In connection with the completion of 10 years of formation of Telangana State on June 2nd this year, Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy will hold a special Cabinet meeting on May 18 focused on solving issues pending with Andhra Pradesh under the Andhra Pradesh Reorganisation

Act. The Chief Minister, along with his cabinet colleagues N Uttam Kumar Reddy and Ponguleti Srinivasa Reddy, held a meeting with officials of various departments at the BR Ambedkar Secretariat on Wednesday. The Chief Minister asked the officials concerned to prepare a report on all pending issues related to the division of assets and payment of debts between the two states following the bifurcation of Andhra Pradesh.

The division and distribution of assets of the organizations and corporations under Schedule 9 and Schedule 10 have not yet been completed. The two states have not arrived at a consensus on certain issues. Payment of power dues is another pending issue.

The Chief Minister enquired from officials the status with regard to the division of the assets and the efforts made so far by the state government to resolve them.

KCR calls for protests against govt stand

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

Bharat Rashtara Samithi chief and former CM K Chandrasekhar Rao has given a call for statewide protests against the 'anti-farmer' measures of the Congress government in Telangana.

Issuing a press statement in this connection, KCR said that the BRS would resort to protests on Thursday as the state government had "once again deceived farmers in the state". He asked party workers to organize protests in constituency centers across the state.

After the Lok Sabha elections, the Chief Minister had announced that the Congress government would pay a bonus of Rs 500 per quintal for super fine paddy. In this context, KCR strongly condemned the 'anti-farmer' policies of the Congress government in the state. He said, "90 per cent of the farmers in the state grow coarse rice paddy. Despite knowing this, how can the state government announce like this? ... The Congress government has once again cheated the farmers of Telangana offering bonus only to super fine paddy."

"The Congress' support for farmers ended the moment their votes were polled. That is why they have begun to deceive farmers as usual. Had they said before the election that this bonus would be given only for superfine rice, then farmers would have slammed the Congress party. People are still angry. The Congress party is cheating the peasantry in all ways, without giving even Rythu Bandhu or Rythu Bharosa to the farmer. That is why the BRS party has taken up protests across the state to secure the rights of the farmers", KCR stated.

'BJP wants to destroy Constitution, scrap quota'

PNS ■ BOLANGIR

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday alleged that the BJP wants to "destroy" the Constitution and scrap the reservation provided to tribals, Dalits, and backward class.

Addressing an election rally in Odisha's Bolangir, Gandhi claimed that if the BJP wins this election, it will privatise the public sector entities and the country will be run by 22 billionaires.

"BJP wants to tear this book, but we in Congress and the people of India will not allow it," he said pointing to the Constitution in his hand. Gandhi said that whatever the country's poor, Dalits, tribals, minorities, farmers and labourers have received till now, it is due to the Constitution. "If BJP wins, the reservation will be scrapped, the public sector will be privatised, and the country will be run by 22 billionaires. That's why the people's government should be formed," he added.

Gandhi claimed that loans worth Rs 16 lakh crore of 22 billionaires were waived off under the BJP-led government, and the amount was equivalent to MGNREGA wages of 24 years. "They have not given anything to the people. They have not waived off the loans of farmers and students. Forget waiver, they even did not provide loans to small businesses," he claimed.

The Congress leader said that the money collected through GST from the common people of the country was going to only two-three persons.

PNS ■ KALYAN(MAHARASHTRA)

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday said he was exposing the Congress and INDI alliance's plans to divide people on the basis of religion, and to him the country's unity was more important than his own image.

Speaking at a campaign rally at Kalyan in Maharashtra's Thane district, he said it was his predecessor Dr Manmohan Singh who had stated that the minorities have the first right over the country's resources. The Congress wanted to divide the country's budget into Muslim budget and Hindu budget by allocating 15 per cent of funds for the Muslims, Modi alleged. The INDI alliance of the opposition will implement this policy of appeasement after coming to power, he claimed.

"The INDI alliance and the 'Congress' shehzade" (apparent reference to Rahul Gandhi) were doing politics over religion, and Karnataka was their laboratory, Modi said.

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The first set of citizenship certificates under the Citizenship (Amendment) Act was issued Wednesday here to 14 people, nearly two months after rules under the contentious law were notified to grant Indian nationality to persecuted non-Muslim migrants from three neighbouring countries.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah termed it a "historic day", saying the decades-long wait of those who faced religious persecution in Pakistan, Bangladesh, and Afghanistan is over.

Home Secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla handed over the certificates to the 14 people after their applications were processed online through a designated portal, an official spokesperson said.

This comes amid the general elections which started on April 19. The last phase of polling will be held on June 1 while the counting will take place on June 4

The CAA was enacted in December 2019 to grant Indian nationality to persecuted Hindu, Sikh, Jain, Buddhist, Parsi, and Christian migrants from Bangladesh, Pakistan, and Afghanistan who came to India on or before December 31, 2014.

The CAA was enacted in December 2019 to grant Indian nationality to persecuted Hindu, Sikh, Jain, Buddhist, Parsi, and Christian migrants from Bangladesh, Pakistan, and Afghanistan who came to India on or before December 31, 2014.

After the enactment, the CAA got the president's assent but the rules under which the Indian citizenship was granted were issued on March 11 this year after over a delay of four years.

While granting the citizenship certificates, the home secretary congratulated the 14 applicants and highlighted the salient features of the Citizenship

Secretary Posts, Director of the Intelligence Bureau, Registrar General of India, and senior officers were also present during the interactive session when the certificates were issued.

Home Minister Shah said the Hindu, Sikh, Buddhist, Jain, Parsi, and Christian brothers and sisters who fled religious persecution in the three countries have started getting Indian citizenship and Prime Minister Narendra Modi has fulfilled the promise made at the time of the country's independence.

"I express my gratitude to Modiji for giving justice and rights to these people who suffered for decades. WARANGAL-KHAMMAM-NALGONDA GRADUATES CONSTITUENCY

Parties shift focus to MLC by-poll

Theenmar Mallanna, A Rakesh Reddy and Gujjula Premender Reddy are the main contestants

K VENKATESHWARLU
HYDERABAD

After the Lok Sabha elections, major political parties have shifted their focus to the Warangal-Khammam-Nalgonda Graduates Constituency MLC by-poll to be held on May 27. The counting will be held on June 5th.

Although 52 candidates are in the fray, the contest is mainly among the Congress, Bharat Rashtira Samithi and the Bharatiya Janata Party. The by-election arose with the resignation of sitting MLC Palla Rajeshwar Reddy, following his election as Jangaon MLA from BRS party.

Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy has already conducted a review of the MLC by-poll and directed Congress party leaders to ensure the victory of party candidate Theenmar Mallanna, who stood second in the previous MLC elections. The Congress party decided to appoint in-charges to every district to coordinate MLAs and has started campaigning seriously with just 12 days left for the election. The party has directed the cadre to meet every graduate voter in their limits and make them vote in favor of Theenmar Mallanna.

Theenmar Mallanna

Gujjula Premender Reddy

The Bharat Rashtira Samithi party, however, has been facing troubles for giving ticket to A Rakesh Reddy. On Wednesday, only 55 leaders attended the meeting, though the party had invited 130 leaders for the meeting addressed by BRS working president KT Ramarao in Telangana Bhavan.

Leaders like former MLAs--Errabelli Dayakar Rao, Peddi Sudharshan Reddy, Challa Dharmar Reddy, MLCs-Pochampally Srinivas Reddy, Baswaraju Saraiah, Thakkellapally Ravinder Rao and several former corporations heads abstained from the meeting.

Trouble started as party leaders Vasudeva Reddy, Palle Ravi Kumar and Dudimetla Balaraju were aspiring for the ticket. However, BRS supreme K Chandrasekhar Rao gave the ticket to A Rakesh Reddy, who had joined the BRS party before the Assembly elections, quitting BJP. It is learnt that Rakesh Reddy has the blessings of Palla Rajeshwar Reddy.

The BJP has again fielded party's state general secretary Gujjula Premender Reddy, who had contested the election last time. The party is hoping that youth may support its candidate. Party circles believe that many youngsters had extended their support to the party candidates in the just-concluded Lok Sabha elections. A total of 4,63,839 voters from 12 districts will cast their votes in these elections. Siddipet, Jangaon, Hanmakonda, Warangal, Mahabubabad, Mulugu, Jayashankar Bhupal Pally, Bhadradi Kothagudem, Yadadri Bhongir, Suryapet and Nalgonda districts come under this Graduate MLC constituency. In fact, 34 Assembly constituencies and 5 Lok Sabha constituencies come under this by-poll. However, 31 MLAs are from the Congress and one is from CPI; the remaining two (Jangaon and Suryapet) belong to BRS party.

This by-poll has become a prestigious one for the Congress party, rather than BRS and BJP, as it has 32 MLAs in the by-poll limits.

Siddipet has 4,679 graduate voters, Jangaon-23,419, Hanmakonda-43,729, Warangal-43,812, Mahabubabad-34,933, Mulugu-10,299, Jayashankar Bhupalpally-12,535, Bhadradi Kothagudem-40,106, Khammam-83,879, Yadadri Bhongir-34,080, Suryapet-51,497, and Nalgonda-80,871.

BJP wiped out from south India, halved elsewhere: Cong

PNS ■ RANCHI

Calling Narendra Modi the "outgoing prime minister", Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh on Wednesday claimed the polling held so far clearly indicates that the BJP has been "wiped out" from south India and reduced to half in the rest of the country.

Addressing a press conference in Ranchi, he alleged that the PM polarised voters on religious lines, and was now "lying" that he "never did Hindu-Muslim" politics.

"PM Narendra Modi is an outgoing prime minister, and his desperation after the initial phases of the elections says this. Amit Shah is an outgoing home minister. We will get rid of the pandemic of lies after June 4," he said.

Ramesh claimed that "Modi ki Guarantee" has fallen flat and there was no talk about "Viksit Bharat", and the BJP's campaign was now revolving around "Hindu-Muslim". He also claimed the INDIA bloc would form the next government at the Centre, and would ensure a nationwide caste census.

He said caste census was necessary to give proper representation to SCs, STs and backward classes.

Alleging that the BJP-led government "badly misused" the ED, CBI and IT Department, Ramesh said that if voted to power, the Congress would ensure that powers given to these agencies are revisited.

He also accused the government of weakening laws related to land acquisition so that "capitalists" could benefit.

"INDIA bloc has been formed to save democracy and the Constitution of the country, and we are fighting this election to save these vital institutions," he said.

Ramesh also said that Congress never spoke about the redistribution of wealth, but it talked about "inclusive distribution".

He said the BJP has now forgotten its slogan of "400-paar". "Our 400-paar is about raising the daily minimum wage to Rs 400, including that for MGN-REGA workers." On the PM's allegation that the Congress received "tempo loads of cash" from "Adani-Ambani" for its leader Rahul Gandhi to stop "abusing"

ACHAMPET ATTACK

KTR questions RaGa: Is this Mohabbat ki dukaan?

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

BRS MLA K T Rama Rao questioned Rahul Gandhi about the attack by Congress leaders in Achampet. He said on X "Yahi hai kya aapki 'Mohabbat Ki Dukaan' Rahul Gandhi? Brazenly attacking opponents and abusing power. Shameful that police have become part of the abuse and attack," he added.

KTR also told Telangana DGP, "If you don't act and book these goons and the spectator-like cops, BRS will move the Human Rights Commission and ensure justice is done." He was responding to a tweet by RS Praveen kumar which read "The inefficiency of policemen in Achampet town while murderous assault was taking place right in front of their eyes! Is this the way policemen are trained to respond in Telangana? Or are they asked to stay silent. The inability to apprehend at least one accused till now bolsters the suspicion that they are hand-in-glove with the aggressors. Please take disciplinary action on all those who are responsible for this."

Congress workers in Achampet of Nagarkurnool district attacked the brother-in-law of a BRS councillor on Tuesday. Congress leaders Sunkari Balakrishna and Lalaiah were not on good terms with each other which led to argument near a polling booth. Balakrishna had reportedly abused Lalaiah and used casteist slurs. Later, Lalaiah's followers went to Balraju's house but ended up attacking Sunkari Mahesh.

