Sunrisers Hyderabad will be eager to move on from their underwhelming batting display when they host Lucknow Super Giants in a crucial Indian Premier League match here on Wednesday. Both teams are locked in at 12 points from 11 games with SRH making the top four cut based on a slightly superior net run rate of -0.065 compared to LSG's -0.371. The Sunrisers find themselves in a fierce competition for the top four spot with Kolkata.

Rain drains city of power

NAVEENA GHANATE HYDERABAD

Aside from political recriminations about the 'robustness' of the power supply system before and after regime change in Telangana, it is now absolutely clear that one brief spell of rain with gales is all it takes to cripple power supply across the city, leave alone contiguous areas. On Tuesday, following a brief spell of heavy rain accompanied by gales, most areas of Hyderabad witnessed a blackout for more than five hours. Many citizens complained all through the night that power supply, which had snapped initially at 4:30 pm, was not restored even after 4-5 hours.

As per officials, more than 480 of the 3,000 feeders across the city were damaged. By 10:30 pm nearly 300 of them were restored. Officials said by Tuesday night all feeders would be

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

Reiterating his statement that the Lok Sabha elections are a 'battle between Telangana and Gujarat,' Telangana Chief Minister Revanth Reddy asked the people of Warangal to show the valour of the Kakathiyas and defeat the Delhi sultans.

Addressing a corner meeting in Warangal city on Tuesday Revanth appealed to the people to send the Gujarat team out for a duck. He said that these are not just elections but a war and that the people should defeat Gujarat.

He appealed to the people to ensure the victory of Kadiam Kavya from the Warangal Lok Sabha constituency and added that Warangal would be made the second capital

"Errabelli and Aruri are land grabbers and the BJP and the BRS are not different. The BRS fielded a dummy candidate in Warangal and has entered into a secret pact to defeat the Congress candidate," he said. He said that he came to Warangal to expose the BRS's conspiracies and ensure the Congress candidate's victory.

The CM said that the people defeated KCR in the Assembly elections but KCR has not changed and is continuing his same attitude.

Revanth said that KCR is not speaking about Modi nowadays and has mortgaged the Warangal seat to the BJP to get bail for his daughter Kavitha.

PNS NEW DELHI

The Election Commission on Tuesday directed the Telangana under the Rythu Bharosa scheme till Lok Sabha polls are held in the state on May 13, saying Chief Minister Revanth Reddy violated the model code of conduct by referring to the payouts in his public speeches.

In a letter to the Telangana Chief Electoral Officer, the Commission said Reddy had violated the model code of conduct by publicly speaking about the ensuing disbursement under the scheme on or before May 9.

Elections to all 17 Lok Sabha seats in Telangana will be held in the fourth phase on May 13. "In the above premise and clear violation of Model Code of Conduct by Revanth Reddy, President Telangana Pradesh Congress Committee and star campaigner and Chief Minister, the Commission has directed that disbursement of balance instalment under the Rythu Bharosa scheme for Rabi season of 2023 will be effected only after completion of poll in the state of Telangana on 13.05.2024," the Commission said.

It also expressed concern over attempts to politicise the ongoing scheme during the elections and held that such actions were deemed as attempts to influence voters and disturb the level playing field.

The Election Commission's decision on some issues is drawing flak from not only political parties but also the public as the ECI is taking different decisions on the same issue in different states.

On some issues, the Election Commission has taken different decisions in Telugu states. The Election Commission gave the green signal to the Telangana government to release funds for farmers under the Rythu Bandhu scheme.

Election the Commission refused to permit the Andhra Pradesh govern-ment to release funds for wel-fare schemes like Rythu

When the Andhra Pradesh Government sought permission to release input subsidy funds to farmers as compensation for crops damaged by cyclone and drought the Election Commission refused permission.

Similarly, the Election Commission refused permission to release funds for students' fee reimbursement scheme.

The Election Commission directed the Andhra Pradesh government not to release any funds for any welfare schemes till the elections are over.

However, the Election Commission permitted the Telangana government to release funds to farmers under the Rythu Bandhu scheme as input subsidy. The Telangana government has already started releasing funds to farmers.

The people of Andhra Pradesh are criticising the biased decisions of the Election Commission. In both Telugu states, the BJP or its alliance partners are not in power. In Telangana, the Congress is in power and in Andhra Pradesh the YSR Congress is in power.

For KCR, it is a struggle for political existence

Tt is indeed a turbulent period for Kalvakuntla . Chandrasekhar Rao (KCR), who ruled India's youngest state for a decade after having successfully spearheaded the POINT movement for a separate state of Telangana for 13 long years! With the Congress and the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) being the ruling and the principal opposition parties at the Centre then, KCR had tactfully realised his dream of having a separate administrative unit for the region comprising his party originally called Telangana Rashtra Samithi. The regime change in Telangana following the 2023 Assembly elections is attributed to a strong anti-incumbency factor, though KCR, with his footprint in Maharashtra and Karnataka, to begin with. But KCR failed to read the writing on the wall. Moreover, the arrest of KCR's daughter and party MLC K Kavitha by the Enforcement Directorate in the Delhi liquor scam cast a shadow over the pink party. After all, she had been the face of women empowerment in the state. Some circles believe that the TRS could retain power in 2018 only by raking up 'anti-Andra sentiment' as the Telugu Desam Party (TDP) chief and former chief minister of undivided AP N Chandrababu Naidu had

In his second stint, KCR knowingly or unknowingly allowed the intervention of his family members in administrative matters. So, he could not wash his hands off the stigma of endorsing 'Kalvakuntla family rule'. Subsequently, serious charges were leveled against his government that phones of prominent leaders were being apped, including that of then TPCC president and present chief minister A Revant Reddy. Above all, Telangana, despite being financially sound at bifurcation, piled up debts running

No wonder, people responded positively towards the Congress' appeal to grant it an opportunity to rule the new state, which after all was granted by the grand old party.

Today, KCR is facing the Lok Sabha elections with his

it is now a question of political survival him as well as his party BRS. Today, BRS cannot afford to cling to regional sentiments that had given TRS a boost in the past, though the renamed party has decided not to contest in the Lok Sabha polls outside Telangana. Today, amidst intense political campaigning, with the Congress and the Bharatiya Janata Party projecting it as mere fight between themselves, KCR and his son and political heir KT Rama Rao are hoping that their party would win at least eight seats out of the 17 LS seats in TG. Hyderabad has been unofficially left to the Majlis by both Congress and BRS, despite their presence in the electoral fray.

The Congress is focused only on BJP, its rival at the national level. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has preferred a number of visits to TG to leave his own mark on the state. Likewise, the brother-sister duo from the grand old party, Rahul and Priyanka, are engaged in making it look like a direct fight between the BJP and the Congress. The Congress is expecting to win a dozen Lok Sabha seats in TG, whereas the BJP is hopeful of getting at least one more seat in addition to its previous tally of four seats. Amid desertions by party leaders and cadre, the BRS has an uphill task. Giving regionalism another twist, KTR has posited that Hyderabad could become a Union territory soon, probably before 2nd June 2024, when the city ceases to be a joint capital under the AP Reorganisation Act, 2014. So,

KTR has urged people to give at least 12 Lok Sabha seats for BRS to 'save Hyderabad' and retain it for TG permanently.

The saving grace for BRS is that it managed to get impressive results in and around Hyderabad. Although the Congress had emerged victorious in various parts of Telangana, it could not wrest even a single seat in the Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corportion area that accounts for 24 seats (more than 20% of the total 119 seats). But the charges of graft relating to the Kaleshwaram project and the phone tapping issue will haunt the BRS.

In this backdrop, for both KCR and BRS it appears to be a struggle for political existence in TG, where two national parties are battling it out with a pitch for a national outlook.

Political parties have been throwing feasts to their and reviewing the progress of the election campaign, besides discussing future strategies with them.

The farmhouses, built by the traders belonging to Hyderabad and other towns and cities for them to relax during weekends, have become political platforms because of the current Lok Sabha elections.

There are many farmhouses in Gajwel, Siddipet and Dubbaka and they are very close to road. The political activists are keen to relax amidst sylvan surroundings in hot summer. Moreover, they are useful to ensure the secrecy of the political strategies. When the politically significant persons reach the area, they will stay at the farm houses. The political activists call on them.

Politicians have been spending lakhs of rupees to throw parties. Almost on daily basis, the party workers are enjoying feasts. In connection with birthday of a political leader, fruits and bread were distributed respective party workers in among the patients. Later, a party was thrown for the workers at the leader's farm house. The locals say that the political activists relaxed till Processing of tender schedules, purchase of machinery and spare parts and other activities are put on hold on the pretext of the code of conduct.

