum to continue in the remaining period of the April-June quarter, said its MD & CEO Pradeep Bakshi.

"As we reflect on May 2024, Voltas has a remarkable surge in sales, showcasing a stupendous volume growth of 100 per cent compared to the same period last year. This milestone is particularly significant as May historically stands as one of the highest contributing month in the AC and cooling products industry," Bakshi told PTI.

The Tata Group firm is optimistic to achieve 2 million units of AC sales mark within the first six months of this calendar year.

Similarly, LG Electronics India said it is witnessing an "exponential growth" in room AC business and has "surpassed the last 5 years' records with a multi-fold surge in demand."

"This year created many sales records starting from the south region and now North India. We are expecting a minimum 100 per cent growth in north India. Similar growth trends are expected to be seen in eastern states also," said LG Electronics India Senior VP Sanjay Chitkara. The company is "bullish on AC sales" as temperature is continuously rising, he added.

Blue Star Managing Director B Thiagarajan said in March this year the room AC industry had a 40 per cent growth and it was expected that due to general elections in May, there will be some hiccups in the market but it did not happen.

"In April the demand went skyrocketing. Then we thought that it would slow down in May but it did not because of sales from the northern region," he said adding that the industry sales are up 70 per cent. In May due to high sales, "installation delays are happening and the service calls are unprecedented. This is because of heat and the industry was never prepared for such kind of growth," he said.

According to Thiagarajan, this is a "golden period" for the industry, in which it will have over 35 per cent volume growth in 2024.

Deep tech startup policy likely in forthcoming Budget

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

The commerce and industry ministry may propose a dedicated policy for deep tech startups to promote innovation, for the forthcoming Budget to be announced by the new government, an official said.

Voting for the Lok Sabha polls is over and the counting is scheduled for June 4. The new government is likely to take oath this month. The new government may announce the full Budget for 2024-25 in July.

The official said that startups have to convert their innovation into intellectual property rights and for that extensive R&D is required. The policy is in the final stages and the ministry may forward this proposal for the full Budget announcement, the official said.

In July last year, a draft National Deep Tech Startup Policy (NDTSP) was released for stakeholders' comments.

It is aimed at addressing the challenges confronting deep tech startups through definitive policy interventions to create a conducive ecosystem.

It also aims to harness the transformative potential across diverse sectors, serving as a catalyst to stimulate ripple effects throughout the economy and laying the groundwork for new industry creation.

Deep technology refers to innovations founded on advanced scientific and technological breakthroughs. Due to their disruptive nature, they have the potential to solve India's most pressing societal issues.

According to the draft, the priority is to strengthen the research and innovation ecosystem leading to scientific breakthroughs and technological advancements, boosting India's knowledge-driven economy.

The main elements which are required to promote R&D and innovation include the creation of intellectual property rights, funding, infrastructure, standards and certification, and capacity building.

In March at a Startup Mahakumbh programme, Secretary in the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) Rajesh Kumar Singh stated, "The Government of India is in the process of creating a separate dedicated deep tech startup policy. The policy paper is now in the final stages of inter-ministerial discussion. We hope to bring it forward soon."

"We will move towards creating funds of funds. Hopefully, you will see a separate window for deep tech startups," Singh had said.

The Prime Minister's Science, Technology, and Innovation Advisory Council (PM-STIAC), in its 21st meeting on July 7, 2022, recommended the creation of a national consortium and a working group to propose a comprehensive policy framework to address the needs and strengthen the Indian deep tech startup ecosystem.

Properties worth ₹1.17 lakh crore sold by 18 listed realty firms in FY24

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Eighteen major listed real estate developers sold properties worth ₹1.17 lakh crore during the last fiscal with Godrej Properties becoming the largest player posting ₹22,527 crore of sales bookings.

Except for a few realty players, all major developers have achieved higher sales bookings in 2023-24 compared to the preceding financial year.

This was largely driven by strong demand for residential properties, especially luxury homes, across major cities.

Many developers clocked record pre-sales in the 2023-24 fiscal, riding on a surge in consumer demand.

According to the data compiled from regulatory filings, eighteen major listed realty firms have reported combined sales bookings of about ₹1,16,635 crore in the 2023-24 fiscal, up 33 per cent from nearly ₹88,000 crore in the preceding year.

Of these combined sales bookings of nearly ₹1.17 lakh crore, bulk of pre-sales came from the residential segment. Industry experts attribute this surge in sales bookings of major listed players to strong housing demand post-COVID pandemic and the shifting of demand towards those companies and brands which have better track records of executing projects.

In terms of sales bookings, Godrej Properties has become the largest listed player in the 2023-24 fiscal with pre-sales of ₹22,527 crore.

Prestige Estates Projects, based in Bengaluru, clocked sales bookings of ₹21,040 crore to become the second-largest listed player in terms of sales bookings.

DLF, the country's largest realty firm in terms of market capitalisation, achieved sales bookings of ₹14,778 crore in the last fiscal year.

Selling properties under the 'Lodha' brand, Mumbai-based Macrotech Developers clocked pre-sales of ₹14,520 crore.

