INDIA SWINGS INTO ACTION AGAINST PAKISTAN

Demolition of terror factories in Kashmir commences

PUBLISHED FROM:

s tensions between India and Pakistan are gradually peaking in the aftermath of the horrific killing of tourists in Pahalgam, Army Chief General Upendra Dwivedi Friday visited the Kashmir valley and took stock of the 'operational' readiness of the troops and ongoing anti-terror operations launched to hunt down the perpetrators behind the massacre.

The visit of the Army Chief assumed significance as it was taking place after the recent meeting of the cabinet committee on Security, where a series of extraordinary retaliatory measures against Pakistan were announced. Ahead of the visit of the Army Chief in the valley, the Pakistan army late Thursday night activated the Line of Control (LoC) at various locations by resorting to 'unprovoked' ceasefire violations. According to ground reports, these ceasefire violations were reported from the North Kashmir area of Uri to the frontier districts of Rajouri and Poonch in the Jammu region. Rattled by India's tough posturing, the Pakistan army was probably assessing the ground situation and the preparedness of the neighbouring country. On his arrival in Srinagar, the Army Chief was briefed by the senior officers of the Northern Command headquarters in the presence of Goc-in-C Northern Command Lt-Gen MV Suchindra Kumar.

The security forces are searching for a group of Lashkar-e-Tayyeba (LeT) terrorists, including four foreign and three locals, responsible for the Pahalgam attack.

At least half a dozen anti-terror operations were also being conducted at multiple locations across Jammu and Kashmir.

he Government is working on a strategy to ensure that not a single drop of water flows from India into Pakistan, Jal Shakti Minister CR Paatil asserted on Friday following a high-level meeting chaired by Home Minister Amit Shah. Paatil said Prime Minister Narendra Modi has issued a slew of directives, and the meeting was held to follow up on them and Shah made several suggestions at the meeting for their effective implementation. Earlier on the day Shah called up all Chief Ministers and asked them to ensure that no Pakistani stays in India beyond the deadline set for leaving the country.

Talking to media, Jal Shakti Minister Patil said "we will ensure that not a single drop of water flows into Pakistan from India". Government is working on a longterm plan to ensure the effective implementation of its decisions. Shah held the meeting to discuss the future course of action on the Indus Waters Treaty of 1960 with Pakistan, which has been kept in abeyance following Tuesday's Pahalgam terror attack in which 26 people were killed. India has already informed Pakistan of its decision to keep the treaty in abeyance with immediate effect, as the neighbouring country has breached its conditions by targeting Jammu and Kashmir with sustained cross-border terrorism. Paatil said India has sent a strong message to Pakistan that it will not tolerate terrorism at all.

India on Thursday announced revoking all visas issued to Pakistani nationals from April 27 and advised Indian nationals residing in Pakistan to return home at the earliest, as tensions between the two countries escalated over the Pahalgam terror attack that killed 26 people, mostly tourists, on Tuesday.

The Home Minister in the morning called up the Chief Ministers of all the States and asked them to ensure that no Pakistani stays in India beyond the deadline. The Chief Ministers were also told to identify the Pakistani nationals staying in their respective areas and ensure their deportation, the sources said. The revocation of visas does not apply to the long-term visas already issued to Hindu Pakistani nationals, which "remain valid". Government has also formally issued a notification to suspend the Indus Water Treaty. The treaty brokered by the World Bank has governed the distribution and use of the Indus river and its tributaries between India and Pakistan since 1960. The Indus river system comprises the main river, the Indus, and its tributaries. The Ravi, Beas, Sutlej, Jhelum and Chenab are its left-bank tributaries, while the Kabul river, a right-bank tributary, does not flow through Indian territory.

The Ravi, Beas and Sutlej are collectively referred to as the eastern rivers, while the Indus, Jhelum and Chenab are known as the western rivers. The water of this river system are crucial to both India and Pakistan.

n a swift and sweeping response to the deadly terror attack in Jammu and Kashmir's Pahalgam, which claimed 26 innocent lives, the Central Government has cancelled all visas issued to Pakistani nationals currently staying in India. This decision, aimed at tightening security, has cast a shadow of grief and helplessness over more than 1,500 Pakistani citizens residing in Uttar Pradesh.

DEHRADUN

Across cities such as Bareilly, Varanasi, and Rampur, Pakistani women can be seen with tearful eyes and packed bags, standing in queues at district administration offices or Foreigners Registration Offices (FROs), waiting for instructions on how and when to leave. Many had come to India for family functions, to meet ageing parents, or to celebrate weddings and births — never expecting their joyful visits would be cut short by violence they had no part in.

"I came to see my daughter who gave birth to a baby boy just last month," said 62-year-old Shabana Parveen from Karachi, holding her grandson in her arms outside an FRO in Bareilly. "I had planned to stay for two more months. Now I must leave in two days — how do I even say goodbye?"

The Ministry of Home Affairs has directed that all Pakistani nationals in India must return home by April 27, with a slight extension granted to those on medical visas until April 29. In Uttar Pradesh, DGP Prashant Kumar has issued orders to district officials to ensure the repatriation process is smooth and timely.

"All concerned district authorities have been directed to complete documentation and facilitate the return of Pakistani citizens by April 27. Those who tional fallout is undeniable.

are in India on medical visas will be allowed time until April 29," DGP Kumar said. Senior police officials are coordinating closely with local intelligence units to ensure that all foreign nationals are accounted for and that there are no overstays or violations of visa norms. "This is a proactive measure. We are working in coordination with Central agencies to ensure safety and adherence to international protocols," said a senior official from the State Home Department.

decision in response to credible threats. The Ministry of External Affairs is expected to issue a formal statement soon regarding the broader implications of the visa cancellations.

The abrupt decision follows the Pahalgam terror attack, which Indian intelligence agencies believe was planned by Pakistan-based terror groups. In response, security has been tightened across UP, especially in areas with a history of communal tension. Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath chaired a latenight high-level meeting to review security arrangements and ordered increased drone surveillance and foot patrolling ahead of Friday prayers.

People gathered for Friday prayers also staged a protest at the mosque's stairs, raising slogans against terrorism and expressing their anger over the killing of 26 people, most of them tourists, at Jammu and Kashmir's Pahalgam on Tuesday. Traders' bodies also took out an anti an anti-terrorism march organised by Delhi Hindustani Mercantile Association, the apex body of cloth traders during the shutdown. The traders had also taken out a candle march in Connaught Place to express solidarity with the victims. According to the Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT), several of Delhi's busiest commercial hubs, including Connaught Place, Sadar Bazar and Chandni Chowk, were bereft of their usual hubbub on Friday as over 900 markets and 8 lakh shops downed its shutters, to an estimated trade loss of around ₹1,500 crore for the day. the Centre on Friday sought the Supreme Court to dismiss the pleas challenging validity of the Waqf (Amendment) Act, 2025 and said there cannot be a "blanket stay" on the law as there was a "presumption of its Constitutionality". In a 1,332-page preliminary counter attidavit, the Centre defended the contentious law saying that "shockingly" after 2013, there were an addition of over 20 lakh hectare (precisely 20,92,072.536) in Waqf land.

"Right before even Mughal era, pre-independence era and post-independence era, the total of Waqfs created was 18,29,163.896 acres of land in India," the affidavit said. It claimed "reported misuse" of earlier provisions to encroach upon private and Government properties. The affidavit was filed by Shersha C Shaik Mohiddin, joint secretary in the Ministry of Minority Affairs.

"The settled position in law that constitutional courts would not stay a statutory provision either directly or indirectly and will decide the matter finally. There is a presumption of constitutionality that applies to laws made by Parliament," it added.

The Centre went on, "While this court would examine these challenges when the cases are heard, a blanket stay (or a partial stay) without being aware of the adverse consequences of such an order in a gener-

Muslim community itself) were the petitions to be unsuccessful would, it is submitted, be uncalled for, especially in the context of the presumption of validity of such laws." The affidavit said the pleas challenging the Act proceeded on false premise that amendments take away fundamental rights of religious freedom. It said the court can review a law on the grounds of legislative competence and violation of fundamental rights under Article 32 of the Constitution.

The Government said the amendments were undertaken after a very comprehensive, in-depth and analytical study by a Parliamentary panel having members from major political parties. "Parliament has acted within its domain to ensure that religious endowments like waqf are managed in a manner that upholds the trust reposed in them by the faithful and the society at large, without trespassing on religious autonomy," it said. The law, the Centre said, was valid and result of a lawful exercise of legislative power.

The affidavit said replacing legislative regime, enacted by the legislature, was impermissible. On April 17, the Centre had assured the top court that it would neither denotify waqf properties, including "waqf by user", nor make any appointments to the central waqf council and boards till May 5. A bench headed by Chief Justice Sanjiv Khanna is slated to hear the matter on May 5.

Fight against drugs must be won through united efforts of Khap panchayats, youth, women, teachers: CM Saini

aryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini on Friday said Khaps (Caste Councils) can play a key role in helping young people overcome drug addiction, which adversely impacts the entire society. The chief minister also assured that his government would provide whatever support the Khaps need to combat drug addiction.

Addressing khap representatives from Haryana at the PWD rest house in Jind after flagging off a cyclothon event, Saini urged them to launch a campaign to keep the youth away from drugs and support the goal of making Haryana a drug-free state. "We must save our youth from the harmful effects of drug addiction. It is crucial to engage as many young people as possible in sports, enabling them to bring home maximum medals and make Haryana proud, both nationally and internationally," Saini said. During their interaction with the chief minister, the khap representative shared their views on various Earlier, Saini flagged off the state-level 'Drug-free Haryana Cyclothon 2.0' from Jind under the pledge of a drug-free Haryana. Speaking on the occasion, Saini said the fight against drugs must be won through the united efforts of khap panchayats, youth, women, teachers, and all sections of society. "We aim to build a drug-free, healthy and empowered Haryana. This cycle rally represents the commitment to fight the drug menace, raise awareness and eliminate addiction through unity," he said.

He further stressed the need for awareness campaigns in schools and urged panchayats, municipal corporations, and local bodies to prioritize this issue and most importantly, for everyone to lead by example. He assured that the government stands with every individual who wishes to come out of addiction and will uproot the very founda-

Saini called upon every parent, teacher, and social organization in the state to join this fight against drugs. Talk to your children, help them understand, don't scare them, don't shame them. Embrace them with care. Drug addiction is not just one person's problem, rather it is a challenge for the whole society, said the Chief Minister.

Saini said, "The Government is fully committed to curbing drug abuse. We have made strict laws to crack down on drug trafficking. Agencies have been empowered to dismantle interstate and international networks. Special vigilance is being maintained in border areas. But more powerful than the law is a people's movement and this yclothon is part of that public movement. When people themselves become aware and spread awareness, real change happens."

The chief minister also said that khap panchayats have been an integral part of Haryana's social fabric since ancient times. "History is witness to the role these (khap) panchayats have played in resisting foreign forces and making significant decisions. Today, as we battle the social evil of drug addiction, their active participation in this cyclothon proves that khaps are not only guardians of tradition but also pioneers of social change," the chief minister said. "In the past, too, they've sent a clear message -- those who promote drug use will face social boycott, and those who quit drugs will be welcomed," Saini added.

Stating that the money earned from illegal drug trade fuels terrorism across the world, Saini said, the anti-drug campaign will indirectly help curb terrorism."If you see someone trapped in addiction, don't isolate them but help them get back on the right path. Social change begins at home, so let us all take the first step from our homes," the chief minister said.