The SCCL targeted to produce 72 lakh tonnes. To achieve the products, the SCCL management should procure the necessary vehicles and machinery spare parts needed for use

The FIR was registered against the 38-year-old man on a complaint lodged by the woman, who works as a wedding planner, claiming he had groped her in the lift on April 29 this year. No arrest has been made so far, the official said. The accused and the victim know each other as they are the residents of the first and second floors of the highrise, situated in Khar, according to the FIR. "He allegedly followed the woman in the lift. He spoke to her in obscene language and groped her, which left her shaken and scared. She started crying. After coming out of the lift, she narrated her ordeal to her family members," police said. A case was registered under sections 354 (outraging the modesty of a woman), 509 (word, gesture or act intended to insult the modesty of a woman) and 506 (Punishment for criminal intimidation) of the Indian Penal Code and investigation is underway, the official said

'Olive oil linked with lower risk of death from dementia'

bout a teaspoon of olive oil a day is linked with lowering the risk of death due to dementia by roughly 30 per cent, particularly in women, according to a new Aresearch. Replacing five grams a day intake of mayonnaise and margarine ('vanaspati') with olive oil in equal amounts was found to be associated with a 14 per cent and eight per cent lower risk of death due to dementia, respectively. An international team of researchers, including those at Harvard University, US, observed over 92.000 adults in the US for 28 years to study the effects of olive oil intake on the risk of dementia-related death. Dementia refers to an impaired ability to remember, think and make decisions, and thus, impacts daily activities and quality of life. "Consuming at least 7 grams per day of olive oil was associated with a 28 per cent lower risk of dementiarelated death compared with never or rarely consuming olive oil." the authors wrote They also found that the results held good regardless of diet quality.

The top court was hearing a batch of petitions challenging the Calcutta High Court's April 22 decision that invalidated the appointment of 25,753 teachers and non-teaching staff.

"Public job is so scarce... Nothing remains if the faith of the public goes. This is systemic fraud. Public jobs are extremely scarce today and are looked at for social mobility. What remains in the system if their appointments are also maligned? People will lose faith, how do you countenance this?" the CJI asked the lawyers representing the state government.

The bench said the state government has nothing to show that relevant data was maintained by the authorities and asked about its availability.

"Either you have the data or you do not have it.... You were duty-bound to maintain the documents in digitised form. Now, it is obvious that there is no data. You are unaware of the fact that your service provider has engaged another agency. You had to maintain supervisory control," the bench told the state government's lawyers.

The state government had challenged the Calcutta High Court order, saying it cancelled the appointments "arbitrarily".

Ex-Cong leader Radhika Khera. actor Shekhar Suman join BJP

PNS NEW DELHI

Former Congress leader Radhika Khera and actor Shekhar Suman joined the BJP on Tuesday. Khera, the former national coordinator of the Congress's media department, resigned from the party's primary membership on Sunday, days after her altercation with another leader at the party's Chhattisgarh office.

In her resignation letter to Congress chief Mallikariun Kharge, Khera also claimed she was facing opposition in the party for her visit to the Ram temple in Ayodhya. Suman, a popular TV actor who also worked in many Bollywood films, has returned to politics after a gap of about 15 years. He had fought the 2009 Lok Sabha elections from Patna Sahib seat in Bihar on a Congress ticket but came third in the contest which was won by Shatrughan Sinha, who was

Misleading ads: Public figures must act with responsibility: SC

PNS NEW DELHI

It is imperative for celebrities and public figures to act responsibly while endorsing a consumer product, the Supreme Court said on Tuesday as it clamped down on misleading advertisements.

The apex court directed that before an advertisement is permitted to be issued, a selfdeclaration be obtained from advertisers on the line of the Cable Television Network Rules, 1994. Rule 7 of the 1994 law stipulates an advertisement code that says advertisements carried should be designed to be conformity with the laws of the country.

A bench of Justices Hima Kohli and Ahsanuddin Amanullah also directed the Union ministries concerned to apprise it of misleading advertisements and the action taken or proposed to be taken against them by the Central Consumer

Patna most vulnerable to floods in India, finds new research

PNS NEW DELHI

Patna experiences the worst floods in India, followed by West Bengal's Murshidabad and Maharashtra's Thane, according to a district-level flood severity index (DFSI) developed by researchers at IIT-Delhi and

The researchers said the top 10 districts where flood severity is the highest are: Patna, Murshidabad, Thane, North 24 Parganas (West Bengal), Guntur (Andhra Pradesh), Nagpur (Maharashtra), Gorakhpur (Uttar Pradesh), Ballia (Uttar Pradesh), East Champaran (Bihar), and East Medinipur (West Bengal).

Among the 30 districts facing the highest risk of floods, 17 are in the Ganga basin and three are

The other flood-prone states, in descending order of flood events, include Kerala, Karnataka, Uttar Pradesh, and Maharashtra. Data from 1967 to shows Thiruvananthapuram has expe-

The die is cast

The pivotal third phase of the elections concluded with a low turnout, featuring prominent contenders sterday, Prime Minister Modi exercised his voting right. He was vocal about India's exemplary democratic process on the global stage. Indeed, the complexity of Indian elections, given the vastness of the nation and its electorate, makes their execution a challenging feat. As the 2024 Lok Sabha election reaches midway, India's political arena brims with fervour, anticipation, and meticulous scrutiny. The third phase of voting holds particular significance, especially for the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), with voting taking place in Gujarat, the home turf of Prime Minister Modi, and Amit Shah, the Home Minister. The presence of both leaders casting their votes amplifies the importance of this phase, shaping the election's narrative thus far. The third phase encompassed 11 States and Union territories, witnessing 93 constituencies participating in the electoral process. Notably, the BJP secured victory in the Surat constituency in Gujarat uncontested. With voting in 283 Lok Sabha seats (52 per cent of total Lok Sabha seats) complete, the election is less than a month away from its logical conclusion. After four more phases, the results would be out on June 4. What set the third phase apart was the presence of several constituencies where notable figures were contesting. This phase hosted several prominent candidates, including Amit Shah (BJP) from Gandhi Nagar, Gujarat; Digvijaya Singh (Congress) from Rajgarh, Madhya Pradesh; Shivraj Singh Chouhan (BJP) from Vidisha, Madhya Pradesh; Dimple Yadav (Samajwadi Party) from Mainpuri, Uttar Pradesh; Supriya Sule (NCP - Sharad Pawar) from Baramati, Maharashtra; Jyotiraditya Scindia (BJP) from Guna, Madhya Pradesh; Pralhad Joshi (BJP) from Dharwad, Karnataka; and KS Eshwarappa (BJP) from Shimoga, Karnataka, among others. The Election Commission reported a turnout of 66.14 per cent and 66.71 per cent for the first and second phases, respectively. The third phase was no different in terms of voter turnout. With the completion of the third phase, the fate of 283 Lok Sabha seats has been sealed, marking the election's midpoint with 52% of seats voted upon. The persistently low turnout across all phases raises concerns for both democracy and political parties, each grappling with the challenge of ensuring voter participation. For the BJP, the third phase holds immense significance. As a party entrenched in power since 2014, it faces the daunting task of not only maintaining its stronghold but also expanding its influence across diverse regions of the nation. As the Lok Sabha election unfolds, discernible trends and dynamics offer insights into the nation's pulse. Despite facing formidable challenges, the BJP leverages its organisational strength, robust campaign machinery, and Modi's charismatic leadership to maintain its competitive edge. However, navigating through economic concerns, social tensions, and regional disparities presents formidable obstacles. The outcome of this phase serves as a litmus test for the BJP's policies and leadership shaping the trajectory of Indian politics.