Gurugram-based Signature Global, which was listed last year, performed exceedingly well and achieved sales bookings of ₹7,270 crore last fiscal, more than double from the preceding fiscal.

Bengaluru-based firms Sobha Ltd and Brigade Enterprises sold properties worth ₹6,644 crore and ₹6,013 crore during the last fiscal.

Another Bengaluru-based realty company Puravankara Ltd was not far behind and achieved sales bookings of ₹5,914 crore.

Mumbai-based Oberoi Realty, which is in the luxury segment, sold properties worth ₹4,007 crore last fiscal.

Kolte-Patil, which is based in Pune, sold properties worth ₹2,822 crore last fiscal.

Mumbai's Mahindra Lifespace Developers Ltd and Keystone Realtors (Rustumjee) clocked sales bookings of ₹2,328 crore and ₹2,266 crore, respectively.

Sunteck Realty, headquartered in Mumbai, sold properties worth ₹1,915 crore last fiscal.

Ashiana Housing, based in the national capital, achieved sales bookings of ₹1,798 crore.

Ahmedabad-based Arvind Smartspaces Ltd sold properties worth ₹1,107 crore, while Ajmera Realty & Infrastructure Ltd, with headquarters in Mumbai, reported pre-sales of ₹1,017 crore.

Lucknow-based Eldeco Housing & Industries Ltd sold properties worth ₹388 crore while Mumbai-based Indiabulls Real Estate Ltd ₹280 crore.

Sales booking data of some listed players, like Omaxe, was not available.

Real estate developers, which are not listed on stock exchanges, do not report their quarterly and annual sales bookings.

Tata Realty & Infrastructure Ltd, Adani Realty, Piramal Realty, Hiranandani Group, Embassy Group and K Raheja Group are major players in unlisted space.

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Gautam Adani has retaken the tag of richest person in Asia after a surge in stock price of the listed companies in his aples-to-airport conglomerate helped him overtake Reliance Industries head Mukesh Ambani.

Adani with a net worth of USD 111 billion is now ranked as the 11th richest in the world, ahead of Ambani whose USD 109 billion wealth placed him at No. 12, according to the Bloomberg Billionaires Index.

Shares of all Adani Group companies surged on Friday by up to 14 per cent after US brokerage Jefferies put a bullish view on the group that is back to an expansion spree with a planned USD 90 billion capital expenditure over the next decade.

An addition of ₹84,064 crore in market value took the market capitalisation of 10 Adani group listed firms to ₹17.51 lakh crore at the close of trading on Friday. This helped Adani, a first generation entrepreneur and chairman of the namesake conglomerate, overtake Ambani, who is currently on a cruise in Europe for a second, multi-million-dollar pre-wedding celebration of his youngest son Anant.

Adani, 61, had in 2022 become Asia's richest man after his personal wealth rose even as the global economy suffered a period of slowing growth. But in January 2023, his sprawling USD 21 billion conglomerate that owns many of India's airports, the nation's largest private-sector port, the media giant New Delhi Television, largest renewable energy firm, data centres and many other holdings was hit by a damning report by prominent short-seller Hindenburg Research.

Hindenburg alleged Adani's business empire was built through fraud, sending stock prices of his group crashing by USD 150 billion at its lowest point and him out of the world's top 20 billionaires. Ambani, who had to give away his Asia's richest tag to Adani in 2022, was again the top billionaire.

India receives highest FDI from Singapore in 2023-24

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

India received the highest foreign direct investment (FDI) from Singapore in 2023-24 even as overseas capital inflows into the country contracted by about 3.5 per cent due to global economic uncertainties, according to the latest government data.

Though FDI from Singapore has dipped by 31.55 per cent to USD 11.77 billion in 2023-24, India has attracted the maximum inflows from that country, the data showed.

During the last fiscal, FDI equity inflows decreased from major countries, including Mauritius, Singapore, the US, the UK, UAE, Cayman Islands, Germany, and Cyprus.

However, investments increased from the Netherlands and Japan.

Since 2018-19, Singapore has been the largest source of such investments for India. In 2017-18, India attracted the maximum FDI from Mauritius.

According to experts, after the India-Mauritius tax treaty amendment, Singapore has emerged as the preferred jurisdiction for investment in India.

Rumki Majumdar, Economist, Deloitte India, said that as one of the world's prominent financial hubs, Singapore attracts global investors who want to invest in Asia.

"Recently, India's initiatives such as amendments by the SEBI to the REIT Regulations 2014 have created new opportunities for Singapore-based investors, which is why India is likely seeing high FDI from Singapore," Majumdar said.

She also hoped that FDI into India would pick up in the latter half of 2024-25.

Sanjay Malhotra, Senior Advisor, Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas & Co, said that Singapore and Mauritius are jurisdictions used by global investors to route their money into developing economies such as India.

"While there are many geo-economic and political factors why Singapore has gained more prominence in the recent past, the primary reason for it topping the FDI charts for India is tax," Malhotra said, adding Singapore has a very competitive domestic tax regime and efficient regulatory set-up.

