CASTE CENSUS ROBS OPPOSITION OF AMMUNITION

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ New Delhi

n a major decision, the Government on Wednesday announced that caste enumeration will be included in the next census exercise in a "transparent" manner and slammed the opposition parties for using caste survey as a "political tool". Announcing the decision taken by the Cabinet Committee on Political Affairs, Union Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said the census comes under the purview of the Centre, but some States have done caste enumeration in the name of surveys "non-transparently" which has created doubts in the society.

Noting that caste was not included in all census operations conducted since Independence, Vaishnaw alleged that the Congress Governments have always opposed caste census and the party had

"Considering all these facts and to ensure that the social fabric is not disturbed by politics, caste enumeration should be transparently included in the Census instead of surveys," he said, adding that this will strengthen the social and economic structure of our society while the nation continues to progress.

The Minister alleged that the States ruled by opposition parties have done caste surveys for political reasons and emphasised that the Modi Government has resolved to transparently include caste enumeration in the forthcoming pan-India census exercise. Vaishnaw said the census comes under the purview of the Centre, but some States have done caste enumeration in the name of surveys "non-transparently" which has created doubts in the society.

a nationwide caste census, making it a major election issue, and some States like Bihar, Telangana and Karnataka have conducted such surveys. The Government decision comes ahead of assembly elections in Bihar, where several parties including some BJP allies have been coming out in support of the caste census.

Home Minister Amit Shah said the Congress and its allies opposed the caste census for decades while in power and played politics over it while in the opposition. "In the CCPA meeting held today under the leadership of Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji, a message of strong commitment towards social equality and rights of every section has been given by deciding to include caste census in the upcoming census," he wrote on X in Hindi. "This decision will empower all economically and socially backward classes, promote inclusion, and pave new paths for the progress of the deprived," said Shah.

The opposition INDIA bloc had made caste census a major poll plank in the recent elections, with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi promising representation to people based on their population.

"Better late than never," Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said in a post on X, reacting to the Government announcement. He said the party had raised the issue in its resolution on social justice, which was passed in Ahmedabad on April 9, 2025, and also shared an April 16, 2023 letter of Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge to Prime Minister Narendra Modi in which he had demanded that the decennial census be carried out and a comprehensive caste cen-

The last nationwide census was completed in 2011 and the next decadal one was to commence in April 2020 but got delayed due to the Covid pandemic. Though Home Minister Amit Shah had said late last year that the census would be conducted "very soon", there is no clarity as yet on when exactly the exercise would be carried out.

Vaishnaw said in 2010, the then prime minister Manmohan Singh had assured the Lok Sabha that the matter of caste census should be considered in the Cabinet. A group of ministers was formed to consider this after most of the political parties had recommended a caste census. "Despite this, the Congress Government decided to conduct only a survey instead of a caste census. That survey is known as SECC.

After Pahalgam, India shall retain Ajit Doval as National Security Advisor

rime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday here reviewed the entire spectrum of security situation in the wake of Pahalgam terror attacks in the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) meeting. It was the second CCS meeting since the dastardly act on April 22. Along with the high-level security meeting, two additional committee meetings - the Cabinet Committee on Political Affairs (CCPA) and the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA)were also convened at the Prime Minister's residence.

The Government, meanwhile, has revamped the National Security Advisory Board (NSAB) — a move that came amid speculations about India's possible retaliation to the Pahalgam terror attack in view of its cross border linkages. Former Research and Analysis Wing (RAW) chief Alok Joshi has been appointed as NSAB chairman. The NSAB is an advisory body that provides inputs to the National Security Council Secretariat. Incidentally, the latest CCS meeting took place a day after the Prime Minister held a meeting here on Tuesday with the top military brass and accorded operational freedom to the armed forces on the "mode, targets and timing" of India's response to the April 22 attack that killed 26 people. In the first meeting on April 23, the CCS decided a raft of punitive measures against Pakistan, including suspension of the Indus Waters Treaty, shutting down of the only operation land border crossing at Attari and downgrading of diplomatic ties in view of cross-border links to the attack. In response, Pakistan shut its airspace to Indian airliners and suspended all trade with India, including through third countries. Pakistan rejected India's suspension of the Indus Waters Treaty and said any move to stop the flow of water would be seen as an "act of war". In the high-level meeting with the defence brass on Tuesday, Modi asserted that the armed forces have "complete operational freedom" to decide on the mode, targets and timing of India's response, Government sources said. The meeting was attended by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, National Security Advisor (NSA) Ajit Doval, Chief of Defence Staff General Anil Chauhan and the chiefs of three ser-

Pakistan bears its fangs at India

MOHIT KANDHARI Jammu

→ he military and political leadership in Pakistan is growing 'jittery' with every passing hour, after India sent out a 'strong and stern' message by giving a free hand to its armed forces to respond to the Pahalgam massacre.

This was evident on Tuesday. Barely hours after the Director General of Military Operations (DGMOs) of India and Pakistan spoke to each other to discuss the 'unprovoked' ceasefire violations by Pakistan since April 22, Pakistani troops once again resorted to cross-border firing along the International Border, for the first time in the last week, in the Pargwal sector of Jammu late Tuesday night.

Amid mounting tensions, India utilised the opportunity to warn Pakistan against the 'unprovoked' violations, but on the ground zero, the Pakistani troops breached the ceasefire agreement with impunity. The forward villages across the Jammu frontier have been kept in a state of high alert as villagers have started making alternate arrangements to ensure their safety and security. At some places, the villagers have cleaned the community bunkers to utilise them during emergencies. The farmers have been rushing through the peak harvest season to prevent losses.

The Pak Army also traded fire at multiple locations along LoC on Tuesday, marking the sixth consecutive day of cross-border firing by Pakistani forces.

Following the firing in the Pargwal sector along the International Border, additional BSF personnel were deployed as Indian troops responded swiftly and in a calibrated manner to the Pakistani firing.

Along the LoC, the latest round of firing took place across the Nowshera and Sunderbani sectors in Rajouri district, as well as the Akhnoor sector in Jammu, and in Baramulla and Kupwara districts. Since April 22, the alert army troops have been maintaining a tight vigil and have enhanced patrolling to ensure security along the border.

So far, the Pakistan army has been resorting to the use of small arms firing along the LoC. The artillery guns have not been utilised despite mounting tensions in the area. Meanwhile, anti-terror operations are underway in the hinterlands of Anantnag, Pulwama, and Shopian, with security forces positioned on top of the mountains, clearing areas one by one and moving closer. The Jammu and Kashmir Police and CRPF have been tasked with conducting house-to-house searches, including those of OGWs, and gathering more details about their connections.

Since the Pahalgam attack, cross-border firings by Pakistan have grown increasingly frequent, following a systematic pattern of provocation. On Monday night, multiple such incidents were reported from the Kupwara and Baramulla districts, as well as the Akhnoor sector.

Fourteen dead in Bengal hotel fire

t least 14 people including two women and two children died in a Amassive fire that broke inside an upmarket North Kolkata hotel late on Tuesday evening. About 12 people were injured and continue to recuperate in various hospitals, police said.

Most deaths occurred on account of choking from the smoke as the trapped guests and staff could not come out of the six-storey building at Mechua Bazar in North Kolkata's busy Bara Bazar area.

The fire broke out at about 8 pm and it took more than 10 hours for the firefighters to douse. "Initially what looked like a manageable fire the magnitude of it could be gauged only after the flames were put out and the dead people were rescued well past midnight," a senior fire official said. Most of those dead are from Bihar Fire Brigade sources said holding the hotel owners guilty of flouting the building norms. "The emergency exit door was closed because some building materials had piled up there as the authorities were building an illegal dance floor and bar without permission of the authorities," locals said. The Fire Brigade officials said the fire fighting system inside the hotel was not working and the water tank was empty adding the fire clearance certificate had lapsed three years ago.

A senior officer from the Kolkata Police said that, "There were 88 guests in 42 rooms at the time of the incident. A boy, a girl and a woman are among the dead." Locals said that a short circuit inside the kitchen could be the reason of the fire.

"It is very difficult to keep a tab on such unscrupulous elements in such a big city. The owners had been indulging in illegal constructions and had also not followed fire rules. An inquiry will be conducted and the guilty will be brought to book," Fire Minister Sujit Basu said.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Narendra Modi sanctioned an ex-gratia amount of ₹2 lakh for those dead and ₹50,000 for those injured. The Prime Minister's wrote

¬he Mumbai sky wears its usual grey, humid veil, but outside the Jio World Convention Centre (JWCC), something extraordinary is brewing till this weekend. The sprawling façade of the JWCC shimmers under spotlights and massive LED displays pulsing with the WAVES Summit logo. Security details move with intent, cranes hoist final fixtures, and camera crews scurry across pavements, their lenses trained on every movement. There is a low but constant hum of walkie talkies, clinking scaffolds, and rehearsals filtering through the air.

On the eve of the first ever WAVES Summit, the JWCC has transformed into a coliseum of creativity, a nucleus of anticipation brimming with power, passion, and promise. Across the city too, the signs are unmistakable. Banners flutter, hotels are booked to capacity, and the cultural pulse of Mumbai beats louder in readiness for what promises to be a landmark carnival of creativity and innovation

2025) in Mumbai

When Prime Minister Narendra Modi steps up to inaugurate the WAVES Summit on Thursday, it will signal more than just the opening of an event. It will reflect India's bold move to lead the global conversation where storytelling, technology, and culture meet.

Organised by the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, the fourday summit, running from 1 to May 1-4 in Mumbai, aims to position India as a creative and technological force across industries, from cinema and television to AI, immersive reality, gaming, and digital media. For creators, innovators, and investors alike, it offers a powerful platform to shape the future of entertainment.

At the heart of this extraordinary summit is the Bharat Pavilion, spread across 1,470 square metres, showcasing India's dynamic legacy under the theme "Kala to Code." To be inaugurated by PM Modi, the Pavilion will take visitors on an immersive journey through the evolution of Indian storytelling, from ancient oral traditions and visual arts to cutting edge technological advancements, across four experiential zones: Shruti, Kriti, Drishti, and Creator's Leap.

In addition to the Bharat Pavilion, WAVES 2025 will feature exclusive State Pavilions, where Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Goa, Gujarat, Telangana, Madhya Pradesh, and several other States will proudly showcase their cultural and creative strengths. As the Pavilion opens its doors to this rich journey through time and technology, the inaugural day sets the tone with an experience just as immersive, blending music, culture, and innovation on stage. The performances begin with an orchestral crescendo under the baton of M. M. Keeravaani, followed by legendary voices such as Shreya Ghoshal, Shankar Mahadevan, Sonu Nigam, Mangli, and K.

Together, they will unveil the WAVES Anthem, a sonic emblem of unity and creative strength. Sharad Kelkar will guide the audience through a visual journey connecting ancient narratives to contemporary innovations, supported by mixed-media storytelling and dynamic dance forms. The cultural diversity of India finds its way to centre stage through performances by the Tetseo Sisters from Nagaland, followed by AR Rahman introducing JHALAA, his experimental band that blends Indian classical music with new-age sound design.

CM Bhagwant Mann Reiterates 'Not a Drop to Spare' in Letter to Haryana CM

Punjab-Haryana

Water Row

day after releasing a detailed video statement asserting that Punjab cannot spare even a drop of extra water for Haryana, Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann escalated the confrontation on Wednesday by writing a blunt and strongly worded letter to his Haryana counterpart, Nayab Singh Saini.

Reiterating his firm stand, Mann accused the BJP-led Governments in Haryana and at the Centre of engineering a systematic conspiracy to rob Punjab of its water. "BJP through its Government in Haryana and Centre is trying to suppress the state and it is unfortunate that BBMB is passing new resolutions every day to rob share of Punjab's water," he said.

The Chief Minister asserted that Punjab's water resources are already stretched thin and that any additional outflow to another state would be a direct injustice to his people something he vowed not to allow under any circumstances.

"I have received the letter of Naib Singh Saini through media only and it is unfortunate that a person of his stature is misleading the people by saying that he has assured water to Haryana...This is nothing more than a bundle of lies as this promise was never made...and this doesn't suit a person sitting on a constitutional post," Mann said, adding that Haryana Chief Minister did call him, "but I never gave any assurance regarding water to Saini".