Hyd BJP candidate Madhavi demands repolling

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

Alleging that the MIM indulged in rigging in Hyderabad Lok Sabha constituency limits, Hyderabad Lok Sabha constituency BJP candidate Madhavi Latha demanded the Election Commission to cancel the election and conduct repolling.

She made it clear that she will go to any extent for the repolling. While speaking to the media on Wednesday, Madhavi Latha found fault with the 12 per cent polling in the last hour of the polling. In fact, 48 per cent voting was recorded in the Hyderabad Lok Sabha constituency, she said. It may be recalled that the Election Commission directed the police to file a case under several sections against Madhavi Latha for asking Muslim women voters to remove the burqa, suspecting that rigging was taking place.

Video of rigging in Hyd constituency is fake: CEO

Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Vikas Raj said that a video clip showing a person rigging in a poll booth in Hyderabad is fake. The video was being claimed that it was from Bahadurpura Assembly constituency of Hyderabad constituency, and it shows rigging in the polling station. "But actually, it was an old video and not linked to the parliamentary election in Telangana or to any other election in Telangana," the CEO ascertained. On Wednesday, the ECI released a press note, wherein it mentioned,

"Our attempts to go into the history of the video, revealed that this video was shared on the YouTube channel on February 27, 2022". The CEO said that further, if one listens to the audio carefully, it was clear that the language being spoken in the video was not Telugu. The poll process in the State was conducted in a free and fair manner, he added.

The BJP Telangana unit president said that CM Revanth Reddy and BRS working president KT Rama Rao were competing with each other in spreading falsehood about BJP's stance on the Constitution and reservations. However, people stood by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Kishan Reddy said.

He said, "People laughed at Revanth Reddy's statements. They did not believe in the lies of the Congress and BRS parties. The MIM's attitude that they would be key players regardless of who wins in Telangana turned out to be a positive factor for BJP. Silent revolution would be seen in Telangana and BJP would certainly win double digit seats. The wish of Modi becoming Prime Minister again is seen in the rural Telangana and youth, women, farmers and new voters unilaterally stood by the BJP".

Kishan Reddy opined that there was a need to bring reforms in urban voter lists as the voting percentage had decreased in these elections. The district election officers had removed names of voters from the voters list in a big way even though the BJP had requested the EC not to do that. He alleged that the EC removed the names of even those voters who had received voter slips a week before the elections.

Kishan Reddy said, "They intentionally removed the votes of BJP. The BJP is lodging a complaint with the EC in this regard. India's first ride monitoring application, The Travel Safe (T-SAFE) is getting good response from the people in the State. Along with that, other state police departments are also asking the State police regarding the application to implement this kind of service in their respective states.

Women Safety Wing Additional DGP Shikha Goyal said, "More than seven states have approached us and asked for information regarding the T-SAFE. Some officers have visited the office and some of them held a zoom meeting."

A total of 5,137 persons have downloaded the application and the police have tracked 8,382 trips since March 12 to May 5. Most of them put their location being monitored between 7 pm and 12 pm. "More than 5,000 were downloaded, but thankfully, no emergency cases have been reported," she said.

After using the application, people give feedback to the police that they felt safe. "Thank you so much T-SAFE app. Due to some emergency I was travelling around 1 am and took a taxi.

Though I was with my family, I was not sure about the nearly two hours of journey. So I immediately downloaded the app and registered. I was very much impressed with the service. Thanks to the Telangana government for ensuring women safety," a user, Salma, gave feedback to the police.

"We are working to add additional features in the next phase. Our next phase would be integrating the user data of the existing cab aggregators. That part we will be done post elections," she said.

The idea of the T-SAFE is to create a safe environment for women. This kind of technology the police are using for T-SAFE is nowhere in the country either in government or private sector, except in Telangana.

Four days before the election code on March 12, the T-SAFE was launched by Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy. Because of that people are knowing about the app through social media and word of mouth only. The police could not create much awareness at bus stops, railway stations and colleges due to the election code. The police say that they are going to conduct more awareness campaigns soon.

KGBV non-teaching staff demand to resolve issues

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalaya (KGBV) Non-Teaching and Workers Association opposed the idea of allotting night shift duties to the accountants on Wednesday and appealed to resolve the issue, through a letter to KGBV State Project Director.

Hyd expected to account for over 30% share of data centres

PNS ■ HYDERABAD

A report by the CBRE South Asia limited revealed that Hyderabad, Bengaluru and Delhi would consume 30% of data centre capacity in India during 2024-2026.

The report states that India is ahead of most APAC countries with the highest data centre capacity of 950 MW in the Asia-Pacific region (excluding China), overtaking major countries like Australia, Hong Kong SAR, Japan, Singapore and Korea. India is followed by Japan which has a data centre capacity of 892 Megawatts, Australia at 773 MW, Singapore at 718 MW, Hong Kong at 613 MW and Korea at 531 MW.

Over 60% of the upcoming supply would be concentrated in Mumbai and Chennai. With the anticipated supply inflow, tenants are expected to carefully assess their options, select suitable DC providers and negotiate favorable terms aligned with their specific requirements. Demand is likely to pick up pace in H2 2024, paving the way for continued growth in this sector. Emerging markets such as Kochi, Jaipur, Ahmedabad, Lucknow, Patna and Visakhapatnam are experiencing growth, driven by their strategic locations and improved infrastructure, including enhanced power supply along with fibre and cable connectivity upgrades.

Total co-location data centre capacity currently stands at 1GW, more than double the figure from 18 months ago. New data centre supply is projected to reach up to 250MW annually for the next five years. Top occupier categories anticipated to drive demand include cloud service providers, BFSI firms, retail, healthcare, entertainment and telecommunications.

Anshuman Magazine, Chairman & CEO - India, South-East Asia, Middle East & Africa, CBRE, said, "India, with its favourable market conditions, is attracting multinational corporations (MNCs) seeking to expand their digital services and relocate from other Asian markets due to supply constraints. Sustained demand is expected from BFSI firms, technology corporates and cloud service providers as they explore alternative solutions such as co-location and hyperscale facilities. Furthermore, engineering and manufacturing firms, along with technology companies, are likely to establish their own DCs specifically dedicated to R&D labs. India has been actively promoting the DC segment through dedicated policies aimed at attracting DC operators and investors. Several states have recognised DCs as an 'essential service' to ensure uninterrupted operations throughout the year."

Woman stabbed to death over rejection of love proposal in Karnataka

Just weeks after college student Neha Hiremath was stabbed to death by her former classmate, a 21-year-old woman was murdered inside her house by an acquaintance here for allegedly rejecting her love proposal on Wednesday. Vishwa alias Girish Sawant, 23, knocked on the door of Anjali Ambigera's residence at Veerapur Oni area here at around 5.45 am. When she opened the door, Girish stabbed her to death with a knife and fled the place, a senior police officer said, adding that her sister was a witness to the brutal murder. A case of murder under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code has been registered against the accused, police said, adding that teams have been formed to nab him. Neha Hiremath, 23, was stabbed to death by her former classmate Fayaz Khodunak inside her college campus in Hubballi on April 18. "Girish was harassing my sister Anjali for sometime now. He expressed his love to her but my sister declined."

Close shave for two cops as naxalites trigger IED blast in Chhattisgarh

Two police personnel had a narrow escape on Wednesday when Naxalites detonated an improvised explosive device (IED) in Chhattisgarh's Bijapur district, an official said. The incident took place near Somanpalli village on Kutru-Farsegarh road when Farsegarh police station's SHO Akash Masih and constable Sanjay were heading in a car to Bijapur town for a government work, he said. "When the vehicle was near Somanpalli, Naxalites triggered the blast causing damage to the bonnet of the car. None of the two occupants was harmed in the blast," he said. A joint team of the Chhattisgarh Armed Force and Farsegarh police was out on an area domination operation in the area when the incident occurred, he said. After being alerted, security personnel rushed to the spot and a combing operation was launched in the area, he added.

Brain dead subedar's organs give new lease of life to three ill soldiers

Three critically ill soldiers have got a new lease of life, thanks to the family of a retired subedar which took the decision to donate his organs after he was declared brain dead following a brain stroke. After the subedar's death on Tuesday, the harvested organs were airlifted by the Indian Air Force to Army's Research and Referral Hospital in Delhi. The organ retrieval and transplant team of Army's Command Hospital, Chandimandir performed a multi-organ harvest procedure on the 70-year-old subedar, a resident of Palampur in Himachal Pradesh, according to an official statement here on Wednesday. He had served for 30 years in the Jammu and Kashmir Rifles of Indian Army, it said. "He was declared brain dead in the ICU due to brain stroke. The next of kin of the deceased decided to donate the liver, kidneys and cornea, which has given a new lease of life to three soldiers, who were critically ill," the statement added.

PoK is part of India, we will take it: Amit Shah

PNS ■ SERAMPORE (WB)

Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday referred to protests in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir and said "PoK is part of India and we will take it". Addressing a rally in Serampore, Shah said. At the same time, peace has returned to once trouble-torn Kashmir after the abrogation of Article 370 in 2019, Pakistan-occupied Kashmir "now echoes with slogans of Azadi and protests. "After the abrogation of Article 370 by the government in 2019 peace has returned to Kashmir. But now we witness protests in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir. Earlier slogans of Azadi were heard here, now the same slogans are heard in PoK. Earlier stones were pelted here, now stones are pelted in PoK," he said. Hitting out at Congress leaders for not supporting the demand of taking over PoK, Shah said, "Congress leaders like Mani Shankar Aiyar say it should not be done as they have an atom bomb. But let me say this Pakistan-occupied Kashmir is part of India and we will take it."

Shah said the present Lok Sabha elections are about "choosing between corrupt leaders of INDI alliance and honest politician Narendra Modi, who despite being Chief Minister and then Prime Minister never had an allegation of single paisa against him."

"It's a fight between the 'Chinese guarantee' of the INDI Alliance and the concrete promises of Modi ji. It's a fight between infiltration and the guarantee of citizenship under the CAA. It's a fight between 'Vote for Vikas' and 'Vote for Jihad! The choice is yours," he said.

Dubbing West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee as "Hirak Rani" in an apparent reference to the film "Hirak Rajar Deshe" by Oscar-awarded filmmaker Satyajit Ray, Shah said, "Satyajit Ray was a great artist and filmmaker. He made a movie - Hirak Rajar Deshe. It was quite a famous movie."

"But when Mamata ji came to power, Satyajit Ray was not there, otherwise, he would have made a movie named 'Hirak Rani', instead of 'Hirak Rajar Deshe', Mamata Banerjee is the Hirak Rani," he said. "Bengal is the land which gave us Vande Mataram and the national anthem Jana Gana Mana and played a key role in Bengal's freedom struggle. Both the communists and the TMC tried to end nationalism and patriotism in Bengal," he said.

SC to hear ex TN minister Senthil bail plea today

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Wednesday adjourned till May 16 the hearing on the bail plea of former Tamil Nadu minister V Senthil Balaji, arrested by the Enforcement Directorate last year in a money laundering case.

A bench of Justices Abhay S Oka and Ujjal Bhuyan deferred the matter after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta informed the court that he had to appear before a special bench which is hearing a challenge to penal provisions of the Goods and Services tax (GST). Senior advocate Aryama Sundaram, appearing for Balaji, urged the bench to hear the matter saying that the former minister has undergone a bypass surgery and has been in custody for over 300 days.

The bench, however, said, "We are not impressed with your submission that because he is in custody for 300 days he should be given priority."

India asks Iran to release 40 Indian seafarers from custody

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

India has asked Iran to release nearly 40 Indian seafarers who were detained from four different merchant ships seized by the Persian Gulf country over the past eight months on different charges, sources said on Wednesday.

Ports, Shipping and Waterways Minister Sarbananda Sonowal made the request during a meeting with Iranian Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian in Tehran on Monday. Sonowal was in Tehran where India signed a 10-year contract to operate the strategic Iranian port of Chabahar that will help expand the trade with Central Asia.