Historically, the double tax avoidance agreement between India and Singapore provided for many beneficial provisions including capital gains exemption in India for investments made from Singapore and even though this provision has been amended, Singapore still is a credible place to create operations with substance to invest further in South-East Asia (including India), he added.

Malhora added that in 2023-24, India witnessed a drop in FDI primarily due to the global uncertainty on account of the disturbances in the Middle-East and Europe.

"Hopefully FDI inflows to India may improve in 2024-25 (from 2023-24) but they may still remain below 2022-23 levels. A stable government post elections surely will help the cause of more FDI into India but I see the global headwinds to be too strong as of now," he said.

Anindya Ghosh, Partner, INDUSLAW, too said that prior to 2016, Mauritius was a preferred jurisdiction for foreign investment in India due to the significant tax advantage it offered as a low-tax jurisdiction for routing investments.

However, in 2016, India amended its tax treaty with Mauritius to introduce a source-based taxation regime for capital gains, eliminating the tax advantage and reducing the attractiveness of Mauritius as an investment hub for India.

After the India-Mauritius tax treaty amendment, Singapore has emerged as the preferred jurisdiction for foreign investment in India due to various factors, Ghosh said.

She added that many multinational companies have their regional headquarters or holding companies based in Singapore, making it a convenient location for channelling investments into India. She added that global economic conditions, geopolitical tensions, and domestic policy developments may influence the overall FDI inflows in 2024-25.

FDI equity inflows in India declined 3.49 per cent to USD 44.42 billion in 2023-24 as against USD 46.03 billion in 2022-23.

The total FDI -- which includes equity inflows, reinvested earnings and other capital -- declined marginally by one per cent to USD 70.95 billion during 2023-24 from USD 71.35 billion in 2022-23.

In 2021-22, the country received the highest ever FDI inflows of USD 84.83 billion. Sectorally, inflows contracted in services, computer software and hardware, trading, telecommunications, automobile, pharma and chemicals.

In contrast, construction (infrastructure) activities, development and power sectors registered a healthy growth in inflows during the period under review.

FDI from Mauritius dipped to USD 7.97 billion in the last fiscal from USD 6.13 billion in 2022-23.

The US is the third largest investor in India in 2023-24 with USD 4.99 billion foreign investments, though it is down from USD 6 billion in 2022-23. It was followed by the Netherlands (USD 4.93 billion), Japan (USD 3.17 billion), the UAE (USD 2.9 billion), UK (USD 1.2 billion), Cyprus (USD 806 million), Germany (USD 505 million), and Cayman Islands (USD 342 million).

As per the data, Mauritius accounts for 25 per cent of the total FDI which India has received during April 2000 to March 2024 (USD 171.84 billion), while Singapore's share is 24 per cent (USD 159.94 billion). The US accounted for 10 per cent of total overseas investments with USD 65.19 billion during the period.

Foreign investments are crucial for India to overhaul its infrastructure such as ports, airports and highways to push growth.

FDI also helps improve the country's balance of payments situation and strengthen the rupee value against other global currencies, especially the US dollar.

HEART HEALTHY HABITS HELP REVERSE AGING

According to a study published in the Journal of the American Heart Association (JAMA), adopting heart-healthy behaviours might reverse the aging process in cells i.e. biological aging. ARCHANA JYOTI dwells into these findings in the context of India which is witnessing the silent epidemic of cardiovascular diseases

The study has shed light on how heart-healthy behaviors can significantly reduce biological aging, ultimately decreasing the risk of heart disease, stroke, and overall mortality. The study identifies DNA methylation as a crucial mechanism through which cardiovascular health impacts biological aging. The findings hold significance for India where, as per a Lancet study alarming obesity rates have been reported, with 70% of the urban population overweight. India ranks third globally in obesity, following the US and China. Approximately 8 crore Indians are obese, with 1 crore aged 5-19. What is biological aging? The basic idea behind biological aging is that aging occurs as you gradually accumulate damage to various cells and tissues in the body. The poor lifestyle expedites biological aging.

UNDERSTANDING BIOLOGICAL AGING AND DNA METHYLATION

Biological Aging vs. Chronological Aging: Biological aging refers to the condition of the body's cells and tissues, which may differ from chronological age, the actual number of years a person has lived. Genetics, lifestyle, and environmental influences contribute to biological aging. DNA Methylation: DNA methylation is a chemical process that modifies the function of genes without changing the DNA sequence. It plays a key role in regulating gene expression and is a promising biomarker for estimating biological age. The patterns of DNA methylation can reflect cumulative exposure to various factors that influence aging, making it a critical focus in

TIPS FOR HEART WELLNESS

- Eat better: Follow a healthy, balanced diet consisting of unprocessed, nutrient-rich foods, including vegetables, fruits, whole grains, beans, legumes, nuts, plant-based proteins, lean animal proteins, skinless poultry, fish, and seafood.
- Be more active: Aim for at least 150 minutes of moderate or 75 minutes of vigorous physical activity per week.
- Quit tobacco: Smoking cessation is always recommended by experts to avoid numerous health problems.
- Get healthy sleep: Most adults need 7-9 hours of sleep each night.
- Manage weight: Body mass index (BMI) is often used to assess a person's weight or body composition, though this is not the only indicator of healthy weight or obesity.
- Control cholesterol: It's important to manage your levels of low-density-lipoprotein (LDL or "bad") cholesterol for overall health.
- Manage blood sugar: Tracking your levels of hemoglobin A1c can help you keep your blood sugar levels in check.
- Manage blood pressure: Adults should maintain optimal blood pressure levels below 120/80 mm Hg.

studying the impact of lifestyle on health.