Laced with sharp political undertones, the letter comes amid heightened tensions between the two states over water distribution through the Bhakra-Beas system. "Haryana has already overdrawn its share — 103 percent to be exact — yet continues to demand more," Mann wrote, adding that Punjab has been supplying 4,000 cusecs of water daily since April 6 as a humanitarian gesture. "Despite this, Haryana now wants 8,500 cusecs per day, which is not only unjustified but technically infeasible," he said.

Mann pointed out that Haryana, with a population of about three crore, requires only 1,700 cusecs for drinking purposes. The inflated demand, he alleged, is clearly meant to cater to irrigation needs after the state mismanaged its allocated share. Punjab, on the other hand, is preparing for the Kharif sowing season and facing a dire situation with falling water levels in all its key reservoirs — Pong Dam is 32 feet lower than the previous year, Bhakra Dam is down 12 feet, and Ranjit Sagar Dam is 14 feet below normal. Every year, BBMB distributes water to partner states of Punjab, Haryana and Rajasthan which is applicable from May 21 to May 20 next year. Mann argued that according to BBMB's annual allocation, Punjab is supposed to get 5.512 MAF (million acre-feet), while Haryana's share is 2.987 MAF, and that of Rajasthan is 3.318 MAF. Mann pointed that Haryana had exhausted its quota by March 31, while Punjab has received only 89 percent of its share so far the lowest among all partner states. "Haryana government has sought 2.5 times more water from Punjab than its actual need. Despite this, Punjab has been giving this water from April...A few days back, Haryana had pleaded that this water is not sufficient for it and it needs 8500 cusec additional water daily. It is evident that this water is needed for irrigation purposes and this problem has arisen as Haryana has not uti- Mann for making "irresponsible remarks" lized its share of water

which can carry a maximum of 10,000 cusecs, Mann said that Haryana's demand for 8,500 cusecs leaves no scope for Punjab's needs and exposes the irrationality of the request. "This is nothing but an attempt to pressurize Punjab through central agencies and BJP's control over BBMB," he wrote.

The controversy deepened after BBMB recently wrote to the Union Power Ministry seeking appropriate action over the issue, prompting further political reactions. Union Minister and former Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar accused the Punjab Government of failing to uphold its constitutional duty and warned of central intervention if BBMB is pressurized. Mann, in turn, slammed the BJP for using power at the Centre and in Haryana to marginalize Punjab's interests.

"Punjab's water belongs to Punjab, and I will not allow a single drop to be taken away unfairly," Mann concluded, warning that any move to override the state's legitimate share will be met with stiff resistance.

BJP leader Ravneet Singh Bittu accusing Punjab Chief Minister of stoking regional tensions, while AAP leaders hit back, calling Bittu's concerns "politically motivated". Bittu, the Union Minister of State for Railways and Food Processing, slammed during a time of national mourning after a deadly terror attack in Jammu and Kashmir. "When the entire country is united against Pakistan-sponsored terrorism, Mann chooses to divide states over water," Bittu posted on X, adding, "This is no time for political posturing". He criticized Mann's controversial statement suggesting that water meant for Pakistan should be stored in Punjab's dams instead, calling it "dangerous rhetoric" at a sensitive time. "Not a single drop of Punjab's water will be given away, but we need unity, not division," said Bittu, adding that holding BBMB meetings over water sharing is routine and not new.

AAP leaders responded sharply. AAP MP from Anandpur Sahib Malwinder Singh Kang accused Bittu of being more interested in preserving his ministerial post than defending Punjab's rights. "Why are you so concerned about giving more water to Haryana?" Kang asked. "Punjab has already given Haryana its due share. We are ourselves facing a severe shortage," he added. Punjab Education Minister Harjot Bains also echoed Kang, saying Haryana has already used 103 percent of its allocated water. "Our CM has taken a firm stand. Most blocks in Punjab are in the dark zone. We won't allow Haryana to take more than its share," Bains

aryana opposition leaders on Wednesday slammed Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann after he refused to release more water, with INLD chief Abhay Singh Chautala threatening to block all routes from Punjab passing through Haryana. Senior Congress leader and former chief minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda accused the Mann government of reducing the supply of water to Haryana, a BJP-ruled state, from 8,500 cusecs to 4,000 cusecs. INLD president Chautala said that during the agitation against central farm laws, farmers from Haryana stood shoulder-toshoulder with Punjab farmers. He urged the Punjab farmers to exert pressure on the Mann government so that Haryana is given its due share of water. "If the government does not take any immediate action, then we will have to take a big decision," he said. "We will be forced to block all roads from Punjab which pass through Haryana and go towards Delhi and other parts of north India. This is not mere threat," Chautala warned in a video message. The INLD chief said that districts like Sirsa, Hisar, and Fatehabad, which are Bhakra dependent, are facing water shortage.

Senior Congress leader and Sirsa MP Kumari Selja said that whatever steps the State Government takes to secure its full share of water from the Punjab Government; the Congress party will fully support it. "If the Haryana Government does not raise its voice regarding its share of water from the Bhakra canal, the situation will end up like that of the Sutlej-Yamuna Link (SYL) canal," she added. Selja further said that the central government must intervene to ensure Haryana receives its rightful share of water. In her statement, the Senior Congress leader said that there was an agreement between the Punjab and Haryana governments regarding water distribution. Under this agreement, water from the Bhakra Canal is distributed to Punjab, Haryana, and Rajasthan. Until recently, Punjab was providing 9,500 cusecs of water daily to Harvana, which has been reduced to 4,000 cusecs over the past 15 days. Selja criticized the BJP-led Haryana government for failing to protect the state's interests and for not being able to implement the Supreme Court's order to construct the SYL canal. "If the SYL canal had been completed, it would have served as a lifeline for Harvana," she added. Selia said that during the Congress regime, 85% of the SYL canal construction was completed. However, the BJP government failed to complete it. Meanwhile, the Punjab government took a rigid stance, disregarded the Supreme Court's order, de-notified the canal, and filled it with soil to block it.

Selja further said that the Bhakra canal, constructed in 1954 during unified Punjab, was intended to provide irrigation and drinking water to Hisar, Sirsa, Fatehabad, Kurukshetra, and Jind. Under the inter-state agreement, Punjab cannot withhold Haryana's share of water under any circumstance. Selja reiterated that Congress will fully support any initiative the Haryana Government undertakes to claim its rightful share of water.

GIVE HARYANA ITS SHARE OF WATER, STOP PLAYING POLITICS, SAYS STATE MINSTER PANWAR

Haryana Development and Panchayat Minister Krishan Lal Panwar criticised the Punjab government for stopping Haryana's share of water. Punjab is deliberately playing politics and stopping Haryana's rightful water, which is completely wrong and condemnable. He appealed to the Punjab government to stop politicising the issue and release Haryana's full share of water.

Panwar said that Haryana needs 9,500 cusecs of water for drinking purposes, but Punjab has reduced the supply and is only providing around 4,000 cusecs. He condemned this decision. Recently, during the BBMB meeting, a decision was taken to give water, but the Punjab government is cutting this water, which is absolutely wrong, he

The Minister said the water flows from Delhi via the Munak head. He said that even when the Aam Aadmi Party was in power in Delhi, they never cut the water supply. But now the Punjab government is deliberately doing politics. He further said that Punjab is also politicising the issue of SYL water, to which Haryana has a rightful claim. The Supreme Court has already given its verdict in Haryana's favour, so Punjab should comply and provide Haryana its share of SYL नगर निगम रोहतक (सार्वजनिक सूचना)

Deepening rifts and rising trade tensions

BRICS foreign ministers meet ends without joint statement as internal rifts surface s the BRICS grouping of emerging powers convenes its foreign ministers in Rio de Janeiro ahead of its highly anticipated July summit, cracks within the expanded coalition are becoming increasingly visible. Despite shared concerns over global trade and geopolitical shifts, the meeting ended without a joint communique - an uncommon outcome that underscores growing internal disagreements. BRICS first summit was held in 2009. It originally brought together Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa to reshape global governance in a way that reflects the growing economic and political weight of the Global South.

In 2024, the group expanded significantly to include Egypt, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Ethiopia, Indonesia, and Iran - an enlargement aimed at amplifying its geopolitical influence. Together, BRICS nations represent over 40 per cent of the global population and a significant share of global GDP, positioning the bloc as a potential counterweight to Western-dominated institutions like the G7, the IMF, and the World Bank. Its growing economic heft and strategic alignment have made it central to discussions about a new multipolar world order. However, this recent meeting revealed that size does not always

The group was unable to issue a joint statement — a traditional diplomatic outcome - due to disagreements among members, particularly over language relating to United Nations reforms. Egypt and Ethiopia reportedly objected to pro posals endorsing a stronger role for South Africa in a reformed Security Council, a priority for legacy BRICS members like India, Brazil, and South Africa. Brazilian Foreign Minister Mauro Vieira acknowledged the divisions but emphasised that "there is room to resolve differences before July." He highlighted that while consensus was reached on major issues, the diversity of the group, especially postexpansion, requires more negotiation to align positions.

Despite these diplomatic fissures, the foreign ministers rallied around a common concern: the rise of protectionist economic policies, particularly those implemented by the United States under President Donald Trump.

The Chair statement issued by Brazil expressed "serious concern at the prospect of a fragmented global economy and the weakening of multilateralism." Without naming the US directly, the statement criticised "unjustified unilateral protectionist measures" and specifically condemned the "indiscriminate raising of reciprocal tariffs and non-tariff measures."

These comments clearly referenced the Trump administration's aggressive trade policies, including high tariffs on Chinese goods and escalating trade spats that risk destabilising the global economy. China, which has borne the brunt of these tariffs - facing levies as high as 145 per cent - reportedly pushed for stronger language in the statement. While Brazil and others supported a unified position, some newer members were less enthusiastic about directly antagonising the US, reflecting varied foreign policy alignments within the bloc.

The 2024 expansion of BRICS brought new energy and increased global clout to the bloc, but it also introduced conflicting interests and historical rivalries. Diplomats acknowledged that with greater power comes a need for more diplomacy. Indeed, the expansion has its costs, but it also gives BRICS more resources and a bigger platform for cooperation. Besides, so far the journey of BRICS has been rather rhetorical than real. It is yet to take on the Western world and establish itself as a formidable force in world trade and the geopolitical landscape.

Despite its growing economic clout and strategic aspirations, BRICS continues to suffer from several structural handicaps that limit its effectiveness as a unified global force. Chief among them is the vast political, economic, and ideological diversity among its members, which often results in conflicting priorities and diluted consensus. While legacy members like India, Brazil, and South Africa push for democratic reforms in global institutions such as the United Nations, newer entrants like Egypt and Ethiopia may resist initiatives that undermine regional balances or national interests.

Additionally, the bloc lacks a permanent secretariat or institutional framework to enforce decisions or coordinate policies, relying instead on rotating presidencies and ad hoc mechanisms. Geopolitical rivalries — such as the uneasy relation ship between China and India - further complicate joint action. These internal frictions frequently undercut the group's ability to present a cohesive front on major global issues, from trade and security to climate policy and governance

Looking ahead to the July summit, the challenge for BRICS will be to forge a coherent strategy that accommodates its internal diversity while pushing forward its shared interests - particularly in trade, development finance, and institutional reform. As the global system edges away from US unipolarity towards a more fragmented and competitive landscape, BRICS ability to function as a unified bloc may well determine how the emerging multipolar world takes shape

Taiwan: Advancing health equity

Taiwan, with its world-leading National Health Insurance system and pioneering digital health innovations, stands as a model for equitable, accessible healthcare. Yet, it remains excluded from the WHO due to political barrier ealth is a fundamental human right and a universal value. Improved ▲ health results in greater well-being for the people and has ramifications for the survival and development of a country and

At the 77th World Health Assembly, members adopted the World Health Organisation's (WHO) Fourteenth General Programme of Work for 2025-2028. The programme includes such strategic objectives as improving health service coverage and bolstering financial protections to ensure universal health coverage.

WHO has called on all countries to take action on these issues. As concerns universal health coverage, Taiwan launched the National Health Insurance (NHI) system in 1995. The scheme, which brought together already existing occupational insurance schemes, has reached its 30th year and now covers 99.9 per cent of the population.

The NHI system provides equitable, accessible, and efficient healthcare to all people in Taiwan. It is also an important pillar and guarantor of Taiwan's social stability as well as people's health and safety. It has, moreover, become a global benchmark for achieving universal health coverage.