The cyclothon, which began in Hisar on April 5, reached Jind after passing through various districts. It will now proceed to Barwala before culminating in Sirsa on April

Punjab to bring all offline services on Unified Online Portal

or efficient and seamless delivery of citizen-centric services in a transparent manner, Punjab Government has decided to establish a Project Management Unit (PMU) to provide all services related to various government departments through a unified online portal.

Chairing the 21st meeting of the Board of Governors (BoGs) of Punjab State e-Governance Society (PSeGS) on Friday, Aman Arora, Minister of Good Governance and Information Technology, said that the main objective of the PMU is to bring all the offline services onto a unified online portal, enabling citizens to apply anytime, from anywhere. The portal will also empower applicants to track the status of their applications and facilitate monitoring of service pendency at the Head Office level to ensure greater accountability and timely resolution.

The PMU will help in integration of departmental services with the Punjab e-Sewa portal, said Arora, while adding that a total of 846 services are notified under the Punjab Transparency and Accountability in Public Service Delivery Act and out of these, only 436 services are provided through 541 Sewa Kendras. Out of these services, as many as 406 services are being provided through the "Bhagwant Mann Sarkar Tuhade Dwaar", under which citizens can avail the 406 citizen-centric services by just dialling helpline no. 1076 from the comfort of their homes. To provide all services through single point of contact or Door Step Delivery, the remaining notified services would be integrated to ensure online accessibility, he

The Good Governance Minister said that the PMU would provide technical and functional support to the departments in digitising/onboarding their notified services and ensuring seamless integration with the online Portal. The PMU will act as a central agency for designing, monitoring, and facilitating the implementation of digital services across departments.

Meanwhile, the BoG also decided to conduct a comprehensive performance and impact audit of all Sewa Kendras operating across Punjab. The audit aims to evaluate the efficiency, transparency, and service delivery mechanisms of the Sewa Kendras and Door Step Delivery, ultimately working towards strengthening citizen trust in governance.

Additional Chief Secretary Good Governance, Vikas Pratap, said that this twopronged approach, encompassing a thorough audit of existing service delivery channels and a strong push towards online service integration, reflects the Punjab government's proactive stance in leveraging technology to improve governance and empower its citizens.

unjab Rural Development and Panchavats Minister Tarunpreet Singh Sond on Friday said that the Aam Aadmi Party-led Punjab Government has launched several significant and innovative initiatives aimed at strengthening Panchayats and promoting rural development.

Addressing a press conference, the minister stated that the government has earmarked a total budget of Rs 150 crore for providing cheques to Panchayats elected through unanimous consensus, out of which Rs 135 crore has been allocated for the current financial year. Last year, the allocation was Rs 15 crore. He said that 3,044 Gram Panchayats were elected unanimously during the last Panchayat elections in 2024. As per the Aam Aadmi Party's commitment, these Panchayats are being given cheques of Rs 5 lakh each, and on the occasion of Panchayat Diwas, the Chief Minister personally handed over cheques to five such Panchavats.

Sond further informed that 67% increase in the honorarium for Sarpanches was announced by the CM on Panchayat Diwas celebrations, raising it to Rs 2,000 per month. This initiative will result in an annual expenditure of Rs 31.70 crore from the state treasury, benefiting all 13,236 Sarpanches in Punjab. He highlighted that the honorarium, which began in 2006 at Rs 600 per month and was increased to Rs 1,200 in 2012, was never paid consistently. However, the AAP government is committed to providing this monthly honorarium regularly without interruption. As part of the government's fight against drugs, Yudh Nashiyan Virudh', Chief Minister Mann has also announced a cash reward of Rs 1 lakh for one drug-free village in each of the state's 154 blocks, a first-of-itskind initiative.

In another move, the Chief Minister announced the formation of an Advisory Board to ensure better coordination between the government and Panchayati Raj institutions. The board will comprise 3 members from Zila Parishads, 5 from Block Samitis, and 46 Sarpanches (2 from each district).

Punjab Vigilance chief, 2 other officers suspended in driving licence scam

he Punjab government on Friday suspended state Vigilance Bureau Chief S P S Parmar and two other senior officers in connection with an alleged driving licence scam. The government also suspended Assistant Inspector General, Vigilance Bureau, SAS Nagar, Swarandeep Singh, and Senior Superintendent of Police, Vigilance Bureau, Jalandhar, Harpreet Singh.

Additional Director General of Police (NRI) Praveen Kumar Sinha will hold the additional charge of Chief Director, Vigilance Bureau. Parmar was placed under suspension with immediate effect under Rule 3 (3) of All India Services (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1969, for "grave misconduct and dereliction of duty," according to an order.

The government suspended the officers for allegedly not taking action against the people involved in the alleged scam. Earlier this month, the vigilance bureau had conducted surprise inspections at regional transport authority (RTA) offices and driving test centres across the state, leading to the arrest of several people allegedly involved in bribery and malpractices.

The operation targeted RTA officials and agents who were acting as intermediaries, charging illegal fees to expedite driving licence processing or manipulate driving test results. Parmar, a 1997 batch IPS officer, was appointed as the Punjab Vigilance chief on March 26, replacing G Nageswara Rao. Before that, Parmar was serving as Additional Director General of Police

Lessons from Chernobyl disaster

Its remembrance day is a stark reminder of nuclear perils and human resilience very year on April 26, the world pauses to commemorate International Chernobyl Disaster Remembrance Day, honouring the victims of one of the gravest nuclear catastrophes in human history. It is not just a day of remembrance, but also a solemn call for vigilance — against the potential hazards of nuclear power and the far-reaching consequences when things go wrong. On April 26, 1986, Reactor No 4 of the Chernobyl Nuclear Power Plant, located in what is now Ukraine, exploded during a late-night

The blast released radioactive material across much of the western Soviet Union, affecting territories now known as Belarus, Ukraine, and Russia. Nearly 8.4 million people were exposed to high levels of radiation, with long-term effects on their health, environment, and livelihoods What made Chernobyl particularly harrowing was not just the scale of the disaster but also the delayed and inadequate response. The Soviet Government did not request international help until

1990, four years after the explosion, acknowledging only then the need for global cooperation in managing the fallout. History records only two instances where nuclear explosions directly led to large-scale human casualties: the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945, and the industrial disaster at Chernobyl in 1986. While the former were acts of war, Chernobyl was a stark reminder that nuclear technology, even in peaceful applications, can spiral into catastrophe without stringent oversight and safety protocols. Both events left indelible scars on humanity and taught us one crucial lesson: nuclear power is not merely a technological marvel — it is a profound responsibility.

In response to the disaster, the United Nations General Assembly adopted resolution 45/190 in 1990, launching a global movement to mitigate the consequences of the explosion.

Over the years, more than 230 projects have been implemented in health, nuclear safety, environmental restoration, clean food production, and education. In 2002, the UN changed its approach, focusing not only on humanitarian aid but also on long-term sustainable development. Agencies such as the UNDP led regional recovery efforts in Belarus, Ukraine, and the Russian Federation.

The launch of the International Chernobyl Research and Information Network (ICRIN) in 2009 further reinforced this developmental vision. Perhaps the most symbolic milestone was the 2019 completion and handover of the New Safe Confinement, a $2.2 billion engineering marvel built to encase the damaged reactor. Funded by over 45 nations, it stands as a global symbol of what international cooperation can achieve in the name of safety.

Technological advancements have significantly improved nuclear safety since 1986. Modern reactors are equipped with passive safety systems, improved materials, and fail — safes that automatically shut down operations during emergencies. International regulatory bodies have also tightened oversight, ensuring higher standards for reactor design, operation, and waste management. Yet, the core truth remains: no system is immune to human error, natural disasters, or unforeseen technical failures.

As the world grapples with climate change and searches for clean energy alternatives, nuclear power is once again in the spotlight. While it offers low-carbon energy, it also carries high risks — making it imperative that caution, transparency, and global cooperation remain the cornerstones of nuclear development.

International Chernobyl Disaster Remembrance Day is not only about looking back; it's about ensuring we never repeat the mistakes of the past. It's about remembering the lives affected, the lessons learned, and the enduring message: with great power comes great responsibility — especially when that power lies in the nucleus of the atom. Let us honour this day by committing to a future where nuclear technology is wielded wisely, ethically, and with the utmost respect for life and the planet.

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA MODI

A crime against humanity

As India reels from the horror, pahalgam massacre underscores the persistent threat of cross-border terror, the fragility of peace in Jammu and Kashmir, and the urgent need for a robust national and global response

n the deadliest terror attack on civilians in the country since the Mumbai mayhem of 26/11, a picturesque meadow near Jammu & Kashmir's Pahalgam, which is the most — loved tourist destination and mini-Switzerland of India, was marred by a heart-wrenching act of perpetrators who brutally cut short innocent lives, leaving the consciousness of the nation stirred and the entire community

The ghastly and barbaric attack was not merely aimed at tourists or individuals; rather, it is seen as an assault and atrocity on humanity that has shattered the subtle fabric of cohesive society, as the terrorists selectively killed innocent people pointblank only after identifying their religion

It appears that they have tried to create inflammatory narratives in India, which is currently fending off the kerfuffle caused by the Waqf Bill and communally charged

Aurangzeb rhetoric.
The Resistance Front (TRF), a splinter group of the Pakistan — based Lashkar-e-Taiba, is suspected of orchestrating Tuesday's terrorist attack in Pahalgam's Baisaran, which claimed 26 lives. The timing of the Pahalgam meadow massacre exposes the nefarious modus operandi of Pakistan, which has been the biggest enemy of nor-malcy in the Valley.

The assaults were carried out when Prime Minister Modi was visiting Jeddah for diplomatic engagement and bilateral talks to boost the centuries — old economic and socio-cultural ties between India and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

The attack unfolded while US Vice President JD Vance's ongoing four — day visit to India marked an important milestone for the diplomatic push to deepen bilateral dialogues during Trump's trade tariff global gung — ho.

The Pahalgam terror attack, which mirrors former US President Bill Clinton's 2000 trip to India when LeT carried out a Sikh massacre in Chittisinghpora in Anantnag district of J&K, could be seen in the backdrop of US President Donald Trump's reluctance to entertain Pakistan's Kashmir

The Pahalgam incident took place exactly a week after Pakistan's army chief Asim Munir made the most provocative comments filled with anti-India rants and called Kashmir Pakistan's "jugular vein." Pakistan, which currently represents hunger, poverty, extremism, terrorism, and economic decline — is at a crossroads as its military is reported to be facing the fire of internal rebellion. The terror attack in Pahalgam could be seen in the light of the hijacking of the Jaffar Express train by Baloch separatists in March, exposing the bluff and inability of the Pakistan army.

The failure of Islamabad to curb the Baloch insurgency has caused great concern for China, which has significantly invested in several projects, including energy, transport, and infra-structure, in Pakistan. Pakistan's failure to engage with tribal communities has fuelled the growth of armed separatist groups, targeting security forces, Chinese interests, and migrant workers.

The growing alienation of the population, driven by the denial of democratic and economic rights, has fuelled anger, especially among the youth.

The brutal attack on tourists, which rarely happened even during the heydays of militancy in the Valley, vividly shows the frustration and desperation of Pakistanbased terror outfits.

The barbaric attack happened just ahead of the Amarnath Yatra, which attracts huge numbers of Hindu tourists and pilgrims. The perpetrators aimed at blunting the sole growing tourist-based economy of J&K and tried to dismantle the perception that the Valley is steadily marching towards stabilisation after the abrogation of Article 370

With peace limping back to the Valley in the face of a slump in terror attacks in the Valley, lakhs of tourists have made a beeline to the Valley. It prompted huge investment in the region to win the hearts of tourists. As tulips bloom and tourism booms -

this year Srinagar has witnessed huge footfalls of domestic and international tourists. The growing tourism endorses the success saga of the Government and the engagement of locals and Kashmiri youths for harvesting income, heralding normalcy in the Valley. So, the attack on tourism was the obvious choice of militants and "Mullahs."