Key Study Findings

Study Population and Methods: The research utilized data from 5,682 adults (mean age of 56 years, 56% women) from the Framingham Heart Study, a long-term project focused on identifying heart disease risk factors. Participants' cardiovascular health was evaluated using the American Heart Association's Life's Essential 8 tool, which scores health on a scale of 0 to 100. This tool assesses eight key factors: diet, physical activity, sleep, smoking status, BMI, cholesterol, blood sugar, and blood pressure. Biological Age Estimation: Researchers employed four DNA methylation-based tools (DunedinPACE Score, PhenoAge, DNAmTL, GrimAge) and one tool assessing genetic predisposition to accelerated aging (GrimAge PGS). These tools provided a comprehensive assessment of biological age influenced by both genetic and lifestyle factors.

IMPACT OF HEART-HEALTHY BEHAVIOURS

Risk Reductions: For each 13-point increase in the Life's Essential 8 score:

- The risk of developing cardiovascular disease for the first time was reduced by approximately 35%.
- The risk of death from cardiovascular disease was reduced by 36%.
- The risk of death from any cause was reduced by 29%.

- Enhanced Impact for High-Risk Individuals:
- Individuals with a genetic predisposition to accelerated aging experienced even greater benefits from higher Life's Essential 8 scores. DNA methylation changes mediated a significant portion of the risk reduction:
- 39% reduction in the risk of cardiovascular disease.
- 39% reduction in the risk of cardiovascular death.
- 78% reduction in the risk of all-cause death.
- Overall, about 20% of the association between Life's Essential 8 scores and cardiovascular outcomes was attributed to the impact of cardiovascular health factors on DNA methylation. For those with higher genetic risk, this association increased to almost 40%.

MECHANISM OF ACTION

DNA Methylation as a Mediator: The study indicates that DNA methylation could serve as a mediator between heart-healthy behaviors and reduced biological aging. This biological mechanism explains how lifestyle improvements can translate into tangible health benefits, influencing gene expression and promoting better cardiovascular outcomes.

Role of DNA Methylation-Based Biomarkers:

While commercially available DNA methylation-based biological age calculators exist, the study suggests focusing more on improving cardiovascular health through lifestyle changes rather than solely relying on these tools.

CONCLUSION

The research highlights the profound impact of heart-healthy behaviors on biological aging and cardiovascular health. By addressing modifiable lifestyle factors, individuals can significantly reduce their risk of heart disease, stroke, and mortality, promoting healthier aging. The study encourages adopting and maintaining healthy lifestyle practices to enhance longevity and quality of life. As research continues to expand across diverse populations, these findings could inform broader public health strategies and personalized medicine approaches to combat cardiovascular disease and promote overall health.

AUTISM A SPECTRUM OF EXPERIENCES

As autism, a neurological condition, becomes more prevalent, fostering awareness and acceptance is crucial. Early identification, often by age two or three, relies on behavioral assessments. An inclusive society that supports individuals with autism helps them thrive and enriches our communities, says DR PRAVEEN SUMAN

In a world that celebrates diversity, it is crucial to deepen our understanding of autism, a neurodevelopmental disorder that affects millions of individuals globally. Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), is characterized by a range of challenges with social skills, repetitive behaviors, speech, and non-verbal communication. With prevalence rates rising, it's more important than ever to foster awareness and acceptance.

PROF. (DR) PRAVEEN SUMAN
Director, Child Development Clinic
Institute of Child Health
Sir Ganga Ram Hospital, Delhi

Autism is typically identified in early childhood, often by the age of two or three, though some individuals may receive a diagnosis later, especially if symptoms are less severe. Early signs include delayed speech, difficulties in social interactions, and restricted interests. Diagnosis is based on behavioral assessments and developmental history, as no medical tests like blood tests can diagnose autism.

The term "spectrum" is used because ASD varies widely in its manifestations and severity. Some individuals with autism may require substantial support in their daily lives, while others may live independently and pursue successful careers. Common traits across the spectrum include difficulty in understanding social cues, preference for routines, and sensitivity to sensory stimuli. One of the challenges for individuals with autism and their families is navigating a world designed for neurotypical people. Social situations, education systems, and workplaces often need to adapt to accommodate the unique needs of those with ASD.