Following a request of Iranian side, a meeting was held between Sonowal and Abdollahian where bilateral issues were discussed, sources privy to the development said. During the meeting, Sonowal requested Abdollahian to release all Indian seafarers who are in Iranian custody.

Abdollahian said Tehran is positive on the release of the Indian seafarers but it is getting delayed as legal procedures have to be followed, the sources said.

The sources said the Indian seafarers were working in four ships -- Steven, Global Cherylyn, Margol and MSC Aries -- which were seized by Iran over the past eight months on different charges. According to the sources, Steven was seized by the Iranian Coast Guard on September 12, 2023, for "smuggling" and the crew were also detained.

There were nine Indian crew members on board and it has come down to six now after three of them, along side two other nationals, were taken away by Iranian authorities on April 24 and their whereabouts are still unknown.

Iran is yet to give consular access to the Indian seafarers of the ship and the Indian Embassy in Tehran is in regular touch with Iranian authorities, the sources said.

Another ship, Global Cherylyn, was seized on December 11, 2023 at Bandar Abbas with 20 Indian crew members and one Bangladeshi. Consular access to the crew was given on March 12, 2024. The vessel was seized on charges of "fuel smuggling". The issue was raised with the Iranian Embassy and authorities in Tehran.

FOREST FIRES ISSUE

SC slams Uttarakhand for "lackadaisical" approach, calls chief secretary

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Slamming the Uttarakhand government for its "lackadaisical" approach in controlling forest fires, the Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the state's chief secretary to personally present himself before it on May 17 to give explanation, including on utilisation of funds and vacancies in forest department.

Terming it a "very sorry state of affairs", the apex court said the state was just trying to find some excuse or the other.

A bench headed by Justice B R Gavai directed that the staff and vehicles of the forest departments of states shall not be requisitioned for election purposes or any other purposes like the 'Char Dham Yatra'.

"We are at pains to say that the approach of state of Uttarakhand in controlling the fires is, to say the least, lackadaisical. Though action plans have been prepared and finalised, no steps are being taken for implementation of the same," said the bench, also comprising Justices SVN Bhatti and Sandeep Mehta. The top court was hearing a plea on raging forest fires in Uttarakhand.

The bench said when funds from the Compensatory Afforestation Fund Management and Planning Authority (CAMPA) were available and also sanctioned by the central authority, it saw no reason as to why only Rs 3.41 crore out of the Rs 9.12 crore was utilised for forest related activity in Uttarakhand in 2023-24.

The bench observed it also saw no reason as to why the balance amount was not utilised for forestry.

"Another issue that needs to be addressed is with regard to huge vacancies in the forest department of the State of Uttarakhand," it said.

The bench noted that one of the grievances raised by the state was regarding failure of timely disbursement of the national disaster management fund or state disaster management fund.

"We fail to understand as to how state could have grievance with regard to the disbursement of state disaster management fund in as much as it is within the domain of the state to disburse the said funds," it said.

ED nabs Jharkhand Min Alam in money laundering case

PNS ■ RANCHI

The Enforcement Directorate Wednesday arrested Congress leader and Jharkhand Rural Development Minister Alamgir Alam in a money laundering case, official sources said.

The 70-year-old was taken into custody at the agency's zonal office here under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) after about six hours of interrogation on the second day of questioning, the sources said.

He was grilled by the federal agency Tuesday for over nine hours and his statement was also recorded.

The agency had last week arrested Alam's personal secretary and state administrative service officer Sanjeev Kumar Lal (52) and the latter's domestic help Jahangir Alam (42) following the seizure of more than Rs 32 crore cash from a flat linked to them.

The money laundering investigation pertains to alleged irregularities and payment of "bribes" in the state rural development department.

While seeking the remand of the two arrested persons, the ED had informed a special PMLA court here that Lal collected "commission".

EC operating under Modi's directions: Mamata

PNS ■ KOLKATA

West Bengal Chief Minister on Wednesday labeled the Election Commission (EC) as a "puppet" operating under the directives of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Addressing an election rally at Chinsurah, Hooghly district, Banerjee criticised the EC for scheduling the polls over a period of two months, alleging that this decision favoured the saffron party while disregarding the hardships faced by the common people due to excessive heat.

"The Election Commission is a puppet and operates according to Modi's directions. Poll is being held for two-and-half months, have you (poll officials) ever realised the struggle of the common people," Banerjee said.

Accompanying the party's Hooghly nominee actress Rachana Banerjee, the CM accused Modi of violating the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) by allegedly announcing plans to expand the Ayushman Bharat Yojana to cover senior citizens over 70 years of age during the ongoing elections.

Nadda: Mamata pursuing appeasement politics

PNS ■ RAGHUNATHPUR (WB)

Accusing West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee of compromising on the issue of infiltration and appeasing minorities, BJP chief J P Nadda said during the decade-long reign of the TMC in the state, one scandal after another has plagued West Bengal. Speaking at an election rally in support of the party's Purulia candidate Jyotirmoy Mahato, Nadda said while the INDIA bloc was rooting for a 'majboor' (weak) govt at the Centre, people of WB have made their choice clear for a 'majboot' (strong) government.

Need to have more doctors, hospital beds to achieve healthcare vision 2047: Report

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

There is a need to increase the number of qualified doctors to more than 50 lakh and also add 30 lakh more hospital beds in the country in order to achieve India's healthcare vision 2047, according to a report.

The increase in the number of doctors and beds in hospitals would help India get closer to the average of developed countries, as per a FICCI-EY Report titled 'Decoding India's Healthcare Landscape'.

India has witnessed a significant increase in the number of medical colleges and MBBS seats, addressing the growing demand for healthcare professionals, it said.

The number of registered allopathic doctors witnessed substantial growth, rising from 6,60,801 in 2005 to 13,08,009 such doctors in 2022, the report said.

Similarly, the bed capacity in government hospitals across India has consistently grown from 4.7 lakh beds in 2005 to 8.5 lakh beds in 2021.

The report also highlighted the importance of having 100 per cent health insurance coverage for the country's population.

If people vote for BJP, I will have to go back to jail: Kejriwal

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

AAP national convener and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal on Wednesday said he will have to go back to jail, if people vote for the BJP, as he urged the electorate to choose INDIA bloc candidates.

INDIA bloc parties AAP and Congress are contesting the Lok Sabha elections in Delhi in an alliance.

While holding a roadshow in Model Town in support of Congress' Chandni Chowk Lok Sabha poll candidate JP Agarwal, Kejriwal gave the slogan "Jo kare Kejriwal ko pyaar woh kare Modi ko inkaar (those who love Kejriwal reject Modi)".

"I have come straight from jail to be amongst you. These people (BJP) put me behind bars and I missed you a lot. I love you a lot. I know that even you love me a lot. I am a small person. Ours is a small party with governments in Delhi and Punjab," Kejriwal said.

"I was wondering why I was put in jail. What is my fault? These people are quite powerful," he said.

The chief minister said his "fault" was providing good education to children, building good schools for them, opening Mohalla Clinics and arranging for free medicines for people.

"Now, they are saying I will have to go jail again. It is in your hands whether I go to jail. If you choose lotus (the BJP's symbol), I will have to return to jail. If you choose INDIA bloc candidate, I won't have to go to jail," the AAP national convener said.

"When you go to vote, you have to think whether Kejriwal should go to jail. 'Jo kare Kejriwal ko pyaar woh kare Modi ko inkaar,'" he said.

He sought support for Agarwal and said this time, the AAP and the Congress are contesting in an alliance.

Kejriwal alleged that efforts were made to break him while he was in jail "but because of the blessings of Lord Hanuman, I stayed strong".

The chief minister, who was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate in the Delhi liquor policy case, was released from Tihar Jail on interim bail granted by the Supreme Court.

Over a fifth of excess deaths linked to heatwaves

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

More than 1.53 lakh deaths a year were associated with heatwaves around the world, with over a fifth of these deaths - the greatest share - coming from India, according to new research looking at data over 30 years since 1990.

India was followed by China and Russia, with each experiencing roughly 14 per cent and 8 per cent of these heatwave-linked excess deaths, respectively.

The study, led by Monash University, Australia, found that heatwave-linked excess deaths accounted for about a third of all heat-related deaths and 1 per cent of total deaths globally.

Researchers also found that of the overall 1.53 lakh excess deaths occurring every summer, close to half came from Asia and more than 30 per cent from Europe.

Further, the largest estimated death rates (deaths per population) were seen in regions with dry climates and lower-middle incomes. The findings are published in PLoS Medicine.

"During the warm seasons from 1990 to 2019, heatwave-related excess deaths accounted for 153,078 deaths per year, a total of 236 deaths per ten million residents or 1 per cent of global deaths," the authors wrote.

For the study, the researchers used data from the UK-based Multi-Country Multi-City Collaborative Research Network that included daily deaths and temperatures from 750 locations across 43 countries.

Comparing the decade up to 2019 with that up to 1999, the duration of heat waves each year was found to have extended from 13.4 to 13.7 days on average around the world, with average ambient temperature warming by 0.35 degrees Celsius every decade.

The researchers said that while previous studies have quantified excess deaths due to heatwaves locally, they have not compared these estimates across the globe over a prolonged duration.

"Heatwaves are associated with substantial mortality burden that varies spatiotemporally (with space and time) over the globe in the past 30 years," the authors wrote.

The findings show that government actions taken to enhance health sector adaptation and resilience can have potential benefits, the authors said.

They called for a "comprehensive approach" tackling not only immediate health risks during heatwaves but also implementing long-term strategies to minimise vulnerability and inequalities across communities.

PAPER WITH PASSION

Eating gold

Already costly, food items to be dearer on the back of heatwave, poll expenditures

With wholesale inflation hitting a 13-month high of 1.26 per cent in April and the mercury poised to peak in the next two months, stubbornly rising food prices are worrying many a family across the nation. This rise was driven as both food and fuel became dearer. Interestingly, India's retail inflation, measured by the consumer price index (CPI), fell to an 11-month low of 4.83 per cent year-on-year in April 2024, compared to 4.85 the previous month. The Reserve Bank of India primarily considers retail inflation when formulating monetary policy. However, for the average person, the rise in WPI is concerning as it is primarily influenced by food items, both processed and unprocessed, as well as manufactured goods. India is experiencing an ongoing heatwave, which is expected to affect vegetable prices. WPI inflation is forecast to increase to 2-3 per cent in May 2024; it is expected to spiral up and reach its peak in June 2024. WPI food inflation, which includes primary food articles and manufactured food items, increased for the third consecutive month to an eight-month high of 5.5 per cent in April (compared to 0.4 per cent in April 2023), driven by both manufactured food products (reaching a 15-month high of 1.2 per cent) and primary food articles (reaching a four-month high of 7.7 per cent).

The increase in WPI inflation in April was attributed mainly to fuel and food items. However, there is a silver lining as the outlook for food inflation has improved due to expectations of a normal monsoon, which is anticipated to boost agricultural production. Additionally, commodity prices have rebounded on hopes of increased demand from China. Since it is an election year, there is an automatic push to prices based on market speculation and uncertainty over continuation of governance policies, not to mention that the cost of election is recovered from the common man via higher prices. The funding of political parties by corporates and traders often reflects in the spiralling prices, pre- and post-elections. Logistic bottlenecks, labour shortages and increased transportation costs, thanks to oil prices, all contribute to the overall inflationary pressures, amplifying the challenges faced by food producers and consumers alike. Amid the backdrop of escalating food prices, election discussions revolve around economic policies and their impact. High prices and employment concerns loom large as hot topics, reflecting the broader sentiment of economic anxiety among voters. Generally, the ruling party bears the brunt of inflation as people hold it responsible for not keeping the prices in check. Effectively managing inflation entails employing a comprehensive strategy that harmonises short-term interventions with enduring structural changes. Swift actions, like directed subsidies and mechanisms for stabilising prices, can provide temporary respite to consumers contending with rising food expenses. Until that happens, we can happily fulfil our tax obligations by paying through our nose. Indeed, inflation is taxation without legislation!