The Government response must be befitting and multi-dimensional to give a tight lesson to evil minds.

The Pahalgam attack is the biggest since the Pulwama attack of 2019 in terms of casualties. India's past retaliatory actions are still echoing. The Uri surgical strikes (2016) and Balakot airstrikes (2019) have formed the foundation of India's punitive responses. In its full-scale diplomatic retaliation, the PM

Modi Government took a strong stand: Keeping the Indus Waters Treaty of 1960 in Abeyance, Shutting of Attari Integrated Check Post, Stopping of SAARC Visa Scheme for Pakistanis, Cutting of High Commission Strength to 30, and Declaration of Military Advisors in the Pakistan High Commission in Delhi Persona Non-Grata. India's military response to the Pahalgam attack appears to be another defining moment in the turbulent history of Kashmir and could add a new chapter in dealing

A swift and strategic response will not only deter future attacks but also reinforce India's commitment to safeguarding its citizens and restoring peace in the Valley.

By addressing the root causes of unrest and strengthening security measures, India can ensure that such heinous acts do not derail the progress towards stability and prosperity in Jammu & Kashmir.

It is pertinent to mention a famous quote of Kofi Annan to end terrorism: "The only way to deal with the scourge of terrorism is to address its root causes and unite against it with unwavering resolve."

Towards economy with a conscience

uring the last two decades or so there has been a growing trend towards globalisation of trade and commerce and a free-market economy. The academic economists believe that these steps would give a spurt to forces of competitiveness, efficiency, better job opportunities and generation of more wealth and prosperity.

But one has to take into account not just these benefits but also the overall consequences of globalisation and the free play of market forces. As everyone knows, globalisation is only a small bit of economic philosophy or policy and one must know the all-inclusive worldview or philosophy of which it forms a part. Without viewing it in the full context, one may have an erroneous view of it.

Like, the globalisation of business and trade without a global view of society as a global family would lead to social tensions and economic strife and this is what we are experienc-

Also, globalisation in economics is an outward-looking view and if it has no corresponding inward — looking view, it would unleash bitter competition and in the absence of the inwardlooking balancing forces, it would lead to stark materialism and commercialism, diminishing or setting at nought the values of sympathy, kindness, compassion, world-brotherhood, the financial markets but create disharmony in human relaother countries where it has a better chance of profit by employing cheap labour, available resources, etc., whereas labour does not find it as easy to go to places where it has better prospects because labour has emotional ties with family and is affected by family circumstances.

Thus, due to better mobility and flexibility of capital in contrast to that of labour, international portfolio investors, and not the labour, would benefit the most.

Thus, globalisation would result in disproportionate profit to those who can invest capital and it would lead to uneven distribution of benefits and social and economic deprivation. Further, in a free-market economy, every player in the manufacturing sector would tend to drive others out of the market and thus competition would grow and stiffen and the financial markets, which are inherently unstable, would accentu-

Thus, the whole economy would never return to some kind of equilibrium. In this state of instability, the business and industrial class would tend to adopt all sorts of unfair means to prevent any dwindling of its profit and, thus, the whole atmosphere would be vitiated, for the portfolio investors would try to take the politicians and the bureaucrats also with them to

This would further give rise to corruption, black money and other evils. Thus, it is strange that our leaders talk of moral co-operation and so on. Thus, it would not only destabilise values on the one hand and of globalisation on the other hand without making any efforts to make popular a global spiritutions as well. Moreover, it's a known fact that capital tends to al view of society as a global family. One can see that the major flow from countries that have free — market economies to economic powers today dominate the multilateral trading system. They define and redefine globalisation to suit their nation al interests. This leads to clashes of interests and instability. Again, to assess the merits or demerits of a system, one should also go into the ideological base of a policy and take notice of its consequences.

We should ask ourselves the question as to why we want a free-market economy or a state — controlled one. We should be clear in our mind about our desirable goal and see whether a particular form of economy takes us towards that goal. If our goal is to remove poverty and great economic disparity and to have a society based on economic justice and fair play, then we should sort out whether globalisation or a state-controlled economy can do it better.

This should be judged by those who are neutral and have no vested interests in either form of economy. So, if in the present world situation, we must have globalisation, then we should have a global open society that has some sort of state control in certain sectors and constantly strives to correct and improve. In any case, a happy blend of economics and spirituality — both based on values — is necessary and, in the process of decision-making, involvement of such institutions as are neutral would be beneficial.

Letters to the Editor

A selfless act of a pony operator

attack India's soul.

Madam — I wish to pay my heartfelt tribute to Syed Adil Hussain Shah, the 30-year-old pony operator who displayed unimaginable bravery during the recent terrorist attack in Adil selflessly attempted to shield tourists he had escorted to Baisaran Meadow, ultimately losing his life in the process. Reports state he even tried to snatch a weapon from one of the terrorists before being shot thrice in the chest. His sacrifice is both heroic and heartbreaking. In a time marred by religious polarisation, Adil's actions remind us of the innate goodness and humanity that transcends faith. He stands as a beacon of courage and compassion — proof that heroism knows no religion. While extremists attempt to divide us along communal lines, Adil's martyrdom reaffirms the simple truth: humanity is our greatest religion. It is often said that a terrorist has no religion. But those who die protecting others, regardless of the victims' faiths, show us what it means to truly embody divine values.

In contrast, religious zealots who push a narrative of "our god versus their god" only undermine the very essence of spirituality. Adil's story deserves national recognition. Let us remember him not just as a brave man from Pahalgam, but as a true son of India. We must amplify such stories of unity and courage, and let them shape the discourse of

Bullish sentiment reflects optimism

Madam — The Indian stock market witnessed a remarkable upswing on April 24, 2025, with the BSE Sensex closing at 74,339.44 — an increase of 486.50 points (0.66 per cent). The NSE Nifty too mirrored this surge, climbing 167.95 points (0.75 per cent) to settle at 22,570.35.

The momentum was largely driven by robust performances in the banking, financial, and metal sectors. Investor sentiment appears buoyant, with consistent buying indicating renewed faith in India's macroeconomic out-

Analysts attribute this positive trend to multiple factors: stable inflation rates, proactive fiscal policies, and strong corporate earnings.

Foreign investment has also shown encouraging signs, reflecting global confidence in India's economic resilience. These gains are not just numbers — they signify broader economic stability and the potential for sustained growth.

A bullish market often translates into increased consumer and business confidence, spurring spending, job creation, and infrastructural development.

However, while optimism is warranted, it's essential to remain cautious and well-informed. Markets can be volatile, and policy decisions — both domestic and international can influence future trends. Nevertheless, this surge offers a promising indicator for investors and the economy at large.

An urgent appeal against rising hate

Madam — It is deeply distressing to witness the growing atmosphere of hostility and organised propaganda against minorities, particularly Muslims, in our country. As the world's largest democracy, India should be a model of coexistence and inclusivity.

Unfortunately, a segment of political and ideological forces seems determined to distort this legacy. Every day, Muslims are subjected to suspicion, hate, and vilification — under the guise of nationalism, patriotism, or allegations of extremism. These narratives are often propagated through media, political rhetoric, and social platforms, creating an environment of fear and alienation. The consequences are grave: rising intolerance, social division, and the erosion of communal harmony.

Such developments are a betrayal of India's constitutional ideals and its centuries-old tradition of unity in diversity. When citizens are targeted based on their faith, we do not just harm the targeted community — we weaken the fabric of the nation itself.

I urge your esteemed platform to bring attention to this pressing issue. The public must be made aware of these undercurrents of hate, so they can reject the politics of division and stand up for truth and justice. Only by confronting these challenges together can we ensure that India remains a truly secular and democratic republic.

PAHALGAM ATTACK: A NATION'S ANGUISH DEMANDS STRONG ACTION

his is in reference to the headlines and editorial on the Pahalgam tragedy (April 24). The entire nation is engulfed in grief and anger over this horrific attack.

While diplomatic steps such as suspending the 1960 Indus Waters Treaty, shutting down the Attari check post, withdrawing from the SAARC visa exemption scheme, recalling our diplomats, and asking Pakistani officials to leave are substantial in the long term, they fall short of addressing the immediate public outrage and sorrow. The statements of sympathy from Islamic nations to the victims' families seem, as always, perfunctory and lack meaningful substance.

These symbolic gestures do little to shake or impact Pakistan. The Jammu and Kashmir Government must accept accountability for this grave security lapse. Inviting tourists without ensuring their safety is a betrayal of trust. The popular Baisaran Valley, often referred to as "Mini Switzerland," attracts scores of tourists.

Yet, had there been adequate police or paramilitary deployment along the route, this tragedy could likely have been prevented. Tourists were left vulnerable, ferried on ponies through remote and risky paths by pony operators, many of whom are reportedly insensitive to the needs of travellers. It is time the Government reconsidered promoting Jammu and Kashmir as a safe tourist destination.

The Northeast, Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Maharashtra, and Odisha offer equally, if not more, breathtaking views without the shadow of constant threat.

Mere symbolic gestures - candle marches, market closures, and all-party condemnations - are not enough. It calls for another surgical strike echo across the nation, but the question remains - have previous strikes served as a deterrent? The public deserves justice, not platitudes

Building a new world economic order

A new, multipolar economic order is taking shape, led by nations like India, whose demographic strength, resource wealth, and deeply rooted ethos of fairness position it as a key architect of a more just and sustainable global economy

¬he world economy is in for a big churning, a severe shake-up. The reasons are primarily two — a debt-based capitalistic model of development and the dominance of the dollar as the international monetary currency, delinked from any traditional tangible material resource like

In the last 75 years, the economic models of the USA, Europe, and a major part of the rest of the world have been built on a typical capitalist ecosphere in which large funds, banking institutions, and a dominant global currency — the US dollar — have been the driving elements.

This model has begun to wear out, naturally, because it was unsustainable and out of sync with the fundamental economic principles that drive the economic growth of institutions, including that

It is the widely held view in the present times that economic growth occurs through the production of valuable goods and services and their sale to those who consume such goods or services.
But this understanding or definition needs clarification. Today, the economic growth of nations is defined and measured in terms of GDP, of which trade forms a major component. Trade here connotes exports as well as imports.

However, economic status depends on accumulated wealth due to the net inflow of money. Accumulation of money takes place through two modes — international trade and domestic production and sale. But for a nation to grow rich, it has to be sovereign and politically independent because the terms of international trade and domestic business need to be in tune with fairness and equity.

This was not the case during the British rule in India, which was a saga of depredation and plunder. This also is not true in the wake of an inequitable global economic order where rules of business are skewed in favour of the mightier and more influential nations.

The world economic order over the last 80 years since the cessation of the Second World War has been determined and drawn by the victor block of the war — the Allied powers.

The Allied power group created vassal or semivassal states out of the vanquished Axis power states and other states.

Military might created political hegemony, and this gradually transformed into economic hegemony through one-sided trade rules that perpetuated the poverty of third-world countries and further enriched the first-world countries.

The establishment of the UNO and its suborganisations did not do much to alter the tilt of the economic order towards the First World block. Things became worse 30 years later when the US dollar, the reserve currency of the world, was delinked from gold, thus giving it overriding and overwhelming dominance.

Growth potential was always with the resourcerich third-world countries, and the high econombecause of the changing power equations across based model of growth is

But these also could not give the intended growth impetus to the first-world block, because of the working of immanent natural laws of economics. It is time again today to look at the above natural able. The plunder or exploitation-based model is inhuman and naturally unsustainable too.