In an annual survey carried out by Numbeo, Taiwan has been ranked first in the Health Care Index category for seven consecutive years. The NHI operates on a payas-you-go, self-sustaining model capable of addressing the financial challenges posed by an ageing population and rising healthcare costs. By reforming premium rates and adding additional funding sources, such as the tobacco health and welfare surcharge, the system is on a sound, sustainable footing.

To promote the health of our people, President Lai Ching-te articulated a vision of a healthy Taiwan in 2024. This aims to ensure that people are healthy, the nation is strong, and the world is ready to embrace Taiwan. Remaining focused on people, families, and communities, we are expanding health promotion operations and preven-

Moreover, we are implementing a family physician plan, offering comprehensive care to patients with chronic diseases, and utilising telemedicine to improve healthcare accessibility in rural areas. By promoting integrated long-term care, palliative care, and ageing in place, we ensure holistic, lifelong, and dignified care for all people, realising health equity. In 2021, WHO released the Global Strategy on Digital Health for

Under this plan, the global health body is seeking the development and adoption of data to promote health and well-being. Taiwan continues to utilise its prowess in information and communications technology to build effective, high-ROI health systems and services. The NHI cloud facilitates the more efficient exchange of medical records, while the adoption of international standards such as Fast Healthcare Interoperability Resources enhances international medical data sharing. Additionally, the incorporation of AI-assisted technologies is advancing the development of smart healthcare.

TAI-YUAN

The introduction of a virtual health insurance card and the My Health Bank app, which enables real-time management of personal health data, empowers people to make health-enabling choices. In 2008, Taiwan introduced the Health Technology Assessment to facilitate evidence — based policymaking. It also accelerated the inclusion of new treatments under the NHI system. For example, in 2023, gene and cell therapies were covered for the first time, marking a new era for precision medicine and offering patients enhanced treatment options. Taiwan also continues to leverage innovative technologies to improve the working environment for the medical workforce and to bolster the overall quality of medical service.

What's more, despite facing political challenges, Taiwan has continuously participated in international health affairs and has been dedicated to supporting the global health system. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Taiwan played a crucial role in sharing supplies, strategies, and experiences, and proved to be a reliable partner of countries worldwide. Separately, Taiwan's success story in implementing universal health coverage offers valuable lessons for countries worldwide. As we continue to share our experiences in universal coverage, financial management, and digital health, we hope to facilitate other nations in reaching WHO's goal of universal health coverage.

In this rapidly changing era, health challenges transcend borders, and global cooperation has become essential to addressing various health crises. However, Taiwan has been prevented from participating in WHO — the foremost global health cooperation body — due to China's continued distortion of United Nations General Assembly Resolution 2758 and World Health Assembly Resolution 25.1. Neither of these resolutions mentions Taiwan or declares that Taiwan is part of the People's Republic of China.

Therefore, these resolutions have no ower to confer upon the PRC any right to represent Taiwan in WHO. In light of this, and to uphold the core UN values of inclusiveness and universality, we urge WHO and all relevant parties to recognise Taiwan's considerable contributions to global public health and the human right to health.

WHO must adopt a more open-minded approach and demonstrate flexibility, adhering to the principles of professionalism and inclusivity. Taiwan should be included, as a matter of pragmatism, in the World Health Assembly and all WHO meetings, activities, and mechanisms, particularly those conerned with the WHO pandemic agreement.

Taiwan earnestly hopes to work with the international community to create a future of borderless healthcare that realises the fundamental human right to health stipulated in the WHO Constitution and the vision of leaving no one behind espoused in the United Nations Sustainable Development the Bengal Renaissance marked a pivotal awakening in India's social, cultural, and intellectual life. Bengal became the crucible of this transformation, led by men of exceptional intellect and character — figures like Raja Ram Mohan Roy, Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar, Keshub Chandra Sen, and Dwarakanath Tagore.

Their relentless efforts reshaped the moral and philosophical foundation of a stagnating Indian society, breathing new life into a nation shackled by tradition, superstition, and social injustice. Foremost among these reformers was Raja Ram Mohan Roy, born on May 22, 1772 in Radhanagar to Ramakanto Roy and Tarini Devi. A visionary far ahead of his time, Roy found no solace in the rigid orthodoxy and ritualism of contemporary Hinduism. Deeply disturbed by idolatry, he even journeyed to Tibet in search of spiritual truth, hoping to find refuge in Buddhism. However, his experience there was disappointing — he found Tibetan Buddhism equally steeped in rituals and idolatrous practices. Yet this journey left a profound mark on his life. After a group of Tibetan women saved him from violent monks, he developed a deep reverence for women, recognising their strength and resilience. This experience became the foundation of his lifelong advocacy for women's emancipation, especially his crusade against sati, the inhumane practice tioned the East India Company to expand English-language that forced widows to self-immolate on their husband's funeral pyre. Roy's dedication to social reform extended beyond this. He promoted women's education, property rights, and gender equity — causes later championed by Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar, culminating in the landmark Widow Remarriage Act of 1856. Roy's vision laid the groundwork for a more progressive and humane society. Spiritually, Roy sought to uncover the core, universal truths of religion. He founded the Brahma Sabha, which later evolved into the Brahmo Samaj — a reformist movement that drew from both Hindu and Christian traditions. A polyglot fluent in at least ten languages, Roy studied religious texts across traditions - Hinduism, Christianity, Buddhism, and Islam. He even learnt Hebrew and Greek to explore the foundational texts of Christianity.

Through this comparative lens, he published The Precepts of Jesus, appreciating Christianity's ethical teachings while also advocating for pure theism within Hinduism, stripped of its superstitions. An ardent proponent of modern education, Roy believed that Sanskrit-based instruction alienated the masses. Although he respected ancient scriptures, he opposed Sanskrit education for practical reasons, arguing that its esoteric nature hindered widespread learning. His progressive stance led him to advocate for English education, emphasising the need for rational and scientific knowledge. His vision helped establish prestigious institutions such as Hindu College, Presidency College, Vedanta College, and the English School in Calcutta. He even petiinstruction, showcasing his commitment to national enlightenment. Roy also pioneered journalism in India, launching publications in Bengali, Persian, Hindi, and English. These journals served as powerful tools to disseminate knowledge in science, literature, and politics.

Despite oppressive press restrictions of the time, Roy fiercely defended freedom of expression, challenging censorship in courts and through official appeals. Although he did not live to witness the removal of these press controls, abolished by Charles Metcalfe in 1835 — his role as a crusader for free speech remains undeniable.

Politically astute, Roy campaigned against the Jury Act of 1827, which barred Indians from participating in trials involving fellow natives. He also opposed the renewal of the East India Company's charter and called for key reforms, including civil and criminal law codification, greater Indian representation in the military, and the separation of judiciary and executive powers. Though an internationalist — he travelled to England in 1831 — Roy remained deeply empathetic to the plight of Indian peasants, decrying exploitative zamindars and punitive export duties. In every respect, Raja Ram Mohan Roy was a man far ahead of his time. His unwavering commitment to truth, reason, justice, and unity laid the foundation for the Indian freedom movement and inspired generations.

Liberals call the shots in Canada

Madam — The recent Canadian midterm election results brought unexpected reactions from global leaders, reminiscent of the classic 1960s Bollywood song Na Na Karte Pyar Tumhi Se Kar Baithe. Many appeared to hope for a loss for Canada's Liberal Party, but despite falling three seats short of the majority mark of 172, the party is poised to form the Government.

Notably, Donald Trump, who once quipped about making Canada the 51st US state, congratulated Liberal leader Mark Carney — not via social media, but with a personal phone call. Ironically, Trump's antagonism may have helped Carney. As a vocal critic of Trump, Carney's opposition struck a chord with voters, boosting the Liberals' vote share by 11 per cent and securing 15 more seats than in the last election.

Meanwhile, the Indian Government was seen favouring Conservative leader Pierre Poilievre, possibly due to past tensions with Justin Trudeau. Indian media widely predicted a Liberal defeat — but reality defied those expectations. Reluctantly, Prime Minister Modi congratulated Carney. Encouragingly, Carney has called for renewed India-Canada relations, emphasising their importance and expressing his intent to restore full diplomatic engagement. It is time both nations move past their differences and rebuild a strong, respectful partnership.

China faces the brunt of US tariffs

Madam — As tensions between India and Pakistan reach a peak, the tariff war between the United States and China has also intensified. Many factories in China have shut down after losing orders from the United States. There is growing concern that around 10 to 20 million workers in China, linked to export industries, may face unemployment.

Many factories manufacturing toys, sports goods, and cheap products have sent their workers home and have nearly stopped production. In response, several Chinese companies are now seeking new customers in Europe and Latin America instead of depending on the United States. They are also considering setting up production units in India and Southeast Asia. In the coming months, this shift could completely transform China's export model. The situation is most erning in Yiwu and Dongguan, China's major export hubs

A tipping point in the global trade

 ${\it Madam-The\ article\ on\ Mr\ Trump's\ tariff\ moves\ (dated\ 30-dated\ 3$ 4-25) sheds light on a deep-rooted global economic struggle. After the two World Wars, colonial powers lost access to cheap raw materials and captive markets. In response, they established mechanisms like the World Bank, IMF, and Asian Development Bank — to maintain economic dominance. However, these institutions often left newly liberated nations trapped in debt rather than fostering growth.

The global economic system, driven by profit, has increasingly benefited a tiny elite while depriving the majority. Without sufficient purchasing power among the masses, markets dried up — a crisis that surfaced in the 1930s. Economist Keynes proposed state-led welfare spending to revive demand, a strategy that helped restore economic activity. Yet, the relentless pursuit of profit led to a repeat collapse in 2008, exposing the fragility of the system.

Globalisation, once hailed as a panacea, soon turned the United States into a dumping ground, diminishing its dominance. Trump's reaction — tariffs and trade barriers — reflects a shift towards protectionism.

While most nations resist his unilateralism, bilateral trade pacts are rising. China stands firm, signalling the end of American economic hegemony. Trump's recent pause on tariffs and softer stance suggest a reluctant recognition of this new multipolar trade reality.

Reimagining migration: It's time for an overhaul

As global labour shortages intensify, a policy reset could transform this demographic strength into a global competitive edge, if India can shift from fragmented migration to a structured, ethical, and strategic talent export framework

he Reserve Bank of India's recent bulletin reaffirms India's position as the world's top recipient of remittances, receiving a record $129.1 billion in 2024, amounting to 3.4 per cent of the national GDP and 14.3 per cent of global inflows. These remittances now rival nearly 30 per cent of India's merchandise exports, positioning India's migrant workforce as a critical economic asset to families back home and the nation's macroeconomic stability. This record inflow is not merely a number, it represents the enduring ambition and resilience of over 35 million Indian diaspora, encompassing Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) and Persons of Indian Origin (PIOs) living and working abroad, making up the world's largest diaspora. Their contribution is even more significant when seen as a source of foreign exchange, a buffer to the current account deficit, and a stabilising force during global economic shocks, as observed during the pandemic and subsequent economic downturns.

The epicentre of illegal migration, Punjab alone received ₹32,535 crore in remittances in 2024, representing over 56 per cent of its merchandise exports and 4.6 per cent of its GDP — underscoring how significant migrant remittances are to state economies. Similar patterns are seen in Kerala, where remittances have historically funded household consumption, real estate, education, and local infrastructure. According to the World Bank, remittances exceed Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in many developing nations, and India is no exception.

Despite these achievements, India's migration landscape is marked by a stark duality. At the same time, approximately 2.5 million Indians migrate overseas yearly, and remittances continue to grow — so do irregular and unsafe migration, driven by a lack of legal pathways, poor governance, and limited awareness. States such as Punjab, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Andhra Pradesh, and Kerala traditional migration hubs — are also grappling with the social and human costs of undocumented migration: from human trafficking and exploitation to unsafe "donkey routes" and permanent statelessness.

An Untapped Opportunity

As high-income countries — particularly OECD (Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development) nations like the US, UK, Germany, France, Japan, and Australia — face a projected workforce shortage of 40-50 million by 2030, rising to 160 million by 2040, India stands uniquely positioned to meet this global demand.

With over 65 per cent of its population under 35, India has the world's largest youth cohort. Sectors like healthcare, logistics, construction, education, and technology are already witnessing acute shortages abroad. If paired with policy foresight, this demographic dividend could transform India into the world's leading exporter of skilled human capital. But to realise this, a shift from sporadic migration to structured, state-supported, legal migration is crucial. The Overseas Mobility (Facilitation and Welfare) Bill, 2024, currently under consideration, promises a long-overdue update to the Emigration Act of 1983.