Embracing the joys and wisdom of age

Amidst serene nature, I pondered time's fleeting nature and shifting age perspectives, inspired by three chance encounters

I spent a memorable week in the mountains last year. Crisp and importantly clean mountain air, long walks along jungle trails, beautiful sunrises and sunsets and views of snow-capped peaks in the distance, were only a few of the bonuses that the place offered.

It was during this trip that three different people, in their way, tried to put us at ease, by referring to the facilities that they offered for the comfort of senior citizens. I would have bristled indignantly at a reference to my advancing age until only a couple of years back. Now I was not offended. I remember an incident about 25 years back. One evening, a younger engineer, recruited through campus placement and working with me, remarked, "Sir, I am amazed by your energy. You work so hard and such long hours even at this age."

At 40, I could not take the Statement as a compliment that he had intended it to be and quipped rather caustically, "What do you mean by this age? I am still young." I would love to see his face today if someone were to remark to him about his age.

I completed 60 five years back. That was the time I realised the benefits that I was entitled to as I booked my air or train ticket at a discount. I could conveniently travel in the metro trains sitting comfortably on the seats meant for seniors, till someone older than me, or at least someone who looked older than me, came and stood near me. Old habits die hard. I would offer my seat to the more needy or gallantly offer the seat to a much younger woman since that is what I was taught. But chivalry still had limits. I was not prepared to be called an old man or even an uncle by the younger people. Till we faced the onslaught of something terrible four years back - covid. It invaded our lives like nothing we had witnessed in our lifetime. I too had my share of the dread that many might have

BJP retains control, INDIA gains ground

SIDHARTH MISHRA

The Opposition's revival from near-disarray presents a formidable challenge but may fall short of the impact needed to dislodge the BJP-led NDA

With phase four of the polling over, we are more than halfway through the ongoing Lok Sabha polls. There is no denying that the opposition INDIA bloc, led by the Congress, has been able to create a perspective that it isn't a one-sided battle and the fight was on all the seats.

The usual gimmicks of stock market predictions and illegal 'satta' gambling forecasts have started to emerge on social media and private WhatsApp groups. However the underlying message is that come what may, the BJP shall be able to form the Government. This probably emerges from the faith the BJP supporters have in the abilities of Prime Minister Narendra Modi being a leader with gargantuan mass appeal. However, there is also no denying the fact that the opposition was in tatters when the poll campaign started but by the passing of time have been able to create an image of a close fight, which in the end could prove to be just a mirage. Nevertheless, the Congress campaign in the 2024 polls, whatever the results, would remain an area of discussion among the political scientists in the times to come.

Congress's poll preparation could be said to have begun from the conclave it had at Udaipur in 2022. The declarations at the 'Udaipur Shivir' talked of building a vibrant organisation. This came in the backdrop of desertions plaguing the party especially from their most prominent leader Rahul Gandhi's coterie. In 2022, when the Congress met in Rajasthan, one right decision it took was to hold the polls for the post of the president of the All India Congress Committee. It did activate the party and in Mallik arjun Kharge, the party has found a good campaigner, who not only campaigns hard but makes a lot of sense with what he says. Strategically, unlike the Vidhan Sabha polls held some months back in the four States, the leadership has consolidated on the alliance despite the initial hiccup caused by its very convener, Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar walking out of the formation. Though some point out that Kharge and not Nitish was foisted as the chair of the alliance, as given his track record, Nitish's opposition to the BJP was always suspect. The second move by Congress has been to channel the strength of the alliance partners to keep itself afloat. To this end, the Congress is contesting just 328 seats this time, much lower than what it had contested in the 2019 polls. Last time it had contested 421 seats. The party would have contested 330 seats this time but for the rejection of the papers of its candidate in Surat and its candidate withdrawing in Indore. This means that the Congress in INDIA has created an alliance base that is much wider than that of the United Peoples Alliance (UPA). This also means that the party has shrunk from the position of a dominant partner to a senior partner with some other members of the bloc like the Trinamool Congress in West Bengal and Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) in Punjab not even entertaining an alliance. Those in charge of the alliance forging for the party claim that the grouping this time is much more pragmatic than in 2019. The case in point is Uttar Pradesh. The party went into the 2019 polls all by itself. With no major allies and up against the BJP and the SP-BSP alliance, Congress contested 67 of the State's 80 seats. It could win only one: Sonia Gandhi in Rae Bareilly. This time in alliance with the Samajwadi Party it's contesting just 17 seats, down by 50 seats. People close to poll planning, point out that it has been done to conserve the party resources for more realistic contests. Similarly West Bengal, after contesting 40 seats in 2019 is contesting just 14 seats this time giving the remaining seats to the alliance partner - the Left parties. Similar arrangements have been made in other States. Now how would that affect the final results? The BJP in 2024 wants to equal the performance of the Congress in 1984 when it got more than 400 seats. What's not to be forgotten is that those 400 seats came as a harvest of the sympathy wave in the favour of the party following the assassination of then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi. What makes BJP in 2024 different from Congress in 1984 is that it has delivered on its ideological agenda thus the cadre commitment would be there. Based on that the saffron party has expanded its poll machinery. This could work both ways, if there is an undercurrent, it would bring bonus points and if there is voter indifference, the performance should not fall below, as they say in commerce, the reserve price.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE ESSENCE OF RAM RAJYA

Madam — Apropos the news article "Ram Rajya will begin in the country now, doesn't mean theocratic State: Rajnath Singh," published on 14 May, this is my response. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh's remarks on the inauguration of the Ram Mandir in Ayodhya and the concept of Ram Rajya reflect a perspective blending faith with civic duty. Singh emphasises that Ram Rajya isn't about establishing a theocratic State but fostering a sense of responsibility among citizens. His call for a return to the essence of politics, where words align with actions, resonates with the public disillusionment with political rhetoric. Singh's stance on the triple talaq issue underscores a commitment to gender equality transcending religious boundaries. His assertion reflects a broader narrative of social justice and protection of vulnerable individuals, regardless of religious affiliation. As he seeks reelection, Singh's emphasis on fulfilling electoral promises underscores accountability in governance. His track record in Lucknow adds weight to his assertion, aligning action with words. Overall, Singh's discourse encapsulates a nuanced understanding of governance, intertwining religious symbolism with practical governance and societal welfare.

KEJRIWAL'S GUARANTEE

Madam — It refers to the article "Kejriwal's bail: Unveiling political prophanis post-release," published on 13 May. Most of the AAP's guarantees require more funds since most are a burden to the State exchequer. Free electricity, the MSP guarantee, the scrapping of the magnifier and the creation of two crore jobs need heavy payout from the State exchequer. Finding funds without taxing the people is not possible in today's situation. The six guarantees of the Congress remain to be implemented in Karnataka and Telangana. Guarantees have become political stunts during elections. Furthermore, during the last 2019 gener-

Triangular contest in Ladakh

Apropos the news article "Ladakh stands alone in Lok Sabha roll call," published on 13 May, this is my response. The political landscape in Ladakh has dramatically shifted, morphing a once two-way battle between the BJP and Congress into a three-way challenge. The emergence of local alliances and the entry of an Independent candidate complicates the electoral dynamics, adding layers to an already complex scenario. The contest reflects the region's aspirations and frustrations, particularly regarding Statehood and constitutional status. The BJP's incumbency faces scrutiny, with discontent palpable over unmet demands. Meanwhile, Congress positions itself as a champion of local interests, leveraging historic ties and promising to address grievances.

The involvement of grassroots movements and renowned figures underscores the grassroots activism shaping Ladakh's political narrative. The electorate's choice will influence not just parliamentary representation but also the trajectory of regional autonomy and development. As the campaigns intensify, candidates grapple with reconciling national agendas with local exigencies, emphasising dialogue and resolution of longstanding issues. Ultimately, Ladakh stands at a crossroads, poised to redefine its political identity through this pivotal electoral battle.

al election, Kejriwal said that that would be the last election if Modi is returned to power. It was Indira Gandhi who included the words socialism and secularism in the preamble of the Constitution. So the charge Modi will not hold elections or tamper with the constitution is without substance and a repeat of what was said in 2019. Furthermore, many politicians, actors and so-called social workers said in 2014 and 2019 that if Modi wins the elections they will move out of the country. Still, they are all here enjoying the fruits of freedom. On corruption, first, let Kejriwal come clean on the Delhi liquor gate scam.

PARAG'S INSPIRING JOURNEY

Madam — Apropos the news article "Home Turf: Rajasthan Aim to clinch a playoff berth in Parag's 'Royal' Homecoming," published on 14 May, this is my response. Riyan Parag's journey from the northeastern corner of India to becoming a cricketing sensation embodies hope and perseverance. His anticipated return to Guwahati, backed by a robust performance, not only fuels the Rajasthan Royals' playoff dreams but also marks a milestone for cricket in the region. Parag's stellar season, coupled with the strategic investment made by the Royals, highlights the potential lying dormant in lesser-explored cricketing territories. The upcoming matches against Punjab Kings and Kolkata Knight Riders hold more than just playoff implications; they symbolise the rise of a new cricketing stronghold. While Parag's emergence steals the spotlight, it's crucial to acknowledge the collective effort of the team. Sanju Samson's leadership and consistent batting form, alongside the solid bowling unit, underscore the Royals' strength as a cohesive unit. As cricket enthusiasts, witnessing Parag's ascent not only inspires but also reshapes the narrative of cricketing talent in India, extending its reach beyond conventional boundaries.

Achievers propel success with determination and humility

RAVI VALLURI

Successful completion of a task releases endorphins in the body which act as a tonic and an analgesic. "Always bear in mind that your own resolution to succeed is more important than any other," said Abraham Lincoln. Resolution is the positive intent, resolve or aspiration to give a hundred per cent to achieve the targeted goal. Before treading the path, one should remain grateful and blessed for the abundance provided by nature. Half the job gets done by feeling the blessings.

Effort, skill and courage are prerequisites for brewing this heady cocktail. Achievers tap the potential from the depths of their minds and hearts and conquer the fear of failure in the process.

The mind is that element of a person that enables him to be aware of the world and its myriad experiences to think positively and to feel the faculty of consciousness simultaneously purging negative thoughts in the bargain. One must dream big, even if ideas may appear outlandish to become high-end achievers and ensure to never kill an idea, however witless it may appear on the surface. That is the Audacity of Hope. Be it a Mandela, a Modi, or an Obama.

"The mediocre teacher tells. The good teacher explains. The superior teacher demonstrates. The great teacher inspires," writes William Arthur Ward. Successful individuals foster friendships and build trust. There is no deficit in trust. They respect colleagues and only symphony is orchestrated in the environment. There is no room for any cacophony.

Gurudev Sri Sri Ravi Shankar always differentiates between mere hearing and the art of listening. Listening is a trait of a humble person; while hearing is the character of a brusque and an inaccessible person. An achiever is available to all his followers 24*7, 365 days a year. Achievers are adaptable to new ideas, thought processes, abstractions and intentions. Their minds are not closeted by achievements or failures of the past and continuously live in the present moment. This is the trademark of their personality.

Those who are high achievers are not driven by amassing wealth. Such trailblazers and trendsetters are continuous learners. Leadership implies 3Ls for them. These are learned, learn some more and learn even more. Top-grade sportsmen, artists and scientists are compulsive learners and are humble about their achievements. There is only one path from the top and that is downhill. High-end achievers never believe that they have reached the summit or the pinnacle or that they are too powerful.

Such a conjecture smacks of capriciousness and arrogance and that would be their nemesis. Every successful career is a lesson in humility. Rewards and recognition are meant to act as motivators, not create a glass ceiling of conceit.

Achievers are surrounded by positive-oriented people and positive thoughts, as negative emotions are a big drain on resources. It is important to ascertain positive feedback and build on the synergy of the group. Understanding group dynamics is an important physical and psychological tool. They glean synergies of any joint venture. Achievers always work with teams and individuals who share their values, they possess long-term vision inherently and believe in themselves and the set goals. They direct the wind and the sails. Such people need to build on their strengths and those of the organisation. It is essential and paramount to prioritise targets, the mission and vision Statements, identify a self-do list and focus on projects that can be delegated.

