Gullak season 4 delivers laughter, tears and everything in between.

TANISHA SAINI

LOT: Gullak season 4 continues smoothly until the heartwarming narration of the fifth episode, apparently portraying the Indian middle-class. The essence is divided into five episodes, each approximately 30 minutes long, with each episode dedicated to a different character's life.

THE MEANING: The fifth episode leaves us with a bittersweet moment, showing the characters' lives evolving.

THE PLUS: The characters, new, well-established, continue to grow, revealing new facets of their lives. Shooting for the fifth episode was particularly long and demanding, but the cast and crew remained enthusiastic throughout.

TECHNICAL ASPECTS: The cinematography of Gullak Season 4 captures the essence of a small-town setting with remarkable beauty, with each frame reflecting the simplicity and charm of a middle-class household. The use of natural light and soft colors adds a dreamy and visually appealing experience. The emotional transitional effect is evident in the seamless transition, using soft cuts and well-choreographed shots.

THE MINUS: The fifth episode's length and the lack of action make it struggle to hold the audience's attention throughout.

VERDICT: Gullak Season 4's 6th installment is a delightful odyssey, offering a perfect blend of humor, philosophy, and heartfelt moments. It remains a must-watch for anyone interested in discovering quirky and relatable narratives in the everyday life of a small-town household.

JASLEEN ROYAL MADE THE MOST OF HER BANGKOK TRIP

Singer-songwriter Jasleen Royal, who was in the beautiful city of Bangkok, Thailand, shooting for Assi Sajna, speaks to The Pioneer for our Travelogue segment, sharing her travel memories from the trip.

TODAY'S TRAVELogue

From its rich history and cultural heritage to its bustling streets and scrumptious cuisine, Bangkok provides a memorable experience. Well, recently, popular singing sensation Jasleen Royal was in this vibrant and colorful metropolis, having her own fun experience. The trip was not her first-ever travel trip to Bangkok, as she shot her first project titled Assi Sajna there. As expected, her trip was not just about work, but it was a Bangkok that she shot for her just released track, Ko Dosti. “It was lovely, you know. It was a close tour. It was on my team always together, and I have no friends, no friends, and we had worked together in many of my videos, so it just became like a fun trip. We were shooting till 4 a.m., starting at 9 a.m. It was really hot, but the only beauty was that we had to shoot some sequences in the afternoon, but it started raining. A lot of the lip-sync portion we shot on the roof top of our hotel. As soon as it would rain, we run away, and we get some usable bits like pigeons!”

Traveling with her team and exploring Bangkok was undoubtedly something that she enjoyed the most on the trip. “Going abroad, I think, is amazing. I am someone who’s always going abroad, mainly to Europe, but here, I got to experience a different way of life in Bangkok. It was pretty super. Shooting for Assi Sajna in Bangkok was very easy, and we could easily get a lot of our work done. One thing that every musician enjoys is the musical tracks that they get on their trips, and I got to sing 15 songs on my musical tour, she enthuses. “That’s when you see, you realize, ‘Why, does a song have to be a song just on your musical tour, you realize, ‘There’s no music in any season of our industry. I will be starting to travel in August and keep on singing. So that gives me a break from being in Bombay, which also brings a fresh change. Sometimes you get bored of staying at the same place, and you feel like being in touch with creativity. It helps you break the monotony. However, being on tour is very hard. It is fun, but at the end of the day, you have to work. My videos, so it just became more fun. So the fifth episode’s length and the lack of action make it struggle to hold the audience’s attention throughout.