It seeks to build a modern, transparent, and welfare, oriented migration system. But legislative reform alone won't suffice. We need a federalised, missionmode approach involving Central Ministries, State Governments, skilling agencies, and private sector partners. To catalyse this shift, India must embrace a "Talent Export Policy"— similar in ambition to the "Invest India" initiative. Here's a seven-pronged roadmap to do so:

Establish a National Overseas Employment Authority

Set up a dedicated body under the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) that works with State Governments to identify destination country

ACCORDING TO THE WORLD BANK, REMITTANCES EXCEED FOREIGN DIRECT INVESTMENT (FDI) IN MANY DEVELOPING NATIONS, AND INDIA IS NO EXCEPTION. DESPITE THESE ACHIEVEMENTS, INDIA'S MIGRATION LANDSCAPE IS MARKED BY A STARK DUALITY

demands, facilitate skill-matching, and negotiate bilateral migration corridors. District-level Migration Resource Centres and Indian embassy helpdesks should be institutionalised worldwide.

Integrate Global Skill Standards

India must reimagine its skilling architecture to align with global job market standards, including foreign languages, cross-cultural communication, and sector-specific certifications. NSDC (National Skill Development Corporation) can partner with countries for mutual qualification

Make Migration Affordable

Migration costs to Europe can reach up to ₹10 lakh, deterring legal movement and incentivising illegal channels. Low-interest loans, Government subsidies, and employer — funded training models, inspired by the Philippines' ESA-Pay system, must be adopted to reduce the financial burden.

Strengthen Migrant Welfare Systems Abroad

Enforce ILO (International Labour Organisation)compliant employment standards and fund legal aid cells, health insurance, and cultural orientation programmes in collaboration with Indian missions abroad. The Indian Community Welfare Fund (ICWF) can be scaled up to provide real-time

Negotiate Migration Agreements

India must expand its Bilateral Labour Mobility Agreements (BLMAs) portfolio like those already signed with Japan, the UAE, and Germany, ensuring wages, insurance, housing, and grievance redressal mechanisms are part of the contract.

National Mobility Industry Council

Bringing together ethical recruitment agencies, training institutes, employers, and regulators under a national industry body will professionalise migration practices, reduce fraud, and ensure quality assurance.

Harness the Power of Returning

Returning migrants bring global exposure, savings, and skills. A repatriate reintegration programme can turn them into local entrepreneurs and job creators, including re-skilling, credit access, and start-up incubators.

The Way Forward

For India, migration is not just an economic tool, it's a geopolitical asset. A well-supported diaspora can influence foreign policy, trade ties, cultural diplomacy, and technology transfer. Countries like the Philippines, Mexico, and Vietnam have already built national strategies around their overseas workforce. It is time for India to do the same, not out of compulsion but with a vision to lead. With the proper safeguards, strategic investments, and bold policy thinking, India can become the world's largest remittance — receiving nation and the most respected exporter of skilled talent. The global workforce crisis is India's demographic opportunity but only if we act with urgency, coordination, and compassion.

From gaon (village) to global capitals, Indian migrants are already shaping the world. Now it's time for India to shape the future of migration legally, ethically, strategically and geopolitically. India's migration story is at a critical crossroads — rich in promise yet fraught with challenges.
With remittances at record highs and global demand for skilled workers surging, the moment calls for bold, coordinated action.

By embracing a structured, rights-based migration policy, India can not only safeguard its migrants but also elevate them as strategic assets in global diplomacy, trade, and development. Legal, affordable, and skill-aligned migration must become the new norm. If done right, India can transition from being the world's top remittance recipient to a global leader in talent export transforming migration into a national strength and a tool for inclusive progress.

The Unseen hands that build our world

On May 1, Workers' Day, we do more than mark a date — we remember a revolution born from blisters, built on dignity, and carried forward by the unbreakable spirit of those whose work shapes our lives, yet whose names we rarely know he wakes not to an alarm but to the first strike of a hammer. There is no day, no night — just an endless chain of work that begins before sunrise and continues after dark. The hands that bear blisters are the ones that strengthen the nation's foundation. The sweat that falls to the ground raises towering buildings. Yet, these hands have been given more space on floors than in the pages of history.

They haven't been counted — they've been brought down, bent low. But May 1 is the day when the worker straightened their back and told the world: No more.

This day is not just a date on the calendar but a symbol of the consciousness that unites voices crushed for centuries. It is the echo of the strength hidden in the sweat of labourers — a strength that can redirect rivers, split mountains, and, most importantly, transform society's mindset.

A worker is not just a person but an idea. An idea that says labour is the foundation of creation. No uniform, no title, no rank — yet these are the most real people in the world. They may not have degrees to show, but every perfectly aligned brick is proof of their skill.

They are the ones who build cities but often get lost on their edges. They are denied entry to malls, yet they are the ones who build them. Labour is not just working; it is an unwritten poem, composed in lines of blisters, sweat, and unseen exhaustion.

It is a battle — a battle for existence, dignity, and identity that is repeatedly crushed by being called 'unskilled'. But the truth is, the most vital skills belong to those without whom the world would become a stalled machine.

Imagine for a moment: if workers stopped working for a day, what would happen? Cities would halt, streets would empty, and the framework of our so — called modernity would crumble. Yet, how often do we salute their labour?

Today's era is one of technology and innovation. We talk of Digital India, start-ups, and artificial intelligence, but do we forget that the engine of all this still runs on human effort? The delivery boy pedalling through scorching afternoons to bring your package — do we see the exhaustion hidden in his smile?

The welder whose eyes, sparked by more than just metal, forge the future — do we honour their art? Labour is no longer confined to factories; it is the story of every person who lives not for a 'job' but for a passion, even if that passion is to feed their family. It is the story of the rickshaw puller who carries the weight of his family with the strength of his legs.

It is the story of the domestic worker who weaves dreams for her chileven if never attended school. These people are the backbone of our society, yet how often do we dismiss them as mere workers'?

The workers' fight is not ust for wages or working hours but for the respect their labour deserves. They often fight alone - sometimes with their voices, sometimes with tears, and sometimes in silence.

But when they stand together, they change history. That day in 1886, when workers in Chicago demanded an eight-hour workday, was not just an event — it was a spark that ignited labour movements worldwide.

Even today, when workers take to the streets, their voice represents not just themselves but every person who stands against injustice. No law, no

WE MUST ASK: IS OUR DEVELOPMENT TRULY INCLUSIVE IF WORKERS' CONTRIBUTION IS LIMITED TO THEIR LABOUR? IS OUR PROGRESS GENUINE IF ITS FRUITS DON'T REACH THOSE WHO WATER ITS ROOTS?

NO REVOLUTION, NO DEVELOPMENT, NO CONSTRUCTION IS COMPLETE WITHOUT THE WORKER'S SMILE AT ITS CORE.

Government, and no policy is greater than their collective consciousness. Workers' Day is not just a red mark on the calendar — it is a warning to systems that believe labourers only follow orders. They also ask questions, and when they do, the world must answer.

We need a society where labour is seen not as a class but as a value. Where honest work is not looked down upon. Where a child who says, "I want to be a worker like my father," is met with respect, not pity. This will only be possible when we view labour not just as a means of survival but as an art — a matter of pride.

We must understand that workers don't just work — they shape dreams. They don't just build structures — they lay the foundation of society. May 1 will truly be a festival when, instead of spending the holiday in malls, we take a step for workers' rights. When we listen to their stories and give their voices a platform. This day also reminds us that workers are not just a tale of the past but the architects of the future. As we speak of the environment, sustainable development, and social justice, workers are at the heart of that change. Those who grow crops in fields, operate machines in factories, or clean our streets — they are the axis keeping our planet and society alive. Yet, our policies, priorities, and thinking often push them to the margins. We must ask: Is our development truly inclusive if workers' contribution is limited to their labour? Is our progress genuine if its fruits don't reach those who water its roots?

No revolution, no development, no construction is complete without the worker's smile at its core. As long as their share is only sweat and not the rewards, our achievements remain incomplete. This day is not an empty slogan — it is the sound that rose from the strike of a hammer and can still shake our souls — if we are willing to listen.

It gives us a chance not only to remember workers' struggles but to ask what we can do for them. Perhaps it's time we see their labour not just as work but as a force that can change the world. Perhaps it's time we make Workers' Day not just a holiday but a day of resolve — a resolve to build a society where every worker stands tall, and their voice is heard. Because until the worker's smile becomes part of our progress, no achievement of ours will ever be complete.

On May 1, we do not just honour workers, we awaken to the truth they represent. Their hands, though blistered and unseen, shape the world we live in. They are the silent force behind our cities, our comforts, and our dreams.

Yet, they remain invisible — underpaid, undervalued, and often unheard. Workers' Day is a call not just to remember their struggles but to reimagine a society where labour is not just a necessity but a value of pride.

True progress lies in dignity for all not just in technology or wealth, but in the recognition of every hand that builds, cleans, grows, and delivers. Until we ensure their voices are heard and their efforts rewarded, our achievements remain hollow.

Let this day be a pledge — not just of gratitude but of action - to build an inclusive, just, and respectful world, where every worker stands tall and every drop of sweat is met with the respect it deserves.

On May 1, we honour not just the worker's toil but their truth. Their sweat shapes our world, yet their worth goes unseen. Let this day remind us: without dignity for labour, progress is hollow. Real development begins when every worker's voice is heard and their efforts valued equally.

Bangladesh High Court orders Hindu leader's release on bail bench of Bangladesh High Court on Wednesday ordered release of Hindu leader Chinmoy Krishna Das on bail, five months after he was arrested on a charge of defaming the country's national flag, court officials said.

"The two-judge bench declared absolute its earlier rule asking authorities why he should not be granted bail," an official of the High Court said.

The bench comprising Justice Atoar Rahman and Justice Ali Reza granted the bail after the final hearing on their previous rule. On October 31, a case with Kotwali police station in Chattogram was filed accusing Das and 18 others of disrespecting the Bangladesh national flag.

A former ISKCON leader, Das was arrested at Dhaka's Hazrat Shahjalal International Airport on November 25 A spokesperson for the Sammilito

Sanatani Jagaran Jote, a Hindu organisation, Das was taken to the court at the southeastern port city of Chattogram, which sent him to jail rejecting his bail petition the next day.

Das' arrest sparked widespread protests with his followers demonstrating in Dhaka and other places. In the port city, the protest turned violent when assistant government prosecutor Saiful Islam Alif was hacked to death, hours after Das was sent to jail. The development - less than three months after a mass student-led protest ousted prime minister Sheikh Hasina on August 5 - also emerged as an issue between Bangladesh and India with New Delhi expressing its concern over his detention. After Hasina fled to India, Muhammad Yunus took over as Chief Adviser of the Interim government on

Hindu leader Chinmoy Krishna Das

"This incident follows the multiple attacks on Hindus and other minorities by extremist elements in Bangladesh. There are several documented cases of arson and looting of minorities' homes and business establishments, as well as theft and vandalism and desecration of deities and temples," the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said in New Delhi on November 26. "It is unfortunate that while the perpetrators of these incidents remain at large, charges should be pressed against a religious leader presenting legitimate demands through peaceful gatherings," MEA said and urged Bangladesh authorities to ensure the safety and security of Hindus and all minorities. Earlier, the lawyers of the Hindu community leader had failed to secure bail for him as the lower court in Chattogram denied their petitions.

"The allegation of disrespecting the national flag is baseless, as it was not a national flag. We informed the court that this case cannot proceed," top defence counsel Apurba Kumar Bhattacharya told journalists emerging from the court room last time in January.

Bhattacharya, a former deputy attorney general, was leading a team of 11 Supreme Court lawyers to represent Das.

Earlier on December 11, the court rejected a plea seeking advanced hearing of his bail petition by lawyer Rabindra Ghose ruling that it would be heard on the previously fixed date on January 2, 2025.

An associate of Das in his Sammilita Sanatani Jagaran Jote, Sawtantra Gauranga Das, earlier said no lawyer stood for the Hindu leader fearing threats and pressure from a "politically motivated lawyers' group". The government prosecutor's death sparked a counter campaign demanding a ban of ISKCON, the International Society for Krishna Consciousness, which distanced itself from Das saying he was expelled from the organisation more than he parents of a 23-year-old Pakistani man who died during treatment at a Chennai hospital were still waiting Wednesday for the body as the airline which was scheduled to carry it landed without it.