Global South's cultural diplomacy CHAITANYA K PRASAD

Cannes transcends its role as a mere film festival; it serves as a beacon of cultural exchange, artistic exploration, and industry innovation s we inch closer to the second week of May, excitement for the forthcoming 77th edition of the Cannes Film Festival is reaching a crescendo. The Cannes Film Festival, since its inception, has been hailed as the platform celebrating the joy and creativity of cinema, the high point of confluence of cultures, and talents, and an assembly of masters of storytelling. In recent years, its stage has increasingly spotlighted the cinematic voices of the Global South, a trend underscored by the burgeoning presence of films from Africa, South Asia and Southeast Asia. Building on last year's diverse selection from Japan, China, and South Korea, Cannes in its 77th edition, from 14th to 25th May 2024, reaffirms its commitment to amplifying varied narratives and perspectives. This year's edition promises to continue this trajectory, featuring standout entries like "All We Imagine As Light" by Indian filmmaker Payal Kapadia, "Boku No Ohisama (My Sunshine)" by the acclaimed Japanese filmmaker Hiroshi Okuyama, "Viet And Nam" by Vietnamese filmmaker Truong Minh Quý, and "The Village Next to Paradise" by Somalian filmmaker Mo Harawe. These selections highlight the new creative talent spots for cin-

With the evolving world, there is a deeper significance highlighted by the recognition of cinema as a potent tool of soft power by countries in the Global South. Across the continents of Africa, Asia, and Latin America, nations have increasingly acknowledged the power of storytelling through cinema as a means to amplify their cultural influence and enhance their global standing. Over the past two years Cannes Film Festival has seen a dynamic shift in programming, from a European narrative to a more perceptive Southern inclusion and terconnection. In the borderless world that we live in today, the prominence of the Global South as a group has risen despite being dominated by multipolarity. Nomination and participation in prestigious festivals like Cannes are not merely accolades but recognition of the importance of soft power in the creative ecosystem. By showcasing their cinematic prowess and an amalgamation of their creative skills on a global stage, countries in the Global South seek to assert their cultural identity, foster cross-cultural dialogue, and bolster diplomatic ties. In an era where cultural diplomacy holds increasing sway, the Cannes Film Festival serves as a creative platform for nations to assert their soft power through the medium of cinema. Through their cinematic endeavours, these filmmakers become cultural ambassadors, bridging divides and fostering mutual understanding between nations.

Symbolising a step towards inclusivity and recognition of the invaluable contributions of women in shaping cinematic discourse. As the jury list for this year awaits announcement, anticipation brews for a lineup that mirrors the festival's commitment to diversity, echoing last year's eclectic mix of talents from Argentina, Afghanistan, Morocco, Zambia, and beyond. Amidst the glitz and glamour, the Marché du Film emerges as a vital nexus for industry professionals, offering a platform for networking, dealmaking, and creative exchange. With its finger firmly on the pulse of evolving industry dynamics, the Marché du Film embraces innovation and adaptation. Recognising the need to cater to the everchanging landscape of film-making, it champions emerging trends, technologies, and voices, fostering a conducive environment for the flourishing growth of the global film industry. As over 14,000 industry professionals converge in DIPLOMATIC TIES

Cannes annually to present and explore nearly 4,000 films and projects, the Marché du Film serves as a catalyst, urging professionals to elevate their business acumen and seize new opportunities.

Indeed, Cannes itself is a reflection of society's evolution, a microcosm of shifting cultural paradigms and technological advancements. Embracing the ethos of change, the Festival de Cannes introduces innovative elements to its programming, staying at the vanguard of storytelling in the digital age. One of the nominations for this year's Immersive Competition includes 'Maya: The Birth of a Superhero, an XR experience created by Poulomi Basu, an Indian artist and CJ Clarke. The announcement of eight projects as part of the Immersive Competition heralds a bold foray into uncharted territory, encompassing location-based virtual reality, mixed reality experiences, projection mapping, and holo-graphic works. Amid these shifts, India shines bright with the participation of Payal Kapadia, Sandhya Suri's "Santosh", FTII's "Sunflowers Were the First Ones to Know" and the screening of Shyam Benegal's "Manthan".

As the global cinematic landscape continues to evolve, Cannes remains steadfast in its mission to celebrate the myriad voices that enrich the tapestry of world cinema.

Evolution of monetary policymaking in India

With the changing nature of inflation and macroeconomic turbulence, remaining committed to inflation-targeting seems daunting he history of monetary policymaking in India dates back to the preindependence era, but it gained significant momentum and structure post-independence. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) was established in 1935, as a private shareholders' bank and was nationalized in 1949, giving the Government greater control over monetary policy and credit system. With the establishment of the Planning Commission in 1951, emphasis was laid on the direct and active role of Central banking. A breakthrough year was 1969 when 14 private sector banks were nationalized. It led to transforming monetary policy into 'credit planning and taking up a command approach (Khatkhate, 1990). Soon the economy suffered due to the two oil price shocks (1973-75 and 1979-81) leading to critical economic crises, which led to large-scale monetary expansion in the form of Government debt to support fiscal policy. It badly hit the inflation situation when it reached 23% in 1974-75.

became dismal when India had to borrow largely from the IMF and also faced a critical BOP situation. Hence, the revision of the monetary policy framework was the way ahead. This was done by appointment of a committee (which came to be known as the Chakravarty Committee (1985) chaired by Sukhmoy Chakravarty) to review the functioning of the monetary system by the then Governor of RBI, Dr Manmohan

The RBI Governor, C Rangarajan, introduced the Multiple Indicator Approach (MIA) in 1998, incorporating various macroeconomic factors like interest rates, inflation, exchange rates, others, into the monetary policy framework, moving away from the unreliable M3 target due to economic liberalisation's unpredictability. This provided monetary authorities the flexibility to cater to a broad forum of economic disruptions. The economy was coordinating well with the MIA till the Global Financial Crisis of 2008 dawned, and a highorder expansionary fiscal and monetary policy was floated to capture the receding economic growth. This jeopardised inflation management by the RBI with the inflation gliding into double digits in 2009-10. The RBI became hawkish and between March 2010 and October 2011, the repo rate was increased by 325 basis points. It started preparing for inflation as the primary goal of monetary policy. Finally, in May 2016, the RBI formally adopted inflation-targeting (IT), the target being a 4 per cent inflation rate, with a relaxation of 2 per cent on both sides, to banking stability, among counter investor uncertainty and business sentiments, anchors inflationary expectations, unfavourable exchange rates and balance of payments, besides supporting receding purchasing

The IT did not get a fair chance to prove itself due to economic disturbances like Demonetisation and the Pandemic, and the current geo-political unrest has led to supply-side inflationary pressures that are difficult to control with IT, which is more efficient against demand-side inflation.

With the changing nature of inflation from demand to the supply side, macroeconomic turbulence, and burgeoning uncertainties, remaining committed to IT seems daunting. The RBI needs to frame a comprehensive policy to make determined efforts to address and supplement IT with prudent actions to counter supplyside disruptions especially, affecting food prices.

Madam — Apropos the news article, "I have not lost touch with Chandni Chowk people: Aggarwal," published on May 6, this is my response. In a political landscape rife with rhetoric and rivalry, Jai Prakash Aggarwal emerges as a steadfast figure, deeply rooted in Chandni Chowk's tapestry. Despite electoral setbacks, his commitment to constituents remains resolute. Aggarwal's recent critique of Prime Minister Modi's language underscores a concern for decorum in public discourse, a sentiment often lost in the cacophony of contemporary politics

His indictment of the BJP's alleged misuse of investigative agencies reflects a broader apprehension about democratic norms and the rule of law. Beyond partisan skirmishes, Aggarwal's focus on local issues—traders' welfare, infrastructure, and healthcare—reveals a genuine concern for Chandni Chowk's residents. His vision for the area, encompassing tourism, urban renewal, and social welfare, speaks to a holistic approach to governance. Amidst shifting political alliances, Aggarwal's unwavering commitment to his constituency stands out as a beacon of stability. As he embarks on his eighth electoral campaign, his pledge to serve remains unyielding, a testament to the enduring spirit of public service.

OVERCOMING BONDAGE OF THINKING

God's grace frees us from anguish, guides us on the right path

AJIT KUMAR BISHNOI

This is a cruel fact. We are hopelessly tied down by our thinking, especially negative. What do you see on roads? Older folks are engrossed in thoughts. What happened? They realized that they were not so great after all. But the obstinate ego would not allow them to seek help where it is available. If a solution to a problem is to be found, it must be; this is their thinking. Sure, but how long would you meditate on it? There should be a time limit. No, that is why obsession is a very common problem.

Other ages are no better. The younger ones are guilty of lusty thoughts. With the advent of cell phones and the internet, age is no longer a bar. What a shame when one is supposed to be in the 'brahmacharya' (celibacy) stage. As one gets older, thoughts of earning the maximum amount of money capture the imagination. There is nothing wrong with it except our expectations should be based on reality. Otherwise, there will be a lot of pain. What is common to all ages is fear of different kinds. This is a real problem, which causes all kinds of mental diseases. This particular problem requires help at the highest level, that is from God, but will we turn to Him? Also common to all ages are hate, anger, enmity, etc. There is hardly any chance of relief when we think that we are the centre of the universe, even though there are eight billion of us. If that were true, there would be eight billion centres of the universe. See, how silly such thinking is. This is what is the basis of our thought process. The frog mentality of thinking one's limited knowledge is everything leads many to dismiss spiritual practices as simplistic, when in fact they are meant to be easily accessible to all.

Let us get to the bottom of this all-pervasive problem. What is this mind? It is a faculty given to us for thinking, willing and feeling. It is subtle, i.e. far more strong than the gross body. The mind affects the body, as we all have experienced. When we are disturbed, our bodies get affected; their working is disturbed. Why has God given us a faculty, which can hurt us so much? He had to to give us free will, which can bring bliss, as indicated by Lord Krishna, 'A person, having consciousness, unattached to external sense objects, enjoys that happiness within, which is extraordinary. He who, with consciousness united to Brahman, finds eternal joy. God's kindness lies in our return to Him, part of the Cosmic Design, where independence is limited, and control rests with God.