The world is staring at a new economic order

the globe. Today, military and industrial technology is not the sole preserve of the designated first-world nations of the twentieth century.

China, India, Brazil, and Iran are some of the - third-world countries that, besides being resource-rich, also have industrial and military technologies.

China and India possess nuclear arsenals, and even Iran is on its way to acquiring nuclear capability. So, neither military might nor economic might of the erstwhile powers can sustain the old world economic order.

The mammoth debt of China, pegged at 300 per cent of GDP, and of the USA, estimated at 36 trillion US dollars (more than 100 per cent of its GDP), is already showing its detrimental effects in both these countries, evidenced by the economic recession, inflation, and unemploy-

The Belt and Road initiative of China has landed in a quandary, and WTO rules are being thrown to the winds by the Trump administration in the USA

The new world economic order will, inex-

orably, see the decline and demise of the US dollar as the dominant currency and the emergence of a multiple — currency basket for trade.

The natural laws of economics are manifesting their work in the resurgence of India, and there seems to be no stopping the slow-stepped elephant after the dragon in its neighbour seems to have fagged out.

The unique positive naturally endowed features of India are its plentiful, productive Human Resources and its economically strategic agro-climatic location along with its rich mineral resources.

Today, this country is mostly free from exploitative interference and arm-twisting by global powers and is poised for rapid take-off to become a developed nation.

The new economic order will, therefore, inevitably, see a strong economic resurgence of the Indian subcontinent, regression of the eurozone countries, and a relatively slow growth of Latin American and African countries. The latter will pick up growth led by a resurgent India in the years and decades to come.

The Indian subcontinent, in its growth and development journey, will not indulge in the exploitation of the smaller and weaker states, unlike its colonial masters and their new avatars. It is not in the DNA of India to invade, conquer, and plunder other nations.

The Indian ethos underlines the philosophy of 'live and let live' instead of 'survival of the fittest'. That is another area where India is different and In conclusion, the global economic landscape is undergoing a profound transformation driven by the unsustainability of a debt-fuelled, capitalist model and the waning dominance of the US dollar. The era of Western economic hegemony — rooted in military might, exploitative trade practices, and the artificial supremacy of fiat currency — is rapidly eroding. Emerging economies like India, China, Brazil, and Iran, rich in resources and technological capabilities, are reshaping the balance of power. Among these, India stands uniquely poised for sustained and inclusive growth, bolstered by its demographic advantage, strategic location, and ethical economic philosophy. As the global order pivots toward a multi - currency trading system and more equitable partnerships, India's non-imperial ethos positions it as a natural leader in the evolving economic era.

The new world economy will not just be about wealth accumulation but about fairness, sustainability, and mutual progress - principles deeply embedded in India's civilisational values. A future rooted in cooperation, not domination, is now within reach.

Ramanujan: Eternal lamp in the temple of mathematics

On April 26, 1920, the nation lost Srinivasa Ramanujan a rare mathematical genius. His mathematical consciousness illuminated the world for eternity. This is not merely his death anniversary; it is a celebration of a saint — like devotee of numbers who elevated mathematics to the realms of philosophy and the divine

Then numbers resonate and equations seem to dance with the soul, one name echoes through the very fabric of creation — Srinivasa Ramanujan. On April 26, 1920, a dark day in Indian history, the nation lost this priceless gem.

Yet, in that moment, his mathematical consciousness illuminated the world for eternity. This is not merely a death anniversary; it is a celebration of a saint-like devotee of numbers who elevated mathematics to the realms of poetry, philosophy, and divine connection. Ramanujan was no ordinary mathematician — he was a mystic of numbers, a seeker of hidden truths, a visionary who saw the universe through the lens of infinite equations.

His story is a spark that turns the impossible into the possible. Born on December 22, 1887, in the small town of Erode, Tamil Nadu, Ramanujan's life was nothing short of a modern fairy tale. Raised in a humble Brahmin household, surrounded by financial hardships and lacking formal education, he faced walls that would

But his genius was a relentless wave that shattered every barrier. From a young age, numbers were his companions and his playground. While other children played with toys, he delved deep into the mysteries of mathematics.

School textbooks quickly proved inadequate, and he began exploring advanced mathematical concepts on his own. At the age of 15, he discovered A Synopsis of Elementary Results in Pure Mathematics by GS Carr — a book that became his sacred scripture. It fuelled his imagination and transformed his notebooks into treasure troves of original formulas and theorems. To Ramanujan, mathematics wasn't just about calculations — it was a spiritual quest. He often credited his insights to his family deity, Goddess Namagiri, saying, "Every formula that comes to my mind is by the grace of the Goddess." To him, mathematics and divinity were two expressions of the same truth. His work — be it infinite series, continued fractions, or partition functions — read like verses of a cosmic poem.

His formulas for calculating p are so elegant and precise that they are still used by modern supercomputers. His partition function transformed number theory, and his discoveries in theta functions and modular equations have found applications in cryptography, physics, and even black hole theory. The world took notice of his genius in 1913, when he sent a letter filled with groundbreaking formulas to the eminent Cambridge mathematician GH Hardy.

Initially sceptical, Hardy was soon astonished.

human mind; it is divine inspiration." Ramanujan was invited to Cambridge, and his collaboration with Hardy sparked a revolution in mathematics. The Hardy – Ramanujan formula on the distribution of prime numbers, along with their other contributions, are considered monumental achievements.

Ramanujan's greatest legacy lies in his notebooks thousands of formulas, many without proofs, that took mathematicians decades to fully under-century but are now essential in quantum physics and string theory.

His contributions to the Riemann zeta function continue to influence research on one of mathematics' most profound mysteries — the Riemann Hypothesis.

Yet, Ramanujan's journey was not without immense struggle. At Cambridge, he battled cultural isolation, dietary challenges, and the harsh English climate. Diagnosed with tuberculosis in 1917, his health deteriorated, and he returned to India in 1919.

Just a year later, on April 26, 1920, at the age of 32, he passed away in Kumbakonam. But though his mortal life ended, his spirit lives on through his work. The discovery of his "Lost Notebook" in 1976 reignited excitement and opened new doors in mathematical research. Ramanujan's influence goes far beyond mathematics. His story is a beacon for dreamers and doers who dare to rise above adversity. In 1987, India marked his birth centenary by declaring it National Mathematics Year. His legacy continues in the world's top institutions, and his life inspired Robert Kanigel's biography The Man Who Knew Infinity, later adapted into a global film. In his honour, December 22 is now celebrated as National Mathematics Day in India. Ramanujan's life is proof that genius needs no degree, wealth, or privilege. His journey is a testament to passion, faith, and the boundless potential of the human mind. His discoveries not only advanced science but also revealed a deep philosophical truth — that within each of us lies the power to touch the infinite.

Today, as we remember him on April 26, we do more than pay tribute — we renew our commitment to nurturing the spark within us. Like Ramanujan, may we turn our dreams into devotion. Equations may evolve and theorems may change, but there will never be another Ramanuian.

He is the eternal lamp in the temple of mathematics — forever radiant. His legacy is not India's alone — it belongs to all of humanity. As long as numbers are written and equations are solved, Ramanujan will remain immortal — a soul who touched infinity and offered its light to the world.

Srinivasa Ramanujan was not just a mathematician — he was a visionary who transformed numbers into a divine language. On April 26, we don't just mourn his passing; we celebrate a life that elevated mathematics into art, spirituality, and cosmic truth.

Despite humble beginnings and relentless hardships, his passion and genius blazed trails that continue to shape modern science.

His discoveries — ranging from infinite series to mock theta functions — remain cornerstones of mathematics, physics, and beyond. Ramanujan's journey proves that brilliance needs neither privilege nor pedigree.

His life is a testament to what the human spirit can achieve with faith, curiosity, and devotion. Today, his legacy lights the path for dreamers, thinkers, and seekers of truth across the world. As we remember him, we also honour the infinite potential within us all.

Ramanujan lives on, not just in equations, but in the eternal quest for knowledge he so passionately embodied. He is, and always will be, mathematics' guiding flame.

Dignitaries gather for Pope's funeral

eads of state and royalty will start converging on Rome on Friday for the funeral of Pope Francis in the Vatican's St Peter's Square, but the group of poor people who will meet his casket in a small crosstown basilica are more in keeping with Francis' humble persona and disdain for pomp.

US President Donald Trump and Argentine President Javier Milei are among the leaders arriving Friday, the last day Argentine pope will lie in state in St Peter's Basilica before his coffin is sealed in the evening in preparation for his funeral Saturday. The Vatican said 130 delegations are confirmed, including 50 heads of state and 10 reigning sovereigns.

Paying respects

Tens of thousands of mourners have waited hours in line to bid farewell to Francis, who died Monday after suffering a stroke at the age of 88.

A higher-than-expected turnout prompted the Vatican to extend the basilica's opening hours overnight.

By Friday morning, more than 128,000 people had filed past Francis' open coffin placed in front of the basilica's main altar to pay their respects.

Mourners filed past at times praying, at times holding smart phones aloft despite instructions not to — for a photo of the late pontiff laid out in red robes, a bishop's pointed miter and a rosary entwined in his hands. St. Peter's Basilica remained open most of the second night, closing for just a few hours. Mourners began arriving before dawn, and sprinted into the piazza when security reopened the flows.

Giovanni Guarino drove from Naples with his girlfriend to make their final scheduled to end at 7pm. On Friday, after which Francis simple wooden coffin will be sealed. Cardinal Kevin Farrell will preside over the closing and sealing of the coffin in his role of camerlengo, or interim Vatican administrator. A white cloth will be placed over the pope's face, and a bag containing coins minted during his papacy will be put in the coffin along with a one-page written account of his papacy.

We will see each other again

Roman neighbours and retired flight attendants, Aurelia Ballarini, 72, and Francesca Codato, 78, arrived to pay respects to Pope Francis on Friday for different reasons. Ballarini, grappling with grief, mourns the pope's death, which has left a void in her life. Though only 16 years younger than Francis, she saw him as a grandfather figure, starting each morning by logging onto Facebook to receive his daily greeting and respond with a few words. Codato, however, sought forgiveness.

"He gave everything, all of himself, until the end," said Ballarini, expressing her sorrow. "I spent the last two days crying. I couldn't even say the word after his passing. For me, he flew away. One day, we'll meet again." Codato, feeling immense guilt for forsaking Francis in favour of St. John Paul II, admitted,

"He was an outsider to me when he became pope." She now feels guilty after watching videos revealing Francis' deep humanity and closeness to ordinary people. "I came to ask for forgiveness, because I feel like a worm toward him," she said.

Cardinals are in discussions

The work of the conclave to choose a new pope won't start until at least May 5, after nine days of public mourning.

Cardinals have been also been arriving in Rome, with 113 meeting Thursday morning to discuss church business. They will meet again Friday before taking a Xavier Bustillo, who hosted Pope Francis during his last papal trip, to Corsica, last year, remembered Francis as "a free man" who "humanised the church without desacralising it".

He describe the atmosphere inside the meetings as "good", but said they were not yet "at the point of decisions; we are in

Papal burial

In keeping with Francis' embrace of the marginalised, the Vatican said a group of poor and needy people will meet the pope's coffin to pay homage to him when it arrives at St Mary Major basilica for burial on Saturday. It has already become a point of pilgrimage.

The tomb is being prepared behind a wooden barrier within the basilica that he chose to be near an icon of the Madonna that he revered and often prayed before especially during moments of solitude.