It was reported on Tuesday that the body of Syed Aryan Shah has been brought to Karachi after his mother appealed to the government for help after the Pahalgam attack.

The airline was supposed to bring the body on Tuesday.

"They (airlines) were supposed to bring his body on Tuesday evening to Karachi. Aryan was suffering from heart and severe lung ailments and was on life support for respiratory failure at the MGM Healthcare hospital in Chennai. He died on April 25.

Aryan's mother said that after she had appealed to the Pakistan government to help her clear the hospital bills and also arrange for transportation of the body to Karachi, the Balochistan government had come to her rescue by coordinating with the foreign ministry and arranging to transport the body from Chennai to Colombo. His mother had flown with Aryan to Chennai and got him admitted there on February 12 for his urgent treatment. government, said. Rind said the plan was to bring the body by road from Karachi to Quetta by Wednesday for burial.

The airlines have assured the body will be brought to Karachi as soon as possible, but have given no schedule.

According to media reports, Aryan Shah had been suffering from interstitial lung disease and was put on ECMO support for the last 70 days.

After all existing Indian visas issued to Pakistani nationals were revoked, some families from Pakistan who were in Chennai or New Delhi for the treatment of their children had to cancel their plans and return home.

North Korea's Kim Jong watches missile test-firings

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Seoul

orth Korea said Wednesday leader Kim Jong Un observed the first test-firings of missiles from a recently launched destroyer - the first such warship for the North - and called for accelerating efforts to boost his navy's nuclear attack capabilities.

North Korea last week unveiled the 5,000-tonne destroyer equipped with what it called the most powerful weapons built in its warship industry. During Friday's launching ceremony at the western port of Nampo, Kim called the ship's construction "a breakthrough" in modernising North Korea's naval forces.

Outsider experts say it's North Korea's first destroyer and that it was likely built with Russian assistance. They say North Korea's naval forces lag behind South Korea's but still view the destroyer as a serious security threat as it could bolster North Korea's attack and defence capabilities.

The official Korean Central News Agency said Wednesday that Kim watched the tests of the destroyer's supersonic and strategic cruise missiles, anti-aircraft missile, automatic guns and electronic jamming guns earlier this week.

He appreciated the ship's combination of powerful strike weapons and conventional defenses and set tasks to speed the nuclear-arming of his navy, the report said. During the ship's launching ceremony, ties targeting the North.

An analysis of photos of the warship shows that its anti-air radar system is likely from Russia, said Lee Illwoo, an expert with the Korea Defense Network in South Korea. He said the warship's engine system and some of its anti-air weapons systems also likely came from Russia.

North Korea and Russia have been sharply expanding military and other cooperation in recent years, with the North supplying troops and conventional weapons to support Russia's war efforts against Ukraine. The US, South Korea and their partners worry Russia will likely in return provide

North Korea with high-tech weapons technologies that can enhance its nuclear programme as well as shipping other military and economic assistance. Lee said the deployment of a warship with an advanced radar system off North

Korea's west coast could sharply bolster its air defence capabilities for Pyongyang, the Lee said South Korea, which has 12 destroyers, still vastly outpaces North Korea's naval forces. But he said the North Korean destroyer, which can carry about 80 missiles, can still pose a serious threat, as South Korea's navy hasn't likely braced for such an enemy warship.

Animosities on the Korean Peninsula are running high as North Korea continues its weapons testing activities meant to enlarge its nuclear and missile arsenals. On Monday, North Korea confirmed for the first time that it has sent combat troops to Russia to support its war efforts against Ukraine. Russian President Vladimir Putin thanked North Korea and promised not to torget the sacrifices of North Korean soldiers for Russia.

One float carried the Lac bird, Vietnam's emblem, another a portrait of Ho Chi Minh. Chinese, Laotian and Cambodian troops marched behind Vietnamese army formations, including some wearing uniforms similar to what was worn by northern Vietnamese troops during Helicopters carrying the national flag and jets flew over the parade near Independence Palace, where a North Vietnamese tank smashed through the gates on the final day of the war.

Sitting next to Vietnam's leader were Cambodia's former leader Hun Sen and Laotian Communist Party General Secretary Thongloun Sisoulith.

To Lam said beyond a victory over the US and South Vietnam, the fall of Saigon was a "glorious landmark" that ended a 30-year fight for independence that began with the fight to oust French colonial troops.

He said Vietnam owes its position in the world today to support from the Soviet Union, China and solidarity from Laos and Cambodia, as well as "progressive" people all over the world including

The emphasis on reconciliation and not, like previous years, on military victory reflected how Vietnam was approaching the changing tides of the global economy and geopolitics today, said Nguyen Khac Giang, an analyst at Singapore's ISEAS-Yusof Ishak Institute.

He added that the Vietnam War remains central to how the Communist Party framed its legitimacy, not just as a military triumph but also as a symbol of national unity. But To Lam's comments underlined that the reconciliation remains unfinished. "The war still defines Vietnam's unity, and its unresolved divides," Giang said. For Pham Ngoc Son, a veteran who fought for the communists, today there is "only space for peace and friendship" between the US and Vietnam.

"The war is over a long time ago," said the 69-year-old who, during the war, served as an army truck driver bringing troops and supplies from the north to the south along the Ho Chi Minh trail - the secret supply route used by North

This year also marks the 30-year anniversary of diplomatic ties between Vietnam and the US. In 2023, Vietnam upgraded its relations with the US to that of a comprehensive strategic partner, the highest diplomatic status it gives to any country and the same level of relations as China and Russia.

Sudanese return to their homeland, hoping for stability

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Cairo

hmed Abdalla sat on a sidewalk in downtown Cairo, waiting for a bus that will start him on his journey back to Sudan. He doesn't know what he will find in his homeland, wrecked and still embroiled in a 2-year-old war.

His wife and son, who weren't going with him, sat next to him to bid him goodbye. Abdalla plans to go back for a year, then decide whether it's safe to bring

"There is no clear vision. Until when do we have to wait?" Abdalla said, holding two bags of clothes. "These moments I'm separating from my family are really hard," he said, as his wife broke down

Abdullah is among tens of thousands of Sudanese who were driven from their homes and are now going back. They are hoping for some stability after the military in recent months recaptured the capital, Khartoum, and other areas from its rival, the Rapid Support Forces.

But the war still rages in some parts of the country. In areas recaptured by the military, people are returning to find their neighbourhoods shattered, often with no electricity and scarce food, water and services. The battle for power between the military and the RSF has caused one of the worst humanitarian crises in the world. Famine is spreading. At least 20,000 people have been killed, according to the UN, though the figure is likely higher.

Nearly 13 million people fled their homes, some 4 million of whom streamed into neighbouring countries while the rest sought shelter elsewhere in

A relatively small portion of the displaced are returning so far, but the numbers are accelerating. Some 400,000 internally displaced Sudanese have gone back to homes in the Khartoum area, neighbouring Gezira province and southeast Sennar province, the International Organisation for Migration estimates.

Since Jan. 1, about 123,000 Sudanese returned from Egypt, including nearly 50,000 so far in April, double the month before, the IOM said. Some 1.5 million Sudanese fled to Egypt during the war, according to UNHCR.

Nfa Dre, who had fled to northern Sudan, moved back with his family to Khartoum North, a sister city of the capital, right after the military retook it in March.

They found decomposing bodies and unexploded ordnance in the streets. Their home had been looted.

"Thank God, we had no loss of lives, iust material losses, which matter nothing compared to lives," Dre said. Three days of work made their home inhabitable. But conditions are hard. Not all markets have reopened and few medical services are available. Dre said residents rely on charity kitchens operated by a community activist group called the Emergency Response Rooms, or ERR. They haul water from the Nile River for cooking and drinking. His home has no electricity, so he charges his phone at a mosque with solar panels.

"We asked the authorities for generators, but they replied that they don't have the budget to provide them," Dre said. 'There was nothing we could say."

Salah Semsaya, an ERR volunteer, said he knew of displaced people who tried returning to Wad Madani, the capital of Gezira province, but found the basics of life so lacking that they went back to their displacement shelters.

Others are too wary to try. "They're worried about services for their children. They're worrying about their livelihoods," said Sheldon Yett, UNICEF Representative to Sudan.

Throughout the war, there has been no functional government. A militarybacked transitional administration was based in Port Sudan, on the Red Sea coast, but had little reach or resources. After retaking Khartoum, the military said it will establish a new interim

"Erosion of multilateralism threatens global stability"

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Johannesburg

nouth African Deputy President Paul Mashatile has called on G20 nations to strongly discourage the erosion of multilateralism, warning that it is a potential threat to global growth and stability. Addressing a gathering of African thought leaders at the Think 20 (T20) Africa High-Level Dialogue in Pretoria on Tuesday, Mashatile said multilateralism was facing serious challenges that were reshaping global dynamics and relationships. "Therefore, we should take a dim view and strongly discourage the erosion of multilateralism, as it poses a potential threat to global growth and stability," he

The dialogue, themed 'Strengthening African Agency in the G20 Within the Global Order', served as a preparatory meeting for the G20 Summit later this year. South Africa holds the G20 Presidency for 2025. Mashatile said a fair, transparent, equitable, and inclusive international order was essential for economic stability and sustained growth.

He warned of the hardships caused by global megatrends such as geopolitical instability, climate change, rising nationalism, and trade wars. "Global economic growth is subdued, with many economies, particularly in Africa, burdened by unsustainable debt levels, while billions are affected by underdevelopment, inequality, poverty, and unemployment," he noted.

Mashatile listed the challenges which he said were "testing our global humanity and solidarity among nations.

The Deputy President stressed that South Africa would use its G20 Presidency to prioritise employment generation, gender-responsive policies, equitable access to opportunity, and reforms to the global financial system - including fair credit rating systems, accessible climate financing, and debt relief for low-income countries.

Liberals win Canada election, miss majority mark

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Toronto

anadian Prime Minister Mark Carney's Liberals fell short of winning an outright majority in Parliament on Tuesday, a day after the party scored a stunning comeback victory in a vote widely seen as a rebuke of US President Donald Trump.

The vote-counting agency Elections Canada finished processing nearly all ballots in an election that could leave the Liberals just three seats shy of a majority, which means they will have to seek help from another, smaller party to pass legislation. The Liberal party seemed likely to find the extra votes necessary, but it was not clear whether they would come from the progressive party, which backed the Liberals under former Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, or from a separatist party from French-speaking Quebec.

Carney's rival, populist Conservative leader Pierre Poilievre, was in the lead until Trump took aim at Canada with a trade war and threats to annex the country as the 51st state. Poilievre not only lost his bid for prime minister Monday but was voted out of the Parliament seat that he held for 20 years. That capped a swift decline in fortunes for the firebrand Poilievre, who a few months ago appeared to be a shoo-in to become Canada's next prime minister and shepherd the Conservatives back into power for the first time in a decade.

Poilievre, a career politician, campaigned with Trump-like bravado, taking a page from the "America First" president by adopting the slogan "Canada First." But his similarities to Trump may have ultimately cost him and his party.

The Liberals were projected to win 169 seats of Parliament's 343 seats while the Conservatives were projected to win 144. The separatist Bloc Quebecois party was expected to finish with 22 seats, the progressive New Democrats with seven and the Greens with one. Recounts were expected in some districts.

Elections Canada said 68.5 per cent of eligible voters cast ballots in the federal election — the highest turnout since 1993. In a victory speech, Carney stressed unity in the face of Washington's threats.

Mark Carney, Canada's PM and Liberal leader, at a campaign rally in Mississauga. Ontario.

He said the mutually beneficial relationship Canada and the US had shared since World War II was gone.

"We are over the shock of the American betrayal, but we should never forget the

"As I've been warning for months, America wants our land, our resources, our water, our country," Carney added. "These are not idle threats. President Trump is trying to break us so America can own us. That will never Ever happen. But we also must recognise the reality that our world has fundamentally changed."

In a statement issued Tuesday, White House spokesperson Anna Kelly said the Canadian election "does not affect President Trump's plan to make Canada America's cherished 51st state."

Carney spoke with Trump, and the two leaders "agreed on the importance of Canada and the United States working together — as independent, sovereign nations — for their mutual betterment," Carney's office said in a statement.