So we must turn to God to control our uncontrolled and negative thinking. Lord Krishna States, "Undoubtedly the mind is very difficult to control due to its fickle nature, but it can be brought under control by practice and by detachment from inappropriate sense objects." (6.35) This practice has to be with help from God. Otherwise, there will be partial success only. As we age, our focus shifts towards God, as our physical pleasures diminish, highlighting the purpose of the "Ashram" system for spiritual growth in later years. Therefore, God has made provisions for unlimited mental enjoyment. But we have to seek shelter from God for that. We should not be turning to drinks, etc. for compensation to get over our woes, because they send us deeper into more suffering. Fear is a defence mechanism but only in the limited sense. It should alert us to take curative action. But if it overtakes our thinking, fear becomes a serious problem, as all mental diseases point to. The conclusion is: that we must turn to God with determination sooner than later. Then God will not only free us from the bondage of painful thinking but will also help us in all matters with His guidance and help.

This is the way the System has been designed. (The writer is a spiritual guide; views are personal)

Elected leaders need to rethink

It is time that elected representatives live up to the expectations of their electors as responsible, honest and devoted community leaders hese are election times and each one of us is a part of the process. These are also times of model code of conduct in the shape of guidelines for political parties and candidates. There are restrictions imposed by the election commission on the maximum expenditure a candidate could incur. Everyone knows what happens to it! In general, people are no more worried about spiralling high expenses that the spread of elections imposes on the candidate and State exchequer.

The spread of elections leads to avoidable wastage of manpower and other resources required to conduct and complete the process. The worst sufferers are the schoolchildren, as teachers are the most easily available manpower for elections at every stage! Once elected, no one is willing to pave the way for the generation next! Election times also reveal the behavioural decline amongst those who had tasted the fruits of power earlier but were dethroned by the people.

Their frustrations even bring forth utterances that may be blatantly unsocial, personal and not acceptable in a civil society. The elders have created conditions that demand innovative action by the young 'millennials' who must realize how their elders have decimated the basic principles of democracy by taking recourse to caste combinations, igniting regional and linguistic sentiments, and creating communal antagonism at the cost of deteriorating social cohesion! Independent India began its new journey at around 18% of literacy, today its boosts to nearly 80% of it despite the population increase of over 100 crores. We are a learning society. Our international standing is at its best after independence. One wonders why the language used by politicians against each other should become so coarse and uncivil. It could put to shame any decent educated person.

Respect for the learned, committed and experienced is one of the most liked of the treasures of our heritage which unfortunately stands torn to tatters. India shall never be in a position to ignore the presence of great luminaries of contemporary times like Gandhi, Patel, Subhash Bose, Nehru, Rajendra Prasad and others. How could anyone who wishes to understand India do so without getting familiar with Swami Vivekananda, Ramkrishna Paramhans, Tagore or Sri Aurobindo? Hope lies only in those who were in sold or couple of years ago, and were mesmerized by a saint-scientist; the indomitable APJ Abdul Kalam. I had personally witnessed on numerous occasions how children of India fell in love with him. It was not because of his position or the Pokhran II, it was because of the love his persona emanated for every child, every Indian! India stands blessed with numerous such luminaries who could make ELECTED a change in the area around their place. One wishes political aspirants learn from APJ, and other luminaries how to deal with people! APJ Abdul Kalam was one of the most admired and loved celebrities during the millennial transition to the 21st century. He was a professional leader who led by example, through heart-toheart connections with one and all. His dedication and devotion to the national cause were of the highest order. He inspired, he motivated and he achieved his target with gusto. He could win over every Indian irrespective of their socio-economic station in life, his profession or his ideological leanings. APJ endeared himself particularly to the children of India in whom he could see the emerging India, the future Inda! He ignited the curiosity and creativity of millions of children. He gave them 'wings of fire. He entered the Rashtarpati Bhavan with two bags and left with the same after five years. India needs people with such personalities right from the panchayat level to the Parliament with whom every individual could feel connected, who may be acknowledged as 'approachable'.

All this, and much more; reverberates in one's mind as various inputs concerning the general elections float before everyone. Each one of us who has voted over a dozen times in general elections would love to talk about the drastic change that has occurred in the quality of leadership on a larger scale, the deterioration in mutual respect and regard amongst those in public life, in power or

We are witness to the usage of a language for the opponents that would have shamed everyone some five decades ago. Today, no one seems to be worried about it. The only encouraging sign is that all this is being noted by the voters, and they are despising it. In the long run, one could say with confidence that it would not work in favour of the truants. Sadly enough, the defects of elections about whom Gandhi had written as early as 1922, have reached every stage of elections, including even those of panchayat Raj bod-One must not give up hope. And there is always hope for the better after having reached the bottom. Articulating the normal expectations from the elected representatives, APJ Abdul Kalam was giving voice to every sane Indian: "It has become crucial for us to be clear about what we can rightly expect from our leaders, from panchayat members to local councillors of a municipal corporation to members of parliament." In other words, there has to be ownership. Whether it is the panchayat member, development officer, councillor, MLA MP or minister, they have to at least try to be the best of their ability to do what they are elected to do. We need a Parliament with a vision, one that has the larger picture in mind and can rise above petty party politics.

How would such a parliament perform? What are how it can play a far more constructive role than it has in the last Lok Sabha?" would also expect that the Hon'ble members of the next Lok Sabha shall firmly and sincerely resolve not to present before the nation any spectacles that disturb the functioning of the August House, and present a poor example before the young of India. What was happening till now, was a matter of serious concern for the last couple of decades. It was precisely articulated with great concern by the veteran politician C. Subramaniam: "The indiscipline that marks the proceedings of parliament and legislatures is a matter of great concern. Not only pandemonium is created obstructing the proceedings of the legislatures but also acts of violence among the members inside the legislatures are becoming common and an almost everyday occurrence. Nobody is prepared to observe the rules of the game. Then how can we expect the masses of the people to observe discipline and respect the laws and regulations?"

It is time that future MPs and other elected representatives live up to the expectations of their electors as responsible, honest and devoted community leaders. They have to be a source of inspiration to generations ahead. Let them resolve not to let even a minute of parliament's time be wasted! It would be a great gift to the nation!

Benevolent hearts: Dynamics of begging and household donations

PARLIAMENT"

Despite legal prohibitions in many States, begging persists with beggars being one of the highest recipients of household donations

Begging is a ubiquitous phenomenon in India and is hidden in plain sight. Perceptions of 'persons engaged in Beggary' may vary but it is also evident that many households donate to them. 'Persons engaged in Beggary' are largely missing from the discussions on public policy in the country. A recent study by the Centre of Social Impact and Philanthropy (CSIP) at Ashoka University showed that 'persons engaged in Beggary' are one of the highest recipients of household donations, ranking only after 'religious organisations'. This leads us to question, what are the motivations that lead households in such a large proportion to donate to 'persons engaged in Beggary'. Who are stances. The pros and cons of 'beggars' with respect to gender, geography and age? And in what 'form' donations are received by the 'persons engaged in Beggary's Even though begging is not a crime it is legally prohibited in more than twenty States and Union Territories and can invite punishment for one year to 10 years and even beyond under special circum-

The study by CSIP showed a 14% increase in total 'cash' donations by Indian households from INR 23.7 thousand crores in 2020-21 to INR 27 thousand crores in 2021-22 of which 'persons engaged in Beggary' are one of the preferred recipients of household giving among 'religious organisations, 'non-religious organisations, 'family and friends,' 'household staff', and 'supporting a cause or signing a petition. They are the second nighest recipient of household donations both in terms of overall market size and the proportion of households who made donations to them among other recipient groups in the study. The report further notes that the market size and the biggest donation-makers to the existing laws are another the average cash payments to the 'persons engaged in donations received by other Beggary' have increased from 2020-21 to 2021-22.

While 'persons engaged in Beggary' are one of the preferred recipients, households do not trust them with their money but with materials. Despite a high proportion of households who donated to 'persons engaged in beggary' they received the lowest value of 'cash' donations from households (under INR 100). While 'persons engaged in Beggary' were least preferred for 'cash' donations as compared to other recipient groups in the study, a clear preference to donate 'in-kind' was noted for this recipient group. More than half of those donating to 'persons engaged in Beggary' donated 'in-kind' which is starkly different from 'in-kind' recipient groups.