Electric tractors for electrifying agriculture

AS MITTAL

These technological marvels promise not only to rejig farming practices but also to mitigate the industry's environmental footprint

Climate change is an issue of utmost importance that the world is currently facing and it is a challenge that is complex and multifaceted. Particularly the agriculture sector is vulnerable, as greenhouse gas emissions are being released into the atmosphere, causing extreme weather conditions such as heat waves and floods. This is directly impacting crop productivity and farmers' livelihoods, which is a significant threat to global food security.

To counter this challenge, we must adopt environmentally friendly cultivation and processing methods. Electric tractors are one of the globally emerging excellent alternatives for future farming. It can reduce farming costs and zero emissions effectively addressing the issue of a sustainable environment and reducing our dependence on imports of crude oil.

As the world's largest tractor manufacturer, India sells over 1 million tractors annually. However, the adoption of electric tractors has been slower than other electric vehicles (EVs) like two-wheelers, three-wheelers, passenger cars and electric buses. It's time to take action and promote electric tractors. This will foster an environment for mass adoption and position India as a global exporter of electric tractors. To achieve this, we must integrate electric tractors into incentivised EV policies. It's unacceptable that no incentives are being offered for electrifying tractors.

Electric Tractors Could be Fetched in FAME-3 Scheme: The FAME-2 scheme (April 2019-March 2024) was a central Government subsidy that aims to promote the Fast Adoption and Manufacturing of Hybrid and Electric Vehicles (FAME). The scheme ended on 31st March, with a total outlay of Rs 10,000 crore to support the production of 7,000 electric buses, half a million electric three-wheelers, 55,000 electric passenger cars and one million electric two-wheelers. However, the scheme excludes electric tractors, which means that manufacturers cannot significantly reduce the cost of producing electric tractors.

The Ministry of Heavy Industries has recently proposed the FAME-3 scheme, which has an outlay of Rs 12,600. The scheme is expected to be implemented after the Lok Sabha elections. Farmers are hoping that the scheme will include electric tractors, which will reduce their costs significantly. With a subsidy of up to Rs 2.4 lakh (capped at 40 per cent of the tractor's base price), the burden of high purchasing costs on farmers will be greatly reduced.

To promote the use of electric vehicles, several States such as Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Madhya Pradesh offer concessions or a waiver on the road tax between 50 per cent and 100 per cent. Other States, including Delhi, Gujarat, Maharashtra and Rajasthan, offer direct cash incentives on top of the road tax waiver through a similar approach to the central FAME scheme. The incentives range from Rs 2,500 to Rs 10,000 and the subsidy cap ranges from Rs 60,000 to Rs 2.5 lakh, depending on the battery capacity. Punjab and Haryana offer incentives (up to 40 per cent of the ex-showroom price) for e-tractors in their EV policies. Other key agricultural States should consider following this approach to promote sustainable agricultural practices.

Rationalisation of Taxes: Tax rationalisation has proven to be an effective way of promoting electric vehicles through discounted taxes and insurance fees. The existing fiscal incentives provided for zero-emission motor vehicles should be extended to zero-emission tractors as well. While electric vehicles are charged a reduced GST of 5 per cent, e-tractors are still taxed at the same rate as diesel tractors, which is 12 per cent. Additionally, electric vehicles receive a 15 per cent discount on third-party insurance premiums, whereas this provision is not available for e-tractors. The International Council on Clean Transportation (ICCT) has analysed that reducing the GST to 5 per cent or even nil and providing discounted insurance would reduce the cost gap between electric and diesel tractors by almost 40 per cent.

Infrastructure Development: Investing in charging infrastructure for electric tractors, especially in rural areas, is crucial for the rural economy to meet India's development goals by 2047. Using corporate social responsibility (CSR) funds for this purpose and establishing a charging station network with incentives will ensure widespread accessibility and convenience for farmers.

To increase demand for electric tractors, it's important to introduce them into custom hiring centres for agricultural machinery. This will help farmers experience the benefits of electric tractors and mitigate challenges related to charging and maintenance.

R&D Investments & Training: Allocating funds for research and development in electric tractor technology can lead to innovation, efficiency improvement and cost reduction. Encouraging collaboration between Government agencies, agricultural research institutions such as the Indian Council for Agricultural Research and the manufacturers would speed up technological advancements in the sector. Developing and certifying testing and quality assurance standards for electric tractors can attract manufacturers to this sector, addressing supply-side constraints. Institutes like the Central Farm Machinery Training & Testing Institute can set manufacturing, operational and performance standards for various electric tractors based on power output, design and usage purposes. Training and skill development initiatives for farmers, technicians and service providers on electric tractor operation, maintenance and repair are crucial. Empowering stakeholders with the necessary knowledge and skills will facilitate the transition to electric tractors and ensure their effective use in agricultural operations.

Zero Emissions in Electric Tractor: A study by the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change, reveals that the agriculture sector in India is responsible for almost 14 per cent of the country's greenhouse gas emissions, with diesel-powered machinery playing a major role. However, electric tractors could be a solution to these challenges.

Currently, most tractors used in India are powered by diesel, which accounts for approximately 7.4 per cent of the country's annual diesel consumption, equivalent to the amount consumed by buses. While incentives have been introduced to encourage the electrification of buses, no such incentives have been introduced for tractors.

The adoption of electric tractors presents some challenges, such as the initial cost, infrastructure development and promoting their use among farmers. Diesel-powered machinery, notably tractors, accounts for approximately 12-15 per cent of the total cost of agricultural production, which varies by crop type and geographical region. However, electric tractors have many advantages, including zero-emission and a reduction in fuel and maintenance costs due to having fewer moving parts.

According to a study by the Indian Agricultural Research Institute (IARI), electric tractors could reduce maintenance costs by up to 40 per cent over their lifetime, providing a more reliable, environment friendly and cost-effective option for farmers. The Way Forward: India's tractor manufacturers have developed advanced technology and moved beyond incentives to introduce electric tractors. However, the primary challenge at present is the cost. On-road zero-emission electric tractors cost 40 to 50 per cent more than diesel tractors. This high cost could deter farmers, even though electric tractors are more cost-effective when used in the field. Urgent support from the Government is needed in the early stages of the market to bridge the cost gap between e-tractors and diesel-driven tractors.

Central and State-level incentives would send a positive signal to the industry to invest more in zero-emission tractors. Additionally, this aligns with India's goal of improving air quality and energy security and has the potential to boost India's tractor exports. Countries such as the US, Europe, Japan and Canada have implemented strict regulations for tractor emissions and have expressed interest in decarbonising farm machinery.

The global electric tractor market is projected to grow from USD 0.7 billion in 2024 to USD 3.4 billion by 2030, presenting a strategic opportunity for India to leverage its manufacturing capabilities. It can enhance its economic competitiveness, play a pivotal role in achieving net-zero emissions, strengthen the rural economy and shape a sustainable and resilient farm future.

AI is revolutionising sustainable, tech-driven farming

By harnessing data-driven insights, AI empowers farmers to optimise resource allocation, mitigate environmental degradation and enhance crop yields

Artificial intelligence (AI) in agriculture is expected to increase dramatically food waste, climate change and other issues lead approximately one billion people to remain hungry and malnourished even though the globe produces enough food to feed everyone. With 9.7 billion people expected to inhabit the planet by 2050, the agriculture sector is under increasing pressure to provide food with less resource use and less environmental effect. Thankfully, the application of artificial intelligence (AI) in agriculture has promise for revolutionising food systems and mitigating the world food issue. AI can assist farmers in making data-driven choices, optimising resource consumption and minimising environmental effects by analysing data from several sources. According to a World Economic Forum analysis, integrating AI into agriculture might result in a 60 per cent reduction in the use of pesticides and a 50 per cent reduction in water usage.

Market demand analysis is an essential component of contemporary agriculture. In addition to analysing meteorological data and satellite photos, AI can assist farmers in choosing the best crop to produce or sell and offer insightful advice on when to plant and what kind of crop to grow. It is possible to forecast market demand for certain crops while optimising profitability by examining data patterns. Farmers may reduce the likelihood of crop failures by using forecasting and predictive analytics. This will create software applications that analyse fruits and vegetables and offer information on their quality, freshness and size using artificial intelligence (AI) and computer vision methods. In addition to identifying flaws and illnesses in crops, these AI technologies allow farmers to take preventative action before the crops are impacted. Artificial Intelligence (AI) can assist in the production of crops that are more weather and disease-adapted by gathering data on plant growth. Scientists can use AI to find the best-performing plant kinds and cross-breed them to make even more superior hybrids. AI systems are capable of reliably estimating missing nutrients and performing chemical soil analysis.

One of their products, Nutrient Scanner, gathers information from soil samples and gives farmers precise estimations of the nutrients that are lacking and the general condition of the soil. This enables farmers to optimise crop growth and minimise environmental impact by modifying irrigation schedules and fertiliser applications. AI can monitor the State of plants to spot and predict diseases, identify and remove weeds and recommend effective treatment of pests.

It can also suggest the most effective treatment for pests, reducing the need for broad-spectrum insecticides that can harm beneficial insects and lead to pesticide resistance. Farmers find it difficult and time-consuming to estimate crop growth and maturity, but AI can complete the work accurately and swiftly. Farmers can accurately forecast when crops will achieve ideal maturity by monitoring and tracking crop changes with the use of AI-powered gear, such as sensors and image recognition tools. According to studies, the accuracy rate attained by employing AI to forecast crop maturity was greater than that of human observers. Farmers may benefit from large cost savings and better revenues as a result of this improved precision. Farmers can precisely track the amount of water and nutrients in the soil by integrating sensors and AI systems.

Deploying devices that detect several factors such as temperature, pH levels, nutrient content and soil moisture might be part of the sensor-based soil monitoring process. These sensors relay data back to AI systems, which process it, evaluate it and advise farmers on the best ways to handle their crops in light of the soil conditions they have discovered. AI-powered technologies can help farmers identify plant illnesses and insects faster than people can. For instance, an AI-powered system might identify an aphid infestation on a strawberry field, transmit the information back to the farmer's Smartphone and then recommend the best course of action.

Through a linked sprayer, the device could even automate the spraying of pesticides if necessary. AI technology can be used to automate insect or weed control. Robotic weeding is supposed to be extraordinarily accurate with the use of computer vision, saving 90 per cent of pesticide use. These solutions use data analytics to determine how much pesticide is required for each field based on information about crop type, soil condition and field history. In the upcoming years, artificial intelligence (AI) in agriculture is expected to increase dramatically since it can completely transform the industry by boosting efficiency, decreasing waste and raising crop yields. The market for AI in agriculture is likely to develop rapidly, with a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 35.6 per cent expected to see the market size rise from $2.35 billion in 2020 to $10.83 billion by 2025, according to research by Markets and Markets. This will lead to more informed decision-making and improved crop yields, essential for addressing the global food security challenge.

PM's active role responsible for infrastructure sector turnaround: FM

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Prime Minister Narendra Modi active role and personal monitoring is responsible for the turnaround of the infrastructure sector, which suffered due to policy paralysis during the UPA regime, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Wednesday.

In a contrast to the previous regime, the current government under the leadership of Modi has spearheaded a shift towards prioritising infrastructure development and capital expenditure with an aim to bolster the Indian economy.

Taking a dig at the Congress-led UPA regime from 2004-2014, she said, "INC/India-led UPA (2004-14) wasted India's economic growth potential and left it among the 'Fragile Five' economies without focusing on effective infrastructure development. Under UPA, almost all aspects of India's economic needs were mismanaged or ignored."

The UPA government's noticeable and deliberate neglect of infrastructure creation not only denied India much-needed roads, railways, power, etc, but it also compromised India's long-term economic potential, she said in a post on X.

"The UPA government's term was replete with examples of decision stasis. Cost overruns, stalled projects and lack of timely approvals were common between 2004-14," she said.