There is no cure for autism, but various interventions can help improve the quality of life for those affected. Early intervention, particularly therapies focused on speech, occupational, and behavioral skills, has been shown to significantly benefit children with autism. Educational support is also crucial. Inclusive education models, where children with autism learn alongside their neurotypical peers, have gained popularity. These models promote social interaction and understanding, benefiting all students involved. For adults with autism, support systems vary widely. Employment programs tailored to the strengths of individuals with ASD, such as those focusing on detail-oriented tasks, have proven successful. Despite advancements, individuals with autism often face social stigma and misunderstanding. Misconceptions can lead to isolation and discrimination. Families frequently encounter financial and emotional burdens due to the cost of therapies, special education, and medical care. Advocacy for better insurance coverage and government support is ongoing. As our understanding of autism deepens, so too does our appreciation for the diversity of the human experience. By fostering acceptance and providing appropriate support, we can create a more inclusive society where individuals with autism thrive.

PTSD in Women: Unseen Challenges and Critical Health Impacts

Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder significantly impacts women's health, presenting unique and often unseen challenges, says DR JYOTI KAPOOR, emphasising the importance of recognising these distinct issues to provide effective support and treatment

A complex mental health condition, PTSD can affect anyone who has experienced a traumatic event. However, research has shown that the disorder can have a particularly significant impact on women's health. From heightened risk factors to unique symptom presentations, understanding how PTSD affects women is crucial for providing effective support and treatment.

Gender Disparities in PTSD Prevalence: Studies consistently show that women are more likely than men to experience PTSD in their lifetime. This heightened vulnerability can be attributed to various factors, including the prevalence of traumatic experiences such as sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and childhood abuse, which disproportionately affect women. Impact on Physical Health: PTSD doesn't just manifest in psychological symptoms; it also takes a toll on physical health. Women with PTSD are more likely to experience a range of health issues, including chronic pain, cardiovascular problems, gastrointestinal disorders, and autoimmune diseases. The chronic stress associated with PTSD can weaken the immune system and disrupt various bodily functions, contributing to these health complications. Reproductive Health Challenges: PTSD can intersect with women's reproductive health in several ways. Research suggests that women with PTSD may have higher rates of menstrual disorders, infertility, and pregnancy complications. Additionally, the stress of living with PTSD can exacerbate symptoms of premenstrual syndrome (PMS) and menopause. Increased Risk of Substance Abuse and Self-Harm: Many women with PTSD turn to substance abuse as a way to cope with their symptoms. Alcohol and drugs may provide temporary relief from distressing thoughts and emotions, but they can exacerbate mental health issues and lead to addiction. Furthermore, women with PTSD are at higher risk of engaging in self-harming behaviors, such as cutting or burning themselves, as a maladaptive coping mechanism.

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT

PTSD is a mental health condition that develops following exposure to a traumatic event, either through direct experience, witnessing it, or learning about it happening to a close friend or family member. The symptoms must persist for at least one month and significantly impact the individual's ability to function in daily life or work.

Relationship and Social Implications: It can strain relationships and social connections, leading to isolation and loneliness. Women with PTSD may struggle to maintain healthy interpersonal relationships due to symptoms such as hypervigilance, avoidance, and emotional numbing. This social withdrawal can further exacerbate feelings of alienation. Barriers to Treatment: Despite the significant impact of PTSD on women's health, there are several barriers to accessing effective treatment. Stigma surrounding mental health issues, particularly in certain cultural and societal contexts, may prevent women from seeking help. Additionally, the shortage of specialized services and the high cost of mental health care can pose significant obstacles to treatment access.

Tailored Approaches to Treatment: Effective treatment for PTSD in women requires a tailored approach that addresses the unique biological, psychological, and social factors at play. Psychotherapy, particularly trauma-focused therapies like cognitive-behavioral therapy (CBT) and eye movement desensitization and reprocessing (EMDR), has been shown to be highly effective in reducing PTSD symptoms. Medications such as antidepressants may also be prescribed to alleviate symptoms of depression and anxiety commonly associated with PTSD.

Importance of Social Support: Building a strong support network is crucial for women coping with PTSD. Peer support groups, community organizations, and online forums can provide a sense of belonging and validation. Cultivating supportive relationships with friends, family members, and healthcare providers can also play a pivotal role in recovery. Education and Advocacy: Raising awareness about the impact of PTSD on women's health is essential for reducing stigma and improving access to care. Education campaigns aimed at healthcare providers, policymakers, and the general public can help dispel misconceptions and foster empathy for those living with PTSD. Additionally, advocating for policies that prioritize mental health services and address the root causes of trauma can create a more supportive environment for women seeking treatment.

USA THUMP CANADA BY SEVEN WICKETS

PTI ■ DALLAS

USA announced their arrival in top-flight cricket in spectacular fashion as Aaron Jones introduced himself with a 40-ball 94 in a seven-wicket hammering of Canada in the opening match of the T20 World Cup here.

Batting first, Canada posted 194 for five, but USA turned what could have been a tricky chase into a cruise, completing the task with as many as 14 balls to spare.