Households are mostly driven by their intrinsic motivations when giving to the 'persons engaged in Beggary'. 'Religious beliefs' are one of the top motivators. It guided 55% of households that gave to the 'persons engaged in Beggary'. Religious beliefs can be understood as 'helping others is a way to serve God', and 'good karma/ Almighty rewards good deeds'.

Furthermore, 'family traditions' play an important role in motivating households to give to the 'persons engaged in Beggary'. They are also affected by the visible hardship due to poverty and are driven to donate in order to support someone in financial distress. Rendering 'seva' or service also emerged as a significant rural areas and from lower motivation for giving to 'persons engaged in Beggary'.

Households also find it easier to give in smaller amounts in 'cash', which leads many households to offer some money to 'persons engaged in Beggary'. About 60% proportion of households responded to have donated to them. The study also found that donations made to 'persons engaged in Beggary' were in the range of smaller amounts 'under INR

It was intriguing to find that the givers who are more empathetic to the 'persons engaged in Beggary' are the people who have a 'vulnerable' position in society and are mainly dependent on others for social and economic security. Older women and households from socio-economic categories are primary givers to 'persons engaged in Beggary'.

More households from rural India donate to 'persons engaged in Beggary' than households from large towns. In fact, the proportion of households making offerings to 'persons engaged in Beggary' in rural India was higher than the national average of the proportion of households who gave to 'persons engaged in Beggary'. Similarly, 'giving' by lower socioeconomic category (SEC D/E) to 'persons engaged in Beggary' was higher than the national average. While about 53% of households from higher and middle socio-economic categories (SEC A, SEC B and SECC) contributed, more than 65% of households contributed towards 'persons engaged in Beggary' from the lower socioeconomic groups (SEC D/E). In terms of gender and age, older women between the ages of 46 to 60 years are the biggest and primary donation-makers to the 'persons engaged in Beggary Beggary in many forms has been in existence for ages. Due to the hardships faced, persons engaged in Beggary usually suffer from negativity, hopelessness, low self-esteem and stigma. In India, 'people engaged in Beggary' are often seen outside religious places.

EO data can generate $3 tn in economic benefits: WEF

PNS NFW DFI HI

Earth observation data can generate over US$ 3 trillion in economic benefits globally and help eliminate two gigatonnes of greenhouse gas emissions annually by 2030, according to a new report by the World Economic Forum.

Earth observation data refers to the collection, analysis, and presentation of information about the Earth's physical, chemical, and biological systems using remote sensing technologies.

The report, created in partnership with Deloitte and endorsed by industry and climate leaders, emphasised that EO data is a crucial tool for economic growth and sustainability. While certain sectors like agriculture, energy, and finance are expected to benefit the most from EO data, nearly all industries can gain insights to improve operations and reduce environmental impact. For example, farmers can use EO data to enhance crop yield and sustainability practices, while insurance companies can better understand and mitigate environmental risks.

The report predicted that the global value of EO data could grow from US$ 266 billion at present to over US$ 700 billion by 2030. This could lead to a cumulative US$ 3.8 trillion contribution to global GDP and help eliminate 2 gigatonnes of greenhouse gas emissions annually – equivalent to the estimated combined annuemissions of 476 million gasoline-powered cars. The Asia Pacific region is poised to capture the largest share of EO's value by 2030, reaching a potential value of US$ 315 billion, while Africa and South America are positioned to realise the largest percentage growth.

However, challenges such as limited awareness, talent shortage, and fragmented standards hinder the widespread adoption of EO data. To fully realise its potential, collaborative efforts and informed policies are needed to stimulate demand, advance technology, and establish key standards, the report said.

"Earth observation is a vital component of the Fourth Industrial Revolution," said Jeremy Jurgens, Managing Director and Head of the Centre for the Fourth Industrial Revolution at the World Economic Forum.

The draft QCO mandates that the organisations shall not publish reviews that have been purchased and written by individuals employed for writing review by itself or the supplier, seller, or by a third party.

The consumer affairs ministry has proposed that all organisations managing and publishing online consumer reviews shall conform to the essential requirements, including bar on publishing fake reviews and register themselves 'Review Administrator' with BIS declaring self-compliance to the essential requirements prescribed in this order.

The proposed QCO bars platforms from rewarding consumers based on the content, edit reviews, prevent publishing of negative reviews and accept ing reviews from individuals who have not used or experienced the good or service.

Sebi rejects NSE's proposal to extend trading hours

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Capital markets regulator Sebi has rejected a proposal by the National Stock Exchange (NSE) to extend the trading hours in the equity derivatives segment citing a lack of feedback from the stock brokers community.

"Currently, there is no plan to extend the timings as Sebi has returned our application as given the feedback that Sebi wanted. So, as of now, the extended time frame (plan) is shelved," NSE MD and CEO Ashishkumar Chauhan said in a post-earnings analysts call.

This came after the NSE had urged Sebi to extend trading hours in the equity derivatives segment in a phased manner. This was aimed at potentially arising from global information flow. Sriram Krishnan, Chief Business Development Officer of NSE, had told PTI in September that the bourse was planning a session from 6 pm to 9 pm after a break from the closure of the regular session from 9.15 am to 3.30 pm. Based on the response, a gradual extension of the market timing till 11.55 pm was proposed on the lines of commodity derivatives. To begin with, only index derivatives in phase 1 were proposed to be available fol-lowed by single stock options and others. In 2018, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) their trading hours in the equity derivatives segment between 9 am and 11.50 pm. This was similar to the trading hours for the commodity derivatives segment, which are currently fixed between 10 am and 11.55 pm.

'Robust govt capex, improvement in biz confidence to push growth'

PNS NEW DELHI

Robust capital expenditure by the government and improvement in business confidence will push the country's economic growth in 2024-25, an official said on Tuesday.

Chief Economic Adviser in the Ministry of Rural Development Kuntal Sensarma said that the focus areas in 2024-25 should be infrastructure growth, inclusive development and harnessing demographic dividend, among others.

"The major reasons cited for India's growth prospects in FY25 include robust public investment/ capex push by the government, sustained growth in business and consumer confidence, and strong services sector, among others," industry body PHDCCI said in a statement quoting Sensarma.

He was speaking at the chamber's conference on 'Economy: Inflation, Investments, Interest Rates and Inclusive Growth (EIIII) Perspective for FY 2024-25' here.

Speaking at the event, Sakshi Gupta, Principal Economist at HDFC Bank, said that despite the challenges of the global economy, India is consistently performing well and inflation is under the target band set by the monetary policy committee.

She estimated that going forward the Indian economy will grow at the rate of 8 per cent.

Significant divide in India's consumption; K-shaped trend continues: Report

PNS MUMBAI

A Swiss brokerage on Tuesday said there is a "significant divide" in India's consumption story and that the Kshaped trend is likely to continue in the near-future.

"India's consumption story reflects a significant divide, driven by a resilient economy but characterised by a stark contrast in spending patterns," UBS India economist Tanvee Gupta Jain said in a note.

.the divergence between affluent and broad-based household demand persists, accentuated by factors such as income inequality, increased consumer credit access, and declining household savings,' she added. The brokerage anticipates household consumption growth in FY25 to "remain subdued" at 4-5 per cent, which rate of 7.2 per cent. is below the trend observed in previous years. It can be noted that after the pandemic, concerns have been raised about a K-shaped growth representative of deepening inequalities in the country. Some economists have gone public with their disapproval and called the pandemic as a 'leveller' for reducing inequalities as well.

The UBS report said India's household consumption nearly doubled in the past decade to US$ 2.1 trillion in 2023, with an annual compound growth However, household consumption growth remained muted in the last two years, it said, adding that it is the affluent segment that witnessed a significant increase in demand. The brokerage said the consumption growth recovery is "uneven", and pointed out that there has been faster growth in premium car sales, residential units of over Rs 1 crore, smartphones costing over US$ 300, or Rs 25,000, while entry-level and mass market goods have seen muted growth post-pan-

DJ Kayan's 'FIERCENESS' embodying through her music

mbika Nayak, popularly known as Kayan, is an Indian musician, vocalist, and DJ. Her stage name, Kayan, is a playful reversal of her surname, 'Nayak''. She is also a member of the group Kimochi Youkai and the electronic duo Nothing Anonymous, alongside Nirmit Shah. Nayak's musical roots run deep, with her family boasting a legacy of Hindustani classical vocalists and Kathak dancers, providing her with ample exposure and training.

As the saying goes, there are no shortcuts to success; Kayan's musical journey is certainly a shred of cal journey is certainly a shred of evidence of that. She has carved her own unique path, encountering challenges along the way. She begins, "My musical journey has been an exhilarating exploration of new sounds, melodies, and emotions fuelling my evolution as an tions, fuelling my evolution as an artist and inspiring stories that deeply connect with my audience." Music provides peace and rhythm to everyday life, and each individual finds their own reasons to be captivated by music. "Music has been an integral part of my life from early childhood," shares the artist as she goes on to add, "Serving as my sanctuary, it's where I find solace, express myself authentically, and forge profound connections with others. My decision to enroll in the True School of Music approximately eight years ago was driven by this passion! Surrounded by kindred spirits who shared my aspirations to create and perform music, I embarked on a transformative musical journey that continues to shape me today."

