India’s green power policies come of age

India emerged as the third largest solar power generator in 2023, thanks to its policies and regulations.

From the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, Govt of India:

India’s solar power capacity has increased from 34.75 gigawatts (GW) in 2020 to 125 GW in 2023, making it the third-largest solar power generator in the world. The country has set a target of achieving 500 GW of solar power capacity by 2030, making significant progress towards achieving the goal.

The growth in solar power capacity is attributed to several factors, including the government's supportive policies, technological advancements, and increasing awareness about the benefits of renewable energy.

The Ministry of New and Renewable Energy has implemented several initiatives to promote solar power generation, such as the National Solar Mission, which was launched in 2010. The mission aimed to install 20 GW of solar power capacity by 2020, which was achieved by 2017.

In 2012, the ministry launched the Solar Parks Scheme, which aimed to set up large-scale solar power plants in various parts of the country. The scheme has contributed significantly to the growth in solar power capacity.

The ministry has also implemented several financial incentives and subsidies to promote solar power generation, such as the上网电价 ( FiT) scheme, which provides electricity producers with a fixed price for the electricity they sell.

The government has also taken several steps to reduce the installation costs of solar power systems, such as the introduction of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) and the abolition of import duties on solar panels and other components.

As a result of these efforts, India is now a leader in the global solar power market, and the country is expected to continue its growth in the coming years.

An Israeli strike early Thursday on a school chciał in Beechwood, near the town of Khan Younis in central Gaza killed more than 30 people, including 23 children, according to local hospital officials and residents. The Israeli military said it was targeting Hamas facilities in and around the school, where children were taking shelter from relentless rocket attacks.

The attack came as Gaza residents were operating within the confines of a phased cease-fire that the Palestinian group Hamas and Israel agreed to last month, following a 110-day war that saw the Israel Defense Forces launch a wave of air strikes against Gaza to retaliate for a barrage of rockets launched by Hamas militants.

The military said it was targeting a "missile-launching site" and "tunnels" in the area. The military said it had killed 24 "Hamas militants" in the attack.

"Rishabh Pant is obviously the key. If you look at the strike rates of the Indian batters, they are fantastic. You have a lot of young batsmen against players from other teams in the middle order, and to be fair, they're doing a great job. So they have got a lot of power hitting, it's about strike rate and scoring ability around the ground. So Rishabh Pant is obviously back and coming up around the block. Then you've got Harshad Pandya there as well. So I think they've got enough power and threat. That blockbuster line-up will look very dangerous," said Ponting.