America's very own Jones, who was born in Queens, a New York City borough, smashed 10 sixes and four boundaries to make a statement on behalf of the team full of expatriates.

While Jones was without an iota of doubt the star batter of the match, Andries Gous too made an impression with his 65 off 46 balls.

Gous hit seven fours and three sixes during his stay in the middle, after USA lost two wickets with just 42 runs on the board.

It was fitting that Jones finished the chase with a pair of sixes.

Before that, left-arm seamer Kaleem Sana gave Canada the perfect start, dismissing the dangerous Steve Taylor for a duck.

Gous joined skipper Monank

Patel, and the duo tried to up the scoring rate with a flurry of boundaries.

Canada, however, maintained discipline with the ball and soon struck again with Monank's wicket.

The batter fell a run-a-ball

16 while trying to take on Dillon Heyliger.

A 19-run over against Nikhil Dutta, featuring a six each for Gous and Aaron Jones, helped pick the USA rate up.

Jones continued to attack, hitting Canada skipper Saad

Bin Zafar for a six and a four in the 10th over.

The duo continued going for their shots, and pumped up the USA scoring rate. From 81/2, USA added 45 runs over the next three overs. Jones hit three sixes off Saad in the 13th over, reaching the fastest T20I fifty for his side in the same over, from merely 22 balls.

Gous reached a fifty off his own in the next over, and survived a scare after he hit one straight to Dilpreet off Gordon, but the pacer had bowled a no-ball.

His partner, Jones took advantage of the free hit and hit his eighth six off the next ball. The duo brought up their 100-run stand off merely 45 balls.

Earlier, Canada were off to a decent start with the opening duo of Navneet Dhaliwal and Aaron Johnson (23) putting on 43 runs in just over five overs at the Grand Prairie Stadium.

Mumbai-born left-arm spinner Harmmeet Singh effected the first breakthrough of the tournament proper when he dismissed Johnson in the sixth over.

Pargat Singh, another player Canadian player of Indian origin, fell cheaply for five runs when he was run out in the eighth over.

However, Dhaliwal found an able ally in Nicholas Kirton, who got his runs at a brisk pace while hitting three boundaries and two sixes. Dhaliwal found the fence thrice and cleared it six times during his 66-run partnership with the left-handed Kirton.

After the others have failed, it took former New Zealand player Corey Anderson to break the partnership between Dhaliwal and Kirton as he had the former caught by Jessy Singh at the start of the 15th over.

The dismissal of Dhaliwal did not have any bearing on Canada's game plan thanks to wicketkeeper Shreyas Movva's enterprise. The right-handed batter blazed away to 32 off 16 balls, striking two sixes and as many fours during his cameo to lift Canada's scoring rate.

Dilpreet Bajwa chipped in with a five-ball 11 after Kirton's departure, as Canada posted a challenging total on the board. The USA however, after a wobble initially, completed the task to open their account in their very first match in the World Cup.

The third-wicket stand between Jones and Gous produced 131 runs, laying the foundation of a fine victory on their home turf. The USA and the West Indies are jointly hosting the T20 showpiece.

Amit Panghal clinches Paris Olympics spot

PTI ■ BANGKOK

Amit Panghal's comeback to the Indian team culminated in an Olympic quota as the world championships silver medalist boxer qualified for the Paris Games with a quarterfinal win in the 2nd World Qualification Tournament here on Sunday.

Panghal, India's lone male world championship silver medalist, notched a hard-fought 5-0 win over China's Chuang Liu for a ticket to his second Olympic Games.

He thus joins the quartet of Nishant Dev (71kg), Nikhat Zareen (50kg), Preeti Pawar (54kg) and Lovlina Borgohain (75kg). All of them have booked Olympic berths.

Panghal had only one shot at making the Paris Olympics and the 2018 Asian Games champion made the most of his opportunity.

The going has been tough for Panghal as he lost his place in the national team on the basis of BFI's evaluation system to world championship bronze medalist Deepak Bhorla, who competed at the earlier two qualifying events.

Since the Tokyo Olympics, the only big-ticket event that the Haryana boxer has competed in was the Commonwealth Games in 2022, where he won the gold medal.

He also emerged victorious at the prestigious Strandja Memorial tournament earlier this year.

The quarterfinal bout began on a rather sedate note with both boxers trying to assess each other. One minute into the bout, Liu went after Panghal. At an height disadvantage, the Indian struggled to find his range, and he did manage to land a couple of scoring shots but didn't engage much.

Trailing 1-4, Panghal, a three-time Asian Championship medalist, changed his strategy. He went on the offensive, beginning the second round on a positive note.

The Chinese boxer retaliated by launching some counterattacking blows but Panghal continued with his punches and ended the round on a high, forcing all five judges to rule in his favour.

In the last three minutes, Liu changed his game and moved closer to Panghal. It was an energy sapping affair as both fighters traded punches, going hammer and tongs at each other. In the end, the former world number one prevailed.

Later in the day, Jaismine Lamboria (57kg) and Sachin Siwah (57kg) will also look to secure Olympic quotas.