Undeniably, inspiration surrounds us, and Kayan draws her inspiration from a diverse array of sources, including musicians, fashion designers, artists, and the individuals in her life. "Immersing myself in music allows me to explore different sounds and discover what resonates with me, although my musical style is always evolving. Currently, some of my inspirations include Jorja Smith, Kaytranada, and Avril Lavigne."

Kaytranada, and Avril Lavigne."
She believes that emerging music platforms like VH1, Spotify, Apple Music, and others have played a pivotal role in shaping the trajectory of independent musicians, including herself. "These platforms offer an equal opportunity forms offer an equal opportunity for artists to present their work to a broad audience, transcending geographical limitations and facilitating direct interaction with force geographical limitations and factifiating direct interaction with fans across the globe. This accessibility and visibility have revolutionised the landscape for independent artists, serving as a game-changer interest of reaching wider audiin terms of reaching wider audiences and fostering engagement."

She enjoys being on her own as more of a homebody or prefers to be out and about, we ask her, and she says, "I find myself embodying a blend of both worlds. Some days, I cherish tranquility and introspection, using it as a canvas for creative expression and personal development. Yet, on other days, I thrive on the vibrancy of social connections and the excitement of new experiences. It's about striking a harmonious balance that nurtures both my artistic soul and my interactions with others." Music serves as a rhythmic vehicle for conveying stories and emotions in a soul-stirring manner. At times, it becomes the sole medium capable of articulating the depth of one's feelings. She further shares, "My music is deeply rooted in my incomes at a state of the state of the shares of the state of the shares journey, stemming from my experiences, emotions, observations, and inspirations. Each song serves as a mirror to moments, relationships, and thoughts that have influenced my path, translated into melodies and lyrics that strike a chool with myself and chord with myself and my audience."

In recent years, the music landscape in our country has experienced a remarkable phenomenon: a surge of immensely talented a surge of immensely talented female musicians! Their emergence reflects a dynamic and vibrant scene spanning across diverse genres. She says, "The music scene in our country is witnessing a surge of talented female musicians, reflecting the vibrant and dynamic landscape across varand dynamic landscape across various genres. It's truly inspiring to witness women breaking barriers, defying norms, and leaving their mark on the industry. With an abundance of creativity and passion, female artists are making significant contributions, underscoring the importance of supporting and elevating their voices to nurture a more inclusive and diverse musical community."

Incorporating bold song titles serves as a method of expressing inner stories and sentiments, encapsulating the essence of each track with impactful clarity. She track with impactful clarity. She says, "For me, music is more than just a form of expression; it's a mirror reflecting my inner fire, thoughts, and emotions. Each song I create embodies my fierceness and captures the essence of my journey. Often, the titles of my tracks emerge from moments of inspiration, where a single phrase or concept encapsulates the hold or concept encapsulates the bold and impactful message I aim to convey.

For many artists, fashion is not merely about clothing; it's a dynamic form of self-expression woven deeply into their identity. Within the realm of creativity, every garment becomes a brushstroke on the canvas of their persona. Ambika, who was recently a part of a fashion show as well, shares, "Fashion serves as a canvas for my creative expression, intricately woven into the fabric of my identity as an artist. Before each performance, I meticulously curate a style board, a visual testament to my creative vision and personal flair. Embracing individuality is paramount to me, as I revel in the freedom to experiment with diverse styles. For me, fashion is more than just adornment; it's a powerful medium through which I convey confidence and authenticity to the world." The year ahead holds a wealth of opportunities and endeavours for her. With music at the forefront of her priorities, she is committed to channelling her energy into the creation process and bringing forth an album for the audience to experience. On a concluding note, she says, "There's a lot on the agenda for me this year. My primary focus is channelling my energy into music creation and releasing an album. I have upcoming songwriting sessions and collaborations in the pipeline, along with a lineup of exciting shows throughout the year." A true-blue breakout star,

'I harboured worries about whether or not diences would notice any slips in my accent'

SHIKHA DUGGAL atna Shuklla, a courtroom drama, does not have the comedic allure of Jolly LLB, where laughter erupts at the humour in legal professional banter. However, the Anushka Kaushik-led movie takes a more controlled approach, with a much more serious undertone, creating an effective narrative that captivated viewers.

In our exclusive interview, the co-lead exhibits all the in-depth details and how!

Anushka begins by expressing, "Throughout the series, I have not accomplished anything overly remarkable. However, I am delighted to have obtained massive attention and understanding for my character's development. I accept as true that this cognizance has come at the best second for me. This success is now mine, untouchable by any political impact or power. It has caught me off guard, and I am now enthusiastic to push myself even similarly in future roles."

Although the story had its flaws and started out to wander off the at times, it is Anushka's honest and compelling overall performance that lifted the plot and held our attention. Similarly, the Crash Course fame remarks, "While discussing with my director, I had several questions swirling in my head. Referencing information articles proved priceless in gaining a perception of my character's perspective. I delved past simply the examination scam, conducting an enormous non-public lookup on a range of asso-ciated subjects to enhance my personal understanding. I was once that interested! At the end of the day, I was solely feeling horrific about how many humans have been the victims, and no one empathised with them. I named the scamsters 'vultures'. I could not have fought a hostility like this in opposition to these vultures."

Portraying a Bhojpuri accent, she says, introduced a considerable venture for her. She further shares, "Emotionally severe scenes posed a specific concern as I naturally revert to my mother tongue all through such moments, complicating my capability to express thoughts authentically. Following the film's release, I harboured worries about whether or not audiences would notice any slips in my accent; however, to my delight, many approached me with compliments on my good portrayal. While I was once going through the reviews, this part actually stood out for me. I'd like to take a bow to the critics who appreciated me throughout."

The movie's plot surrounds around Tanvi Shukla (played by Raveena Tandon), a lawyer in Patna's lower court, who has her happy family life turned upside down when she decides to fight the case of Rinki Kumari (played by Anushka Kaushik) and sets out to expose a big scam in the education system involving youth icon Raghubir Singh (played by Jatin Goswami).

Actress Anushka Kaushik, who is currently enjoying the love she's received for her recent project Patna Shuklla, speaks to The Pioneer over an exclusive chat sharing some interesting in-depth insights working on the project, experience working with Raveena Tandon, and more.

"Raveena Tandon generously shared her technical insights with me without any hesitation," shares the Lust Stories 2 actress on her experience working with the OG Raveena Tandon. "She was once deeply engaged in supporting me as I held close to the nuances of working with the camera, which left me amazed. Moreover, she emphasised the significance of retaining a whole-some work-life balance and no longer letting my expert commitments overshadow my private life. I was once especially touched when she prompted me to prioritise spending time with my parents. This recommendation resonated with me so profoundly that I now make it a point to call my mother and father all through each and every break. Thank you, Raveena."

Then comes a revelation— "In the early ranges of my career, I rejected several scripts." However, with the upward shove of OTT platforms, she says she is now extra open to distinctive opportunities. "Eventually, I envision a time when I will prioritise ardour over pay and take on fewer projects. This is a transition that all actors experience. I have acquired heartfelt paragraphs in reviews that definitely resonate with me, as well as remarks asking for more of my presence on screen, which is pleasing as an actress. It suggests that viewers are related to my character's plight. More the merrier types."

Being on set except for make-up was a first for the Maharani fame. Growing up, she shares, "I usually admired glamorous roles. However, this film shifted my view. It taught me that you can captivate audiences even with heavy makeup. The true depth lies in the narrative, not our appearance. The movie centered on women's empowerment, which made it simply special."

Meanwhile, on the work front, she has a film by Maddock films, followed by a show produced by Reliance Entertainment, a music video, and then a few short films that have been getting selected and rewarded at various film festivals. So, a lot of good things are on the way!

HEADACHES IN CHILDREN: Common or cause of concern?

Picture this: a topic usually associated with grownups, headaches. We've all been there, right? The pounding, the pressure, the downright annoyance. But here's something that might surprise you:
headaches aren't just for adults. It might seem unexheadaches a pected, but headaches in children are more prevalent of sleep can trigger tension headaches in children.

There is no hard and fast rule about when headaches might make their appearance.