However, she said, "Prime Minister Modi's active role has made the infrastructure turnaround possible. PM has personally monitored the progress of projects, even those launched earlier, through the PRAGATI platform.

"This led to the successful completion of long-delayed projects. Through 43 PRAGATI meetings, PM Modi has reviewed projects worth Rs 17.36 lakh crore."

Pointing out that infrastructure spending not only boosts GDP growth through its multiplier effects on consumption and investment, but also improves the long-term efficiency of the economy by reducing logistical constraints, she said, adding that a NIPFP study points out that every rupee directed towards capital expenditure in India increases economic output by Rs 4.8.

The share of capex in total expenditure dropped sharply under the UPA from 23 per cent in 2003-04 to an average of 12 per cent between 2005 and 2014, she said.

"It is also unwise to expect that @INCIndia would have learnt from their mistakes. INCIndia returns to their neglect of Capex and infrastructure. The 2024 Budget presented by the Congress government in Karnataka slashed the share of capital expenditure in total spending by 28 per cent," she said.

Imagine the opportunity cost lost due to Congress not investing adequately in capital expenditure, Sitharaman said.

"Our government significantly increased the outlay for capex. As a proportion of total expenditure, Capex rose to over 21 per cent in 2023-24, compared to just 12 per cent in 2013-14," she said.

India-UK trade pact: Work in progress to resolve pending issues

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

Senior officials of India and the UK held negotiations last month on the outstanding issues of the proposed free trade agreement (FTA) and the work is in progress to iron out the differences.

According to the commerce ministry, the Indian team visited London from April 16-19 for negotiations.

"The teams have made good progress and work is in progress in resolving pending issues. Chapter-wise textual negotiations are nearly closed and schedules on goods and services are at an advanced stage of negotiations," the ministry said.

The ministry, however, did not disclose further details.

So far, 13 rounds of talks have been completed. The 14th round started in January. There are 26 chapters in the agreement, including goods, services, investments, and intellectual property rights.

The Indian industry is demanding greater access for its skilled professionals from sectors like IT and healthcare in the UK market, besides market access for several goods at nil customs duty.

On the other hand, the UK is seeking a significant cut in import duties on goods such as scotch whiskey, electric vehicles, lamb meat, chocolates, and certain confectionary items.

Britain is also looking for more opportunities for UK services in Indian markets in segments like telecommunications, legal and financial services (banking and insurance).

The bilateral trade between India and the UK increased to USD 20.36 billion in 2022-23 from USD 17.5 billion in 2021-22. On the India-European Union (EU) trade pact.

FICCI and IESA sign MoU to foster innovation

PNS ■ BENGALURU

The Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) and the India Electronics and Semiconductor Association (IESA) have signed a Memorandum of Understanding to promote innovation, support the semiconductor and electronics industry, and strengthen supply chains.

The MoU, signed on April 14, establishes a framework for long-term collaboration between the two organisations.

"This collaboration will focus on establishing a joint task force on semiconductors and future critical technologies. The core objective of this MoU is to conduct technology consultative roundtables and foster business partnerships," said S K Pathak, secretary general of FICCI, in a press release.

Ashok Chandak, president of IESA, expressed optimism during the MoU signing and said, "By leveraging IESA's domain expertise and FICCI's influential member network, we are poised to significantly increase investments from Indian conglomerates in the semiconductors and electronics sectors."

'India has a strong mechanism to prevent dumping of goods'

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

India has a strong institutional mechanism to prevent dumping of goods from China, which may resort to this practice following the US proposal to hike duties on certain Chinese goods like electric vehicles, an official said on Wednesday.

According to a report of think tank GTRI, the escalation of the trade war between the US and China may push Beijing to dump goods in the Indian markets.

The US on Tuesday announced plans to slap new tariffs on Chinese electric vehicles, advanced batteries, solar cells, steel, aluminum and medical equipment -- an election year move that is likely to increase friction between the world's two largest economies. "We have our DGTR system, we have our effective anti-dumping system. So, in case somebody wants to dump it, we have all the institutional mechanism to look at it. We will do that accordingly," the government official said.

The DGTR (Directorate General of Trade Remedies) is an investigation arm of the commerce ministry that deals with anti-dumping duty, safeguard duty, and countervailing duty. These duties are trade remedy measures, provided under an agreement of the World Trade Organisation (WTO) to its member countries.

The official said countries want to cut down their dependency on China, particularly for important sectors like mobility by enhancing their capacities and the same policy is being followed by India.

"We are also building up our capacities. We are also taking various measures so that India should not have to depend on one country source for important sectors like vehicles," the official added

Increasing penetration of top brands to create more retail jobs: Experts

PNS ■ MUMBAI

As many top brands, both domestic and global, are expanding their footprint deeper into the country, industry experts believe it is likely to create a surge in job opportunities in the retail sector in smaller cities.

Experts also mentioned that there is a significant pool of untapped talent ready to cater to retail expansion in smaller cities. "We anticipate around 25,000-30,000 permanent and temporary jobs to be created in the retail sector over the next 12-18 months, and this number will grow incrementally on an annual basis. Interestingly, there has been an increasing demand for retail jobs with around an 18-20 per cent uptick in job applications over the last 12 months," Randstad India Director, Professional Talent Solutions, Sanjay Shetty told PTI.

Moreover, he said, with the entry of major domestic and international retail brands including apparel, F&B, FMCG, among others into tier-II and III cities, there is a growing appeal for non-metro areas amongst retailers, indicating a substantial potential for employment generation in these regions.

"With companies increasingly setting up operations in smaller tier II and III cities, there is a significant pool of untapped talent ready to cater to retail expansion. Previously, most retail jobs were concentrated in metros, leading to the migration of talent from tier II and III cities in search of employment opportunities," Shetty said.

Exports up to $35 bn ; trade deficit widens to 4-month high at $19.1 bn

PNS ■ NEW DELHI

India's merchandise exports rose by 1 per cent to USD 34.99 billion in April even as the trade deficit widened to a four-month high of USD 19.1 billion during the month, according to government data.

Healthy growth in sectors such as electronics, chemicals, petroleum products and pharmaceuticals has helped in registering positive growth in exports despite global economic uncertainties.

Imports also increased by 10.25 per cent to USD 54.09 billion in the month under review from USD 49.06 billion in April 2023 due to a significant jump in gold imports.

The imports of precious metals more than doubled to USD 3.11 billion in April this year. Crude oil imports rose by 20.22 per cent to USD 16.5 billion. Trade deficit, or the gap between imports and exports, in April 2023 stood at USD 14.44 billion. The previous high in the deficit was recorded in December 2023 at USD 19.8 billion.

In March 2024, the outbound shipments dipped to USD 41.68 billion from USD 41.96 billion a year ago.

When asked about factors fueling growth, he said that the company plans to expand the category, increase its market share and go for premiumisation in the category.

GOVO also plans to add more products and more segments in the near future, he added.

"We have a robust in-house customer service team. We are very closely in touch with all our customers, constantly taking their feedback, constantly taking those feedbacks and then taking whatever corrective actions are required," said Piyush Jalan, CEO, GOVO.

get endowments worth billions of dollars, so I hope that our alumni will contribute more to our institutions."

"Today our institutions are primarily dependent on government funding...I want to see more industry participation also," he said.

Concurring with him, Murthy said there is a need to change some of the archaic things; for example even today an entrepreneur cannot donate shares to academic or research institutions.

Lots of innovations are taking place in the corporate world, they are needed even in the academic institutions, he said and added, "If a young entrepreneur gives some shares, we don't have to assume that all of them will fail. So once the government starts looking at these innovative ideas that prevail in the industry, things will happen."

Entrepreneurs will not have much money, but they can give shares, Murthy, who is also Infosys co-founder, said and added, "Once the company achieves certain growth they (institutions which were given shares) will get a dividend, which will itself be very significant and they will keep multiplying value. So, even educational institutions will have to look at what our future will be 20 or 50 years from now."

Gopalakrishnan too said: "Some of our premier institutes will have to look at things like holding equity."

Philosopher, author, and founder of PrashantAdvait Foundation, Acharya Prashant, speaks to The Pioneer over an exclusive chat for our weekly segment of Community Wise, discussing the genesis of how the organisation was created, its vision, and more.

A journey within and beyond social transformation

SHIKHA DUGGAL

As a child, the founder of the PrashantAdvait Foundation was an avid reader! So, Acharya Prashant's father's library contained a diverse mix of literature, including spiritual ones. Texts like the Upanishads helped him branch out organically and multi-directionally. He wanted to know and deeply valued the words of those who did. Education at IIT Delhi and IIM Ahmedabad, a brush with the Indian Civil Service, and several years of corporate experience provided vital insights into how the world works. And the world, as he discovered, had too much suffering, ugliness, and ignorance. As a young guy, he did not enjoy and saw the shape of things and wanted to change it.

Spirituality, in virtually any form, fosters resilience and helps people see their problems in a different light. One way to conceptualise spirituality is as a sense of belonging to something greater than oneself. Within the framework of organised religions, it refers to the sense of belonging to a world that a higher power created and loved, and that's what this foundation does.

Sharing a little about the genesis of how the organisation was created, the spiritually minded founder continues, "At 25, I created a leadership course that combined wisdom and spiritual reading and offered it in several top management institutes. I taught on weekends with my corporate employment. This training led to the establishment of Advait Life Education, which eventually became the PrashantAdvait Foundation."

Scientific investigation and spiritual exploration complement one another. The foundation believes that the material truths of life reveal the spiritual truth. So they prioritise scientific rigour in addressing global issues. Spirituality does not contradict science but rather transcends it. "Our global volunteers help spread teachings. They play an important role in a variety of channels, including social media and releases. Our volunteers in information technology have created an in-house learning portal and mobile app with a massive reservoir of resources from diverse wisdom traditions around the world."

Throughout history, humanity has tended to operate from its primal bodily center. Despite the availability of great works of wisdom, the human ego misinterprets them and uses them for personal gain. Although the foundation has made significant progress in the outside world, they still maintain an animalistic and ignorant mindset within themselves. He further discusses how the foundation aims to develop a "new humanity" and the main concepts and practices that will help achieve this vision: "The new humanity understands that pursuing exterior growth without internal illumination leads to failure. Self-awareness, compassion, and discretion must evolve with science and technology. Our temperament should align with scientific principles, just as we consume scientific products. Unbiased inquiry involves exploring all areas of life, including relationships, aspirations, and value systems."

The foundation's use of technology has broadened its reach to a global audience and fostered a lively community of learners. So, you're wondering how? Let us get to know: "The foundation has accounts on multiple social media sites, providing global reach to various audiences. The foundation's YouTube channel is the world's largest knowledge channel. The foundation has created a mobile app that provides a more comprehensive learning experience for participants. Our instructional sessions are mostly delivered through the app, which has received over a million downloads."

Most spiritual words and phrases have lost their original meaning. Popular spiritual beliefs such as meditation, devotion, karma, and rebirth are often misinterpreted and harmful. Basic phrases such as God, love, attention, success, freedom, faith, and destiny are being misused, perpetuating false beliefs. Finally, the most common spiritual mistake is about "enlightenment". The founder stated that the foundation strive to clear up misconceptions. "The foundation's app, has regular participants who take wisdom courses with us. Again, thousands of comments are submitted here daily. Many comments are testimonies. Our participants like sharing their experiences, whether positive or negative, as well as their misconceptions and realisations. Transformative experiences often involve getting an understanding of important concerns for a full life, while others describe breaking free from old habits and identities." There is evidence of widespread change in people's lives!

Balancing individual enlightenment and social transformation, the founder is using several tactics, such as, "Personal enlightenment is a misnomer. It simply means 'to know' or 'to remove the obscurity of wrong beliefs.' It is not a supernatural or fancy concept. To be enlightened means to be free from the personal. How can enlightenment be personalised? Personal enlightenment is inherently meaningless. If enlightenment is personal, how does it differ from accumulating whatever in the world for 'myself'?" Spiritual processes are defined as disintegration rather than buildup. The process involves becoming less rather than greater! Self-centeredness can lead to violence against society. Giving up the need to do things for oneself might lead to better outcomes for others. Pursuing spirituality can lead to societal reform. Inner changes lead to exterior changes. There is no need for 'balance' if the inner and exterior go together."