Sri Lanka look to muffle big guns in South Africa batting

PTI ■ NEW YORK

Sri Lanka will rely on their exceptional varied bowling attack to tame the unrestrained batting power of South Africa in their Group D T20 World Cup opener here on Monday. They will be eager to get onto the points table at the earliest too as some tricky teams like Netherlands, Bangladesh and Nepal are clubbed with them in the group.

South Africa have spread all their cards on the table as the team selection indicated the most likely route they would take in this ICC showpiece. A batting line-up consisting of captain Aiden Markram, wicketkeeper batter Heinrich Klaasen, Quinton de Kock, David Miller and Tristan Stubbs could be a nightmare for any bowling attack.

Klaasen and Stubbs have been in roaring form of late. In this World Cup cycle, the right-hander has averaged 41 and struck runs at 182.

In the IPL 2024 too, Klaasen made 471 runs from 16 matches at a strike rate of 171 for the Sunrisers Hyderabad. Stubbs has been equally impressive for the Delhi Capitals, amassing 378 runs from 14 matches and he made them at a strike-rate of 190.

Both these gifted power-strikers come in the middle-order when the spinners will be in operation, and to add to Lanka's worries, they are phenomenal against the tweekers, especially Klaasen.

In the run-up to the World Cup, the 32-year-old from Transvaal has averaged 59 against spin and made runs at an eye-watering strike-rate of 191.

It will certainly worry a set of Lankan spinners such as captain Wanindu Hasaranga (economy 7.42) and Maheesh Theekshana (6.71), both of whom had to battle injuries in the recent past.

So, Sri Lanka, who have not reached the knockouts of a T20 WC after their triumph in 2014, will be eager to try a couple of overs from pacers Matheesha Pathirana and Dilshan Madushanka in that phase when Klaasen and Stubbs are looking for acceleration.

However, Lanka might take heart from the fact that the Proteas went down 0-3 to the West Indies in a recent T20I series at Kingston.

Lanka will also hope that the New York pitch will continue to offer some help to the bowlers as it had happened in Saturday's warm-up match between India and Bangladesh, where a few deliveries did not rise above the ankle and knee level.

Beyond that, the Lankans are also one of the teams that have played a good number of T20Is this year. In 2024, they have series wins over Zimbabwe and Afghanistan at home and Bangladesh away.

In fact, they have won six of the last nine T20Is. But those external factors will not have much bearing on a fresh day and Lanka know that their batters too will have to come good against the African rival.

They have the experienced Angelo Mathews, the explosive Kusal Mendis and the rock-solid Dhananjaya de Silva to bank on while the former captain Dasun Shanaka can make a few quick runs down the order.

The SA attack does not have that much variety in their bowling unit as it largely revolves around Kagiso pacer Rabada and left-arm wrist-spinner Tabraiz Shamsi.

Anrich Nortje is still finding his range after coming back from an injury and had an underwhelming IPL where he conceded more than 11 runs an over.

The SA management will hope that the pacer will regain his rhythm in the biggest stage and that will have a major say in avoiding another below-par outing in a World Cup.

SQUAD: South Africa: Aiden Markram (c), Ottiel Baartman, Gerald Coetzee, Quinton de Kock, Bjorn Fortuin, Reeza Hendricks, Marco Jansen, Heinrich Klaasen, Keshav Maharaj, David Miller, Anrich Nortje, Kagiso Rabada, Ryan

Ricketon, Tabraiz Shamsi, Tristan Stubbs.

Sri Lanka: Wanindu Hasaranga (c), Charith Asalanka, Kusal Mendis, Pathum Nissanka, Kamindu Mendis, Sadeera Samarawickrama, Angelo Mathews, Dasun Shanaka, Dhananjaya De Silva, Maheesh Theekshana, Dunith Wellalage, Dushmantha Chameera, Nuwan Thushara, Matheesha Pathirana, Dilshan Madushanka, Travelling Reserves: Asitha Fernando, Vijayakanth Vijayakanth, Bhanuka Rajapaksa, Janith Liyanage.

Match starts at 8 PM IST. Oman face Namibia In a Group B clash at Bridgetown, Namibia, a dominant force in the African Qualifiers, will be hoping for a winning start against Oman.

However, it would not be that easy for Namibia as Oman had run them close in April, before conceding the five-match series 2-1.

Hence, Oman, who are making their third appearance in a T20 WC, will be hoping for a better outcome this time.

SQUAD: Oman: Aqib Ilyas (c), Zeeshan Maqsood, Kashyap Prajapati, Pratik Athavale, Ayaan Khan, Shoaib Khan, Mohammad Nadeem, Naseem Khushi, Mehran Khan, Bilal Khan, Rafiullah, Kaleemullah, Fayyaz Butt, Shakeel Ahmad, Khalid Kail. Reserves: Jatinder Singh, Samay Shrivastava, Sufyan Mehmod, Jay Odedra.