So, what exactly qualifies as old enough for a child to start experiencing those awful head pains? The answer is not all too clear. In truth, virtually every person could begin to experience headaches but an infant has no clue or way to tell an adult what is going on. Toddlers and kids alike have these headaches, but they can't exactly express to us what is happening. As a person and child ages and grows the child will begin to realize they are in a lot of discomfort. Children really start to complain of different types of body pain (all of which are childhood headaches) around the age

Is it indicative of underlying illness?

Headaches in kids are not always an indication of something serious. Sure, some children might get headaches because of underlying illnesses, but plenty of others experience them for totally normal reasons. Headaches in children can come from all sorts of things. Maybe they didn't drink enough water, or they've been staring at screens too long stress from school, lack of sleep, or even skipping meals can also trigger a headache in a little one.

However, it's essential to pay attention to the location, severity, and accompanying symptoms of headaches in children, especially if they seem unusual or persist over time. Noticing these patterns can help get timely medical attention if it is something severe.

Certain dietary factors can also surprisingly contribute to headaches in children. These include consuming foods or beverages with caffeine, excessive sweets such as chocolate or cola, which can trigger headaches, particularly when consumed in large amounts. Artificial additives like MSG or nitrates found in processed foods may also be potential triggers. For children with food sensitivities or allergies, allergens like dairy, gluten, nuts, or certain additives can provoke headaches. Additionally, irregular eat-ing patterns, dehydration due to inadequate fluid intake, and tyramine-rich foods such as aged cheeses or processed meats can contribute to headaches. Monitoring your child's dietary habits and keeping a food diary may help identify potential triggers.

When it comes to headaches caused by underlying illnesses in children, there are a few key symptoms to watch out

• Migraines: These can cause intense throbbing or pulsating pain, usually on one side of the head. Children experiencing migraines might also have sensitivity to light and sound, nausea, and vomiting. They might describe seeing flashing lights or experienc-ing visual disturbances, known as aura, before the headache sets in.

- Sinus headaches: When the sinuses become inflamed or infected, it can lead to a sinus headache. Children with sinus headaches often experience pain and pressure in their forehead, cheeks, or the bridge of their nose. They might also have a stuffy or runny nose, cough, facial tenderness, and fever.
- Cluster headaches: These are less common in children but can still occur. Cluster headaches cause excruciating pain, usually around one eye or temple, often described as sharp or piercing. Children might also experience redness or watering of the eye on the affected side, stuffy or runny nose, and agitation or restlessness.
- Brain tumours or intracranial pressure: In rare cases, headaches in children can be a sign of a more serious condition like a brain tumour or increased pressure inside the skull. Headaches caused by these conditions might be severe and persistent, often accompanied by vomiting, changes in vision, balance problems, weakness, or seizures. The location of the pain can vary depending on the location of the tumor or pressure, but it might be generalised or focused in one

Finding the balance between when to rush to the emergency room and when to treat headaches at home in children is essential. The general rule is this: mild headaches that respond to rest, hydration, or an overthe-counter pain reliever after a few hours can be managed at home. However, if the headache lasts >24-48 hours or if your child's headache is unusual or severe, there are symptoms like vomiting, increased sleepiness, and confusion, changes in vision, or weakness in muscles, or upper or lower limbs or problems walking, then you should not hesitate to rush to the emergency to check, especially if these symptoms are accompanied by a headache.

In general, if your child often has headaches, more severe headaches, or if headaches follow unusual patterns, talk to your paediatrician about these symptoms and ask whether an evaluation or testing for headaches could be helpful. In the meantime, at home, after a headache, you can make sure that your child rests in a dimly lit environment, that they are well-hydrated, that they use cool compresses for 2-3 minutes, and that they have a massage of tense muscles and, if of appropriate age, over-the-counter pain relief for their weight and age. Every child is different, and what works for one may sometimes not work for another. If you're ever unsure or concerned about your child's headaches, always best to get a medical opinion.

SELVARAJ TALKS ABOUT BISON KAALAMAADAN

In a recent interview, acclaimed filmmaker Mari Selvaraj provided insights into his highly anticipated project, Bison Kaalamaadan, which recently commenced its first schedule shoot spanning 60 days. While the film revolves around the sport of Kabaddi, Selvaraj clarified that it is a work of fiction rather than a biography, promising audiences a fresh and compelling narrative.

Speaking about the creative direction of the film, Selvaraj highlighted the importance of a distinctive musical score to complement the script's unique vision. In light of recent controversies, Selvaraj opted for composer Niwas to helm the music, ensuring a seamless integration of sound and storytelling. The film's tagline, "Kalamadan," holds thematic significance, according to Selvaraj, hinting at deeper layers of meaning that will unfold as audiences delve into the cinematic experience. The decision to shoot the first schedule in Tirunelveli underscores the film's commitment to authenticity, with plans for the next phase of filming to take place in Chennai. An exciting addition to the cast is Anupama Parameswaran, who will portray the female lead, adding depth and complexity to the ensemble. Selvaraj expressed confidence in Parameswaran's ability to bring the character to life, citing her talent and dedication as valuable assets to the project.

As production progresses, Bison Kaalamaadan promises to deliver a thought-provoking and immersive cinematic experience, blending elements of sports drama with social commentary. With Selvaraj at the helm and a talented cast and crew, anticipation is high for this upcoming film that is poised to captivate audiences with its unique storytelling and thematic richness.

Cinematographer Bharani dons director's hat promising new venture is on the horizon as acclaimed cinematographer Bharani K Dharan steps into the director's chair for the first time with the upcoming film, Sivangi. With an ensemble cast featuring Anandi, Varalakshmi Sarathkumar, and John Vijay in leading roles, this project promises a captivating narrative that blends family values with the intrigue of a domestic crime thriller.

Produced by Naresh Babu P under the esteemed banner of First Copy Movies, Sivangi is set to deliver an enthralling cinematic experi-through unexpected twists and turns, it remains grounded in its exploration of family dynamics and moral complexities."

Central to the film's narrative is a focus on female empowerment and the strength of familial bonds, ensuring that Sivangi strikes a chord with audiences on multiple levels. With renowned composer AH. Kasif collaborating with Ebenezer Paul to craft the film's musical score, and director Bharani himself assuming the dual role of director and cinematographer, Sivangi promises a seamless blend of visual and auditory excellence.

Music director Sai Karthic turns producer for 100 Crores

There is special attention given to films based on real incidents. Meanwhile, a movie called 100 Crores, which is inspired by real events in 2016, is getting ready to enthrall the audience. Popular music director Sai Karthic is venturing into production, with the movie being made entertainingly. Alongside Sai Karthic, Divija Karthik is producing the movie under the banner of SS Studios. The film is written and directed by Virat Chakravarthy. Kalyan Chakravarthi. G is the co-producer of this movie, while Venkat Sudhakar is the executive producer.

Rahul, Chetan, Yami, Sakshi Chaudhary, Lahari, Annapoornamma, Aishwarya, Bhadram, Inturi Vasu, and Sameer played key roles in this film. Freshly, the first look poster for this film was released at an event organised on Monday. Directors Veera Shankar, Mallik Ram, producer Harshith Reddy, and producer Damodara Prasad attended it as chief guests and also released the first look poster. Later, they extended their best wishes to the entire team.

The grey theme, the grand set-up, and the heavy truck in the first look poster generate a different atmosphere altogether. While the title 100 Crores alone created curiosity, the first look poster further increased the excitement.

Sai Karthic said, "It's based on a true story that happened in 2016. We locked the script, after the Corona phase. This movie has come out well. Everyone who saw it appreciated the content. I am confident that this movie will be a big success."

Meanwhile, director Mallik Ram said, "I like Sai Karthic a lot. Even if you call him in the middle of the night, he has no hesitation to give tunes. He encourages new talent. This is Chetan's first film in Telugu. Telugu audiences should encourage this film's unit. I hope it will turn out to be a big hit."

The film has music by Sai Karthic himself. Charan Madhavaneni is the cinematographer. Editing is by SB Uddhav, and Wing Chun Anji is the fight master.

INCONSISTENT SRH TAKE ON LSG IN PUSH FOR PLAYOFFS SPOT

PTI ■ HYDERABAD

Sunrisers Hyderabad will be eager to move on from their underwhelming batting display when they host Lucknow Super Giants in a crucial Indian Premier League match here on Wednesday. Both teams are locked in at 12 points from 11 games with SRH making the top four cut based on a slightly superior net run rate of -0.065 compared to LSG's -0.371.

The Sunrisers find themselves in a fierce competition for the top four spot with Kolkata Knight Riders (16), Rajasthan Royals (16) and Chennai Super Kings (12) stationed above them on the points table.

The winner of the duel will take a leap in the playoff race. The Pat Cummins-led side has ample talent but has been unable to hold on to a winning run recently. Sunrisers have lost three of their last four matches, mainly because their destructive batting line-up hasn't delivered.