The foundation's aim is to transform individuals to reach their full potential and create a beautiful and harmonious world. The foundation leverages wisdom literature to achieve this goal. Their mission is to make the core of world wisdom literature accessible to everyone. They gather insight from several sources, including ancient Greek thinkers and modern philosophers. Vedanta is central to the foundation's strategy! Campaigns are launched to raise awareness of climate change, economic and social challenges, mental health, and women's empowerment. "Participants in our live workshops on wisdom scriptures have already begun to support the foundation. I teach live thirty days every month. The foundation aims to challenge common misconceptions and promote intellectual spirituality. Connecting with my wisdom lectures helps realise the foundation's vision. Participants who unlock their inner light are empowered to have a positive impact on the world. Self-awareness empowers individuals to face personal, social, and global difficulties without fear. The foundation's aim is to make it a reality. Individuals who have experienced the transformative power of wisdom are motivated to spread the light to others. They contribute by devoting time, effort, and resources to the mission," he added. Advaita Vedanta's spiritual teacher is also an environmental, science, and anti-superstition activist, advocating for human freedom.

Subhendra Rao, a composer and sitar performer, speaks exclusively to The Pioneer about being Ravi Shankar's protégé, being recognised by reviewers as a worthy successor, and more

A sonic voyage with one of Ravi Shankar's protégés!

SUBODHINI PUROHIT

Have you ever wondered who orchestrates the symphony of strings that crosses cultures and borders? Meet Subhendra Rao, a virtuoso whose sitar strings tell stories of melody. Rao's musical journey began in Mysore, where he was mentored by the renowned Ravi Shankar. But his journey is more than just mastering notes; it's one of love, dedication, and a drive to reimagine classical music's resonance in a worldwide context. Ready to go on a sonic journey with this virtuoso?

Subhendra Rao and his wife embarked on a musical journey, conjuring harmonies that go beyond mere notes and creating stories that speak to the spirit. In their joint symphony, creativity knows no limitations as they mix intellect, passion, and a shared vision, like Yathra and The Red Flower. He explains, "In recent years, my wife and I have collaborated on the majority of my works. We brainstorm ideas together, undertake extensive research, and constantly generate new thoughts. Even during practice sessions, ideas flow continuously. We strive to make music that is consistent with our selected topics. Every piece of music, in my opinion, must tell a story, whether it be one of loss, happiness, or joy. That is the beauty of music: it allows us to convey anything."

On a melodious trip that crosses countries, he becomes immersed in a tapestry of varied musical partnerships. "For example, I recently had the privilege of playing with an orchestra band. The composition was not mine; it belonged to my guru. It was a nice experience. I have cooperated with Chinese musicians on one of my tunes. In addition, I got the opportunity to collaborate with Israel's East-West Orchestra. These interactions, in which we both give and learn, are extremely memorable."

Along with his wife, he became an ambassador for a musical revolution, passionately fighting for the incorporation of music into educational systems. For them, music isn't just a cultural artifact; it's a dynamic force that breathes life into learning. "I believe Indian classical music has always evolved, making it relevant to current day. It is not stagnant; rather, it adapts to the times while maintaining its traditions without being rigid. My wife and I are big advocates for incorporating music into the educational system."

He goes on to argue that music is often disregarded in schooling, yet he believes it holds the secret to promoting harmony and peace in society. Every kid should have access to quality music education from a young age, as it not only promotes artistic expression but also improves learning in other disciplines such as math and science. In its early years, music was more than just an art form; it was also a comprehensive teaching instrument. He explains that as an artist, inspiration can come from anywhere, including nature and movies. Whether it's a play, a movie, a picture, or nature's beauty, each has enormous creative potential. Even simple things, such as the sound of birds tweeting, can provide inspiration.

Drawing connections between the alchemy of chemistry and the artistry of music, he enters the domain of fusion with a scientist's curiosity and a musician's passion. "As a chemistry student, fusion teaches us that when two elements join to form a third chemical, it takes on properties from both, resulting in something new. Similarly, in music, fusion strives to harmonise disparate traditions. This fusion, which can also be seen as collaboration or experimentation, necessitates a thorough understanding of each tradition involved. I am continually pushing the frontiers of fusion, hoping to produce novel and exciting musical experiences."

In the grandeur of the Sydney Opera House, where the air crackles with expectancy and every note hangs suspended in the ether, his sitar strings on an unexpected journey of their own. In a twist of destiny evocative of a theatrical script, he reveals, "At the Sydney Opera House concert, I changed my sitar strings the day before to guarantee everything went properly. However, five to seven minutes into the concert, my primary string snapped, prompting a brief delay as I gathered my composure. Then, during the concert, I heard an unusual sound, and upon further inquiry, we discovered that the tabla player's tabla had cracked. Fortunately, we had an extra tabla on hand.

Despite these obstacles, the show carried on, but in the second half, the replacement primary string on the sitar broke again. It was an unusual experience, but the chance to sing at the Sydney Opera House is a genuinely wonderful memory."

He and his wife founded the Subhendra and Saskia Rao Foundation too, in the symphony of education, striking a chord far beyond the classroom walls. He says, "The credit goes to my wife, who created India's first instructional music curriculum for young learners, offering an organised framework for them to study. In 2015, we established it with the notion that music is everyone's birthright. We hoped to make music more accessible to everyone through outreach projects. We eventually developed a private company that served hundreds of thousands of children. The greatest joy comes when pupils say that music is their favourite subject. After all, we play music, and it should be enjoyable for pupils."

Success is not found only in the spotlight, but also in the quiet hours of practice. With sage wisdom and maestro insight, Rao dispels the myth that the stage is the ultimate destination for young artists, saying, "In any profession, particularly music, success is founded on practice. When parents inquire about their children's stage preparation, it is critical to clarify that performing on stage is a byproduct of constant practice and should not be the primary objective. The essence is to appreciate the music while refining one's talents. The stage comes easily after devotion and hours of practice; it should not be the first goal when starting."

Music crosses all boundaries, reverberating across continents and civilisations with universal resonance. He claims, "Music truly is a worldwide language, as I witnessed firsthand during a performance in Brazil last year. Many in the crowd were hearing this music for the first time, and due to language barriers—I do not speak Portuguese, and other attendees do not understand English—music became our main method of contact. After the concert, when people shared their emotions, whether via tears or through interpreters, it was a tremendously touching experience unlike any other I'd had."

How to decide: implant vs. flap breast reconstruction surgery?

Breast reconstruction surgery after a mastectomy or breast removal operation is more about achieving the natural feel or look of breasts, restoring the breast mounds, and achieving symmetry than just enhancing the volume or shape. Even though both options—implant surgery and flap surgery—to reconstruct the breast can provide excellent cosmetic results, it is important to decide in close collaboration with your plastic surgeon. However, most often, flap reconstruction, meaning reconstruction of breasts using the patient's body tissue (also known as autologous tissue reconstruction or tissue-based reconstruction), either immediate or delayed reconstruction, is recommended. However, using a tissue flap option cannot always be the case for breast reconstruction after mastectomy, as there are several personal and medical reasons requiring assessment prior to recommending a specific option. Evaluating one's medical and problem status is crucial when deciding the right option. In addition, the type of breast cancer and body type also play a pivotal role when deciding the reconstruction option, aiming to achieve aesthetic results!

Some women may report donor site problems, such as abdominal bulging, weakness, or contour irregularities, such as dimpling of the skin.

When is flap reconstruction surgery performed?

Many patients get flap reconstruction surgery to rebuild their breasts immediately after breast removal surgery, known as immediate reconstruction. However, one may require a second surgery later on to improve the shape, volume, and contour of reconstructed breasts that weight fluctuations, aging, or other lifestyle changes can impact. One must note that they may not be recommended for immediate flap reconstruction surgery if they have inflammatory breast cancer or need radiation therapy!

In most cases, flap reconstruction surgery can be performed as a separate procedure post breast removal surgery, known as delayed reconstruction, when a patient might want more time to decide if breast reconstruction is the right choice in their specific case.

Breast reconstruction with implants:

A breast implant is the most common form of breast reconstruction. In reconstructive plastic surgery, implants are inserted into your chest to enhance the size of your breasts.

Breast reconstruction with implants is undoubtedly easier, safer, and result-centric, leaving minimal scars and having shorter downtime. But, in some cases, tissue flap procedures can be used with a breast implant if more volume is needed.

What is breast reconstruction using a flap procedure?

A tissue flap procedure (autologous tissue reconstruction), or tissue-based reconstruction, is the method of reconstructing or rebuilding the shape of your breasts after cancer treatment (mastectomy or breast removal surgery). To rebuild the breast shape, a tissue flap surgery involves harvesting the tissue from other body parts (called donor areas), such as the tummy, back, thighs, or buttocks. The tissue flap gives a more natural look and feel and has no risks of infection or side effects, as the patient's tissue is used for reshaping or reconstructing the breasts. One must note that tissue flaps will change like any other tissue in your body. However, weight changes, aging, or lifestyle changes are crucial in affecting outcomes after a certain time. Sometimes, they may require a second surgery to meet the desired surgical goals.

Advantages:

- Flap surgery gives a more natural feel and look because the patient's body tissue is used for reconstruction.
- Stay warm at a normal body temperature.
- Flap surgery is free from the risks of rupture or wear and tear issues, and side effects are not the case with tissue-based reconstruction.
- Have white blood cells that can fight infections in your breast.
- If more volume is required, flap tissue reconstruction can sometimes be combined with implants.

Limitations:

- In general, flaps require more surgery and have a longer recovery timeline than breast implants.
- Flap reconstruction leaves two surgical marks, one from where tissue is harvested, such as the abdomen, back, thighs, or buttocks, and the second one on the reconstruction sites (breasts) to fulfill the breast reconstruction job.

Breast implants involve a silicone shell filled with either saline (sterile saltwater) or silicone (gel). Patients may choose to receive breast implants following the mastectomy in response to restoring the breasts post-cancer treatment. A patient must have good physical health and realistic expectations and should be mentally ready to consider breast implants after breast removal surgery.

Advantages:

- Reconstruction with an implant is easy, safe, hassle-free, and gives a longer-lasting result.
- It causes less scarring and has minimal downtime compared to flap surgery.
- The reconstructed breasts with implants do not change in size if you gain weight.
- It gives a reasonable shape for small and medium-sized breasts.

Limitations:

- Silicone implants require monitoring for rupture with an imaging study every few years.
- Implants are less mobile and feel colder than a flap reconstruction.
- Implants may not be recommended if a patient has had radiotherapy or if their chest wall skin is not healthy.

SUNRISERS LOOK TO SEAL PLAYOFF BERTH

PTI ■ HYDERABAD

Masters of their own fate right now despite being erratic, Sunrisers Hyderabad will hope their destructive batting line-up delivers when they take on Gujarat Titans in pursuit of a playoffs berth in the Indian Premier League here on Thursday.

Another win will be enough for Sunrisers to seal a playoff berth as they need only one point to ensure qualification. But the Pat Cummins-led side will also want to challenge for the top two spots, which is a possibility considering they have one more game after this match and a healthy net run rate of +0.406. SRH have 14 points from 12 matches and can reach a maximum of 18 points, which may be enough to ensure a top-two finish if other results go their way.

Not only are the Sunrisers players well-rested ahead of the clash against GT as they got a week off, their morale will also be sky high after notching yet another record-breaking win against Lucknow Super Giants on May 8.

If the bowlers did a commendable job to restrict LSG to a blow-par score, the opening duo of Travis Head and Abhishek Sharma made a mockery of the hosts by chasing down 166 in just 9.4 overs to notch a 10-wicket win at home.

SRH have made a habit of securing unbelievable victories throughout the season but they have also suffered sizeable defeats, including against GT (by 7 wickets) earlier in the competition.

The boom or bust approach by the batters has either done exceedingly well or has simply let the side down, including three times in the last five games, where SRH lost to RCB (by 35 runs), CSK (by 78 runs) and MI (by 7 wickets).