Photos released by the Vatican on Friday show the marble tombstone flat against the pavement, with the simple engraving in Latin that he requested in his last testament: "Franciscus"

Royals and leaders

Trump, accompanied by First Lady Melania Trump, is set to arrive on Friday, after Pope Francis' coffin has been sealed

Other confirmed foreign dignitaries attending the papal funeral include Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and First Lady Olena Zeleńska, French President Emmanuel Macron, British Prime Minister Keir Starmer, Prince William, Spain's King Felipe VI and Queen Letizia, Hungarian Prime Minister Viktor Orbán, and Brazilian President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva, alongside several high-ranking Vatican officials.

Wildlife gradually returns to Eaton fire burn area

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Los Angeles

Behind the remains of a town scorched by fire, the foothills are lush with new green and filled with birdsong.

Wildlife is returning to the Eaton Fire burn area and scientists are closely tracking it four months after the Los Angeles area wildfires tore through the Angeles National Forest and destroyed hundreds of homes and businesses in Altadena. Trail cameras installed by a group of volunteers documented the first mountain lion back in the area March 26. It was seen again as recently as two nights ago. "My first inclination was to share that to people who have lost so much during this fire and our community in Altadena, because it's a sign of hope that nature's returning, that nature's resilient," said Kristen Ochoa, a professor at the University of California, Los Angeles, medical school leading the effort.

Ochoa, a long-time resident of Southern California, first began documenting the plants and animals that live in the area known as the Chaney Trail Corridor in July 2024.

She founded the Chaney Trail Corridor Project and began uploading observations on iNaturalist, a volunteer-driven network of naturalists and citizen scientists that maps and shares documentation of biodiversity across the globe. Located right behind Altadena, with a trailhead only 1.6 kilometers up the road from neighborhoods that were decimated during the fires, the privately owned area adjacent to Angeles National Forest land was slated for sale and development into a sports complex. Ochoa and other volunteers set up a network of trail cameras to showcase the biodiversity of the area and take of everything that inventory was valuable."

Much of the land was charred and barren after the fires, and the group also lost all of its cameras, watching as photos of the flames were transmitted before they went dark. But less than two months after the start of the fires, Ochoa was able to go back out and install new ones to start documenting the landscape's recovery.

"The thing I really remember is coming here right after the fire — there was much birdsong," Ochoa said.

Many volunteers with the group are local residents who lost their homes and have told Ochoa that witnessing nature's recovery in the area has brought hope to them as well. While the fires were intense, they burned unevenly, leaving patches of trees and a small oasis of greenery around a stream untouched, providing refuge for animals.

Although no deceased animals have been found, reports mentioned an injured bear and deer. Heavy rain following the fires aided recovery. On a recent morning, Ochoa pointed out charred San Gabriel oak trees, sprouting green growth around their bases due to their deep root systems. An invasive bloom of yellow mustard flowers has spread, potentially crowding out native plants like California sagebrush and wild cucumber, a food source for ground squirrels. The group is collaborating with UCLA scientists to study how bats and birds have fared postfire. While setting up a trail camera, Ochoa noted bobcat scat and fresh deer tracks, with two red-tailed hawks performing a mating ritual overhead.

Pakistan Senate firmly rejects India's allegation

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Islamabad

mid growing tensions between India and Pakistan, the Senate of Pakistan on Friday adopted a res-Lolution firmly rejecting what it described as India's "frivolous and baseless attempts" to associate Pakistan with the recent terror attack in Pahalgam.

The attack, which occurred on Tuesday in the Pahalgam area of Indian-administered Kashmir, claimed the lives of 26 individuals, most of whom were tourists.

The Resistance Front (TRF), widely considered a proxy of the banned Pakistan-based terror outfit Lashkar-e-Taiba, claimed responsibility for the assault. The resolution was presented by Deputy Prime Minister Ishaq Dar and received unanimous backing from all political parties represented in the upper house of Parliament. The text of the resolution underlined that Pakistan remains "fully capable and prepared" to safeguard its sovereignty and territorial integrity in the face of any aggression, including acts of "water terrorism" or military provocation. While rejecting any link to the Pahalgam attack, the resolution stated that the targeting of innocent civilians was entirely against the values and principles upheld by Pakistan. It went on to denounce what it termed "an orchestrated and mala fide campaign" launched by the Indian government to defame Pakistan, accusing New Delhi of consistently exploiting terrorism-related incidents for narrow, domestic political gains. The resolution further criticised India's recent decision to suspend the Indus Waters Treaty, calling the move a provocation that amounts to

"an act of war." The treaty, signed decades ago to manage water-sharing between the two nations, has long served as a rare example of cooperation amid otherwise strained bilateral relations. In his address to the Senate, Deputy Prime Minister Dar informed lawmakers that the Foreign Office had briefed diplomats from 26 countries regarding the developing regional situation. He reiterated that Pakistan's armed forces are fully prepared to counter any form of Indian aggression, and warned that any military misadventure would be met with a robust and proportionate response, similar to past instances, firmly underscoring the nation's unwavering commitment to defending sovereignty and national interest.

While rejecting any link to the Pahalgam attack, the resolution stated that the targeting of innocent civilians was entirely against the values and principles upheld by Pakistan

The resolution followed a high-level National Security Committee (NSC) meeting on Thursday, during which Pakistan's top civilian and military leadership decided to put the Simla Agreement and other bilateral arrangements with India on hold. The NSC also resolved to suspend all trade with India and to close Pakistani airspace to Indian carriers, reflecting a significant escalation in bilateral tensions.

Additionally, the Pakistani government urged India to stop engaging in a "reflexive blame game" and to refrain from the "cynical, staged, managed exploitation" of events such as the Pahalgam attack in pursuit of its narrow political objectives. Meanwhile, the Indian government announced a series of retaliatory steps against Pakistan on Wednesday.

'Crimea will stay with Russia', Trump on Ukraine

S President Donald Trump said in an interview published on Friday that "Crimea will stay with Russia," the latest example of the US leader pressuring Ukraine to make concessions to end the war while it remains under siege. "Zelenskyy understands that," Trump said, referring to Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, "and everybody understands that it's been with them for a long time. The US president made the comments in a Time magazine interview conducted on Tuesday. Trump has been accusing Zelenskyy of prolonging the war by resisting negotiations with Russian President Vladimir Putin. Crimea is a strategic peninsula along President Barack Obama was in office, years before the full-scale invasion that began in 2022.

They've had their submarines there for long before any period that we're talking about, for many years. The people speak largely Russian in Crimea," Trump said.

"But this was given by Obama. This wasn't given by Trump."

Meanwhile, Russia has continued its bombardment. A drone struck an apartment building in a southeastern Ukraine city, killing three people and injuring 10 others, officials said Friday, a day after Senior US officials have warned that the administration could soon give up attempts to stop the war if the two sides do not come to an agreement. That could potentially mean a halt of crucial US military aid for Ukraine.

Houthi rebels shoots down seven US Reaper drones in six weeks

n under six weeks, Houthi rebels in Yemen have successfully shot down seven US MQ-9 Reaper drones, resulting in aircraft losses exceeding $200 million — one of the most significant costs incurred by the Pentagon in its ongoing campaign against the Iran-backed group. According to US Defence officials, three of the drones were downed just in the past week, indicating an apparent improvement in the Houthis' ability to target American drones operating over Yemen. These drones were carrying out surveillance missions or attack operations when they were brought down, crashing both on land and in the sea.

The escalation follows President Donald Trump's March 15 directive to intensify US military strikes against the Houthis. Trump pledged to apply "overhalts attacks on vessels traversing a vital maritime corridor. Since then, the US has conducted over 750 strikes. A defense official noted that while hostile fire is the likely cause of the drone losses, investigations are ongoing. The official added that heightened US strike activity increases the risk to American aircraft, but emphasized that the US would take all necessary measures to protect its forces and assets in the region.

Each Reaper drone, built by General Atomics, costs approximately $30 million and is capable of flying at altitudes exceeding 12,100 meters. Houthi leaders have publicly celebrated their success in striking the drones. One defense official listed drone losses on March 31 and April 3, 9, 13, 18, 19, and 22.

Meanwhile, concerns are mounting in the US Senate over potential civilian casu-

Senators Chris Van Hollen, Elizabeth Warren, and Tim Kaine recently wrote to Defense Secretary Pete Hegseth, questioning whether the administration is neglecting obligations to mitigate civilian harm. They specifically cited reports suggesting over 70 civilians may have died in a recent US strike on the Ras Isa fuel terminal.

Alongside drone attacks, the Houthis have launched persistent missile and one-way drone strikes at US naval vessels in the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden, though none have hit their targets. In response, the US has deployed warships, jets, bombers, and drones, with aircraft now launching from two Navy carriers, the USS Harry S Truman in the Red Sea and the USS Carl Vinson in the Gulf of Aden.

Defense Secretary Hegseth, who earlier extended the Truman's deployment, is considering another extension following whelming lethal force" until the group alties caused by the strikes. Democratic a request from US Central Command. The Navy remains cautious, as prolonged carrier deployments disrupt maintenance schedules and affect sailors' time at home. Last year, the USS Dwight D Eisenhower had to remain in the region for an extended deployment during intense naval clashes — the most sustained since World War II. The Houthis, citing solidarity with Hamas amid the Gaza conflict, have escalated attacks on commercial shipping.

Between November 2023 and January 2024, they targeted over 100 merchant ships with missiles and drones, sinking two and killing four sailors, significantly impacting vital international trade through the Red Sea — a strategic corridor that typically sees $1 trillion in annual commerce and supports livelihoods across multiple continents, including supply chains for food, energy, and medicine.

India advocates technology democratisation, offers DPI global collaboration

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ United Nations

ndia said it is expanding its Digital Public Infrastructure ecosystem into ▲areas such as agriculture and smart cities and stands ready to share successes with the international community, as UN leaders commended the country for its leadership in investing in this domain.

Minister of State for the Ministry of Commerce & Industry and the Ministry of Electronics & Information Technology, Jitin Prasada, said that the Indian DPI success story is a showcase to the world.

"DPI is all about empowering citizens, good governance, inclusive and sustainable growth at the societal level.

The future will not be built by machines alone but by the choices we make about how technology serves humanity," Prasada said in his keynote address at the event organised by India's Permanent Mission to the UN at the world body's headquarters on Thursday.

Prasada added that looking forward, India is expanding its DPI ecosystem into agriculture, logistics, smart cities and more. "The next wave will prioritise privacy and data protection, digital skilling and literacy, cross-border DPI partnerships, sustainability and resilience.

Artificial Intelligence is going to be a force multiplier for DPI. India is deploying AI, keeping in mind our philosophy of serving the last person at the bottom of the pyramid," he said.

Prasada said that India believes that technology must be democratised, made inclusive, affordable and advance human dignity. "That is what India's digital public infrastructure represents," he said.

President of the 79th session of the UN General Assembly, Philemon Yang, commended India on the success of its digital transformation and leadership in investing in digital public infrastructure.

"I commend India on the success of its digital transformation and leadership in investing in digital public infrastructure. Indeed, digital public infrastructure holds the key to inclusion in the global digital society. And these technologies are evolving at breakneck speed," he said at the special event titled Empowering the Digital Citizen of the Future: Towards an Integrated Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI)'. Yang added that digital technologies are impacting every aspect of human life and are transforming economies, reducing costs, opening new doors to education and healthcare, and empowering citizens like never before.

"In India, for example, it means anywhere access' to 'anytime vaccination' for any registered pregnant woman or child across the country," he said.

Yang noted that he was "privileged" to see the U-WIN digital initiative himself serves and saves. It is not infrastructure for for what happens when digital public infrastructure and women and girls are at the heart of the digital revolution.

"These technologies hold vast potential to unleash progress across the Sustainable Development Goals," he said.