In their last match against Mumbai Indians, which they lost by seven wickets, they failed to put up a good target on the board, which has been breached the 30-run mark just once in the last four games. And while SRH head coach Daniel Vettori has conceded that the openers are not expected to do the job all the time, the middle order needs to

The flamboyant Heinrich Klaasen has also been unable to strike the ball consistently and Nitish Reddy too has been patchy. The bowlers have fared better compared to their batting counterparts. Natarajan has been consistent with the ball while seasoned seamer Bhuvneshwar Kumar also seems to have found his mojo after his incisive spell helped SRH eke out a one-run win against RR. LSG, on the other hand, have to get over their overall lacklustre display against Kolkata Knight Riders, when they not only conceded the first-ever 200 plus score at the Ekana Stadium but also folded their innings at 137.

It was a day when skipper KL Rahul failed to anchor the innings while the likes of Marcus Stoinis and Nicholas Pooran were unable to get the big shots when needed. Ayush Badoni has had a subdued run in this IPL and the uncapped Indian player would be keen to shrug off the rustiness. LSG's struggles with the ball have been majorly due to the lack of firepower in their pacebowling department.

function at this point in time. But let's see what happens. We are all here to play an entire IPL. Sometimes when we think too far ahead of different things, thinking about World Cups, all these things could affect performances even from before the team was selected. For us and in our camp, the most important thing is finishing off the IPL and let's see what happens after that. When he leaves the IPL and he goes into the Indian team, I think that's where that MI's last IPL game is against Lucknow Super Giants at home on May 17. The T20 World Cup, to be co-hosted by USA and the West Indies, will begin on June 1.

No plans to rest Bumrah yet:

MI batting coach Pollard

Pollard said as a batting coach the most difficult aspect of coaching an all-round batter like Suryakumar is to curb his attacking instinct.

"He's one, who, by nature, instinctively, is very aggressive. He wants to take the bowler's on more often than not. At times it's just a matter of understanding the situation and respecting the new ball when it's moving around," Pollard said.

"If the conditions are not suitable for a certain amount of shot making, having that discipline in order to be there for a period of time and they'll get into your work.

I think that would be the hardest thing - to try to curb the attacking instinct. But it's not something you want to curb too much and get them in a defensive frame of mind because of the direction the sport is heading now in terms of the amount of runs being scored."

SRH'S ASSISTANT COACH HELMOT DOFFS HIS HAT TO SURYAKUMAR: SRH's assistant coach Simon Helmot said Suryakumar played an exceptional innings to take the game away from his side and the world No 1 T20I batter will have a lot of influence in the T20 World Cup.

"On some days you just have to take your hat off and say well played and well played to him. He's an exceptional cricketer and he's always going to demand a spot in the Indian team and I'm sure he'll have an influence in the World Cup," he said.

"It's very difficult (to bowl at Survakumar) and you guys have seen him close up for many years as I have. He's a very difficult batsman to match up with when he's in that sort of frame of mind, that sort of mood."

Helmot said the conditions assisted swing bowling with the new ball in both the innings which forced the batters to adjust their game.

"Travis (Head) has been one of our best players this season at the top of the order. But even he found it difficult at times to time the ball out in the middle on this particular track and that will happen at different times during the season," he said.

Helmot said not losing their fourth spot in the IPL points table was the biggest positive for SRH in a resounding defeat. "The positives are that we're still fourth in the ladder. It's a really tight competition; one of the tightest competitions we've had in IPL for years that I can remember," he said.

"For us, we've got our very first fly tomorrow (Tuesday) and then play the next day against Lucknow (on Wednesday). For us, it's (about) very quickly get through over this game," he

KKR players spend night in Varanasi after flight diverted multiple times due to bad weather

Kolkata Knight Riders support staff as multiple attempts to land the flight failed, forcing the officials to divert the flight mid-air to Varanasi after their flight from Lucknow to Kolkata "Flight took off from was diverted multiple times due to bad weather.

Following their massive 98run win over Lucknow Super Giants on Sunday, the Shreyas Iyer-led side left on Monday evening for Kolkata at 5:45pm. The team was scheduled to arrive at 7.25pm.

But the charter flight had to be diverted to Guwahati first and then to Varanasi after adverse weather conditions made it impossible to land the plane in Kolkata.

The KKR media team provided an update at 8.46pm, saying, "Due to inclement weather over Kolkata, the KKR charter flight has been diverted to Guwahati. We've just landed here."

Then another update at 9.43pm said, "We've got clearance to fly back to Kolkata now, from Guwahati. Estimated arrival: Kolkata

However, the ordeal was not over for the players and Guwahati to Kolkata, was scheduled to land at 11 PM. Couldn't land once again due to bad weather, despite several attempts. Diverted mid-air to Varanasi now. Just landed here," said an update at 1:15 am.

The KKR team then spent the night at Varanasi and will be travelling to Kolkata this afternoon.

"The team would be checking into Varanasi hotel for overnight stay. Return flight to Kolkata TBD on Tuesday (7 May) afternoon," the KKR media team said in the final update at 3:00 am. Fortunately, KKR's next game is against Mumbai Indians at Edens Garden on May 11. The two-time former champions will play Gujarat Titans Ahmedabad on May 13 and Royals Raiasthan Guwahati on May 19 for their final two league matches.

Man United in crisis: Transfers, tactics and takeover helped lead up to 4-0 humiliation at Palace bad season just keeps on Agetting worse Manchester United.

The 20-time English champion was routed 4-0 by Crystal Palace on Monday and faces the prospect of its lowest finish in the Premier League era, as well as a season without European soccer.

Champions League qualification was already beyond Erik ten Hag's troubled team before its latest defeat. Now, sitting eighth in the standings, even the third-tier Conference League could end up out of reach.

On current form, United might need to beat Manchester City in this month's FA Cup final to secure a place in the Europa League. On current form, there is little chance of that happening. One of the world's most storied clubs is in a mess and the humiliation at the hands of Palace was the latest evidence of that.

A record of 13 league defeats is the most United has suffered in a Premier League campaign. In all competitions that number rises to 18, including four losses in six games as United crashed out of the Champions League at the group stage.

Ten Hag's team has conceded 81 goals in all competitions, which is the most since 1976-

According to stats company Opta, United has also spent more time in a losing position in league games this season than a winning one. Its only win in its last seven league games was against last-placed Sheffield United. United's lowest finish in the Premier League era - which it long dominated, winning 13 titles under former manager Alex Ferguson - was seventh under David Moyes in 2013-

Here are some of the reasons behind United's fall this season.

INJURIES: United's substitutes' bench against Palace included six teenagers and two goalkeepers, such is the level of the injury crisis which has gripped Ten Hag's team. Jonny Evans, the veteran 36-year-old center back, was rushed back from injury to cover for the absent Harry Maguire and midfielder Casemiro had to play as a makeshift defender. It has been the story of United's season with key players ruled out for long periods, including Luke Shaw, Lisandro Martinez, Mason Mount, Casemiro, Christian Eriksen, Rasmus Hojlund and Marcus Rashford. Yet United is not the only team to suffer from injuries, with Liverpool and Newcastle also seeing their squads decimated by absences. Even Ten Hag accepted there was no excuse for Monday's performance. "The players who were available should do better. It's a deserved defeat," he said. TACTICS: Last season United had one of the meanest defenses in the Premier League, with only treble-winning City and Newcastle conceding fewer goals. It's been a very different story in Ten Hag's second season in charge, with the openness of his team a consistent problem. To compound the issue, United has found goals hard to come by at the other end of the field. A total of 52 scored is the joint lowest in the top half of the standings, level with 10thplace Bournemouth. Luton which is in the relegation zone has scored 49.

United is too open in midfield, too fragile in defense and not potent enough in attack. And it falls on Ten Hag to come up with the solutions

Paula Badosa showed signs of her former top-five form during a 6-2, 6-3 victory over 17-year-old Mirra Andreeva in the first round of the Italian Open on Tuesday.

Badosa was ranked as high as No. 2 before she missed the second half of last year due to a back injury that has also slowed her this season. She's now No. 126.

Badosa jumped out to a 5-1 lead in the first set before a 45minute rain delay and then picked up where she left off against the 40th-ranked Andreeva, who was the WTA tour's newcomer of the year in

It was Badosa's first win since beating Simona Halep at the Miami Open last month in Halep's return from a doping ban. It also ended Badosa's sixmatch losing streak against players ranked in the top 40 that had stretched back to Rome last year.

Also on the red clay at the Foro Italico, Shelby Rogers routed Italian wild-card entry Lisa Pigato 6-1, 6-0.

The only other matches scheduled on the opening day featured 2021 U.S. Open runner-up Leylah Fernandez against Ana Bogdan and Yulia Putintseva against Martina Trevisan.