The men "agreed to meet in person in the near future.

Defeat for the conservatives

Poilievre hoped to make the election a referendum on Trudeau, whose popularity declined toward the end of his decade in power as food and housing prices rose.

But Trump attacked, Trudeau resigned and Carney, a two-time central banker, became the Liberal Party's leader and learn the lessons of tonight."

"We are cognisant of the fact that we didn't get over the finish line yet," Poilievre said. "We know that change is needed, but change is hard to come by. It takes time. It takes work. And that's why we have to McGill University political science professor Daniel Beland said nothing prevents Poilievre from remaining the Conservative leader without a seat, but, if he decides to stay, he would need to run in another district — perhaps by asking a Conservative member of Parliament from a safe Conservative district to resign and trigger a by-election, which could help him quickly return to the House of Commons.

"Still, losing your seat when some people within your own party think you're the main reason why it failed to win is a clear issue for Poilievre," Béland said.

"Moreover, not having the leader of the official opposition in the House of Commons when Parliament sits again would obviously be a serious problem for

UK, US launch joint strikes on Houthis

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA London

he UK's Royal Air Force (RAF) participated in a joint operation with US forces against a Houthi military target in Yemen, Britain's Ministry of Defence (MoD) said in a statement on

The MoD said the strikes on Tuesday were in line with the UK's long-standing policy since the Houthi rebels initiated attacks in the Red Sea in November 2023, killing innocent sailors. "On 29 April 2025, UK forces participated in a joint operation with US forces against a Houthi military target in Yemen," reads the MoD statement. "This action was in line with long-standing policy of the UK government, following the Houthis initiating their campaign of attacks in November 2023, threatening freedom of navigation in the Red Sea, striking international ships, and killing innocent merchant mariners. "Careful intelligence analysis identified a cluster of buildings, used by the Houthis to manufacture drones of the type used to attack ships in the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden, located some 15 miles south of Sanaa," the statement notes.

Royal Air Force 'Typhoon FGR4s', with air refuelling support from 'Voyager' tankers, engaged a number of the buildings using Paveway IV precision guided bombs after careful planning to allow the targets to be "prosecuted with minimal risk to civilians or non-military infrastructure".

"As a further precaution, the strike was conducted after dark, when the likelihood of any civilians being in the area was reduced yet further. All of our aircraft subsequently returned safely," the statement added.

This marks the first such joint UK-US operation since Donald Trump took office as American President.

"We conducted these strikes, supported by the US, to degrade Houthi capabilities and prevent further attacks against UK and international shipping," said UK Defence Secretary John Healey.

The minister said Houthi activities in the Red Sea are a "persistent threat" to "freedom of navigation". "A 55 per cent drop in shipping through the Red Sea has already cost billions, fuelling regional instability and risking economic security for families in the UK," he added.

The Houthis began launching attacks on shipping routes, claiming solidarity with Palestinians over Israel's war with Hamas in Gaza, hoping to disrupt global commerce and gain regional influence. PUBLIC NOTICE

France accuses Russia-linked hackers of targeting Paris Olympics: agencies

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Paris

the French government accused a hacking group linked to Russian military intelligence of cyberattacks over three years, targeting the Paris Olympics, French government agencies and companies.

A report released Tuesday by France's cybersecurity agency, ANSSI, outlined cyber incidents from 2021 through 2024, which it attributes to a group called APT28, also known as Fancy Bear.

The report said the hacking aimed to collect intelligence, notably in the context of Russia's war in Ukraine.

France is among Ukraine's most vocal backers, and its government is working to ensure that an eventual US-brokered peace deal doesn't further embolden Russia and threaten Europe's security.

The French Foreign Ministry said the hacking was linked to the Russian military intelligence agency GRU, and targeted French entities including a sports organisation linked to the planning of the 2024 Paris

Olympic Paralympic Games.

It didn't identify the organisation or detail the impact of the cyber-meddling. The cybersecurity agency said other targets included those involved in aerospace, finance, national government ministries local governments. didn't name them.

More than a dozen reports in 2023 and 2024 pointed to an intensifying effort from Russia to undermine France through disinformation campaigns, particularly the Paris

Delhi: Wedding businesses to surpass ₹5,000 crore on Akshaya Tritiya

edding-related businesses in Delhi are expected to surpass Rs 5,000 crore in one day as the national capital is witnessing around 21,000 marriages to coincide with Akshaya Tritiya — an auspicious day in the Hindu calender. It's not just the couples who are feeling the joy — the wedding business is also seeing a boom, across a wide range of sectors including apparel, jewellery, food and catering, decoration, photography, transport, hotel bookings, event management, beauty salons, DJ services and floral services. Today, nearly all banquet halls, hotels and wedding venues in Delhi are fully booked. Meanwhile, hotel and banquet hall prices have surged by 10-15 per cent and most venues across the city are already fully booked, reflecting the massive wedding wave sweeping Delhi on Wednesday.

Notably, despite record prices, gold and silver trade across India touched a new high on Wednesday, on Akshaya Tritiya, a day considered auspicious in the country. According to the estimates of jewellery traders, gold sales alone were worth ₹12,000 crore on Wednesday. Akshaya Tritiya, celebrated annually on the third day of the bright half of Hindu calender month Vaisakha, falls on Wednesday this year.

The Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT), has estimated Wedding-related businesses in Delhi are expected to surpass ₹5,000 crore in one day.

The Chamber of Trade and Industry (CTI) estimated that the overall weddingrelated business in the Delhi on Wednesday could exceed ₹1,000 crore. "Rates of banquet halls and hotels have seen a 10-15 per cent increase due to high demand," ĈTI Chairman Brijesh Goyal said. CTI General Secretary and gold trader Gurmeet Arora said that the gold and silver trade alone is expected to see a turnover of around ₹200 crore. However, with gold prices at record highs, buyers are showing more interest in light-weight jewellery.

"The price of gold has risen significantly. Ten grams of gold is currently priced at around ₹97,000, compared to ₹73,500 on Akshaya Tritiya last year. As a result, traders are focusing on smaller, lighter gold and diamond jewellery pieces to meet customer demand," Arora said.

Families are estimated to spend around 10 per cent of their wedding budget on clothing, 15 per cent on jewellery, and five per cent each on electronics, sweets and dry fruits. Gift items account for around four per cent of spending, according to Deepak Garg, Senior Vice-President of CTI. In the services category, five per cent of the budget typically goes to banquet halls and hotels, three per cent to management, 10 per cent to tent and decoration services, and another 10 per cent on other services such as catering, he said.

Flower decoration makes up four per cent of total expenses, while transportation, photography, and music-related services together account for about 15 per cent, he added.

According to the Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT), the prices of gold and silver have surged significantly this year. Currently, the price of 10 grams of gold has reached around ₹1,00,000, compared to ₹73,500 on Akshaya Tritiya last year. Similarly, silver prices have touched ₹1,00,000 per kilogram, up from ₹86,000 per kilogram in 2023. In 2023, Akshaya Tritiya witnessed jewellery sales worth approximately ₹14,500 crore across the country, but the 2024 Lok Sabha elections have led to a noticeable dip in trade activity this year.

According to the latest data released by the World Gold Council, India's gold demand in the first three months of the year (January-March 2025) stood at 118.1 tonnes, a 15 per cent drop from 139 tonnes in the same period last year.

According to mythological beliefs, on this day, Lord Shiva blessed Kubera with immense wealth and Goddess Lakshmi with the title of the goddess of fortune making it one of the most auspicious days for buying precious metals.

Centre hiked sugarcane price by 4.41 per cent for 2025-26

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE ■ New Delhi

he Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday decided to increase the Fair and Remunerative Price (FRP) of sugarcane by 4.41 per cent to ₹355 per quintal for the upcoming 2025-26 season beginning October, keeping in mind the interest of sugarcane farmers.

For the current 2024-25 season, the sugarcane FRP has been fixed at ₹340 per quintal. FRP is the minimum price mandated by the Government of India that sugar mills are legally obligated to pay sugarcane farmers for their produce.

Briefing media after the meeting, I&B Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said the FRP of ₹355 per quintal has been approved for a basic recovery rate of 10.25 per cent.

"The Fair and Remunerative Price for sugar season 2025-26 is 4.41 per cent higher than current sugar season 2024-25," the statement said.

A premium of ₹3.46 per quintal for each 0.1 per cent increase in sugar recovery over and above 10.25 per cent will be provided to farmers. A reduction in Fair and Remunerative Price by ₹3.46 per quintal will be for every 0.1 per cent decrease in recovery rate.

The government has also decided that there will not be any deduction in case of sugar mills where recovery is below 9.5 per cent. Such farmers will get ₹329.05 per cent for sugarcane in to farmers for 2024-25.

the ensuing 2025-26 season.

According to the statement, the cost of production of sugarcane for the sugar season 2025-26 is ₹173 per quintal. The FRP of Rs 355 per quintal fixed for 2025-26 at a recovery rate of 10.25 per cent is higher by 105.2 per cent over production cost.

The sugar sector is an important agro-based sector that impacts the livelihood of about 5 crore sugarcane farmers and their dependents and around 5 lakh workers directly employed in sugar mills, apart from those employed in various ancillary activities including farm labour and

Briefing media after the meeting, I&B Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said the FRP of ₹355 per quintal has been approved for a basic recovery rate of 10.25 per cent

The FRP has been determined on the basis of recommendations of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices (CACP) and after consultation with state governments and other stakeholders.

As of April 28, about 87 per cent of total cane dues of ₹97,270 crore have been paid to farmers in the 2024-25 season, while 99.92 per cent of total cane dues of ₹1,11,782 crores were paid

he rupee surged 38 paise to 84.58 (provisional) against the US dollar on Wednesday as trade-deal hopes and foreign fund inflows boosted investor sentiments. US President Donald Trump's statement that tariff talks with India are in a positive direction enthused investors, forex dealers said. However, geopolitical tensions between India and Pakistan and a muted sentiment in domestic equities weighed on investor sentiments.

At the interbank foreign exchange, the domestic unit opened at 85.15 and moved between the intra-day high of 84.47 and the low of 85.15 against the greenback. The unit ended the session at 84.58 (provisional), registering a gain of 38 paise over its previous closing level.

On Tuesday, the rupee gained 27 paise to settle at 84.96 against the US dollar. Meanwhile, Trump said negotiations with India over a bilateral trade deal are "coming along great", and he thinks Washington will "have a deal" with New Delhi.

Trump made the remarks on Tuesday while speaking to reporters before departing the White House for a rally in Michigan, marking the first 100 days of his second administration.

Trump said negotiations with India over a bilateral trade deal are "coming along great", and he thinks Washington will "have a deal" with New Delhi

"India is coming along great. I think we'll have a deal with India," said the president. "Prime Minister (Narendra Modi), as you know, was here three weeks ago, and they want to make a deal. We'll see what happens," he added.

Prime Minister Modi visited the White House in late February.

The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading higher by 0.20 per cent at 99.44.

Brent crude, the global oil benchmark, fell 0.81 per cent to $63.73 per barrel in futures trade.

In the domestic equity market, the 30share BSE Sensex declined 46.14 points, or 0.06 per cent, to close at 80,242.24, while the Nifty fell 1.75 points or 0.01 per cent to settle at 24,334.20.

Foreign institutional investors (FIIs) bought equities worth ₹2,385.61 crore on a net basis on Tuesday, according to exchange data.

Meanwhile, the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS), chaired by the Prime Minister, is understood to have deliberated on the overall security situation in Jammu and Kashmir on Wednesday amid speculations about India's possible retaliation to the Pahalgam terror attack in view of its cross border linkages.

The CCS meeting was held at the prime minister's Lok Kalyan Marg residence, a day after he held a meeting with the top military brass and accorded operational freedom to the armed forces on the "mode, targets and timing" of India's response to the April 22 attack that killed 26 people.

It was attended by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, Home Minister Amit Shah and External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, people familiar with the matter said.

Airspace restrictions increase costs for Indian airlines

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Mumbai/

ndian airlines are likely to face additional weekly expenses of ₹77 crore for international flights operated from north Indian cities as the airspace curbs result in increased fuel consumption and longer flight durations.

An analysis of the number of overseas flights and back-of-the-envelope calculations based on increased flight time as well as approximate expenses by media showed that the additional monthly operational costs could be over ₹306 crore. Amid escalating tensions between India and Pakistan due to the Pahalgam terror attack, Pakistan on Thursday said it will bar Indian airlines from using its airspace. Alternative flight path is resulting in additional flying time of up to 1.5 hours for international flights from Delhi and north Indian cities.