India's Ministry of Health and Family Welfare launched the U-WIN (Universal Immunisation Win) that streamlines the entire process of vaccination services. Prasada added that the DPI scales,

"A global public good. The world is taking note," he said, adding that over 18 countries are exploring or adopting India's DPI — from Singapore integrating UPI to Sierra Leone piloting digital ID, and DPI elevated to a global agenda at the G20.

He said India is pushing for greater representation of the global south in AI

The digital citizen of the future must not be a consumer of technology, but a cocreator of equity... India stands ready to collaborate by sharing its DPIs," Prasada said, adding that India's DPI proves that development can be fast, fair and frictionless. When inclusion is coded into design, exclusion becomes obsolete. Let us work to build a world where digital dignity is a right, not a privilege." India's Permanent Representative to the UN, Ambassador P Harish, said that with the launch of Digital India in 2015 by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, India has implemented several unique digital transformational projects.

He highlighted Aadhaar, Unified Payments Interface, Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana as well as the Jan Dhan Yojana-Aadhaar-Mobile the so-called JAM Trinity initiative that linked 540 million Jan Dhan bank accounts, with Aadhaar cards, and mobile phone numbers to facilitate Direct Benefit Transfers (DBTs) of government subsidies to needy citizens, ushering in the world's largest financial inclusion programme and reducing leakages and corruption. Harish stressed that AI is redefining Indian agriculture by enhancing productivity, optimising resource use, and improving decision-making for 200 million farmers. "Our digital citizens of the future deserve an integrated Digital Public Infrastructure aided by AI systems, so that no one is digitally left behind. Our duty is to work for that, and in such an endeavour, India is a friend and partner of choice for all, especially the Global South," he said. Under-Secretary-General and UN Secretary-General's Special Envoy for Digital and Emerging Technologies Amandeep Singh Gill said that India's experiment with DPIs is a "model" and also lauded examples from other regions like Brazil, Southeast Asia, and Africa. "We now have enough evidence that DPIs work. They work at scale and they work in a deeply transformative manner," Gill said. Gill added that "we are looking at how interoperability across DPIs can improve intra-regional, inter-regional trade and scale for digital entrepreneurs." 'There is great potential in these challenging times when global trade is under pressure to build resilience and intra-regional scale for entrepreneurs by linking together DPIs and by reimagining them, by building them in more of an interoperable way," Gill added. The event featured a presentation by

Founding CTO of Aadhaar and CEO of Khosla Labs Srikanth Nadhamuni on how India is leveraging artificial intelligence to enhance the impact of its DPI and highlighted that India's inclusive approach to AI and DPI — built as global digital public goods — can serve as a transformative model for countries, offering innovative solutions for sectors like healthcare, education, and agriculture.

Aim for higher production: Goyal to steel industry

nion Minister Piyush Goyal on Friday said the target of achieving 500 million tonnes (MT) of steel production is a 'sub-optinal' one and the industry should aim for a higher target amid increasing per capita consumption of the metal in the country. The minister was delivering his keynote address at the 6th edition of Steel India 2025 event, hosted jointly by the Ministry of Steel and the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (Ficci), which started on Thursday.

'Clearly 500 million tonnes (of steel production) is a sub-optimal target. We should, I think aspire at least to go up to the level of our nearest competitor. And why can we not aspire to be the world's largest manufacturer of steel by 2047, Goyal exhorted the industry.

Referring to the steel industry as the 'backbone' of the country's economy, the minister emphasised the crucial role of steel in the nation's journey toward becoming a developed and prosperous country.

Steel is an essential component in nearly every sector of life, be it shipping, shipbuilding, railways, defence, automobiles, infrastructure across the country, it is there in every walk of life,' he said.

Union Minister Piyush Goyal

The minister also urged for continued growth and innovation, questioning if the country should be satisfied with its current status.

He emphasised the need for collective action within the steel sector to further elevate India's position on the global stage. Stressing the potential for expanding steel's use in new sectors, particularly in the construction of prefabricated buildings, he pointed out that many developed nations have adopted precast prefabricated building structures and suggested that India should consider introducing such practices, especially in urban areas.

While acknowledging that prefabricated buildings may initially be more expensive, Goyal proposed that the steel industry invest in research and development (R and D) to minimise the cost differences.

Government notifies rules for GST Appellate Tribunals

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New Delhi

The government has notified the Goods and Services Tax Appellate Tribunal (Procedure) Rules, which provide for mandatory e-filing of applications and conducting hearings in a hybrid mode.

The rules also provide that any urgent matter filed by an applicant before 12:00 noon shall be listed before the Appellate Tribunal on the following working day, if the application is complete in all

In exceptional cases, the application may be received after 12:00 noon but before 3:00 pm for listing on the following day, with the specific permission of the Appellate Tribunal or President.

The benches of GSTAT, a crucial body for resolving GST-related disputes, would sit from 10:30 am to 01:30 pm and from 2:30 pm to 4:30 pm, subject to any order made by the President.

The administrative offices of the Appellate Tribunal will remain open on all working days from 9:30 am to 6.00 pm, according to the Goods and Services Tax Appellate Tribunal (Procedure)

In May last year, the government had appointed Justice (Retd) Sanjaya Kumar Mishra as the first President of the GST Appellate Tribunal (GSTAT).

Mishra was a former Chief Justice of the Jharkhand High Court and selected by a Search-cum-Selection Committee headed by the Chief Justice of India.

The GSTAT is the Appellate Authority established under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017, to hear various appeals under the said Act and the respective State/Union Territories GST Acts against the orders of the first appellate authority. It consists of a principal bench and various state benches. As per the approval of the GST Council, the government has notified the Principal Bench, to be located in New Delhi, and 31 state benches at various locations across the country. The process for the appointment of judicial members and technical members is already in progress.

The tribunal will ensure swift, fair, judicious and effective resolution to GST disputes, besides significantly reducing the burden on higher courts.

The establishment of the GSTAT would further enhance the effectiveness of the GST system in India and foster a more transparent and efficient tax environment in the country.

Senior Partner at AMRG & Associates, Rajat Mohan, said, with a total of 11 Chapters, 70 Rules, and 4 Statutory Forms, this legal framework covers the full procedural and administrative lifecycle of GSTAT appeals.

UK's carbon storage project HyNet gets green light

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New Delhi

⊣he UK government has given green light to a major carbon storage project, where Essar Energy Transition (EET) will play an anchor role, EET said on Friday.

The North Sea Transition Authority (NSTA) has granted Eni three carbon storage permits for the Liverpool Bay CCS, a CO2 transportation and storage system designed to support the HyNet industrial cluster. It will capture CO2 from major industrial emitters in northwest England and north Wales. Phase one of HyNet aims to store 109 million tonnes of CO2 in the East Irish Sea, 20 miles off the coast of Liverpool, over the course of 25 years - equivalent to removing 60.1 million cars from the

'EET congratulates Eni and the UK Government on achieving financial close on the core carbon transport and storage project of the HyNet Industrial Cluster (the Liverpool Bay CCS). We are delighted that Eni's construction phase will now begin on the infrastructure enabling HyNet; vital to massive reductions in carbon emissions and enabling much needed investment, protecting and growing jobs and industries across North West England and North Wales,' it said in a statement.

EET's Hydrogen Production Plant (HPP1) project is one of the four initial projects that will provide carbon to this infrastructure for permanent storage. HPP1 is expected to be the UK's first large scale low-carbon hydrogen production plant with a capacity of 350 MW and capturing some 600,000 tonnes of CO2 per annum - equivalent to taking 125,000 cars off the road.

EET's Stanlow Manufacturing Complex is located at the heart of HyNet, anchored by the EET Fuels' refinery which is a major offtake and enabler of HPP1.

EET's projects are transforming Stanlow into a world-leading energy transition hub that can capture around 2 million tonnes of carbon from the refinery through its wider decarbonisation programme, which includes electrification and carbon capture, as well as further Hydrogen Production Plant (HPP2) and development of Sustainable Aviation Fuels (SAF).

India could grow at 6.5 per cent in FY26: EY

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

ndian economy could grow at 6.5 per cent in the current fiscal as lower prices of crude oil are expected to ease inflationary pressure and support domestic growth, despite intensifying global trade tensions, EY said on Friday.

The 'EY Economy Watch' report for April identifies four key interlinked effects which would have a bearing on India's growth - reduced exports, global slowdown, falling crude oil prices, and the impact of global excess production capacities. 'With suitable fiscal and monetary policies, India may be able to sustain a real GDP growth at about 6.5 per cent in FY26 as also in the medium term, while maintaining a CPI inflation below

We also expect global crude prices to remain in the range of $ 60-65/bbl in FY26, which may be to India's advantage, EY India Chief Policy Advisor D K Srivastava said.

It said exports may slow due to higher tariffs and weakening global demand, but the overall GDP impact may be limited, given the subdued role of net exports in India's recent growth experience. Global slowdown may constrain growth worldwide, but India's relatively strong fiscal space and monetary flexibility provide scope for calibrated stimulus.

Excess production capacities in major exporting nations could lead to dumping risks, requiring India to consider targeted anti-dumping measures.

Falling crude oil prices dropping from $ 75/bbl in early April to $ 65/bbl by midmonth, and remaining within an expected range of $ 60-65 during FY26, is expected to support domestic growth while easing inflationary pressures. 'India's response to these global disruptions must be strategic and multipronged. We see the potential for India to emerge relatively stronger, provided it continues to manage its macroeconomic fundamentals well through a growthoriented fiscal policy and accommodative monetary stance, Srivastava said.

EY Economy Watch suggests that India's short-term strategy could include switching part of its crude oil imports to the US thereby improving trade balance and lowering its reciprocal tariff rate.

A comprehensive bilateral trade agreement, expected by September-October 2025, could further enhance trade stability with the US.

From a medium to long-term perspective, the EY Economy Watch underscores the importance of accelerating reforms in land and labour, investing in education, skilling and emerging technologies like AI and GenAI, and expanding PLI coverage. The EY report also recommends that India should deepen trade ties with the UK, EU, and select regional

'With proactive macroeconomic management and external sector realignment, India appears well-positioned to maintain growth momentum despite global headwinds, the report said.

EY's India growth projections for 2025-26 are within the range of 6.2-6.7 per cent projected by global agencies.

The economy is estimated to have grown at 6.5 per cent in the last fiscal (2024-25). The International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank project growth to be 6.2 per cent and 6.3 per cent, respectively in FY26

While the RBI and S&P Global Ratings piect FY26 growth at 6.5 per cent, the OECD and Fitch Ratings forecast GDP expansion at 6.4 per cent amid the ongoing tariff war and uncertainty over the US trade policy.
On April 2, US President Donald

Trump had announced reciprocal tariffs or taxes on imports from other countries to match the duties levied by those countries on imports from the US.

On April 9, the US administration authorised a 90-day pause on the implementation of most reciprocal tariffs, reverting to a universal rate of 10 per cent on almost all targeted countries, while raising tariffs on most goods from China to 145 per cent. On April 16, the US further hiked tariffs on exports from China to 245 per cent.

Rupee falls 7 paise, closes at 85.40 per US Dollar

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Mumbai

¬he rupee pared its initial gains and settled for the day lower by 7 paise at 85.40 against the US dollar on Friday, amid heightened geopolitical tensions and a negative trend in the domestic markets.

Forex traders said escalated geopolitical tensions, following a terror attack in Pahalgam, Jammu and Kashmir weighed on market sentiment.

Moreover, a muted trend in domestic equities and positive US dollar index dented investors' sentiment further.