The 2016 champions would hope Head and Sharma deliver as SRH are heavily dependent on the explosive starts provided by the duo.

They will also want to do a better job at re-building their innings, especially while chasing. The likes of Nitish Reddy, Heinrich Klaassen and Abdul Samad need to manage that better.

On the other hand, the Titans, who have only five wins from 13 games and are on 11 points, are out of the reckoning and will look to end their forgettable campaign on a high.

GT AIM TO END CAMPAIGN ON A HIGH

With former skipper Hardik Pandya moving to Mumbai Indians this season, GT struggled to find a replacement for the all-rounder who was key to their title-winning run in 2022 and runners-up finish last year.

The absence of pacer Mohammed Shami, who was ruled out of the tournament due to injury, has also hurt them.

GT's bowling hasn't been as effective this season, with inconsistent pacers and leaky spinners.

Their last match against Kolkata Knight Riders was a washout but the bowlers showed promise by taking three wickets in the first three overs against CSK.

Mohit Sharma's variations and knuckle balls were particularly effective, and Rashid Khan's clever bowling was noticeable. They'll hope for an encore.

In the batting department, much will depend on skipper Shubman Gill and B Sai Sudharsan, who revelled in the role of an opener. David Miller has looked off-colour this season and his big hits would be crucial to ensure that the side signs off on a positive note.

Hopefully we get the momentum at the right time: Phil Salt

PTI ■ KOLKATA

Kolkata Knight Riders have been remarkable in the league phase of this IPL season and big-hitting opener Phil Salt is now hoping for the side to sustain the momentum and "put our best foot forward" in the play-offs.

Two-time champions KKR are currently at the top of the pecking order with 9 points following nine wins and three losses in 13 matches.

"It's about taking it day by day and hopefully we put our best foot forward and get the momentum at the right time," Salt said on KKR's Knights Dugout Podcast.

Salt has been one of the key players in KKR's impressive run to the play-offs, forming a formidable partnership with fellow opener Sunil Narine by taking the opposition bowling attack to the cleaners.

Left-arm pacer Mitchell Starc, Salt's colleague at KKR, said the team is desperate to regain the trophy they won twice in the past.

"I'm excited to get involved here at KKR and hopefully it will be a really successful season for us. We're here to get the trophy and that's what we're aiming for and hopefully we're going to do exactly that," Starc said.

The Australian pacer also shed some light on his return to IPL after 10 years.

"It's been a while since I've been here. Was supposed to be here with KKR in 2018 but I got injured. So it's exciting to be back and looking forward to it."

Meanwhile, Salt touched upon his first experience with the England squad.

"That was my first experience at being flooded with messages on my phone. I'm generally not someone who uses the phone a lot but it was an incredible experience. My phone was blowing up with messages congratulating me and it was great."

He went on to share an anecdote about facing Jofra Archer in the nets.

"I think Jofra is the fastest I have faced in the nets and that too from 18 yards. He bowls it at that pace from 18 yards with three bouncers in an over. It's good because it helps sharpen the reflexes but there have been times when he's hit me right before the match day and then all hell has broken loose," Salt said.

KKR play the second-placed Rajasthan Royals in Guwahati on the concluding day of the league stage on May 19.

Abhishek's performance in IPL this season will help him play for India: Markram

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Sunrisers Hyderabad's South African import Aiden Markram believes Abhishek Sharma's destructive IPL form would fetch him an India cap in the not so distant future.

Sharma, who is striking at over 200 in the ongoing edition, has 401 runs in 12 matches. He and Australian Travis Head make for an explosive opening pair and most recently chased down over 160 runs in a less 10 overs against Lucknow Super Giants.

Markram, who is the captain of the South African team, described the duo as "brothers of destruction" in an interview to PTI Videos.

"Abhi (Abhishek) has made massive strides this season. He was showing some really positive signs in the previous seasons and what he's achieved so far this season puts him in good stead for hopefully representing India one day," Markram said of the 23-year-old left-hander.

"He's got a very calm and level head on his shoulders and he'll take everything in his stride. But my fingers are certainly crossed for him to go to higher honours," he added.

IMPACT PLAYER RULE GIVES FREEDOM: Joining the debate surrounding the impact player rule, Markram said that the addition of an extra batter in the line-up has allowed teams to adopt a more aggressive approach.

"Naturally, when you have that extra batter in your batting line-up, you feel more freedom as a player. And obviously from the start of the innings, the openers feel that extra bit of freedom as well," he explained.

"I think we've seen it with quite a few other teams that have been doing it. So I'll definitely say that the impact players have created that and created probably a new brand of T20 cricket that happens here in IPL," he said.

Markram also commended the team's bowling unit, particularly the leadership of Bhuvneshwar Kumar.

"I don't think he's (Bhuvneshwar Kumar) ever lost it, to be honest. He sort of leads from the front in his own calm and silent way. It's been fantastic for us to watch.

"But the bowling unit as a whole has really confronted this challenge of the batters that's been happening this season with the scene of impact player. They found their own unique ways to try to keep the batters calm and also try to find ways to keep taking wickets," he said.

"But definitely someone like Bhuvu leading from the front, as he's done for many, many years, has been excellent for you," he added.

Markram hasn't had the best of seasons so far and has managed 199 runs from nine matches so far. The 30-year-old said he is happy with the effort he is putting into his game.

"I'm still feeling really good. IPL is a tough beast to crack and you as a player have to appreciate that. It's all for good reasons. For me, it's spending lots of time working on my game, working hard off the field as well.

"And if you get another opportunity, you'll feel ready to take that and grab that opportunity hopefully. And if it doesn't work out, then whatever cricket lies ahead, you trust that this preparation puts you in a good state for that," he said acknowledging being out of form.

Pant is an instinctive captain, he will get better with time: Ganguly

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Delhi Capitals' Director of Cricket Sourav Ganguly feels Rishabh Pant is an instinctive captain and his leadership skills will refine with time and experience.

The dashing wicket-keeper batter returned to competitive cricket after a painstakingly long rehab following a horrific car crash in December 2022.

The 26-year-old resumed his duties as the Delhi Capitals captain.

"Pant is a young captain, he'll learn with time. The way he returned from injury to play a full season; we had our doubts during the off season," Ganguly told JioCinema.

"Indian players are crucial, especially since the TATA IPL shifted to 10 teams. I am very happy for him that he returned to play so well over a full season. He has all my well wishes for whatever is next," Ganguly added.

Pant has time and again showcased his astute captaincy during the IPL, while he has also erred in his decisions a few times.

"With time, he'll become a better captain. Nobody is a great captain from day one, but he is an instinctual captain, he makes decisions on the ground. With more time, he'll get better."

DC ended their league stage with seven wins and seven losses. Although they are still alive in the playoffs race as they have a mathematical chance, but in all probability they have all but played their last game this season.

The likes of pacers Mukesh Kumar and Rasikh Dar Salam rose to the occasion a few times this season and Ganguly was lavish in his praise for the duo.

"You've seen Rasikh's development over time. The more matches he played, the better he got. It's not easy to bowl on the Delhi wicket. This wicket is great, and the ground isn't that big, so I think for any bowler, it isn't easy to bowl here. Rasikh has improved a lot.

"Mukesh has been our best bowler this season. He bowls all the difficult overs, whether at the start or at the death. There has been no match this season where we didn't need his bowling in the death," he said. "We knew that conceding sixes would lead to more losses, so he has consistently delivered there. Our Indian bowlers have been great this season."

Injured Rabada returns home from IPL, impact on T20 World Cup preparation unlikely

PTI ■ JOHANNESBURG

South Africa pace spearhead Kagiso Rabada has returned home from the Indian Premier League due to a lower limb soft tissue infection, the country's cricket board said on Wednesday.

Rabada represented Punjab Kings in the IPL, taking 11 wickets in as many games. Punjab have already been eliminated from the IPL play-offs race and will play their last league game on May 19.

"The 28-year-old consulted a specialist on arrival in South Africa and is being closely monitored by the Cricket South Africa medical team," said Cricket South Africa (CSA) in a statement.

CSA also said that the injury is unlikely to impact Rabada's preparation for the T20 World Cup in the Americas next month.

"His preparation for the upcoming ICC Men's T20 World Cup in West Indies and USA is not expected to be affected," CSA added.

South Africa open their World Cup campaign against Sri Lanka in New York on June 3.

PTI ■ NEW DELHI

Ultra-aggressive cricket, especially in the powerplay, has transformed the shortest format but it remains to be seen if the players can replicate it in the upcoming T20 World Cup in the Americas, said Lucknow Super Giants head coach Justin Langer.

IPL teams have scored 200 or more 37 times this season so far but LSG managed to achieve the feat only once — against Chennai Super Kings last month — and Langer admitted that they had struggled in the powerplay.

"The Lucknow wicket has been a real contest between bat and ball whereas a lot in this tournament has been very one sided towards the bat. So that's certainly, we haven't capitalised in our powerplay like some of the other teams have," Langer said after LSG lost by 19 runs to Delhi Capitals here on Tuesday night.

"...It's been absolutely amazing watching some of these powerplays. It's almost transformed the game. And

Ultra aggressive cricket transformed T20 but time will tell if players can do it in WC: Langer

whether people can continue to do this and whether they can do it during the World Cup, time will tell. But it's certainly been ultra aggressive cricket."

Defending 209, DC had reduced LSG to 71 for 5 but pace all-rounder Arshad Khan gave a real scare when he slammed an unbeaten 33-ball 58 before the hosts held their nerves to limit the visitors to 189 for 9.

"I think Arshad is a very good cricketer. You saw that he swung the ball early. He's a good fieldsman and to be able to bat like that, he's a very good package," Langer said.

"I've thought the whole way through watching this tournament that he's got huge potential and he showed some of that tonight. So when he becomes more consistent, particularly with his bowling, he could be a real handful and a very, very good all-around cricketer."

For DC, Tristan Stubbs was sensational as he smashed a 25-ball 57 and then returned to take a wicket.

"I think Tristan Stubbs, that wicket was important obviously. We tried (Deepak) Hooda when the two left-handers were in and he got a wicket for us two games ago, he didn't get one this game, whereas Stubbs did," Langer said.

"So I thought if we had been a little more intelligent with our batting today, that was a chaseable score on this wicket. He's (Stubbs) a very good cricketer. I've been seeing the power plays in the first six, but we're also seeing the way some of these teams are finishing off, and I think Stubbs is an outstanding cricketer."

Talking about the focus on match-ups these days, Langer said: "There's so much data these days, so when you do your analysis leading into every game and what often happens traditionally is left-handers don't have as much impact on the game against off-spin when the ball's spinning away,

"You saw Bispy (Ravi Bishnoi) bowled beautifully when they're spinning away, whereas when the ball's spinning back into the left-hander or the off-spin is spinning back into the right-hander, it tends to be more in the arc to be hitting some of these sixes.

"So generally the thinking is that the ball that's turning away from the batsman, left or right, is the way that most teams tend to match it up. Often when a wicket quickly falls, you look to get an off spinner on ... And the truth is, there's not too many Ravi Ashwins or Nathan Lyons in the world. So it's a specialist role, that's why often part-timers are used."

ALL INDIAN BOWLERS ARE DOING GOOD JOB: AMRE: DC are missing some key players but they ended things on a high and assistant coach Pravin Amre credited the back-up players and Indian bowlers for producing the goods.

"It's a new team, I look personally at many positives. As a find, Jake, Stubbs, Porel are good finds for us and even Rasik. I think last four games, he really contributed well and as an Indian, bowling in a death, I think that's a specialist job. He backed himself very well," he said.

"So I think last four or five games, all Indian bowlers are doing good job. I think that was very important for us, like the way Khaleel bowled, Mukesh bowled, Ishant bowled, I think that was very positive for us as a franchise.

"In IPL, you have to expect the unexpected. Harry Brooks was not there, then (Mitchell) Marsh had to go, also (David) Warner got injured. So auction table team was not playing but the back-up players came and delivered. To finish at number five, I think that's a special achievement."