Namibia: Gerhard Erasmus (c), Zane Green, Michael Van Lingen, Dylan Leicher, Ruben Trimpelmann, Jack Brassell, Ben Shikongo, Tangeni Lungameni, Niko Davin, JJ Smit, Jan Frylinck, JP Kotze, David Wiese, Bernard Scholtz, Malan Kruger, PD Bignault.

We have not really nailed down our batting unit: Rohit Sharma

PTI ■ NEW YORK

The Indian team is yet to 'nail' its batting line-up for the T20 World Cup and much shouldn't be read into the think tank's decision to send Rishabh Pant at number three in the warm-match against Bangladesh, said skipper Rohit Sharma.

India emerged winners by 60 runs at the Nassau County International Cricket Stadium, restricting Bangladesh to 122 for nine after posting 182 for five in the allotted 20 overs on Saturday.

On Pant batting at No.3, Rohit said, "Just to give him an opportunity. We have not really nailed down what the batting unit will look like. Even the bowlers did pretty well. All in all happy with how things went." Pant struck a fluent 53 off 32 balls, while Hardik Pandya smashed 40 in 23 deliveries after Suryakumar Yadav helped himself to an 18-ball 31.

"Quite happy with how things went. Pretty much got what we wanted from the game. Like I said at the toss, it was important to get used to the conditions.

"New venue, new ground, drop-in pitch - important to get used to it and we managed pretty well," Rohit said after the match. Left-arm seamer Arshdeep Singh shone with the ball, picking 2/12 in three overs while all-rounder Shivam Dube grabbed 2/13 in three overs.

Asked about Arshdeep, Rohit said, "He has shown us, in whatever games he has played, he has the skills up-front. He has got a very good skill-set (at the death too).

"We saw it today. He bowled pretty well, swung the ball up front, and then bowled one at the backend. We have got 15 good players here. We have to see what the conditions are and then see what combination is best for us."

A little speech at times: David Head coach Rahul Dravid said the pitch was a bit soft and spongy, while lauding the performance of his players.

"It's great to get a good hit-out. Obviously, it looks like a good facility in terms of as quickly as they have put up. The ground is a bit soft and the guys could feel that on the hamstring and the calves.

"So, that's the area we need to ensure that we are working around and ensuring that the guys are looking after does feel a little bit heavy underneath," Dravid said in a video posted by the BCCI.

India ticked multiple boxes during their comfortable win over Bangladesh in the warm-up match, but none bolder than the fifty by Pant which has all but sealed his place as the first-choice wicketkeeper batter in the ICC showpiece.

Dortmund rues missed chances in Champions League final loss

AP ■ LONDON

The scrappy German team missed a slew of big chances against Real Madrid in the Champions League final before losing 2-0 at Wembley Stadium on Saturday.

"You have to use your chances in the final," midfielder Emre Can said. "Unfortunately we didn't."

The loss comes a year after Dortmund failed to clinch the Bundesliga title on the last day of the season, and 11 years after losing to Bayern Munich 2-1 the last time they reached the Champions League title game, also at Wembley.

In 2013, Dortmund coach Edin Terzic was in the stands as a fan of the black-and-yellow.

Last year, Terzic had tears in his eyes after Dortmund missed the chance to win the Bundesliga when it was held by Mainz to 2-2.

On Saturday night, more heartbreak. "I'm proud but disappointed and empty," Terzic said. "After a Champions League final that we lost, it is quite hard to find the right words."

Karim Adeyemi was in alone on goalkeeper Thibaut Courtois in the 21st minute with Dortmund's yellow-clad, flag-waving fans poised to erupt.

But the winger pushed the ball too far to his left as the 6-foot-6 Courtois used all of his length to get down and reach for the ball at the top of the area. Adeyemi got a left-footed shot off, but Dani Carvajal was there to block it.

Two minutes later, Niclas Fullkrug poked a shot past Courtois but it bounced off the right post and across the goalmouth.

Dortmund had another chance just before the half-hour mark when Adeyemi's shot was saved by Courtois. Fullkrug wasn't able to get a clean header on the rebound.

Marcel Sabitzer forced another save from Courtois in the 41st. "We managed to escape from the first half, when we could have been losing 2-0 easily," Courtois said. "We never stop and found a way to put it in."

Carvajal's header broke the deadlock in the 74th and Vinicius Junior sealed it seven minutes from time.

Madrid star Jude Bellingham summed it up nicely: "Dortmund had the better of the game, the better chances, but if you don't kill us then we will come back."

Fullkrug had another good chance in the 63rd but his header was straight at Courtois, who punched it away.

The Germany forward finally did put the ball in the net with a bullet header but he was well offside and the score remained 2-0. Fullkrug faulted himself for not converting his opportunities and said he feels particularly bad for Marco Reus, who played his final game for Dortmund. Reus is leaving Dortmund after 12 years at the club.

Reus and Mats Hummels were members of the last Dortmund team to make it this far. They lost the 2013 Champions League final to Bayern Munich.

"They told us about the game and how it felt," Fullkrug said. "I'm very sad for them."

Still, he's optimistic for the future. "We can go on very confident. We played against the biggest team - a lot of the biggest teams in Europ