At the interbank foreign exchange, the domestic unit opened at 85.17 and moved between the intra-day high of 85.08 and the low of 85.65 against the greenback. The unit ended the session at 85.40 (provisional), registering a fall of 7 paise over its previous closing level.

On Thursday, the rupee gained 12 paise to close at 85.33 against the USD.

'We expect the rupee to trade with a negative bias amid heightened geopolitical tensions and weak tone in the domestic markets. However, persistent FII inflows, overall weakness in the US dollar may prevent a sharp fall in the rupee. $-INR spot price is expected to trade in a range of 85 to 85.90, said Anuj Choudhary - Research Analyst at Mirae Asset Sharekhan.

Gold prices drop to ₹95,073 per 10 grams

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New Delhi

old prices retreated by ₹839 to ₹ 95,073 per 10 grams in futures trade Jon Friday as the US dollar strengthened amid a potential de-escalation of the US-China trade war.

On the Multi Commodity Exchange, gold contracts for June delivery dropped by ₹839 or 0.87 per cent to ₹95,073 per 10 grams in a business turnover of 18,007 lots.

In addition, the August contract of the precious metal dipped ₹760 or 0.79 per cent to trade at ₹95,858 per 10 grams on the bourse. Analysts attributed the fall in gold prices to weak global cues.

On the global front, gold futures slipped by $ 40.26 or 1.20 per cent to $ 3,308.34 per ounce in New York. 'Gold prices are under pressure as the

US dollar strengthens on hopes of progress in US-China trade talks, Abans Financial Services' Chief Executive Officer Chintan Mehta said. In a notable shift, China is considering exempting some US imports from its steep 125 per cent tariffs and has asked businesses to identify products that could qualify —the strongest indication yet that Beijing is growing increasingly anxious about the economic fallout of the trade war. This development is easing safe-haven demand for gold as investors anticipate a potential thaw in tensions. If this trend persists, gold may remain on the back foot in the near term, he said. On the geopolitical front, escalating tensions between India and Pakistan, creating a volatile environment where investors are looking to hedge against volatility and geopolitical instability Mehta further said that attention will turn to the upcoming IMF's meeting this weekend, where any indications of further policy easing or extended global uncertainty could enhance gold's appeal and reinforce safe-haven demand. According to HDFC Securities' Senior Analyst of Commodities Saumil Gandhi, traders are looking forward to US macroeconomic data, including the Michigan Consumer Sentiment Index and 1-year inflation expectations to be released later in the day. The data release will gauge the strength of the economy and potential future monetary policy decisions by the US Federal Reserve. Additionally, trade-related comments may have an impact on the overall market direction, Gandhi said.

Meanwhile, gold prices in spot markets in Mumbai dropped by ₹655 to ₹95,631 per 10 grams (99.9 purity). The standard gold (99.5 purity) declined by ₹652 to ₹95,248 per 10 grams.

Sensex, Nifty fall after India, Pakistan border tensions

quity benchmark indices Sensex and Nifty declined sharply on Friday due to selling in Axis Bank and growing tensions along the Indo-Pak border following the terror attack at Pahalgam in Jammu &

Wiping out all early gains, the 30-share BSE barometer tanked 588.90 points or 0.74 per cent to settle at 79,212.53. During the day, it dropped 1,195.62 points or 1.49 per cent to 78,605.81. Falling for the second day, the NSE Nifty tumbled 207.35 points or 0.86 per cent to 24,039.35. Experts said worries over growing geopolitical tensions after Tuesday's Pahalgam terror attack weighed on market sentiment. 'Investor sentiment turned cautious amid escalating tensions along the Indo-Pak border. Mid and smallcap stocks bore the brunt of the sell-off, driven by their elevated valuations and growing concerns over potential earnings downgrades following a muted start to the earnings season, Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Investments here are moments when art stops being performance and becomes prayer. When the movement of feet, the strength of hands, and the silence between gestures speak louder than words. Maryada Purushottam Shri Ram, presented by the Urvashi Dance Music Art & Cultural Society, was one such offering. The dance carried with it the weight of legacy, the fire of devotion, and the strength of truth.

It began in silence — no fanfare. Just the stage slowly lighting up to the sound of a conch, a chant rising through the Kamani Auditorium and the sight of dancers entering barefoot, as if walking into a sacred space. From that very first moment, the performance became an experience. Among the distinguished guests in attendance was Ms Rekha Gupta, the Chief Minister of Delhi, whose presence highlighted the cultural significance of the evening. Directed with remarkable sensitivity by Dr Rekha Mehra, the production traced the arc of the Ramayan from

and Aamrapali Bhandari's choreography respected the epic's soul. Every movement was chosen with care. Ram's journey began with the celebration of his birth in Ayodhya. The air was alive with movement and colour. But celebration gave way to duty. Ram's departure into vanvaas was a haunting moment, his farewell to Kaushalya staged with restraint, as dancers encircled him like time closing in. The lighting shifted to capture the weight of sacrifice.

The forest scenes were among the most visually captivating. With nothing more than cloth, shadow and body formations, the dancers created rivers, trees, and wild animals. Sita stood tall with presence and dignity, while Lakshman reflected Ram's sense of duty with measured steps

Then came the heart of the epic — Ravan's entrance. Played with authority and presence, his character carried pride and ego that ultimately led to his fall. The abduction of Sita was staged in stillness: a tight spotlight, the sudden clash of cymbals, and her hands rising in despair.

No cries — only silence, and it was deafening. Hanuman's scenes brought a shift in energy. His entry was spirited and charged, with leaps and spins that filled the stage. The youngest performing alongside the seasoned artists, especially in the search for Sita, held their own with focus and honesty, proving that emotion carries more weight than age or training.

AND THEN-THE WEDDING SEQUENCE

Of all the moments, this stood out as the most poetic. Ram and Sita's swavamvar was staged with dignity. The breaking of Shiva's bow was done through a symbolic gesture - the clap and sudden illumination. But it was what followed that left the audience completely still: the phoolon ki baarish. There were no real flowers, yet one could see them. Each dancer opened their palms to the sky, then turned their hands downward, releasing imaginary petals in slow motion. It was the suggestion that created magic. The hall watched in stillness, as if the gods themselves were blessing the union. The battle between Ram and Ravan was marked by strong choreography, precise and deliberate, reflecting the conflict both within and around. And when Ram returned to Ayodhya, it was the sight of the people lighting lamps, forming the deepmala with their bodies that brought home the meaning of Diwali. The dialogues were few, spoken with clarity at the right moments — Ram's declaration of duty, Sita's quiet resolve, Hanuman's pledge. The lighting throughout was purposeful - never overpowering, always in line with the mood of each scene. This was the Ramayan performed with clarity, discipline and respect. Dr Mehra and her team brought together talent, tradition and a deep

rt, in its purest form, communicates A feelings that words cannot capture. Through the play of form, colour, and texture, it creates a space for personal reflection. The exhibition, Beyond Myth & Metaphor by Shabir Hussain Santosh and curated with an essay by Archana Khare Ghose, is being held at Shridharani Gallery, New Delhi and is presented by Sanchit Art.

It invites the viewer into a world where myth is not retold but felt. Santosh's paintings do not aim to deliver a heavy narrative; instead, they evoke a deeper feeling, a subtle undercurrent of emotion that emerges through his use of abstract forms. He doesn't seek to tell stories in the traditional sense. Instead, he captures the essence of myth in a way that goes beyond its literal meaning. The figures in his paintings are often soft, undefined, allowing for a sense of fluidity and openness. The colours employs are particularly striking. Warm, earthy reds and glowing yellows are infused with a quiet energy, evoking both the warmth of the earth and the depth of memory.

Standing in front of these paintings, viewers often find themselves captured by the quiet stillness of the artwork. They stare, perhaps searching for a clearer understanding of what the painting is about, but it is precisely this uncertainty that makes the work so compelling. The figures are often incomplete or fragmented, and yet they evoke such a powerful emotional response.

Artist ability to convey such powerful emotions with the simplest of forms speaks volumes about his understanding of the human condition. His work is not about spectacle but about evoking a quiet space for thought and reflection.

EXHIBITION THAT ENCOURAGES SLOWING DOWN AND ALLOWING THE EMOTIONS IN THE PAINTINGS TO TAKE ROOT. IT IS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC UNTIL APRIL 30, 2025. GO SEE IT - NOT TO UNDERSTAND EVERY DETAIL, BUT TO FEEL THE MESSAGE.

The Rediscovery of a 17th-Century Masterwork

rt, in its essence, is an exploration of human emotions, experiences, and ideas. Caravaggio's Magdalene in Ecstasy offers a vivid representation of these elements, capturing a raw and sincere moment in a remarkable way. This painting, rediscovered after centuries, provides an intimate view into the depths of Mary Magdalene's emotional state, offering more than just a visual experience, but a deep reflection on penitence and spiritual devotion.

Mary Magdalene in Ecstasy (1606),  $40.75 \text{ in} \times 36 \text{ in, showcases}$ the artist's masterful use of chiaroscuro — the dramatic contrast between light and shadow — which imbues the painting with both realism and emotional intensity. Roberto Longhi, a key researcher of Caravaggio, noted that the subject was interpreted in a unique and innovative manner, with Caravaggio placing the figure in a diagonal position that draws the viewer into the 17th century.

The rediscovery of this painting is a remarkable event in the art world. Mina Gregori, an expert in Caravaggio's work, recalled the emotional experience she had when first encountering the painting, describing how it felt like an act of devotion. This painting is not only significant for its artistic merit but also for its historical value in understanding the role of images and faith during the Counter-Reformation period.

One of the most notable aspects of Magdalene in Ecstasy is the rendering of the hands. Caravaggio's attention to detail in these hands, with their vivid colours and naturalistic depiction, is considered one of the defining elements of the original painting. These hands, full of tension, convey a deep sense of emotion that goes beyond technique, showing the artist's ability to bring life into his work. The face of Magdalene is another focal point of the painting. The careful blending of light

PBKS vs KKR: High-stakes clash in IPL 2025

he man who led them to glory just a season ago could now stand in the way of Kolkata Knight Riders' (KKR) playoff qualification when the side hosts the Shreyas Iyer-led revamped Punjab Kings (PBKS) in a high-stakes IPL clash here at the Eden Gardens on Saturday.

Twelve months ago, Iyer had led KKR to their first IPL title in a decade. On Saturday, he returns in opposition colours, at the helm of a rejuvenated Punjab side chasing a playoff spot.

Let go by KKR in one of the most surprising off-season moves, Iyer has found both comfort and purpose in Punjab

Reuniting with his old Delhi Capitals mentor Ricky Ponting, the duo has steadied PBKS into the top five of the table with five wins from eight games.

The partnership has given Iyer the space to lead confidently and he has tallied 263 runs with three half-centuries so far. However, he comes into the weekend game, carrying three single digit scores.

Saturday offers him the perfect chance to make a statement - much like KL Rahul did the other against his former franchise Lucknow Super Giants with a composed 57 not out.

Iyer too could have a Rahul-like moment under the Eden lights. KKR, on the other hand, are in desperate need of momentum.

With five defeats in eight matches, another stumble could tighten their already narrow path to the playoffs.

Their top-order remains unsettled, the middle-order erratic, and the spin attack ineffective on a surface they once called

KKR's middle-order trio of Russell,

Rinku and Ramandeep has failed to deliver the finishing punch this season, prompting calls for a shake-up.

The team may be forced to bring in Caribbean all-rounder Rovman Powell, whose power-hitting and handy pace can add much-needed spark and balance.

Angkrish Raghuvanshi, one of the few bright spots in KKR's batting, might once again look to negotiate the tricky phase when the likes of Arshdeep Singh (Punjab's leading wicket-taker with 11 scalps) and Yuzvendra Chahal operate.