A senior airline industry official, who has extensive experience in the commercial side, told to media that the additional time for a 16-hour flight to North America will be around 1.5 hours.

For 1.5 additional hours, the cost will be around ₹29 lakh, including landing and parking charges on account of a technical halt in an airport enroute, the official said. Similarly, the additional flight time for a 9-hour flight to Europe will be about 1.5 hours, and the extra cost will be around ₹22.5 lakh.

In the case of Middle East flights, the additional time will be around 45 minutes, and the resultant cost will be about ₹5 lakh, the official said.

Indian carriers are scheduled to operate more than 6,000 flights one way to various international destinations in April, data from aviation analytics firm

Cirium showed. Over 800 weekly flights are operated by Indian airlines to and from north Indian cities to overseas destinations, including North America, the UK, Europe and the Middle East, as per an analysis of the Cirium data.

There are little over 3,100 flights both ways in a month, and on a weekly basis, the count comes to nearly 800 flights.

Out of the total monthly flights, nearly 1,900 are operated with narrow-body planes and some wide-body aircraft to the Middle East. Considering the additional cost of ₹5 lakh per flight for the extra 45 minutes, the overall expenses will be

With respect to Europe and North America, the total two-way flights are nearly 1,200. On the basis of additional flying time of 1.5 hours costing around ₹29 lakh for North America services and ₹22 lakh for Europe flights, the total amount will be about ₹306 crore per month. As per the analysis, the total additional monthly expenses will be about Rs 307 crore and ₹77 crore on a weekly basis. These figures are based on rough estimates. Apart from higher fuel consumption, longer flying hours also pose payload and aircraft availability issues, as well as crew flying duty time limitation challenges for airlines. On April 25, IndiGo said that around 50 international routes operated by it will require longer sectors and hence may be subject to some slight schedule adjustments.

With the same restrictions and limited rerouting options, unfortunately, Almaty and Tashkent are outside the operational range of IndiGo's current fleet," it had said in a statement.

Flights to Almaty stand cancelled from April 27 until at least May 7 and to Tashkent from April 28 until May 7.

Gold prices decline by ₹900 to ₹98,550/10 gm old prices declined by ₹900 to ₹98,550 per 10 grams in the national capital on Wednesday amid a weak trend in international markets, according to the All India Sarafa Association. The precious metal of 99.9 per cent purity had closed at ₹99,450 per 10 grams on Tuesday.

Gold of 99.5 per cent purity declined ₹900 to ₹98,100 per 10 grams from the previous close of ₹99,000 per 10 grams. However, increased buying by consumers on Akshaya Tritiya, which is considered an auspicious day for buying gold, jewellery and other valuables, capped the decline in gold prices.

Jewellers expect around 35 per cent increase in sales in value terms this year, mainly due to high prices, on the Akshava Tritiya festival compared to last year. Gold prices ruled at ₹72,300 per 10 grams on Akshaya Tritiya in 2024 which fell on May ed to remain flat at 20 tonnes, say jewellers. Silver prices slumped ₹4,000 to ₹98,000 per kg against the previous close of ₹1,02,000 per kg on Tuesday.

In the overseas market, spot gold dipped $43.35 or 1.31 per cent to $3,273.90 per ounce. Spot silver was quoted 1.83 per cent lower at $32.33 per ounce "Gold extended its decline after US President Donald Trump signed an executive order aimed at softening the impact of his auto tariffs and cited progress in trade negotiations with several countries," Kaynat Chainwala, AVP-Commodity Research, Kotak Securities, said.

Trump offers automakers some relief PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Washington

President Donald Trump signed executive orders Tuesday to relax some of his 25 per cent tariffs on automobiles and auto parts, a significant reversal as the import taxes threatened to hurt domestic manufacturers.

Automakers and independent analyses have indicated that the tariffs could raise prices, reduce sales and make US production less competitive worldwide. Trump portrayed the changes as a bridge toward automakers moving more production into the United States.

"We just wanted to help them during this little transition, short term," Trump told reporters. "We didn't want to penalise them." Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent, who spoke earlier at a White House briefing on Tuesday, said the goal was to enable automakers to create more domestic manufacturing jobs.

"President Trump has had meetings with both domestic and foreign auto producers, and he's committed to bringing back auto production to the US," Bessent said. "So we want to give the automakers a path to do that, quickly, efficiently and create as many jobs as possible."

Trump signed one order on Tuesday that amended his previous 25 per cent auto tariffs, making it easier for vehicles that are assembled in the US with foreign parts to not face prohibitively high The amended order provides a rebate for one year of 3.75 per cent relative to the sales prices of a domestically assembled vehicles. That figure was reached by putting the 25 per cent import tax on parts that make up 15 per cent of a vehicle's sales price.

For the second year, the rebate would equal 2.5 per cent of a vehicle's sales price, as it would apply to a smaller share of the vehicle's parts.

The official said automakers would over the next month announce additional shifts for workers, new hires and plans for new facilities.

IKEA to set up compact stores in smaller cities

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA NEW DELHI

wedish home furnishings retailer IKEA is taking a "huge shift" in its India growth strategy by deciding to set up compact stores in smaller cities with a view to become more accessible to customers, said a company official.

IKEA, currently in the second phase of its growth in India, plans to expand through a network of small-format stores tailored to specific locations and catchment areas.

These stores could be as compact as 10,000 square feet, making them suitable for neighbourhood shopping malls, IKEA India Country Expansion Manager Pooja Grover told to media.

Further, she said these small-format stores will help IKEA to expand more quickly, remain agile, and establish a presence in malls and on high streets. She added that IKEA is also exploring partnerships with real estate developers to support this new concept.

Although these stores will have a limited physical display of IKEA's products, they will be equipped with a digital cat-alogue that allows customers to explore the brand's range of around 7,000 products and place orders. Multiple delivery options will be available, including home delivery, pickup at a collection point, or pickup by a third party, she added.

"We are trying to integrate various aspects and offer different kinds of experiences across different formats... From a size point of view, this is a huge benefit for us in India as well, where we will be more accessible to many people," said Grover, adding that "this size option opens up a lot of accessibility" for IKEA.

enter smaller tier II and III cities with its smaller-format stores, she said the company is currently focused on six priority cities: Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Mumbai, Delhi NCR, Chennai, and Pune.

"So, we are focusing on these cities, we are also looking at smaller cities, tier II cities, and we will be finalising our plan shortly, but yes, we will be looking at physical CMPs (Customer Meeting Point) at some point in these cities as well," she added.

Regarding the number of upcoming stores, Grover said, "We are working on the overall numbers and plans for the next four to five years. We have recently received direction from the board, along with the necessary approvals."

In February, IKEA started online sales in Delhi-NCR and nine other markets ahead of its coming physical stores in Gurugram and Noida. It plans to open physical stores in Chennai and Pune in

When asked whether IKEA plans to the next phase after having operational stores in Hyderabad, Mumbai, and Bengaluru and two more coming stores in Delhi-NCR in Gurgaon and Noida.

'We have three standard stores currently in the country, all of which are large size, they are 40,000 square metre plus stores and we have one city store in Mumbai, which is around 7,500 square metres, and now we have a range of options...," she said.

IKEA has launched its first Plan & Order Point (PaOP) in Bengaluru, covering 740 square metres. This new format acts as a dedicated customer interaction hub, offering personalised consultations, expert home design guidance, flexible planning assistance, and installation services — bringing IKEA's expertise closer to customers.

Here, customers can choose their preferred level of service, whether it's a DIY approach, expert-guided planning, or complete end-to-end design and installation, with access to IKEA's full home furnishing range of over 7,000 products.

IKEA CEO Susanne Pulverer told to media in February that the company is now aiming for profitable growth in the coming year. It is also in discussions with the government to secure approval for the next round of foreign direct investment (FDI). In 2013, the government had approved IKEA's FDI proposal worth Rs 10,500 crore to establish 10 stores along with allied infrastructure over a period of 10 years.

Swiatek, Sabalenka power into Madrid quarterfinals

Press Trust of India Madrid

ower was restored at the Caja Magica tennis complex and the Madrid Open resumed with a packed schedule that included second-ranked Iga Swiatek advancing to the quarterfinals after a "more relaxed" day because of the blackout.

Top-ranked Aryna Sabalenka made into the last eight by defeating Peyton Stearns in straight sets, while on the men's side, top-seeded Alexander Zverev was upset by 21stranked Francisco Cerundolo of Argentina. Following the major blackout that prompted 22 matches to be postponed on Monday, Swiatek returned to the center court and defeated Diana Shnaider 6-0, 6-7 (3), 6-4 to stay on track to defend her title in the Spanish capital.

"I liked yesterday. I think the whole world was just more relaxed, kind of, obviously the people who didn't lose because of this," she said. "I enjoyed the time off, and I tried to just recover, because we need to savor these free days, Swiatek said she took away food from the tournament site and relaxed at the hotel until the power came back on.

"I just chilled and used that time to not think about what I should do," she said. "There was no signal, so basically no one used their phones. It was nice, I liked it."

Most parts of Madrid regained power overnight, but the Caja Magica was still without electricity early Tuesday, causing a delay in the opening of the gates for fans.

The power came back quickly, though, and organizers did not have to alter the day's schedule of matches, although there was the possibility of the night session being delayed because of the high number of matches during the day.

Swiatek cruised in the first set but had to save 11 of 13 break points to seal a hard-fought victory against the 13th-seeded Shnaider. Swiatek has not lost before the quarterfinals in seven tournaments this season but hasn't gone past the semifinals since Roland Garros last year. She will next face Madison Keys, who defeated Donna Vekic 6-2, 6-3.

It will be Swiatek's first meeting with Keys since she lost despite having match point in the semifinals of the Australian Open that was won

Paul was among the players having to play doubles on the same day as their singles matches. Another was 19-vear-old Jakub Mensik, the Miami winner who defeated Alexander Bublik 6-3, 6-2 before having to play his doubles match on the same court a bit later.

The 27-year-old Bublik joked in a conversation with the match's referee during a Ninth-seed Daniil Medvedev matched his career-best result in Madrid by reaching the last eight with a 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 victory over American Brandon Nakashima. Fourth-ranked Taylor Fritz was another American eliminated, losing 7-5, 6-4 to Casper Ruud.

There were huge lines outside the complex, and people with tickets for Monday's matches were not allowed back in on Tuesday.

She's in charge: At F1 Miami Grand Prix, top executive roles are held by women

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA Miami Gardens

For the Miami Grand Prix, someone is in charge of all the strategic planning and the budet. Someone else oversees the construction of 163 temporary buildings needed for a Formula 1 race weekend. Someone else designs the seating areas and keeps track of food and beverage needs. Someone else makes sure that the rich and famous have everything they need and want, from the right drink to the right kind of These jobs make the race happen.

And in Miami, they're all being done by

It's something that the Miami Grand Prix believes sets its race apart. In a sport and a circuit still dominated by males — there hasn't been a woman behind the wheel for a Formula 1 race since 1992 — it will be difficult this weekend to find an element of the event that isn't overseen by a woman. "I'm so proud," said Katharina Nowak, the Miami race's vice president of business operations. "The amount of talent, whether male or female, that we have in that room, it just makes you want to be better. Every day, we push ourselves to just continue to maintain the standard at which we all expect to be working at, which just pushes everybody to be better for each other because no one wants to let anyone down.

There are men on the masthead for the race's local overseers: Miami Dolphins owner Stephen Ross owns the race, Tom Garfinkel is the managing partner and Tyler Epp is president of the race that takes place at the Dolphins' Hard Rock Stadium campus. From there, many other top Miami roles are held by women, including:

— Nowak — only 28 years old — reports to Epp as the race's second-in-command and oversees all strategic plans, the budget and 17 internal departments. She also speaks four lan-

 Natalie Clark is the senior director of event operations, overseeing the process of building, loading in and loading out, which means she tracks what every truck is bringing onto the campus and where it goes.

— Sydney McClain is the senior director of events and food and beverage, meaning she creates virtually the entire fan experience on the 250-acre campus. Melanie Cabassol is vice president of hospitality and curated experiences, meaning she creates the atmosphere for premium clients a list that in past years has included the likes of LeBron James, Patrick Mahomes, Elon Musk and Jeff Bezos.