Skipper Ajinkya Rahane too will be under the scanner, having anchored the innings well at times but struggled to shift gears and finish games.

He will be wary of Yuzvendra Chahal, who dismantled KKR in their demoralising 95 all-out collapse only last week by claiming the wickets of Rahane, Raghuvanshi, Rinku Singh, and Ramandeep Singh in a devastating spell.

With Marco Jansen providing the early menace and new find Nehal Wadhera managing tidy finishes, PBKS certainly look a more confident and well-rounded

For KKR's bowling unit, Harshit Rana's duel with PBKS opener Priyansh Arya could set the tone. Arya smashed a century against Chennai Super Kings earlier this season.

Despite their troubles, KKR are, however, still alive in the playoffs race.

Winning five of their remaining six games could be sufficient, but anything less would leave them dependent on other

For this to happen, KKR must fix their four matches here.

The much-publicised friction with Eden curator Sujan Mukherjee over pitch preparations has drawn unwanted attention and debates over spin-friendly surfaces, fairness, and even calls from commentators to consider shifting base.

Despite it being slow and grippy, which is exactly what KKR wanted, Sunil Narine has taken just two wickets at the Eden. Varun Chakravarthy (4) has been marginally better, while Moeen Ali has failed to strike in two matches.

KKR: Ajinkya Rahane (c), Rinku Singh, Quinton de Kock (wk), Rahmanullah Gurbaz (wk), Angkrish Raghuvanshi, Rovman Powell, Manish Pandey, Luvnith Sisodia, Venkatesh Iyer, Anukul Roy, Moeen Ali, Ramandeep Singh, Andre Russell, Anrich Nortje, Vaibhav Arora, Mayank Markande, Spencer Johnson, Harshit Rana, Sunil Narine, Varun Chakravarthy and Chetan Sakariya.

PBKS: Shreyas Iyer (c), Yuzvendra Chahal, Arshdeep Singh, Marcus Stoinis, Nehal Wadhera, Prabhsimran Singh, Glenn Maxwell, Vyshak Vijaykumar, Yash Thakur, Harpreet Brar, Vishnu Vinod, Marco Jansen, Lockie Ferguson, Josh Inglis, Xavier Bartlett, Kuldeep Sen, Pyla Avinash, Suryansh Shedge, Musheer Khan, Harnoor Pannu, Aaron Hardie, Priyansh Arya, Azmatullah Omarzai.

Josh Hazlewood great player, under pressure: Andy Flower

oyal Challengers Bengaluru's (RCB) Josh Hazlewood is a world-class bowler who can soak in the pressure in any format of the game and knows what delivery has to bowl at a particular moment, said head coach Andy Flower after the IPL side defeated Rajasthan Royals by 11 runs here.

RCB notched their first win in four games at home to rise to the number 3 spot on the points table, with Hazlewood's death-overs bowling making a huge

The Australian took four wickets and gave away only seven runs in his last two overs to return figures of 4-0-33-4 as RCB recorded their sixth win in nine matches.

"I would probably refer to both of his last overs because his two overs went for seven runs and he took three wickets in them. Both those overs showed the class of the guy," Flower told the media after the

'He is a class operator, he is a world-class bowler, he is great under pressure in any format of the game. I know he is known for his heavy length bowling but he is got some great all-round skills.

"He mixes in those yorkers, wide yorkers, slower balls and he seems to know what type of ball to bowl at the right time," he added. Flower said the quality threepronged pace attack was one of RCB's biggest assets. RCB.

"I think those three quicks have been great for us so far this season. I have got some more work to do, obviously, to help us in this last third of the league matches and Hazlewood certainly leads from the front in that regard," he said.

Flower said RCB must build on this win at home as they will now play three of their five remaining matches here at the Chinnaswamy Stadium. "It was really important. We have had four home games here, we have lost the toss each time," he "We know that trying to defend a target here is tough and in the first three games I thought our bowlers and fielding unit did outstanding work to keep us in the game as long as they did, because all three totals were a bit below par."

Devdutt Padikkal scored a blazing 50 off 27 balls, which opener Virat Kohli played another masterclass, scoring 70 runs, and Flower said the duos 95-run partnership was pivotal to RCB scoring 205 runs batting first.

"Dev Padikkal was sensational to score 50 of 27 balls like that, without ever slogging. We say a lot about Virat (Kohli) but his 70 off 42 balls and that partnership with Dev really gave us a platform on a pitch that wasn't that easy.

"Obviously our amazing supporters wanted to see some of that success. They were concerned about us here at home. We have got three more games here at home that's so vitally important for us to play well in these conditions," he said.

Rajasthan Royals' Sandeep Sharma acknowledged his side has not been able to respond well in "crunch moments", leading to seven losses in nine games.

"I won't say it is going wrong but we are not able to catch the crunch moments in a match, be it while chasing or while defending," he said.

"Every team gets such moments and it is important to catch them. This year, we are dropping crucial catches or batters are being dismissed when they are looking to

India announces team for Asian Athletics Championship

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New Delhi

ndia on Friday named a 59-member team for the upcoming Asian Athletics Championship in South Korea with star javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra expectedly skipping the event while almost all those who had excelled in the just-concluded Federation Cup in Kochi making the cut. Double Olympic medallist Chopra missing the event was on expected lines as his focus this season will be the Diamond League Meetings and the World Championships in September, besides the NC Classic which he is hosting in Bengaluru on May 24.

He has not competed in the continental showpiece since the 2017 edition in Bhubaneswar where he won a gold. Since then, his focus has remained on the DL Meetings, World Championships and Olympics. National record holder shot putter Tajinderpal Singh Toor, who had won gold in the last edition of the continental championships, was omitted from the squad after he finished a disappointing second in the Federation Cup.

Pole vaulter Dev Kumar Meena also

But others such as Avinash Sable (men's 3000m steeplechase), Parul Chaudhary (women's 3000m steeplechase) and Gulveer Singh (5000m and 10000m) have been included in the squad even though they did not take part in the Federation Cup, as they were training and competing abroad after taking AFI's permission.

Also featuring in the squad for the May 27-31 Asian Championships in Gumi are sprinter Animesh Kujur, who set a new 200m national record, and triple jumper Praveen Chitravel, who equalled his own NR during the Federation Cup. National record holder in women's

The Federation Cup (April 21-24) was the last selection event for the Asian Championships and the AFI had made it mandatory for all the athletes except who got exemptions — to compete in it if they want to be picked for the continental championships. In the last edition in Bangkok, India had finished third behind Japan and China with 27 medals — 6 gold, 12 silver and 9 bronze.

Getting hate for inviting Nadeem to NC Classic: Neeraj the Pahalgam attack in which 26 people, mostly tourists,

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi

ndian javelin throw star Neeraj Chopra on Friday said he has been bombarded with "hate and abuse" for ▲ inviting Pakistan's Arshad Nadeem to next month's NC Classic in Bengaluru, clarifying that the Olympic champion's presence was "completely out of question" in the aftermath of the Pahalgam terror attack.

The Tokyo Olympics gold-medallist and Paris Games silver-winning star from Haryana said he was deeply hurt to see his and his family's integrity being questioned in abusive social media posts.

Chopra invited Nadeem, who defeated the Indian in Paris last year to win gold, for the inaugural Neeraj Chopra Classic to be held in Bengaluru on May 24.

"After all that has taken place over the last 48 hours, Arshad's presence at the NC Classic was completely out of the question. My country and its interests will always come first," Chopra, who is a Subedar Major in the Indian Army, said in a lengthy post on 'X'.

"To those that are going through the loss of their people, my thoughts and prayers are with you. Along with the entire nation, I am both hurt and angry at what has taken place," said Chopra.

"I am confident that our country's response will show our strength as a nation and justice will be served," he added. Nadeem had declined to come citing other commitments. The 27-year-old Chopra said he is well aware of the chatter surrounding his invitation to Nadeem after were gunned down by terrorists. "...Most of it has been hate and abuse. They haven't even left my family out of it," said Chopra.

"I usually am a man of few words, but that doesn't mean I will not speak up against what I think is wrong. More so when it comes to questioning my love for our country, and the respect and honour of my family," he wrote. Chopra said invites for NC Classic were sent out on Monday, a day before the Pahalgam terror attack in which 26 people, mostly tourists, were killed.

"The invitation I extended to Arshad was from one athlete to another — nothing more, nothing less. The aim of NC Classic was to bring the best athletes to India and for our country to be the home of world-class sport-

'Invites had gone out to all athletes on Monday, two days (sic) before the terrorist attacks at Pahalgam," Chopra also highlighted the targetting of his mother, Saroj, for her statement after the Paris Games last year in which she described Nadeem as akin to her son.

Barcelona, Real Madrid meet in Copa del Rey final Harry Kane on verge of

arcelona and Real Madrid meet in the Copa del Rey final on Saturday with more than just the trophy on the line for the fierce Spanish rivals.

Barcelona wants to grab the first piece of a potential treble of major titles in coach Hansi Flick's debut season. The team is on pace to conquer La Liga, and three days after the cup final it will start its twolegged Champions League semifinal against Inter Milan.

It could also be the last trophy for Carlo Ancelotti, who many Madrid watchers speculate could leave the powerhouse this summer, possibly to take over the Brazil national team. Madrid arguably has more at stake. Out of the Champions League, the cup is its best chance to salvage the campaign with some silverware. It is also alive in La Liga, but it needs to overhaul a four-point deficit to Barcelona with five games left — a home stretch that includes yet another clasico.

For Barcelona, a title won at the expense of Madrid would give it a huge momentum boost for Inter's visit on Wednesday as the Catalan club pursues its first European Cup in a decade.

Barcelona dominated their other two meetings this season, beating Madrid 5-2 in the Spanish Super Cup final in January after winning 4-0 at Madrid in the league in October.

The third clasico of the season will be played before 70,000 fans in Seville's La Cartuja Stadium, where King Felipe VI will award the trophy to the winners. This is the first Copa del Rey final between Spain's biggest clubs since 2014. Barcelona holds a record 31 Spanish cups. Madrid has 20, third place all time.

Filling in for Lewandowski Flick's biggest task will be filling in for the injured Robert Lewandowski, who picked up a left-thigh injury last weekend. The Poland striker is producing another stellar season with a team-high 40 goals across all competitions. Ferran Torres is likely to start in his place. The versatile forward has emerged as Barcelona's super sub in this campaign. He has netted 17 goals overall in limited minutes, including five in the cup.

Another option, however, could be playing attacking midfielder Dani Olmo as a "false nine" flanked by Lamine Yamal and Raphinha.

Barcelona will also be without starting left back Alejandro Balde. Youth player Gerard Martin is likely to take his place unless Flick wants to slot a more experienced player into that position.

Mbappé's moment?

Finishing the season without a trophy would be a major disappointment after Madrid brought in superstar Kylian Mbappé last summer.

The France striker has scored goals galore but has failed to produce big in the biggest games of the season. He was jeered when substituted late in the second of two losses to Arsenal in the Champions League quarterfinals.

Vinícius Júnior has seen his productivity in attack fade ever since he felt overlooked in the Ballon d'Or award selection earlier this season. But the Brazil forward has previously risen to the occasion in Midfielder Eduardo Camavinga injured a tendon this week and will miss the rest of the season, joining Madrid's long-term casualty list that includes defenders Dani Carvajal and Eder Militao.

Madrid's main task in defense will be keeping Yamal and Raphinha in check after both ran rampant in the previous clasicos this campaign.

After a career filled with individual top scorer awards and a host of runner-up medals — the Champions League, two European Championships, two English League Cups — it will be the first major trophy of Kane's career.