"I've worked at other places before, and it hasn't been that I'm sitting around a conference table and a majority of women are driving different initiatives within this business," McClain said. "So, it is very unique. It's very exciting. And I think that we owe a lot of that to the female leaders that have been here, been in our shoes before, and that have helped pave the way for us." The race, now in its fourth year, is part of a diverse series of events at the Hard Rock campus. It's primarily the home of the Dolphins, who have their training facility adjacent to the stadium. It also plays host to Miami Hurricanes football, concerts, soccer — the Club World Cup later this year and the FIFA World Cup next year will hold some matches there — and the Miami Open tennis tournament. The F1 race alone has generated more than $1 billion in economic impact in its first three years. The women leading the Miami race aren't alone in their fields. At F1, the chief commercial officer is Emily Prazer and, until late last year, Sacha Woodward Hill had been there for nearly 30 years as the chief legal officer.

But Miami stands out, said Susie Wolff, the managing director of F1 Academy - an allfemale developmental racing series.

"I think it's something which we can all take quite an amount of pride in, that the sport has shifted in such a way that it's now the case that it is not regarded as something unusual," Wolff said. "I don't see it as unusual. I think is a testament to the progress we've made."

This week in Miami takes the other 51 weeks on the calendar to prepare for. Eight months of planning, three months of executing the plan and then one month of it all actually happening. Part of Clark's job, along with overseeing 245 tent structures and 110 generators and 35 miles of plumbing infrastructure — all of it temporary and hidden — also is to work with architects and construction companies who execute what she draws up for a plan.

"I think when I was younger in my career, I got a little bit of, Who is she? Why is she in the meeting? Why does she have these construction plans?" Clark said. "And what happens over time is they hear you speak, your confidence, and once people understand that you are a master at your craft, there's less questions being asked."

Cabassol leaves nothing to chance in her job. She's in charge of the most luxurious spaces on the campus, the Palm Club, the Casa Tua Trackside Club and the 72 Club. The original blueprints for those spaces were her vision. Every glass, every bottle of Champagne, every element of those spaces gets her approval.

They call her group a "white glove team," VIP service for VIP guests. She even manages a secret road of sorts on the campus — Palm Alley, they call it, a palm tree-lined path that drops off some of the world's richest people 10 feet from the entrance. Inside the club, there are the strictest of rules: no entourages, no private security, the VIP and one guest only. No cameras, no media.

Cabassol and her group know the likes and dislikes, what kind of food, what kind of drink, every guest will want ahead of time by dealing with the VIPs' own teams.

Attention on him avoidable: Dravid on Suryavanshi ahul Dravid doesn't want microscopic attention on 14-year-old Vaibhav Suryavanshi following his path-breaking hundred in the IPL but having said that, the Rajasthan Royals head coach knows it is something that he Having received a barrage of questions on Suryavanshi in the Star Sports Press Room on Wednesday, Dravid realised that the cricketing world will not be leaving the talented teenager alone from now onwards. The Bihar teen will have to find a way to handle this overnight stardom, he said.

In the interaction, the former India head coach also touched upon Suryavanshi's special skills that make him a formidable T20 batter at such a young age before adding that he remains very much a work in progress. "I think it won't be possible to completely sort of avoid him from the experience that are talking about him. I have come to this interaction and all I have heard is questions about Vaibhav," said Dravid when asked about protecting the youngster from the hysteria around him.

"It is going to be challenging for him but it is exciting at the same time. I would love to say that we should not shower him with that much attention. Maybe I am being naive as that it is not going to happen.

"Recognising that it happens and putting a certain level of support around that and navigate that attention and allow him space to be a youngster. It is part of being a cricketer in this country, it is impossible to distance yourself from and (you tend to get) sucked into it."

As the India U-19 coach, Dravid nurtured the likes of Rishabh Pant, Shubman Gill, Prithvi Shaw, Yashasvi Jaiswal and many more exciting talents.

Asked about Suryavanshi, Dravid explained what makes him special.

"For me it is really the ability to have that level of fearlessness and not get fazed by the occasion. You don't get to see that with people that young. The range of shots he "He is only going to get better. Nobody is saying that he is a finished article. No one should rush to call him somebody he is not. Teams will be smarter against him. T20 format is such where he will have games where it will not work out," he cautioned.

Suryavanshi's six-hitting ability also stands out. He cleared the ropes 11 times in his 35-ball hundred against a potent Gujarat Titans attack.

'What gives him power is a good bat speed, high backlift, hand-eye coordination. His judgment of length is something that has amazed me, whether it is fractionally short or full, he can capitalise on that. His natural strength is helpful in this situation," said the Indian great.

A video clip of Suryavanshi was shown during the interaction where he was seen praising Dravid for making him a better cricketer over the past three months.

The moment the footage ended, Dravid played down the role played by him in his

Gujarat Titans looking at Gill as long-term captain ujarat Titans have systems and processes in place to help Shubman Gill "grow as a captain" as the franchise has appointed the India batter with a long-term view, says COO Colonel Arvinder Singh.

A vital cog in their title-winning campaign in Gujarat Titans' maiden season in IPL 2022, Gill was appointed captain of the franchise when Hardik Pandya moved back to Mumbai Indians ahead of the 2024 edition.

While the first year as a full-time skipper didn't bring Gill much success as GT finished eighth, his side has been one to beat in this IPL, currently ranked third with an impressive six wins and three losses in nine matches so far.

"At Gujarat Titans, whatever we do, we don't do it for a season or two; we think long-term. When Hardik moved on, many were of the opinion that we had players who can just walk in and take on the role of a captain; but we chose to invest in Shubman," Singh said in a statement. "This decision clearly indicated that we were investing in Shubman for a longterm, not just for a single season. The results of that investment are now evi-

"What is more important for us as an ecosystem is to understand that you cannot just make someone a captain and expect him to do everything," Singh said.

"There is a full-fledged system and process in place that has helped him grow as a captain. This is in addition to what he has gained at the international level over the years, representing India as a vice-captain on many occasions.

"Of course, we've had several senior players in the team, including Jos Buttler, Rashid Khan, and Kane Williamson. Shubman is someone who is very open to learning from others," he added.

Singh said Gill, who is nearing the 400run mark for GT once again in the IPL, is stepping up as a leader on the field.

"The transformation in his leadership from last year to this year is remarkable; he is truly stepping up as the leader on the field. It's inspiring to witness," he said.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ New Delhi

The Olympic Council of Asia (OCA) has confirmed that cricket will be a part of the 2026 Aichi-Nagoya Asian Games to be held in Japan from September 19 to October 4.

The call to retain cricket was taken during the meeting between the Olympic Council of Asia (OCA) and the organising committee (AINAGOC) earlier this week.

The latest development in the compilation of the sports programm came at the 41st meeting of the AINAGOC Board of Directors at Nagoya City Hall on Monday, April 28, when cricket and Mixed Martial Arts were both formally approved," the OCA said.

Cricket matches will be played in the T20 format and hosted in Aichi prefecture, although the exact venues are yet to be finalised.

The venue for cricket will be in Aichi prefecture but the exact location has not been decided. Interest will be high, not only because of cricket's popularity in South Asia in particular but also because the T20 (20 overs per side) format will be included in the Los Angeles Olympic Games in 2028," the ormer India opener Shikhar Dhawan on Wednesday lauded teenage sensation Vaibhav Suryavanshi for his fearless IPL hundred, saying the 14-yearold's confidence belies his age and his performance will inspire aspiring cricketers across the country. Rajasthan Royal's Suryavanshi set the IPL ablaze by becoming the youngest player to score a century in the tournament. His 35-ball hundred against table-toppers Gujarat Titans was also the second-fastest in league history.

Dhawan lauds Suryavanshi, terms his ton "phenomenal"

"It's a great performance indeed, the way he batted was just phenomenal. The big thing is not that he is just 14, the greater thing in that is his self-confidence at such a tender age," said Dhawan on the sidelines of the Intercontinental Legends Championship (ILC) launch.

The baby-faced big-hitter from Bihar's Samastipur hammered 11 towering sixes and seven fours, accumulating 94 of his 101 runs in boundaries. His innings was the fastest by any RR batter, breaking Yusuf Pathan's 15-year-old record of a 37-ball hundred against Mumbai Indians. "The way he dominated the bowlers that "It is great to see these players—someone is 14, another is 17—playing in the Indian Premier League. To see these boys achieve success at such a young age is great to see," said Dhawan.

The 39-year-old also condemned the recent terrorist attack in Kashmir's

Pahalgam region, expressing heartfelt condolences to the victims' families and backing the government's response. "I have no words for what happened in Pahalgam... I have full faith in our government that they'll be planning something to counter this. I have my full condolences with the families of the victims. It was heart-wrenching indeed," said Dhawan. Dhawan was the guest of honour at the launch of the Intercontinental Legends Championship (ILC), which has been cofounded by U-19 Cricket World Cup winner and former Delhi Ranji player Pardeep Sangwan. I had envisioned this league since the day I retired... Shikhar (Dhawan) bhai, Praveen (Kumar) bhai, Parvinder Awana and Pawan Negi-thank you for extending your warm support, along with the sponsors who believed in us," said Sangwan.

Congratulating Sangwan on the initiative, Dhawan said: "I want to extend my heartiest congratulations to Pardeep (Sangwan) and his team for organising ILC. In such leagues, the pressure is relatively high because we play for respect. The competition will be tough."

Took the retirement call in Gabba, did not want to repeat the circle: Ashwin ormer India off-spinner R Ashwin thought about retiring after his 100th Test but finally took the call midway into the tour of Australia to ensure the "whole circle" related to his spot in the playing eleven doesn't repeat itself.

Speaking on a newly-launched podcast by Chennai Super Kings, Ashwin told fellow CSK member Mike Hussey that he made up his mind on retirement after not starting the Australia series in Perth where Washington Sundar played ahead of the veteran off-spinner. Ashwin did play the second Test at Adelaide before being left out of the eleven for the third Test at Gabba where he eventually brought the curtains down to a glo-after my 100th Test (in Dharamsala, March 2024). And then I thought, Ok, let me give it a go in the home season. Because, I mean, you're playing well, and you're getting wickets, you're making runs," Ashwin said. "I thought I'd probably close off with the Chennai Test here (against Bangladesh). I ended up getting a sixwicket haul and a hundred. So it's very tough to quit when you're doing very well.

"So, I went on with the series, and we lost against New Zealand. So, one after the other, it was just building up. And then I thought, okay, let me go to Australia. Let me see how this goes. Because the last time I was in Australia, I had a great, great tour," said India's second highest wickettaker in Tests with 537 scalps to his name. Having said that, time away from home was beginning to affect him.

"I thought it does make sense to play a bit. I was having a lot of fun, but the whole hard yards that I had to put through to put myself in the park again, physically and mentally, one of the most important things that was pulling me down was the family time," he said.

The 38-year-old, who is back at CSK this season, eventually made the announcement at the Gabba. "And when I didn't start in Perth, it was like, okay, this whole circle keeps going again. People add very little value to what you're going through emotionally," he

"They don't really consider that because your emotions are yours, and it doesn't matter to anybody else. So I had been contemplating that, and then I thought, okay, maybe it is time," added Ashwin.

Azhar Mahmood shows interest in becoming Pakistan head coach

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA ■ Lahore

ormer Pakistan all-rounder Azhar Mahmood on Wednesday expressed his interest in becoming the next head coach of the national team, saying he will soon apply for the high-pressure post.

The PCB was forced to begin a fresh search to find a new head coach and Director of the National Cricket Academy after foreign coaches Gary Kirsten and Jason Gillespie resigned last year, less then eight months into their two-year contracts.

The PCB had named one of their selectors, Aaqib Javed as their interim head coach until the T20 series in New Zealand.

Azhar reckons that he has "gained a lot of experience while working as assistant and bowling coach of the Pakistan team in recent years". He has worked with Mickey Arthur, Kirsten and Gillespie.

The Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) has set May 5 as the deadline for interested candidates to apply for the head coach position. The PCB has not confirmed as yet the red and white ball teams or one coach for both formats. Pakistan's former test spinner Saqlain Mushtaq, who has also worked as interim head coach and bowling coach in the past with the national team, is said to be another strong candidate in the running for future assignments. According to PCB sources, New Zealand's Mike Hesson is the front runner to take over as head coach if he agrees to take up the assignment.
